"BEEF TRUST"

TO THE BAR

A GREAT LEGAL BATTLE IS ON.

Department of Justice Will Break All Records in Volume of Testimony.

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—Chicago packers, under indictment for alleged violation of the criminal provisions of the Sherman anti-trust act in the alleged maintenance of an "unreasonable" conspiracy to restrain the meat industry of the country will be placed before Judge George A. Carpenter in the United States District court in this city next Monday. A special venire of 150 men has been ordered to report on that day and it is expected the trial will proceed without further delay.

Prosecutors for the department of justice and the great corps of attorneys for the defense are planning the greatest legal battle ever waged in a Federal court. It is estimated that the trial will take at least three months.

From the standpoint of the department of justice the case will break all records in volume of testimony. Already several hundred witnesses have been subpoenaed. The majority of the witnesses to be called are retail and wholesale meat dealers, former officials of Chicago packing companies and out-of-town packers. Many already have given evidence before the Federal grand jury which returned the true bills.

Eight years have elapsed since the government first started proceedings against the alleged "beef trust." It was in 1903 that the first indictments were returned and in December of that year the cases were called for trial and postponed. Delay followed delay until, in 1906, Judge Humphrey made his famous "immunity bath" ruling, freeing the packers from prosecution under the indictments. Two years later another investigation was started and soon discontinued. The following year the Federal investigators again became active and in the spring of 1910 indictments were filed asking that the National Packing company be dissolved. Thenceforth the machinery of the law moved with considerable rapidity. Last May the packers' demur to the indictments was overruled and the Sherman anti-trust law held valid as a criminal statute. In June a rehearing on the demurrer to the indictments was refused and a few weeks later Judge Carpenter set the case for trial.

United States Senator W. S. Kenyon of Iowa, who had charge of the "beef trust" investigation in its earliest stages, is expected to have a part in the coming trials. Since his election to a seat in congress he has made it known that his activities in the prosecution would not cease and that he would act as consul without pay. District Attorney James H. Wilkerson will head the prosecutors, with Elwood G. Goodman, his first assistant, as second in command.

If convicted the defendants can be fined $5,000 or imprisoned for one year under each of the seven counts contained in the three indictments pending against them.

Cuts for Christmas Advertising.

The Reflector is prepared to furnish its customers Christmas cuts for free use in their advertising, provided they speak for them in time. Specimen sheets of the Christmas cuts can be seen at the office, or if you request a representative of the paper will bring them to show you. This should be attended to early if the cuts are to be received in time.

De Guigne-Elkins Wedding.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 16.—Miss Marie Louise Elkins, whose share of the large fortune left by her father, the late William Elkins, amounted to about $2,000,000, was married today to Christian de Guigne, Jr., of San Francisco. The wedding took place at the Belgravia and was attended by many prominent guests.

To End Tribal Government.

MCALISTER, Okla., Nov. 16.—At a special meeting today of the leading men in the Choctaw Nation a memorial was drawn up asking congress to abolish their tribal government, to sell the surface of the segregated coal and asphalt lands and to distribute the tribal funds.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

By The Governor of North Carolina—November 30th.

In obedience to law, I hereby proclaim Thursday, November 30, 1911, a day of Thanksgiving, so that the people may cease from work and assemble in their accustomed places of worship and return thanks to Almighty God for the blessings which they, individually and as a people, have enjoyed during the year. In our thanks let us forget not with our charity the poor, needy, and afflicted.

We have enjoyed freedom from calamity and disaster; we have been blessed with harvests and material comforts sufficient for our needs, and progress has been made in quickening the public conscience to a higher sense of moral responsibility and civic duty. In our gratitude let us determine to strive in the coming year not only for the products of the soil and the fabrics of the hand, but also to more deeply realize our dependence upon the Almighty and our solemn duties to Him and to all His creatures.

In witness whereof, I, William W. Kitchin, governor of North Carolina, have set my hand and caused the great seal of the state to be affixed, this the 13th day of November, 1911.

W. W. KITCHIN,

Governor.

TACKLES PANTHER AND BEAR.

Ex-Sheriff Harrington Has Thrilling Experience on a Hunt.

