Washington Letter

Special Correspondence from the Capital of the Nation.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 6.

Some remarkable instances of harmony in republican ranks have come to light during the past week. In an extraordinary speech Secretary Root has announced that there must be no "tariff thinking," that the sacred Dingley schedules must not even be touched before election, nor at a short session, and, as the session following the election will be short, this postpones the "tariff revision by its friends," of which Mr. Root talks so confidently, until the winter of 1905-06. Secretary Shaw has taken occasion to deprecate all tariff revision, not even holding out the promise of a reform in the system in 1905. Mr. Shaw urges that high prices bring prosperity and the trusts and all their attendant evils are to be preferred to competition. No tariff revision for the present and probably none for the future, this seems to be the sum and substance of republican doctrine.

There is a seriously discordant voice, in the republican concert however, a voice which, now that there is no election at hand, dares to tell the truth. It is that of Representative Babcock of Wisconsin, who cries out against the dilatory tactics of his party and frankly states that the Dingley tariff law is robbing the American people of millions of dollars, is transferred from the pockets of the people to those of the steel trust, upwards of $80,000,000 annually. This is how Mr. Babcock explains the situation. He says that protection means the equalization of the cost of American labor. On an article, which costs to produce in this country $1.25 and which, because of cheaper labor, can be produced abroad for $1, Mr. Babcock would place a tariff of 25 cents and he unhesitatingly says that every cent of tariff above that amount means the robbing of the people. The steel trust can produce steel cheaper here than it can be produced anywhere else in the world, therefore the tariff of nearly $18 per ton which is now assessed is actually a license to the trusts to rob the American people of that amount on every ton. What the republicans will do to Mr. Babcock when they learn that he has talked thus to a newspaper correspondent remains to be seen.

Secretary Root has issued further instructions with regard to the inspection of militia regiments by officers of the regular army, prior to their enrollment as properly qualified troops. The secretary instructs that only thoroughly competent officers be charged with the duty of inspection and that they refrain from undue formality in the performance of their duty. He urges that the militia be provided with magazine guns of the required type as soon as possible so that they may become accustomed to handling and drilling with them. In every instance the officer charged with making the inspection is instructed to first confer with the adjutant general of the state with regard to the most convenient time and place for the inspection which may, and probably will, in many instances take place during the annual encampment.

To my Friends and the Public.

Having sold out my stock of Millinery and good will to C. T. Munford, I would be glad to have all my friends to come and trade with me at Munford's store.

BURNED TO DEATH.

Many passed But Would not Help a Little Girl in Her Work of Rescue.

New York, April 3.—Two persons were burned to death and several persons were hurt at a fire today in a six story tenement house in Henry street on the east side. Firemen found the dead body of Harris Rothstein, 48 years old, an invalid on the top floor. The building was being renovated for the feast of the passover and painters were at work in the halls and rooms.

A similar fire occurred on Rivington street last night.

When the cry of fire was heard throughout the house, there was only a 14 year old girl, and the invalid in the Rothstein apartment on third floor. The little girl dragged the old man up three flights of stairs and was trying to get him up the ladder leading to the roof when scorched by the flames and choking smoke she was forced to abandon him. Men and women who were passing them on their way to safety, took no notice of their appeal for help.

After the fire a body, apparently that of a woman was found among some debris. The body was so badly burned that it could not be recognized. The property loss is estimated at $8,000.

A Good Show.

Bullock's All Stars company gave a very satisfactory performance at the opera house last night to a small sized house who appreciated the efforts of the performers and applauded every number.

The performance was replete with amusing and interesting features, but Baby Lucile, on account of her extreme youth, captivated the audience at the start and her every appearance was a signal for a storm of applause. She was truly astonishing in her specialties, displaying a tact and receptiveness that would do credit to a much older person. Her acting and singing in the first number, "Woa't You Come Home Bill Bailey" made an impression on the audience, which was not lost during the performance.

The Bullock quartette in specialties was very catchy and the male quartette also came in for a good share of applause.

The show was good and deserves better patronage than they had last night. Another performance with an entire change of program will be given tonight.—Kinston Free Press.

This company will appear at the opera house tonight and tomorrow night.

Did Not Dine With Negroes.

