MISS SARAH FINLEY,

Vice-President of the Palmetto Club, Memphis, Tenn.

WINE OF CARDUI is a thoroughly scientific and modern remedy, meeting the needs of the modern woman in the modern way—without the torture of an operation. Wine of Cardui has cured them in the privacy of their homes and it has found a place in the hearts of American women that no other medicine has found. In their gratitude over 10,000 American women have written letters commending Wine of Cardui. Wine of Cardui meets their wants as no other medicine does. It sustains the young girl at the shock of her entrance to womanhood. Women who take Wine of Cardui have little discomfort during pregnancy and little pain at childbirth. When the change of life appears they enter a happy, healthy old age. Every month it comes to the rescue to assist Nature in throwing the impurities from the body.

Miss Sarah Finley.

following praise on Wine of Cardui:
"Among the numerous medicines placed before suffering women for their relief none can touch McElree's Wine of Cardui. It towers above them all as a reliable female remedy. It simply drives pain and disease away and restores health in an incredibly short period. I have taken great interest in this medicine for the past two years, since it brought health and strength to me. I have also recommended it to a number of my friends and they who have used it speak of it in the highest terms and I feel that it is praise well bestowed."

If you are suffering from female weakness Wine of Cardui is the medicine you need.

You can have health the same as Miss Finley if you will take the Wine of Cardui treatment. If you need advice further than the complete directions given on the bottle, address The Ladies Advisory Department, Chattanooga Med. Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

WINE of CARDUI

A million suffering women have found relief in Wine of Cardui.

THE STATE PRESS

News and Opinions.

Mexico has abolished the death penalty for political crimes. One step further towards civilization has been made.—Raleigh Times.

The Greenville tobacco market handled 4,870,627 pounds of tobacco during the month of September. This does right well—for Greenville.—Kinston Free Press.

Pritchard will be the worst defeated man who ever ran for office in North Carolina. Cut this prediction out, put it in your scrap book and consult it when the election returns are published in November.—Raleigh News and Observer.

The Baltimore American says the present tariff law is "tariff for trusts only." That's a good definition, says the Raleigh News and Observer, and the American is a Republican paper. Don't tell Pritchard. It might break his little speech he has been making since 1896.—Charlotte News.

The Madison county Record is the right sort of a Democratic paper. It is exposing the bad county government in Madison county as carried on by Pritchard's henchmen, and is doing a great service for good government. Result: Pritchard says no decent people allow it to go into their homes. The kind of Democratic paper the Senator praises is one that booms and praises him, is silent about the wrongs of his party, and writes up his dry-as-dust tariff sophistries as the able speeches of a statesman. By the same token the Democrats are tired of that article.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Judging from the public press there seems to be much confusion as to the real issue between the striking miners and the mine operators. From the last statement of President Mitchell it appears that the miners want some reforms in weighing, some changes in crediting the work of each miner, shorter hours, which means more pay, and the recognition of the Union instead of the individual.

The question of weighing, crediting and pay should easily be a matter of arbitration and there ought not to be great difficulty in perfecting an equitable settlement.

However, the recognition of the Union is the great difficulty. The mine owners claim that if they turned the control of the mines over to the organization they would have no say in the employment of their men and would have to discharge thousands of faithful employees who have not become members of the organization. Upon this point the serious clash arises.

The times believes in organization and no fair-minded man can deny to labor the right to organize when capital has this privilege. The coal strike is a knotty problem, and, must be admitted, has two sides. Neither is infallible, though one may have made more mistakes than the other.—Raleigh Times.

Mule Lost.

A mule belonging to Mr. J. A. K. Tucker which had been stabled at Jeffers' Warehouse Tuesday, was found to be missing a short while after noon, when the driver went to the stall. Mr. Tucker does not know whether the mule got loose, or whether he was taken out by some one and driven off. The animal is described as being a bay mare mule in good condition, about twelve years old, and has a white nose.

No Score by Either.

Greenville, S. C., Oct. 6—The game of football played this afternoon on the University grounds between Furman College and the Agricultural and Mechanical College of North Carolina was the finest exhibition of the sport ever witnessed in Greenville.

