

OUR WEEKLY LETTER FROM WASHINGTON

THE TAFT-ALDRICH ALLIANCE Progressive Republicans Want To See Taft Defeated.

(By Clyde H. Tavenner, special Washington correspondent of The Reflector).

Washington, July 10.—President Taft will be opposed by progressive Republicans for a re-nomination on the ground that he is still the mouth-piece of Aldrich and the great law-defying industrial corporations of the country.

If proof was necessary to show that the old alliance between Taft and Aldrich still exists, the president himself furnished it on two notable occasions within the last couple of weeks when he went out of his way to endorse the Aldrich near-central-bank scheme, which is designed to give Wall street absolute control of the money and credit of the United States, and thus make it the absolute master of business and industry.

Progressive Republicans contend that if the president should be re-nominated and re-elected "he would continue to be the complaisant help-mate of schemers like Aldrich, who are striving constantly to make the great masses of the public little more than the serfs of the few men who compose the great financial combination, of which J. Piermont Morgan and the Standard Oil capitalists are the most conspicuous figures." And Mr. Taft now publicly confirms the fears of the progressives.

Therefore the only thing left for the public to conclude is that Mr. Taft's re-election would necessarily place back in control of congress the same class of men who were swept out by the indignation of the public in the last election.

Democrats Making Honest Efforts.
The Democrats are sincere in their efforts to run the house of representatives on an economical business basis. The report of Jerry Smith, chief clerk of the house, just made public, shows that during the month of June a saving of $3,561.90 was effected as a result of the abolishing of useless offices. This item, which does not include the big reduction on the police force which the senate has not yet concurred in but will approve shortly, means a saving of $102,742.80 in a year.

This is not a stupendous sum, it is true, but the spirit is in striking contrast to the $35 wastepaper baskets in the offices of Postmaster General Hitchcock and the expensive recreations taken by the Aldrich monetary commission at public expense at Narragansett pier.

Taft Bureau Repudiated.
Once more the White House press bureau has been forced to back-track. It was like this: Franklin A. Shotwell, of Omaha, secretary of the Progressive Republican League of Nebraska, came to Washington, had a talk with the president, and was quoted by the White House press bureau as saying that Nebraska was strong "for Taft for re-nomination and re-election." Now it happens that the league which Mr. Shotwell was made to appear as speaking for, is "strong" against Taft instead of being for him. When the officials of the Nebraska organization heard of Shotwell's statement they promptly passed resolutions repudiating it, and wired them to Washington. The fact is the real progressive Republicans stand as a unit against Taft's re-nomination, and every indication is that if he secures the nomination they will permit him to go down in defeat. Then they will make an attempt to re-organize the Republican party.

Progressives Lose Ground.
When it is too late some of the Republican insurgents in the United States senate who are opposing reciprocity may learn that they are committing one of those huge political blunders that have been described as worse than crimes.

Real Revision Downward.
The wool bill, passed by the Democratic house, but not acted upon as yet in the Republican senate, reduces the tax on cloth out of which the poor man's clothing is made, from 160 per cent. to from 25 to 40 per cent; on women's dress goods from 160 per cent. to from 30 to 45 per cent., and on blankets from 160 per cent. to 30 per cent.

ESCAPED HORRIBLE DEATH.

All Because A Trusted Negro Fell Asleep.

Wilson, July 8.—A most sensational and blood-curdling story was told in Mayor Dickinson's court this morning of the intention of a Wilson negro by the name of Sylvester Goffney, who formerly had been employed by Messrs. George W. Barnes and Bros., grocers, on lower East Nash street. Only from the fact that Goffney fell asleep last Monday night, Mr. George Barnes would have met a most tragic death. As stated, Goffney had been in the employ of Barnes Bros. for some time, and they had let him go simply because he had an opportunity to better his condition, telling him that if his new place did not prove satisfactory to report to them and they would reinstate him. They reposed the utmost confidence in him.

