A SLAVERY WORSE THAN DEATH

CHILDREN WERE BOUND OUT.

Days Before There Were Homes For The Orphans.

Hanrahan, N. C., July 14.—The way to usefulness, to glory and to fame often leads through darkness, struggle, toil and sometimes shame. On the following day after the sad and untimely death of Mrs. Meadows she was laid to rest without much ceremony or many flowers, and as there was no homes provided for orphan children, on Tuesday of the following week the two children were taken to the court house and there, according to the stern law, were each bound to separate masters, the girl going to a man with some parental feeling the boy to an old planter whose abiding place stood near the banks of the Neuse. An uncouth, illiterate overbearing man, one who thought that children were machines made only to toil and go from daylight until darkness drove them into their rude den, and if perchance they failed to respond to his tyrannical bidding, they only needed to be lashed with a whip, or administered with a long stream of brutal elbow grease; or if ill health came and disease must follow unsanitary conditions, and come it will to those who with much less humanity than our beast of the field or driven half clad and entirely unshod. This 10-year-old boy most needs go through winters cold and summers torrid sun, through boggy mud and scorching sands, and soon the pink flush in his cheeks began to fade, his eyes were sunken and no longer gave out their sparkling hue; his limbs instead of their symmetrical form and solid plumpness were flabby, lean and lank; his abdomen that was once so well shapen stuck out well to the front as though he had swallowed whole a dinner pot; his foot steps that were once so fleet, light and nimble, had learned to drag, thump and even shuffle as an aged man trying to conceal feeble years. His cheeks that were once so plump and rosy, faded into a sallow, yea, even worse, they were as chalk and tallow mixed with a greenish cast added. Instead of his once musical and captivating voice, his words were harsh with an evident labored utterance. Accused of eating dirt, yes, he had this affront to bear, though he knew in his soul of this he was clear. Accused of laziness, yes, he was pointed to by his tyrannical master as a "lazy lout." Was there anything done to alleviate his suffering or to restore him back to health and vigor? Yes, he was lashed until he had to go, and cinders, rusty iron, soaked in vinegar three times each day washed down with brandy he must swallow, for his master thought this a panacea for all the ailments that the human body was heir to. What on earth could the trouble be? No one knew or would have known if he had done that which he did not, called in the most skilled physician of that day, even they could not have diagnosed his trouble. But the glorious light of the twentieth century has been turned on, and today bring such a case before a bright child in the eighth grade of our public schools and they will tell you that, that is hook worm.

For three long summers and two winters Eugene patiently bore his depression and suffering, being driven like an ox when death would have been even a sweeter cup than to continually have to go when there were no red corpuscles in the blood to give force to the flabby muscles.

I say he had borne this and worse until he had reached a point it seemed to him beyond which endurance could not reach. So one night after he had tried from fear to toil all day, and finished his chores that he had to run after the setting of the sun, he flung himself down on his rough shuck mattress on the porch with the stars keeping watch over his crude reclining place. Weary and restless for some hours he rolled and tossed until a halo seemed to hover around and cover him. Then half waking, half sleeping, he had, oh, such a dream. He saw his angelic mother coming down to where he lay. Her face was all radiant and beautiful, her garments glistened like pearls, the stars in her crown illumined the darkness and he saw in her left hand a cup of purest gold glittering all over with the rarest of diamonds, and then he heard her gently whisper,

ON TO JAIL.

Andrew Couldn't Give Bond—Other Stolen Goods Recovered.

Andrew Wilkins, whose capture charged with breaking into and robbing Messrs. Shehdan's store, was told in Thursday's paper, had a hearing this morning before Mr. C. D. Rountree, J. P., and sent to jail in default of bond for his appearance at the August court.

After being locked up yesterday he made a confession, telling where other stolen goods could be found. He said he had left two suit cases of stolen goods at the house of Major Pollard, colored. Chief Smith and Policeman Clark went to Major's house and found the suit cases.

