TRAINING SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT

BEGINS WITH ANNUAL SERMON
SUNDAY MORNING

REV. C. E. MADDRY, STATESVILLE

Sermon of Unusual Beauty and Eloquence Heard by Large Audience—At Night Rev. J. H. Shore Preaches to Y. W. C. A.

The commencement exercises of East Carolina Teachers' Training School began Sunday morning with the annual sermon which was preached by Rev. Charles E. Maddry, pastor of the Statesville Baptist church. All the churches of the town were closed and a very large audience assembled in the auditorium of the Training School.

At 11 o'clock the student body led by the marshals filed into the hall and filled the front seats, the graduating class occupying the first row. The service began with singing two stanzas of "Come Thou Almighty King," by the school and audience, and Rev. J. H. Shore, pastor of the Methodist church, offered prayer. This was followed by a beautiful anthem sung by the school.

Rev. Charles E. Maddry read the 37th chapter of Exodus, the story of Joseph's dream, the resultant envy of his brethren and subsequent sale to Egyptian slavery, and took for his text Gen. 39:2 "And the Lord was with Joseph and he was a prosperous man."

The dedicatory of the masterly eloquent sermon which followed was a comparison of Joseph's life to a musical melody—the impediments, the tangle and the open. Joseph, he said, was an optimist—he never lost hope, though at a time in his career he was plunged into the very depths of a dungeon. The difference between the optimist and the pessimist is the failure of the latter in the ability to see. The world's great need in this new century is more optimists, people who can see.

Joseph possessed a boundless ambition which he inherited from his grand father Abraham. This ambition led him to strive for the highest and noblest in life and service. It is lamentable to look around you today and observe the lack of ambition. There are so many people with no fixed purpose—so many derelicts on the ocean of life like ships without chart or compass. There are so many young persons who have no hope, no ambition, no purpose in life.

There was a trait of selfishness in Joseph which was shown in the story of his dreams and aroused the envy of his brethren. The youngest son of a best loved wife, he was the pet and idolized child of his father, without opposition or restraint in his selfishness. But God crushed this out of him through suffering and made him a sympathizer to humanity. This comes only through the closed door. We cannot truly sympathize with others until we have entered into their sufferings with them. The archers of the enemy hurled their darts at him, he suffered temptation and persecution. In the Egyptian dungeon his greatest opportunities came, for here he was changed from a dreamer of dreams to an interpreter of dreams. Out of deepest suffering oftentimes come our greatest achievement. Milton's masterpiece "Paradise Lost" came out of his blindness. John Bunyan's twelve years in Bedford jail gave "Pilgrim's Progress" to the world. Joseph's dungeon period gave him access to the throne of Egypt and brought him the opportunity to sympathize with and save his people, and though he died in Egypt he had hope and "by faith when he died, made mention of the departing of the children of Israel, and gave commandment concerning his bones." Joseph met the test and in the open, like the beautiful unfolding of musical melody, proved the greatness of his life.

Fifty years ago the South merged from its greatest conflict. The remnant of the Confederacy returned to their homes to find them in ruins and their lands devastated. An alien race was in control and the awful period of reconstruction followed. Yet the people of the South struggled heroically through this dungeon period and a wonderful change has resulted. Another testing now confronts us. The next fifteen years will find the South the commercial centre of the nation in the eyes of the world. New Orleans will be the New York of the South. Galveston, Savannah, Charleston, Wilmington and Norfolk, will be the great sea ports of the nation. Our Southern gulf will be the Mediterranean of the world. Will we be able to stand this transition from poverty to wealth? We must meet the test and merge from it into glorious symphony.

NEGRO CHARGED WITH RAPE.

Taken to Jail to Await Next Term of Court.

Jethro Miller, a negro man, was taken to Lenoir county jail today, to await the next term of Pitt Criminal court, on the charge of rape.

