SUICIDE OR MURDER.

An unsolved mystery surrounds the death of J. C. Gorham, which occurred Sunday night. The question is was it a case of suicide or was it murder? That question may never be solved, but there are some who will never believe it was a case of suicide.

The facts as we have them from the corner and other sources are that on Sunday evening about nightfall his mother called him and informed him supper was ready, he answered from out about the gate that he would soon be in. He did not come. Next morning his younger brother started out in search of him, he met a negro boy who informed him his brother's clothes were on a fence which was around a well at a log camp some distance away in the woods. This was found to be true. Dr. Joshua Tayloe, the coroner, was sent for. He went to the scene, which is in direction of Williamston from here, and about nine miles. A jury was summoned and the body taken from the well and viewed. The well was only a hole dug in the ground about eight or ten feet deep and water within two feet of the top of the ground; the body was standing up with head and shoulders bent forward. The head in this condition was within a foot of the surface. Poles had in time been thrown in the old well and with small effort he might have rescued himself, if able to make an effort. The jury returned a verdict that he came to death by causes unknown to them.

He was in perfect health, the best of spirits and nothing unusual observed about him.

As far as known he had had no recent trouble with anyone, some time ago he had trouble with some parties under the charge of having ruined a girl under promise of marriage. It is said that on one occasion some one burned some stacks of hay and fodder for him.

Some think there was foul play and that he was unconscious when put in the well as there was no evidence that he had moved. No signs of scuffle could be found at or near the well. We are of the opinion that a post mortem examination ought to be held in order to establish the cause of his death if possible. This would be best as it would relieve suspicion in case no evidence of foul play could be found as there was none to be found from an external examination.—Washington Progress.

Work For Your Route.

People living along the rural free delivery routes should take interest in having their routes continued. Just now the government is having a count made of the pieces of mail handled on each route with a view of cutting down or discontinuing routes that fall below a certain number. The carriers of the routes are not permitted to solicit business for the routes, but the patrons of such routes can do so, and there is no better way to help than in getting their neighbors to subscribe for newspapers. Every subscriber for The Daily Reflector means 26 pieces of mail a month.

A BOON TO FARMERS.

Weather Reports to be Furnished by Telephone.

General Manager F. C. Toepelman, of the Home Telephone & Telegraph Company, advises The Reflector that his company has arranged with the United States Bureau of Agriculture to furnish the weather forecasts each morning. These forecasts are to be transmitted over the entire system of the telephone company for the benefit of its patrons and the public. Display cards giving this service will be at all exchanges and toll points, and subscribers can also get the forecasts by calling "central." By this means isolated districts and rural communities can get the forecasts, and the benefit to farmers and truckers cannot be overestimated. This step is in keeping with the progressive spirit of the telephone company. The service will begin about the 16th.

FARMVILLE ITEMS.

Farmville, N. C., Apr. 6, 1906.

W. C. Askew has been quite sick for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Smith spent Thursday in Greenville.

W. E. Mewborn, of Kinston, is in town.

Mrs. John L. Budgers and Mrs. Donnel Williams, of Tarboro, arrived on the new pullman on the E. C. railroad today. They were the guests of Mrs. J. Stanley Smith while in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Lang were made happy by the arrival of their fourth son a few days ago, and Mr. and Mrs. Puryear by the arrival of a daughter.

Miss Rouse is making preparations for her art exhibit to be given April 18th, in Turnage opera house. Don't miss seeing the beautiful work of her talented young ladies, and enjoying the afternoon with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Bolds have purchased a lot on upper Wilson street and will begin the erection of a residence soon.

Our town gas lights are working beautifully. During the moonlight nights now we don't need them.

A street hand is very much needed to open up some of the crossways before spring and give some of our back lots a good liming before its too late. Cleanliness is very essential to good health and this we haven't got at present.

The skating fever is striking our town but they haven't taken it on in full yet. The Carolina House is a fine place to enjoy a skate (or fall.)

Mr. Joe Parker, Sr., has been quite ill for the past few days, but am glad to learn that he is better.

Farmers are making dust fly these sunny days and gardens are beginning to look green.

Skating Flower Carnival.

At the skating rink in Center Brick warehouse on Thursday night two prizes will be given to the skater making the best representation of a flower. Also a race between the boys at 10 o'clock. Admission to spectators 10 cents, skaters usual rates.

SAW MILL BURNED.

Large Plant of R. R. Fleming Destroyed.

Maupin, N. C. April 9.—The large mill plant of Mr. R. R. Fleming, located here, together with between one and two million feet of lumber, was burned Sunday evening. The fire was discovered about 5:30 o'clock and in a few minutes the entire plant was a mass of flames.