When the cases were opened and the goods examined, they were found to contain goods other than those taken from the Shehdan store. Among them were clothes belonging to several white people in town, which had been stolen from the tailor and pressing shop of Frank Hopkins, colored, which shop was broken into and robbed the same night.

Danger Past.

By Wire to The Reflector.

Detroit, July 14.—The great danger from forest fires in the Michigan peninsula is practically over now.

"My son, rise quickly, drink this, take courage and be of good cheer, for you are near your old home, and by the bank of yonder river, hid by the hills and a thick forest yet undiscovered save by the roving Indian tribes, is an elixir of life for you and for many yet unborn. Yes, there is a balm in Gilead for the emaciated child and a solace for those who weep, and to you it is given to discover this remedy and then to tell it to suffering nations. But there are many hardships and struggles yet in your pathway."

Thus saying, with her right hand she pointed down the river and with her left lowered the cup to his quivering lips. He shuddered and then eagerly drank until he could drink no more, for to his great surprise he found that the cup contained pure water. When he had finished drinking and the cup had been withdrawn, he looked and lo, his angelic mother was gone.

WARE-KRAMER VS A. T. COMPANY

PLAINTIFF GETS VERDICT $60,000.

The Stockholders Get Nothing—The Defendant Appeals.

Raleigh, July 13.—A verdict of $20,000 damages was returned by the jury at 10 o'clock this morning after about 20 hours' discussion in favor of the plaintiffs in the suit of the Ware-Kramer Tobacco Co. against the American Tobacco Co. The verdict, it is stated, is the first to be brought in by a jury awarding damages under section 7 of the Sherman anti-trust law. This section provides for recovery of treble damages and attorneys' fees for the counsel of plaintiff, which will make the judgment $60,000, in addition to what Judge Connor decides the attorneys should have. The jury, it is said, stood five for the defendant and seven for the plaintiff until a very short while before a compromise was reached. For a while it looked like a mistrial. The jury fees alone were over $1,000, while it is estimated that the total cost to the American Tobacco Co., including court costs, will be about $100,000. A motion for a new trial was made by Junius Parker, of counsel for the defendant, and this was denied. An appeal was taken to the United States Circuit court of Appeals, and the plaintiff being uncertain whether it would also appeal, asked for several hours to communicate with stockholders of the company and receiver.

Late this afternoon Judge Connor allowed the counsel for the plaintiff $10,000, and he, therefore, signed a judgment for $70,000 and costs. The plaintiff decided not to appeal and the defendant appealed.

The $60,000 judgment if sustained by the higher courts will be paid into the receiver's hands and disbursed by order of the court.

Some of the counsel for the plaintiff today were very much disappointed at the comparative smallness of the verdict when they hoped to recover $1,200,000. The stockholders of the company will not get a cent for all their work in fighting the "trust" as the creditors will come in for all the recovery.

The Ware-Kramer company, of North Carolina, was organized at Winston in 1904, manufactured a cigarette called "White Rolls." The North Carolina company went out of business in 1906 when its assets were transferred to the Ware-Kramer company, of Virginia, and this went into the hands of a receiver in 1906. They claimed the use of coupons and free goods, cut prices, and business methods of the American Tobacco company, forced them out of business. Mr. Ware and certain other gentlemen paid $15,000 for the plant of the Ware-Kramer company when Receiver Thorpe sold it at Richmond as the Ware Tobacco company.

NEWS THAT IS OF IN- TEREST TO TAR HEELS

GATHERED FROM EXCHANGES.

And Briefly Told For The Reflector's Busy Readers.

The hot-wave came to a climax this morning about nine o'clock, when Baker Bryan and Rev. A. C. Shuler met on Middle street near a photograph gallery. Bryan was told that the minister of the gospel had been criticizing his mode of living. This caused the man of the world to become infuriated and on sight attacked the minister, and from statement eye witnesses a lively bout took place both combatants landing several blows, but from the appearance of both members of the arena no serious damage was done.—New Bern Sun.

