=Progress.=

Progress is the law of life. When things animate cease to grow to betterment, decay begins. The store which stands still is dead. The good store of yesterday is commonplace today and out-of-date tomorrow. Eternal effort is the price of progress. To do better today the thing done well yesterday, to serve better today the public which we served well yesterday, is the day-by-day labor of this store.

Expect for Coming Season the Newest Things.

We will have the best the mill can make.

THE LEASE ON WINTER GOODS IS OUT.

THE LEGISLATURE.

TUESDAY.

Senator Fleming introduced a bill to amend the charter of the town of Farmville. A number of new bills were introduced and others passed third reading. Among the new bills in the house were: To define and fix fees of domestic fire insurance companies; to fix the liability of married women.

The Committee Keeps Hands Off.

A meeting of the Democratic state executive committee was held in Raleigh Tuesday night, the meeting having been called by Chairman Simmons at the request of some members of the committee who were opposed to the Ward bill and wanted the committee to interpret the platform of the last state convention in relation to temperance. After being in session several hours and engaging in a warm discussion the committee adopted a resolution to take no action in reference to matters set out in the call for the meeting. Senator Simmons favors the Ward bill, and this action of the committee sustains him. It also leaves the members of the legislature to vote as they please on the bill, as they should do, and the bill will pass.

Evening Papers as Advertising Mediums.

Charles M. Peck, advertising manager of Siegel, Cooper & Co.'s great Chicago stores, says: "We spend $235,000 a year for advertising and 75 per cent of it is in the evening papers and 25 per cent in the Sunday papers. Even with our great morning papers we cannot make them pay, though the experiment has cost us $100,000." Replying to an inquiry sent out some time ago by the Rochester Times 124 out of 135 big department stores consider the evening paper the best advertising medium. Some use evening papers exclusively and find that the returns are excellent.

Married

A marriage took place this morning in Register of Deeds Williams' office. The couple, George Randolph and Miss Fannie Briley, came in together for the license and let it be known that they wished the ceremony to be performed at once. Equire C. D. Rountree was called in, and in a few minutes he had them joined in his usual best style.

Superintendent Selected.

The board of aldermen held a special meeting this morning to receive a report from the committee as to naming a superintendent for the electric lights and waterworks plants. J. L. Livers was elected superintendent at a salary of $1,500 per year.

A poor man may be a crank, but a rich one is eccentric.

Mrs. Weeks, of Scotland Neck, who has been visiting Mrs. A. J. Griffin, returned home this morning.

END OF THE CENTURY CLUB.

A Delightful Afternoon at the Residence of Mrs. F. C. Harding.

Reported for THE REFLECTOR

The End of the Century Club met with Mrs. F. C. Harding Tuesday afternoon, despite the very inclement weather, a number of the club members as well as invited guests were present, the latter being Mesdames Gold, and Howard of Wilson, and Miss Connor.

The papers read were greatly enjoyed, these being on the "Revolution of Russia," by Mesdames Arthur, Harding, Ficklen and Wooten.

After the literary features had been discussed delicious refreshments were daintily served and the guests enjoyed a most pleasant afternoon.

The next meeting will be held with Mrs. R. W. King March 7th.

Special Prayer Services.

It is the earnest desire of Rev. Mr. Black and the pastor of the Presbyterian church, who is now detained in his home by reason of the serious illness of his wife, that the people of God may be found together with one accord, in one place, waiting for the promised blessing. They, therefore, earnestly request all who are willing to take any sort of part in preliminary prayer services to meet at the Presbyterian church Thursday and Friday nights at 7:30 o'clock, and unite in earnest supplication for great blessings upon our people.

Mr. Black has specially requested that as far as possible the pastors of the other churches, members of choirs in the other churches and all God's people assist in all of the services.

A "Fitting" Opportunity.

An event that is always looked forward to by the good dressers of Pitt county is the visitation every season to the store of Frank Wilson of the cutter and fitter from Schloss Bros. & Co., the well-known Baltimore tailoring house. He will be here again on Feb. 28 and March 1, with patterns of the latest spring and summer fabrics, and a fund of information that will be helpful to every good dresser. Read the advertisement in another column, and if you like to wear well fitting clothes "that cost no more than the ordinary," drop in at Frank Wilson's store and see the tempting array of stylish textures.

WINTERVILLE ITEMS

WINTERVILLE, N. C. Feb. 22, 1905.

Geo. Turner, of Norfolk, was here Tuesday.

J. W. Sparks and E. F. Tucker went to Greenville this morning. Miss Eugenia Harris, of Centerville, Misses Olivia Cox and Bertha Waldrop, of Grifton, spent Saturday and Sunday with Mrs. Evelyn Cox.

