INTEREST IN DAILY REFLECTOR CONTEST STILL ON THE INCREASE

Every Worker Sure of Handsome Reward -- Energy Is All That Is Needed
To Win Success

HAVE YOU TURNED IN YOUR NAME?

Many New Entries To Earn Handsome Aggregate of Prizes.

Last Tuesday was the opening day of the Daily Reflector's big $500.00 contest of energy and the list of names of those entered in the contest will be published next Monday, the 23rd. The nominations continue to arrive by every mail and many callers are received by the Contest Manager at his office in the Daily Reflector building every day. Never has so much interest been taken in a gift distribution on the part of a daily newspaper in this section. There is reason for it. Never before has a publication in this vicinity offered such rich and suitable rewards for the efforts of the young ladies who enter the contest as are now being offered by the Daily Reflector.

The prizes are seven in number and range from a beautiful gold watch to a handsome piano. They aggregate in value $500.00—a considerable amount of money—and the method of distribution is considered one of the fairest propositions ever devised.

The Daily Reflector believes that this is going to be one of the greatest contests ever held and takes pleasure in assuring contestants and their friends that nothing that will assist them in securing votes and subscriptions and which may add to their pleasure in becoming successful contestants has been overlooked. The nomination blank which will entitle you to 5,000 votes as a starter, is printed on another page of the paper. The ten vote coupon appears in this issue and will appear every day. Clip these coupons out and mail them or bring them to the Contest Manager, for every little bit will help you and one ten vote coupon might win for you the prize at the finish.

Names Will Appear on Monday.

The list of names of those that are entered in the contest and the number of votes that each one has to date will appear in the Daily Reflector on Monday. It will be mighty helpful to be on the first list if you are thinking of entering the contest. There is an old saying about the early bird catching the worm, and this is a pretty good proverb to go by. An early start may mean several thousand extra votes to you. The nomination blank is on this issue. Fill it out and mail it or bring it to the Contest Manager today.

Workers Sure of Success.

When a little energy and perseverance are going to win a handsome prize for you, why delay the time of starting? You all have read of the Klondyke and the mad rush that turned it from morning to night, from a frozen waste to a thickly populated piece of Uncle Sam's land. You don't need to be told the reason of that rush. Something was to be gained by getting there ahead of the other fellow. That particular something was gold. We discovered for you, right here in Pitt county, a veritable Klondyke. Do we also need to tell you about the rush? I am sure that will be unnecessary and by the present outlook it is safe to say that the rush is on. Get your receipt books and join the prospectors.

HOOKEWORM DISPENSARIES.

Now Being Conducted in Pitt County—Large Crowd First Day.

The dispensary for the free treatment of hookworm disease, under the direction of the State Board of Health, acting with the commissioners of Pitt county, opened at Grifton, Friday, in charge of Dr. C. F. Strohsider, assisted by Mr. J. J. Mackay, as microscopist. There were 150 people to visit the dispensary the first day, which shows the interest in it. Today they were in Greenville, in the court house, and have been kept very busy with callers.

The schedule of visits for this county is every Tuesday, beginning 24th, at Bethel, every Wednesday at Farmville, every Thursday at Grimesland, every Friday at Grifton, and every Saturday at Greenville, for five weeks.

Matrimony is the mother of excuses.

COL. AND MRS. F. G. JAMES.

Give Reception in Honor of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. James.

Friday night at their elegant home on Fifth street, Col. and Mrs. F. G. James gave a reception in honor of their son, Mr. J. B. James, and his charming bride, formerly Miss Lucy Brown, of Greenville, Tenn., who were married last week in the latter town and arrived here Friday from their bridal tour. From 8:30 to 11 the home was a scene of brilliancy and splendor with scores of callers of exquisitely gowned women and handsome men.

The scene was enhanced by the artistic decorations that at every turn added beauty to it. The front veranda was brilliant with Japanese lanterns in which were electric lights. The hall was a perfect garden of plants tastefully arranged. The color scheme of the parlor was white and green and of the library crimson and green. A feature in the latter was the punch bowl arranged in the arch window, surrounded with ferns and a large bunch of red dahlias on one side. On the table in the dining room was a center piece of maiden hair ferns and yellow chrysanthemums, the chandelier above tied with tulle and ferns.

As the guests arrived they were met in the front hall by Mr. and Mrs. H. A. White and Mrs. Ada Cherry. The gentlemen were escorted to the hat room by Masters Larry James and Julian White, and the ladies to the cloak room by little Misses Ada James and Nell White.