Four North Carolina counties—Robeson, Sampson, Columbus and Halifax—now have temporary dispensaries and hospital service for the treatment of hookworm disease under the direction of Dr. John A. Farrell. For each of these dispensaries there is a hookworm specialist and a laboratory man so that the examinations as to the presence of the hookworm and the treatment for the elimination of the pest from the system can be administered to all comers close by their homes.

The tree was over 90 feet to the first limb and, as nearly as could be estimated, about 400 years old.—Rich Square Times.

A WOMAN DEPUTY SHERIFF

Miss Hendricks Guards Contraband Whiskey And Censors Plays.

The only young woman in the South occupying the position of deputy sheriff so far as is known is Miss Gertrude Hendricks, of Anniston, Ala., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Davis Hendricks.

She belongs to a wealthy family and enjoys a high social standing in her native town. When sitting at her desk with the handcuffs and her trusted revolver within reach she presents a pretty picture, her dainty blonde with a wealth of sunny hair and musical Southern voice.

Miss Hendricks says she is not a suffragette, but just a plain, home loving young woman. She can appear as demure as a sweet girl graduate and the next moment look a man through and through and give orders like an old stager in the enforcement of the law.

It was this characteristic that induced Sheriff Brooks of Calhoun county to appoint her.

One reason she was appointed a deputy sheriff and placed in charge of the office was that there is always about a carload of contraband whiskey, beer and wine held awaiting orders from the courts in the county, which is under prohibition, and Sheriff Brooks wanted a woman who could guard this without the temptation to which his force of men have been subjected and some of whom have time and again yielded.

She has entire charge of the office while the men are kept on outside duty.

Miss Hendrick carries a revolver in her chateleine or silver bag. She promises to spring some surprises which has put the "400" of Anniston on the anxious bench, since it has leaked out that she is studying the niceties of the statutes in their application to bridge parties and to spiked punch at afternoon teas.

She will also visit the theatres and picture shows in the capacity of censor to suppress things when they get too bad, and she says she will see that proper limits are strictly observed by both and especially in those features.—Commercial Appeal.

By Wire to The Reflector.

Cabot, Ont., July 14.—One hundred people are dead and two hundred missing, and three million dollars damage represent the loss by fire to America's greatest gold mine camp. The flames spread so fast driven ahead of the wind that there was a small chance for any miners and their families to escape.

STAND BY THE OFFICERS.

Greenville is fortunate in having so diligent and courageous an officer as Policeman George Clark. The law breakers fear him, for they know he is going to catch them if the least clue is left to work on. The presence of such an officer is a deterrent to crime, and this is shown in the scarcity of offenses of consequence here. The purpose of this reference to Officer Clark is not so much to praise him, though his record deserves it, as it is to impress the fact upon the citizen of the town that they owe to him a duty. While he goes about his duty fearing no danger, he is nevertheless in danger, and the citizens should see that he is properly safeguarded. His official acts should have the moral support, and physical if need be, of every law-abiding citizen, and this support should be so strong as to impress any law-breaker who would think of trying to do him harm that people would not stand for it a moment. The way to have good officers is to stand by them in the performance of their duties.

After consuming four weeks of the Federal court at Raleigh, the suit of the Ware-Kramer Tobacco Company against the American Tobacco Company for $1,200,000 damages, came to a conclusion Thursday. The jury gave the plaintiff a verdict for $20,000, which under the Sherman law can be trebled, and judgment for $60,000 was entered.

William Jennings Bryan, in his paper, The Commoner, names Chief Justice Walter Clark, of North Carolina, as one of the possibilities for the presidential nomination next year. While it is not probable Judge Clark will get the nomination, the convention might look a long time without finding a better man.

There ought to be one more coronation to which Uncle Sam could send John Hayes Hammond. That would be a plenty.

to have his optic organs glued to the horizon at the precise moment when the center of the sun forged brightly above it, but he is willing to take the other's word for the assertion that with it rose Sirius, the dog-star.

