New Spring Goods ARRIVING DAILY.

There is one thing that we do not claim in our business to do and that is to sell goods cheaper than they can be bought—neither do we want to create the impression that our store is full of shop worn, out of style goods nor by filling our store with show bills and sign boards will we try to impress false ideas in your mind that we are going out of business, but we do wish it understood that we are receiving daily shipments of the newest things in

TEACHERS INSTITUTE.

Invited and will be Cordially Welcomed to Greenville.

On Saturday the 8th the public school teachers of this county will decide where the teachers institute which convenes next summer shall be held. In a circular to the teachers of the county, Mayor Wooten in behalf of the town extends a cordial invitation to the institute to meet in Greenville, and it is hoped that this will be done. Heretofore the teachers were unable to meet in Greenville on account of the fact that a suitable building could not be had, but our town now offers a very suitable building, and our people are taking great interest in the movement to procure the institute for Greenville.

A hearty invitation has been extended to the teachers by the Carolus Club, with the promise that the Club rooms will be thrown open to them. This promise of hospitality has been joined in by all citizens of our town, and every one seems willing to help in making this meeting of the institute the most pleasant as well as the most profitable ever held.

The inducements offered to the teachers by Greenville unquestionably surpass those offered by any other town in the county. Excellent board can be had here cheaper than elsewhere, while the conveniences are unsurpassed. The many churches of our town offer those of every denomination an opportunity to worship in a church of their own selection, and we sincerely hope that the teachers institute will convene in Greenville this year.

Presentiment of Danger.

In a sermon last Sunday the Rev. Mr. Ruby, pastor of the First Christian church in Sedalia, used the following anecdote to illustrate a point.

"About ten years ago I talked with a man in Henry county, Mo., who gave me this peculiar experience of his. He said: 'I was ploughing corn, and about the middle of the afternoon, when I came to the end of the field, I had a peculiar sense of dread or fear. I unhooked my team and drove home. I could give little reason for what I was doing—quitting my work in the middle of the afternoon—but I was not home ten minutes until I was hurrying my wife and children into a cyclone cave. Our little house was swept away, and had I not followed what seemed a vague impulse my family might have been killed.'"—Kansas City Journal.

Small Town is Best.

It is our belief that in America we have too many cities which are too large and a country which is too meagerly populated. We prophesy a coming disintegration of massed populations and their distribution in a more sane and industrially more desirable fashion.

The small town is next to the country. It is a better environment for the young man than is the great metropolis toward which so many turn their eyes. Trolley cars, rural deliveries, trade catalogues, and mail order periodicals have done very much to change the isolation which formerly went with life in the country. It is improving, and with it improves the condition of life in the small town. Heretofore our young men have left the country for the city. Some of them are obliged to go there to succeed in their chosen line of work. For the young man who has a business career in view there is possibly as good a success in small city as he may hope for in a great one. If he has not much capital, his personality, his character, will more readily atone for that in a small town. This is especially true of the professional man. Indeed, any man of intelligence may hope for greater preferment in the small centers of population than in the large.

As to social life and the general decency and comfort of passing through this vale of tears as conditions exist even today—and they will be far better ten years from now—a self respecting family has ten times better chances in a town of ten to fifty thousand inhabitants almost anywhere in America than it can be any possibility hope to have in a city of the first class. The small town is a better environment in many ways. Not the least of its desirable qualities is the fact that it is closer to the out of doors. The man who has a cottage of his own, with a horse and buggy and a shotgun in some place of a few thousand inhabitants, is better off as a man and a citizen than one who is receiving a $200,000 salary in any big city.—Field and Stream.

Disgraceful Delinquencies.

It is a disgrace:
To half do things.
Not to develop our possibilities.
To be lazy, indolent, indifferent.
To do poor, slipshod, botched work.

To give a bad example to young people.

To have crude, brutish, repulsive manners.

To hide a talent because you have only one.

To live a half life when a whole life is possible.