A large number of people quickly arrived on the scene with buckets and worked faithfully to save nearby buildings, it being impossible to save the mill. The origin of the fire is unknown. The mill closed down Friday and the fire in the boilers all secured.

The loss is fully $10,000 with no insurance. Mr. Fleming is not at home, having gone to Sanford on business.

TOWN BUILDERS.

An exchange asks who are town builders, and says some of them are found in the following classes:

1. Those citizens who support and maintain home institutions and invest their capital in home enterprises.

2. Those citizens who are always ready and willing to aid in any and all undertakings for the betterment of their town.

3. Those citizens who are ever ready to lend their influence and capital to induce good people to locate in the town.

4. Those citizens who are not always standing around criticising the efforts of those who are doing something for their town.

5. Those citizens who spend their money with their home merchants, instead of sending it away to build up the merchants of the big cities.

6. Those merchants and business men who in return reciprocate by joining in heartily and patronizing their home newspaper.

There are many others who could be classed as town builders, but the above are among the most important. No business or professional man, can consistently expect the support of the "home people" unless they in return give those same "home people" their support. And this applies to the printer, as well as all other enterprises of their town.

HAD ELEVEN GIVEN NAMES.

Staunton Va. Man Carried Heavy Load.

The funeral over the remains of Mr. George K. Y. E. G. M. P. W. S. J. D. Heifner, a young bricklayer of this city, who died Thursday, was held yeste day afternoon from his residence in Plunkettsville, conducted by Rev. A. D. R. Rancher. The interment was in Thornrose cemetery.

With the exception of his brother, Mr. Heifner had probably the longest name of any one in this section, his full name being George Kemper Young Eugenius Gray Mathew Pilson Wilson Shields Jefferson Davis Heifner. It is said he has a brother whose name is still longer.—Staunton Dispatch.

SUIT AGAINST COMMISSIONERS.

The Raleigh Times says that a report comes from New Bern that citizens of Craven county will bring suit against members of the board of county commissioners for spending $1,800 of the peoples money in trying to annul the lease of the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad. The suit will be, it is said, against Mr. C. E. Foy, chairman of the board, who was behind the Hill suit and influenced the county commissioners to pay three lawyers $500 each and one $300 out of the county funds to break up the lease made by the State. The report states that suit will be brought to have the county reimbursed by the chairman of the board for it will be contended that there was no legal authority for making the appropriation.

Coming Attraction.

In presenting "A Trip to India," the management of the Herald Square Opera Company believes that after nine years catering to the wants of the amusement loving people (especially of the Southern States) it has at last succeeded in producing a rare combination in the way of a musical comedy. "A Trip to India" has made good in eighteen States and over 230 cities since the company left New York last April and in many instances has been obliged to cancel its future bookings in order to play return engagements where they were demanded. The piece is a unique mixture of pretty girls, bright-catchy—whistleable tunes, tasty costumes and brim full of clean wholesome fun and never fails to please not only the music seeker but the ones who desire a good hearty laugh. The company will appear here on Friday night.

Inspiring Sermon.

Another large congregation in the Memorial Baptist church was delighted Sunday morning with an excellent sermon by Dr. J. D. Huffham. The grand old man preaches the Gospel with vigor and earnestness and he talks of Christ's love with such pathos as causes his hearers to listen gladly. He has promised to visit Greenville again before summer ends.

Advice From the Conductor.

A Buffalo woman accepted from a street car conductor a Mexican half dollar in change. It looks as if it ought to buy as much as an American fifty cent piece, but its actual purchasing power is little more than 20 cents. The young woman made a point of getting it back into the coffers of the street car company. She tendered it to the conductor of the next car she entered. He looked it over and declined it. "But I got it from one of your conductors this morning," the woman protested. "Madam," said the conductor, without a sign of levity, "you must be more careful what you take from those conductors."

It Stops the Crying.

To keep babies from crying an ingenious device is resorted to in India. The moment a child begins to cry the mother places her hand over its mouth and nips its nose so that it cannot breathe. Then it is allowed to breathe freely again, but should it make use of the opportunity to again set up a howl it is at once suppressed in the same way. This is repeated till the baby imagines that the painful stoppage of the breath is caused by its own effort to scream and so is careful to keep quiet.

All Appropriate.

"What is your profession, sir?"
"I am an architect, doctor."
"I see. Your system wants building up. And yours, sir?"
"I am an author."
"Then you need a composing draft. And you, sir?"
"I am an electrician."
"H'm! Your system requires a shock. Here's my bill."—Baltimore American.

An Obnoxious Word.

Wife (writing a letter)—How do you spell "ostentation?"
Husband—I won't tell you. Why can't you stop knocking other people?—Philadelphia Ledger.

Dignified Contempt.

