EDUCATION.

Every Child Has the Right to Receive Mental Training.

Our State in the last five years has made rapid strides in educating both the brains and hands of our youth, and every boy or girl in the State with pluck and energy can get all the knowledge and energy needed to make them useful citizens.

Much, however, still remains to be done, and we should double our energies in order that all classes and races be educated in the manner best suited to fitly prepare them for that station in life in which God has placed them. I feel much like saying in unqualified language, that the time is ripe for compulsory education, making children between certain ages go to school, whether they or their parents desire it or not; for a parent has no more right to dwarf his child's mind than his body, and every child should have the right to get the knowledge that might make a giant, instead of uneducated, being left an ignorant pigmy.

I most heartily endorse Superintendent Joyner's language when in his report, among many other valuable things, he says: "The tendency of illiteracy is to perpetuate itself. The majority of illiterate children are the children of illiterates, and perhaps the descendants of generations of illiterates; and the intervention of the strong arm of the law is the only effective means of saving the children of illiteracy from the curse of illiteracy." Again, he says: "The taxpayer has a right to demand the intervention of the State, that compels him to pay taxes for the support of schools, to secure him the protection that he pays for, against the ignorance of the child. If the State has a right to punish crime and vice, so often resulting from ignorance, it ought to have the right to take the necessary steps to remove the cause."

In my inaugural address I said: "Illiteracy, twin sister to vice, is one of the greatest of curses, and in itself is often the source of evil, while education is power, and shows itself in developing our industries as well as expanding our minds and elevating our morals." Thirty-five of the forty-seven States have resorted to compulsory education; and these States contain the richest and most progressive people in the world. If, therefore, you are not ready for a drastic compulsory law, you can at least try and stimulate parents to send their children to school, by having these schools as attractive and well equipped as possible, remembering that knowledge is power, power is wealth, and wealth builds up the State. Let us teach our children, not to judge people by the clothes they wear, or the occupations they follow, but by the higher ideal of respecting men and women for their industry, acquirements, and character—the interior instead of the exterior.

The present superintendent, with no disrespect to others is, in my opinion, the ablest and most efficient the State has ever had. He has made valuable suggestions to you, which I urge you to carefully consider. To better instruct teachers themselves, he desires more institutes and summer schools. He urges that you continue the special appropriation of $200,000 for insuring a four months school in every county. He suggests the enactment of a mild conservative compulsory attendance law, requiring all children between eight and twelve to attend the public school or some private school, for four months in the year—said law to be put into effect in a county upon petitions made in compliance with his suggestions; or if you deem best (and this is, in my judgment, wisest and most democratic), to submit it to the qualified voters of the territory petitioning for compulsory education. He also recommends that you enact a law declaring schools a necessary expense and authorizing the commissioners of a county levy, a special tax on all property and polls, not exceeding ten cents on the hundred dollars worth of property, and thirty cents on the poll, for the improvement and support of the public schools, and requiring the commissioners of every county receiving aid from the special appropriation for four months' school, to levy a tax on all property and polls sufficient to raise an amount equal at least to the amount received from the special State appropriation.

Again, I repeat: I approve all of the above splendid suggestions of the superintendent, and hope you will carry them into effect.

As to his recommendation that one hundred thousand dollars be appropriated for the establishment of high schools, etc., while I will not oppose, still I cannot endorse, for to me it is doubtful whether the time has yet arrived for putting this plan into execution, for if we have an extra amount to spare in encouraging education, would it not be better to use it in still further lengthening the terms and in getting more efficient teachers and equipment for the district schools, where the masses can be reached, rather than in establishing a high school in a township, often remote from the children, thus debarring them from attending? Who could not board, or afford conveyances? To me, at this time in our educational growth, every cent available should be spent in reaching the illiterate masses; and later, when the district school is made more efficient, then we can establish others. I submit all these matters to your judgment.—Extract from Gov. Glenn's Message.

BOY KILLS HIMSELF.

Bethel, N. C., Jan. 17.—At the colored school in Bethel this morning a negro boy named Gus Rogers, about 17 years of age asked the teacher to let him go out for a while. Soon after he had been excused there was a pistol shot and sending out to see what had happened the boy was found lying on the ground dead with the pistol by his side.

