Baptist Church Sunday Night. Rev. J. B. Cooke, of Manchester, Va., will preach in the Baptist church next Sunday night. Mr. Cooke is said to be a very fine preacher and our people are fortunate in having this opportunity to hear him. The church cordially invite the public generally to be present Sunday night. Christened the Door. Thursday Mr. S. M. Schultz placed a new steel door over the sidewalk entrance to the cellar under his store. A man fresh from the dispensary passed along that way and christened the new door by dropping and breaking his bottle on it.	News Notes From a Hustling Town Briefly Told. Ayden, N. C., Dec. 11 1908. If Pitt county has $10,000 to her credit in the treasury, wouldn't the people appreciate the fact if there were a slight reduction in taxation? Where there is such enormous overplus certainly there can be no reason for an additional increase two years hence. Those who have not paid their State and county taxes can do so by calling on Stancill Hodges at the bank. He represents the sheriff in this particular at this point. Large preparations are being made by our merchants for Christmas. Goods in quantities are here and still coming in. They all seem to anticipate big sales. W. J. Hemby, who has serving as constable of Contentnea township for the past three years, has retired and Burwell Skinner has assumed control and will conduct the duties of same during the next two years. Sunday evening at the home of Mr. Bronson Tripp in Ayden, Mr. Raymond Johnson and Miss Venie Harris were united in marriage, Elder E. T. Phillips performed the ceremony. The members of the Disciple church so were informed have secured the service of Rev. Mosley C. Morton as pastor for the next year. Mr. and Mrs. Davenport, of Rocky Mount, came Wednesday evening to visit the family of W. H. Harris. Mrs. R. W. Smith spent a short while in Winterville Wednesday. There is a great demand for houses in Ayden. We can't imagine why some of our money men don't build a number as we are sure they would have no trouble in finding ready occupants. Mrs. Barron Forrest, of Vanceboro, is here on a visit to her daughter, Mrs. Bob Williams. There are one or two nice houses in course of erection on West Railroad and Lee streets which, when completed, will add very much to those sections of the town. If tobacco still continues to come in surely Ayden will reach the two million pound notch. Watch us spread. Miss Majorie Meredith has gone up in the Shenandoah Valley, Va., to visit her parents for a short while. We regret very much to learn that Mr. C. A. Fair and his excellent family anticipate after of January leaving Ayden and going to Pennsylvania where they will reside. These extremely pleasant people have been living in Ayden for the past six years and have become thoroughly identified with Ayden people and Ayden surroundings. Our people are greatly attached to them and it will be with reluctance that they part with them. Wherever they may go it may be with assurance there is not one in Ayden but who wishes for them pleasant homes and happy lives, and those among whom they may cast their lot will have cause to congratulate themselves that such an excellent family are sojourners in their midst. J. T. Keel has sold his stock of light and fancy groceries to G. C. Moore and brother who continue the business in the same store formerly occupied by Mr. Keel. Christmas just two weeks from today.	Tells Why His Mule Died After Reaching Town. Mr. B. P. Cobb, of Beaver Dam, the man whose sick mule came to town the other day looking for a doctor, dropped in to tell The Reflector that its version of the incident was not entirely correct. "It was this way," said Mr. Cobb, "The mule was taken sick early in the morning after being harnessed for work. Seeing its condition I slipped the harness off and said to the mule—he was an educated animal, you know—'go straight to Greenville to Dr. Fountain and get some medicine for colic.' The mule started as directed, but Tom Dupree stopped him on Dickinson avenue in front of Dr. Laughinghouse's and said he could cure the colic. The mule did not like being stopped that way, but was too weak to kick, and rather than be treated by anybody but Dr. Fountain lay right down and died. Yes, sir, these are the facts, and you can print them." Gallows Out of Date. Assistant Attorney General Hayden Clement will recommend to the legislature that all executions of criminals take place in the State penitentiary, that as a defendant is convicted of a capital offense he be sent to the State prison and held their pending final disposition of his case. It is to be hoped that these recommendations will be carried out. The plan has been advocated for years and it should be pressed upon the next Legislature. County hangings should be abolished and it would be better that an electrocution chamber, instead of a gallows, be fitted up in the penitentiary. By long usage, the gallows has been robbed of much of its terror. The electric chair is something new and a more civilized institution.—Charlotte Chronicle. Jarvis Memorial Church. Sunday at 11 a. m. the following program will be observed: 1. Organ voluntary. 2. The Kingdom Coming, 683. 3. Prayer. 4. Gloria. 5. Anthem by the choir. 6. Psalm LXXXVI read responsively. 