NEWSY HAPPENINGS AND BUSINESS NOTES.

WINTERVILLE, N. C. Oct. 1, 1902.

A short while last Monday night, after laying me down upon my couch to slumber, if I didn't think the angels of heaven had come to bear me away on their snowy white wings! I have never told the truth. And it was only when I was fully awake I realized I was not altogether mistaken. For there came to my ears, borne upon the breezes of that autumnal eve, sounds most pleasant to hear. Music! Yes music! from the throats of 36 maiden choristers such as mortals seldom hear, music so delightfully, entrancingly sweet, that heaven alone excels, and of which no other clime than our own fair sunny southland can proudly boast. If we had the command of English or the gift of sweetest foreign tongues we might make the effort to give expression to our appreciation and gratitude for this treat most rare, but the undertaking, of course, would be a failure and we can only thank these lovely maidens of our Winterville High School and assure them the melody of their voices is still ringing in our ears. And the campus yell "we're the girls of the W. H. S." is still stirring our hearts and thrilling our souls.

THAT is about the only doubt that keeps most men from buying ready-made suits. If we can't fit you we won't sell you. If your fit doesn't stay fitted, the sale doesn't stay a sale—bring back the suit.

If you do your part by coming in, you can be anything else but fitted and suited here.

Tobacco Burned.

About ten thousand pounds of tobacco and a large pack house belonging to Mr. S. P. Erwin, of Beaver Dam township, were reduced to ashes Tuesday night. Some tenants who had tobacco in the burned building lost about two thousand pounds. Total loss about $2,000. No insurance.

The whole community will sympathize with Mr. Erwin over this heavy loss. It represents nearly his entire tobacco crop, as very little had been sold.

A Missouri judge has made himself solid with his feminine constituency by eliminating the word "obey" from the connubial knots which he ties. He holds that the word is entirely superfluous, as a wife who has a husband she loves will obey him, and if she has the other kind no human or other law should make her do it. And generally speaking he is about right. —Wilmington Star.

A CARD.

To the citizens of Greenville:

No doubt most everybody in Greenville has heard of the "jewelry auction," that is being conducted at W. B. Brown's dry goods store. Any article that has been or will be sold if it is not as represented can be returned to the house and they will gladly make same good. The firm will uphold any guarantee or assertion that I may make. Thanking the many that have patronized this sale, I remain very truly, DAVE RAUH, auctioneer. of the firm of J. B. Bennett & Co. 158 Church St., Norfolk, Va. Last sale, Friday, October 3rd.

The sixteen-to-one-ists might make it coal instead of silver.

Now it's all over Mr. Duke might try his hand at Ping Pong.

With Elizabeth City and Fayetteville in mind, it's rather disappointing that Winston shouldn't make an effort to corral sockless Jerry.

President Roosevelt is getting in a bad way and is in danger of too much medical attention. Let the doctors around him be dismissed, rub his lame leg, occasionally with a little liniment, and he will stand a good chance of getting well sooner.

Common Schools.

During the three and a half years of our tenure of office we have appropriated and at the end of the present fiscal year we will have spent six hundred thousand dollars (mark the figures and register them in your minds); six hundred thousand dollars more for the common schools than the Fusionists appropriated and spent for that purpose during the four years of their tenure of office. If anybody wants to attack us for this we say to them: "Attack to your hearts content." We have no apologies to make for it. We glory in it. We say to them, the Constitution required it, we were able to do it, it was our duty to do it, we did it, and we thank God we did it with the unanimous consent of the people of North Carolina, for I am glad to say the Populists and Republicans, as well as Democrats, in the Legislatures of 1899 and 1901, voted for the bills making these additional appropriations for the common schools.—F. M. Simmons at Greensboro.

County Canvass.

Pactolus, Wednesday Oct. 8th. Gum Swamp, Friday Oct. 10th. Falkland, Saturday Oct. 11th. Beaver Dam at Smith's store, Wednesday Oct. 15th. Burneys, Friday Oct. 17th. Grimesland, Saturday Oct. 18th. Speaking will commence at 11 o'clock A. M.

We waste what a Yankee community would live upon. We throw away thousands of bushels of vegetables and fruits in their season, and when they are gone buy the canned goods put up by our considerate northern friends who know that we must have them. Corn from Maine, peaches from Maryland, and even sweet potatoes raised and canned in Massachusetts have been sold in the Waycross market. We are sleeping over our rights and throwing away our opportunities. We must turn over several new leaves if we would be independent, and as the natural outcome, happy.—Waycross (Ga.) Herald.

