CAROLINA CLUB HOLDS INTERESTING AND LIVELY MEETING

Hotel Proposition Comes Up Again Before Members

MUCH SAID, VERY LITTLE DONE

The Carolina Club met Monday night in its regular monthly meeting and few, if any, have been the gathering of this kind in which so much speech-making and voting was done. After the regular business—such as reading minutes, etc., was over, two new members were admitted to the club, Mr. Don Gilliam and Mr. Zack VanDyke. And right here is where the meeting assumed the aspect of a national convention in Chicago or some other equally large city.

The question came before the members as to the advisability of lowering the initiation fee. Practically everybody who could say something, said it and before long an appeal was made to a ruling by the chair. Finally both appeal and lowering on initiation fee were put to a vote and both appeal and lowering of fee were defeated. In both instances the voting was very close.

The question of reducing fee disposed of, the chair called on some of the members to deliver five minute speeches on the hotel question. Prof. R. H. Wright spoke first and in the short time allotted made clear the need of the hotel from every point of view. Dr. Laughinghouse followed and further impressed the need of such a building. Mr. C. T. Munford did not say much, but what he did say was very impressive. He subscribed $1,000 worth of stock. Mr. W. H. Dail caught the strain and on behalf of a business friend and himself subscribed another $1,000. Other small subscriptions were promised and at one time it seemed as though we might have a hotel after all.

The fever, however, stopped about the $3,000 mark and after a great deal more was said about the worth of the property and the advisability of investing in such a proposition the meeting adjourned towards eleven o'clock, at which time the thermometer registers our hopes for another hotel, had almost gone down to zero.

DEM. CHAIRMAN IN BALTIMORE

Completing Arrangements For National Convention

DANIELS HEADS PRESS COMMITTEE

Norman E. Mack, Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, Spends Some Time in Baltimore Looking After Arrangements for Coming Convention.

BALTIMORE, Md., Jan. 6.—Norman E. Mack, chairman of the Democratic National committee, and all but three members of the committee on arrangements for the Democratic National convention to be held here in June, spent the greater part of today here in conference relating to convention matters.

The architect's plans for altering the fifth regiment armory were approved with some minor changes. The preparations that are being made for accommodating visitors and the scale of prices, presented to the committee were approved.

National Committeeman Josephus Daniels, of North Carolina, himself a newspaper editor, was made chairman of the press committee. He appointed J. D. Preston, superintendent of the United States senate press gallery, and Charles Albert, chairman of the standing committee of the senate and house press galleries, as assistants.

Some people are so industrious at doing their best that they would do their best friend.

CONDENSED NEWS FROM ALL OVER THE OLD NORTH STATE

Laymen Off to Convention.

Greensboro.—A special car will carry the Greensboro and Winston delegates, leaving here tomorrow night for Chattanooga to attend the laymen's convention of the Southern Presbyterian church. This car will be joined at Charlotte by a special sleeper with delegates from Charlotte and vicinity. In the program this section of North Carolina is honored in having not only Mr. M. Scales as the presiding officer of the convention, but in having the names of Rev. Melton Clark, Rev. Neal L. Anderson and W. T. Thompson mentioned prominently on the program. In the car from here will be twenty-five delegates and at the convention it is expected there will be two thousand representing every Southern Presbyterian church.

Biggest Snow of the Winter in the Vicinity of Waynesville.

Waynesville.—Early in the forenoon of yesterday a southwest blizzard and snowstorm set in with the wind blowing about forty miles an hour, a continuation of the snowstorm that set in here Thursday evening. Friday the storm ceased for a while and the sun shone out brightly, scaring the notorious ground-hog to his den. Yesterday morning, however, the storm resumed with increased violence, and in the afternoon the snow is several inches deep on the level. Reports from the country districts indicate almost unprecedented drifts. In the caves back of Jones' Knob and Mount Junaluska, the drifts in some places are sixteen feet deep. Mercury yesterday morning, when the storm began, was standing at 13 above. There is every indication of the biggest snow of the winter.

Prominent Druggist of Greensboro Charged With Selling Liquor.