After a hard struggle for victory by both teams, the game ended without a single score being made.

The teams were well matched in weight, size and strength and from start to finish the game was a continual struggle. In the first half the A. and M. College team came within two feet of making a goal when time was called. This was the only time during the game that either team had prospects of scoring. C. D. Welch, umpire; S. H. Sharp, time-keeper; J. D. Currie, referee.—News and Observer.

"Greenville seems to be considerably worried over the condition of her streets. She ought not to let such a narrow matter as that bother her," says the Kinston News. That's all right neighbor. These small worries are perfectly natural when one hasn't anything really serious to bother over, like a—well, a carnival, for instance.

A gentleman whose name could not be learned stepped on a banana peel at Five Points late yesterday afternoon and fell at the depot. Upon examination he was found to have sustained a superficial compound fracture of a brand new fifteen-cent collar, an abrasion of the epidermis covering the left cheek bone, and some disarrangement of toilet. He has employed Messrs. Buster and Swipes, and it is believed the railroad company will have to do some tall maneuvering to get the damage down to $5,000.—The Tar Baby.

Without considering in any way the matter of guilt, we are glad to see that Jim Wilcox is to get a new trial because of the demonstrations against him, made for the purpose of influencing the jury. We need somewhat greater reverence for law here in North Carolina, anyhow.—Progressive Farmer.

One-Cent Postage in Sight.

The expenses of the office of the First Assistant Postmaster General next year will aggregate over $81,000,000, or more than the total annual expenditures for the entire postal service prior to 1893. First Assistant Postmaster General Wynne intimates that the deficit of the Postoffice Department next year will be about $1,000,000, and that in another year the Department will be self-supporting. The last year in which the receipts of the postal service exceeded the expenditures was just before the rate of letter postage was reduced from three to two cents. Officials of the Postoffice Department believe that when the postal service again becomes self-supporting Congress will pass a one-cent letter rate postage law. Postmaster General Payne is said to favor such a move.—Washington Dispatch.

Natural Anxiety. Mothers regard approaching winter with uneasiness, children take cold so easily. No disease costs more little lives than croup. It's attack is so sudden that the sufferer is often beyond human aid before the doctor arrives. Such cases yield readily to One Minute Cough Cure. Liquefies the mucus, allays inflammation, removes danger. Absolutely safe. Acts immediately. Cures coughs, colds, grip, bronchitis, all throat and lung trouble. P. S. McMahon, Hampton, Ga.: "A bad cold rendered me voiceless just before an oratorical contest. I intended to withdraw but took One Minute Cough Cure. It restored my voice in time to win the medal." Jno. L. Wooten.

The average man can love a woman as long as she can keep him from finding her out.

Do Good—It Pays. A Chicago man has observed that, "Good deeds are better than real estate deeds—some of the latter are worthless. Act kindly and gently, show sympathy and lend a helping hand. You cannot possibly lose by it."

Most men appreciate a kind word and encouragement more than substantial help. There are persons in this community who might truthfully say: "My good friend, cheer up. A few doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will rid you of your cold, and there is no danger whatever from pneumonia when you use that medicine. It always cures. I know it for it has helped me out many a time." Sold at Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, N. C.; Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville, N. C.

Women with big feet don't always keep on that way all the way up.

The Worst Form. Multitudes are singing the praises of Kodol, the new discovery which is making so many sick people well and weak people strong by digesting what they eat, by cleansing and sweetening the stomach and by transforming their food into the kind of pure, rich, red blood that makes you feel good all over.

Mrs. Cranfill, of Troy, I. T., writes: For a number of years I was troubled with indigestion and dyspepsia which grew into the worst form. Finally I was induced to use Kodol and after using four bottles I am entirely cured. I heartily recommend Kodol to all sufferers of indigestion and dyspepsia. Take a dose after meals. It digests what you eat. Jno. L. Wooten.

Gained Forty Pounds in Thirty Days. For several months our younger brother had been troubled with indigestion. He tried several remedies but got no benefit from them. We purchased some of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and he commenced taking them. Inside of thirty days he had gained forty pounds in flesh. He is now fully recovered. We have a good trade on the Tablets.