Advertising Truths.

The man who advertises is the man who gets the dough.
A business that isn't worth advertising isn't worth wasting time over.
You never know how much your business can amount to until you advertise and find out.
The public has a short memory. That's the reason that a business to continue profitable must be advertised continuously.
No big business has ever built up without the publicity given it by judicious advertising, and in this era of advertising it is more than ever important that a business expecting success should be liberally advertised.
After advertising has built up a flourishing business the work of the ad-writer is by no means at an end. It remains for him to keep the business in a prosperous condition with the co-operation of the other departments.—St. Louis Ad. Writer.

Prof. Ragsdale will Address the Public School.

At eleven o'clock Prof. Ragsdale will address the school. All parents and other friends of public education are cordially invited to be present.

Hon. Lee S. Overman, of Salisbury, is announced to speak in Greenville October 6th. Hon. Cyrus B. Watson, of Winston is to speak here on the 13th. J. Bryan Grimes, with Senator Simmons, will speak in Ayden on Saturday, October 4.

MRS. IDA McDONALD,

Supreme Deputy of the Maccabees of the World.

MRS. McDONALD, No. 477 Beaubien Street, Detroit, Mich., is a prominent woman who was greatly benefited by the great woman's medicine, Wine of Cardui. Mrs. McDonald is the supreme deputy of the Maccabees of the World, and one of the most widely known women in the United States. Thousands of women gather to hear her lecture everywhere she goes. The great work she has done for the Maccabees is appreciated by every member of the order. She was so absorbed in her work that she neglected to give her health proper care—failed to take warning that the symptoms of approaching kidney trouble gave her, the sallow complexion and torpid liver. But Wine of Cardui cured her the same as it has cured thousands of others and Mrs. McDonald has written this letter in order that other suffering women may secure from Wine of Cardui the same relief she got from it.

"For four years I suffered with torpid liver until my skin looked yellow and dull. I then found my kidneys were affected and had severe pains across my back, and I felt that I must do something to regain my health. A friend advocated your Wine of Cardui treatment so strongly that I decided to try it, although I had little faith in patent medicines. I am now very thankful that I did so, for within ten days blessed relief came to me, and in less than three months I was cured, and have enjoyed fine health ever since. I know there is nothing better for a sick woman who wishes to enjoy perfect health and am very pleased to give my hearty endorsement."

No suffering woman can afford to ignore such a letter as Mrs. McDonald writes. Her plans and advice have proved valuable in building up one of the greatest women's organizations in the United States and she takes time to give advice which she knows will help you.

Do not delay in securing this medicine. There is nothing to gain and everything to lose by delay. The choice is before you. Will or will you not secure relief now by taking Wine of Cardui? All druggists sell $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui as well as 25c packages of Theodor's Black-Dracht.

WINE of CARDUI

A million suffering women have found relief in Wine of Cardui.

Do Good—It Pays.

A Chicago man has observed that, "Good deeds are better than real estate deeds—some of the latter are worthless. Act kindly and gently, show sympathy and lend a helping hand. You cannot possibly lose by it." Most men appreciate a kind word and encouragement more than substantial help. There are persons in this community who might truthfully say: "My good friend, cheer up. A few doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will rid you of your cold, and there is no danger whatever from pneumonia when you use that medicine. It always cures. I know it for it has helped me out many a time." Sold at Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, N. C.; Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville, N. C.

The one thing that a fly can never forgive in an elephant is that he is an elephant.

Take Care of the Stomach.

The man or woman whose digestion is perfect and whose stomach performs its every function is never sick. Kodol cleanses, purifies and sweetens the stomach and cures positively and permanently all stomach troubles, indigestion and dyspepsia. It is the wonderful reconstructive tonic that is making so many sick people well and weak people strong by conveying to their bodies all of the nourishment in the food they eat. Rev. J. H. Holladay, of Holladay, Miss., writes: Kodol has cured me. I consider it the best remedy I ever used for dyspepsia and stomach troubles. I was given up by physicians, Kodol saved my life. Take it after meals. Jno. L. Wooten.

Flowers for the dead? Come, keep them for nostrils open to their perfume!

Beware of the Knife.

No profession has advanced more rapidly of late than surgery, but it should not be used except where absolutely necessary. In cases of piles for example, it is seldom needed. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cures quickly and permanently. Unequalled for cuts, burns, bruises, wounds, skin diseases. Accept no counterfeits. "I was so troubled with bleeding piles that I lost much blood and strength," says J. C. Phillips, Paris, Ill. "DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured me in a short time." Soothes and heals. Jno. L. Wooten.