Greensboro.—A decided sensation was created here by the arrest of R. J. Sykes, secretary and treasurer of the drug firm of Coyers & Sykes, on a warrant charging retailing. Mr. Sykes was arrested Saturday night, after an all-day proceeding, in which the ad testificandum procedure was resorted to, but the entire matter was handled secretly and it did not become known until this morning that such a serious charge had been made. The arrest was quietly made and Mr. Sykes recognized for his appearance in the city court later.

Gins, Grist Mills, Electric Plant and Novelty Works Destroyed.

Lumberton.—It was learned here today that the electric light plant, two cotton gins, two grist mills and novelty works belonging to Mr. Ople Odum near St. Pauls, 14 miles from here, was destroyed by fire last night, the loss being estimated at from $8,000 to $19,000. The electric plant furnished light for the town of St. Paul. It is understood that Mr. Odum will rebuild the plant as quickly as possible.

Commissioners Order Erection of a Building to Cost About $100,000.

Salisbury.—The commissioners of Rowan county in session today decided to build a new courthouse to cost approximately $100,000. The commissioners issued a call for plans to be submitted at the March meeting. The material that will go into the building will probably be of the famous Rowan granite. The new courthouse will occupy the site of the old jail. It is the purpose of the authorities to utilize the present courthouse as a library.

Norfolk Southern Station at Hertford Is Destroyed.

Elizabeth City.—The Norfolk Southern railroad passenger and freight depot at Hertford and one box car loaded with merchandise were destroyed by fire this morning shortly after midnight. The loss of freight, furniture and fixtures amount to several thousand dollars, covered by insurance. The fire is believed to have started from defective flue in the waiting room.

An awful lot of energy is wasted hating people who don't care whether you do or not.

Charlotte Clubs are Hit Hard by Secretary Davis

Presents Liquid Evidence Before Charlotte Audience as he Did in Raleigh—Five of the Eight Pint Bottles Secured in Clubs by Men who Were Not Members

POLICE ARREST HIM TO TESTIFY IN PROSECUTION

Dr. R. L. Davis Repeated His Raleigh "Surprise" in Charlotte—Drug Stores Dispensed Some of the Booze Without the Aid of Prescriptions He Tells Audience—Policeman Waits in Back of Hall With Warrant for His Arrest.

CHARLOTTE, Feb. 5.—The visit of Rev. R. L. Davis, secretary of the North Carolina Anti-Saloon League, to this city last evening eventuated very much as did his sensational appearance in the Raleigh auditorium just one week ago.

There was a difference, however, in that, instead of confining his operations to naked blind tigers without the barest excuse of law to cover or modify their guilt—he attacked the places which are going beyond their licenses and breaking the law by selling it to one man who had neither a prescription from a physician nor a membership card of a single one of the five so-called, so-licensed "clubs." Yet this man—whose name Mr. Davis has disclosed to the authorities and to this writer, since the police were so brash as to serve him with "legal papers" as soon as his meeting adjourned—was able to secure eight pints of whiskey of various brands, three from drug stores and five from "clubs."

When Mr. Davis, as is explained below, was called upon by the police authorities to point out from the list given him the name of each club and each drug store he did so quickly and furnished the name of the man who bought the liquor.

The latter is no imported "detective," brought here for the purpose, but a citizen of Mecklenburg county, well known.

The particulars, furnished partly by the Observer's report, which will appear today, will be read with interest—not only by the people who follow the efforts to enforce the laws now on the statute books with prayerful interest, but by many of those who conduct "clubs" (the worst species of this law breaking aggregation) organized for no other purpose than the latter may see how well their scheme has flourished and left its tracks behind the sleuths who come along and, one by one, is picking them up.

Special machinery created for the enforcement of the prohibition law was invoked upon that law's creators and advocates when three writs of capias ad testificandum were served last night by a Charlotte police sergeant on Rev. R. L. Davis, of Wilson, secretary of the North Carolina Anti-Saloon League. This following the public exhibition by Mr. Davis, of eight pint bottles of whiskey, which he claimed were purchased illegally in this city, three from as many drug stores and five from different clubs.

