FRIDAY, AUGUST 11, 1911.

Mosquitoes are both busy and busy.

Don't despair. The advance circus agents are on the round.

The boy who stays on his job is the one most likely to master it and succeed.

If the government does take control of the corporations, "Uncle Sam" will have something to look after.

If so many loafers did not have to be supported, the cost of living might not be so high.

Instead of a muzzle the local dogs will soon be wearing a badge, as an indication that he paid his taxes.

President Taft got tired of hanging around Washington waiting on congress and took himself off to play golf.

If Greenville people do not feel interested in and work for their own town, they can hardly expect others to do it.

If Greenville is to get the manufacturing enterprises that the town needs, the home folks must make the first move in that direction.

As yet the extra session of congress does not show much sign of adjourning. The boys must like their summer job.

The home enterprise is the one that helps the town, and when you patronize others instead of keeping work at home, you are working for another town and against your home town.

The "back home" movement is all right, but a "keep home" movement is better. The community that has plenty for her citizens to do profitably is likely to keep them, and the community that lets them go away to seek employment elsewhere will not find it so easy to induce them to come back.

The town that has profitable employment for people will be sure to attract them to it, and every new comer to a town makes that much more business for it. The town that grows fastest is the one that has most for people to do, for they look for the places that hold out something to them.

Let Not Your Hearts be Troubled.

ing discovered the fact, humble yourself gently before God, and try to bring your mind to a quiet attitude. Say to yourself: "Well, I have made a false step; now I must go more carefully and watchfully." Do this each time, however frequently you fail. When you are at peace use it profitably, making constant acts of meekness, and seeking to be calm even in the most trifling things. Above all, do not be discouraged; be patient; wait, strive to attain a calm, gentle spirit.—Francis De Sales.

Long Staple Cotton.
Some progress has been made in this section of the state in the production of long staple cotton. Particularly has this been the case in Gaston county. Last season The Chronicle carried several articles in regard to the success attending the experiment in Gaston. The government's bulletin on cotton production says that in recent years the demand for superior cotton staples has increased steadily, and in response better varieties of upland cotton are being produced in our cotton growing states. Extra staple cotton can be grown in many localities and through hybridization, seed selection, and better methods of cultivation is being produced in greater quantities. Most of the long staple upland cotton is grown in the Mississippi valley between Memphis, Tenn., and Vicksburg, Miss., in a strip of country about 75 miles wide and 200 miles long. Some of the cotton produced here grades almost as high as sea island. The fibre measures from one and one-fourth to one and seven-eighths inches in length; the yield per acre is about three times as great as sea island and its cost of production is less. Roller gins should be used in ginning this cotton, so that the fibre will be uniform and uninjured, but at present saw gins are used, often cutting and damaging it materially. During the year 1910 experiments made in growing a better staple of cotton in South Carolina met with such success that in 1911 an organized effort was made to increase its cultivation. These experiments demonstrated that, where first class seed of long staple cotton had been used, the production per acre equaled or exceeded that of the short staple, and was of such quality that it could be utilized by the mills in the state in competition with that brought from the Mississippi valley. We believe it would be a good idea for Mecklenburg farmers to experiment with long staple cotton.—Charlotte Chronicle.

At this stage of the game ice is about the only thing that is really what it is cracked up to be.

HIDDEN DANGERS.

Nature Gives Timely Warnings That No Citizen Can Afford to Ignore. DANGER SIGNAL NO. 1 comes from the kidney secretions. They will warn you when the kidneys are sick. Well kidneys excrete a clear, amber fluid. Sick kidneys send out a thin, pale and foamy, or a thick, red ill-smelling urine, full of sediment and irregular of passage.