The boy was a little near sighted and it is thought that he was pranking with the pistol and it discharged, killing him instantly. There is no doubt but that it was an accident.

Your Part in the Town.

Never forget you are a part of the town, and that your own department helps to make up the stragglers' estimate of the place. Sell all you can and buy all you can at home. Every dollar that is sent or carried away makes the town that much poorer. If you have the means invest in something that will give somebody employment. Do not kick at a proposed improvement simply because it is not at your door.—Franklin Progress.

BETHEL ITEMS.

Bethel N. C., Jan. 16th.

Bethel graded school reopened on Monday the 7th with a full attendance. Today is the first day of the second session of 1906-1907. The enrollment is probably the largest in the history of the school. The average attendance, all things considered, is very fair, above the mark for schools where a large part of the pupils live some distance from the school. The work for the past term in all the grades was quite satisfactory. The graduates for 1907 number five and will be prepared for entrance to the freshman class of our State University.

The Athenian Literary society of the graded school at its meeting on Friday, Jan. 11th, elected the following officers: President, Thos. B. Bryan; Vice-president, Marvin O. Blount; Secretary, Miss Addie Rollins; Treasurer, Miss Estelle Williams; Critic, Miss Ruth Whitehurst; Chaplain, Willis Jones; Librarian, Miss Alice James.

Mr. Will A. House, a progressive young farmer of this vicinity was married at 4 o'clock in the afternoon of Wednesday last to Miss Laura Manning, the charming young daughter of Mr. John Manning, at the home of the bride's parents near Bethel.

V. E. Staton, of Rocky Mount, has purchased an interest in the business of Staton & Taylor, and has returned there to live. Bethel knows of no New Year's gift it could appreciate more than Vann, and we are glad he has come back to us and hope he's here to stay. Here's wishing him every happiness and the luck of Bethel's fairest dames. So that having given "hostage to fortune" he may anchor here for life.

T. R. Andrews and Durward Ward went to Richmond last week to enter a business college.

Miss Lizzie Wainwright visited friends in Tarboro last week.

Coming Next Week.

This is Important.

Subscribers to a newspaper who want their address changed from one postoffice to another, should give the old address as well as the new one when writing about it.

THE LEGISLATURE.

What the Law Makers are Doing.

By a vote of 79 to 34 the House of Representatives Wednesday passed the anti-lobbying bill, which requires all persons interested in promoting or opposing legislation for a compensation to register their names in a book to be kept open for public inspection in the office of the secretary of State, together with the name of the corporation or firm employing the agent.

Speaker Justice introduced an important bill to enlarge the powers of the attorney general so as to destroy trusts, and to put solicitors of the State on salaries, and to require them to act as assistants to the attorney general. Mr. Justice believes the salary of the solicitor should be $2,500 per annum.

In the senate is pending a substitute bill fixing the compensation of the State solicitors at $2,100, annually, and relieving them of the fees which they now receive. This substitute was reported favorably by the committee on salaries and fees.

There were two prolonged debates in the senate on the bill of Mr. Graham to provide for the assessment and taxation of shares of stocks in banks, which had been reported favorably by the committee, and the bill of Mr. Polk requiring the sheriff to provide a list of persons who have not paid their poll tax, creating a county black list, this bill also bearing a favorable report.

Several interesting bills affecting the interests of railroads, insurance and telephone companies were introduced in the senate.

In the house Representative Hershaw submitted a bill to protect citizens at public gatherings, by providing that any person wearing a hat or headgear of greater dimensions than 36 inches in width and 18 inches in height, at public assemblies, shall be deprived of the privilege of wearing pate coverings for 30 days and be deemed deserving of the censure of the public.

Representative Laughinghouse's bill to permit prisoners awaiting trial to work on the roads, when they request it, was tabled on a motion of Representative Justice. There was a long debate on the bill.

In both the senate and house several bills and petitions of minor importance were introduced.

Big Fire at Statesville.

Statesville, N. C., Jan. 16.—One of the most costly fires in the history of Statesville occurred early this morning when the large plant of the Statesville Flour Mills was all but destroyed and other companies suffered losses. The flour mills loss is $75,000 with $58,000 insurance. The other losses are the Gaither Lumber Company and the Southern Railway. The lumber company lost from $500 to $600, no insurance, and the railroad lost a number of cars.