Ex-Sheriff W. H. Harrington was over in Craven county Monday looking after having some timber hauled. He had his gun and dog along to fill in the spare time hunting. While in the woods his dog treed up a hollow and Mr. Harrington procured a forked stick to twist in the hollow and find what occupied it. When he turned to go to the hollow after getting the stick, he saw a panther have his dog down and about to choke the life out of him. To save his dog Mr. Harrington began using the stick on the panther, when suddenly something grabbed the leg of his pants and looking behind he saw it was a bear. It looked like squally times for a moment, but he saved himself from injury by shooting the bear down. The panther fled to the bushes and the wounded bear scrambled off in the same direction. Next morning some parties went out and found the bear dead not far from where it was shot.

Now if any body is doubtful enough not to believe this, he can go to Sheriff Harrington who will show the torn pants leg where the bear caught hold of him and he will verify this as a correct story.

To Save the Babies.

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 16.—The American Association for the Study and Prevention of Infant Mortality, which was organized several years ago at a meeting in New Haven, assembled at the Hotel LaSalle in this city today and began what promises to be the most notable and profitable meeting in its history. Before an adjournment is reached next Saturday it is expected plans will have been completed for a nation-wide campaign to save the lives of the babies.

County Collector on Trial.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Nov. 16.—The case of County Collector Stephen M. Egan, who is charged with high misdemeanor in lending county funds to the late Rob Davis, the Democratic "boss" of Hudson county, came up for trial here today. Egan was indicted on twenty-two counts. Ex-Governor J. Franklin Fort is defending him.

Arkansas Baptists in Session.

PINE BLUFF, Ark., Nov. 16.—Several hundred delegates and visitors from all over Arkansas are in Pine Bluff for the annual Baptist State Convention. The programme covers several days and in addition to the annual reports and other business it provides for sermons and addresses by numerous prominent leaders of the denomination.

Woman's College Building.

WAXAHACHIE, Texas, Nov. 16.—The cornerstone of the woman's building at Trinity University was laid today with interesting exercises. Addresses were delivered by Rev. J. Frank Smith of Dallas, Judge William F. Ramsey of Austin, Rev. R. L. Irving of Gainesville, and several others.

Close of Fifty Percent Increase on Schedule Will Make You a Winner or a Loser

Diamond Ring, Special Prize, Will Be Awarded on the 27th.

Interest in the Contest Now at it's Height; Special Prize Offer of 50% Increase Best Ever

EVERYONE ASSURED OF SQUARE DEAL IN CONTEST

No Votes Will be Transferred—Big Offer of Fifty Per Cent Increase on Vote Schedule Closes on Saturday, November 25th.

THERE IS NO TIME LIKE THE PRESENT TIME TO MAKE A STRONG BID FOR THE PRIZE YOU WANT TO WIN.

The list of candidates, which we were obliged to leave out yesterday for want of space, appears again today and several changes are to be noticed. Although most of the contestants are maintaining their positions in the list, still the contest has not really "turned the corner" and the number of changes and surprises will be many when the offer in force up to the 25th closes. Many contestants realizing the value of a reserve force are hoarding up a number of votes which will bid fair to make them successful when the final count is made a little over three weeks from today. The fact that this period of the contest is of the utmost importance to those that mean to be "in at the finish" can not be emphasized. The free vote season is a thing of the past and real hard hustling from now on will make you a winner from now on. The schedule of votes in force up to the close of the contest was given in detail yesterday and the day before and the contestants are assured that no other changes will be made in this schedule before the contest comes to an end on Saturday night, December 9, at 9 p. m.

A Mistaken Idea.

Because some of the contestants reaped a rich harvest of extra vote ballots in the past few weeks, they seem to have an idea that the piano is already their own personal property. This is altogether erroneous and will be the disappointment of many a contestant unless she keeps right on going after the subscriptions from now on and right up to the close of the contest. We all have heard the fable of the turtle and the hare. In other words, we want to impress upon the mind of every contestant that, although speed counts a great deal, reliability is the most valuable asset in a race such as this. We want to say for those that think they have the piano "cinched" to have another thought and put up another burst of speed before Saturday, November 25th, as otherwise they will be hopelessly beaten by the "slow but sure."

Fifty Per Cent Increase.

For all subscriptions turned in before Saturday night, November 25, at 9 p. m., votes will be issued as per regular schedule plus fifty per cent increase on this schedule. Thus a yearly subscription instead of counting 20,000 votes, will be worth 30,000 to the contestant turning it in. As you will have noticed in detailed explanation in yesterday's issue, this is the very best that will be offered up to the close of the contest. After November 25 a decrease will be in force right up to the end of the contest. It seems that it would be absolutely unnecessary for us to say what this means to the contestants who have a mind to be amongst the happy winners. Whatever you do before the 25th will be worth to you just half as much again as if you do it after that day, and as you naturally want to win you will realize quickly that the best time to do it is right now.

