

LONDON ELECTS NEW LORD MAYOR

SYSTEM PLEASES THE ALDERMEN The Aldermen Are Elected For Life.

LONDON, Sept. 28.—Having been an alderman for thirteen years and filled the office of sheriff for one term, Sir Thomas Boor Crosby, wealthy merchant and financier, today went through the solemn farce of being elected Lord Mayor of the City of London. He will be formally installed in office on November 9, when the time-honored pageant known as the "Lord Mayor's Show" will take place. Unlike all other great municipalities, London's Lord Mayor is not chosen by the people, though there was a time—some 300 or more years ago—when they really were elected by the citizens. But the aldermen, who are elected for life, decided that a position so exalted as that of Lord Mayor should not be thrown to outsiders and made dependent on popular favor. So they fixed things up so that every alderman, if he lives long enough, is assured of becoming Lord Mayor when his turn comes. When Sir Thomas Vessey Strong was elected last year, Sir Thomas Crosby was "next," and now it is his turn to take the civic chair.

The system pleases the aldermen and does not make much difference to anybody else. The office of Lord Mayor has long since been shorn of its once great powers and has become a mere figurehead billet, though it is invested with more fictitious dignity than any other post in England. No more violent contrast is to be found between the various duties of the Lord Mayor. Theoretically, at least, the King of Great Britain and Ireland and Emperor of India cannot enter the city of London without his consent. Yet he spends a considerable part of each day dispensing justice upon the inebriated and other petty offenders who have broken the peace of the square mile of territory over which he rules. In addition to his duties as magistrate he is required to attend probably five hundred public and semi-public dinners, balls, receptions and meetings of various kinds during the year he spends in the high office. "For these duties he receives a salary equal to that of the president of the United States and twice as much as that of the prime minister of Great Britain.

Perhaps it is well that the Lord Mayor nowadays does not possess the supreme power of some of his early predecessors. The mayor who did fealty to Henry III, for instance, had the term to add, "My lord, so long as you unto us will be a good lord and king, we will be faithful and dutiful unto you." Then there was the Norman mayor who, being interrupted by a member of the mob when reading what would now correspond to the Riot act, merely ordered the offender to be taken into a neighborhood street to be beheaded, and went on reading.

Merger of Cable Companies.

LONDON, Sept. 29.—At special meetings held today the stockholders of the Anglo-American Cable and Direct United States Cable companies gave their approval to the proposed lease of their companies to the Western Union Telegraph companies. Under the proposed arrangement the two cable companies will be operated in direct connection with each other and with the Western Union land system, bringing eight cables of the three companies under one control.

Wisconsin Historians Meet.

PRAIRIE DU CHIEN, Wis., Sept. 29.—Prairie du Chien, one of the most historic points in the northwest, is entertaining for two days the annual meeting of the Wisconsin State Historical and Archaeological Society. Following an informal meeting this morning the visitors spent the afternoon inspecting the ruins of Fort Crawford, the Astor trading post and other points of historical interest.

Kentucky W. C. T. U.

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky., Sept. 29.—White-ribboned delegates from all over the state gathered here today for the annual convention of the Kentucky organization of the Women's Christian Temperance Union. Beginning with a welcome demonstration tonight the sessions of the convention will be continued until next Tuesday.

THE CIRCUS IS HERE.

Haag's Mighty Shows in Greenville Today.

About 5 o'clock this morning the Haag shows arrived here over the Norfolk Southern road from Washington, where the circus exhibited yesterday. Notwithstanding the early hour, there were many people around the depot to see the train come in and unload. As it was raining when the train arrived, the unloading did not begin until the shower was over, the crowd around the depot growing larger in the meantime.

Busy hands and quick moving horses, everything going with the clock work precision characteristic of a circus, soon had the cars emptied and the contents transferred to Munford park, where tents were quickly reared and everything put in readiness for the performance. The interested crowd watched this to a finish and then moved out on the streets and down town to await the parade. This took place about 11 o'clock and was witnessed by thousands of people. The parade was a very creditable one.