C. G. Vardell, of Red Springs, N. C., writing to the Charlotte Observer, who was with Dr. Page at the dinner so much commented upon says:

"I was at first somewhat amused and then a little annoyed at the criticisms that have been passed on my friend, Dr. Walter H. Page, and the circumstances attending the dinner given by the Unitarian Club, at Hotel St. Denis, at which time it is alleged that Dr. Page dined with a negro. The facts are briefly these: The Unitarian Club, numbering with its guests two hundred or more, met for a discussion; the dinner was incidental no negroes were invited to the dinner; but two came in when the dinner was supposed to be over to hear the discussion, just as they might have gone to a hall where there had been no dinner.

The Epworth League will have a literary meeting tonight at the home of L. H. Pender, in West Greenville.

The New White Front

This store has been crowded with visitors and customers from the first day it was opened, and feels very grateful to its friends for the kind words of praise and the liberal patronage which it has received. The stock is large and complete in each line shown. The weavers have certainly outdone themselves in bringing forth novelties in fabrics.

An elaborate and noteworthy showing of all the new ideas.

Space forbids mentioning the different lines, but we wish to call especial attention to the Beautiful Dress Goods, Trimmings, Summer Lawns and Thin materials.

Bold Thief.

Saturday afternoon some one stole a horse and buggy, belonging to Mr. Joseph Tripp, from one of the public hitching lots in town. That was bold stealing.

No Need of Fear.

As some of the ladies who are in the habit of going out driving in the afternoon have expressed fear that their horses will be frightened by the automobile, Mr. R. Greene has requested us to say that his automobile will not be on the street later than 3 o'clock p. m.

If you have registered and fail to vote tomorrow your name will be counted against improvements and schools.

MONDAY AFTERNOON, APRIL 6, 1903.

Once there was an old-fashioned Geezer who went away off behind a House whenever he wished to make change from the ancient Wallet he carried. While thus engaged one Day, trying to Dig up a Penny with which to buy Some Matches, a Good Thing came prancing down the Boulevard and was immediately Annexed by a Smooth looking Guy with both eyes Skinned. Moral—Get out of your own Shadow.

Mr. Cleveland wince under the annoyance caused him by activity in in the lying department of the yellow journals. Whatever Mr. Cleveland has or has not done, he has not deserved the persecuting lies leveled at him lately, and there ought to be some law to secure immunity from the picayunish slings of the yellows.

In a recent issue we mis-spelled "cataclysm" thus, "catachysm." Of course ours was a typographical error, but wouldn't you have thought that at least one of the dozen editors who reproduced the article in which the word occurred would have corrected it? But they didn't.

The editor of the Washington Gazette-Messenger was held up the other day and forced to admit, at the point, presumably, of a hat pin, that the property of women ought not to be taxed. All depends upon the point of view. The tax collector naturally thinks otherwise.

The Raleigh Post says a Charlotte detective who went up North in quest of a negro wanted for larceny returned "empty." Those Charlotte people will patronize home industry.

The Associated Press is very much interested in the doings of the president's children, but we can't believe that the public is thrilled by an account of how Teddy Jr. caught a catfish.

The visible assets of an absconding doctor of Asheville are a pair of cuffs. Several more pair would probably be coming his way if his creditors should catch him up a dark alley.

The esteemed Commoner has reached the stage where it discusses anonymous letters. This is somewhat a come-down from the "cross of gold and crown of thorns" era.

Theodore may be long on civil service, but it would no doubt be agreeable to some of his subordinates if he should annex civil manners.

It seems that Theodore made somewhat of a hit in the Windy City. But then he was right "to home," you know.

The balance of Judge Pritchard's relatives will doubtless be taken care of in good time.

We are of the opinion that Judge Pritchard hankers after a cabinet position in the second Roosevelt administration—if the country should fall under this misfortune.

Theodore now has it in for his secretary of the treasury. The way that president does try to be the whole hog is - so expected.

An Asheville minister was in the police court the other day, but his name will not appear on the books.

German newspapers are about to catch up with some of the efforts of our own yellows during the Spanish-American war.

"Shoemaker, stick to your last," sayeth the proverb; and Oh! sole, stick to my shoe till warm weather.

The allied powers have offered to pay the expenses of the Venezuela blockade—when Venezuela pays her debts.