Everything Counts.

In this, the greatest offer before the close of the contest, all subscriptions will receive the benefit of a fifty per cent increase. Whether it be a 5 year subscription or only a six months subscription that telling fifty per cent increase will be tagged on to that vote coupon which will go such a long way to make you a winner.

So start right now and get all you can. Devote a certain amount of time each day to boosting your campaign. If you go at it systematically it will be ridiculously easy, and the prizes are so worthy of your effort, that it would be doing yourself and supporting friends an injustice were you to slack now.

Thanksgiving Prize.

This feature of the contest has elicited many a kind word of appreciation from contestants who realize what this extra prize means. A magnificent diamond ring of great value will be presented to the contestant bringing in more subscriptions to the Daily Reflector by Saturday, November 25, at 9 p. m. This extra prize coupled with the handsome vote offer in force up to the 25th makes a combination of the highest value to contestants "out to win." For here you are given an opportunity to win a beautiful gem, whilst all the time you are boosting your total towards the piano or any other of the handsome prizes.

Seldom, if ever, is such an offer made in a contest of this nature. Still, the Daily Reflector is a believer in giving the best for the best, and in giving this magnificent diamond ring it feels sure that it certainly will be awarded to the best.

Square Deal to All.

Regardless of what some people may have told you about this contest, you may rest assured that you are going to get the squarest kind of a deal. Every one is going to get the same kind of a treatment, no matter who they may be, and there will be no favors shown any one, so don't ask for them. A number of the contestants who have dropped out of the race have asked that their votes be transferred to someone else who is working. As this is contrary to the rules of the contest, as published in the original announcement, we have declined to do so.

This contest is going to be run according to the rules which were published when it opened and it will be impossible for you to get anything but a square deal. Those who have the largest number of votes at the finish will be awarded the prizes exactly as advertised.

A Great Many Votes.

Still go to waste, because some contestant was not wide awake enough to ask for them. One day last week a gentleman came in to pay for his subscription. He asked for no vote coupon and naturally no votes were issued to him. Three days later the same gentleman came in and asked for the votes, pleading that at the time he paid his subscription he was ignorant of the fact that votes were being issued on subscriptions. He was informed that this could not be

MEETING IN BAPTIST CHURCH.

Evangelist Holcomb Returned This Morning.

No pastor has ever done more earnest and faithful preaching than has been done by Rev. C. M. Rock in the meeting going on in the Baptist church. The burden of the meeting was unexpectedly thrown upon him so that he had to do the preaching as well as the much needed pastoral work. But violent "Soldier of the Cross" that he is, he met the issue bravely and the Lord has blessed his faithful work. Including the service Wednesday night there have been 22 professions since the meeting began and twelve have been received by the church as candidates for baptism.

Evangelist Holcomb, who was called out of the meeting, last Saturday, by the death of his child, and left for his home in Mississippi, returned this morning in readiness to again take charge of the meeting and do the preaching. As long as the meeting continues he will preach twice each day, at 3.30 and 7.30 p. m. There are large congregations at every service, and many more conversions are being prayed for and expected.

CAROLINA CLUB.

Will Hold Important Meeting Next Monday Night.

There will be a meeting of Carolina Club on next Monday night, the 20th, to consider some important matters to be looked after prior to the regular monthly meeting the first Monday night in December. At this called meeting Monday night the committee appointed at last meeting to invite the Ohio excursionists to Greenville will make their report and read letters that every member of the club should hear.

Any applications for membership ready at that time will also be acted on at this meeting. Those business men who are considering joining the club and every one in town ought to do so, should get in their applications while the reduction of one-half in membership fee is open.

The president of the club authorizes the statement that because of the special services in progress in the Baptist church, the meeting next Monday night will not be called to order until 9 o'clock, but if members will meet promptly at that hour the business can be finished in a short while.

SOME POTATO GROWERS.

They Get Half a Bushel From Fighth of an Acre.