Following in the wake of the parade the crowd moved back to the park to take in the free exhibitions around the tents, see the side shows, and drink red lemonade until the doors of the big tent opened at 1 o'clock. They there was a rush for tickets and the crowd swarmed under the big canvas for the 2 o'clock performance.

The Haag's have a good circus, and the performance today fully met the expectation of the people.

There will be another performance at 8 o'clock tonight, the doors opening an hour earlier.

SHREVEPORT RATE CASE.

The Case is of Vast Importance to R. R. and Shippers.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Sept. 29.—The so-called Shreveport rate case, in which the Louisiana Railroad Commission seeks to secure for Louisiana Texas freight business, theme rates in force between points in Texas, came up for hearing before representatives of the Interstate Commerce Commission here today. The Texas railroads and the Texas Railroad Commission are the defendants. The case is of vast importance to the railroads and shippers of the two states. Should the contentions of Shreveport be sustained, either the Texas rates must be increased so as to place them on an equal footing with those now applying from Shreveport to Texas points or the interstate rate reduced to the Texas schedule, which latter step would enable Louisiana shippers to become strong competitors for Texas business.

To Have Military Wedding.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 29.—A number of guests from out of town have arrived in St. Paul to attend the wedding of Miss Elizabeth Johnson, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Johnson, of this city, and Lieutenant Walter Reed Weaver, 28th Infantry, U. S. A. The wedding will take place at Christ church tomorrow evening and will be a military affair. The best man and ushers will be brother officers of the bridegroom. After a wedding journey Lieutenant Weaver and his bride will take up their residence at Fort Snelling.

Special Sermon.

Mr. C. C. Ware, minister of the Christian church, will preach a special sermon in the Christian church next Sunday morning, at 11 o'clock, the subject of which is "Are the Church Revivals Needed?" This is intended as a part of the preparation for the revival to be held by Evangelist H. C. Boblitt, which begins there next Monday evening at 7:45 o'clock. Public cordially invited to hear this special sermon, and to attend the revival.

Maine Lifts Hunting Ban.

BANGOR, Me., Sept. 29.—The ban on big-game hunting in Maine will be lifted at midnight tomorrow night, and hundreds of sportsmen are already in camp or on their way to the hunting grounds. Guides who have been in the woods report deer to be unusually plentiful this year.

Messrs. S. J. Everett and J. J. Harrington and ex-Gov. T. J. Jarvis returned Thursday evening from Williamson.

VITAL NEWS FROM NATIONAL CAPITOL

HOW STEEL FLURRY WORKED. Price Took A Tumble and Went to A Low Level.

(By Clyde H. Tavenner).

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—One of the New York financial papers which has the interest of Wall street very much at heart printed a statement following the recent disturbance in the steel market to the effect that the flurry caused a decline in steel shares of approximately one hundred million dollars.

In the three days of the flurry nearly one-third of the trust's $500,000,000 of common stock was sold on the stock exchange in such volume that the price was carried to new low levels, thus showing that the one hundred millions in decline represent the amount of money it is worth to the trust to be considered immune from the operation of the Sherman law.

Nothing has happened to indicate that anything is wrong with the intrinsic value of the steel properties. The mills are working as usual, and are in exactly the same state of efficiency they were in two years ago when the stock was selling at its high water mark. The shrinkage came because of rumors that the trust was to be prosecuted, and as the business—the real business—of the trust was not injured in any way, the one hundred millions simply represents the excess profits the trust stood to lose in the event of dissolution under the application of the Sherman law. In other words, the shrinkage serves as a measure of the value to the trust of a license to violate the law. When that license was threatened the trust's shares fell immediately, and this fall in prices, simply as the result of a scare, is pretty sure to be used by the Democrats as an argument for making securities keep down to their real value through an enforcement of the anti-trust law.

Commenting on the fall of steel prices, Chairman Stanley, of the house committee, which just now is investigating the steel trust, said that nothing could better demonstrate the necessity of enforcing the anti-trust law.