DANGER SIGNAL NO. 2 comes from the back. Back pains, dull and heavy, or sharp and acute, tell you of sick kidneys and warn you of the danger of dropsy, and Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills are endorsed by thousands. Here's Greenville proof:

James Long, Dickinson Ave., Greenville, N. C., says, "I am certain that Doan's Kidney Pills are a remedy of merit and I do not hesitate to recommend them. When I was suffering from backache, pains in my kidneys and other symptoms of kidney and bladder trouble, I got a supply of Doan's Kidney Pills from the John L. Wooten Drug Company. It did not take them long to bring me relief."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

And a woman with her dresses buttoned down the back reminds us of a kid in sheep's clothing.

Congress and Economy.
The house of representatives a few days ago with laudable purposes of economy refused to longer continue the custom of voting the employes an extra month's pay at the close of each session. However, when it came to voting their private secretaries mileage that another thing. The refusal to grant this bonus of one month's extra pay will save the government $140,000 a year which for 30 years has been an unnecessary "gift" to men who hardly earn their real pay. The Baltimore Sun says: "If the congressmen themselves wish to reward their political proteges by donating this sum out of their own pockets, there will be no objection. But they take money out of the United States treasury. The senate this year, as usual, voted the honorarium. But when the appropriations committee of the house espied this item it was promptly amputated. In line with their policy of economy, the Democrats refused to allow this gratuity. Thus another "graft" that has flourished for a generation is cut off, and the beneficiaries fear that no succeeding congress will dare revive it. These are lean days for the gentry who fatten off the public purse."—Norfolk Ledger-Dispatch.

Parson's Poem a Gem.
From Rev. H. Stubenvoll, Allison, Ia., in praise of Dr. King's New Life Pills.
"They're such a health necessity, in every home these pills should be. If other kinds you've tried in vain. USE DR. KING'S And be well again." Only 25 cents at all druggists.

Faith.

Through darkness and through storm I cross the sea, A pathless wilderness of waves to me; But yet I do not fear, because I know That he who guides the good ship o'er that waste Sees in the stars her shining pathway traced.

Blindfolded I walk this life's bewildering maze, Up flinty steep, through frozen mountain pass, Through thorn-set barren and through deep morass;

But strong in faith I tread the uneven ways, And bare my head unshrinkingly to the blast, Because my Father's arm is round me cast; And if the way seems rough, I only clasp The hand that leads me with a firmer grasp.

—Annie C. Lynch, in the Atlanta Georgian. Miss Mary Lucy Dupree left his afternoon for Kinston. Mr. S. P. Keel and family, of Fitzpatrick, Ala., were in the city Tuesday visiting relatives and friends.

Mrs. D. C. James returned this morning from Washington. Misses Allie and Effie Rives left this morning for Rocky Mount. Mrs. S. J. Everett returned Thursday evening from Scotland Neck.

Mr. J. B. Kittrell spent Thursday in Bethel. Misses Katherine and Mary Bunn, of Rocky Mount, and Agnes Lacy, of Raleigh, who have been visiting Miss Ethel Skinner, have returned home.

Mr. Wiley Brown spent today in Bethel. Mrs. James Long, of Greenville, came up Monday to visit her sister, Mrs. E. J. Proctor.—Scotland Neck Commonwealth.

Mrs. Lawrence Hooker and little son, Larry, of Richmond, Va., are visiting Miss Lela Cherry. Mrs. I. F. Lee and brother, Mr. Avon A. Cromartie, left this morning on the 323 Norfolk Southern train for Dunn, to visit relatives and friends a few days.

Miss Janie Edward, of Simpson, is visiting Miss Mary Beddard. Miss Roselyn Moseley, of Portsmouth, is visiting Mrs. N. W. Outlaw. Mr. J. L. Horne, salesman at Frank Wilson's, was taken quite sick in the store Thursday afternoon. While some better today, he is confined to his bed.

DELIGHTS AT MOREHEAD.

Social and Fishing Parties all the While.