Two Greenville garden-farmers concluded to try a crop of sweet potatoes jointly this year. They planted about one-eighth of an acre which they nursed and cultivated very carefully. When the frost came last week and killed the vines they concluded to dig their crop and both went to work spending half a day in the digging. The sum total of the crop when all had been dug was about half a bushel of small potatoes which they divided, each taking a peck. One of them placed his potatoes in his wood house over night only to find next morning that somebody had stolen them. These two are disgusted with potato raising.

To Distribute Immigrants.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 16.—How to divert the large tide of immigration into the various states so as to minimize the tendency of the newcomers from foreign lands to settle in the largest cities is the problem for discussion at a conference begun here today by Federal and State immigration officials. The South and the West are particularly well represented at the conference which will continue its sessions over tomorrow.

Francis Wilson has placed in rehearsal his new comedy, "The Spiritulist," which will be produced on Nov. 20.

done, as once a subscription had been paid and no votes had been asked for, that ended his chances of getting them. This is but one of the cases which we can call to mind. Still every day people come in, pay for their subscriptions and go away without the votes that if some contestant had but asked for she would have obtained. This shows that absolute need of a thorough canvass. Do not overlook any subscriptions, as that may be the one that will make you a winner.

GOOD ROADS TRAIN THROUGH THIS SECTION

REACHES GREENVILLE DEC. 5TH. To Be Operated by The Atlantic Coast Line Railroad.

As previously announced, the Atlantic Coast Line will operate a good roads train over its entire system.

This train will consist of two coaches, one of which will contain models, operated by electricity, of road working machinery of various characters, and forms of various kinds of good roads. These will be displayed in an attractive way, and open to the public. The other coach will be equipped for lectures and stereopticon views. A private car will accompany the train for the accommodation of the lecturers.

Two government road engineers and a representative of the American association for highway improvement, will accompany the train, as will, also, a representative of the Atlantic Coast Line.

The Atlantic Coast Line will handle this train without charge to the government or the people, and all demonstrations and lectures will be free. The lectures and exhibits should prove interesting and instructive to all who are interested in the building and maintenance of good roads.

The experts will be glad to answer questions and confer with all interested parties. The working models will be shown in actual operation, the motive power being furnished by a gasoline engine installed for the purpose, and, with these, the experts are enabled to explain what materials make the best roads, how they are made and repaired at the smallest necessary cost.

This train will be on the Atlantic Coast Line from November 24th to February 22nd, and will make two or three stops each working day. The Atlantic Coast Line invites the hearty co-operation of all interested citizens and are very much in hopes that good crowds will meet this train at each stop.

This good roads train will reach Greenville at 6:12 p. m., on Tuesday, December 5th, spend the night and until noon the next day here, when it will leave for Kinston. The lectures and demonstrations here will begin at 9:30 on the morning of Wednesday, December 6th, and persons who wish to take advantage of these should make it a point to be present on time, as the train will leave here at noon on that day.

GREENVILLE'S SLOGAN.

A business man whose headquarters are in another state, yet who is interested in doing things for Eastern North Carolina, was recently written to on The Reflector's letter heads about a matter of interest to this section. In his reply he took occasion to add this paragraph to his letter, which shows that he is an observing man and recognizes a good thing when he sees it. He says:

"In conclusion, I wish to compliment the enterprise of somebody for conceiving the neat design in the lower left hand corner of your stationery, the circle containing the words 'Our Greenville, Yours if You Come.' This is a catchy affair, very neat and sure to be effective."

No doubt he did not know at the time that this phrase is Greenville's slogan. A few years ago The Reflector offered a prize for the best suggestion of a slogan for Greenville, the limit of words used being not less than three nor more than six. There were 276 different sentences submitted in the contest, and the one "Our Greenville, Yours if You Come," was selected as the best by a competent committee who carefully considered the entire list. The words were suggested by Mr. J. W. Brown, who was awarded the prize.

The Reflector had the slogan designed into a button and several thousand of them were distributed by the board of aldermen and business men of the town. We also had cuts made in fac simile of the button, and one of these can be seen every day in the heading of the editorial page of this paper, where it has appeared regularly since its adoption as Greenville's slogan. It was also printed on The Reflector's stationery and wherever a letter goes from the paper this slogan goes along with it.

In this connection it is in order to say that every business house in town ought to have this slogan printed on its stationery, so that it might become a familiar saying wherever a business letter goes from Greenville. That it is an effective means of advertising the town is shown by the paragraph from the letter quoted. Several times newspapers have commented upon Greenville's slogan as being the best any town had adopted. Let's make it ring everywhere.