Philosophy is a fancy umbrella that somehow you can't open when it rains.

Gained Forty Pounds in Thirty Days.

For several months our younger brother had been troubled with indigestion. He tried several remedies but got no benefit from them. We purchased some of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and he commenced taking them. Inside of thirty days he had gained forty pounds in flesh. He is now fully recovered. We have a good trade on the Tablets.—HOLLEY BROS., Merchants, Long Branch, Mo. For sale at Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, N. C.; Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville, N. C.

We would like to know what random has done that so many people shoot at him.

He Learned a Great Truth.

It is said of John Wesley that he once said to Mistress Wesley: "Why do you tell that child the same thing over and over again?" "John Wesley, because once telling is not enough." It is for the same reason that you are told again and again that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cures colds and grip; that it counteracts any tendency of these diseases to result in pneumonia, and that it is pleasant and safe to take. For sale at Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, N. C.; Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville, N. C.

Many a man would rather give his wife $200,000, if he had it, than go shopping.

Ran a Ten Penny Nail Through His Hand.

While opening a box, J. C. Mount, of Three Mile Bay, N. Y., ran a ten penny nail through the fleshy part of his hand. "I thought at once of all the pain and soreness this would cause me," he says, "and immediately applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm and occasionally afterwards. To my surprise it removed all pain and soreness and the injured parts were soon healed." For sale at Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, N. C.; Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville, N. C.

Lingering Summer Colds.

Don't let a cold run at this season. Summer colds are the hardest kind to cure and if neglected may linger along for months. A long sledge like this will pull down the strongest constitution. LOST LODE'S HERO

[Copyright, 1902, by the S. S. McClure Company.]
Tommy Duncan had been bad—so bad that he had to "stay in." But, then, he lived in the Lost Lode, the tough district of the big Montana mining town, so he was expected to be bad. Robbie Jones had called him a "low down Lost Loder" when Marjorie Forbes was listening, and Tommy had promptly retallated, causing a howling commotion in the second grade.
Hence the present uneasy hour of solitude while he waited for teacher to bring the principal to chastise him for his sins after teachers' meeting upstairs. Tommy pressed his hot little head against the cold window pane and listened lonesomely to the loud ticking of the clock. His stepmother would beat him when he got home late, he knew. The twilight of the short mountain day was closing in.
Tommy's heavy little heart rose in his throat as he aimlessly gathered snow from the window sill into little balls. Suddenly he caught his breath in a half choked sob, hearing voices outside. Forgetting his tears, he peered cautiously over the window ledge. Two dark forms lurked in the shadow of the wide front steps.
"Let's git outer th' wind fer a minute," growled one. "Sure he ain't come yet?"
"Dead certin'," nodded the other, whose evil eyes, besotted and bleared by drink, eagerly watched the hill road which ran down from the Perritt mine on the hill to the smelter below.
"He's got the dusty with him, ain't he, Dan?"
"Shet up yer fool questions, Bill!" rumbled Dan, with an oath. "Ef ye're gettin' cold feet, ye can vamoose. I'm goin' ter stay right up thar by that shack till I get a whack at Bob Perritt an' thut lot o' swag he's got with 'im. I'll git even with 'im fer kickin' me down them mill stairs ef I hev ter kill 'im!"
"But I don't keer ter khl 'im out-right of a good clibbin' 'll do th' biz proper," deprecated his companion.
"Well, ef ye're goin' ter be so chicken livered about it ye can hit out'y once, an' I'll do th' rest. Let's git out o' this an' hide behin' th' shack ready fer 'im. We'll see who does th' kickin' now!"
And they moved up on the hill. Tommy's tear begrimed face was pale under its tan. He recognized the two villains as Lost Loders who had been discharged from the Perritt reduction works the previous week for stealing ore. What could he do? Perritt was teacher's beau. He must not be killed, for teacher would be miserable. He must be warned.
Tommy looked at the clock; almost 6. Could he go round the freightyards where the robbers could not see him? There was not time. He must go straight up the road past their hiding place to meet Perritt. His heart jumped right up in his throat at the fearful thought. But it was for teacher.
He flew down the steps and up the road toward the shack where the footpads waited for their victim. His tumbled, bare head and wild, straining eyes flashed through the shadows, a very ghost of fear.
The noise of the panting approach drew Black Dan from his lair, to the boy's frightened imagination looking like a huge spider who hears the buzzing of a fly. At the same moment a tall, striding figure swung over the brow of the hill. He was too late!
"Run, Mr. Perritt; run!" screamed the child in frantic terror, dodging a blow from Black Dan's upraised fist. He caught the gleam of a six shooter in the other hand of the big brute and screamed again: "Run! They're goin' to kill ye! Ye"— But the great fist fell with a crash across his temples.
A cloud of black smoke seemed to fall upon him and smother him, and the world went out like a snuffed candle.
When it came back to him again, he felt strangely light and giddy. There were white clouds and sunsets all about him. He seemed to be floating on a cloud, and when a blue eyed angel bent soothingly over him he was not at all surprised.
"Did I get killed?" he whispered, awestruck. "An' I'm really in heaven?"
The angel laughed and nodded smilingly to another floating being—a man angel, Tommy supposed. He came and put his arm around the blue eyed angel, and together they hung over the edge of Tommy's billowy cloud.
"No, dearie; you are right here with us, where you are going to stay for the rest of your life. You are a real hero, like the ones I read to you about in the history book. And we are proud of you." And then Tommy saw that the angel was teacher and he was in her room, which was banked with flowers, for he had come to be known as a hero, and the whole town had done him honor. "You have been very ill, dear, from the blow on the head that ugly Black Dan gave you; concussion of the brain, the doctor said. But you will soon be well now and able to come with us to our new home when we are married." Then she met Rob's adoring glance and blushed.
"And did you"— Tommy was too weak to finish, but the man nodded. "Get shot? Yes, but not badly, for Bill got scared, and I got the drop on them as Dan turned to strike you. He is in the penitentiary now, where he won't bother us for some time to come. The other one turned state's evidence."
"The money for the men?"
"It is all right," put in the teacher, with shining eyes. "And so is our hero. I owe something very precious to you, dear."
Life held but two blissful facts to Tommy—the comforting knowledge that he was a hero and he would never be separated from dear teacher.