Peculiar interest attaches to this statement by reason of the doctrine, which of course no one who cherishes his life or has any reverence for tradition would attempt to deny any more than he would cast doubt upon the weather-wisdom of the wood-chuck, that if rain falls upon the first dog day, it will fall likewise on each and every one of the other thirty-nine individually and severally. And rain fell on yesterday.—Charlotte Observer.

Burned by Gasoline.

A serious accident occurred last Wednesday morning, when Mrs. C. R. Young, wife of Dr. C. R. Young of this place, was building a fire in a cooking stove with gasoline and the flames caught her clothing on fire, burning her seriously about the body. Mrs. Young ran out the house towards the stables where her brother-in-law, Mr. T. L. Young, was feeding. He heard her cries and met her near a clothes wire where some washed clothes had recently been placed. Seizing a piece of clothing that was hanging on the wire, Mr. Young soon extinguished the flames, but not until Mrs. Young's clothing was mostly burned from her and she was seriously burned.

Drs. Judd, of Cardenas, and Young, husband of Mrs. Young, rendered medical attention. It is expected she will recover.—Harnett Leader.

Three Mills Burn.

Three saw mill plants in this section have been destroyed by fire in the last two weeks. The saw mill plant of the Racoarda Lumber Co., at Lane, was destroyed by fire Friday afternoon. The loss is estimated to be between $15,000 and $20,000, with no insurance.

At Bunn's Level, a few miles north of Lane, a few days ago Mr. Miller Allen's plant was burned, entailing a loss of $3,000 with no insurance.

About the same time, about ten days ago, Mr. Neill Black's saw mill plant near Manchester was completely destroyed by fire; losses nearly $2,000 with no insurance.—Dunn Guide.

Struck Third Time.

Hendersonville.—The spire of the Presbyterian church was struck by lightning yesterday afternoon. It was so damaged, and, curious to note, a man was on the interior of the steeple at the time, who had just undertaken to recap the steeple uncapped ten years ago, and which, principally on account of the difficulty of the job had never been replaced until now. The workmen were stunned but not hurt. The heavy downpour of rain put out the fire at once. Once this steeple was damaged by wind, in addition to the three visitations of lightning.

Among the directors of the National Educational Association are:

CURED TO STAY CURED.

Greenville Citizen Found Complete Freedom from Kidney Troubles.

If you suffer from backache—From urinary disorders—From any disease of the kidneys, Be cured to stay cured.

Doan's Kidney Pills make lasting cures.

Greenville people testify. Here's one case of it: James Hardison, 411 Fifth St., Greenville, N. C., says, "I had trouble from my kidneys and the kidney secretions passed too frequently at night. In the morning when I got up, there was a lameness across my loins and I also suffered from backache. Doan's Kidney Pills, which I procured from the John L. Wooten Drug Company, relieved all these symptoms of kidney complaint and restored my kidneys to a normal condition. At the present time I am free from backache and I have no hesitation in giving Doan's Kidney Pills the credit for bringing about this change." (Statement given January 14, 1908).

No Trouble Since.

On December 17, 1910, Mr. Hardison said: "I take pleasure in confirming my former statement in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills. This remedy made a permanent cure in my case and during the past two and a half years I have had no need of a kidney medicine."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

The Diary of a June Groom.

It's all off. She went through my coat pockets the other day and discovered my diary. When I got home last night I struck a cool wave—the only one in town I guess. "I suppose you think you're smart," she said, by way of beginning. "I couldn't think of anything appropriate to say at the time, and even if I had been able to there would have been no chance to say it."

But the diary is no more. I've promised I won't make another entry, and I mean to keep my word. I've been married only a month, but I've learned this; the less a man says at home the better. He's there to pay bills and hook waists, not to talk.

Henceforth if you want to know what's going on at our house you'll have to get it from the neighbors.—Detroit Free Press.

To Invite President Taft.

