The Tower of London.

Most people take as real the ancient history of the Tower; possibly few are aware that in comparison with it the palaces and prisons throughout Europe are modern creations, says the Liverpool Post. Hepworth Dixon establishes this fact clearly in his admirable history. The oldest bit of palace in Europe, that of the west front of the Burg of Vienna, is of the time of Henry VIII. The Kremlin, in Moscow; the Doge's Palace, in Venice, are of the fourteenth century. The Seraglio, in Stamboul, was built by Mohammed II. The oldest part of the Vatican was commenced by Borgia, whose name it bears. The old Louvre was begun in the reign of Henry VIII, the Tuileries in that of Elizabeth. In the time of our civil war, Versailles was yet a swamp. The sixteenth century claims the Escorial; the eighteenth, Sans Souci. Jerusalem's Serail is a Turkish edifice. The palaces of Athens, Cairo, Teheran, are all of modern date. With the sole exception of St. Angelo, in Rome, all are of modern date as compared with that one from which Ralph Flambard escaped in the year 1100, the date of the first Crusade. The crown jewels in the Tower are worth, it may be supposed, some £3,000,000. Everything of state regalia is there, with one notable exception. The Koh-i-Noor is represented by a crystal. Queen Alexandra wears the original, on great occasions, as part of her personal jewels. The Tower has been the sovereign's strongroom for the storing of treasure ever since Tower dwelling monarchs were. The old jewel house itself was built simultaneously with the Royal Mint, when that establishment was within the Tower walls.

Of Interest to the Housewife.

In addition to bright fiction, illustrated articles and other matter of general interest to women, The Delineator for February contains papers by experts on various household topics and excellent culinary advice. Eleanor Marchant contributes instructive paper on serving the simple home breakfast, luncheon and dinner, the illustrative of which are especially suggestive. A Holland Luncheon, also illustrated, will appeal forcibly to those who delight in novelty. Other cookery items in the number are recipes for luncheon dishes a la Planchette, suggestions for the preparation of winter fruit and a number of choice recipes of novel desserts.

WINTERVILLE ITEMS.

WINTERVILLE, N. C., Jan. 9.

The firm heretofore existing under the firm name style of B. F. Manning & Co., has been dissolved by mutual consent and will hereafter be known and styled R. G. Chapman & Co., Winterville, N. C.

John D. Cox left Thursday morning on a business trip to South Carolina.

Mr. Hall, of Greenville, was here a short while Wednesday.

On Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's father, Mr. W. B. Hart was united in marriage to Miss Susan E. Jolley. J. M. Blow, Esq., performing the ceremony. We wish them a very happy life.

Now the holidays are past every thing is assuming its natural appearance. The familiar sound of the factory whistles, the ringing of the school bells, the beautiful children winding their way to their studies, the bee-hive appearance of our mercantile stores goes to prove all have settled down to business. We hope the remembrance of the old year with its good and its bad will be an incentive to inspire us toward the accomplishment of loftier deeds and nobler purposes drawing nearer to the God who made us, making our lives brighter and sweeter for having lived.

Miss Mattie Meeks, of Alwood, has been visiting Debbie Manning.

Miss Debbie Manning, after visiting friends on the other side of the river returned home Wednesday evening.

The Misses Abram, of Greenville, spent several days with Mrs. J. F. Smith this week.

Slop, sloppy, sloppier, and the probability is more slop. Well, let her slop.

Rev. J. J. Payseur has been secured as pastor of the Missionary

Baptist church here for the coming year and will preach his introductory sermon next Sunday.

There have been many changes in the location of a good number of families here since the new year opened. Those that were in the east have gone west; those in the west have moved east; and the northerners have jumped down south; while the southerners have scooted up north. For the benefit of our friends and those who love us come to the old stand and we'll be there.

Postoffice Inspector Knight, who has been here several days in an official capacity, left this morning for Washington City.

A party of three went out hunting and brought in 49 birds Thursday.

John D. Hurst, who has been down in Bettie, came home last night.

W. L. House went to Greenville yesterday.

We are informed since writing that services would be held here in the Baptist church that owing to the sickness of the new pastor, he will not be here until the 4th. Sunday.

TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

Very Interesting Session Today.

The Pitt County Teachers' Association held its monthly meeting today in the graded school building. Owing to the cold weather that has prevailed some days the attendance was smaller than usual. In the absence of both the president and vice-president, the meeting was called to order by County Superintendent W. H. Ragsdale. The devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. F. G. Hartman.

After reading minutes of last meeting the teachers made report of the condition of their schools.

Prof. Dove with several pupils of the graded school gave a model class exercise in spelling.

Rev. A. T. King made a most timely address on "The Relation of Intelligence to Morality" that was much enjoyed.

Under the head of miscellaneous business Prof. Lineberry suggested the importance of the teeth of every child in school being examined once a year by a dentist. Such examination is compulsory in some states. It can be made without cost.

Prof. Ragsdale mentioned the importance of teachers subscribing to county papers so as to be informed on all publication pertaining to the school work.

The committee on teachers' library reported that books had been ordered and would arrive in a few days. The library will open with about 100 choice books on professional subjects and it is important that the teachers avail themselves of the benefit of these books. The library will be located in the office of the county superintendent.

WANTED—Agent for Pitt County to work for the Eastern Life Insurance Company of America. Liberal contract to a hustler. Address, with references, Eastern Life Ins. Co., Washington, N. C. 1-9-7td-2tw

The State Firemen's tournament is to be held in Salisbury this year and the firemen's association is already taking active steps toward making the event a success. An executive committee is already devising means of raising the necessary funds for the tournament.

The county board of education will meet Monday, 11th, at which time the school money will be apportioned.

Money For the Volunteers.

Representative Pou has taken an active interest in the matter of securing the bounty from the government to which the North Carolina troops who volunteered in the war with Spain are entitled. He called on the auditor of the War Department today and was informed that North Carolina could probably obtain the money that is being sought and which a number of other states have collected, provided the statute of limitations does not interfere. Later in the day Mr. Pou ascertained that a blanket bill has been introduced in congress giving to all the states the right to collect from the government the money to which their troops are entitled. This bill, in Mr. Pou's opinion, will probably become a law at an early date. Mr. Pou has been informed that Gov. Aycock has already selected a North Carolina attorney to press the collection of the claim, which will amount to between $20,000 and $30,000 approximated. A collecting agency which successfully pushed the claim of one state, sought to take North Carolina's case on the basis of 30 per cent.

Opera House Tuesday Night.

Manchester, Va. Dec. 17, 1903. Mr. George C. Williams, Ithaca, N. Y.

My dear Sir,

Your concert, given here on the 15th instant under the direction of the Ladies Aid Society, was a perfect success in every respect. And I speak in behalf of the entire society and all who attended, that we are thoroughly pleased, and sometime after Xmas we wish you to send them to us again, as we feel sure we shall have to do very little advertising, as the ladies made for themselves as well as your school a lasting reputation. I am sure were they to come and tender us another of their high class concerts, that we shall have our house packed without any trouble whatever. Please accept many thanks from the entire Society for sending your company to us and, hoping to have them with us again soon, believe me to be

Yours very sincerely,
 Miss Florrye S. Moody, Pres.

J. J. Reyes and W. S. France, of Rocky Mt, are here this week buying tobacco.

Miss Louise Bodley, of Baltimore, is still breathing Bethel air and enjoying its comforts.

We are glad to know that Bethel graded school is still increasing. A good school increases wherever it may be.

SATURDAY AFTERNOON, JANUARY 9, 1904.

Among the chief attractions at the theaters hereafter will be plenty of exits.

Statistics show that 104 lynchings occurred in this country in 1903 as against 96 in the previous year.

Gov. Aycock feels that it is time that some of the critics of his exercise of his pardoning power should ask his pardon.—Winston-Salem Sentinel.

Upon reflection the czar has decided not to massacre any more Jews at a time when he is negotiating a war loan.

It turns out that the commissioners of Person county did not refuse to grant liquor licenses, as was first reported. There was a squabble over the matter but it ended in the licenses being issued.

A western man dropped dead the other day because his heart was afflicted by the use of tobacco. He had lived 101 years and had smoked a pipe only eighty of them. We wonder how long a man will live there who never smokes.

