AYDEN ITEMS.

AYDEN N. C, MAY 13, 1904.

Regular services in Odd Fellows hall next Sunday morning and night by Disciples conducted by Rev. D. W. Davis.

Though the carpenters are constantly finishing up dwelling houses in every portion of the town, there seems to be an ever increasing demand for more.

We hope our friends will pardon any special mention of those who went to Greenville Tuesday as there were so many it would be almost impossible to do so. We will get your names latter on and in big letters too.

Joseph Puryear, of Farmville, was in Ayden Tuesday on a visit.

P. H. Burruss, of Richmond, has a position in the drug store during the absence of M. M. Sauls.

We don't know, but really we are under the impression that a cotton seed oil mill is coming to Ayden. Good will come to him that waiteth and strives. We are waiting.

Life, health and accident all represented by E. G. Cox. Insurance of the first order and in companies that cannot be surpassed. These are facts substantiated by facts.

For its size there is more passing to and from Ayden than any town in the state.

Mrs. Cason left Tuesday evening for Grifton to be present at the ministerial meeting of the Disciples church and returned yesterday.

Rev. John Griffith, of Kinston will conduct services in the Episcopal church 4th Sunday in this month.

Josh Mills, of Greenville was here Wednesday.

Julius Lyon returned to school at Kinston last night.

J. J. Edwards has been to Newbern this week on business.

The people of Greenville certainly deserve great credit for the generous manner in which they treated the "Old Vets" on the 10th. The occasion was a success in every particular and there is not an old soldier but who is loud in his praise of the treatment accorded him.

A. L. Tripp, of Vanceboro, has been on a visit to his brother, J. H. Tripp, during the past week.

John Quinerly, of Kinston, was here yesterday.

The photographer has pitched his tent and is now prepared to make folks look better.

The monied men in and around Ayden just don't want any more. Funny. We are not one.

Some of the flower yards hereabout are just lovely.

Our Methodist friends would appreciate a donation, however small, from anyone toward the purchase of an organ for their church.

Mrs. Susan Beddard and Mrs. Celie Garris, of Littlefield spent Wednesday with Mrs. W. F. Hart.

H. A. White, of Greenville, spent Monday night here.

Miss Daisy Mumford is on a visit to friends in Winterville.

Miss Sudie Leggett, of Pactolus, after a visit to friends here returned to her home Monday.

C. A. Fair participated in the band at Greenville on the 10th.

Dr. Skinner, the physician in attendance tells us we were misinformed as to Mrs. Haddock having a stroke of paralysis last Friday. To the contrary, we are pleased to learn, she is much better and will soon be well.

Lots of our folks are in attendance upon the commencement exercises at Winterville.

Joe Norris and family, of Farmville, returned to their home Monday after visiting friends here.

SUPERINTENDENTS' MEETING.

Closing Session Thursday Night.

The closing session of the meeting of county superintendents of public schools for this district, was held in the graded school chapel.

Two subjects were discussed at this session, "Teaching Civil Government" and "the most effective use of a superintendent's time." Some good suggestions were made in the discussion.

Just before adjournment Superintendent Watson, of Hyde, spoke earnestly of the hospitality of the people of Greenville and the pleasure it had given the superintendents to meet here. After his remarks the following resolution was adopted by a rising vote:

Resolved, That the members of this association recognize with lasting pleasure the unstinted hospitality so gracefully dispensed to them by the citizens of Greenville during this session, and that their thanks are due and are hereby most heartily extended for the same. We further desire to express our high appreciation of the uniform courtesy and kindness of the school officers and teachers of the town so generously manifested during our sojourn with them.

The following resolution was also adopted relative to prizes offered by Secretary of State J. Bryan Grimes and Col. John F. Cunningham:

Resolved 1st, That this association hereby recognizes the stimulus that will be given to the study of North Carolina history by the offering of the Grimes and Cunningham prizes for the best papers on the following subjects: (1) Best sketch of a North Carolinian. (2) Best paper on any decade of North Carolina history. (3) Best brief history of any county in the state.

Resolved 2nd, That this association hereby urges upon the superintendents comprising this body upon their return home that they endeavor to interest their teachers in these prizes to the extent that they may become competitors for the same.

FRIDAY AFTERNOON, MAY 13, 1904.

Every little counts, may be the way Hearst thinks of it in trying to get the six Hawaii delegates to the St. Louis convention to vote for him.