Not to be scrupulously clean in person and surroundings.

To acknowledge a fault and make no effort to evermore it.

To be ungrateful to friends and to those who have helped us.

To go through life a pygmy when nature intended you for a giant.

To kick over the ladder upon which we have climbed to our position.

To be grossly ignorant in these days of free usages of good society.—Success.

North Carolina Pays Up.

Washington, April 1.—The attorney general of the state of North Carolina today deposited with the clerk of the Supreme court of the United States $27,400 to be turned over to the proper authorities of the state of South Dakota in satisfaction of the judgment obtained by that state against North Carolina on railroad bonds guaranteed by the state of North Carolina, presented to the benefit of its schools. The bonds were repudiated by North Carolina, and an original suit was brought in the Supreme court to compel payment.

Itching Missing Hand.

"I have been scratching my left hand now for about forty years," said a grizzly old fellow who went through the fire of the '60's, "though you may think because my left arm is missing from the shoulder that I have no left hand to scratch. Of course, this sort of thing is old to many persons, and yet there are many persons who will take absolutely no stock in these stories about a pain in the arm or the leg you haven't got. Just the same, there is much in it, and those who have experienced it can testify to all I say on the subject. My arm was not blown from my shoulder at Shiloh, but it was necessary to take it off in order to save my life. At the moment when my arm was struck, and for a short while thereafter before amputation, I felt an itching sensation in my left hand. It is precisely this sensation which has remained with me from that day to this, and not a night has passed since then that I have not reached over, in a half-sleeping mood, to scratch my itching left hand. When I scratch it I am partially relieved and the hand will cease to itch probably for that night. All of which is very natural and most reasonable. The explanation is simple enough. The itching sensation was communicated to my mind under rather vivid circumstances, with the result that time and change have not been able to efface the impression. If the mental impression had been received in circumstances less violent, it would simply have lapsed into a memory. But instead of being a mere memory it is a sensation. Precisely here do we find an explanation of these stories which are so often told by veterans of the civil war, who were maimed and wounded in one way and another. I do not know enough about psychology to give a scientific explanation of the matter, but in general terms we will find the phenomenon to be merely a between something remembered, and sensation, a difference between the idea of a thing and the thing itself. My brain actually feels the sensation of itching, just as it felt the sensation at Shiloh, and directs my right arm to reach over and scratch my left hand. It is something more than a mere recollection of the sensation. It is the real thing.—New Orleans Times-Democrat

Don't Lose Your Temper.

How often do we see parents who never punish their children unless they are in a rage. The children are allowed to do precisely as they please and are not corrected unless they grate upon the caprice of the mother. Then she will fly into a rage at a mere trifle and belabor the poor children as if some great offense had been committed. Such treatment is weak, unjust and ruinous to children. If the parent is selfish enough to sacrifice the child's future to her own immediate comfort, she will probably pay for the folly in bitter tears when the child grows up. She sows the wind and reaps the whirlwind. Parents often excuse their failure to properly correct children by saying that the world will give them enough hard knocks. This is another delusion. What is the result? The child starts out with a false idea about everything, and when brought in contact with people who do not look upon it with the eye of an indulgent parent, it becomes soured, a misery to itself and a nuisance to everyone. A child should never be allowed to escape the consequences of its own wrong doing of folly. But the punishment should be humane and suitable to the strength and capacity of the child.—Exchange.

THREE JURORS CURED

Of Cholera Morbus with One Small Bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Mr. G. W. Fowler of Hightower, Ala., relates on experience he had while serving on a petit jury in a murder case at Edwardsville, county seat of Cleburne county, Alabama. He says: "While there I ate some fresh meat and some souse meat and it gave me cholera morbus in a very severe form. I was never more sick in my life and sent to the drug store for a certain cholera mixture, but the druggist sent me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy instead, saying that he had what I sent for, but that this medicine was so much better he would rather send it to me in the fix I was in. I took one dose of it and was better in five minutes. The second dose cured me entirely. Two fellow jurors were afflicted in the same manner and one small bottle cured the three of us." For sale at Wooten's Drug Store.

