GREENVILLE'S PROUD OCCASION

EAST CAROLINA TEACHERS TRAINING SCHOOL

Board of Trustees and State Board of Education Here to Inspect the Building.

The seat of government in North Carolina was practically transferred to Greenville today, the occasion being the meeting of the Board of Trustees of the East Carolina Teachers Training School and the State Board of Education to inspect the buildings now in course of erection for the school. All the trustees but one and nearly all of the State officers were present, besides some other distinguished visitors, as well as our own county officers.

The trustees present are Chairman J. Y. Joyner, of Raleigh; T. J. Jarvis, of Greenville; J. O. Carr, of Wilmington; J. C. Parker, of Trenton; I. T. Turlington, of Smithfield; Y. T. Ormond, of Kinston; Secretary C. W. Wilson, of Scotland Neck; R. B. White, of Franklinton.

The State officers here are Governor R. B. Glenn, Superintendent of Education J. Y. Joyner, Treasurer R. B. Lacy, Auditor, B. F. Dixon, Insurance Commissioner J. R. Young.

Editor Josephus Daniels, of the Raleigh News and Observer; Maj. E. J. Hale, editor the Fayetteville Observer; D. T. Edwards, editor of Kinston Free Press; Prof. L. C. Brogden, superintendent of Kinston graded schools, Dr. J. H. Scarborough, of Missouri, and R. H. Salsbury, of Hassell, are among the visitors.

The architects, C. C. Hook, of Charlotte and H. W. Simpson, of New Bern, are also here. It is regretted that Secretary of State J. Bryan Grimes was sick and could not come, as being with his county people on an occasion like this would have been a double pleasure.

The entertainment committees of the Chamber of Commerce and Carolina Club met the visitors of the morning at Norfolk & Southern train and took them in carriages up town, and then all drove over to the location of the school and spent two hours going over the buildings and grounds. Many expressions of delight were heard from the visitors as they noted the architectural beauty of the buildings, the fine progress that has been made on them, and the splendid location. It was indeed a surprise to them.

Returning from the school about noon, the trustees held a meeting in the office of County Superintendent W. H. Ragsdale to transact business incident to the enterprise and receive reports from the contractors, the architects, and committees. The executive committee made a detailed report of all that had been done since the beginning of the work to secure the buildings. Any matter in the reports and the deliberations of the trustees that is for publication will be given later.

After the meeting of the trustees all the visitors were invited to a lunch spread in the rooms of the Carolina Club and furnished by the ladies of the End of the Century Book Club. The remainder of the afternoon was devoted to showing the visitors around the town. A great many people of the county were in town to mingle with State officers and visitors.

It was an important day for Greenville and the town was delighted to have the visitors here.

DANIEL—FLEMING.

Pretty Wedding Solemnized at the Home Mr. T. M. Moore.

A beautiful but very quiet home wedding was solemnized at the residence of Mr. T. M. Moore, 1033 West Market street this morning at 8:15 o'clock. The contracting parties were Miss Pennie Ward Daniel and Rev. Robert Fleming, of Streator, Ill.

The attendants were Miss Eliza Moore with Mr. Sugg Fleming, of Pactolus, N. C.; the maid of honor, Miss Ada Ward, of Greenville, N. C.; the best man, Mr. Paul Davenport, of Pactolus; the ring bearer, Master Hugh Moore, the flower girl, little Miss Cammie Vaughn.

Rev. Dr. White officiated and Miss Florence Blair, of Asheboro, presided at the piano.

The bride wore a blue cloth goingaway gown with hat and gloves to match and carried a bouquet of bride's roses. The maid of honor was gowned in a beautiful white silk crepe de chine dress and carried pink carnations, while the bridesmaid wore a blue dress of the same material and carried white carnations.

Before the ceremony "A Love Dream" by Liszt was played and the processional was Lohengrin's wedding march. "Traumerie" by Schumann, was played softly during the ceremony. The recessional was Mendelssohn's wedding march. The parlor was beautifully decorated with palms, ferns and carnations.

