GENERAL NEWS.

Happenings of Interest Over the Country.

Jamestown, Ind., March 14.—While men were sitting about the stove in a grocery store this afternoon, three of them were killed and five injured by the collapse of the Odd Fellows hall, which crushed the grocery.

Toccoa, Ga., March 14.—Fire of an unknown origin today destroyed the large cotton platform and warehouse of Inman, Akers & Inman, the plant of the Atlanta Compress Company, 700 bales of cotton and seven loaded freight cars. The loss is placed at $150,000, fully insured.

Norfolk, Va. March 14.—The North Carolina Pine Association, embracing interests in Virginia and North and South Carolina that represent $20,000,000, and have an output of 1,200,000,000 feet annually, opened its annual convention today at the Monticello hotel with about 200 operators and a number of lumbermen from distant states in attendance.

Atlanta, Ga., March 14.—An electrical storm of great severity, accompanied by a heavy rainfall, visited Atlanta late today. Nearly two inches of rain fell between noon and dark. The tower of the Second Baptist church was set on fire this evening by lightning. Nearly a hundred phones on the north side of the city were burned out and a number of electric street cars were also put out of commission. The church was damaged about $1,000. The total loss from the storm will probably amount to several thousand dollars.

For a Federation.

Charlotte, N. C., March 14.—The committee on federation of the Presbyterian churches of the United States met today in the First Presbyterian church. The meeting was organized by the election of the former officers who served the committee at the last meeting held in Pittsburg, Pa. Dr. J. R. Searle, of New Brunswick, N. J., is moderator, and Dr. J. D. Steele, of Passaic, N. J., secretary. Immediately after the organization the question arose as to whether representatives of the press should be admitted to the meetings of the committee. It was finally decided that if the press be admitted all articles should be censored before publication in the local papers or sent out. At 10:30 the committee took a recess until 3:30 this afternoon. In his report Dr. D. J. Steele, the secretary, stated that the churches, with few exceptions, are in favor of federation, some favoring a move conditionally.

THE WEATHER

Fair tonight and Friday, preceded by rain tonight in eastern portion. Colder tonight on the coast and in extreme northwestern portion.

Grass spots are coming out and the trees are taking on life, which are good indications of spring.

It is Hooker & Nobles who will conduct the pool room in the building vacated by Hines' cafe, instead of S. J. Nobles.

AD. SPACE AND BUSINESS.

There are merchants, men who individually style themselves as merchants, who boast of never having paid a dollar for advertising in their local newspaper. There are also persons who think it smart to say that they never read a newspaper.

But take each and both of these classes, and what force are they to their communities, and what city could be a city, if the majority of its people neither advertised in their local newspaper, nor subscribed or read it. The truth is, that there is no city where these classes predominate, for such people would never have given the place an opportunity to develop and grow into a city.

The intelligent, practical business world knows the value of newspapers be it in ad. space or of the perusal of the columns of reading matter. Ad. space has won success through every kind of trade obstacle and competition. It has brought the small store business, and forced it by an increased trade, to go into larger quarters.

Ad. space is to be the most feared thing in the retail trade of every city for it is the liberal and intelligent use of such space which places the seemingly significant merchant on a parity with the large merchant, unless the big merchant displays an equal force and discretion in the use of the local newspaper. Ad. space is indicative of enterprise. It shows that the merchant has goods, and well proves that he wants the public to know the fact. The greater the size the ad. space is likely to be, for trade enterprise finds a fascinating and profitable outlet in an ever increasing ad. space. It is business desire which prompts this use of ad. space, and the result is found in the increase of trade. The two go together, ad. space and business.—New Berne Journal.

Fire in Kinston.

A storage house belonging to Mr. J. H. Parham, situated at the west end of Blount street, near the river, was burned Tuesday night, about 9 o'clock, and the entire contents of the building including 1,000 to 1,200 bushels of peanuts, belonging to Mr. W. H. Cox, were destroyed. The high, two-story building was dry as tinder inside and burned so rapidly that when the fire department reached it there was little hope of saving it and the frame fell soon after crowd gathered.