7. As I have decided to make a change in my business, beginning at once I will sell my stock of canned goods and package goods at cost, excepting very few articles that we have to buy each week and goods for the Christmas trade. J. B. Johnston. 12 7 tfd Farm For Sale—100 acres of good land for sale, 30 acres cleared, 70 acres with abundant wood supply, cleared land well adapted to tobacco, corn and cotton culture. Situated in Swift Creek township, Pitt county, 8 miles east of Ayden, and will sell at a bargain. Apply to The Ayden Lumber Company, Ayden N. C. 12 2 dtf He Bids Farewell. Benjamin Franklin Metzger, of Norfolk, Va., U. S. A., who used to come around years ago as the "kid drummer" selling cigars but is getting old now, stopped The Reflector man yesterday to say both howdy-do and good-bye. As he was giving the shake, almost with tears in his throat he said "Old man, this is my last official visit to Greenville. You people have killed the dispensary and I can't get any more "boozie" orders here." That's the truth, Ben, and we are glad of it. There will be an end of "boozie" traffic down this way after Jan. 1st. And when Norfolk knocks it out you can fall back on your cigar samples and come to see us again Another Capture With Dogs. Wednesday night some one broke in the house of Will Blow, colored, who lives about 4 miles from town. Blow sent down after Mr. Hines' bloodhounds and the dogs struck a trail which they followed to the house of another colored man named Colonel Hines. The latter was arrested and Thursday had a preliminary hearing before Justice C. D. Rountree. The negro was held for the next term of criminal court. Teachers Tomorrow. The teachers will meet here tomorrow in their association, and if the weather is good there will be a large attendance.	The Visitors Here and People Who Travel. A. M. Moseley went to Ayden today. Miss Bruce Swift went to Kinston today. J. W. Ferrell went to Robertsonville today. L. W. Lawrence and Z. T. Broughton went to Wilson Thursday to the Baptist convention. Mrs. M. A. Whichard, of Whichard, who has been visiting the family of the editor, returned home this morning. Cause for Pride. The boys, and the girls, up stairs in the Reflector printery, are justly proud of our anniversary-holiday edition. It was a handsome piece of work, nicely arranged and beautifully printed, and reflects credit upon their skill and patience. The editor is proud of the force on the paper. WHEN MEN WORE LACES. Household and Dress Bills of Our Ancestors Were Appalling. We hear it said everywhere—at the beginning and at the end of every season—that modern extravagance is appalling, that women overdress, that they spend more for a single hat than their grandmothers did for their whole trousseaux. Like many other often recurring general statements, this is far from being accurate. The well known French writer, M. Henry de Gallier, contributes to the current issue of La Revue a remarkable study on "Spending Money In Days of Yore." From statistics carefully compiled, from private documents of one or two centuries ago, from letters and bills dating from those distant days, it appears that extravagance was far worse then. The greatest change in the matter of expenditure is that during the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries men spent quite as much as if not more than women for their own attire. Today the average man spends considerably less than the average woman on clothes, and in the wealthy classes the difference is more marked still, since it was recently stated by a queen of fashion that, while a man could be quite "elegant" by spending £400 a year on himself, a woman needed £400 a month to dress stylishly. In the middle class, as in the aristocracy, 150 years ago more things were required by a man. He wore night cuffs of lace, his black suit cost £5 (of our money), his hats—he needed half a dozen—£1 each. He required silk stockings, woolen stockings and "skin" stockings and five or six different kinds of boots. He had to spend several pounds a year at the barber's and wigmaker's. The middle class woman of those days managed to dress in a cheaper way, though dress was the main expense. Diaries and memoirs establish the curious fact that the upbringing of three children cost a third less than the clothes required by their mother, a modest woman. Men wore ribbons, lace, embroideries and jewelry in as large quantities as women. As for jewels, men formerly wore diamonds and pearls on their clothes, shoes and hands, while today a man of refined taste is satisfied with a modest ring, simple links, a little pearl as a shirt stud and a large stone as a scarfpin.—London Mail. The "Te Deum." The authorship of "Te Deum" is uncertain. It is now generally understood that we are to put no reliance upon the ancient legend that makes the famous hymn the joint production of St. Ambrose and Augustine. The first actual reference to it is in the rule of Caesarius of Arles, who was made a bishop in 502, and it is certain that it arose as early as the fifth century. It is ascribed by some authorities to Hilary of Arles, by others to some disciple of Cassian of Marseilles, but in no case is the evidence complete.	Time of Arrival and Departure at Greenville. FRIDAY, DEC. 11, 1908.