GOOD ROADS TRAIN.

Starting out from Richmond on the 24th, the Atlantic Coast Line will send on a tour one of the most complete good roads exhibit trains that ever rode on rails. Equipped partly by the railroad and partly by the United States government, the train will carry the work of educating the people to the commercial and social importance of improved highways, into nearly all the important cities and towns of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida and Alabama. Greenville is one of the points to be visited by this good roads train, and

The spending of fifty-four million dollars in the last ten months in good road building throughout the South, shows that this section is waking up to its needs. Yet it must be admitted that Pitt county has not shown her share of endeavor in this direction. Pitt is waking up, but a little slow in activity for good roads, and she needs nothing worse.

Missourians have the reputation of wanting to be shown, and their state has now set about to show others how to keep the trusts from operating in it. The Supreme court has issued a writ of ouster against the International Harvester Co., and assessed a $50,000 fine for violation of the anti-trust law.

Some people are yet mixed up on the date of Thanksgiving this year, and even the calendars are not agreed on it, some designating Thursday, 23rd, and others Thursday, 30th. The latter is correct, and Thursday, 30th, the last day in the month will be Thanksgiving day.

The last hope of Henry Clay Beattie, the Richmond wife murderer, to escape the electric chair has been removed by the refusal of Governor Mann to interfere with the sentence of the court. Beattie will pay the penalty of his crime on the 24th.

President Taft is said to be planning to take up the high cost of living in a special message to congress. He is just playing to the galleries, for he will go right on standing in with the trusts and letting them make prices just what they please.

Boys' Clubs.

Boys' Corn clubs and Girls' Tomato clubs have met with such success that they are now talking of organizing boys' pig clubs. It is a good idea. If the young people who are to be the farmers of the future can be thoroughly taught the advantages of producing the necessities at home, the cotton problem will not be so vexing as it is now when they assume the management of the farm. The older people, too many of them, are joined to their idols and will stick to cotton, no matter how often it deserts them. They stake their all on cotton, and no matter how much they lose, come back again to take another chance. And if they win they make a bigger stake the next year and lose. The Carolina Union Farmer calls them gamblers. Like the gambler, they seem to be irredeemably fascinated with the game they play. When the cards are stacked against them they hold conferences and resolve and protest, declaring they will not give up what they who play the other side of the game have won from them, unless the bid is raised. But the man who holds the cards insists on what he has won and the farmer pays his gambling debts, resolutions to the contrary notwithstanding. Those who are trying to turn the attention of the boy to the things needful may save him from the gambling of the father. It is a movement that is worth every effort that may be put forth in its behalf.—Raleigh Times.

To Discourage the Use of Tobacco.

The management of the Murry street school has resorted to a rather novel method of discouraging the use of tobacco among the students of that institution, having requested the police department to allow a member of the force to deliver lectures to the boys on the evils of the use of the weed. Yesterday morning the students were doubtless somewhat surprised when their instructors announced that they would be entertained with a lecture by a member of the police force and when two blue-coats entered the room the stillness was remarkable. One of the policemen gave the boys a few experiences he had had with persons addicted to the tobacco habit and asked them to refrain from the use of it, for their own good. He declared that it would be impossible for them to grow up to be useful citizens if they started to smoking and chewing at their ages and expressed the hope that none of them would ever be confined to the city jail as a result of crimes committed. He gave statistics which showed that a vast number of the men who are wearing prison garbs are cigarette smokers and declared that he hoped none of the Murry students would ever become so strongly addicted to the tobacco habit that they could not discontinue the use of it.

The boys learned that it is unlawful for them to buy tobacco in this city and while they were assured that the police force does not want to have any unpleasant dealings with them, it will be forced to have them in court and make them testify where they secured their tobacco, unless they discontinue the use of it. The appearance of a thirteen-year old boy in police court in connection with buying tobacco illegally, the policeman explained, would hurt that boy's chances of securing a position with Asheville business men when they are out of school.—Asheville Citizen.

KILLS THEIR CONCEIT.

How New Members of Congress Are Regarded in Washington.

There is nothing more pitiful on the stage of national politics than the new and verdant member of congress, be he senator or representative, and especially is this true of the new members of the upper house. So vast is the measure of importance of a new M. C. in his own district or his own state that for the first few months of his service he wanders about Washington in a dazed state, wondering if it can be really possible that the people of Washington realize he is the new member from Podunk or the new senator from Arkansas or some other state.