The loss is estimated at $1,500 to $1,750 and the total insurance is $1,100, $500 carried by Mr. Cox on the peanuts and $500 on the building and $100 on the fixtures, carried by Mr. Parham. The building was valued at $1,000 and the peanuts $700 or $800.—Kinston Free Press.

A Chatham Man Made Enough Hunting to Go to Medical College.

Since November 25th Mr. E. M. Wheeler, who lives near here, has trapped 32 minks and a much larger number of muskrats rabbits, possums, and other less valuable varmints. Mr. Wheeler informs us that he intends to go to Philadelphia next month to take a course in medicine with the money earned from his winter's trapping.—Chatham Record.

Originated in North Carolina.

A young lady of Wadesboro, recently investigated the origin of the song "Everybody Works But Father." She found that the song started in a North Carolina mill town. An old man, who lived in the country moved to town and put all his children—twelve of them—in a mill to work. He got with the boys one day, he wouldn't work, and they filled him full of booze. In his hilarity he broke out into the following strain: "All my children are at work

And dinged if I ain't in a lather, Everybody works at my house—Everybody works but father."

An observant young man in the crowd heard him singing the above and wrote the song.—Rockingham Anglo-Saxon.

Preacher Hurt.

We learn that Elder M. T. Lawrence, of Hamilton, who serves the Briery Swamp church in this county, was painfully hurt when returning from his appointment at that church last Sunday. While driving along the road a part of the harness broke. This frightened his horse and the animal run away. Mr. Lawrence got out over the back of the buggy, but in doing so was painfully hurt about the back and face. We hope his injury is not serious and that he will soon recover from it.

OVER THE STATE.

Happenings of Interest in North Carolina.

A Bank with $25,000 capital has been chartered at Dover.

The Free Press says that Hines Bros. Lumber Co. will soon begin the construction of a railroad from Snow Hill to Kinston.

The Snow Hill publishing Company is the name of an organization which has just been formed for the purpose of publishing a weekly newspaper in Snow Hill. The company is composed of J. Exum, president; J. O. Suggs, treasurer; J. E. Dehman, who will be managing editor; W. T. Carraway and John E. W. Suggs. These five gentlemen will constitute a board of directors for the new company.

Find the Boy.

In July last year, a little boy not six years old was stolen from his parents in Suleyville, Indiana, and not one word has been heard from him since. His father, Dr. S. L. Byers, has spent all his money trying to find him. A reward of $500 is offered which will be paid for the return. This is guaranteed. The New Harmony Times of Indiana, asks all papers to announce this fact and to give the following description:

"Richmond Byers, if alive was six years old last July, is of light complexion, has gray eyes, left eye noticeably crossed, has a small V shaped nick in the edge of the left ear, has a sharp chin and a narrow projecting forehead. He is rather small for his age and is unusually bright and intelligent, talking after the manner of a boy much older."

Had Never Seen Skates.

A boy came rushing in to tell The Reflector "They have got some things out yonder at the warehouse where they put wheels under you and you go a scooting." It was his first sight of roller skates, and he thought it was a wonder.

Have You Paid?

The sheriff and town tax collector are both making ready to levy on property on which taxes for last year are yet unpaid. The advertisement of sale will begin the first of April.

Friday Night.

The phenomenal success of Rowland and Clifford's new production "Dora Thorne," has shown that the popular taste appreciates something more than vaudeville or the growing weariness of plays which rely upon a dazzling array of chorus girls or spectacular scenic display. At the opera house tomorrow night

Mrs. James With Munford.

Mrs. Georgia James has accepted a position with C. T. Munford in the millinery department of his big store. The services of Mrs. James are a valuable acquisition, and the popularity of the big store with the ladies will be increased by her presence in the millinery department. She has had many years experience in the business and knows it thoroughly.