The entire country will sympathize with ex-President Grover Cleveland upon the death of his oldest daughter, Ruth, which occurred Thursday at the Cleveland home in Princeton, N. J. Her death was due to diphtheria. Baby Ruth was born in New York, a little over twelve years ago while her father was president.

The child labor law which was passed by the last legislature, forbidding the employment of anyone under twelve years of age became effective Jan. 1st, and is now probably being obeyed in all the state. The disposition of the mill owners is to obey the law and to keep children from labor, but they are often harassed by the parents of young children who are anxious for the small amounts of money that is given as salaries.

A Raleigh magistrate has held that it is a misdemeanor to ship whiskey to any county or locality in North Carolina where there is prohibition or dispensary, the violation of which is subject to a fine or imprisonment or both. An appeal will probably be taken and if the magistrate's decision is upheld it will mean that all sections that vote themselves dry will become dry in earnest.

The following is an extract taken from the Winston-Salem Journal:

Mark Hanna seems to have been unable to command words sufficiently adroit to convince the public that he positively does not desire the presidential nomination. Even his nearest friend, Perry Heath, is yet to be convinced. Heath might be expected to understand Hanna's innermost thoughts, if anybody does, for he is near to his heart. Hanna's retention of Heath as Secretary of the Republican national committee in the spite of the stern protest of the great body of the party, is surely sufficient indication that Hanna and Heath understand one another perfectly.

Mr. Fred L. Merritt, the Washington correspondent of the News and Observer, reports that there is small hope for the Appalachian Park bill that passed the senate at the last session. It would take a large sum of money from the treasury, and while republicans are not averse to such enterprises as a rule, still, even on the eve of a presidential election, they do not care to put so much money into a territory that is practically democratic.—Kinston Free Press.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 8, 1904. While the attitude of parties in the senate is practically unchanged, it cannot be denied that the earnest agitation of the Panama question tends to strengthen the democratic contention. Last week the ratification of the treaty seemed beyond a doubt; this week it is not nearly so certain. The Louisiana and Florida senators may be induced by the action of their legislatures to vote for it, but it is now alleged by New Orleans papers that the Louisiana senators themselves inspired the resolution instructing them how to vote! One or two republicans are reported weakening.

"Paying the piper" has always been considered an important event when the frolic is over. The question which Republicans are being asked is, "How are we going to pay Panama from an appropriation which was explicitly made to pay Colombia?" The ratification of the treaty by the senate will not cover this. Will the house be willing to abrogate its rights in the matter and submit to the insertion of another name in the check drawn by it upon the United States Treasury? Will it yield to the demands of a coordinate branch and surrender its character and its charter, as the British house of commons has done for the first time since Charles I. lost his head?

Representative Hay's resolution for the investigation of the postoffice department is before congress. It recites as a fact that several republican members are deeply involved in the scandals of clerk hire and unnecessary buildings.

"The United States is the meanest debtor and the most exacting creditor in the world," said Mr. Conkling on an occasion when he was made peculiarly conscious of it. The remark is recalled by the fact that the house committee on war claims has just reported favorably a bill to pay for the Etah, one of the civil war monitors. Another generation may pass before it does.

In a thoughtful editorial on the subject of taxation our esteemed contemporary, The Morning Post, of Raleigh, says:

"Taxes do not come out of the products of 'the rich few' as some would gladly think, but from those of the mass of people of moderate means or incomes, and hence high taxes are not a penalty, exacted of those who can bear it," but bears upon those who can will afford to bear it."

We are persuaded that this is true. The rich have invisible possessions subject to taxation which few of this class return rightly. It would not be safe to assert that, being rich and therefore influential, they enjoy special favors in the assessment of their real property, though it sometimes looks that way. The poor, having nothing, escape taxation, and so the burden falls upon "the people of moderate means"—those who by their thrift and energy have accumulated a little something and are trying to get on in the world. This is the class upon whom the tax collector's hand is laid most heavily and who feel its weight most sensibly.—Charlotte Observer.