If the district association of county superintendents meets here again it is to be hoped the firemen will not practice on the roof of the graded school building while they are in session.

Instead of making so much fuss about it, the North Carolinian who is put at work beside a negro in the government printing office at Washington, might quit and return him. If he stays by the negro it is his fault.

Judge Brown has reversed the verdict of the jury and decides that the state corporation commission has no authority to compel the Atlantic Coast Line to run an extra train in order to restore the Selma connection.

In the death of Mr. Robert M. Furman, editor of the Raleigh Post, North Carolina loses an able and brilliant writer. He was a useful man, and both the state and the profession of journalism suffer serious loss in his death.

In Asheville four notorious women who had been confined in jail were released with the understanding that they leave the state, and this was wrong. No community should attempt to shift its criminals or undesirable citizens upon any other community, any more than it would its poor or insane. We are not attempting to call down Asheville, for Durham and other towns have been guilty of the same thing, but are simply calling attention to a principle which we believe to be wrong.—Durham Herald.

It is very deplorable that men in public offices cannot be honest. In all our history there was never a time when there was so much said about corruption and rascality in high places. Congress has been occupied for months and months discussing rogues in office. Some contend that there should be a full and complete investigation of all the books and of all the departments, while others contend that the investigation has gone far enough. It is a pity that everybody cannot get above politics and send in a thundering demand for a complete and thorough weeding out of all the departments to such an extent that not a single rogue would be left. If, as a nation, we have become so depraved and so corrupt that not enough honest men be found to fill the offices, then surely are we in a fearful predicament. If we cannot trust those who administer the laws and who get the greatest benefit from the taxes contributed by the people, then surely is our government on a tottering foundation.—Lexington Dispatch.

Sam Jones on Temperance

Writing from Greensboro to the Atlanta Journal, Sam Jones has this to say about the temperance sentiment in North Carolina and praises the Chief Justice warmly:

"There is a tidal wave of temperance sentiment flooding this State today. The saloons of Greensboro feel that they are doomed, and the dispensary is not good looking and can not come in. Raleigh has swapped her saloons for a dispensary, Fayetteville, N. C., has swapped her dispensary for prohibition. Charlotte is now inaugurating a movement to put the saloons out of business, and perhaps in twelve months from now liquor will be driven from the State, unless, perchance, Wilmington shall have inaugurated her dispensary, and Raleigh holding on her dearly beloved. The Watts law of North Carolina is a marvel of the kind. It gives the temperance people the long end of the handstick, and they roll the log their way with ease and pleasure. The Supreme Court of North Carolina has stayed right with the law, without hunting for a technicality or fearing the overthrow of free government in this movement of temperance and decency.

"It is a thing of joy to have a Supreme Court dominated by such a spirit as Judge Clark, the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of North Carolina. He is a great lawyer, a splendid man, and to the people of North Carolina his election in the last race was an honor to them and a tribute to him.

"The anti-jug law in North Carolina passed by the last legislature and affirmed by the Supreme court has put the wet towns mighty nigh out of business. No town in North Carolina can ship jugs into any other town in North Carolina. Good Lord give us such a law in Georgia, and if our coming legislature don't do something for us, I am going to pray the Lord to reward them according to their works."

 "My mother has been a sufferer for many years with rheumatism," says W. H. Howard, of Husband, Pa. "At times she was unable to move at all, while at all times walking was painful. I presented her with a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and after a few applications she decided it was the most wonderful pain reliever she had ever tried, in fact, she is never without it now and is at times able to walk. TRACTABLE PATIENTS.

Doctors Like Those Folks Who Know How to Be Sick.
 "What I like," said the doctor, "is a patient of experience. Next to no patients at all the greatest trial for a doctor is to have a lot of green hands under treatment. Experience counts in taking medicine, as in everything else. Doctors like a man who falls a victim to disease frequently and doses heavily. He is more amenable to instructions than a person who is draining his first draft at the medical fount.
 "The new recruit to the ranks of the ill is afraid of many things. His eye is untrained and his hand unsteady. He exaggerates danger at every point. He may get the spoon too full or not full enough; he may pour out a drop too few or a drop too many. In his perplexity he sees but one sure way to avoid either horn of the dilemma and that is to take no medicine at all. He is intractable in many ways. He stays indoors when he should go out, and he goes out when he should stay in.
 "The old stager who has saturated himself with medicine until his pores ooze oils and tonics is the fellow who brings joy to the heart of the physician. He knows what medicine is for, he takes it faithfully, scientifically and even joyfully. He watches his symptoms and the effect of the drugs. He knows all about his tongue, his temperature and his pulse, and can determine for himself whether one pellet or two is the proper dose. That self analysis saves the doctor a lot of trouble. Hence the doctor's partiality for a visiting list made up of persons who know how to be sick."—New York Press.