He Learned a Great Truth. It is said of John Wesley that he once said to Mistress Wesley: "Why do you tell that child the same thing over and over again?" "John Wesley, because once telling is not enough." It is for the same reason that you are told again and again that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cures colds and grip; that it counteracts any tendency of these diseases to result in pneumonia, and that it is pleasant and safe to take. Ran a Ten Penny Nail Through His Hand. While opening a box, J. C. Mount, of Three Mile Bay, N. Y., ran a ten penny nail through the fleshy part of his hand. "I thought at once of all the pain and soreness this would cause me," he says, "and immediately applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm and occasionally afterwards. To my surprise it removed all pain and soreness and the injured parts were soon healed." For sale at Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, N. C.; Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville, N. C.

Forty Years' Torture. To be relieved from a torturing disease after 40 years' torture might well cause the gratitude of anyone. That is what DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve did for C. Haney, Geneva, O. He says: "DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured me of piles after I had suffered 40 years." Cures cuts, burns, wounds, skin diseases. Beware of counterfeits. Jno. L. Wooten.

RHINOCEROS HUNTING. The Killing of a Big Rhino on the Banks of the Nile. I was dashed along, confident that the rhino must be far ahead, when Zouanji whistled. I could see nothing till he pointed out the brute lying quite close to me. The sun beating on her mud caked hide made it blend so perfectly with the red earth and yellowish grass that I should have walked right up without seeing her. She sprang to her feet. We both fired. She made a short dash toward us, but thought better of it and rushed down a small slope on to a flat bed of short reeds. Here she turned again and defied us. Again the heavy guns roared. She spun round and round several times, staggered, recovered and dashed off only to stop, however, under the next tree. The 303s cracked, and in a wild chorus of thankful yells she toppled over, rose again, spun round and finally subsided into the grass. We went up quite close to finish her. She fought hard to rise and have a last charge, but the little pencil-like bullet again sped on its sad errand, and the game old relic of prehistoric times breathed her last. We were sad men as we gazed upon her grotesque, misshapen form. Somehow one feels such a blatant upstart in the presence of the pachyderms when one thinks of the unbroken line that dates back unchanged into the unthinkable ages of the past.—Ewart Grogan in Outing.

The Headsman's Perquisites. Strange and unreasonable laws guaranteed to the headsman his full share of emoluments. He was well paid for his work and never suffered from a dull season. From the towns he received poultry and fodder, from the monasteries fish and game. The Abbe de Saint-Germain gave him every year a pig's head; the Abbe de Saint-Martin five loaves of bread and five bottles of wine. Cakes were baked for him on the eve of Epiphany. For each leper in the community he exacted—heaven knows why—a tax at Christmas time. Les filles de joie were his vassals. It was his privilege to seize in the market place as much corn as he could carry away in his hands, and the peasants thus freely robbed submitted without a murmur, crossing themselves with fervor as he passed. He had the power to save from death any woman on her way to the scaffold, provided he were able and willing to marry her. He was the first official called to the body of a suicide, and, standing on the dead man's breast, he claimed as his own everything he could touch with the point of his long sword.—Agnes Repplier in Harper's Magazine.

All Sirloins. Holman F. Day's "Pine Tree Ballads" tells in verse a number of stories that actually happened "down in Maine," and are remembered there today by old narrators. One relates to Barney McGouldrie, a landlord of that state, at whose house famous men liked to stay, that they might enjoy a merry joke.

Barney was always loyal to his friends. At one time a new meat dealer came to town and tried to secure the landlord's trade. "I have always bought meat of Jed Haskell," said Barney, "and I guess I won't change."

"But," said the other, "old Haskell doesn't know his business. He doesn't even know how to cut meat."

"Well," drawled Barney. "I've always found that he knows enough about it to cut sirloin steak clear to the bone, and that's good enough for me."

