We were Right

In our selection of Fall and Winter apparel, and this has been attested by the approval of many men of fashion who have visited our store during the past week and made their purchases.

We want your approval now.....

We want you to come in and see the new season's styles and make your selection while the stock is new and fresh—come in tomorrow morning.

While we have both Suits and Fall Top Coats at a great variety of prices we want you to note particularly the especially large collection of each which we have marked

If you compare the qualities and styles with others you will find them equal to any sold elsewhere at $18.

In our Boys Department

We have an assortment of Suits, Top Coats and Reefers that are worth fully $2 to $5 more than our prices, and those who have the care of boys will be particularly interested in our offerings of Juvenile apparel at.... $2, $3, $4

THE STATE PRESS

News and Opinions.

Marion Butler says the Populists will put up a straight national ticket in 1904. It won't be straight if Marion has anything to do with incubating it.—Wilmington Star.

Hon. Carroll D. Wright says "the ultimate solution of economic problems will be found in religion." He may be right, but it will take a long time to inject religion enough into the average Republican to solve any problem fairly when there is a chance to do any gouging for his benefit.—Wilmington Star.

We believe the Wilcox case is the first in the annals of North Carolina jurisprudence in which a man convicted of a capital offense is given a new trial because of intimidation of the jury by demonstrations of a crowd of men during the trial.—Wilmington Messenger.

The republicans in this state are willing to make any kind of trade that will further the chances of Mr. Pritchard—in fact the whole party organization seems to be working solely in his interest. to the exclusion of all others. While the senator may be a square man; this is not a desirable state of affairs, and it will not continue if the white wing of the party assumes proportions.—Wilmington Messenger.

Like the piercing cry of some fish hawk you hear the Republican orator proclaim in thunder tones that the amendment disfranchises the man who moves from one township to another, unless he moves four months before the election. The fact is all such movers are provided for. They can vote in the township from whence they came.—Lexington Dispatch.

If Mr. T. T. Hicks will come to Rhamkette and let Cy Watson skin him here, we promise to give him the gate receipts. A man who was at Henderson says it was better than a circus to see Cy laugh Thurston T. out of court. This offer is, of course, based upon the presumption that all the pieces of Hicks can be found and glued together.

Many years ago Mr. Bernhart Zimmerman, of McKean county, Pa., was killed by the explosion of 240 pounds of nitroglycerine which he was hauling over a rough road. Mrs. Zimmerman pathetically announced in the local paper that she would bury Mr. Zimmerman from his late residence at 10 o'clock on a certain day, provided she "could get him together." We wish to be sure that Mr. Hicks can be got together in time for his political funeral.—Rhamkette Roaster.

"How the mighty have fallen," soliloquizes the Asheville Citizen. Marion Butler writes a letter to Senator Pritchard apologizing for past opposition and pledging to him future support. Though once Butler's word was law and gospel to some 30,000 voters in North Carolina, it's precious little good his support can now do anybody in this State.

Just a few short years ago Mr. Butler was a bimetalist whereas now he favors the gold standard; was a tariff reformer where he is now a protectionist; bitterly opposed Pritchard whereas he now favors his re-election; roasted the Russell administration in his paper, the Caucasian, whereas he now endorses it unqualifiedly. It makes no difference to the people of North Carolina now what Marion Butler says or thinks, but on his record as a political contortionist, he would make a good headliner for a vaudeville performance.—Charlotte News.

Col. John Joyce may not be the author of "Beautiful Snow," but he has written some appropriate lines on present conditions as follows:

"Between Capital and Labor the Consumer is the corn. They grind him in the evening and they grind him in the morn. The beef trust and the grocer and the men who sell the coal Will own the earth in future and gobble up the whole, While the battered old consumer must deliver up his cash To tyrant combinations that are running us to smash!"—News and Observer.

The Greenville REFLECTOR has been enlarged and otherwise improved. This is an evidence of the town's prosperity, as few men are able to give a town a better paper than it will pay for.—Durham Herald.

Mr. Major Morris suffered a serious and most painful accident at the furniture factory yesterday. In adjusting some of the machinery his left hand was caught and cut almost off at the wrist. He was taken to Dr. W. T. Parrott's office where the doctor and his brother, Dr. J. M., found that amputation was necessary and the hand was taken off an inch or two above the wrist. When Mr. Morris was chloroformed it was thought for a while that he would die, as he ceased to breathe and the pulsations of his heart almost stopped. The doctors worked hard on him for several minutes before his breathing became regular.—Kinston News.

Aldermen's Proceedings.

At their meeting Thursday night the Board of Aldermen decided to replace the plank bridges at street crossings and put in tiling, and to build a wooden bridge across the branch at the end of Fifth street.

