

UNVEILING OF MONUMENT TO PARNELL

EXPECTS DOUBLE POPULATION.

Special Trains Will Bring Delegations Of Visitors.

DUBLIN, Sept. 30.—Dublin expects her population to be almost double tomorrow, for tens of thousands of visitors from all over the country will be here to help the people of the Irish capital to make the unveiling of the St. Gaudens monument to Charles Stewart Parnell an event of national importance. One of the greatest nationalist demonstrations held in this city in recent years is promised. John E. Redmond, the intimate friend of Parnell and his successor as the leader of the Irish party in parliament, will be the chief figure at the unveiling exercises. It is expected that Mr. Redmond's oration will be one of the greatest tributes yet paid to the memory of his dead chief.

Special trains will bring delegations of visitors from all over Ireland. Many of the larger delegations will be headed by the mayors of their respective cities. Avondale, the County Wicklow town where first saw the light of day, will send nearly its entire population to the unveiling. The Irish organizations in America, whose generous contributions aided Parnell in his campaigns, have arranged for special representation.

The monument stands at the end of O'Connell street, one of the principal streets of Dublin and said to be the widest thoroughfare in all Europe. The site is close to Rutland Square and near the historic Rotunda, which was the scene of many great nationalist gatherings in the last century.

The memorial is the last great work undertaken by the American sculptor, Augustus St. Gaudens. It is a most elaborate affair, consisting of a bronze statue of heroic size, set on a great granite pedestal. An obelisk rises many feet in the rear of it and the statue depicts Parnell wearing a light overcoat carelessly thrown back from his shoulders, while he is in an attitude of addressing a crowd. One hand rests on a table, on which is spread out a copy of the Irish land act. His other hand is upraised and his left foot placed forward as if in the act of giving great emphasis to his remarks.

The inscription on the pedestal, an extract from one of Parnell's own speeches, reads as follows: "To Charles Stewart Parnell. No man has a right to fix a boundary to the march of the nation. No man has a right to say to his country, 'Thus far thou shalt go and no farther.' We have never attempted to fix a ne plus ultra to the progress of Ireland's nationhood, and we never shall."

Charles Stewart Parnell, the man whose memory is now to be honored with a memorial in keeping with the distinguished services which he rendered his country, ranks with Daniel O'Connell as an agitator and leader, and was even superior to O'Connell as an organizer. His influence in the politics of his own country was so great that from the time he succeeded to the leadership of the Home Rule party in 1880, until November, 1890, when he deposed, he was virtually the dictator of the governing influences of English politics.

In the spring of 1875 Parnell took his first seat in parliament for Meath, having previously been defeated in County Dublin. Less than two years later he began his celebrated policy of obstruction. Isaac Butt, who was the recognized Irish leader at that time, could not see the sense of opposing measures in which the Irish were not directly concerned, but Parnell held to this course and Butt was forced from the leadership. In 1878 Parnell was the acknowledged leader of the Irish party.

Because of the failure of the potato crop, 1879 was the worst year Ireland had known since 1848, and Parnell became the president of the British land league in 1879, with its famous watchword, "Keep a firm grip on your homesteads."

The next year Gladstone succeeded Beaconsfield as prime minister, and Parnell and other Irishmen were imprisoned under the coercion act in 1881-82. Parnell was able to force the issues which resulted in an alliance with Gladstone.

In 1887 appeared the articles in the London Times "Parnellism and Crime" and a facsimile letter of Parnell was produced, in which he excused the murder of Burke, but regretted the killing of Cavendish. The confes-

CORRESPONDENT WAS IN ERROR.

No Prisoner Was Paid Out At The State Farm.

A few days ago in our correspondence from Scotland Neck was an item which stated that a farmer of that section had gone to the state farm and paid out a negro whose term lacked a year of being out, and soon after the prisoner was taken to the home of the man and put to work. He stole the man's horse and skipped.

We are in receipt of a letter from Mr. J. J. Laughinghouse, superintendent of the state prison, saying that the story is entirely incorrect and without foundation, and that no such thing has occurred at the farm. Superintendent Laughinghouse says he was at the farm last Saturday, Sunday and Monday, and that while there some gentlemen phoned asking the use of the state's dogs, making the statement that some gentleman had stood a negro's bond, and that the negro had stolen his horse and buggy and skipped; that they had made a hot chase and recovered the horse but the negro had escaped, and they wanted the dogs to chase the negro.