The Penguin's Bump of Locality. On shore the penguin is an awkward creature. Water is its element. When hunted on the ice floes, the birds generally try to run away in an upright position; but just as the hunter thinks he has got one the bird lies down on its white belly and paddles along over the snow very quickly, the hard, smooth quills slipping over the snow crystals almost without friction. A remarkable characteristic of the penguin is his bump of locality. Both on shore and in the water he never loses his way. To human eyes one ice floe is precisely like another, but under that roof of similar ice floes I have seen a penguin of the larger species find its mate on a floe after diving and swimming for a full mile under water.—Leslie's.

An Infallible Result. Briggs—My wife has had a wonderful cure. She has recovered her voice after being unable to utter a word for nearly six months. Griggs—You don't mean it! How did it come about?

Briggs—In the most unexpected way. We happened to call at a neighbor's where they were playing cards. We thought we might as well take a hand. What was the result? In less than five minutes my wife was asking in a strong, clear voice, "What's trumps?"—Boston Transcript.

Eternity. An unconventional preacher undertook to give his hearers a vivid conception of eternity. This is the way he did it: "If a little sparrow were to dip its bill in the Atlantic ocean and take one drop of water and then take one hop a day across the country and put that drop in the Pacific ocean and then hop back to the Atlantic, one hop a day, until the Atlantic was dry as a bone, it wouldn't be sun-up in hades."

Bad Beginning Makes Quick Ending. "So the engagement's off?" "Yes; she advised him to practice economy, and he started in by getting her an imitation diamond."—Detroit Free Press.

Russians who are religious do not eat pigeons because of the sanctity conferred on the dove in the Scriptures.

FOR THE LITTLE ONES. How to Play the Game of Earth, Air, Fire and Water. Some games are better than a lesson at school for teaching boys and girls to be alert and to think and speak quickly, and this is one of them. Besides, it will give them a little brushing up in natural history. The players are divided into two sides, each with a leader, and they take seats in two opposite rows, about six feet apart. One of the leaders starts the game by throwing a knotted handkerchief into the lap of a player on the opposite side, and after the handkerchief has fallen he calls out "Earth!" "Air!" "Fire!" or "Water!"

Now, if he says "Earth!" the player into whose lap the handkerchief fell must give the name of some quadruped before the thrower counts ten; if he says "Air!" the player must give the name of a bird; if he says "Water!" the player must give the name of a fish; but if he says "Fire!" the player must remain silent.

If the player gives a correct answer or remains silent when "Fire!" is called, he throws the handkerchief into the lap of some one on the other side, calling out one of the four challenging words. But if he names the wrong thing or speaks when "Fire!" is called he drops out of the game and must retire. In this case the player who threw the handkerchief takes it and throws it at some one else on that side.

The game proceeds in this way until all the players on one side have dropped out, when, of course, the other side wins. But only two or three of the winning side will be left to enjoy their victory perhaps, for the necessity of thinking and speaking quickly will cause lots of mistakes, many of them so absurd as to make no end of fun.

The game seems to be a very simple one, but it is one of the most amusing that boys and girls could play.

Directions For the Care of Goldfish. Change the water in the globe every day, taking the fish from the globe with the hand and placing them in a basin of water. While they are in the basin feed them with bread crumbs. Be sure that the globe is large enough to allow the fish free movement. In a globe twelve inches in diameter only two fish not over four or five inches long can live comfortably. A square or oblong tank is better than a globe. If you can, introduce a small jet of water into the globe or tank, thus insuring a constant supply of fresh air, without which fish cannot live. A sure sign of disease in a fish is its constantly rising to the surface. Other signs are languid, undulating movements, loss of brilliancy in color and lying motionless at the bottom of the globe. A cure can be effected by taking out the sick fish and putting it in a basin of fresh running water. Keep the globe not more than four-fifths filled with water and let it stand in the coolest part of the room near an open window protected from the sun.

Elephants Bathing. Elephants are frequently captured by hunters when the animals are taking their baths. For this favorite pastime the elephant is helped by its trunk. By allowing the opening of the proboscis to remain just above the surface the elephant can hide under water for some length of time, or, if the river or pool is too shallow for complete immersion, it can fill its trunk and throw the contents over its huge back, thus making for itself a refreshing shower bath.—Chatter-box.