Mr. George Barnes had been in the habit of sleeping in his store, and on last Monday night, after closing hours, Goffney rapped on the back door and asked Mr. Barnes if he might not spend the night in his store that he would sleep in a chair. Permission was granted him, and when Mr. Barnes awoke next morning Goffney was dead to the world, snoring loudly.

On Tuesday morning Goffney approached Richard Farmer, a 15-year-old delivery boy, and said to him: "Richard, I've a plan whereby we can make a bunch of money. If you will join in with me and fix the window tonight so that I can enter the store, I'll go in and rob and give you half what I get. Will you do it?"

The boy (who has the requirements of a good detective), seemingly to Goffney agreed to enter into the conspiracy, and told him he would leave the shutter unfastened and the rest would be easy sailing. Then Goffney told Richard about his sleeping in the store the night before, and that it was his intention when Mr. Barnes fell asleep to chop his head off with the meat axe; and continuing, he said "Don't forget; tonight leave the shutter unhooked; we'll go in and fix Barnes and then go to old man Galther's and rob his place. He has a bag of money as long as you are. You know the old man can't see much, and when he finish the job the old woman won't see at all."

The faithful boy went to his employer and unfolded to him the diabolical plot. Mr. Barnes called in Police Officer Wynn and asked him what he should do in the matter. The officer instructed Mr. Barnes to keep mum—not to mention the matter to a living soul—and cautioned the boy to do just as Goffney wanted him to do—even to entering the store with him.

Late in the afternoon Goffney met the boy on the street and said to him "Don't forget tonight. And I say, did you have a good day at the store today?" Richard told him a good business had been done, when Goffney remarked: "We'll make a good spill tonight, sure."

This was last Tuesday, and Mr. Barnes, who was on the watch on the inside, when he heard the noise on the outside, asked: "Who's there?" Goffney answered, saying: "It's me." Mr. Barnes recognized his voice and refused to turn him in. Goffney continued to fumble at the window when Mr. Barnes fired his pistol and the negro ran away.

Friday afternoon he met Richard and wanted to know if he had not given him away. The boy told him he had kept his word and that he wouldn't tell on him for a hundred dollars. It was then agreed that the job should be pulled off between 12 and 1 this morning. The boy told Mr. Barnes of the new arrangement, and at the appointed time both of the negroes showed up, and entrance was made by the window "fixed by Richard."

In the meantime the three Barnes boys, Officer Wynn and the day telegraph operator at the Atlantic Coast Line depot had secreted themselves around the building. As soon as things got quiet in the store Policeman Wynn fired off his pistol, which had been agreed on as a signal for Richard to come out and surrender. After Richard came out the officer called to Goffney to come out, but received no response. Then firing in the air five or six times, the frightened wretch came out with his hands up.

After hearing the evidence, Mayor Dickinson required a justified bond of $500 for Goffney's appearance at September court, failing to give which he was placed in jail.

Dogmatism is puppyism that has obtained its growth.

STORMS DEVELOP THE GREAT OAKS

A STORY OF DAYS LONG GONE.

Type of the Old School Where Teaching Was Thorough.

Hanrahan, N. C., July 10.—During the high tide of prosperity to the comparatively few who owned slaves in the South, and before the Civil war had brought on the idle tide for a while of adversity, but which afterward made it possible for every man to stand on equal footing, my oldest sister had finished the course at St. Mary's, then as now, one of the best female schools in our South land. Then that school did not give diplomas, but one thing it did, old Dr. Sneed, of blessed memory, instilled high ideals into the minds and hearts of every one of his pupils if such principals could be imparted to them. Any girl who attended his school two years and did not return a strong advocate of abolition principles that wanted to see everything have liberty and freedom, hating to see a bird caged, rather feed and treat them kindly, that they might sing more sweetly their songs of love and cheer as they flit from tree to tree. Another practical idea old Dr. Sneed instilled into the mind of my sister was that of a love well nigh kin to devotion for the very best literature that was comortable, and still another was to even use the simplest language at her command to express clearly the thought that she might wish to convey. These ideals and principles followed her even until at 80 she crossed over to meet him with others in the beyond.

