FLOOD OF DOLLARS.

A Million May Drop on Edwards of Greene.

Kinston, N. C., August 21.—If the banks of New York honor a check drawn by the administrator of the estate of the late Senator Mark Hanna in favor of Mr. Preller, and in turn endorsed by him to Mr. Theophilus Edwards, of Greene county, the latter will be a millionaire and all because of a generous act of his in ante bellum days when he was a man of affluence. The check for a million dollars, drawn as stated above, was received by Mr. Edwards, and after having been submitted to a Congressman from North Carolina for inspection, was expressed to the bank in New York for collection. The story runs thus:

Mr. Edwards was one of the wealthiest property and slave owners in Eastern Carolina before the war, and while attending Eastman College at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., he became acquainted there with a young man by the name of Preller, who was struggling for an education. His money gave out and he was on the eve of quitting the college before he had finished when Mr. Edwards furnished the money for him to complete his education. The young man was prosperous after he left the college and amassed a great fortune. It seems also that he was a legatee of the Hanna estate and received a million dollar check from the administrator, and this he endorsed over to Mr. Edwards. The story reads like a romance; but one thing is certain, Mr. Edwards received such a check, and if it is honored will be a millionaire. Mr. Edwards is about 65 years old and a high brother to Thomas Harvey, of this city.—Raleigh News and Observer.

UNIDENTIFIED BODY.

Buried as One of the Unknown

The body of another victim of the ill fated excursion train was brought to Greenville on Monday evening's train, making ten bodies that have been put off at this station. This one was supposed when shipped to be Grant Warren, colored, and the box bore his name. Warren, however, had already returned home alive. Then it was thought that perhaps this body was George Walker, who is yet missing. The coffin was opened at the depot and was viewed by a number of people, mostly colored, in the hope of identifying it. They all said it was not George Walker, and the body was so decomposed and disfigured that identification was impossible. The railroad officials had the body buried.

It is not likely that any more bodies will be shipped if they are found, as it has now been so long since the wreck that identification is out of the question. In their decomposed condition it is dangerous to handle the bodies in shipping.

Violating Squirrel Law.

THE REFLECTOR has been told that the law against shooting squirrels is being violated almost daily by people in various parts of the county. It is against the law to hunt squirrels in Pitt county between the first of March and first of November. If the names of persons known to be violating this law are reported to the collector of the grand jury at September court they will be indicted.

Both Should Be Careful.

We are told that these are easily frightened by the street sprinkler. A little care on the part of people on the street with hoses and also on the part of the driver of the sprinkler would be a safeguard against an accident.

SHELMERDINE ITEMS.

Shelmerdine, N. C., Aug. 22, 1905.

Hon. Geo. H. Cole returned this evening from an extended visit to Halifax, N. S., and other points of interest in that section.

Charles and Walter were in Washington Sunday Unfortunately they were taken for suspicious characters and spent the greater portion of the day in the lockup. After a few strenuous hours of confinement they succeeded in convincing the authorities that they were O. K., and arrived here about dusk.

We take pleasure in saying that none of the Shelmerdine contingent were seriously hurt in the late excursion horror. A few of them were slightly scratched but none were seriously injured.

Cecil Harrington and C. H. Williams arrived here last evening from Ahsokie.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bell spent Monday in Greenville.

J. D. Cox, who was expected here today, was unable to come on account of a bad case of rheumatism.

H. W. Phillips takes his vacation this morning. Three cheers and a tiger. There will now be peace and quietude in the community.

Mrs. Ricks entertained friends and relatives on Sunday at her home on Grove Lane.

AYDEN ITEMS.

AYDEN, N. C., Aug. 22, 1905.

Mrs. L. H. Lee and two daughters, Misses Maud and Edith, of Greenville, have been visiting their relative, J. W. Taylor.

W. E. Lyon, of near Ormondsville, was a pleasant visitor in our office Monday.

Sunday night a young man called at the home of J. A. Harrington and applied for the position of assistant cotton weigher. Mr. Harrington asked for his credentials which were promptly furnished, they stating the fact that the applicant was a staunch democrat and would in the future render yeomanry service in the cause which Alfred has so long in times passed fought for and achieved many victories. This season our farmer friends will be greeted upon the platform by this noble, son of a noble sire. Good blood will tell.

Mrs. Lou Turnage, of Kinston, spent last week with her sister, Mrs. T. W. Hart.

The fall and winter session of the Free Will Baptist Seminary will begin next Monday, August 28th.

If, as the News and Observer states there were no more than 20 killed in the wreck at Bruce station, we imagine the railroad officials are highly elated. But, was that all.

Mrs. Irwin Jenkins, of Grifton, came up on the train Sunday and spent the day with Mrs. S. A. Jenkins.