"It is obvious," Mr. Stanley said, "that the reason steel stocks fell a hundred million dollars is because the trust was operating under an assumption of immunity from prosecution under the anti-trust act. The instant that immunity was threatened, the stocks fell. The very insecurity of the basis on which the trust rests, as thus shown, is sufficient reason for an application of the law that will compel the steel millionaires to put their business on a more legitimate foundation. Otherwise their stockholders will always be apprehensive, and their methods open to suspicion."

That it was this fear of losing its license to violate the law which caused the steel trust to suffer is indicated that the "break" in stocks applied to no other securities. Nor was there any indication of a lessening of the demand for the products of the trust. Market conditions remained normal; the stocks of some of the railroads increasing.

The "steel flurry" was proof positive that the shrinkage in stocks, under the conditions named, reveals that the steel trust's license to ignore the law is worth a hundred million dollars to the trust.

To Spend Saturday in Missouri.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 29.—For the second time in the course of his present tour, President Taft is to visit Missouri tomorrow. The principal stops on his schedule will be Moberly, Sedalia, coming from the last named place to Kansas City late in the afternoon and departing before midnight for Omaha.

Taft in Iowa Capital City.

DES MOINES, Ia., Sept. 29.—A cordial welcome was given President Taft in Des Moines today when, as the guest of the state, and city, he joined the parade which first made its way to the Grant club, where the president was entertained at breakfast, and later to the Coliseum, where he delivered a public address.

Miss Bertha Bunn, of Henderson, came in Thursday evening to visit Mrs. P. M. Johnston.

ANOTHER CAUGHT WITH THE GOODS

THREE CASES AGAINST MAN. Had Thirty-Eight Half Pint Bottles and Two Gallon Kegs of Whiskey.

Thursday afternoon Sheriff S. I. Dudley and Policeman G. A. Clark rounded up another "blind tiger." In other words it was the third time the same man has been caught selling liquor and the three cases stand against him for trial at the next criminal term of court.

It came about in this wise: One of the regular jurors at the civil term of court showed upon his return to the court room that he had been drinking. The juror was not drunk, but because he had been drinking he was stood aside and did not sit in the jury box during the afternoon. Thereupon Sheriff Dudley and Policeman Clark got busy. They marked a quarter and gave to the juror, asking him to go out and buy them a half pint of liquor at the same place he had bought it before. The officers shadowed the juror and saw him go in the old Rainbow stables just across the street nearly opposite the city hall where court was being held. The juror bought a bottle of liquor from Sam Joyner, colored, and gave him the marked quarter. The officers then rushed in and captured Sam, who had the marked quarter in his pocket. They also searched his place and found 38 half pint bottles and two gallon kegs of liquor, showing that he was carrying on a large "blind tiger" business right under the shadow of the city hall and the temporary court house.

Joyner was given a preliminary hearing before Mayor Wooten, and in default of bond was committed to jail. The same man was already under bond for appearance at court in one case, with still another case against him on which there has been no preliminary trial.

TRADE REPORT.

Trade Continues Fair, But Collections Slow.

RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 29.—Bradstreet's Saturday will say for Richmond and vicinity: Trade conditions continue fair, some improvement being noted as the fall season advances, however, conservatism in buying is a feature and although stocks are depleted merchants refrain from buying in large quantities. In the cotton districts trading is easier, however competition is active, many merchants having entered this territory for the first time. Wholesalers of shoes report good orders. Fruits and vegetables are plentiful, but warm weather retards shipments. Distillers of malt and spirituous products report increased business as the fall season advances. The tobacco crop will be far below the average but has been improved by late rains. Retail trade in staple commodities shows some improvement as the vacation season draws to a close.

Collections are irregular but usually slow.

GOMISKEY FIELD DAY.

Big and Little Players to Compete in Ball-throwing and Base-running.

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—Minor league stars from far and near are trooping into town to contest in the Comiskey field day events scheduled to take place tomorrow night at the American league park. The tournament will be the first big affair of its kind Chicago has witnessed in years and the fans are expected to turn out in force to see the big and little players compete in ball-throwing and base-running stunts. The Chicago and New York National league teams and the Chicago Americans will be represented in the competitions, though the majority of the competitors will represent the minor leagues, principally those of the middle west.