So the next day after my first at the old log cabin school house, I took my place at the feet of this sister and listened to her charming stories and the gems that she so often read to me, and oh, how my mind and heart did yearn to be able just to say or write something that would jingle and lift one's soul up as did some of those lines lift mine up. I dreamed and pondered, thought and wondered, ever trying with my heart still sighing for the gift to write just four lines that would jingle. She had taught me that the only way to attain anything with the while was by close application and the strictest care and observation of the small details that come to us in life. So the days went by and wore into weeks, months, and two years had passed, the war clouds had recolled back and left the terrific storm of reconstruction days, when all the offices of our land, even to the country offices, were filled by unscrupulous men. One day during this period, 'twas on a sultry June day, mother, sister (my teacher), and I were sitting in the front yard underneath the canopy of the stately oaks that added so much beauty and comfort to our home in the long summer days. Little Eugene Meadows came running and screaming at the top of his voice. We all rushed to meet him to find the trouble. "Oh, please, my mama was making soap in the yard and her frock catch fire, and she runned until she fell and when I 'catched' her she could not talk, and she is dead and has left sis and me. Oh, please come go with me back." The frame of a horse that my older brother had gotten from the Yankee camps was harnessed as quick as possible, and papa and mother drove over there. They found her body burned beyond recognition, lying in the little clearing about 200 yards from the cabin, with the little girl kneeling over her dead mother. They wrapped the body as best they could and prepared it for burial, then sent for two of the nearest neighbors to come stay that night with the corpse. That night as we sat on the porch at home, papa and mother were talking of the sad, sad condition of the little boy and girl. Papa said that there was nothing else to be done with them, except to bind them out and that the clerk of the court was a hard-hearted and unscrupulous man, and that he felt sure they would have to go to some one that would show but little, if any, mercy towards them. It was bad for us all and the way seemed dark and, oh, so gloomy for the two children. My sister listened at the dark picture until she could withhold her sentiments no longer, then she quoted these lines:

Judge not the Lord by feeble sence, But trust Him for His grace: Behind a frowning Providence, He hides a smiling face. She said that she felt that though

How To Make Our Town.

One man cannot make a town. The newspaper cannot do it. But one man on a newspaper with the help of the wide-awake men of the place all pulling together, can make a wide difference in the place. Every man who succeeds in a town is a help to it. The more money he makes, if he spends it, the better for the community. The larger business he builds up, the more he advertises, and hence, the more attention he brings to the town. A man cannot build up an honorable business in the town without helping the country. The interest of one is the interest of all. No town will become a business center so long as its business men rely upon a few merchants to make the effort to bring trade to the town. Too often the men in a few lines of trade are about the only ones that reach out for custom. Other merchants will wait until these men have induced the people to come to town and content themselves with trade that naturally drifts to their place.

A public spirited man should ask himself if he is doing his part in attracting people to town to trade.—Maxton Scottish Chief.

Jamaica Wants Reciprocity.

The island of Jamaica, Great Britain's possession in the West Indies, has looked with envious eyes upon the reciprocity agreement between the United States and Canada. The Telegraph-Guardian of Kingston goes so far as to suggest that Jamaica be annexed to Canada if there is no other way in which the reciprocal arrangement can be secured.

It is interesting to note that the English citizens of Jamaica have watched with satisfaction the development of Cuba and Porto Rico under American administration. They know the conditions which prevailed in those islands under Spanish rule, and the contrast is most marked. Porto Rico as a dependency of the United States, has made progress along commercial and educational lines, while Cuba, even though it now has its dependent government, owes its existence as a republic to the United States. This is the evidence which is before the eyes of the Jamaicans, as they want some share in the prosperity of their fellow-islanders.—Washington Herald.

Revenue Collections.

Statesville.—Cashier R. B. Roberts, of the office of Collector Geo. H. Brown, of the Western interterminal revenue district, reports collections for last month aggregating $391,987.69, and the remarkable feature of the report is that none of the revenue collected was on spirits. In fact it is the first month in the history of the office that nothing was collected on spirits.

