Ostensibly the fight in the primary election to be held day after tomorrow is to decide who shall be the Republican nominee to succeed John B. Reyburn as mayor of Philadelphia. and who shall be the county officials. Senator Penrose, as one of the leaders of the Taft forces at Washington, felt it incumbent upon him to insure a Republican victory in Philadelphia this fall with the national election so close at hand. > That East Carolina Teachers Training school, the pride of Greenville, Pitt county and Eastern North Carolina, has begun its third year with such a largely increased attendance, is cause for congratulation. We repeat what has been said before that North Carolina has no better school than this. It's mission is to train teachers for the public schools, and it is doing this with a marked degree of excellence.

The only trouble about jailing trust magnates, as seen by the Greenville Reflector is that the jails may not be large enough to hold them all. Then scrap there may be some feathers fly- in that case let's jail the common people, so as to keep the trust magnates from getting at their throats .-Wilmington Dispatch.