The way they throw bouquets at the South shows that she is coming into more general recognition.

An expert has been examining into official affairs of Guilford county and found things in a pretty muddle.

Congress is in session but that is about all.—Durham Sun.

No, indeed, the salary drawing will be well looked after.

"Powder plant blows up" is the heading an exchange gives a recent telegraphic news item. What else did you expect it to do?

Congressman W. W. Kitchin, now governor-elect, has sent his resignation as congressman to Governor Glenn to take effect Jan. 11th.

Judge Walter H. Neal has tendered his resignation as one of the Superior court judges of the State, for the purpose of returning to his law practice. He was one of the best judges in the State.

Another fellow bobs up with a bad case of the blues and says the world will come to an end Dec. 27th. Glad he is going to let us enjoy one more Christmas before sending such a dire calamity.

Congressman Richmond P. Hobson also wants to soothe his wounded feelings by collecting some damage money. He has brought suit for $20,000 against a brother congressman for saying things about him.

If the money that has been sent out of Pitt county this year for corn, hay and fertilizers had been kept at home, the condition of our farmers would be vastly different from what it now is. The farmer who fails to make his own supplies of corn and hay, and puts all of his profits, sometimes more, into fertilizers to try to raise the so-called money crops—cotton and tobacco—is simply working for the other fellow. It would pay him better to work for wages.

Newspapers and Politics

Dr. Thomas N. Ivey, editor of The Raleigh Christian Advocate, suggests to quite a number of esteemed secular papers that now is the time to begin discussing something else than politics. "The south," he says, "is criticized as breathing a purely political atmosphere and discussing nothing save that which pertains to something purely political. We are afraid that the editorial and other contents of many of our secular papers justify criticism." The point is well taken, but between the efforts to explain away the North Carolina vote; with our desk piled with messages and annual reports to congress; with Colonel

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Bryan breaking in every day or so, and with another session of the state legislature imminently impending, how are we going to escape the subject of politics? The Chronicle confesses to a tired feeling at times. It would infinitely prefer to devote its space to matters of more moment to the south—to the development of our commercial and industrial interests, to matters affecting the welfare of the farmers, to fanning the flames of civic improvement, and to handling matters calculated to uplift the morals of our communities—and it has an idea that it does some things along that line. But politics cannot always be avoided. It is hardly ever out of season and the slack times are not as frequent now as in former years. From one presidential election to another, the politicians scarcely give the people any rest at all, and it is the duty of the paper that would make itself useful to keep an eye on the politicians. Notwithstanding the circumstances, however, we agree with Dr. Ivey that the political monopoly of the editorial pages of some of the secular papers is a matter to be frowned upon. To a certain extent, political discussions cannot be avoided, but it is not to be denied that if some papers would display as much zeal to everyday home affairs as they display in expounding politics, it would be better for the communities in which they are published.—Charlotte Chronicle.

The Power Behind.

At a prayer meeting a good old brother stood up and said he was glad to give testimony. "My wife and I," he said, "started in life with hardly a cent in the world. We began at the lowest round of the ladder, but the Lord has been good to us, and we have worked up—we have prospered. We bought a little farm and raised good crops. We have a good home and a nice family of children, and," he added, with much emphasis, "I am the head of that family."