To Make Some Fun. Some time when you are at a party and you want to have a good laugh just request the least graceful member of the company to grasp his nose with his right hand and his right ear lobe with his left hand. Then tell him to change hands quickly—that is, seize his nose with his left hand and his left ear with his right hand—and to make several such alternations in rapid succession.

Eggs Eggs Eggs. You will get them by feeding your chickens with Wilbur's Poultry Food. Better try it—Eggs are high. HEARNE & CO., Phone 58. Agents For Greenville.

BREAK INTO THE HOMES OF THE PEOPLE BY ADVERTISING IN THE REFLECTOR. A REFLECTOR advertisement will walk into the homes every day and will let your wants be known to the people. A REFLECTOR advertisement will bring customers for your goods, find tenants for your house, find employment or employees, in fact fill any reasonable want you may have. THE REFLECTOR goes into the homes of the people and is read for what it carries them, hence the place to tell your wants is in THE REFLECTOR. The cost of an advertisement in THE REFLECTOR is the easiest part.

NEWSY HAPPENINGS AND BUSINESS NOTES.

WINTERVILLE, N. C. Oct. 8, 1902.

Mrs. Walter Chandler, of Virginia, and Miss Maggie Tucker, of Standard, have been visiting Mrs. S. E. Tucker this week.

Rowan Cooper, head foreman of the A. G. Cox Mfg. Co., who has been confined to his home on account of sickness for the past several days, we are pleased to see able to be out, and hope he may soon be at his old post.

There were two large baptisms near here last Sunday. One by the white Free Will Baptists, who immersed 42 persons in Little creek, and the colored Old Side Baptists who baptised 18 in Forbes mill pond.

Miss Narcissa Sutton spent last Thursday in Greenville.

G. R. Dixon showed us an egg that was laid on Easter Sunday which he had broken and it was not in the least spoiled. It is said that an egg laid on that day will never spoil.

Atwood Kittrell, who is attending a business college in Norfolk, came home Monday night and returned to Norfolk the next morning.

A. G. Cox would not refuse to pay the highest cash prices for beaves, sheep almost anything that can be converted into something good to eat. There are regiments of boys and girls and they have got to be taken care of.

G. A. Kittrell is having a right lively time with the new registration.

The Hunsucker Carriage Co. have received an order for all the buggies they can make. They will be able at all times to supply the home trade, however. There are two things you can't down, honest goods and working men.

Miss Hattie Kittrell went to Greenville Monday.

Mrs. A. G. Cox, Miss Dora and Roy Cox went to Littlefield Saturday and returned Sunday.

It used to be the boys who fell in the ditch, but it seems in this progressive age the scene has changed. We don't mean anybody in the world.

B. F. Manning & Co., have just received a car load of bagging and ties.

Mrs. R. G. Chapman with her two little daughters, Clyde and Mamie, spent yesterday in Greenville.

The 27 inch hog fence seems to be in demand now. This is evidence that the farmers have peas and potatoes for their hogs. The A. G. Cox Mfg. Co. are selling it at the low price of 5¢ cents per yard in large quantities of 1,000 yards or more. Perhaps you may need some of this fence. It is a nice, good substantial fence.

Be careful and give the Tar Heel wagons the road. You will get a smash up should you drive into one.

If you wish to buy a small tract of land apply to A. G. Cox.

A. G. Cox will buy your beef cattle.

Don't forget to register.

Don't fail to register for this election

No one can vote in the approaching election unless he registers on or before October 25th.

Remember you can get the best in the way of tablets and pencils at Reflec or Book Store.

Under the recent Constitutional amendment, if you desire to be entered on the permanent registration roll, be sure to register before October 25th.

Many subscribers are getting THE REFLECTOR sewing machine tickets. Better get yours before they are gone. Come pay your subscription.

Look Out For Fever.

Biliousness and liver disorders at this season may be prevented by cleansing the system with DeWitt's Little Early Riser. These famous little pills do not gripe. They move the bowels gently, but copiously, and by reason of the tonic properties, give tone and strength to the glands. Jno. L. Wooten.