This might have been what our correspondent got his story from, but it had no connection with the state farm other than the telephone request for the use of the state's dogs to chase the negro.

PICK POCKET CAPTURED.

He Was A Follower Of Haag's Circus.

One of the side shows in connection with Haag's circus here Friday seemed to be a den of pick pockets. Several complaints of people losing money coming to the police, the officers got busy watching for the slick fingered gentry. Policeman G. A. Clark spotted a negro who was moving suspiciously among the crowd and kept an eye on him. It was not long before the officer saw the negro run his hand in a man's pocket and take the latter's purse, which contained about $10. The negro was captured and landed in jail.

Policeman Clark had a second pick pocket negro spotted and succeeded in capturing him also at a late hour Friday night.

The venerable warrior, who has had part in every British campaign during the last half century is reported to be in excellent health for a man of his years.

Taft at Missouri State Fair.

SEDALIA, Mo., Sept. 30.—An immense crowd turned out to greet President Taft, who spent several hours here today as the guest of the city of Sedalia and the Missouri state fair. The president delivered an address at the state fair, where he was introduced by Governor Hadley.

The Bird Flew.

A white man, named James, claiming to be from Norfolk, was arrested here Friday afternoon for striking another man in the face with a bottle, and was placed in the guard house. When an officer went around to feed him this morning, there was no one there to feed, the prisoner having made his escape during the night.

Fire at Wendell.

The Norfolk Southern depot at Wendell, and one store near by, were destroyed by fire Friday morning.

Investigation of the investigation, and his suicide later in Madrid, resulted in a victory for Parnell, who remained the idol of the Irish people, until 1890, his connection with the O'Shea divorce case threw a shadow over his fame and caused him to resign the leadership of his party.

"Saved at Last."

Your witty correspondent, "U-Know," should be very serious when writing on some subjects. To be "saved" by accepting Christ as a Savior, is a blessed experience. I am glad if "U-Know" has had that experience.

Satan will follow him and me till we die. He and I will need Divine help. "Every hour I need Thee." I can think of no better prayer for "U-Know" and me, than: "O! Receive my Soul at Last," or "Save me at Last in Heaven."

The board of county commissioners will meet in regular monthly session next Monday.

GRIDIRON SEASON BEGINS IN THE WEST

TODAY MARKS THE OPENING.

Strong Teams Are Not Confined to "Big Eight" or to Michigan.

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 30.—Today marks the real opening of the football season in the middle west, though several of the college teams made their debut a week ago, while others will not begin their schedules until next week. The outlook for a successful season is regarded as promising. Minnesota is reported to have fully as good a team as last year, when the Gopher disputed with Michigan the championship of the West. Illinois, which also claimed the championship, is back with as strong if not stronger team than last season, and Illinois and Indiana likewise have put formidable elevens in the field. At Michigan the coaches are reported to be well satisfied with the outlook. Iowa rejoices in the return of practically all of the veterans of last year, and Purdue is hopeful of making a much better showing than in 1910. Wisconsin again is an unknown quantity, as are Chicago and Northwestern.

The strong teams, however, are not confined to the "big eight" or to Michigan. Notre Dame and Marquette will be well up in the running and Nebraska is considered on par with some of the "big eight" elevens. Lake Forest, Beloit, Knox, and Wabash, not to mention Michigan Agricultural College, which beat some of the best last year, are expected to be found near the front when the season closes.

The most important game scheduled for today is that between Minnesota and Iowa State College, at Northrop field. Indiana will play De Pauw at Bloomington and Ohio State will face Otterbein at Columbus.

Long Service of Negro Postmaster.

PORT GIBSON, Miss., Sept. 30.—Leaving behind him a record that has few parallels in the annals of the post office department, Thomas Richardson, a negro, today voluntarily retired from the office of postmaster of this city. Richardson has served continuously as postmaster of Port Gibson since 1870, with the exception of the eight-year period of President Cleveland's administration, when he was supplanted by a white Democrat.

Bryan's Wedding Anniversary.