ATLANTIC HOTEL, Morehead City, Aug. 11th.—When they are not fishing, sailing or bathing, the guests of the Atlantic Hotel find time for social diversion and card parties are the order of the day. One of the most delightful of these social events was the party given by Mrs. W. L. Kennedy yesterday afternoon to the other lady guests of the hotel. The guests were bidden to wear kimonos and make themselves comfortable while the men folks were out fishing. Delectable refreshments were served and the occasion was altogether enjoyable.

Many of the ladies are taking advantage of the beautiful moonlight nights for sailing and fishing parties. A party including Mrs. H. Montague, of Winston-Salem, Mrs. Cunningham and others went out Tuesday night and returned with a string that made some of the old fishermen green with envy.

The prettiest string of trout taken from Bogue sound this summer was brought in Tuesday night by Messrs E. L. Williamson, of Burlington, T. Alex Baxter and a party of friends. Mr. Williamson's prize catch weighed eight pounds, and the others were a little smaller.

The sultry August weather of the inland country is bringing crowds to the seashore and they prospect now that if the influx continues Manager Baxter will be forced to extend his season.

"THIS IS MY 41st BIRTHDAY."

Earl Brewer.

Earl Brewer, who has been nominated by the Democrats for governor of Mississippi and who will have the distinction of being the first man to be chosen for that office without opposition, was born in a log cabin on a plantation in Carroll county, Mississippi, August 11, 1870. His parents were in very poor circumstances and his early educational facilities were of the most meagre sort. Before he had scarcely entered his teens he was obliged to earn his own living and before he was eighteen years old he had worked as a plantation hand and on the levees near his home and later as a cowboy and detective in Texas. At 20 he entered the law school of the University of Mississippi, working spare time to pay his expenses. In 1892, after he had graduated with high honors, he began the practice of law in the town of Water Valley. In 1896 he was elected to the state senate and served four years. In 1902 he was appointed district attorney and removed to Clarksdale, which city has since been his home. In 1906 Mr. Brewer became a candidate for governor, and though defeated for the nomination, the splendid race he ran made him the logical candidate this year and the nomination was given him without opposition.

An election was ordered on October 3rd in Greenville township on the question of issuing bonds not exceeding the sum of $50,000 to build and maintain roads in this township.

A Gambler a Poor Citizen.

A gambler is about as undesirable citizen as a community can have. He produces nothing, helps nothing, contributes nothing in the activities of the community. His advancement means the retrogression of his fellows. If he be a professional the man who does business with him in a professional way is fleeced. It matters not that the fleecing is done according to the rules of the game. It is the same result to the victim. If a man's business be gambling, and he lives by his profession, he is living at the expense of the public, or that portion of it which comes into business relations with him. He gives nothing of worth in return. He holds the law in contempt in his flagrant violation of it. His example is pernicious. His life is a failure. His end is destruction. All in all, he is a very sorry citizen.—Union Times.

NOTES FROM THE LABOR WORLD.

In Switzerland the railway workers have an 82 per cent organization. The corner stone of the labor temple in Utica, New York, will soon be laid.

Thirteen states have boiler inspection laws and fourteen officially inspect bakery shops.

Winnipeg (Manitoba) Trades and Labor Council will move to have a municipal fair wage officer appointed.

The amount that may be recovered for death by industrial accidents in Minnesota has been increased from $5,000 to $7,000.

An organized effort will be made by the glass workers of the country to minimize the amount of the machine-made product.

The proposed strike of street railway men at Des Moines, Iowa, has been approved by the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employees.

The French workman's pension law calls for a contribution of about $1.50 a year by each beneficiary, an equal sum by his employer, and the state adds a third.

The federation of trade unions connected with the building industry in France has decided the bodies which form it shall no longer take part in any building operations connected with prisons.

At the fifty-seventh annual convention of the International Typographical Union, which will be held in San Francisco August 14 to 19, Texas delegates will make an effort to secure the 1912 meeting for Houston.