Rev. and Mrs. Fleming left on the 9:25 train for Chicago, where they will spend a few days before going to Streator, Ill., where they will make their home.

An informal reception Monday night was given by Mr. and Mrs. Moore, sister of the bride. The dining room was artistically decorated in palms, ferns, carnations, the room being lighted by candelabra. Delicious refreshments were served.

The out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. T. M. House, Weldon; Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Vaughn, and Mrs. J. E. Wicker, of Roanoke Rapids; Mrs. Ferdinand Ward and Miss Ada Ward, of Greenville; Miss Florence Blair, of Asheboro; Messrs. Sugg Fleming and Paul Davenport, of Pactolus.

One of the rooms of the Moore home was set apart for the display of wedding gifts, of which there was a beautiful array of handsome and useful testimonials of the esteem in which the popular young couple is held.

The bride is a charming young woman possessing many admirable traits of character, which have won for her a large number of warm friends.

The bridegroom is a native of Pitt county, this State, being the son of Mr. Robert Fleming, a successful business man of that county. After taking a course in theology he went to Illinois and is a forceful and beloved minister of Streator. Greensboro Record

C., $1,000; to construct freight and passenger station at Simpson, N. C., and Nevison N. C., $3,000; to enlarge the cotton platforms Greenville, N. C., and Stantonsburg, N. C., $900; to change the draw at Lynhaven Inlet, $5,000; to repair the Beaufort Trestle bridge, $15,000; to widen the fills on the Raleigh Division, to deepen ditches and to provide additional side tracks and necessary improvements of stations grounds and facilities $119,000. Total $1,000,000.

Prayer Availeth Much.

Governor Jarvis enjoys a good hearty laugh as he talks this on himself: As he was going home from his office Christmas eve, he had to pause to avoid a collision with an old colored woman who was covering more of the sidewalk in her navigation than is usually needed for one person. Spying the governor she steadied her staggering limbs as much as possible and remarked "W'y! dar's Old Marser. Two yers go he wuz 'bout ter die an' we all prayed de Lord ter spare 'im an' yere he is." "Auntie, an't you looking for a quarter?" asked the governor as he dropped a coin in her hand. "Yas sir! yas sir, and thankee, too!" she exclaimed as she moved on feeling that Christmas had surely come.

Sunday School Entertainment.

The Christian Sunday school will have its Christmas entertainment tonight at the Centre Brick warehouse. All the members of the school are invited to be present.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

1908 is winding up its affairs. Knights of Pythias meet to night.

There will be no freight trains tomorrow.

Things are on the move for the new year.

Get your new calendars ready for hanging.

You can ring out the old and ring in the new tonight.

The old year went out with a beautiful day and a good one for Greenville.

C. S. Forbes has added a calendar to The Reflector's new year collection.

You might practice writing 1909 some this evening so as to be familiar with it in the morning.

While new year's day is a national holiday, down this way business will go on about as usual.

Don't be afraid of crowding The Reflector with job printing. We are ready to do your work promptly.

Send in your orders for the job printing for the new year. The Reflector is turning out nice work in this line.

The Reflector will have no objection to writing subscription receipts on new year's day. We would like to write many.

A. H. Critcher went to Tarboro today.

F. D. Foxhall went to Tarboro today.

Mrs. Ada Cherry left for Baltimore today.

W. J. Brown went to Winterville today.

E. H. Taft went to Scotland Neck today.

S. T. White returned today from Richmond.

Miss Sophia Jarvis went to Bethel Wednesday evening.

Dr. L. C. Skinner and B. J. Pulley went to Ayden today.

Prof. H. B. Smith returned Wednesday evening from Greensboro.

Mrs. C. T. Munford and son, Charlie, returned this morning from Wilson.

We are glad to see Editor D. G. Edwards, of the Kinston Free Press, is in town today.

Mrs. H. T. Latham, of Washington, who was here visiting her parents returned home Wednesday evening.

Misses Mary Lucy Dupree, Myrtle Warren and Ruth Cobb returned Wednesday evening from Kinston.

Rev. Mr. Humbles spent a few hours here Wednesday while enroute to his new charge at Roanoke Rapids.