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 30.—With a gathering of members of their family and a few intimate friends, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Bryan will celebrate their twenty-seventh wedding anniversary at Fairview. The marriage of Mr. Bryan and Miss Mary E. Baird took place Oct. 1, 1884, at the home of the bride's parents in Perry, Ill., one year after Mr. Bryan had been admitted to the bar.

Brown-Tupper Wedding.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—A wedding of interest to society today was that of Miss Katherine Boyce Tupper, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Henry Allen Tupper of this city and a relative of Sir Charles Tupper, the Canadian statesman, and Clifton Stevenson Brown, a prominent lawyer of Baltimore. The ceremony took place at noon at the home of the bride's parents in Germany Park.

Will Build Road in One Day.

CHICKASHA, Okla., Sept. 30.—At sunrise Monday morning the entire male population of Grady county will turn out en masse and with the aid of several hundred teams will start on the construction of an improved highway along the route of the Chisholm trail, a distance of nearly 100 miles. It is proposed to complete the building of the entire road in one day.

Yom Kippur.

Beginning at sundown Sunday evening and lasting until sundown Monday evening is Yom Kippur, the feast of the Jewish atonement, and Monday the business houses of our Hebrew citizens will be closed.

OLD PITT COUNTY BAND.

Will Get Together and Make Music For County Fair.

Some years ago Greenville had one of the best cornet bands in North Carolina. Because of the members getting different vocations that separated them the band went down. Many of them still have their instruments, and Mr. J. F. Evans, who was a member of the band and is one of the members of the governing board of the Pitt County Fair Association, proposes to get enough of the old band members together to make music for the county fair on Nov. 2nd and 3rd. This will certainly be a treat, and we are sure Mr. Evans will make a success of his proposition.

What It Means to be a Boy Scout.

The Scout activities appeal to the boys because they include innumerable things which their heroes of fiction and history have done. In place of trying to force the boys to conform to the artificial ideas and standards of adults, evolved by adults who lead artificial lives, we go to the boys themselves, find out the real things which interest them, the fundamental causes for their activities, the kind of men that make heroes for them, and then we endeavor to show them how they can derive entertainment in natural boyish ways; how they can emulate the remarkable virtues of such real boy's heroes as the picturesque groups of remarkable persons developed by our frontier, whom we call the Buckskin Knights—such men as Johnathan Chapman (Appleseed Johnny), a follower of Emanuel Swedenborg's teachings; the daredevil Simon Kenton, a devout Methodist; the greatest scout that ever lived, Daniel Boone whose whole life was influenced by the precepts of the Friends; the great pathfinder, Marquette, a priest of the Roman Catholic church; Abraham Lincoln, a product of the frontier; George Washington, the foundation of whose remarkable character was built in the wilderness among the Buckskin men. These are real, genuine heroes, whose virtues our boys may safely copy.

The boys by becoming Scouts have an opportunity to learn woodcraft, gain knowledge of birds and trees, learn the secrets of the woods, to swim, paddle a canoe and do many other things boys love to do. At all times they have over them a Scoutmaster, whose credentials have been approved and who is really their physical, mental, and character trainer. He watches over them and guides them in their play and their various activities, trains them in alertness, self-reliance, and other Scout virtues. His aims is to turn out useful, self-reliant, honest citizens.—Review of Reviews.

Secretary E. H. Thomas, of the Greenville Tobacco Board of Trade, reports the sales of tobacco on the Greenville market for the month of September at 2,253,321 pounds for $256,565.20, an average of $11.38 and a fraction per hundred pounds.

For the same month last year the sales were 2,415,931 at an average price of $10.96 per hundred. This shows a falling off in pounds of 1,161,716 pounds from last year, but an increase in price of $1.32 per hundred.

Bar Common Drinking Cups.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Following the example set by Massachusetts, New Jersey and several other states, New York City will tomorrow put into force a law to prohibit the use of "common drinking cups" in any place of public resort or employment, such as parks, theatres, schools, railroad stations, factories and work-shops.

TRAIN RUNS OVER MAN.

Employe of Haag's Circus Badly Hurt.

Friday afternoon an Atlantic Coast Line train passing through Munford park, near where the Haag show tents were pitched, struck a colored employe of the circus and badly injured him. One of the man's arms was broken in two places and badly mangled.