New Bishop of Arkansas.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 29.—Rev. Dr. James Ridout Winchester was today consecrated bishop of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of Arkansas. The ceremony took place in Trinity Cathedral, where gathered the largest assemblage of bishops, clergy and laymen ever within its walls. The complete ritualistic ceremony of the church was carried out in the consecration ceremonies. Bishop Tuttle, of St. Louis, presided.

PITT COUNTY FAIR.

Governing Board Hold Enthusiastic Meeting.

One of the most enthusiastic meetings that the governing board of Pitt County Fair Association have yet held, was the one today in the office of President J. L. Wooten. The attendance was large, and the reports of premium list contributions and the promise of exhibits from the different townships were most encouraging.

The executive committee were authorized to revise the premium list in accordance with the suggestion of the Agricultural Department so as to include the donation made by the department. The new premium list will be printed and distributed in a few days. A feature of this new list will be $50 in premiums to the women's department. Surely this ought to cause much activity among the women of the county to make exhibits. Mrs. J. D. Cox, of Winterville, was elected to take charge of the women's department, she to select her own assistants from different townships.

The advertising campaign of the fair will begin in earnest in a few days, and from now until the dates of the fair—November 2nd and 3rd—you may expect to hear much about it.

BIG TEAMS TO START SEASON.

An Excellent Array of Games Is On The Calendar.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Tomorrow will mark the opening of the football season for the big colleges in the east, and an excellent array of games is on the calendar for the critics of the sport to witness and ponder over. Every one of the big four will be seen on the gridiron for the first time this year. Yale will play its initial game with Holy Cross at New Haven, Harvard will meet Bates at Cambridge, Princeton will play Stevens at home, and Pennsylvania will line up against Gettysburg on Franklin field. Brown will also play its first game, with New Hampshire State at Providence. Cornell and the Carlisle Indians, both of whom have already started their schedule, will be seen again, the Ithaca players meeting Colgate and the Indians playing Dickinson.

WILD GEESE PASS.

They Were Traveling Southward in a Hurry.

About 8:30 o'clock Thursday night, Mr. O. E. Warren telephoned us that he had just heard a flock of wild geese fly over his home in West Greenville. He could not see the geese owing to the darkness, but the sound of their honk told that they were flying low. Mr. Warren says the geese were going southward and traveling in a hurry. It is usually said that the migration of wild geese to the South is a forerunner of cold weather, so a change in temperature may be near at hand. We have no dates as to how the 25th of September compares with the usual passing time of wild geese, but possibly some of our older readers might have some.

May Best Dead.

Several years ago May Best left the orphanage and returned to her mother in Greenville. On Friday, the 15th of September, she was taken violently ill with appendicitis. She was taken to the hospital where an operation was performed. She did not rally, and the end to her brief life came on the following Tuesday morning.

May was a good girl. She lived the life of a Christian and died in the triumph of faith. A little brother and sister are here, and the heart broken mother writes the general manager to break the sad news to them, for she cannot do it.

The death of this fine young woman on the threshold of what promised to be a joyous, useful and vigorous life, brings deep sadness to her old home where she was dearly loved. May the Father of the fatherless pity and uphold those who will weep when all other tears have dried.—Thomasville, Charity and Children.

Boston Ancients Off on Jaunt.

BOSTON, Sept. 29.—The members of Boston's famous military organization, the Ancient and Honorable Artillery company, left the city today for a trip to Bermuda, where they are to be entertained during a week's visit by the British military and civil officials.

NORTH CAROLINA HAPPENINGS

GATHERED FROM EXCHANGES. And Briefly Stated for The Reflectors Busy Readers.

STANTONSBURG.—About 1 o'clock this morning flames were discovered issuing from the warehouse of Messrs. Applewhite & Co., of this place and in a short while the building, with its contents of feed, meal and hulls were consumed. The loss is $1,000 with no insurance. The origin of the fire is unknown.

LEXINGTON.—News reached Lexington yesterday of the death of Mrs. Ruth Gallmore, of Silver Hill township, probably the oldest person in the state. She was 101 years and 6 months old and up to 2 weeks before her death she enjoyed the best of health. She was the daughter of Rev. Wright, a Primitive Baptist minister, and the youngest of 24 children. Her father was married twice and had 12 children by each wife. Each wife bore twins and each had 6 sons and 6 daughters.

