Our 50-cent NECKWEAR has made our store famous.

Of Course--

If you can afford it, have your clothes made by a fashionable tailor, but if you can't afford the best tailor, you will be far better off to buy your clothes ready-to-wear. If you buy the right kind of you will get fine fabrics, superb tailoring, and be fitted to perfection; in fact you will get the same satisfaction that you would from an expensive custom tailor, but the cost to you will be about half. Come in and see us when you have a few minutes to spare; let us show you the splendid

that we are selling at $15.00

At this price you will have the choice of many fabrics and many styles, and your money will be satisfactorily spent. It is the same in our

Juvenile Department

Every suit means a saving of money and complete satisfaction to the purchaser alike.

Our Hat Department offers you the swell hatters' shapes, but without the swell hatters' profits. You will save money every time and sacrifice nothing in quality.

REGISTER.

Let Everybody Register Who is Entitled To Do So.

There is an entirely new registration this year. Your old registration will not entitle you to vote this year. Unless you register before the books close on the 25th of October, you cannot vote this year. The books are now open for registration, and will be open for that purpose every day, Sunday excepted, until Sunday, Saturday, October 25th. Let everybody who is entitled to vote under the amendment register at once. Register yourself and get your neighbors to register.

Note first: The adoption of the Constitutional Amendment made an entirely new registration necessary. The disfranchised negro registered in the campaign of 1900, and if the Legislature had not provided for new registration this year the names of all these negroes would remain on the registration books.

Note second: An entirely new registration this year was necessary to put the amendment in operation in this election.

F. M. SIMMONS, Ch'm. Dem. Ex. Com. ALEX. J. FEILD, Secretary.

Col. Colt Slapped in the Face.

At 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon Col. R. O. Colt, of this city, had his face slapped by Miss Grace Hobart Hanson, of New York, who is the leading lady of the Paul Gilmore company. The occurrence took place in front of the Central hotel. After he had been struck by Miss Hanson, Col. Colt wheeled and ran into the Central hotel bar. With tears streaming down her face the actress impetuously followed him as far as the saloon door and then, seeing the character of the place, turned and entered the hotel office, exclaiming to Mr. J. T. Matthews, the head clerk: "What sort of men is it you have in this place." The large number of people who were on the streets and witnessed the episode betrayed a natural and lively curiosity. Miss Hanson had been seen to leave the Central hotel annex and walk up the street in the direction of the square. When she came to the Gem restaurant Col. Colt walked up beside her and brushed against her shoulder. She paused, looked at him for a moment and then resumed her walk. A second time Col. Colt came alongside the actress, lurched against her rudely and, as she paused, leered into her face. Then, quick as a boxer, Miss Hanson hit out with all her might, and the sound of the blow could have been heard to the end of the block. Col. Colt immediately discontinued his primeval methods of introducing himself to a stranger. An Observer reporter interviewed Miss Hanson in the parlor of the Central hotel last evening. She was visibly agitated. "The worry over it all sent me to bed," she exclaimed, smiling feebly. "Can't you keep the matter out of the paper? I don't care so much for myself, but I understand the man has a family."—Charlotte Observer.

Attention.

Somebody is going to wake up kicking like a gray mule one of these fine mornings after the 25th. Cause he can't vote. That's just what we are talking about now. The books close on the 25th, on the 26th, if you haven't registered, you will be where the Sunday school teacher was when he couldn't swim, too late to kick. The register is waiting for you every day. Better see him, may want to vote sometime, if you don't now.

DEMOCRATIC STATE TICKET.

Read It Carefully Before You Vote.

Below are the names that appear upon the Democratic State ticket that will be voted on the 4th of November. When you go to vote read your ticket carefully and see that every one of these names are on it. There is reason to fear that bogus tickets will be circulated on election day and every Democrat should be careful not to vote one with a wrong name on it.

Harper-Dawson.