Standing in the receiving line under an arch in the parlor were Col. and Mrs. F. G. James, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. James, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Lipscomb, Jr., Mr. Charlie James and Miss Charlotte Fennel, of Wilmington, Mr. Frank Skinner of New York and Miss Mary Goodwin of Philadelphia. After leaving the parlor the guests were taken in charge by Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hooker and shown to the library, where punch was served by Dr. and Mrs. Charles Laughinghouse and Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Moyer.

From there they were directed by Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Cobb to the dining room, where a sweet course, the cream being assorted flower shapes, was served by Mr. B. S. Warren and Miss Mary Shelburn, Mr. N. O. Warren and Miss Lillian Carr, Mr. Donnell Gilliam and Miss Mary Smith, Mr. Alex Blow and Miss Lee Brown, Mr. Tom Dupree and Miss Allie Estelle Greene.

The bride was attired in her wedding gown of ivory charmseuse satin combined with duchess lace, court train of satin lace and sprigs of orange blossoms. Mrs. F. G. James wore a draped gown of white satin and chiffon cloth embroidered in blue and silver with crystal trimming. Mrs. Lipscomb wore yellow satin draped in blue beaded net with crystal trimming. Miss Goodwin wore pink satin draped over with pink beaded net trimmed with white marabout. Miss Fennel wore pink satin with crystal trimming. The other ladies were charmingly attired in beautiful creations, recent brides wearing their wedding gowns.

Tobacco Sale on Saturday.

On account of the large tobacco sale here Friday, and the large sale at the Gum which had the last sale, it was necessary to leave off the Gum sale until today. While this is the first sale we have had this season on Saturday, prices were never better than at the Gum this morning. Greenville continues to be the leading tobacco market and farmers will make no mistake in selling their tobacco here. There is not a stronger corps of buyers in the state than is found daily on the Greenville market.

Dead.

The infant daughter, aged 11 days, of Mr. and Mrs. Josephus Daniels, of Raleigh, died Friday morning. Their many friends throughout the state sympathize with the parents in this bereavement.

A man may be right when he claims that distance lends enchantment to the view.

THE ELECTIONS IN EIGHT STATES

TWO WEEKS FROM TUESDAY.

Chief Interest Directed Toward Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 21.—There will be elections in eight states and in a number of the leading cities of the country two weeks from next Tuesday. In Massachusetts, Kentucky, Maryland, Rhode Island, Mississippi and New Mexico a governor and other state officers are to be chosen; in New Jersey and Virginia, a legislature only; in New York, several members of the state judiciary and in Nebraska a supreme judge, regent of the state university and railroad commissioner. In Pennsylvania, Ohio, Utah and California, municipal officers are to be selected, while in New York county a number of judges and a sheriff are to be voted for.

Practically all of the counties, state and municipal, are on local issues, with no national questions involved. Affording an exception to the rule, however, will be the special elections in several congressional districts where vacancies exist by reason of the death of the incumbent since the last election. Included among the districts where elections will be held are the fourteenth Pennsylvania, the seventh Kansas, the third Nebraska, the first New Jersey, and the tenth Tennessee.

The chief interest of national politicians in the state elections is directed toward Massachusetts and Rhode Island. Both are industrial states and are directly concerned in the tariff, which has been brought forward as a prominent issue in the campaign. Governor Foss is a candidate for re-election as governor of Massachusetts on the Democratic ticket. Louis A. Frothier, at present, lieutenant governor, is the Republican choice for governor. While the Republican leaders appear confident they will carry the state this year, many observers feel more than doubtful about the prospect, and would not at all be surprised at the re-election of Governor Foss. For the first time since the Republicans began their long lease of power in the Bay state, now more than fifty years ago, their control of the legislature is seriously challenged this year.

A condition of uncertainty about the result of Rhode Island is also reported, in view of the fact that last year Governor Pothier, Republican, had but a small margin of victory over Lewis A. Waterman, the Democratic candidate for governor. This year the same candidates head the tickets, and under the circumstances the Democrats naturally have hopes that they will be victorious.

In Kentucky, while the Republicans are putting up a rather stiff fight, the Democrats are generally expected to win. The latter has an able and well known candidate for governor in the person of James B. McCreary, former governor and United States senator. The Republican ticket is headed by Judge Edward C. O'Bear. The legislature to be elected in Kentucky will choose a United States senator to succeed Thomas H. Paynter. The election of Congressman Ollie M. James to the senatorship is a foregone conclusion.