Rev. Z. T. Vincent, who has been spending the holidays with his parents here, returned to school at Alexandria today.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Chesson and daughters, Misses Sadie and Lillian, of Plymouth, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hassell, returned home today.

Rev. J. H. Shore, the new pastor of Jarvis Memorial Methodist church, arrived Wednesday. He will preach the first sermons to his new charge Sunday morning and night.

J. A. Lang and family left Wednesday evening for Hickory to make that town their home. Greenville does not like to be losing that kind of folks and we hope they will some day find occasion to come back.

Josephus Daniels, editor of the Raleigh News and Observer, came in Wednesday evening to be at the inspection of the training school building today. He is the guest of Gov. and Mrs. T. J. Jarvis.

Dr. J. H. Scarborough, of Warrensburg, Mo., president of one of the state normal schools located there, came in Wednesday. He is a North Carolinian and was visiting relatives around his old home, and being interested in matters educational he run down here to be present at the inspection of the buildings for the training school here.

Killed a Swan.

Mr. E. B. Ficklen was today exhibiting a large swan which he killed Tuesday morning while on a hunting trip in Currituck sound. The swan measured 8 feet between tip of wings and weighed 20 pounds. It was quite a curiosity to people here.

Less corn going into booze will make more for the horse.

Let your new year resolutions tomorrow be good ones, and stick to them.

It is good-bye to the dispensary, and may the farewell be forever.

It is appalling to think of 75,000 people losing their lives in the earthquake in Italy.

Mr. Merchant, write one this way: "Resolved that I will do more advertising in 1909 than in 1908."

Prohibition goes into effect tomorrow in three States, Alabama, Mississippi and North Carolina.

Look backward a moment and count the blessings, and you will see that 1908 was not such a bad year after all.

Good-bye, old year! May we keep in memory the pleasure and blessings you brought us, but forget the sorrows and trials.

The Reflector's new year resolution will be a repetition of an old one: "Resolved to do its best for Greenville and Pitt county."

The drinkers will find it easier to swear off tomorrow with nowhere to get it, but the smokers will have the usual temptations before them.

Now that Pennsylvania fellow who predicted the world would come to an end Dec. 28th, 1908, may point to the earthquake in Italy as a partial fulfillment of his prediction.

Greenville extends a cordial welcome to the distinguished visitors within her gates today. May their stay be pleasant, and when they depart may they carry the impression with them that Greenville is the best town of its size in the State.

There is not a happier man in all Pitt county today than ex-Gov. T. J. Jarvis, local member of the Board of Trustees of the East Carolina Teachers Training School. Nothing gives him more joy than to promote a church or a school. The presence of the Board of Trustees, the State Board of Education and other distinguished visitors to inspect the buildings fills him with pride that he has something worth while to show them.

The year 1908 has been a fairly good one for Greenville and Pitt county, notwithstanding the panic of which there was much complaint. It has brought the town paved streets and concrete sidewalks; it has started the buildings for the East Carolina

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Teachers Training School and pushed them nearly to completion; it has built the large manufacturing plant for the Cabinet Veneer Co. and equipped it nearly ready to begin operations; it has built a splendid steel bridge across Tar river, and a number of new dwelling houses have been erected. There have been no disasters, no epidemics, no fires of consequence, and every one has been blessed more than he deserved. The farmers have not obtained remunerative prices for their crops, yet they have plenty to live on and there is no suffering. Let us thank God for His blessings during the year and turn our faces hopefully to the new year.

Some men are too mean to live. It was remarked in a hotel here the other day, that Greensboro women were the best dressed of any in the State, whereupon a grouchy old codger remarked that "they put all they made and all their husbands and fathers made on their backs. "This," he continued, "is why there is not as much money here as there ought to be." We are ashamed to tell this man's name; in fact we are afraid; he would be lynched. Another man present butted in by saying that because of this practice of dress, there were more old maids here than any town in the State. Did you ever!—Greensboro Record.

How Mansfield Coached Margaret Anglin as Roxane.