Joseph stands out as a grand type of man because he served others. Our service to humanity and through humanity to Christ is all that lives. A Rockefeller cannot take a dollar of his wealth into eternity, but the deeds of service we do to others live for ever and make our eternal heritage. Religion and personal purity are essential to highest success. A successful business career is possible for the faithful servant of God. Tenderest care for our kindred and those dependent upon us, self sacrifice in our service to others, marks the highest traits in our lives.

These are but notes caught here and there from Mr. Maddry's great sermon, but of it can be truly said the people of this community have heard no more eloquent and inspiring words fall from the lips of any man. It was a benediction to all who heard him, and especially helpful to those young people just going out of an institution of learning to take up their duties of life in the service of their country and to humanity.

Y. W. C. A. Service.

The Young Womans Christian Association held its final service in the auditorium on Sunday evening. The public was not invited, because the school wished to worship alone at the last religious service of the year.

The musical program was as follows:

The Lord is My Shepherd.
Hymn—All Hail the Praise of Jesus' Name.

Adore and Be Still—Misses J. Williams, M. Davis, Gardner, R. Ruffin, E. Brown, and E. Knight.

Intermezzo from Carollero Rusticana—Miss J. Williams, R. Ruffin, E. and F. Knight, M. Davis, P. Dowell, Guthrie, Wynne, Gardner, E. Brown.

Rev. J. H. Shore preached a strong logical sermon from II Kings 7:9. "We do well: this day is a day of good tidings, and we hold our peace." He showed how God had used kindergarten methods with the children of Israel and as man grew in power higher methods were used. He developed the thought that this age is the greatest of all ages, because it is the inheritor of all and demands the best of each individual. The best can be given only through the growth of character. Character is not negative goodness, innocence, but a result of the best all round development, a positive force.

The sermon was a strong, logical discourse, full of optimism and altruism.

INTERESTING LETTER FROM NATIONAL CAPITAL

FARMERS FAVOR RECIPROCITY
Outlook For Democratic Success in Next Election.

(By Clyde H. Tavenner, special Washington Correspondent of The Reflector).

Washington, May 22.—Although standpat Republicans proclaim that practically every farmer in the land is against reciprocity, the fact is that the recent wonderful growth of public sentiment in favor of reciprocity started with farmers' organizations and the agricultural press of the nation.

Congressman Ralph W. Moss, of Indiana, a farmer himself, and one of the best friends of the agriculturists occupying a seat in the halls of congress, established this fact beyond successful contradiction in a strong speech delivered on the floor of the house. Mr. Moss clinched his point by presenting the actual resolutions in which the great organizations of farmers pledged themselves to work for reciprocity.

The great national movement among the farmers of the United States to advance reciprocal legislation began, said Mr. Moss, "with a meeting held in the Grand Pacific hotel in Chicago, in 1905. There were present at the meeting delegates representing the National Live Stock association, American Short Horn association, National Live Stock Exchange, Miller's National Federation, and other great producing and exporting interests.

"It was decided to hold a national conference to advance reciprocal tariff legislation. Alvin H. Saunders was chosen as the leader of the movement. Who is A. H. Saunders? He is a member of the tariff board appointed by President Taft. Mr. Saunders was at that time the editor of the Breeders' Gazette, the most influential and widely read farm journal in the United States. Mr. Saunders issued a signed statement as to the purpose of the conference. He declared his willingness to co-operate with the specific understanding that the interests of the farmers and stock growers should be paramount.

"It is time," declared Mr. Saunders in his signed statement, "that somebody should take up the cudgels against those who for selfish purposes destroyed Blain's reciprocity conventions, and are still barring the American stockmen and grain growers from a large and lucrative outlet for their goods. The fight for better markets, worth unknown millions per year to the farming communities, will not be won in a week or a month. It means a battle royal against entrenched power, but it will be won because it is right.