A. R. Thomas went to Ayden Saturday and returned Monday.

Miss Bessie Chapman attended church at Bethany Sunday.

Clyde Dorehety went to Beth any Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. House returned from a visit to Ayden Monday.

The women say this weather is perfectly dreadful, and the men say it is the wettest time they have ever seen.

Mrs. J. M. Cox and John McGlohon, of Chicod, were here Monday.

It is reported here that revenue officers captured a couple of blockade runners near Frank Mill's place recently.

If the Ayden wets succeed in getting a dispensary there, we wonder if some Winterville folks won't try to get one or two here. We hope not.

All farming work is at a perfect standstill, the ground is too wet to plough.

La Grippe has made his appearance in Winterville and many of our people are suffering from having formed his acquaintance.

Will Haywood of Trenton was here Monday.

The Pitt County Oil mill has another carload of oil to ship as soon as they can get a tank car.

We regret to know that our neighbor towns, Ayden, has become so wrought up over the dispensary. We have had a most pleasant neighbor since they have had prohibition and we are a little afraid for them to have a dispensary. We had hoped they would live hand in hand with us in prohibition until we could influence our parent, Greenville, to make the better choice.

The Winterville stock law bill has passed the 3rd reading and is now a law.

An Important Movement.

There are few things which, in our opinion are more deserving of encouragement than the movement looking to a more general investigation of the historical facts with reference to North Carolina. This work is being undertaken not only by individual North Carolinians but especially by the historical societies of our various towns and educational institutions.

Although much has already been done in this work of collecting facts with reference to the history of the state a great deal remains to be done, for it is a notable fact less is known of the history of North Carolina than of almost any other Southern state. Our educators and others who are in a position to do it should see that such a defect is remedied in an effective manner. One way in which aid might be given this work would be by insisting upon a more complete study of North Carolina history in our schools.—Winston Sentinel.

They don't lynch (?) negroes for bad crimes in Alabama, but they have a way of losing them so they can't be found any more.

John D. Rockefeller, the oil magnate, has recently been spending some time at Pinehurst, and reports says he is contemplating buying it

If the president cannot get congress to pass bills to his liking now, we fail to see how he will be able to do so by calling an extra session.

Just why the matter of extending the charter of the Atlantic & North Carolina railroad should come up in the legislature forty-seven years before the present charter expires we are unable to see.

If the state needs money so bad let it lop off the appropriations to the colleges for the time being. They can afford to wait a few years until the insane and other unfortunates are provided for.

The New York Sun is urging the increase of the president's salary to $100,000 before the inauguration. This sounds large, but it is not as much as the head of countries not so great as ours receives.

The president was a "Little Hung (ajry)" Tuesday and got his fill on the East side.—Greenville REFLECTOR.

We thought he got his fill on the inside.—Durham Sun.

Oh, no. It was the inside that he filled, but he got it on the East side.

One great trouble is that too many people think that criminals should be pitied rather than punished.—Durham Herald.

Perhaps this feeling is due to a consciousness that the criminal is punished for things no worse than they themselves are guilty of but have never been caught up with.

Miles makes his case worse and worse. His latest move was to state that he possessed a letter written by Mrs. Jefferson Davis in which she thanked him for his kind treatment to her husband. This statement coming to the attention of Mrs. Davis she very frankly challenges Miles to reproduce it. No denial he can make of his inhuman cruelty to Jefferson Davis will be believed by the public. The facts are against him and he is reaping a slight part of the reward he deserves.

Up to now the work of real importance done by the legislature might have been transacted in a week and the state saved the expense of paying for the balance of the time. Make some other provision for disposing of all the local matters. The legislature costs the tax payers too much for its time to be consumed preventing fishing in mill ponds, fencing fleas out of churches, preventing dumping sawdust in creeks, and all such small matters the boards of county commissioners could be empowered to act upon.

The Fear Of Taxes.

The most sensitive nerve is the one which connects with the dollar in the brain's possession, and at no time does this nerve tingle, so as to make a man cringe, and commit almost any act, abandon any position, give up any trust as when the matter of taxes is presented to him.

And singularly enough, it is usually the intangible, the indefinite expenditure of the tax money, which causes no protest. Every delay is made, every excuse is tendered, so that the taxes may not be paid, but once paid, where is the tax payer who gives thought enough to want to see, much less demand that an itemized statement of how his tax money was spent, be given him?