J. Raymond Turnage, formerly of Ormondsville, has gone into business here. He has rented the two large brick stores recently built by G. W. B. Garris and will conduct a general merchandise business. He has already received right many goods and his stores will be among the handsomest in Ayden. J. T. Smith, Jr., recently with J. R. Smith & Bro., has accepted a clerkship with him. We respect Mr. Turnage a very liberal patronage.

Mrs. Agnes Lewis, of Grifton, is visiting Mrs. Cannon.

Misses Jennie and Maggie Rutledge, of Kinston, have been spending the past week with the family of J. F. Bowler.

Mrs. I. J. Johnson and daughter are visiting the post.

Mrs. Weeks has returned to her home in Scotland Neck.

James Green, B. F. Manning and R. H. Hussocker, of Winterville, were here a short while last Friday.

Luther McLawhorn was in Greenville on business the other day. He is fat and chubby and takes with the boys wherever he goes.

A little little miss is at the home of Mr. Joe Dixon. We haven't met her yet, but they tell us that she is just the cutest and brightest little miss that "never was" and is the tiniest little jewel of the household. We shall pay our respects a little later on.

J. W. Moore went to Kinston Friday and returned Saturday.

P. C. Cannon, a prominent colored man and merchant in this place, one of the survivors of the recent wreck at Bruce Station, has come home. Parse says in escaping from the car he was in the rear end was completely submerged in water and in looking back he could see people under the water fighting like demons in their efforts to get out. It is terrible to hear him relate his experience. He is badly hurt about the head and one leg and foot, which was caught under a seat, which he had much difficulty in extricating, is badly torn and lacerated. He is confined to his home and will be for several days. Friday evening two bodies were taken from the train here, one of them, Mary Purvis, by mistake. Her home was at Centerville to which place she was carried the day following. Our people deeply sympathize with the unfortunates.

J. W. Quinerly and J. J. Hines left Sunday for Baltimore and other northern cities for the purpose of purchasing their fall and winter goods.

TUESDAY, AUG. 21, 1905.

The Durham Herald is trying to revive Mrs Chadwick For pity sake, let her rest, likewise Nan Paterson.

It is said that Hilo gave the Taft party a great brass band reception. Hilo! Seems like we have heard that name before.

The man in Pittsburg who has invented a pie-making machine would do well to communicate with the Tarheel Industrial crowd at Greensboro.

A canvass in the city of Philadelphia has disclosed above 60,000 fraudulent names on the registration books. No wonder that city could give such tremendous Republican majorities.

Did you say you were interested in a chamber of commerce or board of trade for Greenville? Don't you think one is needed and that the town could be helped through united action on the part of the business men?

Those Mormons in East Tennessee who are suing for $40,000 damages, alleging that they have been treated unkindly, have got a lot of gall and cheek. That they are alive to tell the tale is proof that they have been treated too kindly instead of unkindly.

Under an act of the last legislature state institutions are required to make a detailed statement of their operations to the state board of internal improvements. These reports have been demanded by the board and opposition is raised by some of the institutions, notably the Normal and Industrial College at Greensboro. There must be something wrong with institutions unwilling to make such statements. We hope no graft is to be disclosed.

Dr. A. C. Barron, for nine years pastor of the First Baptist church of Charlotte, died Saturday night at the home of his daughter at Somerset, Va. He recently returned to America from an extended tour in Europe and had stopped at Somerset for a few days before returning to his charge at Charlotte, and while here suffered a stroke of paralysis from which he continued to grow worse until the end. In the death of Dr. Barron the Baptist denomination in North Carolina loses one of its strongest and best men.

Some street carnival crowd is again making an effort to get a date for a week in Greenville. There seems to be a division of sentiment among the business men on the question, some favoring the carnival coming and some opposing it. The REFLECTOR is of the opinion that a carnival would be injurious to the town in many ways. One has never been here, and we have never attended one, therefore are not speaking from experience, but we have watched expressions of opinion from other towns where they have been and in nearly every instance they are condemned. If the business men of Greenville want to get a crowd here let them move for a Pitt county home coming reunion and they will be doing something that is worth while.

As might have been expected, the Rev. Mr. Kife says the reports that his gold mine projects had gone in the hands of a receiver were a patch of lies.

The Raleigh fair should take steps to prevent the president being caught by the army of fakens that have heretofore infested that aggregation of big pumpkins and side shows.

Let Common Sense Decide

Do you honestly believe, that coffee sold loose (in bulk), exposed to dust, germs and insects, passing through many hands (some of them not over-clean), "blended," you don't know how or by whom, is fit for your use? Of course you don't. But is another story. The green berries, selected by keen judges at the plantation, are skillfully roasted at our factories, where precautions you would not dream of are taken to secure perfect cleanliness, flavor, strength and uniformity.

From the time the coffee leaves the factory no hand touches it till it is opened in your kitchen.

This has made LION COFFEE the LEADER of ALL PACKAGE COFFEES.

Millions of American Homes welcome LION COFFEE daily. There is no stronger proof of merit than continued and increasing popularity. "Quality survives all opposition."