WINSTON-SALEM.—Lying on his back at the foot of an altar in the Masonic lodge room on the fifth floor of the Masonic Temple with a bullet wound in his right temple, just above the ear and a 32-calibre Remington revolver on the floor about a foot away, the body of Mr. T. L. Farrow, Sr., aged 54 years, was found this afternoon by the colored janitor at the Masonic Temple. On the altar the Bible was opened at the eighteenth Psalm, the pages being held down by a square and compass.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 1911.

The nations that build battleships kill more of their own people with them than they do of an enemy.

Just as soon as those wild geese passed over Thursday night we imagined that it commenced turning cooler.

Turkey will get enough teasing about Thanksgiving time, without Italy trying to add to the discomfort.

Many men go along through this world just like they did not expect any hereafter. What an awakening they will come to some time.

Of course North Carolina is first in everything. A report just sent out from Washington says that this state produced more gold in 1910 than any other eastern state.

Some of his lawyers are actually trying to get a rehearing of the Beattie case because the jury upon going to their room engaged in prayer for Divine guidance in reaching a right verdict.

The price of everything is higher, except newspapers. They have to plod along at the old price, but pay more for everything they get. And even at the low price there are people who do not want to pay for the papers they read.

Every person in this community who wants to see the prohibition law enforced and "blind tigers" broken up, should hear the address of Rev. R. L. Davis, president of the State Anti-Saloon League, in Memorial Baptist church here Sunday night.

Advertising is a desirable thing to have when it is of the right kind, but Durham does not like the notoriety the city received over the reported existence of a large number of pellagra cases there. If we are not mistaken the reports were sent out by Durham correspondents.

Some sections of North Carolina have been bragging about big cotton pickers, but they will have to call it off. Here comes a Hunt county, Texas, man with a record of 904 pounds in one day, while a brother went to 704 pounds, and his wife taking it along more leisurely picked 450 pounds. That was not in Missouri, but Texas.

The Price of Sugar. Attention has recently been called to the price of sugar, which has been almost doubled within a very short period. The cause of this rise has been a subject of very general attention, as sugar is a necessity and must be used, in large or small quantities, to H. J. Barnum, of Freeville, N. Y., was the fever-sore that had plagued his life for years in spite of many remedies he tried. At last he used Bucklen's Arnica Salve and write: "It has entirely healed with scarcely a scar left." Heals Burns, Bolls, Eczema, Cuts, Bruises, Swellings, Corns and Piles like magic. Only 25c at all druggists.

A Dreadful Sight.

In every household. Whether the price has been raised by natural or artificial means is a disputed question.

"The price of sugar has risen to 7 1-4 cents a pound. Three months ago it was 4 1-4 cents. This advance of nearly 75 per cent in the price of a household necessity affects every family," says the New York World.

"The American Sugar Refining company—the sugar trust—has issued a statement in explanation of this increase in price because "it deems it timely to record publicly its understanding of the advance and its own policy in connection therewith." The trust's statement is plausible and has the indorsement of Chairman Hardwick of the congressional committee which has been investigating the affairs of the American Sugar Refining company. He agrees that the reasons for the increased price of sugar are the scarcity brought about by a 300,000 ton shortage in the Cuban crop, a reduction of from 1,000,000 to 1,500,000 tons in the European beet-sugar crop, and speculation in London and Hamburg.

"Even more satisfactory than the trust's explanation is the fact that it should have so far mended its ways as to take the trouble to explain. In one respect the trusts have been chastened. The public-be-damned policy is a thing of the past. In another respect, however, methods remain the same. The public always pays the entire increase and the trust keeps up its dividends."—Norfolk Ledger-Dispatch.

Reciprocity Defeated.