THURSDAY JANUARY 17

Senator Tillman would have done well to have kept out of it.

The president has sent in another message about the Brownsville affair, and he scored.

The Raleigh News and Observer tried over again and got a much better picture of Representative Winborne.

The new governor of South Carolina, Mr. Ansel, is against the State dispensary and says it must go. He wants each county to solve the liquor question for itself.

Two serious railroad wrecks, both of through passenger trains, have occurred in the State this week, one near Benson on the Atlantic Coast Line and one near Raleigh on the Seaboard Air Line.

It is not at all comforting in these stringent financial times that the Odell mills at Concord, comprising six large plants, have gone into the hands of a receiver because they could not meet obligations.

Speaker Cannon seems to wear a knife up his sleeve for North Carolina, and uses it whenever he has opportunity. He has recently turned down both Congressmen Small and Webb, of this State, who had the highest endorsement for appointments. The old man must be in his dotage.

The legislative caucus Tuesday night renominated Hon F. M. Simmons to succeed himself in the United States Senate. There was but one other name than his presented to the caucus, that of Chief Justice Walter Clark who was presented in a graceful speech by Representative Lockhart, of Anson county. In the ballot four votes were cast for Judge Clark, all the others being for Mr. Simmons.

Governor Glenn has issued a proclamation calling attention to the 19th of January, which is a legal holiday and the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of Gen. Robert E. Lee, and requests that the day be fittingly observed throughout the State. He also asks Confederate veterans and Confederate societies to hold appropriate ceremonies commemorating the life and deeds of General Lee.

NEGRO CONVICT ESCAPES.
The following notice of the escape of a convict has been issued by the State's prison authorities: "Elijah Shilby, a black negro about twenty-six years old, 5 feet 7 1/2 inches high, weighing 182 pounds (when received here) little finger of left hand off at first joint, sentenced April 3rd, 1899, from Pitt county for a term of ten years for burglary, escaped from the State farm on the 13th instant.
"or his arrest we will pay a reward of $10.00 and necessary expenses"—News and Observer.

Desireable Building Lots. are hard to find in Greenville, although Sam White has a few left he will sell at reasonable prices and terms. After these are gone there will be none left to buy anywhere near the center of town. Those wishing to build had better look into the matter at once.

Notice.
Notice is hereby given that application will be made to the present General Assembly of North Carolina to pass a bill submitting to a vote of the people of Greenville a proposition to issue $50,000 bonds to complete the sewerage system of said town and for street improvement.

It's a pleasure to tell our readers about a Cough Cure like Dr. Shoop's. For years Dr. Shoop has fought against the use of opium, chloroform or other unsafe ingredients commonly found in cough remedies. Dr. Shoop, it seems has welcomed the Pure Food Drug Law recently enacted, for he has worked along similar lines for many years. For nearly 20 years Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure containers have had a warning printed on them against opium and other narcotic poisons. He has thus made it possible for mothers to protect their children by simply insisting on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Sold by Bryan's Drug Store.

caused by indigestion. If you eat a too much, or if you are subject to indigestion, you have no doubt shortness of breath, rapid heart beats, return or palpitation of the heart. Indigestion causes the stomach to expand—swell, and puff up against the heart. This crowds the heart and interferes with its action, and in the course of time the heart becomes diseased.

PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause in congestion, pain is blood pressure—nothing is usually. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and to cure it he has created a little pink tablet. That tablet—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets—takes blood pressure away from pain centers, reflects charming, pleasantly delightful. Gently enough safely, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.

If you have a headache, it's blood pressure. If it's painful periods with women, same cause. If you are sleepless, restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is a remedy, for Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets stop in 30 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute a natural blood pressure.

Bruse your finger, and doesn't it get red, and well, and pain you? Of course it does. It's congestion, blood pressure. You'll find it where pain always. It's simply Common Sense.

We sell at 25 cents, and cheerfully recommend

Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets

HIS GREAT SERVICE.

An illustration of the Generosity of the Elder Dumas.