The collections in this district during the fiscal year which closed with last month totaled $3,496,909.64, an increase of $232,457.06 over the preceding year. Practically all the increase was in the collections on tobacco. Since the state prohibition laws became effective the collections on spirits have gradually decreased, but the collections on tobacco have shown an enormous increase, hence.

Aldermen Scrap.

There was an exciting scene enacted in front of the city market last night at 10:30 o'clock, when at the conclusion of the monthly meeting of the board, aldermen Alexander Webb and J. The two were taken into custody by officers Brown and Wyatt and gave bond in the sum of $10 each for their appearance before the acting police justice Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

The affair had its origin in the meeting of the board, when alderman Upchurch called alderman Webb a liar.—New and Observer.

Hudson of No. 311 Clay avenue, west, and placed an ardent kiss on her lips. "I will give you $10, Judge," said Pugliese, "and no more." The Judge was determined and the fine was upheld. A Little Sage and Sulphur Makes Gray Hairs Vanish—A Remedy for All Hair Troubles.

Who does not know the value of sage and sulphur for keeping the hair dark, soft, glossy and in good condition? As a matter of fact, sulphur is a natural element of hair, and a deficiency of it in the hair is held by many scalp specialists to be connected with loss of color and vitality of the hair. Unquestionably, there is no better remedy for the hair and scalp troubles, especially premature grayness, than sage and sulphur, if properly prepared. The Wyeth Chemical Company of New York put up an ideal remedy of this kind, called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, and authorize druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Moyer's Pharmacy.

Mystery of The Sphinx.

Prof. George A. Reisner, of Harvard University, after several years of tireless research, has announced that the figure on the Sphinx is that of a lion equipped with the head of Chephren, a Pharaoh of Egypt on the fourth dynasty, who ruled in about the year 2850 B. C. This is the king who built the second pyramid, which is known to archaeologists as "Werkhafa," meaning "Great is Cephren." Chephren was the son of Cheops, and he was succeeded, in turn, by Mycerinus, who built the third pyramid.

The investigations which disclosed the identity of the Sphinx began in 1903, and were finally terminated only a short time ago. Their purposes form an interesting story of international research, three noted archaeologists, representing three big nations, being the leading actors. They were each given permission to delve for hidden treasures beneath the desert sand, and settled by drawing lots as to how they should divide the ground pyramid, and his discoveries were of chosen for the purpose. To Prof. Reisner fell the investigation of the third unusual importance.—From Popular Mechanics.

Greenville Citizen Found Complete Freedom from Kidney Troubles.

If you suffer from backache—From urinary disorders—From any disease of the kidneys, Be cured to stay cured. Doan's Kidney Pills make lasting cures.

Greenville people testify. Here's one case of it: James Hardison, 411 Fifth St., Greenville, N. C., says, "I had trouble from my kidneys and the kidney secretions passed too frequently at night. In the morning when I got up, there was a lameness across my loins and I also suffered from backache. Doan's Kidney Pills, which I procured from the John L. Wooten Drug Company, relieved all these symptoms of kidney complaint and restored my kidneys to a normal condition. At the present time I am free from backache and I have no hesitation in giving Doan's Kidney Pills the credit for bringing about this change." (Statement given January 14, 1908).

No Trouble Since.

On December 17, 1910, Mr. Hardison said: "I take pleasure in confirming my former statement in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills. This remedy made a permanent cure in my case and during the past two and a half years I have had no need of a kidney medicine."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

The Amuzu theatre, which has been under the management of Dr. L. G. Schaffer for some time, has been sold to Mr. H. G. Sparrow, of Washington, proprietor of the Lyric theatre of that city, and its name will be changed to Gaiety.

Mr. Sparrow has had a great deal of experience in the business and is a successful motion picture showman. He intends to make extensive improvements throughout the building, such as replacing the old front with a new one, installing a good ventilating and fanning system and a new picture machine. He will cater strictly to refined trade in motion pictures and run a high class show in every respect.

Well Said.