Mr. Moss went on to show that the conference was attended by more than 600 delegates, representing every principal agricultural organization in the nation, and that at the close of the meeting the following resolution was passed:

"That we recommend that a permanent organization be formed under the style of the Reciprocal Tariff League, and that a committee of 15 be appointed to organize and further the work for which this convention was assembled."

Mr. Moss expressed the belief that when reciprocity could be put directly to the real farmers of the country, it would develop that they are for it, and that the alleged hostility of the farmer exists principally in the minds of the paper manufacturers and lumber barons.

Two bills intended to deprive the Supreme court of the power it recently assumed to read the word "reasonable" into the anti-trust law, indicate the strong protest in congress against the decision of the court weakening the anti-trust statute. The bills were introduced by Senators Culberson, of Texas, and Reed, of Missouri, both Democrats.

Senator Culberson's bill consists of a printed copy of the Sherman act with three words into sections 1 and 2, the words being "of whatever character." The effect would be to prohibit all combinations, conspiracies in restraint of trade, all monopolies, all combinations tending toward monopoly "of whatever character." In the Texas senator's opinion this change would effectually restore the prohibitions of the anti-trust law to just where they were before the recent decision was handed down.

It is contended by many members of congress whose voting records show them to be alert for the inter-

ANOTHER GOOD MEETING MEN'S PRAYER LEAGUE

WAS HELD SUNDAY AFTERNOON.

"Am I My Brother's Keeper?" The Subject For Discussion.

Many men of Greenville attend the Men's Prayer League each Sunday afternoon and receive great personal benefit therefrom; and those who stay away are missing much.

The meeting in the Christian church Sunday afternoon was led by Vice-President F. M. Wooten. The topic for discussion was "Am I My Brother's Keeper?" which shows that the men talk about practical things, that develop them in their service to others and thus make their own lives better. The leaders, Messrs. H. B. Harriss, J. L. Jackson and D. M. Clark, all made excellent talks, bringing out the practical, social, moral, educational and civil phases of the subject, showing our dependence one upon another and that each is responsible for his brother's welfare. In the open discussion that followed the leaders some good talks were made.

The meeting next Sunday afternoon will be held in the Baptist church. It is the purpose to make that meeting apply mainly to youths and boys and it is hoped a large number of them, as well as men, will be present. The subject is "The Call to the Boy." Text, I Samuel 3rd chapter. Leaders, Messrs. Benjamin Taylor, Charles Horne and Adrain Brown. Go out next Sunday afternoon and help the boys make it a good meeting.

For the summer the hour of meeting has been changed to 4:30 o'clock, one hour later than heretofore, and the meetings are to be only one hour long.

Visiting Minister.

The congregation of St. Paul's Episcopal church had the pleasure Sunday evening of listening to Rev. H. O. Nash, of Pittsboro, in a sermon that will be remembered to the edification of many appreciative hearers.

ests of the people, that the ruling of the Supreme court places in the anti-trust law a loophole for trusts and combinations to get through on the ground that they are not unreasonably restrictive of trade.

That the Sherman law will be restored to where it was before the decision was announced, is highly probable.

Farmers' "Friends" Sleeping.

The framers free list bill is blocked in the United States senate. Unless strong pressure is brought to bear there is danger that the bill will die in committee.

Yet the interests that are supplying money to fight reciprocity which interests are working overtime proclaiming their friendship for the farmers and asserting they oppose reciprocity solely because they feel for the farmers, have not as yet raised their voice against blockade of the free list bill.

Query: If the interests fighting reciprocity are really and in fact such great friends of the farmers, why are they indifferent over the fate of a bill which will untax nearly everything the farmers use?

Democratic Senate Probable.

If the next presidential election is carried by the Democrats, it is practically certain they will also control the senate. Should the Republicans elect the president, there will still be the possibility of Democratic control in the senate.

The substitution of four Democrats for as many Republicans would make the senate a tie; if the Democrats held the vice-presidency, they would therefore control the senate.