We can't see that Mr. Bryan's recent cartoons are helping along toward harmony.

If Theodore can't squelch Dewey any other way he might try the double Nelson Miles on him.

Colonel Lusk says he has nothing to say about what he said.

"Does gold grow?" asks some scientific duffer. Ours does not.

Our industrial development really began under Governor Jarvis' administration when he first undertook to advertise the natural resources of North Carolina. This work has not been finished. What we have got, and what we have done, and are doing in manufacturing, mining and agriculture—as well as the opportunities this State offers to investors and home-seekers—are not as broadly known as they should be. As the money we have spent on expositions in the past has repaid us a hundred fold, it would seem wise and good business to put up a few more thousand dollars.—Winston Sentinel.

Due Notice is Served.

Due notice is hereby served on the public generally that DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is the only salve on the market that is made from the pure, unadulterated witch hazel. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve has cured thousands of cases of piles that would not yield to any other treatment, and this fact has brought out many worthless counterfeits. Those persons who get the genuine DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve are never disappointed, because it cures. Jno. L. Wooten.

A Prominent Minister Recommends Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Rev. Francis J. Davidson, pastor of the St. Matthew Baptist church and president of the Third District Baptist Association, 2731 Second St., New Orleans, writes as follows: "I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for cramps and pains in the stomach and found it excellent. It is in fact the best cramp and colic remedy I have ever used. Also several of my parishioners have used it with equally satisfactory results." For sale by Wooten's Drug Store Greenville, Farmville Pharmacy Farmville.

Woman's first lesson is to listen and then be still.

A Demonstration of What Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy Can Do.

"One of our customers, a highly respected citizen of this place, had been for ten years a sufferer from chronic diarrhoea," writes Walden & Martin, druggist, of Enterprise, Ala. "He had used various patent preparations and had been treated by physicians without any permanent benefit. A few months ago he commenced taking Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and in a short time was entirely cured. Many citizens of Enterprise who know the gentleman will testify to the truthfulness of his statement." For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, Farmville Pharmacy Farmville.

Don't cry over spilt milk; hustle around and get another milkman.

Too Great a Risk.

A reliable remedy for bowel complaints should always be kept at hand. The risk is too great for anyone to take. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy never fails and when reduced with water is pleasant to take. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store Greenville, Farmville Pharmacy Farmville.

Druggery ages a woman much quicker than does sorrow or illness.

A disordered stomach may cause no end of trouble. When the stomach fails to perform its functions the bowels become deranged, the liver and kidneys congested, causing numerous diseases, the most fatal of which are painless and therefore the more to be dreaded. The important thing is to restore the stomach and liver to a healthy condition, and for this purpose no better preparation can be used than Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store Greenville Farmville Pharmacy Farmville.

More failures are due to lack of will than to lack of strength.

A Sweet Breath

is a never failing sign of a healthy stomach. When the breath is bad the stomach is out of order. There is no remedy in the world equal to Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for curing indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach disorders. Mrs. Mary S. Orick, White Plains Ky., writes: "I have been a dyspeptic for years—tried all kinds of remedies but continued to grow worse. By the use of Kodol I began to improve at once, and after taking a few bottles am fully restored in weight, health and strength and can eat whatever I like." Kodol digests what you eat and makes the stomach sweet. Jno. L. Wooten.

It is not always the woman with the most leisure who is the best groomed.

For liver troubles and constipation there's nothing better in creation than Little Early Risers, the famous little pills. They always effect a cure and save doctor bills. Little Early Risers are different from all other pills. They do not weaken the system, but act as a tonic to the tissues by arousing the secretions and restoring the liver to the full performance of its functions naturally. Jno. L. Wooten.

His Weight in Gold For the Poor.

"A Hindoo stood in a scale, and his weight was measured in goldpieces. That," said a traveler, "was the strange spectacle that I once beheld in India. There was a great crowd looking on, and it took a great many goldpieces to equal the Hindoo's weight, for he was fat. Finally, though, the big scale balanced, and then everybody began to shout: 'Tulabhar! Tulabhar! Tulabhar!' The fat man got out of the scale. He and his friends took the gold, and going through all the poorer quarters of the town, they distributed it among the destitute. This, I was informed, was a kind of religious ceremony among a certain sect. Every male at the time in his life when it was thought his weight would be greatest was put in a scale, and gold to equal him in bulk was measured out and distributed in alms. As a rule, each man was forty-seven when his weight was taken. They hold in India that at forty-seven a man is at his fattest."—Philadelphia Record.