A doctor in the Ohio Legislature has introduced a bill requiring physicians to take human life in cases in which there is great suffering and death is certain to result and also to prevent the rearing of children who are hideously deformed or hopelessly idiotic. In speaking of his bill he rightly said: "My measure is a business one. It may be that it is too revolutionary to pass this Legislature, but the time will surely come—and that, too, within the next 20 years—when some such law will be on our statute books." We doubt it. We don't believe the time will ever come when such law will be placed upon the statute books of this country.—Charlotte Chronicle.

Wilson and the Mining Expert.

A man named George Wilson owned the famous Paris mine in Park county, Mont. Wilson was visited by some Englishmen one day, among whom was an expert of the English pattern—one who knew all about mines and a great deal about everything else, in his own opinion. They wanted to see some of Wilson's gold, and he panned out some very fine colors for their edification.

"But that isn't gold," pronounced the youthful expert after a critical examination. "Me deah fellah, I am a graduate of the English School of Mines, and I know gold when I see it, you know. That is iron."

Wilson didn't say much. He just leaned over and took the alleged expert confidently by the shoulder. "Mebbe it isn't," he said, "but don't go and give it away to those fellows down at the Denver mint, for I have been selling this stuff to them for gold all along."

Ham and Tears.

The following story is told of two Yorkshire women:

"Well, Sally," said one, "I hear you wor at t' funeral."

"Yes, I wor," said Sally.

"What kind of funeral wor it?" asked the other.

"Why, it wor a wery mean affair. There wor nobbut a few biscuits and sich."

"Ah," said Sally's friend, "them's t' sort of ways I don't hold to. I've lost five; but, thank heaven, I've buried 'em all wi' 'am."—London Answers.

When a man falls in business his wife tells the neighbors that he was too honest to succeed, but what she tells him in private is another story.

Beware of the man who boasts of his good deeds; he probably only awaits a favorable opportunity to do a mean one.

Indigestion is much of a habit. Don't get the habit. Take a little Kodol Dyspepsia Cure after eating and you will quit belching, puffing, palpitating and frowning. Kodol Digests what you eat and makes the stomach sweet. Sold by John L. Wooten.

Some authors' originality is due to their persistency in misquoting others.

This is the season of listlessness, headaches and spring disorders. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea is a sure preventative. Makes you strong and vigorous. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets.

Wooten's Drug Store.

If you think that honesty keeps the majority of politicians poor you are entitled to another think.

All smart up to date women of today, Know how to bake, wash, sing and to play; Without these talents a wife is N. G.

Unless she takes Rocky Mountain Tea.

Wooten's Drug Store.

It sometimes happens that a good man's conscience doesn't prevent him from accumulating money.

The best way to rid the system of a cold is to evacuate the bowels. Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar acts as a pleasant, yet effectual cathartic on the bowels. It clears the head, cuts the phlegm out of the throat, strengthens the bronchial tubes, relieves coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough etc. Sold by John L. Wooten.

You feel the life giving current the minute you take it. A gentle soothing warmth, fills the nerve and blood with life. It's a real pleasure to take Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. Wooten's drug store.

If you are troubled with Piles and can't find a cure, try Witch Hazel Salve but be sure you get that made by E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago. It is the Original. If you have used Witch Hazel Salve without being relieved it is probable that you got hold of one of the many worthless counterfeits that are sold on the reputation of the genuine DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve.

Even a bachelor would rather be a widow's second husband than her second.

Don't frown—look pleasant. If you are suffering from indigestion or sour stomach, take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. Hon. J. A. Moore, of Atlanta, Ga. says: "I suffered more than 20 years with indigestion. A friend recommended Kodol. It relieved me in one day and I now enjoy better health than for many years. 'Kodol digests what you eat, relieves sour stomach, gas on the stomach, belching, etc. Sold by John L. Wooten.

Let the poet hitch his wagon to a star; the really wise man anchors his airship to the earth.

One would think the Laxative idea in a cough syrup should have been advanced long before it was. It seems the only rational remedy for Coughs and Colds would be to move the bowels and clean the mucous membranes of the throat and lungs at the same time. Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar does this. It is the Original Laxative Cough Syrup, the best known remedy for Coughs, Colds, Croup, Whooping Coughs, etc. Tastes good and harmless. Sold by John L. Wooten.