Why Living is High.

The chief cause for the increase in the cost of living is the tariff-fostered trusts. These trusts sell almost every article which we eat and wear, and almost every farm implement cheaper in foreign countries than to our own people, denying us the right to buy as cheaply as Arabs, heathens and aliens.

The Republicans denounced trusts in their platform, but let us see their sincerity on this vital question. In the Fifty sixth Congress they pigeon holed an anti-trust bill rather than let it come to a vote. In the last Congress the Senate killed an anti trust amendment by a strictly party vote, the Democrats voting for the amendment and the Republicans against it. This amendment, too, was in accordance with a recommendation of the President in his message to Congress.

If when Adam was created the Almighty had given him a salary of $21,000 a year, and Adam had been so frugal as not to spend one cent of his income, these six thousand years of salary would not make him worth as much as this steel trust has made off the people in one short twelve months—$140,000,000.—E. Y. Webb at Bakerville.

All persons desiring to vote in the approaching election can register on each Saturday during said time at the Court House and at other times at my office in Greenville. This September 29th, 1902.
W. L. BROWN,
Registrar for Greenville Township.

The Agricultural Department estimates that since 1890 the number of people in the United States has increased 20 per cent. while the number of cattle is about the same. Measured by the value per pound, however, the increase has been decidedly in favor of the cattle.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"Stained Glass" Pillows.

Take an ordinary long needleful of any shade of wool, begin at one corner of a square of canvas and work either irregularly or otherwise as long as the wool allows in ordinary cross stitch, then fasten off the thread and edge the worked section with a line of cross stitch in black; take a thread of another shade of wool and make another section, edging it, like the other, with black. Continue this method till the square is covered, varying occasionally the length of the needleful. When the square is finished and backed with silk or other material, the edge seam may be covered with a heavy cord of twisted black wool.

If one has the wish to do it, a medieval saint, copied from a Berlin pattern, may be embroidered in the center of the square and the ground covered with the colored sections described above. If in this case the outlining is done with stone gray instead of with black, in imitation of the leaded setting, the stained glass window effect will be more realistic, although the colors will be shown out with less brilliancy than where black is chosen.

The Bread Jar.

The bread jar or tin should have the closest attention daily during warm weather. Wipe out the crumbs and scald it every morning. Keep muffins, gems and quick biscuits separate from raised bread and use them up at once by steaming or reheating in the oven or by toasting. Use rice and the various preparations of wheat both as cereals and for breakfast cakes during the hot weather and let the corn and oatmeal be reserved for the winter diet.