Richard Mansfield in his preparation for "Cyrano" was unsparing of himself, and he was unsparing of others. Everything he had and everything he hoped for was at stake. Struggle and desperation were in the air. Nearly every one in the cast resigned or was discharged over and over again. Mr. Palmer's days and nights were devoted to diplomacy, and, thanks to his snavity, the heady heat of the day before was forgotten in the cool of the next morning.

An actress of international reputation and experience was engaged for Roxane. Rehearsals were under way when she resigned by cable. The orange girl's single line in the first act was being rehearsed by a young Canadian, Margaret Anglin. Mansfield had not seen her act, but he remarked the wondrous loveliness of her voice, and his intuition told him she had temperament. "Can you make yourself look beautiful enough for Roxane?" he asked. "I think I might if you can make yourself ugly enough for Cyrano," she answered. The part was hers on the instant. He coached her relentlessly. Again and again she cried that she could not do it. He reassured her, but not with soft persuasions. "You can, my dear, and you must. Now, again!" After rehearsals she went regularly in tears to Mr. Palmer to resign. He appealed to Mansfield to be more lenient. "I am only kind," was his reply.

"Roxane is a great part. Only one who has suffered can play such a role. This girl has the temperament and the emotions, but she is young and inexperienced. I cannot persuade her spirit. I must rouse it." And every day she reached new depths and new heights.—Paul Wiltach in Scribner's.

A Multiplicity of Fathers.

Ardyce had been learning to sing "America" at school and was trying to teach it to Brother Wayne. One morning his father heard him shouting, "Land where my papa died, land where my papa died."

Ardyce interrupted. "Oh, no, Wayne, not that way. It is 'Land where our fathers died.'"

Wayne's expression could not be described as he tipped his head sidewise and in a very surprised tone gravely asked, "Two of 'em?"—Delineator.

Her Opportunity.

Jose, a bright six-year-old boy, listened very intently while his mamma, on showing his new Norfolk suit which she had just finished, explained that she had never bought him a suit; she had made them. Jose was very quiet for a few moments, then said:

THE GREAT LAND SALE

—AT—

FARMVILLE, NORTH CAROLINA

Owing to a severe rain storm we were forced to postpone our sale.

We will on Tuesday, January 5th, at 12:30 o'clock offer for sale at public auction a large number of building lots. We also give away absolutely free of cost, a valuable lot, $25.00 in gold and a bag of silver. Every person presenting one of our coupons bearing their name will positively have an equal chance at these prizes. Anyone can get coupons on the day of sale. These coupons will be put in a box shaken up and drawn out by a little child. The first name drawn gets the lot; the next five gets the gold, $5.00 each.

Everybody has a chance at the silver. Let every everybody come to the sale men, women and children, you will have a chance at the lot bid or not.

A treat to all lovers of music. The best brass band in the state will be on the ground to make music for the crowd. We will also have a balloon ascension and a great display of fire works. Meet me at the sale and we will have a gala-day in Farmville. Our coupons will be good regardless of date.

FOX-BRYAN.

A Brilliant Marriage in Winterville
Wednesday Afternoon.

Wednesday afternoon at 8 o'clock one of the prettiest marriages ever solemnized in our town took place at the Methodist church, the contracting parties being Miss Mollie Bryan, daughter of Postmaster M. G. Bryan and Mr. Junius Fox, of Randleman, N. C.

Long before the appointed hour the beautifully decorated church was filled with admiring friends of the popular bride.

Messrs. C. J. Jackson and Jno. R. Carroll acted as ushers.

Miss Vivian Roberson, the accomplished director of the music department in Winterville High School, rendered the beautiful wedding march by whose strains the attendants entered as follows: O. W. Rollins with Miss Huldah Cox; C. T. Cox with Miss Kate Chapman; N. C. Everett, of Gold Point, with Miss Lucy Manning, of Bethel; Bruton Bryan with Miss Sallie Fox, of Randleman.

Mrs. Henry Staten, of Bethel, was dame of honor and Chas. Fox, of Randleman, was best man.

The bridesmaids carried bouquets of pink carnations and the bride bride's roses.