Perhaps it may be that taxes once paid is money gone beyond recall, but while in one sense this is true, it does not mean that a citizen should pay taxes and be indifferent as to what disposition was made of the money. But in no way is the dollar nerve more acute than in the matter of direct tax. The citizens will ask for the amount and pay his taxes and hardly give a glance to the several items upon his receipt. But let there be a proposition to issue bonds for any local improvement, at once there is a great cry over the interest to be paid, while the bond issue may be offered to offset and lessen some cost in the carrying on of municipal affairs, which actually costs the taxpayer more money, and which a bond issue would save him. But this is too apparently a direct tax, and better pay more and not see how the tax is made than to have to openly face a tax item.

And in counties where taxpayers are so oppressed with this direct tax fear, there is likely to be found little actual progress of improvement. There is no inclination to try new methods, to attempt new things; or wish for a change from the ways and times of the generations that have passed. It is just paying taxes under protest, given no attention as to how the money for these taxes is spent, and a refusal to go into any project which means betterment because it upsets the old system.—New Berne Journal.

THREE JURORS CURED

Of Cholera Morbus with One Small Bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Mr. G. W. Fowler of Hightower, Ala., relates on experience he had while serving on a petit jury in a murder case at Edwinstown, county seat of Cleburne county, Alabama. He says: "While there I ate some fresh meat and some soured meat and it gave me cholera morbus in a very severe form. I was never more sick in my life and sent to the drug store for a certain cholera mixture, but the druggist sent me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy instead, saying that he had what I sent for, but that this medicine was so much better he would rather send it to me in the fix I was in. I took one dose of it and was better in five minutes. The second dose cured me entirely. Two fellow jurors were afflicted in the same manner and one small bottle cured the three of us." For sale at Wooten's Drug Store.

The jukes, since the affair at Moscow last Friday, are crabbing close to the shore. Instead of going to Moscow to attend the funeral ceremonies in honor of Sergius, they are attending honorary funeral ceremonies in the chapels of their own palaces. Which answers just as good a purpose and is a good deal safer.—Charlotte Observer.

Tonic to The System.

For liver troubles and constipation there is nothing better than DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little pills. They do not weaken the stomach. Their action upon the system is mild, pleasant and harmless. Bob Moore, of Lafayette, Ind., says, 'No use talking, DeWitt's Little Early Risers do their work. All other pills I have used gripe and make me sick in the stomach and never cured me. DeWitt's Little Early Risers proved to be the long sought relief. They are simply perfect.' Persons traveling find Little Early Risers the reliable remedy to carry with them. Sold at Wooten's Drug Store.

The Manufacturers' Record says that ten times as many inquiries for Southern investments are made at the present time as were made one year ago.

A Weak Brother.

If things don't work smoothly it is always so easy to put the blame everywhere else than just where it should be. If "Willie," or "Johnnie" or some of the others become drunkards and fall a prey to numerous other forms of wickedness, the law is blamed for allowing those temptations to exist, people in general are blamed for not renovating society, and the Almighty himself, frequently comes in for his share of censure because of an indisposition to intervene in certain individual cases.

It is true that circumstances outside the erring individual are not, for the most part, conducive to the unobstructed growth and development of the better life. The pathway could be made much easier, temptations could be reduced on every hand so that apparently none could do otherwise than lead a correct life.

Still, should we banish temptations and difficulties from the world humanity would not be any better off, but on the contrary the condition would be worse, for it is through these self same difficulties and perplexities that beset us that any substantial progress has been made, will be made, or can be made, while humanity is like it is. The great law of heredity is that "the sins of the fathers shall be visited upon the children." No child is born of its immediate parents alone; but a long line of ancestors contribute to the make-up of its personality. Home influences and the surroundings of home life also are powerful factors in the formation of the individual.

Hence when it comes to accounting for a broken down character there are many things to consider besides the law and the law's shortcomings. The law may make it more difficult for a person to yield to a specific form of temptation, but it can make no better man of him on that account. If the law is his sole reliance, he is a weak brother.—Kinston Free Press.

No Moore Stomach Troubles

All Stomach trouble is removed by the use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It gives the stomach perfect rest by digesting what you eat without the stomach's aid. The food builds up the body, the rest restores the stomach to health. You don't have to diet yourself when taking Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. J. D. Eskine, of Allenville, Mich., says, "I suffered heartburn and stomach trouble for some time. My sister-in-law has had the same trouble and was not able to eat for six weeks. She lived entirely on warm water. After taking two bottles of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure she was entirely cured. She now eats heartily and is in good health. I am glad to say Kodol gave me instant relief." Sold at Wooten's Drug Store.