In Maryland there is a straight contest between the Democrats and Republicans, with the last named enjoying a slight advantage in the race by reason of the dissension in the Democratic ranks. The Democratic candidate for governor is Arthur J. Gorman, son of the late United States senator. Opposing him on the Republican ticket is Phillip Lee Goldsborough, a well known citizen of Baltimore.

There is only one ticket—the Democratic—in Mississippi, and the result, of course, is not doubtful. The next governor of that commonwealth will be Earl M. Brewer, a prominent lawyer of Clarksdale.

In Nebraska, though the officers to be chosen are of relatively small importance, a spirited campaign has been carried on with an eye to future results. The legislature to be chosen in Virginia will be the election of two United States senators, but the choice of these has already been determined in the primary. New Mexico will hold her first state election for congressmen, governor and other state officers, judiciary and legislature, and county officers. National politicians are interested in the re-

CAN WE REALLY STOP WORRYING?

SOME POINTS ON THAT SUBJECT

What Worry Is And How We Can Cure It.

(Number Two).

What Some Folks Worry About.
Some people constantly worry because they are "criticized" either justly or unjustly. They are always being "neglected" or "sighted," even by their best friends. Other people are depressed and dejected because they are sure that their great worth is not fully appreciated by their associates or employers. Still others fret and fume and worry because they feel that it is their duty to resent some supposed or real injury or injustice that has been done them.

Other people worry because they are inordinately timid—backward. Many earnest souls constantly fear imaginary difficulties, fear they will make some awful blunder, or that they will utterly fail to "make good" with the task they have in hand. Some persons always feel that after they have done their best they will still be unable to meet the demands which their position makes upon them. This abnormal timidity necessarily results in producing an unnatural state of discouragement, brooding and despondency.

Still others worry over their grave responsibilities. As a rule these anxious individuals are found to be altogether too overanxious about certain minute details and other matters for which they are not at all personally responsible and over which they exercise little or no control; and yet they constantly worry over these things to the point where they lose both appetite and sleep.

Other people have a perfect passion for worrying over the weather. The sun either shines too much or else it rains too much. Some men and women are literally human barometers. As the result of their rheumatic tendency, coupled with constant thought of the weather, they are able to detect a storm long before the weather bureau is aware that it has appeared upon the horizon. Such individuals are able to keep themselves on the border of nervous prostration by their constant worry over the weather and form fear that all their plans will be upset by rain, storm or drought. Still others are possessed with the constant fear of being struck by lightning. They are actually terrorstricken, not by the lightning but by loud thunder, forgetting that the thunder cannot possibly harm them. Others, again, find fault with everything and everybody. They have literally acquired the "kicking" habit. They seem unable to see good in anybody or to be satisfied with anything.

A whole family will fight to poke an open fire, but not one will offer to tend the furnace.

sult because it will increase the numerical strength of one of the other of the two parties in congress. The sister state of Arizona has decided to defer the holding of her first election until December.

In New York county the Republicans have fused with the Independence League, the Citizens' Union, and other so-called independent organizations on the county ticket, which is made up of a number of court justices and a sheriff. The contest for members of the general assembly also is receiving much attention because the Republicans are sparing no efforts to win back this branch of the state legislature, which last year went Democratic for the first time in many years.

In point of interest several of the municipal campaigns far exceed that of the state contests. Pittsburg and Philadelphia, Cleveland, Cincinnati and Toledo, Salt Lake City and San Francisco—all are the scenes of hard fights for control of the municipal offices. In practically all of these municipal contests the reform question is a dominant issue.

The country as a whole in these elections, both state and municipal, will be of interest chiefly as they will serve to indicate the drift of popular opinion concerning the parties. Perhaps they will leave the outlook no clearer than it is at the present, but if for any reason one party should show decided gain in the voting, the fact will be classified as an indicator of what may happen next year.

FRANZ LISZT'S CENTENARY.

Special Observances Will be Held in Hungary.

VIENNA, Oct. 21.—Beginning today and continuing through the coming week the entire musical world will join in paying tribute to the memory of Franz Liszt, the famous pianist and composer, on the occasion of the centennial anniversary of his birth; in Vienna, where he made his first appearance; in Weimar, where he was the director of the Court Theatre; in Paris, where he achieved some of his greatest triumphs and at Bayreuth, where his death occurred in 1886. Probably the most notable of all the observances, however, will be that at Heidelberg where a four day's centennial festival was begun today with Saint-Seans, Richard Strauss, Busoni, Ludwig Hess and other famous musicians taking part.