Lexington.—The board of aldermen at their regular monthly meeting last night extended an official invitation to President Taft to attend the Davidson county fair next fall and deliver an address. The resolution was proposed by Alderman Varner, who is the president of the Davidson County Fair Association, and was passed without a dissenting vote. Representative Page and Senators Simmons and Overman were asked to extend the invitation to the President.

Texas To Vote On Prohibition.

Houston, Tex., July 13.—July 22 the people of Texas will vote on the question of statewide prohibition. For three months the state has been torn by the campaign, which is growing more bitter as the date of election approaches. Both the prohibitionists and the antis are claiming the election by big majorities, the antis advancing figures based on a statewide canvas on which they claim victory by 110,000.

Heat Kills More.

A statistician of the New York Times asserts that in the four days of the severe heat wave this week more people were killed by the temperature in four cities than are killed in the whole country by the cold in a year. Is there any way by which the killing heat of Northern Summers can be conquered?—Savannah News.

Never Saw a Train or Town

Nashville, Tenn., July 13.—Mrs. Polly Monke, 54 years old, is dead in North Christian county. She had lived all her life on a farm, outlived two husbands and had never been to town, although living within two miles of Crofton. She had never seen a train, and had an antipathy for "new-fangled things."

Thirty Years Together.

Thirty years of association—think of it. How the merit of a good thing stands out in that time—or the worthlessness of a bad one. So there's no guesswork in this evidence of Thos. Ariss, Concord, Mich., who writes: "I have used Dr. King's New Discovery for 30 years, and its the best cough and cold cure I ever used." Once it finds entrance in a home you can't pry it out. Many families have used it forty years. Its the most infallible throat and lung medicine on earth. Unequalled for lagrippe, asthma, hay fever, croup, quinsy or sore lungs. Price 50c, $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Social and Personal.

Don't Talk About It.

The only way to get along in weather such as this, is to forget your cares and woes. And think about your blisses. Don't mope and fret and go your way With grumbling and protesting. But talk about some cheerful thing. It's far more interesting.

What if you always feel the heat? There are a million like you; A statement that the weather's warm May cause some one to strike you. "The heat is frightful," causes wrath. For everybody knows it. "It's hot," is common knowledge, too. You need not thus disclose it.

Talk cool, think cool, act cool, my friend,

Heat troubles if you let it; But you won't notice it so much, If you will but forget it. Talk politics or tariff bill And argue them together; Talk any subject that you will, But don't discuss the weather. —Edgar A. Guest, in Detroit Free Press.

Mr. G. A. Rouse, of the Farmville Enterprise, was here today.

Mrs. Mary Albritton returned Thursday afternoon from Grimesland. Miss Mattie Moye King returned this morning from a visit in Wilson.

Mesdames Chas. Skinner and E. B. Ficklen left this morning for Raleigh.

Mr. W. W. Martin left this afternoon for Morehead City, where he will spend his vacation.

Miss Mary Shelburn Entertains.

On Thursday afternoon, Miss Mary Shelburn delightfully entertained a number of her friends at a porch party, given in honor of Miss Ruth Abernethy, of Hickory. When the guests arrived they were received by the hostess and the guest of honor and were served punch by Misses Margaret Blow and Ethel Skinner.

After all the guests had arrived "Whist" was played and Mrs. L. C. Skinner, progressing the greatest number of times, won the prize.

There was also a prize for the guest of honor.

After the game was over a delightful salad course was served.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

Pick Ups and Hand-me-Downs.

That was a fine rain Thursday evening and night.

Red Men meet tonight.

Now listen at the crops grow.

The water in the river has been low so long that a coating of grass came on the exposed sand bars.

There was enough this time to give the streets a washing.

Get ready to go after the weeds on your sidewalk.

The Greenville team went to Grifton this afternoon for agame.

There is going to be some more rain.

Hatch's 5 and 10 cents store is manufacturing ice cream of all flavors. See advertisement in another column.

RED BANKS ITEMS.

Personal Notes And Other Happenings In Our Section.

Red Bands, N. C., July 14.—Crops through this section are suffering very much for rain.