DOUBLE SUICIDE IS POLICE THEORY

Mrs. Suydam And Young Noble Found Dead In Apartment

COUPLE EVIDENTLY IN DEATH PACT

Young New York Society Woman Who Eloped Some Months Ago With a Brooklyn Youth Found Dead in His Arms—Noble Also Dead—Gas Seems to Have Caused Both Deaths.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—Death which brought to a sordid end the romance of Louise Lawrence Suydam, the millionaire's wife, and Fred Noble, the plumber's son, slung back its draperies of mystery today, leaving a chapter in which friends of the woman profess to read another lesson in morals. The romantic marriage, is the general belief made by Mrs. Suydam-Noble to a friend a few days ago.

"My friend—So Mrs. Suydam-Noble is quoted—"You and I and Fred may laugh sometimes at old things like law and moral codes and religion when they say, 'Thou shalt not.' We may think that phrase was written for the weak spirited and for fogies. But my friend, that phrase is right. Law and moral codes and religion are right. What they say we cannot do without suffering. I have learned that. I have had my lesson. I know the wages of sin is death—and in many cases those wages demand more than death—hell on earth."

That the young couple—the millionaire's wife and the plumber's son—learned their moral lesson and entered into the suicide pact a few days after a romantic marriage, is the general belief expressed today. Close friends of Mrs. Suydam-Noble claim she was never happy with her new husband and that young Noble wearied of it and surrendered to discouragement.

Ohio Natural Gas Association.

COLUMBUS, Feb. 6.—Delegates from various parts of the state attended the annual meeting of the Ohio Natural Gas Association at the Chittenden hotel today.

GAS KILLS THREE PERSONS IN RALEIGH

Boarding House Keeper Makes Horrible Discovery

OPEN GAS JETS JUSTIFY BELIEF

Young Men Had Come from Benson to Raleigh in Automobile—Youngest one, 16, had Run Away from Home—They Had Not Been Drinking, According to Barber.

RALEIGH, Feb. 6.—Three dead bodies—all those of young men—found in a room in Wilson's apartments, a rooming house on Fayetteville street, was the horrifying sight which last night about 8:30 greeted "Aunt" Sally Mann, an old negro servant, as a negro porter, William Hunter, forced open the door at her request. The smell of much gas came from the room in which three lives had gone out by asphyxiation.

It developed later that the three were young men of Benson: Fred Jernigan, aged about 23; R. A. Johnson, aged about 21, and Hugh T. Porter, a lad of 16, reported from Benson as having run away from home. They came to Raleigh Saturday night in Jernigan's automobile, and were last seen at supper about 7 o'clock at Wilson's Chop House. Young Porter secured a room in Wilson's apartments, and was given the key to room number four on the third story of the building, the two stories above Galloway's drug store, corner of Fayetteville street and Exchange Place, being used by Mr. Frank R. Wilson as a rooming house. The next known of the three was the discovery of their dead bodies.

ASHEVILLE GETS ROOSEVELT CLUB

Mass Meeting of Buncombe County Republicans

WANT TO DO SOME EFFECTIVE WORK

Republicans to Organize as Early as Possible in Order to Accomplish Something—Meeting to Take Place Next Saturday.

ASHEVILLE, Feb. 6.—The following interesting announcement is made:

"A mass meeting of the Republicans of Buncombe county will be held at the courthouse in Asheville Saturday, February 10, at 1 o'clock for the purpose of organizing a Roosevelt Club. All Republicans are urged to attend."

This announcement is signed by Hon. Richmond Pearson, J. B. Sumner, V. S. Lusk, H. B. Vorhies, J. F. Barrett, A. T. Pritchard, Vanno L. Gudger and F. S. Ennett, and is the bomb that has been expected for some time by those who are in touch with the Republican political situation as the first start in the big factional fight in the party which is likely to transpire this year all over the state with Taft and Roosevelt as the issue. The organization of a Roosevelt Club simply means that the leaders of this faction are trying to get themselves organized early and get in some good work before those of the opposing faction get thoroughly aroused. The movement came earlier, however, than had been expected.

NOT MUCH.