Dumas pere when manager of the Theatre Historique was continually studying the influence of the temperature on the sale of tickets—at least, he seemed to do so. In fact, this seeming interest in the showing of the thermometer was, like so many other acts of his, nothing but an expression of the proverbial kindness of his heart.

One day Dumas happened to meet an old friend whom he had not seen for thirty years. "Where are you going to dine tonight?" he asked the friend.

"Tonight I shall dine nowhere," was the answer.

"Oh, no," said Dumas; "you are mistaken. You will dine with me." He led the friend into his house and gave him the upper place at his table. The poor man had not had such a dinner for a long time, and Dumas when retiring into his writing room after the coffee said, "It is a matter of course that I expect you tomorrow at the same time."

The friend came the next day, and the day after this, and so on for ten years up to his death. One day, however, he told Dumas that as he was eating bread he did not earn this arrangement could not continue. "If I am not able honestly to earn my meals I shall not come again. Tell me in what way I can be of service to you."

Dumas thought a moment; then he said: "You can do me a great favor. You may go to the new bridge every day and take the temperature by Chevallier's thermometer. The temperature, you must know, is of great moment in the matter of the sale of tickets. Could you do this?"

The poor fellow answered affirmatively and from that time on reported to Dumas every day, "At noon the thermometer showed so and so many degrees in the shade." And Dumas, who of course did not care in the least about the temperature, replied with the same regularity: "I am very much obliged. If you only knew what a service you are doing me!"—Harper's Weekly.

THE GOLDEN RULE OF THREE

Three things to be—pure, just and honest.

Three things to live—courage, affection and gentleness.

Three things to govern—temper, tongue and conduct.

Three things for which to fight—honor, home and country.

Three things to cherish—the true, the beautiful and the good.

Three things about which to think—life, death and eternity.

Three things to commend—thrift, industry and promptness.

Three things to despise—cruelty, arrogance and ingratitude.

Three things to love—the wise, the virtuous and the innocent.

Three things for which to wish—health, friends and contentment.

Three things to admire—dignity, gracefulness and intellectual power.

Three things to attain—goodness of heart, integrity of purpose and cheerfulness of disposition.—Leadership.

Pugnacity of Rats.

A glove manufacturer took from a cabinet a handsome pair of brown gloves. "These gloves are made of ratskin," he said. "They look well at first glance, but examine them carefully. Look into the skin. The skin, though soft and fine, revealed on close examination a great many cuts and scars and scratches. None of these went quite through. Nevertheless their effect was to weaken the gloves greatly. 'Those cuts and scars,' said the manufacturer, 'are what bar ratskin out of glove-making. You never get a skin without them; hence you can't turn the damaged skin into a glove. Rats fight so much that they become at an early age a mass of scars. Their torn hides are of no use to commerce.'"

London's First Balloon Ascent.

When Lunardi made the first balloon ascent from London in 1784 he had for fellow passengers a cat, a dog and a pigeon. Such was the excitement caused by this ascent that a jury, deliberating on the fate of a criminal, returned a hasty verdict of acquittal in order not to miss the spectacle, while King George III. broke up a meeting of his council to watch the progress of the balloon. It was in the following year, 1785, that an adventurous Dublin undergraduate, Mr. Maguire, made a balloon ascent and was actually knighted by the lord lieutenant for his courage.

Don't Be a Sensitive Plant.

The sensitive plant is found in the church. The pastor has a difficult time keeping him in humor to do church work. The sensitive plant is found in political circles. The candidates must handle him with gloves. The sensitive plant is found in all avenues of human activity. Most generally he is a nuisance. Don't be one.—Columbia Herald.

An Awful Realization.

First Tramp (shuddering with terror and clasping his companion's arm)—Say, Ike, look at wot that there sign says, I wisht ye would! Second Tramp—Wot sign, Aleck? First Tramp—W'y, that there sign on de big brick buildin'. It says "Iron works." Ike, an' we've got iron in our blood! I wonder is it workin' now.—Chicago News.

A Craven's Haven.

Mrs. Hicks (relating burglar scare)—Yes, I heard a noise and got up, and there under the bed I saw a man's legs. Mrs. Wicks—Mercy! The burglar's? "No; my husband's. He had heard the noise too."—Boston Transcript.