These Republicans face prospects of being succeeded by Democrats: Briggs, of New Jersey, Brown, of Nebraska, Curtis, of Kansas, Dixon, of Montana, Frye, of Maine, Gamble, of South Dakota and Kenyon, of Iowa.

Lorimer to be Re-Investigated.

That the election of United States Senator William Lorimer, of Illinois, shall again be investigated, and that a new investigation assures his almost certain ejection from the senate, is the prevailing opinion in Washington. Sentiment for the new investigation was brought to a head by the report of the Helm investigating committee in Springfield, which found that Lorimer had been elected by bribery and corruption.

AYCOCK FOR SENATOR.

Speaking of ex-Governor Aycock's coming out as a candidate for United States senator, the Raleigh Evening Times says:

Aycock's entrance into the race will be gladly welcomed by thousands of the people of the state and his getting into the fight will cut heavy inroads into the strength of somebody else. Aycock is popular with all classes and factions and he will probably draw support from all three of the other men, that is that would have been divided among the other men if he hadn't gotten into the race. Mr. Aycock is probably as generally popular with the people as either one of the other three men, but whether or not the fact that he is not arrayed with either one of the factions and cliques of the party in the state will prove a source of strength to him remains to be seen. It is likely that the fight will prove to be an intensely factional one, and the very intensity of it may serve to hold each division of the people in line for the faction that has its sympathy for the candidate that it believes best exemplifies its conception of what the party should stand for.

Ex-Governor Aycock has really entered the race for senator, the last to come out. If the Scriptural saying "the last shall be first," holds good, something may be expected of Mr. Aycock's candidacy.

The New York trained nurse who has heired a million and a half from a rich athlete whom she attended through twelve years of affliction, will not have to nurse any more, except her money.

We hope Greenville will get enough pleasure out of the base ball park this season to enthuse the people with the idea of having a real park. There ought to be one.

There are now four candidates in the race for United States senator. To keep up with the number Greenville will have to bring out another candidate for mayor.

We hope the predictions of the captains of finance, that the country will enjoy large trade in all lines this fall, will come true.

Bear Down On It.

On a train in North Carolina last Sunday two intelligent, well-dressed young ladies were travelling. One of them had just slacked her thirst at the cooler, the other was endeavoring to get water but did not know how to use the spigot when the first young lady, who was walking away, said "bear down on it." The remark was heard by a newspaper man and was an inspiration. When you want anything bear down on it. Put your heart and soul in—all your efforts—is the application. Nothing of account is secured without an effort. If you have some problem before you, that it appears you cannot solve, concentrate your energy, bear down on it, and you will solve it. If you are in need of money, friends, social standing, direct all your forces to accomplishing your desire, bear down on it, and like the spigot to the cooler it will turn loose enough elixir to fill your glass—the kind you want. It's the man who battles with a determination, the man who wills to do and knows, no defeat, the man who, when he meets an obstacle, does not waver but fights on that wins.—Salisbury Post.

Taxing Death.

They have queer ways of doing things down in Mexico, as most observers are aware by this time, but the fact that they virtually impose a tax on death is perhaps not generally known. To illustrate: A young American was drowned in the Rio Grande the other day and his body drifted down the river lodging finally on the Mexican side. When his relatives came to claim the body, they were received with the utmost courtesy, but were somewhat amazed when informed that the remains could not be sent out of the country except upon the payment of $120, that being the law in such cases made and provided. The moral, if there be any, is: Don't die in Mexico.—New York Evening Mail.

Medieval.

Russia is still medieval. The outbreak of fanaticism against the Jews of Kief, resulting from the discovery of the body of a boy whom the peasants assume to have been murdered as a ritualistic sacrifice, is a familiar event in medieval history.

One of the conspicuous instances of the sort occurred in England in the thirteenth century, when the body of a boy was found in a well on the premises of a Jew at Lincoln. The Jewish population of the town was at once accused of having done the murder as part of the ritual were put to death. Ninety-one others were condemned, but were ransomed. The boy's body was buried in the cathedral and he was canonized as St. Hugh, of Lincoln.