Dr. Henry D. Harper, Jr., of Kinston, and Miss Dora E. Dawson were married at the beautiful home of the brides father, Mr. N. B. Dawson, in Conetoe yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. It was said by all who witnessed it, to be one of the prettiest weddings they ever attended. An elegant luncheon was served at 1 o'clock.

The ceremony was performed in the south parlor, which was handsomely decorated.

The bride and groom were preceded by the little ring bearer, Miss Augusta Charles, of Washington, N. C., a cousin of the bride. The groom entered with his brother, Mr. Carl C. Harper, as best man. The bride entered on the arm of her brother, Mr. Fred Dawson. Dr. Harper, father of the groom, impressively performed the ceremony.

Several who were present tell us that they have never witnessed a marriage ceremony that was so solemn and impressive.

The bridal party came to Kinston last night on the 6:45 train and went to the home of the groom's father where a reception was held.

The couple in a few days will be at home on Independent street.

Dr. Harper is a popular young dentist and has hundreds of friends in Kinston and in this section. He has already made a name for himself in his profession.

The bride is beautiful and accomplished and is prominent in social circles and has many friends throughout the State. She is well known in Kinston. She will prove a valuable addition in social life here.

Those attending the wedding from Kinston were: Dr. H. D. Harper, Sr., Mrs. B. W. Hatcher, Messrs. Carl Harper, Guy Webb, Hoge Irvine, W. A. Mitchell and E. B. Wooten.—Kinston News.

Runaway.

Mr. Bryant Smith's little son, George, showed a number of people on Main street this afternoon that an ordinary mule doesn't lose him every day in the week. The mule didn't like a large picture that had been put on the buggy, and tore down the street with reckless disregard for telephone poles and standing vehicles. He took the sidewalk opposite the court house, but the young driver held on to the reins and guided clear of the telephone pole at that point and a number of buggies in front of Harrington's stables. Once in the road again, the boy took a shorter grip and stopped the runaway at Second street. It was good driving, and the little fellow is to be congratulated for not losing his presence of mind.

If the miners had refused to accept the terms of arbitration submitted by the operators, though regretted by the public, it would have been concurred in by the great majority of unbiased thinkers of the country. The terms were manifestly unfair to the miners, and the limitations placed on President Roosevelt were an insult to his position and intelligence. If the operators were willing to submit to arbitration, why not submit a proposition to the president, unhampered by restrictions that would surely be repugnant to the miners? The proposition smacks strongly of an insincere bid for a public sentiment that was dead against them.—Kinston Free Press.

Bad All Around.

The passenger train being reported on time and then coming in an hour late, as was the case Thursday night, was a severe strain on the patience and temper of those who had to wait around the depot for it. The public has a right to be more correctly informed as to the movement of passenger trains.

The progressive newspapers of the land are full of "good roads," but the country at large is still full of "bad" roads. But to know better is to do better, in many cases, and now that so much splendid preaching is being done along this line of thought, it is probable that more or less of it will sooner or later be put into practice. "Good Roads" is now in the air every where. By and by they may be down on the surface of the earth, where men can utilize them for traveling purposes.

The small-sized man at the G. A. R. encampment at Washington last week who opposed the monument to General Lee because "our soil was too pure to erect monument to any traitor" will hardly ever bob up again.—Durham Herald.

Even LaGrange has a shell road.

Plenty mo' room on top, but the elevator isn't running.

It doesn't appear that Kinston proposes to allow any smallpox to slip up on the blind side.

Gittin' up fo' breakfast may not be agit the bird with an empty stomach ache, but it's purty hard on the worrum.

Business men say that street improvements in Wilson, Charlotte, and cities like LaGrange, are the best investments those towns have made.

It is in order to caution the public against eating anything resembling the cabbage snake. It is fully as important to be sure of your snake as of your mushroom.

Somebody is due New Bern an apology, and the Journal should proceed to demand it. Come to find out, that smallpox is across the river, and over in the pest house.

Remember that no one can vote in the approaching election unless they register on or before the 25th of this month.