"When the fellow wanted to fight I treated him with scorn."
"Oh, I haven't a doubt you turned your back on such a proposal."—Baltimore American.

WHISTLING SOLDIERS.

An incident occurred in London recently which would have shocked the military officer of a century ago. A battalion of the Irish guards, led by two mounted officers, was marching along Oxford street to the merry accompaniment of a fife and drum band. Suddenly, with a flourish of drumsticks, the music ceased, and for a little time the soldiers tramped along with a solemn and steady tread. A boy came up a side street whistling the song of the moment, "My Irish Molly, O." A soldier in a fit of abstraction joined in. The refrain was immediately taken up by the others, and it flew to the front and rear ranks, until presently the whole battalion marched to its own whistling accompaniment.—London Mail.

Don't Rush.

The best work of the world is not done by those who hurry. The Japanese does all things well because he always has wrought with the idea of doing the work in hand perfectly rather than with the idea of getting it done by a particular moment.

"Melican man work eight hour" (and is worn out). "China boy work daylight, dark. He no care," because he never bustles. If you watch his deliberate strokes in sawing and splitting wood you laugh and say he is "soldiering." But if you watch long enough you observe that he keeps at it steadily, accomplishing as much as anybody, wasting neither muscular nor nervous force, and ending the day with his potentiality seemingly unimpaired.—Chicago News.

Takes the Whole Road.

"Broughams are now very noticeable in Peking, occupied principally by Chinese officials and often their wives and children," says the Peking and Tientsin Times. "They not only run on the broad macadamized roads, but up the narrow side streets to their houses. Of course to meet a cart is fatal, to the cart at least if heavily laden, which has to turn the best way it can, go back to some crossroad and allow the brougham to pass. In this instance there is no left or right of the road, but the whole road. The police are conspicuous by their absence in such places."

Rest.

In this toiling, struggling world rest of some sort is the goal of every ambition—rest as the reward of labor, rest in the leisure of competence, rest in the fruition of earthly plans, rest in the acquisition of knowledge; rest in the gaiety and revelry of pleasure and social happiness, rest in the evening tide of life. It is indeed the old, old story of human experience, but how seldom is the fond hope realized! Very gratefully should we accept the blessings and joys that come to us. They are indeed many and precious, bright and beautiful often as the unclouded morning, but unseen storms lie back of yonder heights, and if they pass over us with no lightning stroke the evening will come at last and the earthly fade from sight. There is only One that can both promise and give rest.—Woman's Life.

Bore Out the Legend.

Lake Chrissie is a small body of water in the eastern Transvaal, in connection with which there is an interesting legend. The Boers held the belief that not until the lake in question became dry would they lose their independence. For the first time within human memory the lake, one of the very few fresh water lakes in South Africa, was perfectly dry during the later stages of the war. After the declaration of peace the lake resumed its normal appearance, though the water was shallower than before. Twice since then—in 1904 and 1905—the bed of the lake has been quite dry.

MONDAY APRIL 9th, 1906.

The convention coming the day before, Greensboro will have a crowd there to help celebrate the 4th of July.

The Merchants' Association would be of more benefit to itself and the community if it would wake up and go after things.

The Cabarrus county man who rolled up $35 in bills and lighted a cigar with them was a case of fool and his money parting.

The Durham Herald said recently that there was nothing particularly that city wanted. As suits aggregating $50,000 in damage claims for defective sewerage have just been instituted against the city, we suppose it is getting something it did not want.

Greenville is gradually waking up to her needs, and the organization of a building and loan association which is set for tonight will be one of the best steps the town has ever taken. Every one interested should attend the meeting in the mayor's office and take part in the organization.

Mount Vesuvius is in a very ugly mood again and is belching out such volumes of lava as to bring devastation upon the adjacent towns. We are unable to understand the fascination that leads people to build their homes in the path of such danger when there are plenty of safe places at which they could locate.

The Statesville Landmark speaks of a 15,000 pound tobacco break as being the largest of the season. That much tobacco would hardly be enough to warm the buyers and get them started down this way. Sometime in the height of the season breaks on the Greenville market have gone as high as 250,000 pounds. Those up-country people ought to come down East and see a tobacco sale.

At the organization of the building and loan association tonight, the best business men of the town should be selected to manage the affairs of the association. This will inspire confidence at the outset and cause the association to carry out its purpose of being a factor in Greenville's development and provide a means of securing homes on easy payments. There are already a large number of shares subscribed for, and many others are waiting to see who are to be the officers. The success of the association will depend largely on those who manage it, and the best selections should be made for this.