"The Garden of Allah" Produced.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Not in several years has a theatrical event aroused so much interest in the metropolis as the Liebler production of "The Garden of Allah," which was given its first performance this afternoon at the Century Theatre. Mme. Mary Anderson Navarro and Robert Hichens, who collaborated in the authorship, witnessed the performance. The cast is a highly notable one, including as it does Mary Manning, Lewis Waller and other players of wide reputation.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 21, 1911.

THE PITT COUNTY FAIR.

The energy of a country deserves watching. The resulting effects of applied energy are well worth appreciation. And the watching and appreciation combined generate new energy. When speaking of a country or only a community, this holds equally true. The efforts of a child are closely watched by the loving parents. Those of the parents by the community and those of the community by the nation. And from this mutual watching great benefits are derived. Individual plodding—followed to the letter—would undoubtedly bring negative results. Collective activity spells success. What would happen to the man who grows wheat if he refused to learn anything about the miller? What to the miller if he did not keep in touch with the users of flour? They would die a death entirely due to their inattention. In olden times merchants went through a lot of hardships in many miles of uncomfortable traveling to show their products in parts of the world where those products were not available. That was the beginning of commerce. Dates would be arranged and a certain city would be appointed and merchants from the four corners of the globe would troop there in large numbers. This was the beginning of fairs. How well this plan answered its purpose is well attested to by its long life. Today, many hundreds of years since the beginning of commerce and fairs, they are still held all over the world. The only difference is that now fairs are more or less local and not universal. They represent the efforts of a locality or county, or even a state.

Just now the population of a county, foremost for its tobacco output and the importance of other crops, is getting together to "pull off something big" in the way of showing what their energy has wrested from the fertile soil of their country.

The people of the county are going to show in Greenville, the second and third days in November, that North Carolina ought to be proud of them. They will show live stock, poultry, fruits, field products, pantry and dairy products and fancy work. A committee made up of the best well-known business men of the county has been formed and hundreds of dollars will be given away as premiums for deserving exhibits. In addition to this extensive premium list the State Department of Agriculture is offering $50.00 in premiums for the Women's Department. The fair will be held in the building of the Star warehouse. The Pitt County Fair Association will assist in placing the exhibits and will cheerfully furnish intending exhibitors will all information regarding the fair. There will be no charges made for admission into the fair grounds, and unlike other fairs of similar nature, there will be no side shows, no racing, no speculators. It will be an exhibition of Pitt county products, pure and simple.

The officers of the fair are as follows:

- President, J. L. Wooten.
- Vice President, A. J. Moya.
- Treasurer, J. B. Tucker.
- Secretary, D. J. Whighard.
- Board of Governors—J. R. Bunting, W. E. Bullock, J. H. Cobb, J. W. Crawford, J. Mc. Dixon, A. G. Cox.

The attorneys general of Virginia, North Carolina and South Carolina, three of the most prominent tobacco growing states, have caused consternation in tobacco trust circles by their disapproval of the plan of reorganization of the American Tobacco Company and allied corporations under the decree of the United States Supreme Court. The attorneys general of these states took their objections before the Federal district court of New York to which tribunal the tobacco trust dissolution was referred. The outcome of this will be watched with interest in all tobacco producing states.

Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Fried Chicken.

I've traveled o'er this changing earth;
I've "gone the gait"—that's true—
I've been with folks of every birth
And did as Romans do;
I've eaten with the rich and poor,
Their varied foods I've tried,
But, nothing do I yet adore
Like Georgia chicken fried.

I like the thick Chicago steak
With juice just oozing out;
I relish the Rhode Island "bake"
With clams and sauerkraut;
The salmon up in Canada
Before he's canned, or dried,
Is good enough, but better far
The chicken when he's fried.

The lobster 'a la Newburg's good,
And crab meat flaked is fine,
And lamb chops make a dandy food
With walnuts and red wine;
On turkey roasted to a crisp
Our nation has relled,
But, long as life shall last I'll lisp;
"Please pass the chicken fried."

GAIETY THEATRE

Opens Monday Night With Special Program.

The Gaiety theatre opens again Monday night after being closed during the week of carnival.

They have arranged a special program through the assistance of Mr. Doc Lettner as lecturer in "The Night Riders of Kentucky."

This series of pictures consist of four reels and will be explained throughout. No doubt but what all are thoroughly acquainted with the thrilling story, as it happened previously, for which we are all familiar with.