"We ought to" was the keynote of all short speeches made Monday night at the meeting of the Carolina Club. To us it sounded very much like the wide known sign, "Weneeda Buiscul," only in our case it should be "Weneeda Hotel."

We tried to keep up counting the number of times this "Weneeda hotel" was said by different members at the meeting. Along the 200 odd we got dizzy and stopped. Only three of the business men in the Carolina Club Monday night made a noise like money and if only the rest had signified a willingness to imitate that noise we might have today announced that the hotel proposition was a "go." As it is we are very sorry to say that the hotel seems to be as far away today as the proverbial mirage that spurs the desert traveller to doing a few more miles to find out that the cool, inviting oasis is still a few more miles further down the sandy waste.

The mirage-hotel is practically as far away today as when the question was first put to the members of the club. With only this difference: it has helped to find out that individuals with the smaller capital at their disposal are the only ones willing to see Greenville take a step that will undoubtedly bring progress to the town.

One of the speakers at last night's meeting expressed the opinion that Greenville would never be able to bring factories or industries of which we stand in such great need if we are to grow and prosper, unless we have a modern hotel in which to favorably impress the future investor. We heartily agree with the gentleman. We have always advocated that Greenville needed factories, but we likewise have engaged in a live campaign to interest the people in the hotel proposition and have given all the publicity we could. We believe in the hotel as the stepping stone to our future progress and believing in it as we do, we're sorry the negative result of last night's meeting.

It would seem as if those that are in a position to invest are rather afraid that somebody else is going to make a little more than themselves. We can't see where they get this idea. But granted that somebody else was going to make "that" little better. Is not the investment offered worth the consideration?

It was shown last night that the property, as it stands now, has been paying 10 per cent. for a number of years. Is it impossible for it to continue to pay 10 per cent. with improvements on the same property? The logical way to reason would be, if it pays 10 per cent as it stands, improvements would increase the paying percentage. But, even if it did not pay anymore, is 10 per cent. such a small gain in an investment? We think it is worth the trouble. And it should not take any wide-awake business man of this community to think with us.

It would be a great idea while we are about it to forget personalities and get down to it as if we meant it.

The days of the individual in accomplishing things singly are over. Men must work together if they want to travel any distance. Team work would be hardly enough. Bunch-work is what is needed if we are ever going to attain any degree of progress. Every business man should find a plane in which he will be exactly at the same level with the other business men, and then the tracking of such enterprises as we are discussing now, would be mere play. We never will have factories in Greenville unless we have the hotel we need so much and we never will have that hotel unless the business men get together and stay together. And for any sake do not let us again say "We need a hotel", but let us instead put it "We'll soon have a hotel".

DR. R. L. DAVIS AGAIN.

The secretary of the Anti-Saloon League of North Carolina seems to have Alladins' lamp beat to a frazzle, as the Oyster Bay Hermit would say. Everytime he rubs the suit case, or box, or receptacle that accompanies him to anti-saloon meetings, six or eight pint bottles of booze come forth unblushingly to smile upon the surprised (?) gathering.

Dr. R. L. Davis sprung a sensation in Raleigh and the confession of Matthews followed. Dr. R. L. Davis sprung the second surprise in Charlotte and his arrest followed. The same theme with slight variations. The authorities were there with the real surprise of the evening. Now it would appear the secretary of the anti-saloon league will have to tell where he got the booze or stand in contempt of court. And the authorities seem to be right. If drinkers will not help convict blind tigers, non-drinkers will have to apply the proverbial shoulder to the wheel. Therefore Dr. R. L. Davis' arrest.

The authorities are probably as well aware of the origin of liquor in Charlotte, but they evidently find it very difficult to catch them at it, for the drinkers will naturally refuse to kill the hen that lays the pint bottles that bring joy to their hearts and delightful dizziness to their minds. For this reason, the Charlotte authorities immediately pounced upon the first witness they could lay their hands on.

Greenville is highly honored in having as her guests this week several of North Carolina's prominent women who are leaders in various clubs throughout the state. The meeting here is of the heads of the departments in the Federation of clubs to plan work for their respective organizations. Greenville is indeed glad to have these visitors and their welcome is most cordial. That their sessions while here may be profitable in the highest degree, and their stay most pleasant, is the wish of every citizen of the town. The women's clubs of the state are exerting a great influence for good.