The resignation of D. D. Overton as assistant chief of fire department was tendered and accepted. The chief of fire department was instructed to recommend an assistant chief, to be elected at a future meeting.

The chairman of the colored cemetery committee was instructed to expend $10 for necessary work in his department.

Street lights and wells were reported to be in fairly good condition.

Joe Forbes, John Kornegay and Travis Allen were granted restaurant license.

The tax collector was instructed to have 500 dodgers in reference to the dog tax printed, to be distributed by the police.

Accounts were allowed in the sum of $370.23.

Stole The Assistant Postmaster.

A young man name Brown was recently appointed postmaster at Crouse, Lincoln county. Being ignorant of the management of the postoffice he applied to Postmaster Barkley, for assistance. Postmaster Barkley sent his daughter to teach Mr. Brown how to manage the postoffice. Mr. Brown was so well pleased with his teacher that he wanted to retain her permanently, but her father objected. The young lady, however, was willing and about 5 o'clock Tuesday morning, while she was in the Lincoln ton postoffice arranging the mails, Mr. Brown came along and invited her to ride. She consented and the couple went to South Carolina and got married.—Concord Times.

Your Suit Is Ready

WHY NOT TODAY?

Why wouldn't today be a good time for you to drop in and select that Winter Suit that you need? Want something swell? Come, look at our lines. No risk of missing any new fashion if you buy your clothing here, because our styles are ahead even of the fashion plates.

Fashion plates come out early. Our makers see them; then they watch for later developments. The minute anything new turns up it goes into our clothing. So we are never behind one moment. Come in today and choose.

BETHEL ITEMS.

BETHEL, N. C., Oct. 2, 1902.

Miss Elen James, of Asheville, who has been visiting relatives here, left Wednesday for Tarboro.

Misses Bruce Andrews and Roland James, after spending Tuesday here, left Wednesday for Tarboro.

Mrs. D. S. Harper and children, who have been visiting friends in Nashville, returned Wednesday afternoon.

Pat Davenport, of Hamilton, spent Wednesday evening in town.

Miss Josie Badger left Saturday for Roanoke Rapids.

Miss Mary Badger left Thursday for Burlington, N. C., to be present at the meeting of the W. C. T. U.

On Tuesday night at the residence of Mr. S. A. Gainer, a party was given in honor of Miss Bruce Andrews. Many were present and reported a fine time, many regret her departure.

Misses Annie Tew and Lorna Roberson, of Robersonville, spent Wednesday afternoon in town.

Quite a crowd left Thursday for Tarboro, to be present at the association.

J. T. Smith and J. C. Carson spent Tuesday in Robersonville and Everette.

William Thigpen, of Greenville, passed through town Wednesday.

Bureau Report 58.3.

The Government bureau report on the condition of the cotton crop, that was issued at noon today, placed the estimate at 58.3 against 64 last month. This makes the outlook for a very small crop.

The Meeting.

At the conclusion of Mr. Edmundson's sermon in the Baptist church, Thursday night, the doors of the church were opened and four persons were received as candidates for baptism.

Miss Richardson's singing at the services is very much enjoyed. Tonight she will sing "Though your sins be as scarlet."

The best way that money can make the mare go is to fix the road so she can travel faster.

High Grade JOB PRINTING done here. Send us your orders.

Democratic Speaking.

Hon. Cyrus B. Watson will address the people of Pitt county at Greenville on Monday, October 13th, 1902. Let everybody turn out and hear this distinguished speaker discuss the political questions of the day.

R. GREENE, O. HOOKER.

Sept 20, 1902.

Democratic Speaking.

Hon. F. M. Simmons and Hon. J. Bryan Grimes, speak in Greenville Friday night, Oct. 3rd.

Never condemn your neighbor unheard, however many the accusations preferred against him; every story has two ways of being told, and justice requires that you should hear the defence as well as the accusation, and remember that the malignity of enemies may place you in a similar position.

Registration books for the coming election were opened today and in Greenville precinct the Registrar has been kept busy enrolling names.

Put your family tree in your pocket when you go to register.

If you are not a lineal descendant of your father you needn't expect to vote.

Kinston has a carnival to dispose of, if you will promise not to tell where you got it.

Wilcox may or may not deserve a new trial, but the State deserves that he should have it.

It mightn't be a bad idea to get a wood burner, if you can't make out with an oil stove.

It's a good time to begin thinking about improving the cart path from the boat landing to the depot.

Before you decide to burn coal this winter, it would be well to see how you stand with the bank.

The fate of Wilcox shouldn't be decided without any accompaniments to the usual methods of a court of justice.