There are now affiliated with the American Federation of Labor 120 international unions, 39 state federations, 632 city central bodies, 431 local trade unions and 216 federal labor unions, making a total of 1,438 organizations.

A recent convention of the Ohio Bricklayers, Masons and Plasterers' Association by unanimous vote recommended the establishment, in some city yet to be selected, of a home for aged or disabled members of the organization.

The San Francisco Labor Day committee has decided to offer prizes to pupils of the public schools for the best essays on labor and the significance of Labor Day; also a special prize to be awarded to the school of which a pupil obtains the first prize.

The workers in the Amsterdam diamond industry have a compact organization. According to one of its rules, no one can learn the diamond trade without the consent of the organization, and only children of workers or jewelers are eligible to become pupils.

Nearly 200,000 new employes were added to the pay rolls of the railroad companies of the United States between June 30, 1909 and June 30, 1910, according to the annual report of the interstate commerce commission. The total on the last named date was 1,699,420.

The state of Ohio has five free public employment offices, one each being located at Cincinnati, Cleveland, Columbus, Dayton and Toledo, under the supervision of the Bureau of Labor Statistics. A report for the last quarter gives in detail the number of people assisted in procuring employment and the total reaches 8,731.

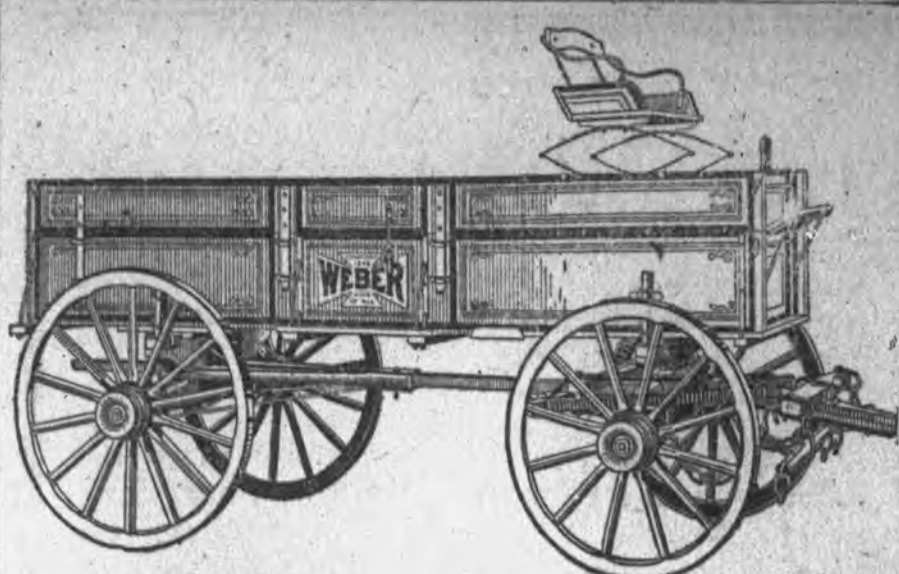

Kill More Than Wild Beasts.

The number of people killed yearly by wild beasts don't approach the vast number killed by disease germs. No life is safe from their attacks. They're in air, water, dust, even food. But grand protection is afforded by Electric Bitters, which destroy and expel these deadly disease germs from the system. That's why chills, fever and ague, all malarial and many blood diseases yield promptly to this wonderful blood purifier. Try them, and enjoy the glorious health and new strength they'll give you. House Fly is Typhoid Fly. The insect we now call the house fly should be termed 'typhoid fly' in order to call attention to the danger of allowing it to continue to breed unchecked, says L. O. Howard, of the department of agriculture's bureau of entomology in a farmers' bulletin just issued. Prof. Howard says a careful screening of windows and doors during the summer, supplemented with fly catching devices, is the surest preventative of disease through those germ bearing insects. The sanitary keeping of stables would do much toward eradicating the fly, he says. The health departments of municipalities are urged to take such remedial measures.