We are indebted to Mr. Clarence Poe, editor of the Progressive Farmer, for a copy of his recent book, "Where Half the World is Waking Up" Last year Mr. Poe made a tour through China, Japan, the Philippines, and other far eastern countries, and his book is an interesting story of conditions that he found there, and how those countries are waking up in matters of progress. A copy of his book can be had for $1.50, by addressing him at Raleigh, and it is worth many times the price.

Cowan says "the ground-hog business is being run into the ground." Of course he means in a hole.

In the matter of a new hotel Greenville is not showing much faith in itself.

If Greenville gets a new hotel, more must be done than has been done.

The prop under cotton seemed to give way and the price slipped back some.

It is as cold as Greenville wants, and the cold wave here was mild to what it was in some other regions.

Davidson county did not leave off bearing when she had produced Editor H. B. Varner, of the Lexington Dispatch and Southern Good Roads. Among her other gifted sons we now number Mr. Francis N. Sitting one still winter's evening watching the sleet
Just nine miles from Davidson's county seat,
Wondering how I came to locate down here
Where there is mud and slush nine months in the year.

It's no wonder the rabbits down here cannot run.
You wonder why? The reason as all who sees
It's just simply awful it sure takes the bun
For when you go out its water and mud up to your knees.

The conditions are worse than ever have been
As the people go cussing I don't think it no sin
And if you mention good roads with a little tax,
They are ready to kill you with sharp chopping axe.

They are sticking they say to their grandfather's days
When they dug and shovelled in various ways
As they clambered and lunged up to town and to mill
For a one-horse conveyance it took

Theoretically they think they are right in their eye
As they had plenty of time and things not so high
But in this bright and progressive age
It pays to have the most modern ways.

And will moss always continue growing upon Davidson county backs? Far otherwise, sings Mr. Wachter. Hear him again:

Where ignorance is bliss you'll have to admit
Bad roads they will have as long as they see fit
But the time will come it's not long before
When we will see bad roads no more.

For in Lexington, N. C., we have some gents
Who were born with more than common sense
Since they are energetically bent
To push ahead the good roads movement.

And in the near future we will see
Papa and mama and the whole family
Going to town in a new motor car
With good roads ahead—so there you are.

LOCAL BRIEFS

Odd Fellows meet tonight. Last night and today gave us more cold weather. Cotton continues to come in quite freely.

The board of aldermen will hold an adjourned meeting tonight to complete business deferred from the regular meeting last Thursday night. Everybody moves like its cold, and so it is.

With so much cold weather there should be no trouble about saving meat this season.

Too Cold to Think.
Our linotype machine forgot that yesterday was February and dated the paper January, and the proof reader let it go at that. Charge it up to the ground-hog.

Mr. Wilson Some Better.
A message from West Point today in regard to Mr. W. R. Wilson, who has been seriously ill with pneumonia for several days, states that his general condition is improved and the doctor thinks his progress is satisfactory. His host of friends hope he will have a speedy recovery.

Dr. Dixon a Director.
Dr. W. H. Dixon, of Ayden, has been appointed by Governor Kitchin as one of the directors of the school for the feeble minded to be built at Kinston.

Handsome Catalogue.
We have received a very beautiful catalogue and farm guide from T. W. Woods & Sons, the Richmond seed merchants. Farmers and truck gardeners would do well to obtain such a catalogue from Wood & Sons and study it carefully when selecting seed. Wood & Sons are regular advertisers in The Reflector.

Mr. J. Wilbur Jenkins Honored.
The North Carolina friends of Mr. John Wilbur Jenkins of the editorial staff of the Baltimore Sun, will be interested to read that he has been appointed by Mayor Preston of that city chairman of the press committee of the Democratic national convention which meets in Baltimore June 25. Mr. Jenkins is well known throughout the state and has visited often in Charlotte where he has many friends. Mr. Jenkins is also president of the reorganized Baltimore Press Club which will entertain visiting correspondents at the convention.—Charlotte Observer.
The young man referred to above is a brother of Miss Jenkins, one of the teachers of East Carolina Teachers Training School which has charge of the press reporting for the school in addition to her regular class work. Newspaper talent is very prominent in this family.