After he sat down his wife promptly arose to corroborate all that he had said. But she added, with satisfaction, "I am the neck that moves the head."

Remarkable Memories.

As instances of remarkable memories, it is stated that Dr. Johnson never forgot anything he had seen, heard or read. Burke, Grotius and Pascal forgot nothing they had ever read or thought. Both Leibnitz and Euler could repeat the whole of the "Eneid." Ben Jonson could repeat all he had ever written and whole books that he had read. Themistocles could call by their names the 20,000 citizens of Athens. Cyrus is reported to have known the name of every soldier in his army.

NATURE'S PATENT OFFICE.

Pulley, Block and Tackle and Safety Valve Anticipated.

The block and pulley, or "tackle," was a great mechanical discovery, but nature made every man carry several of these around with him at the very beginning of creation. The most important of these tackles is found in the eye. If you turn your eye to look at the tip of your nose you use this block and pulley, which is just as perfect as any erected on a ship to hoist sail. The muscle which moves the eyeball works through the block easily and smoothly and without friction, for nature has supplied to all of her machinery automatic or mechanical oil inventions. These never fail to work unless we are sick, and then the danger of a hot box is to be considered.

The invention of the safety valve for steam engines has saved thousands of lives and millions of dollars of property. It is an invention that stands prominently to the front in this age of mechanical progress. But nature supplied us each with a safety valve which for effectiveness works better than any made by man. If we did not have this safety valve we would not live twenty-four hours. This safety valve is the perspirative, or sweat, glands, and to make sure that we would not run short of the supply nature has furnished the body with some two and a half millions of them. If our temperature rose 7 or 8 degrees we would die within a few hours, and yet we could not run, row, play tennis, ball or even walk safely any distance without increasing our temperature to the danger point if we had no safety valve provided so ingeniously by nature.

The cup and ball socket and the air tight valve were first used in the human body. If our hip joints and arms were not provided with air tight sockets we would get too tired to continue our work for any length of time in just holding these limbs together by muscles. It is the pressure of the air which holds them in place, and thus all physical effort is avoided. In the various air tight joints and sockets found in the human body one may find nearly all the mechanical principles involved in the air brake or the use of compressed air for a thousand different things.

Some one exclaims that nature did not discover ball bearings, a mechanical device which has revolutionized the vehicular world. But the principle is almost developed in the ball of the leg bone and the socket of the hip, which are made so smooth and are so well oiled that they slide back and forth with practically no friction.—Grand Rapids Herald.

A Paper Tiger.

Quite recently a Chinaman in London was heard to wind up a dispute with another man with the words, "You paper tiger!" Asked what he meant, the oriental replied, "Oh, in China a paper tiger is a fool who talks much, but is harmless."

"When a man is very proud, what you would call 'stuck up,'" he went on, "we compare him to a rat falling into a scale and weighing himself."

"If a Chinaman overdoes anything we say, 'You hunchback making a bow.' A son who spends his father's wealth quickly is 'a rocket,' while of some of you rich people here who send money to the heathens abroad and neglect your families at home we say, 'You hang your lantern on a pole which is seen from afar, but gives no light below.'"—London Paper.

No Witnesses.

"You are charged with stealing nine of Colonel Henry's hens last night. Have you any witnesses?" asked the justice sternly.

"Nussah!" said Brother Jones humbly. "I specks I's sawtuh peculiar fat-uh-way, but it ain't never been mah custom to take witnesses along when I goes out chicken stealin'." sub

850 HEDGETHORN PUNCTURE-PROOF SELF-HEALING TIRES A SAMPLE PAIR TO INTRODUCE, ONLY $4.80

The regular retail price of these tires is $5.50 per pair, but to introduce we will give you a sample pair for $4.80 (cash with order $4.55). NO MORE TROUBLE FROM PUNCTURES. NAILS, Tacks or Glass will not let the air out. Sixty thousand pairs sold last year. Over two hundred thousand pairs now in use.