A Story With a Bad Moral.

In a prosperous town in Mexico lives a merchant whose wealth grew out of a combination of good luck and drunkenness. An uncontrollable desire for drink cost him position after position, and he drifted down to Mexico and became a news agent. He sold lottery tickets. He had to report on drawing day what unsold tickets he had and forward them. He got drunk the day before one of the big drawings. Two days later he sobered up and found himself in possession of several hundred dollars' worth of unsold tickets. He did not possess $10 in the world. He examined the list and found that a number of the unsold tickets had drawn prizes aggregating $35,000 in gold. He collected the winnings, paid for the unsold tickets and took an oath of perpetual total abstinence. That was years ago. He has never touched liquor since and is today a wealthy man. The moral is bad, but the story is too good to suppress.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Legend of the Looking Glass.

Who ever heard it stated that the looking glass was first invented to spite a pretty woman? And how would it be possible to spite a woman by showing her a perfect reflection of her own dainty self? Well, according to Japanese mythology, the deity presiding over the sun and furnishing light to the world became infuriated at some trifle and hid herself away in a cave, thus depriving humanity of a very necessary element. In order to induce her to come out the mirror was invented and placed in the cave. The beautiful goddess, seeing another beautiful goddess within those narrow confines, immediately departed, and the people took care that never again should she enter the precincts of a cave. Alas so that most valued of woman's treasures was invented for spite, but for what a different purpose has it served!

Old Coins From Old Mints.

The "mint house" in Boston existed about thirty-four years. All the coins issued from it bore the dates 1652 or 1662, the same dies being used probably throughout the thirty-four years of coinage. Some coins had been made in Bermuda for the use of the Virginia colony as early as 1644. Copper coins bearing the figure of an elephant were struck in England for the Carolinas and New England in 1694. Coins were also struck for Maryland bearing the effigy of Lord Baltimore. A mint was established in Rupert, Vt., by legislative authority in 1785, whence copper cents were issued, bearing on one side a plow and a sun rising from behind hills and on the other a radiated eye surrounded by thirteen stars.

Pen Picture of a Beautiful Horse.

A pen picture of a beautiful horse is to be found in one of Sewell Ford's stories in "Horses Nine." Here it is: In the stalls at Gray Oaks stables were many good hunters, but none better than Pasha. Cream white he was, from the tip of his splendid yard long tail to his pink lipped muzzle. His coat was as silk plush, his neck as supple as a swan's, and out of his big, bright eyes there looked such intelligence that one half expected him to speak. His lines were all long, graceful curves, and when he danced daintily on his slender legs one could see the muscles flex under the delicate skin.

Absentminded.

"Rather absentminded, isn't he?" "Extremely so. Why, the other night when he got home he knew there was something he wanted to do, but he couldn't remember what it was until he had sat up over an hour trying to think."

"And did he finally remember it?" "Yes; he discovered that he wanted to go to bed early!"

A Lucky Call.

"I don't mind telling you now," said young Dr. Frankly, "that you just called me in at the right time." "Really?" exclaimed the convalescent. "I wasn't so bad as that, was I?" "Bad: My dear sir, you were good. I was down to my last cent and needed the money!"

The Traveler's Ready Answer.

Rheumacide

Is a new and scientific compound made from roots, herbs and barks—contains neither opiates nor poisons. It purifies the blood and removes the causes of rheumatism and all blood diseases. Anyone can take RHEUMACIDE with absolute safety. Does not injure the digestive organs.

TWO CURES.

FLORENCE, S. C., Aug. 16, 1902.
Gentlemen:—I began to suffer from rheumatism about three years ago, and had it very bad in my limbs. At times I could hardly walk. Was treated by a physician without benefit. More than a year ago, Mr. George Wilson, an engineer on the Coast Line, living in Florence, told me that "RHEUMACIDE" cured him. I got a bottle and it benefited me. I took five bottles and am now as well as I ever was in my life. I regard "RHEUMACIDE" as a great medicine. I know of others it has cured.

Truly,
S. T. BURCH.