The ceremony was very impressively performed by Rev. B. E. Stanfield, of Spring Hope, a former pastor of the bride, the ring ceremony being used.

Immediately after the ceremony the wedding party proceeded to the home of the bride for a few minutes, after which, they repaired to the depot and left on the 4:15 train for Washington and other points.

The bride is the only daughter of Postmaster Bryan and has a host of friends throughout Pitt and Martin counties who wish her a life of success and true happiness. The groom is a popular traveling salesman and will make his home at Randleman. Quite a number of friends and relatives from out of town were present at the marriage.

Caught Inspiration from The Reflector.

Maj. E. J. Hale, of Fayetteville, one of the most distinguished editors of the State, and who was once American Consul to Manchester, England, was among the visitors here today, and it gave The Reflector pleasure to greet him once more.

Major Hale compliments us very highly by telling that he caught inspiration back in the 90's to make his paper, the Fayetteville Observer, a daily paper, from noting what we were doing with a little daily paper in Greenville started about that time. He thought if we could make a daily paper live in a little town like Greenville then was, surely he could do as well in Fayetteville. The Reflector is frank to admit that he has outrun us in the newspaper race. The State has no more polished gentleman or fluent writer than Major Hale.

Great Sale.

On Wednesday, the 6th day of Jan. 1908, we will expose to sale to the highest bidder for cash, at the residence of S. R. Ross, in Carolina township, Pitt county, the following articles of personal property, to-wit: About 250 barrels of corn, 35 tons of hay, 5000 pounds of fodder, a lot of corn field peas, nine mules, one horse, farming implements for about a ten horse crop, carts and wagons, 50 hogs, 200 bushels of sweet potatoes, 250 barrels of Irish potatoes, and a lot of other personal property owned by S. R. Ross. This is a great opportunity for farmers desiring to purchase farm supplies etc., for the year of 1909. Let everybody come.

This the 11th day of Dec. 1908.

POWER OF WATER.

Under Certain Conditions It Is Practically Irresistible.

When a man goes in swimming at the seashore and slaps the water forcibly with his hand or takes a back dive from a pier and lands squarely on his back he realizes that the unstable liquid offers not a little resistance. Yet, says a writer in the New York Tribune, it would surprise almost anybody to see what water will do under certain conditions.

A stream from a fireman's hose will knock a man down. The jet from a nozzle used in placer mining in the west eats away a large piece of land in a day, toys with great bowlders as if they were pebbles and would shoot a man over the country as though he were a projectile from a cannon. There is a story of an eastern blacksmith who went west and made a bet that he could knock a hole through the jet of one of these nozzles with a sledge hammer. He lifted his arms, swung the sledge and came down on the ten inch stream with a force that would have dented an anvil. But the jet, never penetrated, whisked the massive hammer out of the blacksmith's hands and tossed it several hundred feet away into the debris of gold bearing gravel beneath a crumbling cliff. After this the blacksmith left out iron when he spoke of hard substances.

There is also a power plant near Durango, Colo., where a United States cavalryman one day thought he had an easy job in cutting a two inch stream with his sword. He made a valiant attack. The result was that his sword was shattered in two and his wrist broken.

A little thinner jet of water descending 1000 feet to a manufactory at Grenoble, Spain, and traveling at the moderate speed of 100 yards a second fractures the best blades of Toledo.

Of course some people will not believe such stories without having seen the thing, and one may think it a proof of the scientific imagination to say that an inch thick sheet of water, provided it had sufficient velocity, would ward off bombshells as well as steel plate.

Nevertheless many persons while traveling have seen a brakeman put a small hydraulic jack under one end of a Pullman car and lift twenty tons or so by a few leisurely strokes of the pump handle, and the experience of riding every day in a hydraulic elevator tends to remove doubts of the magic power possessed by water hitherto to a machine.

Hailed.

"Does that young woman hail from Boston?"
"Yes," answered the western youth thoughtfully, "that expresses the idea precisely. She hails from Boston. I was never before overtaken by such a heavy downfall of intellectual ice."