There was no evidence to support the accusation of murder, but, as one of the historians remarks, such charges were common as a means of extorting money from Jews. Doubtless in Russia, too, the economic motive is involved. When the mob is aroused against the Jews there are rare chances to plunder.—Kansas City Times.

A well-known federal official was strolling down Philadelphia avenue one afternoon when he encountered a very small boy crying bitterly. "What's the matter with that child?" demanded the official, somewhat peremptorily, of the woman who had him in charge.

M. Pasteur, sometimes called the Greatest Physician often said "I believe that we shall one day rid the world of all diseases that is caused by germs."

Of all the diseases caused by germs catarrh is one of the most persistent and loathsome. Catarrh can be cured, but only by destroying the germs.

HYOMEI will cure catarrh. There may be some complicated cases where it will fail, but the chances are ten to one in its favor, and the sufferer from catarrh takes no risk, because HYOMEI is a guaranteed remedy, and if it doesn't cure White's Drug Store will refund the purchase price.

HYOMEI will also give instant relief and cure in bronchitis, coughs, colds and croup. A complete outfit, including hard rubber pocket inhaler, costs only $1. If you own a Hyomei inhaler you can get a bottle of HYOMEI for 50 cents.

A HARMLESS WAY TO DARKEN THE HAIR

A Little Sage and Sulphur Makes Gray Hairs Vanish—A Remedy for All Hair Troubles.

Who does not know the value of sage and sulphur for keeping the hair dark, soft, glossy and in good condition? As a matter of fact, sulphur is a natural element of hair, and a deficiency of it in the hair is held by many scalp specialists to be connected with loss of color and vitality of the hair. Unquestionably, there is no better remedy for the hair and scalp troubles, especially premature grayness, than sage and sulphur, if properly prepared. The Wyeth Chemical Company of New York put up an ideal remedy of this kind, called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, and authorize druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Moye's Pharmacy.

The Weeder or the Harrow.

The question has been raised as to whether our statements relative to the usefulness of the weeder have not been misleading.

The editorial statements regarding the weeder, we believe, have been strictly correct. We have stated that it was the one implement which the one-horse farmer could use for rapid cultivation and that it was a splendid implement for the two-horse farmer in cultivating his crops.

But we have always stated that the weeder will not prove satisfactory when thorough preparation is not given, nor on heavy lands or lands run together to form a hard crust. In these cases the smoothing harrow should always take the place of the weeder.

It is then asked, why not the harrow in all cases? For these reasons: (1) The one-horse farmer, whose land is well prepared and light or mellow, can get over more ground with a weeder than with a harrow. (2) The weeder on such land does practically as good work and runs much lighter. (3) The weeder on such lands will do satisfactory work and may be used longer, or until the crops are larger than is practicable with the smoothing harrow.

Some of our correspondents may possibly have been less careful in stating the true function of the weeder; but we feel quite certain that the editorial position of the Progressive Farmer has been correct, as to the work to be done with the weeder. It has its limitations; but it is a very useful implement for early, rapid cultivation when the land is in proper condition, especially for the use of the one-horse farmer.—Raleigh Progressive Farmer.

Gold Hunter at 68.

Fearing his relatives would dissuade him, Samuel Bailey, 68 years old, left Passaic, N. J., secretly last week for the Klondike. Relatives received written farewells announcing that he was "on the way to fulfill his heart's desire."

Mr. Bailey has made two trips to the gold fields, returning each time with a small fortune. Recently he hinted that he might make a third journey, but his relatives persuaded him not to go because of his advanced age. He planned his departure so carefully that no one knew of it until he failed to return after leaving his home ostensibly for a walk.—New York Herald.

My Garden.

My heart is a little garden
Set in a desert waste;
The walls are rough, the door is small,
And high the key is placed.