Hon. W. W. Kitchin made a speech in Congress Friday that was a blow to the mail subsidy. Mr. Kitchin declared that this subsidy is purely a gift to the railroads, and in this he is entirely right. We fail to see wherein the government is justified in paying a rate several times higher for hauling mail on trains than is charged for hauling express and other matter on the very same trains. But this subsidy is one of the penalties the people pay for allowing the corporations to control our legislative bodies.

The moon has not visited the dispensary, but it is full.

During the next few weeks the trees will show something in the way of rapid development. Their foliage must be grown by the 10th of May.

WHAT GRANDMA USED TO SAY.

If before your door a rooster crows,
Whether it rains or whether it snows,
Somebody's coming that very day—
That is what grandmother used to say.
"Shad-scale" and "mare-tail" clouds in the sky,
When the weather has been a long time dry,
Sure sign of rain the very next day—
That is what grandmother used to say,
If ever the salt you chance to spill,
Just guard your temper with a will;
You're in for a fight ere close of day—
That is what grandmother used to say.
If you, while reposing in your bed,
Should by any chance dream of the dead
You'll get a letter from far away—
That is what grandmother used to say.
If you drop the dishrag on the floor,
Pull down the blinds and bolt the door;
An untidy person calls that day—
That is what grandmother used to say.
If in the sky, while rain falls,
There's a blue enough to make overalls,
That's a sign you can soon go out to play—
That is what grandmother used to say.
—Fatherine March Chase.

GOOD ROADS.

The opposition to the construction of macadamized roads usually comes from a feeling of conservatism about taxes. Taxe are generally heavy enough, and it is no wonder that people have a feeling of opposition to anything that means higher taxes. In the case of good roads, however, the high tax lies in not having good roads. There is more money spent in a year, in the shape of wear and tear on live stock, wear and tear on vehicles and harness, than any tax could be which is necessary to procure a good road. Aside from the fact that there is already greater actual loss in a year than the tax money for good roads would amount to, with bad roads the business is handicapped and people fail to make money which would be far in excess of what might be necessary to pay the taxes on good roads. In other words, bad roads entail a double tax. One is the damage to vehicles, harness, live stock, and the other is a loss of business because of the inability to get from place to place.—Charlotte Observer.

NEXT TOBACCO CROP.

Indications are that there will be as much tobacco planted in the old belts as labor conditions will permit. At any rate the average crop will no doubt be planted. There is danger of over production, taking the entire tobacco growing sections into consideration. There will be a curtailment of acreage in Eastern North Carolina as well as in South Carolina. With favorable seasons the next crop in North Carolina will run from one hundred to one hundred and twenty million pounds.—Southern Tobacco Journal.

WHAT IS BROMONIA? (BROMOZONE)

Bromonia is a product as near capable of curing the majority of diseases as it is possible for Modern Science to produce. The use of Bromonia makes pure blood. Bromonia is not a miracle but simply the result of the scientific investigation of the greatest chemists of the present century. At the first symptoms of fatigue headache or backache, which are often the forerunners of disease, send for your physician if you will, but, if you take Bromonia, you may find that by the time he has answered your call, that the symptoms have disappeared.

Use Bromonia as directed. Live a temperate life. If you become ill while so doing, we will pay any reasonable doctor's bill on demand and proof of illness. We don't want you to invest a cent, however, until we have bought the first bottle for you. Fill in the coupon under this advertisement and mail it to us, taking care to write your name and address plainly, and we will send you without any cost to you whatever a full size package to try. No matter what your trouble is, write to us. Correspondence confidential. Address Bromonia Co., New York.

J. L. Wooten will give his personal guarantee that you will receive an order on your nearest druggist for a free bottle if you send us coupon. Be sure to write your name and address plainly.

Above will be seen the program for the next teachers' meeting. We want every teacher in the county present at this meeting. Your presence will show your interest in the work and that you have not been attending just simply to draw your salary. A large number of your schools will have closed before the meeting. This should not keep you away. Your opportunity to come will be better, your obligation greater. I shall be disappointed if the meeting is not largely attended. There are some things I wish to say to all of you and I hope to do so this day. I will make this proposition to you. Every teacher who will attend the next meeting will be excused from any further attendance until next fall. Those who do not attend, unless satisfactory excuse is rendered, will be notified to attend a special meeting held for them and for them alone in May. Teachers, show your interest in the work and progress of the county by being here promptly on Saturday, April 14th. W. H. RAGSDALE,

"Thanks, ever so much," responded the woman in the red shawl.

"Yes, I consider it far superior to the brands of soap they sell today. Just try it on your children's ears. It is just grand for scrubbing soiled ears and"—

But the woman in the red shawl was looking daggers.

"What!" she exploded. "Do you mean to insinuate that my children have soiled ears? Do you?"

"I—er—that is"—

"Oh, it is no use trying to apologize. You are always insulting people. Keep your old soap!"—Chicago News.