Humor of Napoleon I.
 Great men have often been deficient in the sense of humor. This was markedly the case with Napoleon I., whose sense of humor, if he possessed it, was of a grim sort. It is recorded, however, that he had a certain sympathy with a pun, and several of his minor appointments were actually made because the appointees' names seemed to indicate their fitness for the place. He made M. Bigot, for instance, his minister of public worship at one time, and when he was looking about for a governor of the pages in the imperial palace he could think of no one so appropriate for the place as General Gardanne, whose name, in French, signifies a keeper of donkeys.
 When he came to make Marshal Victor Beau-Soleil a duke, it struck Napoleon that the opportunity was an excellent one to make a sort of reverse or "back action" pun on the marshal's name. Beau-Soleil signifies "beautiful sunshine," so the emperor created the man the Duc de Bellune, which was very much as if he had made him the Duke Fine Moon.

Star Photography.
 Star photography is one of the most tedious operations known. In some cases the plate must be exposed for several hours. During all this time both the plate and the telescope must be moved so that the image of the star will be stationary on the plate. Only the image of one star at a time can be secured unless those adjoining happen to be of the same size.

A Cure For Piles
 "I had a bad case of piles," says G. F. Carter, of Atlanta, Ga., "and consulted a physician who advised me to try a box of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. I purchased a box and was entirely cured. It is splendid for piles, giving relief instantly, and I heartily recommend it to all sufferers." DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is unequalled for its healing qualities. Eczema and other skin diseases, also sores, cuts, burns and wounds of every kind are quickly cured by it. Sold by J. L. Wooten.

Whooping Cough
 "In the spring 1904 my children had whooping cough," says Mrs. D. W. Capps, of Capps, Ala. "I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with the most satisfactory results. I think this is the best remedy I have ever seen for whooping cough. This remedy keeps the cough loose, lessens the severity and frequency of the coughing spells and counteracts any tendency toward pneumonia. For sale at Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville; R. L. BENSONIZER LUNG CURE.
 NO MORE EXILE FOR CONSUMPTIVES.
 A Cure at Last Obtained, After a Searching Investigation, by St. Louis Interests.

A few months ago the attention of a few scientific and philanthropic gentlemen of St. Louis was directed to an entirely new method of combating that most dreadful of all diseases, tuberculosis, commonly called consumption. Out of 115 test cases, 77 were completely cured and 28 have shown such improvement that their ultimate recovery is but a question of a few weeks. So astonishing have been the results and absolute cures in cases pronounced incurable by all old methods that a company has been formed and is now prepared to furnish at a normal cost, this cure to all sufferers of the "White Plague." One of its chief features is that patients can remain at home, surrounded by friends and relatives, and in a great many instances, especially the incipient or early stages of the disease, pursue their daily vocations and still become completely cured. Patients receiving the same treatment here in St. Louis have completely recovered as rapidly as those in Colorado, New Mexico and Texas. The wonderful results in question have been accomplished by the Bensonizer, and the company which controls this marvelous medical device have located their main office at 417 North Seventh street, St. Louis. They have also located a factory on Easton avenue and a laboratory has been built at Hillside, Mo. The cure will be known as the Bensonizer Lung Cure, and Mr. C. P. Benson, the discoverer of the fluid inhalants which are used, will personally have charge of the affairs of the company. Mr. Benson will personally meet all who call at the office of the company on Seventh street, and will answer all communications from sufferers who are unable to make a personal call.—From the St. Louis Globe Democrat.

PROTRACTED SERVICES.

Meeting in the Christian Church.

A protracted meeting began in the Christian church, Thursday night. Rev. J. B. Jones, of Wilson, is doing the preaching. The subject of his opening sermon was "self examination." He said we ought to examine ourselves, because eternal interests are at stake, and because God commands it. That we should examine ourselves, not by the way we feel, not even by taking preachers as a standard, but by God's word, the divine standard. The result of such examination is better knowledge of God's word and more sympathy for sinners.

Services tonight beginning at 8 o'clock and continuing just one hour.