Fresh Air a Necessity.

Were the schoolrooms constantly freshened with the air so abundantly provided for our needs there would be fewer nervous, irritable and wornout teachers and more bright, clear eyed, clear brained, strong bodied, happy pupils. Fresh air in the homes both day and night, summer and winter, with the knowledge and practice of correct breathing and the partaking in sufficient quantities of wholesome food and pure water, would transform many a sickly, irritable family into a bright, healthy, happy household. I will go still further and say that sunshiny and airy business houses and offices would reduce defalcations and embezzlements to a minimum. Unnatural darkness breeds disorder and disease of mind, body and spirit and fathers desperate deeds, while air and sunlight produce hope, health, cheer and morality.—Suggestion.

A Poser For Amelia.

Edward had just returned from foreign service, and his brow was troubled.

"I gave you that parrot as a birthday present, did I not, Amelia?" he asked.

"Yes, but surely, Teddy, you are not going to speak of your tokens as if"

"It was young and speechless at the time."

"Yes"—with increasing wonder—"and it has never been out of this parlor."

"There are no other young ladies in this house?"

"No, there are not."

"Then, why—why when I kissed your photograph in yonder album while waiting for you did that wretched bird imitate your voice and say, 'Don't do that, Herbert; please don't?'"—Bystander.

Unpleasant Keepsakes.

One thing that dentists cannot understand is the frequency with which their customers ask for the teeth that have been extracted.

"What on earth they do with them is a mystery," said one dentist. "They are not pretty to look at. They do not revive pleasant memories. If every tooth was set with a diamond or had become historic in some way I could understand the desire to preserve them. But there are few historic teeth in the world. Most of those that are gone are only reminders of aches and pains. Nevertheless it is a common thing for the patient to ask me to keep the tooth. Maybe he wants to compare it with the tooth of a friend and thereby prove how much more he suffered than the other fellow when it was pulled."

are caused by Indigestion. If you eat a little too much, or if you are subject to attacks of Indigestion, you have no doubt had shortness of breath, rapid heart beats, heartburn or palpitation of the heart.

Indigestion causes the stomach to expand—swell, and puff up against the heart. This crowds the heart and interferes with its action, and in the course of time the heart becomes diseased.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

digests what you eat, takes the strain off of the heart, and contributes nourishment, strength and health to every organ of the body. Cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Inflammation of the mucous membranes lining the Stomach and Digestive Tract, Nervous Dyspepsia and Catarrh of the Stomach.

After eating, my food would distress me by making my heart palpitate and I would become very weak. Finally I got a bottle of Kodol and it gave me immediate relief. After using a few bottles I am cured.

MRS. LORING NICHOLS, Penn Yan, N. Y.
I had stomach trouble and was in a bad state as I had heart trouble with it. I took Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for about four months and it cured me.

TO THE TRUSTEES OF The Greenville Christian Church.

Gentlemen:—

It's sound sense that we tell you. It will cost less dollars to paint your church with L. & M. Paint, because more painting is done with one gallon of L. & M. than with two gallons of other paints, and the L. & M. Zinc hardens the L. & M. White Lead and makes the L. & M. Paint wear like iron.

Any church will be given a liberal quantity free whenever they paint. 4 gallons L. & M. mixed with 3 gallons Linseed Oil will paint a moderate sized house.

Actual cost L. & M. about $1.20 per gallon.

J. E. Webb, Painter Hickory, N. C. writes, "Houses painted with L. & M. 15 years ago have not needed painting since."

It is getting almost time for preparation to begin for the Confederate veterans' reunion on May 10th. The reunion this year should be made a notable one, for the time is rapidly coming when it will be too late to pay honors to these gallant heroes while they are living. Every year there is a thinning of the ranks, and ere long the last of them will have passed over the river. Greenville should do her best for the old soldiers at the next reunion. Secretary of State J. Bryan Grimes will deliver the address here that day, so the success of the speaking part of the exercises is already assured. Let everything else be arranged in keeping with it.