Mr. Taft's Canadian reciprocity scheme has fallen to the ground with "a dull sickening thud," and the staggering defeat that it met at the hands of the voters in Canada shows how utterly ignorant was the venerable premier as to the real sentiment of his people. Mr. Taft apparently had views of this reciprocity measure that few, if any one else, shared. He called an extra session of congress to pass it, which required months, and the discussion of it developed a greater variety of views than any measure of recent times. Both political parties were divided on the subject and nobody save Mr. Taft seemed enthusiastic over it.

The Democrats saw in it a departure from the strict protection theory and therefore supported it, while the insurgent Republicans of the West opposed it in the interest of the "farmers." What would have been the result of the operation of reciprocity with Canada is more or less speculative, and it is evident that it was not settled by Canada upon any basis of commercial advantage to either country, but purely upon the mistaken idea that by the adoption of reciprocity with the United States Canada was inviting annexation or proving disloyal to Great Britain.

Reciprocity has been a costly agitation to both countries, and neither Mr. Taft nor Laurier can possibly get any satisfaction out of the situation.—Norfolk Ledger-Dispatch.

Love Taps.

"Arry, that Sal Robins says you're in love wiv 'er—'tain true, is it?" "Garn, don't yer take no notice av 'er. She exaggerates every bloomin' thing. I mu' ave give her a clip or two over the ear, but 'bat's all there is in it!"—London Opinion.

NO REASON FOR IT.

When Greenville Citizens Show The Way.

There can be no just reason why any reader of this will continue to suffer the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the dangers of serious kidney ills when relief is so near at hand and the most positive proof given that these ills can be cured. Read what a Greenville citizen says: Mrs. Fannie Moore, 214 Pitt street, Greenville, N. C., says, "I feel very grateful for the relief I have received from Doan's Kidney Pills which I obtained from the John L. Wooten Drug Company. Backaches annoyed me and there was much lameness and weakness through my loins. My kidneys did not do their work as they should and the kidney secretions bothered me. Doan's Kidney Pills gave me relief from these symptoms of kidney complaint and improved my condition in every way."

The Real Key to the Situation.

Up around West End, Jackson Springs, Eagle Springs and other centers of population in the western end of Moore county a movement in real estate similar to that which has attracted so much attention in the lower end of the county, is taking place. A large amount of land is being cleared up and a good many new farms are being developed. Just as soon as the northerly end of the county wakes up to the value of good roads and gets busy building them the boom will be felt in that section. No region which lacks good roads or the intention to construct them can ever hope to share in the prosperity of more progressive sections. Farms that cannot be reached easily and from which markets are not readily accessible will never find quick sale and good prices unless they are believed to have mining or other unusual possibilities. Of course a farm that has a gold mine or an oil well on it will sell anywhere, but if cotton, corn fruit, truck or general farm products must be transported to market or to the railroad, the improved highway is the key to the situation. Then, too, in these days real live farmers do not care to buy where they must slowly toil through sand six inches deep when they can find farms elsewhere where they get to town in half the time and with twice the pleasure.—Southern Pines Tourist.

Choir Practice.
The choir of the Baptist church will meet at the church at 8 o'clock tonight for practice.

Rev. R. L. Davis, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League in North Carolina, will preach at the Methodist church next Sunday morning.

Mrs. H. L. Ross, of Pactolus township, sent The Reflector a box of James grapes which were very much enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Ned Laughinghouse returned Thursday evening from Washington.

Master Maniston Clifton, of Henderson, is visiting Miss Maud Johnston.

Social Evening of the Baraca and Philathea Classes.

Saturday evening, September 23, was a notable event in the history of the Baraca and Philathea classes of Winterville Baptist Sunday school.

The school campus was made beautiful by many electric lights encircling an Indian wigwam which was artistically festooned in the colors of the respective classes. In the center of the wigwam was suspended a lone light under which sat a future Baraca, Master Eugene Adams, and a future Philathea, little Miss Beatrice Nye, both dressed in costumes honoring the colors of the classes.

Mr. R. T. Cox, president of the Baraca class, was master of ceremonies for the evening, and proceeded to call out the numbers of an exceedingly appropriate program prepared for the occasion. This consisted of a very significant little motion song, by Master Eugene Adams, followed by an excellent talk on "Religion and Social Life," by Mr. L. G. Whitley. Miss Mamie Carroll read an unusually appropriate selection, "Graham Keeler Gets Grandpa Ready for Sunday School."