Elder William Jones, of New Bern, preached at Red Banks church Sunday.

Mrs. John Stokes, of Coxville, is spending the week with her sister, Mrs. W. A. Cherry.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Hardee, of Simpson, spent Sunday with relatives in this section.

Mrs. Della Tucker and Miss Olive Kittrell, of Simpson, attended church Sunday.

We hear that Mr. H. L. Tucker has purchased an automobile.

Mrs. J. L. Evans and Misses Esther Johnston, Pearl Hester and Louise Tucker, spent Tuesday afternoon with Miss Martha Cherry.

Mrs. W. A. Cherry and Mrs. John Stokes spent Tuesday night with Mrs. Della Tucker, near Simpson.

Mr. Thigpen Home.

Mr. W. J. Thigpen came in yesterday evening by way of the Tennessee mountain resorts, New York and Atlantic City, to visit his mother, brothers and sisters.

Mr. Thigpen gives a vivid description of the heat effects in New York. He saw many horses dead on the streets, and people sleeping on sidewalks, steps, fireescapes and other places, trying to escape the heat. Chinatown presented a scene of distress and misery.

Judge Whedbee at Lumberton.

It is generally conceded that Judge Whedbee is the best that has held criminal court in Lumberton in many years, and it will cause much regret when his time is out on this circuit. Court was in session only seven days but more work has been done than was ever done here before in a full two week's term.—Lumberton Cor., Wilmington Star.

Pastor Away.

Rev. C. C. Ware, pastor of the Christian church, will leave Saturday morning for Wilmington, where he will preach Sunday. He will go from there to Haskins chapel, near Trenton, at which place he will conduct a series of meetings. In his absence there will be no preaching services in the church.

Assessment Not Completed.

The work of the assessors is so far not complete enough for any idea to be had as to what the increase in the assessment of Pitt county property will be, though it is thought that it will be considerable.

5 or 6 doses "666" will cure any cases of Chills and Fever. Price, 25c. 5 20—3m 320

Attack Like Tigers.

In fighting to keep the blood pure the white corpuscles attack disease germs like tigers. But often germs multiply so fast the little fighters are overcome. Then see pimples, boils, eczema, salt rheum and sores multiply and strength and appetite fail. This condition demands Electric Bitters to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to expel poisons from the blood. "They are the best blood purifier," writes C. T. Budahn, of Tracy, Cal., "I have ever found." They make rich, red blood, strong nerves and build up your health. Try them. 50c at all druggists.

Flag Returned.

Albany, N. Y., July 13.—Col. A. J. Smoot and Major Warfield, commander and adjutant, respectively, of the R. E. Lee Confederate Veterans Association, of Alexandria, Va., came to Albany today and were given custody of the battle flag of the Seventeenth Virginia regiment, which has been in the possession of this state since the war between the sections. The colors will be presented to the surviving members of the regiment at a reunion to be held on the battlefield of Manassas on July 17. The flag was captured by the 22nd New York volunteers at Antietam in 1862.

Oh, He's Feeble-Minded.

Guy Hawkins, a negro, brought here about a month ago from Pitt county, to be kept in jail to await trial at Pitt court, on the charge of abandonment, has developed violent insanity, and is giving Sheriff Nunn much trouble that he telephoned the Pitt authorities that they would have to send for him. Hawkins is an epileptic and has had several spells since being confined in jail here.—Kinston Free Press.

Insurance by The State.

Madison, Wis., July 13.—Wisconsin has gone into the life insurance business as an active competitor of the old line companies and co-operative organizations. The bill signed by Governor McGovern provides for the issuance of policies in any sum from $1000 to $5000, at net cost, no charge to be paid above amount needed to meet insurance falling due. The cost of conducting the business will be borne by the state.

Washington, D. C., July 13.—A bill appropriating $300,000 for the government purchase of Jamestown Island Va., and to convert it into a National Park to preserve the site of the first English settlement in America was introduced today by Representative Lamb, of Virginia.

Rushing Work.