Did you ever! Right here in the beginning of cold weather, and with a cold famine staring us in the face, a Charlotte ice dealer announces a cut in the price of ice and is selling 300 pound blocks at 30 cents each. If he would just substitute a few lumps of coal for the ice now, and hold the cheap ice prices for next summer, there would be more cause for gratitude among consumers.

POLITICAL FREE ADVERTISING.

The Kinston Morning News has this paragraph:

The independents don't seem to mind paying for advertisements. They have been running Durham county ticket among the ads in both of the Durham dailies since the convention, and yesterday Chairman Whitaker came out with a full page ad against Judge Clark in The Herald, and the editor remarks in the editorial column that the paper was getting pay for it.

The "independent movement" will not have lived in vain if it conveys the idea to all concerned that political parties, like merchants, manufacturers and others, should pay for the publicity they get. Why should they not pay the newspapers for keeping their tickets standing in their columns, for announcements of speakings, and other matter which is of a purely advertising character? In this matter the papers are fearfully imposed upon, those of one party not more than those of another. Why should political parties be made an exception of and be allowed to hobo their way through the newspapers as if the success of this or that party were of more importance to the paper than to others who belong to the party? And yet no individual is expected to get up a free barbecue and no liveryman to furnish free teams for party purposes. The Baltimore Sun will not print a report of a political speech except as an advertisement. This is carrying the idea a little too far, but surely there is a proper line somewhere between what should be printed free and what should be paid for.

The Observer has no notion of undertaking to establish an innovation in this matter but expects to go on as it has always done and as all other North Carolina papers have done and do, publishing political advertising without charge, but it is not out of the way to refer to this imposition upon all the papers of all parties.—Charlotte Observer

Riding on the cars with a Boston man some days ago, we were much interested in his opinion of the South, and of North Carolina particularly. He said that the South is growing like a weed and that its resources are great. This is true, and it is further true that many of the Northern people are learning it faster than we people of the South. The eyes of every part of this great country are on the South, and our development and possibilities are greater than we realize.—Scotland Neck Commonwealth.

No one can vote in the approaching election unless he registers on or before October 25th.

Main's Big Show.

On Thursday, Oct. 30th, the great Walter L. Main enormous shows will make their first appearance in Greenville. This is positively the largest show that has ever appeared in Pitt county. The Main circus is now on a triumphal tour of the Southern states and wherever it has appeared has received the highest endorsement of press, public and clergy.

Mr. Main this season presents only all feature acts and the performance from start to finish is the best ever given by a tented institution. The No 1 advance car with a large force of bill posters, arrived in town this morning and the men are today engaged in billing the city and surrounding country for the appearance of this enormous aggregation on Thursday, Oct. 30.

Tank Giving Way.

Any one hereabouts who hasn't seen the leaning tower of Pisa should take a look at the big tank recently constructed for Greene & Hooker. It affords as good an illustration of the "Grecian bend" as may be seen here. When it falls, as it seems likely to do if used in its present condition, it will probably demolish the mill. It leans that way.

Registration of Voters.

Notice is hereby given that the books for the registration of voters in Greenville township will be opened from 9 o'clock A. A Strike Against Coal.

Coal can not be bought, but you can buy one of our Oil Heaters, or Dawn Wood Heaters, which we guarantee will give you a hot time this winter whether you have cold or coal. All of our goods are sold on this plan; A little margin on everything—a large one on nothing. You are very fortunate if you can afford to buy coal at present prices, but then you are fortunate anyway, because you can buy one of our Oil or wood Stoves and laugh at the coal strike.

FURNITURE DEPARTMENT.

It would take this entire paper to tell you what we have in this department, so we name only a few articles. Dining tables and chairs, bedsteads, bureaus, rockers center tables, safes, washstands, sideboards, chiffoniers, etc. Be sure to see our white enameled iron beds. They are beauties. We have 450 square feet of floor space devoted to this department. All we have to say is, come in and take a look.