None guess my hidden riches,
My wealth of leaf and bloom;
The gold of chalice lilies,
The roses' rare perfume.

Here climbs the starry jasmine,
Hope's ladder to the skies;
And here, like thoughts too pure for words,
The silken moonflowers rise.

Here falls the plashing fountain
With Fancy's waters bright;
Here fit Ambition's butterflies—
Winged jewels in the light.

And all sweet birds are singing
Their happy songs together;
So brings the year whatever cheer
My heart holds Summer weather.

The Relation of Alcohol to Insanity.

Among the various types of insanity of which at least a dozen might be enumerated, three are so directly traceable to a particular cause that, though differing in important aspects they are known collectively as the alcoholic insanities. No hospital physician questions the direct relation of cause and effect between alcohol and these three types of insanity. There are other forms of insanity to which the use of alcohol is believed by many to be a contributing cause to an extent as yet undefined and uncertain. But as to these three types of insanity there is no difference of opinion. They are due directly and exclusively to the use of alcohol. Its discontinuance may be followed by recovery; its continued use means to the patient insanity and early death. Here again the proportion of men admitted to hospitals for the insane suffering from alcoholic insanity is greater than the proportion of women being roughly speaking, 20 per cent. of the men admitted and 10 per cent. of the women.

The State Charities Aid Association and the other organizations engaged in the prevention of insanity are not temperance societies; they were not formed in the first instance by people who were particularly interested in the temperance question; or if so interested, that interest found expression in other directions. The time has come, however, when every person desirous of promoting the health and happiness of his fellow men and in preventing disease, and especially the great scourges of tuberculosis and insanity, must join hands in furthering whatever methods stand the test of practicability for the purpose of stopping the exploitation of the weakness of human beings for profit. Let us recognize, once for all, that liquors are not made to be drunk, but to be sold; that the most difficult factor in the problem of intemperance is not the man who wants to drink, but the man who wants to sell drinks.—Homer Folks, in American Review of Reviews.

Do Ghost Haunt Swamp?

No, never. Its foolish to fear a fancied evil, when there are real and deadly perils to guard against in swamps and marshes, bayous, and lowlands. These are the malaria germs that cause ague, chills and fever, weakness, aches in the bones and muscles and may induce deadly typhoid. But Electric Bitters destroys and casts out these vicious germs from the blood. "Three bottles drove all the malaria from my system," wrote Wm. Fretwell, of Lucama, N. C., "and I've had fine health ever since." Use this safe, sure remedy, only 50c at all druggists.

TO CURE SORE BUNIONS

Treatment Marvelously Quick for This and All Foot Troubles.

"Dissolve two tablespoonfuls of Calo cide compound in a basin of hot water; soak the feet in this for full fifteen minutes, gently massaging the sore parts. (Less time will not give desired results.) Repeat this each night until cure is permanent." All pain and inflammation is drawn out instantly and the bunion soon is reduced to normal size. Corns and callouses can be peeled right off and will stay off. Sore, tender feet and smelly, sweaty feet need but a few treatments. A twenty-five cent package of Calocide is usually sufficient to put the worst feet in fine condition. Calocide is no longer confined to only the doctors' use. Any druggist has it in stock or will quickly get it from his wholesale house. This will prove a welcome item to persons who have been vainly trying to cure their foot troubles with ineffective tablets and foot powders.

It gives us a jolt to find that the leading citizen is hungry three times a day and that he snores in his sleep.

EX. GOV. C. B. AYCOCK IN SENATORIAL RACE

SAYS HE WILL MAKE NO CANVASS

Writes a Letter in Which He Sets Forth His Position.

The following is a letter in which Governor Aycock makes known his candidacy:

Raleigh, N. C., May 20, 1911.
Col. Nathan B. Whitfield,
Kinston, N. C.