CHANGE THE COUNTY HOME.

The idea of changing the county home from its present location to some point near Greenville, and making it such a home as it should be, is growing in popularity. Some have expressed themselves through The Reflector and many others have spoken to us giving endorsement to the suggestion. The present county home would bring a good price as a farm and with the money a good home could be built. If the money arising from the sale should not be sufficient to both purchase the site and build the home, there are enough public spirited citizens in the county who will subscribe to a fund to donate a site. In this way, without additional expense to the county, a home can be secured that would be a credit to the county.

A bit of blowing is about all the satisfaction Speaker Cannon can get out of his mad spell.

At Hendersonville last week a minister, who seems heretofore to have been in good standing in his church, was convicted of criminal intimacy with a married woman and sentenced to imprisonment. The disgrace that this man has brought on the cause of religion will of course do harm. Because one here and there uses the tivery of heaven to serve the devil, there be plenty of scoffers and scorners who sneer at the religion of Jesus and say none of its devotees are to be trusted. But where one professed servant of the Master fails and dishonors His cause there are thousands and thousands who have lived and are living today lives consistently and faithfully devoted to His service. There be many of the cloth who are not what they ought to be, just as there are men in all walks of life who fall short. But it is well to remember that where one fails there are 90 and 9, and more, who live uprightly to the end.—Statesville Landmark.

Dr. Lord, a colored physician who formerly lived in Statesville, is now a resident of Concord and the Tribune tells that a citizen of that town asked the doctor recently "how come" colored folks don't have appendicitis. "That is simple enough," answered the doctor, "they haven't got the price." Once when there was an epidemic of scarlet fever in Statesville a council of physicians was held to advise with the city authorities as to ways and means to hold the pest in check. Dr. Lord was called in to report conditions among the colored people. He said there were some cases but they were not easily detected for the reason that the "red glow" which the books gives as evidence of the fever does not usually show itself on the average colored person.—Statesville Landmark.

Jerome has sued the Hearst papers, Joe Cannon has cussed out the Senate and altogether there is a deuce of a time going on—another nigger dead and no water hot, as it were.—Greensboro Record.

In its way the gold cure may be all right, but a man seldom feels the need of the cure until his gold is all gone.

Strange to say, a woman isn't afraid of a man with the spirit of a mouse:

The Spider's Web.

Rightly considered, a spider's web is a most curious as well as a most beautiful thing. When we were children the majority of us supposed that the spider's web was pulled out of his mouth and that the little insect had a large reel of the stuff in his stomach and that he could almost instantly add feet, yards or rods to the roll. The facts are that spiders have a regular spinning machine—a set of tiny tubes at the far end of the body—and that the threads are nothing more or less than a white sticky fluid, which hardens as soon as it comes in contact with the air. The spider does not really and truly “spin,” but begins a thread by pressing his “spinner” against some object to which the liquid sticks. He then moves away and by constantly ejecting the fluid and allowing it to harden forms his ropes or wonderful geometrical nets.

His Noble Title.

Lord Leighton when asked by what title he would be called to the upper house at once replied, “I am a workingman and cannot afford to change my name, which is my trademark.” There result many minor social confusions when the alteration in status is accompanied by an alteration of the patronymic. When, for instance, Sir James McGarel-Hogg, raised to the peerage under the title of Lord Magheramorne, first dined out with his new dignity the footman, unable to master the sound, but refusing to be beaten, announced, “The late Sir James McGarel-Hogg.”

Her Money's Worth.

During her sojourn at a hotel a lady broke an article belonging to a toilet china set. On leaving the house she was charged with the entire set. As remonstrance was unavailing, she paid the bill and, pleading the excuse of having forgotten something, returned to the room and broke each and every article of the set for which she had paid. And some people say women are not clever!

Superstition and Science.

A young woman in Washington, who is a graduate of a seminary that makes a feature of hygiene, was walking with a friend and discussing some rather abstruse questions on sanitary science, on which she intended to present a paper before a woman's club in the capital. The graduate was holding forth in approved seminary style on the scholarly theme when she suddenly stopped and picked up a pin on the sidewalk.