LOADED UP IN VAIN.

A Speech That Sumner Didn't Get an Opportunity to Deliver.

It was a function of the judiciary committee of the senate, of which Senator Trumbull was the chairman, to attend to the furnishing of the old senate chamber with busts of eminent judges who had sat on the supreme bench. In the discharge of this office Senator Trumbull offered a resolution in the senate that a bust of the late Chief Justice Taney should be placed there along with the busts of his predecessors. Immediately Mr. Sumner warmly objected to this measure on the ground that Taney's decision made in the Dred Scott case—a decision generally obnoxious to people hostile to slavery—was too offensive and infamous to render it fit to grant this honor to its author. Trumbull in telling this story smiled as he said that it had seemed to him that even if Taney might have fallen into a legal error or been extremely blameworthy it might still be natural to want to see how he looked!

The fire of Mr. Sumner's protest, however, led to a postponement of the resolution. Trumbull observed that Sumner speedily went to work to hunt up in the Congressional library and to bring from its shelves book after book on the lives and misconduct of iniquitous judges in the past and to deposit them in a huge pile by his desk in the senate chamber, his intention being to draw from these some illustrations of detestable judicial decisions, the authors of which might be seen in the pillory and classed with the judge who presided in the Dred Scott case. After waiting for the objectionable resolution to be called up for action Mr. Sumner, who had taken time enough to compose an elaborate philippic, inquired of Trumbull when the resolution would be called up anew. To this question an evasive reply was made then and perhaps more than once. The upshot of the incident was that no opportunity was given to deliver the harangue which Mr. Sumner had been laboriously getting ready to fortify from the contents of the pile of books at the side of his desk. After the gun had been loaded with so much painstaking no chance was afforded to discharge it.—Dr. George P. Fisher in Scribner's.

Stevenson and Carlyle.

Robert Louis Stevenson used to tell this story of his early days: He was entering in an absentminded way the famous secondhand book shop of James Stillie when he ran into a fuming old gentleman who was leaving the establishment. The latter ejaculated in an angry tone, "Man, can you not look where you are going!" Stevenson apologized for his awkwardness and was then confronted by Mr. Stillie, who was also excited. The bookseller exclaimed: "The creature has been trying to make out that an old book I sold him is spurious! He may be able to write, but he knows nothing about black letter books. He's the most disagreeable customer that ever entered my shop!"

"Who is he?" asked Stevenson.

"Oh, that's the great Mr. Thomas Carlyle," was the answer.

Work of Merit.

One day a traveler came to a well, where he dismounted, fastened his animal to a pin and satisfied his thirst. As he returned to his animal it occurred to him that it would be a "savab" (work of merit) to leave the pin behind for other travelers who might wish to tether their beasts. The next to arrive was a man on foot, who, being very thirsty and in a hurry, fell over the pin. This man threw the pin down the well, so as to prevent any one else from having a similar accident. A learned man in the district was asked of the two did the "savab." He answered, "Both, for their intentions were equally good!"—"Five Years in a Persian Town."

A Pavement of Whalebone.

A curious memento of the whaling industry of Monterey, in Mexico, remains in the pavement leading up from the street to the west door of the church of San Carlos de Borromeo. This is one of the churches founded by the Spanish missionary fathers and is still in excellent repair. The round, mushroom-like objects in the pavement are the vertebrae of the great mammals. The pavement is in good condition and seems to wear well.

The Hard Part.

"It is a trying profession," said the first entomologist.

"Isn't it?" replied the second.

"The world never realizes how hard we fellows work."

"Indeed, it doesn't."

"The world never gives a thought to the days and nights of study we put in."

"I should say not."

"Think of it. Sometimes we work and worry for years to decide upon the habits and manners of life of some obscure bug."

"Huh. Think that's the hard part? How about the nerve racking and mind wrecking task of inventing scientific names for the things?"—Chicago Tribune.

A PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR. $50.00 REWARD

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

Whereas, official information has been received at this department that William Williams murdered Lawrence Hopkins, of Pitt county, and whereas, it appears that the said William Williams has fled the State, or so conceals himself that the ordinary process of law cannot be served upon him. Now, therefore, I, R. B. Glenn, Governor of the State of North Carolina, by virtue of authority invested by law, do issue this my Proclamation, offering a reward of Fifty Dollars for the apprehension and delivery of the said William Williams to the sheriff of Pitt county at the Court-house in Greenville and I do enjoin all officers of the State and all good citizens to assist in bringing said criminal to justice.

Done at our City of Raleigh, the 14th day of August, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and five and in the one hundred and 29th year of our American Independence. By the Governor: R. B. GLENN, Jas. D. Glenn, Private Secretary.

DESCRIPTION

William Williams is a dark mulatto negro, weighing about 160 or 170 pounds slightly stooped shouldered, with some defect in his eyes, which gives him the appearance of being cross eyed; between 30 or 35 years of age.