Now that Greenville is one of the best tobacco markets in the State, let's begin to look up some supplements. There is no reason why Greenville shouldn't be a good town all-the-year round.

Some men are born independent, some achieve independence, and some are independent from natural born cussedness.

The President's reputation as a bold, bad man with firearms is established. The outcome of his conference this afternoon with Messrs Mitchell and Baer will indicate his ability as a persuader.

The good roads sentiment is growing. It won't be many centuries before you can ride from the depot to the court house at a three-mile-an-hour gait without having your backbone dislocated.

"Miss Helen Gould has been made an honorary member of a fire company at Binghamton, N. Y., to which she has given $4,000 for a hosehouse."

Whose hose are those?

Fertilizer Trust to Dictate Cottonseed Prices.

New York, Sept. 25.—The Virginia Carolina Chemical Company, according to the Evening Sun tonight, contemplates largely increasing its facilities and placing itself in a position to dictate prices of cotton seed and cotton seed oil. The Sun says:

The sale of $7,000,000 of bonds by the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Company to Hallgarten & Co., and Blair & Co., has put the company in possession of ample funds to enlarge its business and materially increase its resources in every way. This step has been contemplated since the company purchased its potash plant in Germany last summer, which has served to strengthen the company immeasurably. The bonds will reimburse the company for the outlay involved in this purchase and also for a number of other purchases made during the last year in the way of cotton mills and mining plants. It will also give the company all available means necessary to continue the manufacture of fertilizer and cotton seed on a large scale. An enlarged trade in fertilizer is expected by the management during the current year.

The cotton seed oil business, on the contrary, will, it is believed, be less brisk. The rise price of cotton seed promises, however, not only to curtail the sale of oil, but also to make the manufacture of oil a losing business to new outside mills as they will be compelled to buy seed at the highest prices and sell oil at the low price because the facilities of the Virginia Carolina Chemical Company will enable it to dictate prices for both — Progressive Farmer.

New Use for Refined Paraffine Wax.

A new and important use for Refined Paraffine Wax seems to have been discovered by a prominent resident of Ohio, living near Lancaster, who had two trees badly damaged by storm, one being a maple and the other an apple. In each case a large limb was broken down from the trunk, but still attached to it. The limbs were propped up and fastened securely with straps, very much as a broken leg might be fastened with splints, and then melted refined wax poured into and over all the cracks. The "surgical operation" was entirely successful. The Paraffine prevented the escape of the sap, kept out the rain and moisture which would have rotted the trees, prevented the depredations of insects, and the limbs seem thus far to be perfectly re attached to the trees.—Wilmington Messenger.

Orders for JOB PRINTING are solicited. Best work.

Lighting a Dark Hall.

A mirror will lighten a dark hall if properly placed. Place the glass opposite a door, and the light from that apartment, falling on the mirror, is reflected back from it to the hall, to its much greater lighting, while the apparent size of the little place is greatly increased. The mirror is unframed and is fitted in between cornice and baseboard and finished at the sides with a flat molding that seems a part of the woodwork. The value of this treatment is not realized until it is tried. Often a blank stretch of wall that seems a hopeless shutting in of space may offer the transforming opportunity. Care must be taken not to overdo the treatment in such a way as to create the effect of a hotel corridor or public hall, but judiciously used under the care of a good architect the plan is to be commended.

For the Kitchen.

In kitchens where economy of space is a consideration a combined kitchen table and cabinet is an advantage. It also saves many steps in the preparation of a meal by keeping many needed articles within reach. It is made of hardwood, the top being 45 inches long by 30 wide, with directly underneath sliding boards for meat and bread. The flour bin is fastened with automatic hangers, while all waste space is avoided by the three drawers just behind it. The four large front drawers will hold linen, kitchen dishes, cutlery, cookbook, teas, coffee, condiments, sugar, meal, cereals, etc., while the locker will hold vinegar, sirup, etc. The zinc lined bottom makes it positively mouse and rat proof.

An interesting story is told of King Edward VII. in the People's Friend. His majesty while staying as a guest at a certain country mansion visited the village school unexpectedly and began to ask the children a few questions. "Now, my young friends," said King Edward cheerfully, "I dare say some of you can tell me the names of a few of our greatest kings and queens, eh?" With one accord they cried out, "King Alfred and Queen Victoria, sir!" Just then a tiny clip of a boy, to whom the schoolmaster had whispered something, stood up and raised his hand. "Do you know another, my boy?" asked the king. "Yes, your majesty; King Edward VII." His majesty laughed and again asked, "What great act has King Edward VII. done, pray?" The boy hesitated, then stammered out, "I don't know, your majesty." "Don't be distressed, my lad," said the gracious king, smiling. "I don't know either."