An effort is being made to get the court room of the new court house ready for holding the August term of court. It will require rush work, and that seems to be what is being done.

Color Line in Sleeper.

Shreveport, La., July 13.—That a negro woman cannot occupy a berth in a sleeper car where there are white passengers even as a maid, is this state, was ruled yesterday by Judge Blanchard in police court. Two negro women were taken from a berth of an incoming train at the local union depot here Monday night on the appeal to the police officers by several white passengers.

YIELDED TO EDMUNDS.

Cleveland's Political Fate Won After His Friends Had Failed.

Soon after Mr. Cleveland entered the White House in 1885 Vice President Hendricks died at his home in Indianapolis, and the president made arrangements to attend the funeral. Many of his social intimates and all his official advisers united in an effort to dissuade him from making this twenty hour journey, enlarging on the manifold risks of rail travel at all times and the special opportunity this would offer some fanatic to assassinate him. But he remained immovable until within a few hours of the time set for closing up his business he received an unexpected call from Senator Edmunds of Vermont.

Mr. Edmunds was the leader of the Republican side of the senate and was understood to have in preparation several measures of opposition to the announced policies of the new administration. But he was also and above all else an American citizen and a patriot, and his visit to his political foe was made in that character. In a conversation of less than half an hour, in which he drew the curtain over all differences and disregarded all empty formalities of intercourse, he laid before the president in the clear terms and logical order in which he knew so well how to express himself the larger aspects of the situation.

As the presidential succession law then stood the speaker of the house of representatives stood next in line to the vice president, and next to him came the president pro tempore of the senate. The house not having organized since the inauguration, no speaker had been elected, and, the senate having failed at its special session to choose a president pro tempore to serve during the recess, only one life—that of the president himself—stood between the nation and administrative anarchy; hence, argued Mr. Edmunds. It was Mr. Cleveland's duty to forego every other consideration and invite no chances of throwing upon the country they both loved a strain such as it had never been subjected to before.

The writer of these lines was seated in the next room while this visit was in progress, and he will never forget the president's expression of satisfaction on coming out of his office after the senator had gone. He gave orders at once that all preparations for his journey should be suspended and declared that nothing that had occurred since he entered the White House had so touched him as the kind solicitude shown by Mr. Edmunds about his exposing himself to any peril now. The others who had reasoned with him on the subject were men who were presumptively friendly and whose chief anxiety seemed to be lest he should suffer some injury to his individual person or fortunes. But here was a man who, as far as politics was concerned, was a hostile of hostiles, yet who appealed to him in behalf of the American people and their government.

"That settled it," Mr. Cleveland concluded as he turned to go back to his office. "After what Edmunds said there can be no further question of where my highest obligation lies."—F. E. L. in New York Post.

Soft Toned Bells of China.

The natives of China use large bells of their own make in many of their temples and monasteries. I have noticed all through Japan and China that the tone of the monastery and temple bells is very soft and smooth, due to the superior quality of the material used in their manufacture and to the absence of iron clappers, the result being a marvelous softness and mellowness of tone. The bells are never swung, being always suspended in a fixed frame, and the sound is produced by striking them on the outer edge with a wooden mallet. This makes the soft tones which are so delightfully melodious.—Consular Reports.

Dr. Holmes' Wit.

One of the best repartees ever credited to a habitual maker of happy phrases was that made by the beloved "Autocrat of the Breakfast Table" on a certain social occasion.

Going to dine with a Boston neighbor, Dr. Holmes was met by her with an apology:

"I could not get another man. We are four women, and you will have to take us all in."

"Forewarned is fourarmed," he said with a bow.

Flies and Filth.

The fly is born in, lives and thrives upon filth. If no filth is allowed to accumulate to a house or its neighborhood it will not be troubled by flies, for they do not ordinarily stray far from their breeding places and their sources of food. In a thoroughly clean neighborhood they cannot live in the face of screens preventing their access to food and to the absence of manure heaps and other receptacles for filth in which to deposit their eggs.—Survey.