DARLINGTON, S. C., Aug. 19th, 1902.
Gentlemen:—About two years ago I had a very severe attack of inflammatory rheumatism. I suffered great pain and was confined to my bed for five weeks. During the time I was treated by two Physicians without permanent relief. Capt. Harker, a conductor on the Atlantic Coast Line heard of your condition and sent me two bottles of "RHEUMACIDE." I began to take it and in a week I got up and walked on crutches. After taking three bottles of the remedy I got entirely well and went back to my business. I personally know of a number of other had cases that were cured by the use of your medicine, in this town and vicinity. It is all that you claim for it.

LETTER TO J. R. WILSON.

Greenville N. C.

Dear Sir: When you build a house you want a good paint next the wood—it goes a long way in taking care of the wood. The paint that has the best chance to be useful is—this first coat: first two coats: first three coats. The first takes care of the wood; the second takes care of the first; the third takes care of the two. All three become one; and that one is to last forever. "Forever" means as long as the house lasts. The way to make the first painting last, as long as the house, is to follow it up with repainting often enough.

How often? Depends on the paint. Repaint while the paint is still waterproof. All the wear is outside; there is no wear on the under paint. This is how the first painting last forever: by keeping it covered: keeping it sound. And this is the cheapest way to take care of a house. But how often to paint depends on your paint. If you paint lead and oil, paint again in three years or less; if Devco lead and zinc, paint again in three years or more!

That "less" and "more" are about as one to two. Devco lead and zinc takes care of a house at half cost, because it lasts twice as long as lead and oil.

Yours truly,

F. W. DEVOE & CO.

P. S.—H. L. Carr sells our paint.

Resignation Accepted.

At a conference of the Baptist church, held Sunday morning, to take action on the resignation of Rev. J. N. Booth as pastor, which was tended Wednesday night previous to take effect May 1st, the resignation was accepted. A committee was appointed to look after securing another pastor for the church.

Mr. Booth has accepted a call to the Baptist church at Hertford.

Carlyle on Novels.

A letter of Carlyle's gives us the opinion of novels entertained by him in the year 1836. To a budding story teller he wrote to suggest that she should "shove her own novel well aside for a good while or forever and be shy even of reading novels. If she do read, let it be good and wise books, which not one in 10,000 of the kind now called 'novels' is." And yet Carlyle was himself guilty of at least beginning to write a novel.

Moons in the Solar System.

There are at least twenty moons in the solar system. Saturn alone has eight, the biggest of them, Titan, being nearly twice the size of the moon, and Jupiter possesses four, ranging in dimensions upward from Europa, just about as large as the orb of terrestrial night, to Ganymede, greatest of all known moons, with a diameter of 3,480 miles, whereas the moon belonging to this world is only 2,100 miles through.

A Fire Extinguisher.

A man made application for insurance on a building situated in a village where there was no fire engine. He was asked: "What are the facilities in your village for extinguishing fire?" "Well, it rains sometimes," he replied, with great simplicity.

A Great Invention.

Buyer—So this suspender is called the hydrophobic?
Drummer—Yes, sir; these suspenders shrink when the wearer approaches water, and when he gets near a puddle they contract, lift him over it and land him, dry shod, on the other side.—New York Times.

Wanted to "Realize."

Three-year-old Julia wanted to write Santa Claus to bring her a "shoot gun." When asked what she wanted it for, she said:

"I want to shoot one of papa's cattle and get the money out of it, for papa says there is money in cattle."—Little Chronicle.

The great man is he who does not lose his child's heart.—Mencius.

One of the First.

"This is a petrified man," said Mrs. Fosdick, who was showing her husband the treasures of the museum.
"His is the original marble heart, I suppose," was Fosdick's comment.

Senseless.

Bragg—I was knocked senseless by a cricket ball two years ago.
The Boy in the Corner—When does yer expect ter get over it?—Glasgow Times.

When death consents to let us live a long time, it takes successively as hostages all those we have loved.—Mme. Necker.

The Boston Boy.

Mamma—Johnny, did you wipe your feet on the mat when you came in?
Johnny—I couldn't get my shoestrings untied. They were in a hard knot.
Mamma—But what have shoestrings to do with it?
Johnny—I couldn't wipe my feet without taking off my shoes, could I?—Boston Transcript.