Good for Big Counties.

There was enacted by the recent Legislature for the county of Buncombe a county auditor. The salary is $1,200 per year. The auditor is to make out the tax books for the tax collector; he shall make out an annual statement which the law requires to be published; he shall look up delinquent tax-payers and see that their property is listed; he shall act as accountant for the county in settling with the tax collector and treasurer; that he shall audit all claims which may be filed against the county. In addition to these duties he shall make monthly examinations of the office of clerk, sheriff, and register of deeds, and see that they correctly turn over and account to the treasurer for all fees collected by them. In a large county like Buncombe this is a necessary office. Both political parties in the county favored the passage of this bill making this new office. It would no doubt be a good thing for other counties to have such an office. It is badly needed in some other counties besides Buncombe.—Asheboro Courier.

The Right Name is DeWitt

DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cools, soothes and heals cuts, burrs, boils, bruises, piles and all skin diseases. K. E. Zieckfoose, Adolph W. Va., says: "My little daughter had white swelling so bad that piece after piece of bone worked out of her leg. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured her." It is the most wonderful healing salve in the world. Beware of counterfeits. Sold by J. L. Wooten's drug store.

Cured of Lame After 15 Years of Suffering

"I had been troubled with lame back for fifteen years and I found a complete recovery in the use of Chamberlain's Pain Balm," says John G. Bisher, Gillam, Ind. This liniment is also without an equal for sprains and bruises. It is for sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville.

A wonderful spring tonic. Drives out all winter impurities, gives you strength, health and happiness. That's what Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea will do. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets.—Wooten's Drug Store.

The Atlanta Journal says that the Supreme court of Georgia holds, in a recent decision written by Justice Lamar, that stockholders in all corporations become, by the very fact of holding stock, participants to a trust fund for the benefit of the creditors of such corporations. Under this opinion, subscribers to the stock of a concern will hereafter be liable for the full amount of the debts contracted, and in the event that the concern collapses the creditors will be protected. Even if no more than 20 per cent, of the face value of the stock of a concern has been paid up, and the corporation goes under, the stockholders are liable for the other 80 per cent. This decision, it appears would largely curb the get-rich-quick concerns which sell stock for a few cents on the dollar. The prospect of having to make up the par value of the "securities" is not inviting to would-be investors. The decision is, from a practical standpoint, a sound one.—Charlotte Observer.

Won a Name of Fame.

DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little pills, have been made famous by their certain yet harmless and gentle action upon the bowels and liver. They have no equal for biliousness, constipation, etc. They do not weaken the stomach, gripe, or make you feel sick. Once used always preferred. They strengthen.—Sold by J. L. Wooten's Drug Store.

In Raleigh recently Judge Neal "called down" a lawyer who referred to witnesses as "cattle." It happened that it was a rather dirty case that was being tried but the character of the witnesses characterized as "cattle" had not been attacked and the act of the judge in telling the lawyer that they must not be so designated appealed to admiration and the sense of justice and propriety of the audience. It is a fact that lawyers now and then take advantage of a witness and hold him up to ridicule when there is no reason for doing so except to create a laugh at the expense of a witness. This is wrong, and it is welcome news to find that Judge Neal has recognized the injustice of it in a specific instance and administered a rebuke accordingly.—Greensboro Telegram.

Sour Stomach

When the quantity of food taken is too large or the quality too rich, sour stomach is likely to follow, and especially so if the digestion has been weakened by constipation. Eat slowly and not too freely of easily digested food. Masticate the food thoroughly. Let five hours elapse between meals, and when you feel a fullness and weight in the region of the stomach after eating, take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and the sour stomach may be avoided. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville.

A strength tonic that brings rich, red blood. Makes you strong, healthy and active. That's what Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea will do. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets.—Wooten's Drug Store.