A very impressive tableau composed of three scenes was next given in the following order: First, Lift up the Fallen; second, Point them to the Lamb of God; third, Prayer and the Sword of the Spirit.

At the close of a unique contest, Miss Vivian Roberson and Mr. Joe Dail were fortunate in being awarded a beautiful Philathea pennant as first prize. After all had indulged for a seemingly short time in pleasant conversation, and in daintly refreshments delicious ice cream and cake was served.

When the hour for separation drew near, short speeches by some of the honored guests were called for. Rev. M. A. Adams, Prof. F. C. Nye, and Mr. A. G. Cox fittingly responded.

All too soon, the Baracas and Philatheas were made to realize that this, the happiest social meeting of all social meetings, had closed, and that it was only left for them to sing the praises of Miss Liles, the efficient Philathea teacher, and of their splendid social committees.

Visiting Minister Presbyterian Church.

Rev. J. J. Brown, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, of McColl, S. C., will preach in the Greenville Presbyterian church next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, and at Falkland at 7:30 p. m.

Mr. Brown is a strong preacher, and the pulpit committee of the Greenville church takes pleasure in announcing his coming.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

Pick Ups and Hand-me-Downs.

Circus day.
My, what a crowd.
This is Haag's day, and everybody else's day.

And you will see another crowd when Robinson's circus comes to town.

They had money to blow in, too. The tobacco market wore a deserted look today, except for people leaving their teams at the warehouse stables and passing through to go to the circus.

The graded school could not stand it, and the little folks went to the circus.

The elephant did not step on anybody, but some of their pocket books look like they were tramped on.

If you saved anything out of it, bring The Reflector a little on subscription.

The best place to walk today was in the middle of the street.

It looks like our friends, the advertisers, are going to make The Daily Reflector enlarge. We are willing.

There were more outside looking on the parade than there were inside looking at the circus.

Just as sure as a circus comes, the folks are going to the circus.

Even the red lemonade was in evidence, and the day was hot enough to make it go.

Red Men meet tonight, if they can catch a quorum outside of the circus.

People are certainly busy around the Reflector printery. Something doing there all the time.

We doubt if the cotton picked in ten miles of town today would make a bale. The pickers were all at the circus.

"THIS IS MY 48th BIRTHDAY."

Alfred Urion.

Alfred Urion, one of the leaders of the Chicago bar and president of the board of education of that city, was born near Salem, N. J., September 29, 1863. His education was received in the public schools of Philadelphia and in the South Jersey Institute. Soon after leaving school he decided to go West. He studied law at Fargo, N. D., and at the age of twenty-one he was admitted to the North Dakota bar. Subsequently he also was admitted to the bar in Minnesota, and practiced law in St. Paul until 1888. When only twenty-five years of age and with only four years' experience in his profession, Mr. Urion was appointed to the legal staff of the great corporation of Armour and Company, and a few years after removing to Chicago he was advanced to be general counsel for the company.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS.

Charles Klein's new play is called "The Outsider."

Chauncy Olcott will appear in London next season.

The new play of Henry Arthur Jones is called "The Ogre."

"Baron Trenck" will be produced in New York in October.

Mrs. Thomas Whiffin is to appear in a vaudeville sketch this season.

Anna Held will appear in a new musical play in New York early next month.

Sidney Drew and Lionel Barrymore are to appear in Philadelphia in "Bob Acres."

Hall-Caine is to have a play called "The Quality of Mercy," produced in London.

Emma Trentini will begin her second tour in "Naughty Marietta" October 2, in Brooklyn.

Katherine Emmett will be leading lady with Lawrence D'Orsay in his revival of "The Earl of Pawtucket."

Guy Bates Post will star in a new drama of American life by Edward Childs Carpenter, called "The Great Desire."

Josephine Cohan is now playing the heroine in "The Fortune Hunter," the play which her husband, Fred Niablo is the star.

There is to be a dramatization of "He Fell in Love With His Wife," to be called "Partners." May Buckley and Frederick Burton are to appear in it.