Little work of importance is entrusted to the green member and from him is expected a respect for his elders not dissimilar to that exacted from the little "plebes" at the national military and naval academies. Most men who have attained to the dignity of being one of the 92 senators of the United States come to Washington with a large estimate of their importance, and never is this so true as when such a man has worn the ermine before entering the arena of politics. But shorn of all power to fine for "contempt of court," assigned to the chairmanship of some such important committee as that on the "disposition of useless waste paper" and rarely or never consulted regarding the affairs of state, even the jurist statesmen is obliged to submit to the good humored patronage of the older members until in due course of time he comes to realize the actual measure of his importance in the affairs of the nation.

Cold Weather Goods.

When cold weather strikes us people want blankets and quilts and heavier underwear. Some also need new furniture. All of these can be found at C. T. Munford's big store, and the prices on them have been marked down to nearly one-half with the other things going at the special sale in progress in his store. It will pay to not only go there for your needs a little in advance and supply them while there is opportunity to get the goods at such low prices. Save money by buying during this special sale.

FOR SALE.

Bids will be received for the F. M. & S. Q. Carlisle stock of furniture, rugs, matings, etc., one new piano and one hearse included in stock, which inventories $2,500.00. The hearse originally cost $1,400.00, but inventoried at $400.00. If not sold privately same will be sold at public auction on Monday, Nov. 20, 1911, at 12 m.

COLDS.

What to Do and What Not to Do for A Cold.

With the advent of our first cold weather in the fall a great many fall early victims to "colds." Others will probably soon follow suit. During the winter months it is one of the most common of accidents. It therefore becomes a subject of great interest and importance. The real importance and significance of colds are not as generally recognized as they should be. An ordinary cold, when promptly taken in hand, is usually cured in from two to six days, but not frequently a "bad" cold (or there are no good ones), leaves behind it relics, the recovery from which may require months or even years. Sometimes a fatal disease finds its beginning in a neglected cold. Pneumonia, pleurisy, bronchitis and consumption itself, frequently follow in the wake of a cold.

But the average reader is interested in just two things concerning colds: First, how to avoid them, and, second, how to cure them. Concerning the first, we may protect ourselves by four defenses, as follows:

1. Colds are probably "catching," particularly from mothers, and it is therefore best to avoid intimate association such as the use of the same drinking cup and towel with people who have colds. Likewise avoid people who have recently had pneumonia, crowds, and overheated or badly ventilated places.

2. Colds may be "caught" from ourselves, that is, we may reinfect ourselves; so that a second line of defense is to keep our own mouth, nose throat, and tonsils clean, and avoid gorging with food or drink, particularly alcoholic drinks.

3. While a possible germ is one factor, getting our body or any part of our body overheated or thoroughly chilled is another. Therefore indulgence in no careless exposures or permit the body to cool too rapidly when once warmed.

4. Another line of defense is to build up our own physical resistance. This may be done by working and living in well ventilated rooms and in the open air as much as possible, particularly at night; careful and regular bathing, moderate eating and daily exercise in the open air if the weather permits.

But even after we have thrown every practical safeguard about ourselves, it still sometimes happens that we take a cold, and then the question of prime importance is how to cure it in the safest and in the least time. First of all, we should begin early and proceed with heroic efforts to remedy the thing that is causing the cold. For instance, if we get our feet wet, we should take a hot mustard foot-bath at the earliest moment. This is done by adding a tablespoon of mustard to two gallons of water as hot as we can bear it on our feet. This bath should continue for fifteen minutes or until the skin is well reddened and tingling. White taking the foot-bath, one should drink from one to two pints of hot water or lemonade. After the foot-bath dry the feet quickly, go to bed and have applied over the part in which the cold seems to have settled a towel wrung out of cold water, sufficiently dry to not drip, and cover it with several thicknesses of flannel or sheet cotton so as to keep it warm during the night. Take a purge and keep the bowels moving freely for several days by eating fruits and vegetables. Drink water freely. From two to three quarts of water in twenty-four hours is no too much.

If a cold does not yield readily to such treatment, take no chances, but secure medical counsel at once.

There is little danger from a cold or from an attack of the grip except when followed by pneumonia, and this never happens when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is used. This remedy has won its great reputation and extensive sale by its remarkable cures of colds and grip and can be relied upon with implicit confidence. For sale by all druggists.