Dear Sir: I have given much consideration, not only to your letter, but to the numerous letters which I have received along the same line. I have been greatly gratified to find that, without solicitation or expectation on my part, and in spite of my previous statement that I would not be a candidate for the senate, great numbers of people from all callings in the state have urged me, by letter, by messages and in person, to reconsider the question and become a candidate. One who has been in public life and who has enjoyed the support and confidence of the people can never free himself from the obligation of giving due consideration to any call which the people make upon him. The requests from all parts of the state, and from people in all stations of life, have been so numerous and impressive as to lead me to the conclusion that it is my duty to say to the people that, if chosen by the Democratic party and elected by the legislature, I shall be glad to serve North Carolina in the United States senate.

It is unnecessary for me to enunciate any personal platform, it being well known throughout the state that I have always stood on the National and state Democratic platforms without question, believing as I do that the assembled wisdom of the Democracy of the nation and state is far greater than my own. I shall make no campaign looking to my selection for the senatorship. My financial condition is such that it is absolutely essential that I pursue my profession as a lawyer with unabated energy until such time as the people shall lay other duties upon me. I have no money to spend perfecting an organization, and if I had it I am convinced that the greatest evil of this day, politically, is the use of money in securing nominations and elections, and I therefore would not use it if I were able to command a fund requisite for such purpose. In addition to this reason for refusing to attempt an organization in behalf of my candidacy, I have a feeling that the senatorship would be worthless to me if secured by any such methods. If I shall go to the senate I must go free from special obligation to any set of men, and therefore, under equal obligation to every man. Going to the senate in this way would put me in a position to give to the people the highest service of which I am capable. I shall therefore entrust my candidacy, without reservation, to the people of the state, and shall not seek to shape their selection by organization or by personal appeals to them.

I cannot under any circumstances enter into a canvass with a view to presenting to North Carolinians my own deserts. If I have any, they are known to the people of this state, and they know best whether whatever talent I have is likely to be useful to them. When the time comes for the opening of the political campaign, I shall next year, as in all election years heretofore, tender my services to the party organization to do battle in behalf of Democratic principles. The speeches which I shall then make will be made in the service of the Democratic party and without regard to their possible effect upon my own personal interests. If in the end of the campaign, the people select any other candidate for the United States senate, I shall cheerfully acquiesce in the result. Public service when honestly rendered is the most difficult and painful of all service, and the satisfaction to be derived therefrom becomes manifest to one only after the service has been rendered in fidelity to the trust of the people, and when in private life he can receive the just praise of his fellow citizens for faithfulness to their interests. I have served the people of this state once in high office. I have enjoyed since then the constant and increasing confidence of the people of North Carolina in the integrity of my purpose when governor, and the appreciation which they have since shown me of the service which I was then able to do for the state. It is with a like hope that I permit myself to announce to the people through you my candidacy for the United States senate.

Very truly yours,
C. B. AYCOCK.

ANNOUNCEMENTS FOR MAYOR

To The Voters of Greenville.

I respectfully announce myself a candidate for the office of mayor of Greenville, subject to the will of the Democratic primary. I have retired from the drug business that I may live more in the open air and purpose, if elected, to devote myself to the detailed discharge of the duties of the office.

My past record as an officer is known to you. I have used my best efforts to enforce the laws, and if elected, shall continue to do so.

Gratefully,

5 15—tfd ERANK M. WOODEN.

To The Voters of Greenville.

I take this method of announcing myself a candidate for mayor, subject to the action of the Democratic voters of the town. As has been the custom heretofore, and as there is more than one candidate for the nomination, I suggest the holding of a voting primary to decide upon the nominee. In announcing my candidacy, I wish to state that I have no special interests to serve, and am no particular person's candidate, and if nominated and elected, will do all that I can for a more economical administration of the town's affairs, and to serve all the people to the best of my ability.

5 15—tfd W. F. EVANS.

To The Voters of Greenville.

At the solicitation of several prominent business men and many personal friends, I have consented to become a candidate for mayor, subject to the action of the Democratic primary, and take this means of announcing my candidacy and soliciting your support.