DESCRIPTION: Made in all sizes. It is lively and easy riding, very durable and lined inside with a special quality of rubber, which never becomes porous and which closes up small punctures without allowing the air to escape. We have hundreds of letters from satisfied customers stating that their tires have been pumped up once or twice in a whole season. They weigh no more than an ordinary tire, the puncture resisting qualities being given by several layers of thin, specially prepared fabric on the tread. The regular price of these tires is $5.50 per pair, but for advertising purposes we are making a special factory price to the rider of only $4.80 per pair. All orders shipped same day letter is received. We ship C. O. D. on approval. You do not pay a cent until you have examined and found them strictly as represented. We will allow a cash discount of 5 per cent (thereby making the price $4.64 per pair) if you send FULL CASH WITH ORDER and enclose this advertisement. We will also send one nickel plated brass hand pump. Tires to be returned at OUR expense if for any reason they are not satisfactory on examination. We are perfectly reliable and money sent to us is as safe as in a bank. If you order a pair of these tires, you will find that they will ride easier, run faster, wear better, last longer and look finer than any tire you have ever used or seen at any price. We know that you will be so well pleased that when you want a bicycle you will give us your order. We want you to send us a trial order at once, hence this remarkable tire offer.

IF YOU NEED TIRES don't buy any kind at any price until you send for a pair of the special introductory price quoted above, or write for our big Tire and Sundry Catalogue which describes and quotes all makes and kinds of tires at about half the usual prices. DO NOT WAIT but write us a postal today. DO NOT THINK OF BUYING a bicycle or a pair of tires from anyone until you know the new and wonderful offers we are making. It only costs a postal to learn everything. Write it NOW.

A HONGKONG TYPHOON.

Doors and Windows Smashed In by the Fury of the Gale.

Boom! Boom! Boom! The signal had changed to the ominous red-green-red, and the three dynamite bombs were the warning that the typhoon was upon us. No need to hurry the servants now—every one was only too anxious to assist. The wind was tearing round the house, seemingly in all directions, but strongest from the north, and the noise of it was louder than thunder. One outside room, more exposed than the rest, seemed to be its especial butt. We stayed there for a moment to listen to the raging of the storm, but even the stoutest heart could not sleep in that pandemonium of sound. It was well shuttered and barred, but it was incredible that it stood in that tornado of wind. The doors creaked and groaned with the strain, and the windows clattered with a shriller note, while outside it seemed as though all the winds of all the ages were let loose for destruction. In the center of the house, though the noise was less, one could feel the building rocking on its foundations and hardly dared speculate how much the late heavy rains had weakened them. Every moment we expected the roof would go.

Crash! The upper part of an inner glass door had blown in. There was a stampede for that part of the house, for the wind must be kept out at all costs. Sofa cushions, sheets, blankets from the beds, all were requisitioned to stuff the broken panes. We had hardly finished before there was a terrific noise in the basement and such a shouting in Chinese that one could hear the boys above the din of the storm. It was the door of the cook's room which had burst its hinges and bolts, and once the wind had found an entry it made the most of its opportunity. Twenty-seven panes of glass clattered to the ground in the basement before they could get the door wedged back into place with great difficulty. But there was little time to think of the servants, for we had our own troubles upstairs.

The wind suddenly veered round until the full force seemed to be coming from the southwest, and the front of the house began to feel it. The hall door was straining on its hinges, and we had to improvise struts and pile heavy furniture behind it to help its resistance to the wind. Then a rush upstairs, for a bathroom window had crashed in and the door was straining. Every moment the wind was increasing in fury, but the roof held. Between 3 and 4 the typhoon was at its height, and it is impossible to describe the sense of helplessness one feels in such a wild raging of the elements. Sleep was out of the question until the wind abated toward morning, and we rested a little, a tired, sorry looking household, encamped in the safest part of the house.—Nan Peacock in Leslie's Weekly.

Power of Habit Strong.

"The habit of looking under the bed for burglars," the young woman said, "is something that folks laugh at, but I have never been able to get myself out of it. I never feel perfectly comfortable unless I look, no matter where I happen to be. To my mind there isn't any place except a safe deposit vault burglars are unlikely to be. In fact, the habit is so strongly ingrained in me that one night when I was staying in a small country hotel, where there was nothing but a folding bed in the room, I took it down and then looked under it before I got into bed. That's a fact. I laughed at myself the minute after."—Detroit Free Press.