MRS. MCGILL BROKE DOWN

Gives the Real Facts in Regard to Her Case and Tells How She Suffered.

Jonesboro, Ark.—"I suffered a complete break down in health, some time ago," writes Mrs. A. McGill, from this place. "I was very weak and could not do any work. I tried different remedies, but they did me no good.

One day, I got a bottle of Cardui. It did me so much good, I was surprised, and took some more.

Before I took Cardui, I had headache and backache, and sometimes I would cry for hours. Now I am over all that, and can do all kinds of housework. I think it is the greatest medicine on earth."

In the past fifty years, thousands of ladies have written, like Mrs. McGill, to tell of the benefit received from Cardui.

Such testimony, from earnest women, surely indicates the great value of this tonic remedy, for diseases peculiar to women. Are you a sufferer? Yes? Cardui is the medicine you need. We urge you to try it.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS

Douglas Fairbanks is going into vaudeville.

Cecilia Loftus is to make another American tour.

Marie Dressler is in her third season with "Tillie's Nightmare."

Florence Reed is to support Julius Steger in "The Master of the House."

Among the reports of the season is one that "Evangeline" may be revived.

Charles Waldron is Viola Allen's leading man in "The Lady of Coventry."

Two sisters of Edna May are in the cast of "Over Night." They are Jane and Lulu May.

Fredrick Lewis has been re-engaged as leading man with the Southern-Marlowe company.

Sarah Barnhardt will follow the present fashion of French artists and pose for moving pictures.

Ida Conquest was married the other day to the son of Admiral Bertelli of the Italian navy, and will retire from the stage.

A special benefit performance is to be given in New York of "The Drones," a play by Douglas J. Wood and Guy R. Bolton.

Charles A. Gay is one of the actors engaged to appear with May Irwin in her comedy, "Mrs. Tompkins," by Agnes L. Crippins.

Word has come, according to report from Canada, to managers of moving picture films that no American flag pictures are wanted.

A French play called "Through the Wall" will be tried out in Los Angeles and, if found satisfactory, will be used by James K. Hackett.

Marguerite Clark and Walter Jones are being featured this season in Wm. A. Brady's production of Margaret Mayo's comedy "Baby Mine."

Among the most recent productions in New York was "Mrs. Avery," by Gretchen Dale and Howard Estabrook, both of whom appeared in the cast.

Fred Niblo, Jr., aged nine, has joined the cast of the "Fortune Hunter," in which his parents, Fred Niblo and Josephine Cohan Niblo, are co-starting.

Eugene Walzer has written a play dealing with the Black Hand in this country, and called "The Assassin," which David Belasco will produce after the holidays.

Margaret Illington will begin her season in "Kindling," in Providence, about the middle of this month. Helen Tracy will be a member of the supporting company.

Frederic Thompson is going to produce a sequel to "Polly of the Circus" in a dramatization of "The Circuit Rider's Wife," by Cora Harris. The heroine will be Polly married to the clergyman who is a circuit rider.

GRAY HAIRS VANISH.

Restored to Natural Color by Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy.

The old idea of using sage for darkening the hair is again coming in vogue. Our grandmothers used to have dark, glossy hair at the age of 75, while our mothers have white hair before they are fifty. Our grandmothers used to make a "sage tea" and apply it to their hair. The team made their hair soft and glossy, and gradually restored the natural color.

One objection to using such a preparation was the trouble of making it especially as it had to be made every two or three days, on account of souring quickly. This objection has been overcome, and by asking almost any first class druggist for Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy the public can get a superior preparation of sage, with the admixture of sulphur, another valuable remedy for hair and scalp troubles. Daily use of this preparation will not only quickly restore the color of the hair, but will also stop the hair from falling out and make it grow.

Get a bottle from your druggist today. Use it and see for yourself how quickly dandruff and gray hairs vanish.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special agent, Moye's Pharmacy.

POLITICS AND POLITICIANS.

The Republican national convention next year will consist of 1072 delegates.

Hugh L. Nichols, lieutenant governor of Ohio, has completed an extensive tour of the West in the interest of the Harmon presidential candidacy.

North Dakota Republicans are slightly worried over the possibility that Governor John Burke, who has headed the Democratic ticket to victory in three successive campaigns, may be a candidate for a fourth term.

For the first time in the history of New York State the names of the presidential candidates and the vice-presidential candidates are to be on the ballot next year. This is a provision of the new Levy election law.