“I am surprised,” smilingly observed her companion, glancing at the rusty pin as the graduate stuck it under the lapel of her coat.

“It is a little superstition I have never been able to conquer,” said the graduate, “but,” she hastened to explain, “I shall sterilize this as soon as I get home.”

Less Brutal.

“It was at a fashionable holiday resort.

“Ma,” said young irrepressible, “is Mr. Gouger the man what keeps our hotel?”

“Yes, dear.”

“An’ they call him the proprietor, don’t they, ma?”

“Yes, my child.”

“Why do they call him a proprietor, ma?”

“Out of politeness, my son. To call him a highwayman would not sound nice.”—London Telegraph.

Badly Mixed.

The following extracts from speeches made by vestrymen are given in a local English paper:

Mr. H. D.—If I paid a man to do a job and he did not do it, I would not pay him.

Mr. O’C.—Is Mr. St. C. in order in introducing fresh matter that has already been decided?

Mr. D.—I move that we have a survey on this day (Thursday) fortnight, on a Saturday.

Mr. P.—I am proud of my ancestors, and I hope to be proud of my posterity.

Mr. B.—If this proposal is carried the parish will stink in the eyes of the ratepayers.

DO NOT IMITATE.

Make an Effort in Your Work in Life to Be Original.

There are a thousand people who will do faithfully what they are told to one who can lay out a programme or execute it—a thousand who can only follow to one who can lead. It is a rare thing to find a young man who has the power of accomplishment, the ability to put a thing through with the force of originality.

Whatever your work in life, do not follow others. Do not imitate. Do not do things just as everybody else has done them before, but in new, ingenious ways. Show the people in your specialty that precedents do not cut much of a figure with you and that you will make your own programme. Resolve that, whether you accomplish much or little in the world, it shall be original—your own. Do not be afraid to assert yourself in an original way. Originality is power, life; imitation is death. Do not be afraid to let yourself out. You grow by being original, never by copying; by leading, never by following. Resolve that you will be a man of ideas, always on the lookout for improvement. Think to some purpose. There is always a place for an original man.

There is nothing else which will kill the creative faculty and paralyze growth more quickly than following precedents in everything and doing everything in the same old way. I have known progressive young men to stop growing, become hopelessly rutty and lose all their progressiveness by going into their fathers' stores, factories or places of business, where everything was done in the same old fashioned way and precedents were followed in everything. They lost all expansiveness. There was no motive for reaching out for the new and the original, because their fathers would not change, and I have seen these splendid fellows, who might have become great and grand men, shrivel to pygmies in their fathers' ruts.

How many of our business houses are weighted down with machinery, old, antiquated methods, ponderous bookkeeping and out of date appliances when new devices or new methods, with short cut ways of doing things, would enable them to economize greatly on room and get along with much less help! But they cling to the old with a fatal tenacity.

This is why so many old concerns which have been strong and powerful for generations gradually shrink, shrivel, get into ruts and fail, while their newer competitors, the bright young men who have gone out from these houses, do things in a new way, adopt up to date methods, keep up with the times and go on to greater success.—Success.

A Misapplied Word.

Everybody who has had experience in carving knows that not only are sharper knives required, but also probably more skill and practice, to carve a duck than any other fowl. Admiral Dewey was a guest at a dinner table where his host had that serious task to perform. As the admiral watched the almost desperate endeavors of the carver to disintegrate the bird he smiled mildly. His host happened to notice it and felt a bit piqued, as he was not in the best of temper anyway.

"You appear to be amused at my awkwardness, admiral," said he.

"Not at all, sir; not at all," was the reply. "I was only thinking why the term duck was used as a word of endearment and goose one of reproach."

His Excuse.

A milkman in a country town was brought before the local court to answer a charge of adulteration of milk. "You are charged," said the judge, "with a most serious offense, of selling adulterated milk. Have you anything to say in answer to the charge?"

"Well, your honor," replied the milkman, "the night before it was raining very hard, and the only cause I can give is the cow must have got wet through."