Few men have grown more in twelve years than has Bryan Grimes. A representative planter to begin with, whose father's fame is an undying heritage, he proved immediately upon taking office that he was worthy of it. He has made a model secretary of state. But he has not been content with this. He has taken a place in the fore front of the state's first men. He is a leader at once of the farmers, of the progressive Democracy, and of the state's literary and historical interests. He has developed remarkably as a public speaker, and in any campaign he is prepared to do full service. He appears to be in fine health, and ready for twenty years more of political progress.—Bloomsbury, in Carolina Democrat.

The Reflector Want Ads for Results.

Convicts Proved True.

Elkin.—Twenty-five long term convicts employed on the railroad construction work four miles north of here, after giving their word that they would not attempt to escape, kept faith with Guard Lewis who rode the distance to obtain medical assistance for two fellow guards who were struck by lightning during a severe electrical storm. Guard C. R. McGrady was killed instantly by a bolt and Guard Walter Simmons was probably fatally injured. When Lewis returned he found his prisoners safe.

Judge Ward's Friends Anxious.

Tarboro.—For six weeks now Judge Ward, of the Superior court bench, has been under treatment in the hospital here, and his friends are growing anxious about his condition in the light of reports that there is no improvement. An excessive flow of blood to the head is said to be his principal trouble.

Ahead of Greenville.

The first home-raised watermelons for this season made their appearance on the local market today, and they brought fancy prices. Mr. George Lee brought in four right nice ones, which were sold for 50 cents each.—Kinston Free Press.

Ohio Bribe-Takers.

Ohio bribers are getting it in the neck. Monday a verdict of guilty was returned against Rodney J. Diegel, senate sergeant-at-arms, by a jury which gave sixty-six and one-half hours to deliberation. Diegel was the alleged go-between in the bribery. He and his wife and daughter sat unmoved when the verdict was announced. Two indicted senators, however, who were in the court room were visibly perturbed. Diegel's attorneys gave notice of the filing of a motion for a new trial. It is believed that the defense attorney's fees will aggregate $20,000. One of his lawyers, C. J. Mattern, of Dayton, received $6,000. Diegel is a poor man. The inference generally drawn is that a large fund for legal defense has been made up by indicted assemblymen, lobbyists and others who fear to be dragged into the case. The penalty which Diegel faces is a prison sentence of one to five years and a fine of $100 to $500. He may have to stand trial on two other indictments.—Greensboro Record.

North Carolina, Pitt County, In the Superior Court.

Abram Mills vs. Offa Dail.

By virtue of an execution directed to the sheriff of Pitt county, from the supreme court of Pitt county in the above entitled action, I will on Monday, the 28th day of August 1911, it being the first Monday of the August civil term of the superior court of Pitt county, at the hour of 12 o'clock noon, at the court house door in said county, sell to the highest bidder for cash, to satisfy said execution, all the right title and interest which the said Offa Dail the defendant, on the 15th day of January 1903, or at any time thereafter, had in the following description of real estate to wit: One tract of land lying and being in the county of Pitt and state of North Carolina, and in Contentnea township, beginning at a small bridge in the Joseph Jones line, and runs with a ditch to the head nearly opposite the house, then S. 9 W. several small pines in the head of the branch, then N. 21 1-2 east 109 poles to a stake in the Joseph Jones line, then S. 71 1-2 east 41 2-3 poles to the beginning, containing 25 acres more or less. Also one other tract of land in said township, county, and state. Beginning in the Franklin line on the big ditch in the Fred Whitefield, then running up the ditch to Henry Beddard's line, then with Henry Beddard's line to Lorenzo McLawhorne's line, then with Lorenzo McLawhorne's line to Biggs Stork's line then with the Jones and Dail line back to the beginning, containing 22 acres, more or less.

Also one other tract of land in said county and state, bounded on the north by B. W. Tucker, on the east by the Haddock land, on the south by B. Tripp, on the west by the county road, containing 140 acres, more or less.

This the 4 day of July 1911.
S. I. DUDLEY,
Sheriff of Pitt county