Drs. Fountain and Hassell went out and dressed the man's wounds and he was sent to the A. C. L. hospital at Rocky Mount.

It Caught The Folks.

A very striking finale to the circus parade, Friday, was the manure spreader wagon of Hart & Hadley. The machinery of the spreader whirled as the wagon moved along and attracted much attention. Mr. E. E. Griffin occupied the front seat of the wagon, and his friends kept him lifting his silk hat in acknowledgement of greetings as often as President Taft on parade.

FIRST GET THE FACTORIES.

"I see you have some vacant houses in Greenville. Why is this?" asked an observer. Because there are not the people to occupy them. "Why the scarcity of people to occupy the houses?" Because of the lack of employment for them. "And why the lack of employment?" Because of the absence of factories. Reverse this and see what would be the result: Manufacturing enterprises will give employment to people. Employment will bring more people to the town. More people in the town will fill the vacant houses. The people who come for employment and fill the houses and pay rent, must also eat and wear clothes, and that means more business for the merchants. The thing to do is start out and get the factories.

The first week in October a number of Ohio people are going to visit Eastern North Carolina on a prospecting tour along the Norfolk Southern railroad. They will be taken over that road from Norfolk, stopping at several points between there and New Bern. We hope this visit will be the cause of many of them locating in Eastern North Carolina.

Wilmington has decided to wake up and go after the numerous blind tigers operating in that city. A few days ago the grand jury returned bills of indictments against forty-nine persons who had been selling liquor.

The Pitt county fair is now only about a month off, the dates being November 2nd and 3rd. Be sure that you get something ready to exhibit. The premium list is liberal.

October ought to bring The Reflector a harvest of subscribers after receipts. Won't you who read this be among the number to pay early?

Something that ought to return from its summer vacation is the Chamber of Commerce of Greenville.

Better make the most of this warm weather while it lasts. It is not here for much longer.

Make the first county fair this year a success, and next year it will be even easier.

Age of Electricity.

This may be truly called an electrical age, for the recent bulletin issued by the census department on this subject shows a most wonderful growth in the past decade in the utilization of electricity. An exchange commenting upon the bulletin says: "During the period extending from 1899 to 1909 the value of machinery and apparatus used in this country for the generation and application of electricity increased from $105,832,000 to $243,967,000. With the introduction of electrical machinery a new nomenclature, with which the general public is only slowly becoming familiar has been introduced. Dynamos, dynamotors, motor generators and several scores of other terms have made their appearance in the later editions of the dictionaries. The output of the power motors, which was only 35,604 in 1899, had reached up to 244,123 in 1909, an increase of 586 per cent. during the decade. "A satisfactory storage battery for motive uses has but recently been put to use, but that the application of this form of energy to practical uses has at last been achieved is indicated by the fact that whereas storage batteries to the value of $3,679, were turned out in 1890, the value of the output in 1909 was $10,612,000. The output of small motors for automobiles, motor boats, fans and various other special uses has increased enormously."—Ledger Dispatch.

How Are They to Know?

Says the Raleigh News and Observer: "People ought to buy from home merchants, but if home merchants do not advertise how are they to know the home merchants wish their trade? How are they to know that there are any home merchants at all? How are they to know what a home merchant sells, anyhow? How are they to find where a home merchant does business? How are they to know whether a home merchant sells the kind of grindstones that grind? How are they to know but what the home merchant would rather be idle than advertise and get trade?—Wilmington Star.

A Pledge of Thanks.

By all that life yet holds;
By all that time has settled,
By all that conflict conquers,
By all that faith enfolds;
By all that memory strengthens,
By all that sorrow lifts;
By all that gladness lengthens,
By all that purpose rifts;
By these things and all others,
And all things yet to be,
I thank God for the gladness
Of childish things in me.

Deon C. Worcester, for ten years American secretary of the interior for the Philippines, was born in Thetford, Vt., October 1, 1866, and received his education at the University of Michigan. In 1893 he was appointed as instructor at the university and served as a member of the faculty for several years. He headed a scientific expedition sent by the university to the Philippines and while there made a careful study of the government problems and of Spanish methods in the islands.