NOTICE OF SALE.

By virtue of the authority conferred upon the undersigned by an order made in a certain special proceedings now pending in the Superior court of Pitt county entitled B. E. Parham vs. S. T. Hooker, the undersigned will expose to public sale before the court house door in the town of Greenville on Monday the 1st day of May, 1905, the following described tract or parcel of land to wit—

Situated in the town of Greenville between 9th and 10th streets and described as follows—Beginning at a ditch where it crosses the line of 9th street, running with the south line of 9th street south 74 degrees east 112 feet to a stake about 3 feet east of an old well, thence south 15 degrees east 129 36 feet to a stake in what is known as the William Moore line in an old hedge-row, thence with said William Moore line and S. T. Hooker's line south 59 degrees east 110.8 feet to S. T. Hooker's corner and the Savage corner, thence with the Savage line south 14 degrees west 181 feet to Savage corner on 10th street, thence with the north side of 10th street north 74 degrees west 309 feet to a stake, thence north 14 degrees east 270 feet to a ditch, thence with the ditch to the beginning. It being commonly known and called the Liberty warehouse property, together with the buildings thereon. Terms of sale—cash. This the 31 day of March, 1905. J. L. FLEMING, Commissioners. H. W. WHEEDBEE,

NOTICE.

A reward of ten dollars will be paid to any party, reporting any one with evidence to convict, who willfully pulls down or removes any portion or part of the Pitt county stock law fence or willfully leaves open any of the stock law gates on said fence.

Dear Mr. Munford:—

Your communication of the 4th is before us at present. Low prices and holding back the cotton crop from market has place hundreds of Solid Southern Merchants in just your position. The only course we can advise, is to throw your entire stock on the market at prices so low you can dispose of the stock quickly and take the sacrifice best you can. Holding together thousands of dollars of idle merchandise means final ruin to any merchant. Advertise diligently give your costumers the best of values. Thereby protecting both you and your costumers' interest. With best wishes for your success. We remain,

Respectfully yours,

The Servant Girl.

Mrs. Fritters—And how does your new girl suit?
Mrs. Frazzle—Not so loud, please. She is a perfect incompetent. Why, she doesn't even know the first thing about waiting on the table.
Mrs. Fritters (smiling)—Oh, you needn't be afraid. I don't want to take her away from you.
Mrs. Frazzle—Don't you, dear? Then she's really the best girl I've had since Mary Ann Raglet left me four years ago.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Changed His Opinion.

"See this lovely tidy," said Mrs. Bargain. "It was so cheap."
"It is!" interrupted her husband. "I want to recall my remark of this morning that you were always wanting something you couldn't get."
"Oh, I didn't want this particularly. You see, I bought it because it was so."
"I was wrong this morning. I should have said you were always getting something you don't want."
—Philadelphia Press.

Frank Criticism.

Artist—There, sir, is my latest picture.
Ingenuous Friend—Well, you haven't economized point on it, have you? What title have you given to it?
Artist—What do I call it? Why, sir, that is an autumn sunset.
Ingenuous Friend—You don't say so! Well, I don't blame the sun at all for setting.

A Quick Witted Lover.

"What would you say," asked the fond papa of the accepted suitor, "if I were to give you a block of business houses for a wedding present?"
"That it would be a mighty square thing to do," said the suitor.
Such bonnets may not count for much in a social way, but in this instance they brought down the houses.

Qualified For the Position.

"Well," said the artist sharply to the tramp who had entered, "what do you want here? Hurry with what you have to say."
"Sir," replied the tramp, with in-born dignity, "I did not come here to be insulted. I merely thought to step in and inquire if you had any model for the statue of Industry you have on hand. If not, I desire to apply for the position."