London in White.

After a few visits to the White City one feels rather desirous of white-washing the whole of London. Why not? White is an admirable background for color. Our blue sky becomes bluer and our gray sky looks more beautiful behind it, while a golden sky makes white buildings delightful. If we could only make the whole city white, to begin with, and then gradually and sparingly color, what a beautiful city London would be!—British Architect.

Keeping Up to Date.

"Yes," said the housewife, "yours is a sad story. But it isn't the same story you told last year." "Well, lady," answered Plooding Pete, "you surely wouldn't expect a man to go all day time and not show any improvement!"—Washington Star.

Accents.

In the midst of a rambling speech the political orator declared, "The situation is grave; the crisis is acute." "And the gentleman's speech," added the newspaper reporter, "was circumflex."—Youth's Companion.

Sale of Real Property.

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed executed and delivered by John R. Buck and wife Mary L. Buck, on the 11th day of February, 1907, to L. E. Smith, as appears of record in the register of deeds office in Pitt county, in book Q-8 page 27, the undersigned will on Saturday the 12th day of January 1909, expose to public sale before the court house door in Pitt county, to the highest bidder for cash, the following tract or parcel of land lying and being in Pitt county North Carolina, and described as follows: Being a part of the May A. Buck land and being the shore decided to said John R. Buck, and bounded as follows, on the east by Metta Hadcock, and on the South by the W. A. Smith land, and on the west by E. O. Smith and C. C. Smith containing 53 acres more or less. This sale is made to satisfy the terms of a mortgage, L. E. Smith, Mortgagee, by F. C. Harding, Attorney.

TIME TO ACT

Don't Wait for the Fatal Stages of Kidney Liness Profit by Greenville People's Experience.

Occasional attacks of backache, irregular urination, headaches and dizzy spells are common early symptoms of kidney disorders. It's an error to neglect this. The attacks may pass off for a time but return with greater intensity. If there are symptoms of dropsy—puffy swellings below the eyes, bloating of limbs and ankles, or any part of the body, don't delay a minute. Begin taking Doan's Kidney Pills, and keep up the treatment until the kidneys are well, when your old time health and vigor will return. Cures in Greenville prove the effectiveness of this great kidney remedy.

Mrs. J. F. Stokes, Cor. Twelfth and Evans Sts., Greenville, N. C., says: "For some time I suffered severely from kidney complaint. The kidneys were very irregular in action and at times caused me great annoyance. I had bearing down pains through my abdomen and sharp shooting twinges through my kidneys causing me untold misery. There was a tender spot across my kidney regions and at times my limbs pained intensely. I finally read of Doan's Kidney pills and was so much impressed that I procured them at Wooten's drug store. They soon relieved the pains in my sides and limbs, restored the secretions to a regular and normal condition and at present I am feeling a great deal better in every way. I give Doan's Kidney Pills the credit for the great improvement in my condition."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McMullen Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's and take no other.

TEACHERS MEETING.

Program for Saturday, December 12th, 1908.

10:30 a. m.—Devotional exercises—Rev. Mr. Huske.
Reading of minutes of last meeting.
Announcement of committees.
Five minutes talk on opening and closing of schools—W. H. Ragsdale.
Responsibility of the teacher in regard to the health of the children—Mrs. Maggie Butt.
Music in the public school—Miss Daisy E. Minor.
Written work and best methods of correcting the same—Rev. Mr. Huske.
Class recitation—Primary arithmetic—Miss M. M. Mitchell.
The relation of work and discipline, general discussion led by Prof. G. E. Lineberry.
Adjournment.

It will be seen from the above program that this meeting promises to be of unusual interest to the teachers. We desire to request the teachers not only to be in Greenville by 10:30 a. m., but to be down at the graded school building by this time so that they may get the full benefit of the meeting and enable us to adjourn at the appointed hour. We shall be glad to see every teacher present at this meeting and we also cordially invite all interested in the educational progress of the county to meet with us. W. H. Ragsdale, County Supt.