The Ward bill provides that there shall be no more small towns in the State owned and governed by liquor magnates. No wonder there is opposition and big lawyers can get fees for fighting it.—Charlotte News.

Heroic Work of the Crew at Cape Look Out

Washington, Feb. 11.—Information is received at the life-saving bureau, that after a desperate twenty-eight hour battle, Thursday and Friday, the Cape Look, N. C., life-saving crew conquered a heavy sea piling over the shoals and succeeding in taking ashore from the standard four-masted schooner, Sarah Derossen, her captain and five of her crew. One man was washed overboard Wednesday and drowned.

The greatest punishment that could be inflicted upon a man these days would be to have him committed to the North Carolina legislature for ten days. His sufferings during that time would be intense.—Winston Sentinel.

Speedy Relief

A salve that heals without a scar is DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. No remedy effects such speedy relief. It draws out inflammation, soothes, cools and heals all cuts, burns and bruises. A sure cure for Piles and skin diseases. DeWitt's is the only genuine Witch Hazel Salve. Beware of counterfeits, they are dangerous. Sold at Wooten's Drug Store.

No one would guess that the legislature was composed of business men from the way it handles money matters.—Durham Herald.

BEEF AND TURKEY.

Comparative Value and Economy of the Two as Food.

Discussing the comparative food value of roast beef and turkey, the Lancet says:

First, it may be said that weight for weight the flesh of the turkey is more nourishing than that of beef, but the latter is, generally speaking, cheaper than the former. The moisture in beef, however, exceeds the amount present in the flesh of the turkey, and the latter contains a better percentage of protein, or flesh forming substance. In either case the percentage of moisture is seldom less than 70 per cent. In lean beef the amount of fat is much the same as in a not too well fed turkey, but it must be pointed out that the flesh of poultry differs from that of beef or mutton in not having its muscular fibers permeated by fat, and, moreover, the fibers in the flesh of fowl are short and readily yield to the disintegrating action of the digestive processes. A large amount of fat in either case is apt to interfere with the digestibility of the meat. The fat of beef is more digestible than the fat of the turkey. The fat of birds, in fact, is harder and owing to its tendency to become rancid is unsuitable for the dyspeptic patient.

Perhaps the most important difference, however, from a dietetic point of view between beef and turkey is that whereas beef contains a high percentage of extractive matters turkey contains hardly any at all. The extractive matters in beef account largely for its peculiar and marked flavor, and owing to their absence in poultry generally and in the pheasant and partridge the flavor of these meats is delicate. But there is no doubt that the extractives of beef as well as of mutton are valuable, for not only are they flavoring agents, but they also act as perhaps the most powerful stimulants to gastric digestion.

An Up to Date Diogenes.
An eccentric old gentleman placed in a field on his estate a board with the following generous offer painted thereon:

"I will give this field to any man who is contented."
He soon had an applicant.
"Well, my man, are you a contented fellow?" asked the old gentleman.
"Yes, sir, very."
"Then why do you want my field?"
The applicant did not wait to reply.

Sour Stomach

When the quantity of food taken is too large or the quality too rich, sour stomach is likely to follow, and especially so if the digestion has been weakened by constipation. Eat slowly and not too freely of easily digested food. Masticate the food thoroughly. Let five hours elapse between meals, and when you feel a fullness and weight in the region of the stomach after eating, take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and the sour stomach may be avoided. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville.

BROWN STAMPS

Have Come to Greenville.

The best store in town offers them to you on your cash purchases. Every dime you spend there will do extra service henceforth—service that will please and benefit you.

Since you must spend money spend it so that you get full returns. And unless each ten cents in cash put out brings a BROWN STAMP in, you are not getting full value for your money.

Brown Stamps are like compound interest. They accumulate without effort on your part, and the splendid premiums they bring will leave many a dollar free for pleasure or for saving. Just such things as you would otherwise have to buy are offered for Brown Stamps and it takes but 500 stamps to give you your free choice of whatever you can best use or most need.

WE GIVE YOU $1.00 WORTH, 10 STAMPS, FREE

with each new book. Unless you already have one, call at our store and get it and the $1.00 worth of free stamps. That dollars worth rolls up like a snow ball down hill, and presto! almost before you know it you have $50.00 worth a book full. Just keep the ball rolling every time you spend cash; spend it where Brown Stamps are given; and

ALWAYS ASK FOR BROWN STAMPS.

This store wants your trade—your steady trade—your Cash Trade. It offers low prices, splendid service and Brown Stamps in exchange. You cannot afford to accept less. Therefore you should deal here.

The Stamps do not apply on purchases of Groceries and Provisions.