Congratulations

Mr John H. Cullom, Editor of the Garland, Texas, News, has written a letter of congratulations to the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as follows: Sixteen years ago when our first child was a baby he was subject to croupy spells and we would be very uneasy about him. We began using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in 1887, and finding it such a reliable remedy for colds and croup we have never been without it in the house since that time. We have five children and have given it to all of them with good results. One good feature of this remedy is that it is not disagreeable to take and our babies really like it. Another is that it is not dangerous, and there is no risk from giving an overdose. I congratulate you upon the success of your remedy. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, and R. L. Davis & Bros., Farmville.

There is not so very much difference between giving and living.

A SCIENTIFIC DISCOVERY.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure does for the stomach that which it is unable to do for itself, even when but slightly disordered or over-loaded. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure supplies the natural juices of digestion and does the work of the stomach, relaxing the nervous tension, while the inflamed muscles of that organ are allowed to rest and heal. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and enables the stomach and digestive organs to transform all food into rich, red blood. Sold by John L. Wooten.

Maybe a thief can catch a thief, but why should he do it?

A GOOD NAME.

From personal experience I testify that DeWitt's Little Early Risers are unequalled as a liver pill. They are rightly named because they give strength and energy and do their work with ease.—W. T. Easton, Boerne, Tex. Thousands of people are using these tiny little pills in preference to all others, because they are so pleasant and effectual. They cure biliousness, torpid liver jaundice, sick headache, constipation, etc. They do not purge and weaken, but cleanse and strengthen. Sold by Jno. L. Wooten.

Perhaps pride goes before a fall, but it is sure to come after a hit.

URED OFFILES AFTER 40 YEARS.

Mr. C. Haney, of Geneva, O, had the piles for 40 years. Doctors and dollars could do him no lasting good. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured him permanently. Invaluable for cuts, burns, bruises, sprains, laceration, eczema, tetter, salt rheum, and all other skin diseases. Look for the name De Witt on the package—all others are cheap, worthless counterfeits. Sold by Jno. L. Wooten.

Little girls are never too young to notice whether their hats are becoming to them.

Found a Cure For Indigestion

I use Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets for indigestion and find that they suit my case better than any dyspepsia remedy I have ever tried and I have used many different remedies. I am 51 years of age and have suffered great deal from indigestion. I can eat almost anything I want now.—George W. Emory, Rock Mills, Ala. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville and R. L. Davis & Bros., Farmville.

THE AMERICAN MONTHLY REVIEW OF REVIEWS

THE NECESSARY MAGAZINE IN THE PRESIDENTIAL YEAR.
The Review of Reviews is often called a necessity, in recognition of its usefulness in keeping readers "up with the times."
In Presidential election years the REVIEW OF REVIEWS is more than ever "the necessary magazine." Everybody wants to be truly and quickly informed about this or that public question that has forged to the front; to know about the new candidates and personal factors in politics, to have a complete picture at hand of the current movement of history.

In Dr. Shaw's editorials, in its authentic and timely contributions, in its brilliant character sketches, in its condensations and reviews of all the important articles of other magazines, and in its hundred a month of valuable portraits, witty cartoons, and interesting views, the REVIEW OF REVIEWS gives the much desired news of the world's and our own progress. "The World under a Field-glass" is the way one subscriber describes it. Men in public life, like President Theodore Roosevelt, the members of Congress, and the great captains of industry, who try to keep "up with the times," intelligent men and women all over America, have decided it is "indispensable."

SHOES

FOR PARTICULAR WOMEN

We are proud of our shoe stock this season. We are certain we have the finest line we have ever shown and we are certain that no other store gets even a little bit ahead of us.

ULTRA and BROCKPORT Shoes for Women

are our strong cards, and we are able to meet the requirements of the most fastidious as well as the more conservative patterns, and we invite a thorough inspection of our line—ULTRA in name, ULTRA in character, ULTRA in every feature that contributes to fit, comfort and style. In finish, material and workmanship, we are proud to present to all lovers of good taste in footwear a shoe for which we have never yet had to make apology. The "Brockport" Shoe is constructed on common sense principles without sacrifice of those attributes that appeal to a woman's taste, or her pride, in a well and stylishly dressed foot.

Our usually up-to-date line of children's and infant's shoes is even better than ever. We are positive we can insure you perfect satisfaction and save you money in your shoe needs.