These pictures come highly recommended, playing to crowded houses where shown and are beyond any question of doubt, the greatest of the season. Don't miss the street parade that will be given Monday afternoon. The price of admission for that night will only be 10 and 20 cents. You make no mistake in witnessing this great treat that is in store for you.

"THIS IS MY 57th BIRTHDAY."

Charles W. Kouns.

Charles W. Kouns, who was recently appointed general manager of the Eastern lines of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe system, was born in New Holland, Ohio, October 22, 1854, and began railway work in 1871 as a telegraph operator on the Kansas Pacific, now a part of the Union Pacific road. Two years later he was made train despatcher on the same road, and in 1876 was appointed to a similar position with the International and Great Northern. He went to the Missouri Pacific in 1880 and the following year returned to the International and Great Northern as trainmaster. In 1885 he became division superintendent of the Union Pacific. Three years later he went to the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe as superintendent of transportation. In 1907 he was made assistant to the second vice president and in 1909 he was appointed general manager of the western lines.

If a woman is expecting her husband to bring her home some money and tell her to buy a new hat, he's just as likely instead to borrow car fare from her to get to the office in the morning.

This has certainly been a week of hub-bub.

A BALD-HEADED WOMAN.

Shorn of Her Crown of Beauty, Laces In Love and Marriage.

Hair is certainly most necessary to woman. Who could love and marry a bald-headed woman? What chance could one array to offset such a disfigurement?

A woman's goal is usually love and marriage. Her crowning glory is her hair. The loss of her hair mars her beauty, happiness, and success. Yes, there are thousands of women who are neglecting or injuring their hair to such an extent that it is only a matter of time when it will be utterly ruined.

Many women destroy the beauty of their hair through thoughtlessness or ignorance of certain facts. They use curling irons over-heated, or to excess, which destroys the natural oil of the hair, causing it to split, break, and come out. They do not shampoo their hair often enough, or too often. They use soaps or preparations which contain ingredients positively harmful to the scalp and hair.

As a result of such treatment, dandruff is created, the hair loosens, loses color, falls out, and baldness commences, unless proper and prompt precautions are taken in time. Then again, microbes and certain diseases bring about unhealthy scalp and hair conditions.

Almost any woman may rid herself of dandruff and diseased scalp and hair if she will but use the right remedy. We have that remedy, and we will positively guarantee that it will either relieve dandruff and baldness or it will not cost the user anything.

That's a pretty broad statement, but we will back it and prove it with our own money. We will return your money if you do not find that Rexall's "93" Hair Tonic is an entirely satisfactory remedy that will promote hair growth and overcome scalp and hair troubles; that it will grow hair even on bald heads, unless all life in the hair roots has been extinguished, the follicles closed, and the scalp is glazed and shiny. It gets its name from the fact that it grew hair in 93 out of 100 cases, where it received a thoroughly hard, impartial, and practical test.

We want you to try Rexall's "93" Hair Tonic at our risk. You surely cannot lose anything by doing so, while you have everything to gain. You had better think this over, and then come in and see us about this offer. You will be well repaid for your visit to our store. Remember, you can get Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store, Key's Pharmacy, Greenville, N. C.

A widow can grow more excited over getting engaged for a second wedding than a girl can over being married the first time.

Foxhall Continues to Lead Them.

Friday was another happy day at the Star, when there was sold one of the largest breaks of the season. The Star is leading them all, both in pounds and high prices. Don't listen to hot air, but rather look at the facts and figures. The Star beat its competitors 87 cents per hundred on all tobacco, including scrap, sold during September. Here are a few samples of my sales Friday. We are making them every day.

CARDUI WORKED

LIKE A CHARM

After Operation Failed to Help, Cardui Worked Like a Charm.

Jonesville, S. C.—"I suffered with womanly trouble," writes Mrs. J. S. Kendrick, in a letter from this place, "and at times, I could not bear to stand on my feet. The doctor said I would never be any better, and that I would have to have an operation, or I would have a cancer.

I went to the hospital, and they operated on me, but I got no better. They said medicines would do me no good, and I thought I would have to die.

At last I tried Cardui, and began to improve, so I continued using it. Now, I am well, and can do my own work. I don't feel any pains.

Cardui worked like a charm."

There must be merit in this purely vegetable, tonic remedy, for women—Cardui—for it has been in successful use for more than 50 years, for the treatment of womanly weakness and disease.

Please try it, for your troubles.