FREE TO OUR SUBSCRIBERS

OUR GREAT 1905 OFFER

We have purchased a number of annual subscriptions to the Southern Agriculturist, and, as long as they last, we will give one, free of charge, to every subscriber who pays for The Eastern Reflector a full year IN ADVANCE. If you are in arrears, pay up and for a year ahead, and get this valuable present. If you are not already a subscriber, send in your order at once, before this great offer is withdrawn.

SOUTHERN AGRICULTURIST

Is published at Nashville, Tenn. It is issued 24 times a year and the subscription price is 50 cents. It contains more reading matter than most dollar papers and is edited by Southern men who know the needs of Southern farmers. Every issue is like a big experience meeting, the farmers' questions being answered by such men as Maj. Thos. J. Key, former Assistant Commissioner of Agriculture of Alabama, and Prof. Andrew M. Soule, Director of the Virginia Experiment Station. The Home Department is conducted by Aunt Anne, whom all readers soon learn to love.

WE OFFER $1.50 IN VALUE FOR $1.00
But you must hurry. This proposition will not be held open indefinitely

The Poor Sea Gulls.
A kindly old lady living on the Massachusetts coast discovered that sea gulls actually get wet in stormy weather. But let us give her own thrilling words: "My heart has ached on a cold, damp afternoon to hear how full of pain and how hoarse are the cries emitted by the gulls which, dripping wet and evidently suffering from croup, rheumatism and bill ache, fly inland and endeavor to find warmth and shelter. I have endeavored to alleviate their sufferings by building a fire on the beach, around which gulls have fluttered all night, evidently appreciating the warmth and light."
—Kansas City Independent.

His Discovery.
"I discovered a peculiar thing in my room last night," remarked the cheerful idiot at the breakfast table. "It had four legs and one foot."
"My goodness!" exclaimed the handlady excitedly. "What was it?"
"A bed," answered the cheerful idiot as he winked at the other boarders.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

JAPANESE COMMANDMENTS.

The Law of the Land as Laid Down by Prince Shotoku.

It was Prince Shotoku who in the eighth century organized the administrative system of Japan and laid down those rules which are still called "the constitution." From their nature the word "commandments" would be to western ears more appropriate. In part the ancient writing runs:

Concord and harmony are priceless; obedience to established principles is the first duty of man. That the upper classes should be in unity among themselves and intimate with the lower, and that all matters in dispute should be submitted to arbitration—that is the way to place society on a basis of strict justice.

"Imperial edicts must be respected. The sovereign is to be regarded as the heaven, his subjects as the earth; so the sovereign shows the way, the subject follows it.

"Courtesy must be the rule of conduct for all ministers and officials of the government. Social order and due distinctions between the classes can only be preserved by strict conformity with etiquette.

"To punish the evil and reward the good is humanity's best law. A good deed should never be left unrewarded or an evil unrebuked.

"To be just one must have faith. Every affair demands a certain measure of faith on the part of those who deal with it. Every question, whatever its nature or tendency, requires for its settlement an exercise of faith and authority.

"Anger should be curbed and wrath cast away. The faults of another should not cause our resentment.

"To chide a fault does not prevent its repetition, nor can the censor himself be secure from error. The sure road to success is that trodden by the people in unison.

"Those in authority should never harbor hatred or jealousy of one another. Hate begets hate, and jealousy is blind.

"The imperative duty of man in his capacity of a subject is to sacrifice his private interest to the public good. Egoism forbids co-operation, and without co-operation there cannot be any great achievement."

Up and Down.

The following telephone conversation recently overheard between a woman whose home is in the suburbs and a business acquaintance of her husband illustrates some of the curiosities of our language:

Business Acquaintance—Good morning, Mrs. —. I'd like to speak to Mr. — for a moment.

Mrs. Blank—I'm sorry, Mr. —, but my husband isn't down yet.

B. A. (inquiringly)—Isn't down yet?

Mrs. Blank—I mean he isn't up yet. I'm letting him sleep late this morning. He was so down last evening over his office troubles that he was about ready to give up. He says he'll be down as soon as he gets up.—Harper's Weekly.