Mabel and Edith Tallaferró have returned from a vacation trip to Europe. The younger sister will resume her tour in "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," this month.

George Parsons, the husband of Georgia Drew Mondum, has written a musical comedy, which has been accepted by the Shuberts for production early this season.

Fritz Leiber, who was leading man with Ben Greet for many years, following this by appearing as leading man with Julia Marlowe, has been re-engaged by Robert Mantell as leading man.

"Baa! Baa! Black Sheep!" is the title the late O. Henry's story, "Cabbages and Kings," will bear in dramatic form. The dramatization is the joint work of Joseph Medill Patterson and Hugh Ford.

"The Lilac Domino" is the title of the new operetta of Viennese make in which Miss Emmy Wehlen will appear in this country this season. She has passed to the management of Charles Dillingham.

Louis N. Parker's "Lady Godiva," written for Miss Viola Allen, will be equipped with the settings and dresses prepared for Mascagni's as yet unheard opera "Ysobel," which, like Mr. Parker's play, deals with the incident of Peeping Tom of Coventry.

Forbes-Robertson will open his third season in "The Passing of the Third Floor Back," in Brooklyn on October 23. He will continue in this same success throughout the season, appearing in Shubert theatres in cities where he has not yet been seen.

"THIS IS MY 67th BIRTHDAY."

William Templeman.

William Templeman, one of the leaders of the Liberal party in Canada and Minister of Inland Revenue in the Laurier cabinet, was born in Peckenhall Village, Ontario, September 28, 1844. His education was received in the public schools of his native place. When but twenty-three years old he established a newspaper at Almonte, which he conducted successfully for a number of years. In 1884 he went west and began the publication of a newspaper in Victoria, B. C., of which he has ever since been the proprietor. He embarked in active politics in 1891, in which year he was an unsuccessful candidate for the House of Commons. In 1897 he was called to the senate. He entered the government, without portfolio, in 1902, and four years later was appointed Minister of Inland Revenue. He was elected to the House of Commons for Victoria, B. C., in 1906. Two years later he was defeated for re-election, but in 1909 he was elected by acclamation as the Liberal candidate for Comox-Atlin.

How To Get More Out Of Your Hay Crop

WHETHER you feed or sell your hay, it should be baled. Baled hay takes up much less room and nets a better price than loose hay. It is always ready for any market at top price, while loose hay must be sold near home, at whatever you can get.

IHC HAY PRESS

have many points of strength, simplicity, and convenience found in no other presses. They are equipped with a compound lever and a toggle joint plunger, which gives them great compressing power. A 500 pound pull on the sweep of a 16x18 IHC press gives 76,800 pounds pressure in the bale chamber.

The bed reach is only 4 inches high and very narrow. The bale chamber is very low—easy to reach over to tie the bale.

If you examine an IHC hay press you will appreciate its value as a money saver and money maker.

The Greater Need. I do not ask for wings—not I! I really do not care to fly. I would not give a copper cent To soar up to the firmament, And bump my head against the stars, Or chum with funny folks on Mars; Or play about with vagrom volts From Father Zeu's thunderbolts.

But I would like a pair of feet To use down here upon the street 'Pon which at all times, day and night, To stand firm as Gibraltar might When standing is the thing to do To hold me fast, and good, and true; And feet enough to lead the race When running is the proper pace— In all ways duly circumspect, And holding me always erect!

For angels, wings are very meet, But what we mortals need are feet. —John Kendrick Bangs, in New York Times.

A Striking Illustration. A Scottish parson, remarkable for the simple force of his pulpit style, was enlarging one Sunday upon the text, "Except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish." "Yes, my friends," he urged with solemn earnestness, "unless ye repent ye shall as surely perish," deftly placing his left forefinger on the wing of a blue bottle fly that had just alighted upon the reading desk the while the parson's right hand was uplifted— "just as surely as, my friends, I Tatten this poor fly." But, before the threatened blow descended the fly got away, whereupon the minister exclaimed chuckingly, "There's a chance for ye yet, my friends!" The jealous husband naturally feels that his wife longs for the fellowship of a man.