ROYAL TRAVELERS RETURN

Britain Welcomes King George and Queen Mary.

LONDON, Feb. 5.—Today's naval pageant at Portsmouth in honor of the return of King George and Queen Mary from India was almost a reproduction of that attending their departure. The town and harbor were astir early. Immense crowds assembled along the sea front and rounds of cheers mingled with the national anthem and salutes from the harbor ships and land batteries as the royal yacht with the Prince of Wales and high government officials went out to meet the Medina.

The roads presented a striking spectacle, owing to the great gathering of warships, dressed from stern to stern with their yards manned and their sides lined with their crews. Practically the entire Atlantic fleet with the second battle and second cruiser squadrons of the Home fleet, was on hand to participate in the demonstration of welcome to their majesties.

As the Medina passed down the lines of the fleet, guns, bands and cheers commingled in the welcome to the royal travelers. The king, in the undress uniform of an admiral, was to be seen standing on the after bridge of the vessel.

As the vessel neared the harbor the troops ashore presented arms and the garrison batteries fired a final salute. The band aboard the Medina struck up "Home, Sweet Home," other bands played "Gove Save the King" and the thousands of bluejackets on board the ships in the harbor joined in cheering the royal party.

Upon stepping ashore the King and Queen were kept busy saluting and bowing in response to the demonstrations of the thousands of people who occupied every available foot of space on the quay and the neighboring docks.

The demonstrations of welcome were renewed upon the arrival of their majesties in London. A great crowd assembled at Victoria station and tens of thousands of other spectators lined the route from the station to Buckingham Palace. All of the thoroughfares through which the royal procession passed were profusely decorated.

The Prince of Wales and his brothers and sisters met their father and mother with joyful exuberance and Queen Alexandra, Princess Victoria and other members of the family greeted the royal travelers affectionately.

During leap year it's a young man's cue, to sit up and take notice if a girl asks him how much his income is.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

FAMOUS TRIAL

Kimmel Case Now Up For The Third Trial.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 6.—After numerous postponements the now famous Kimmel case, one of the most puzzling cases of the present time, involving a question of double identity, was called for its third trial before the United States District Court in this city today. The suit is by the receiver for the Arkansas City, Kan., Farmers' State Bank, of which George A. Kimmel was cashier when he disappeared in July 1898, against a prominent life insurance company of New York, in which Kimmel was insured for $25,000. At the first trial a verdict of $8,000 in favor of the was reversed later on by the court of plaintiff was given, but the verdict appeals and the case remanded for retrial. At the second trial the jury disagreed.

The Kimmel case has been given wide publicity on account of the strange features which distinguished. It hinges upon the question whether George A. Kimmel, the principal character in the case is really dead as is claimed by the plaintiff or alive, as is asserted by the insurance company, which has produced a man, formerly a convict in the Auburn (N. Y.) Penitentiary under the name of Andrew J. White, of whom it is claimed that he is identical with George A. Kimmel.

George A. Kimmel was born in Niles, Mich., in February, 1867. After receiving his education in the public schools of that city, he entered the employ of his uncle, Chas. A. Johnson, as a bank cler. Later he engaged in real estate and investments in Omaha and still later he became cashier of the Farmers' State Bank at Arkansas City, Kan. In July, 1898 while being cashier of that bank, Kimmel disappeared, leaving a considerable shortage. After seven years, during which time no trace of Kimmel could be found, the Kimmel family attempted to collect the $25,000 for which Kimmel had insured his life a few months before his disappearance.

The insurance company, by no means satisfied that Kimmel was dead started an investigation and its agents succeeded in finding a prisoner in Auburn prison, who claimed to be the missing George A. Kimmel, with whom he had a remarkable resemblance. The man had been living in the state of New York under the name of Andrew J. White and seemed to have quite a criminal record, which began in 1904, when he was committed to the Erie county prison. He served several sentences, the last, for larceny, at Auburn penitentiary. For some reason White was sent from Auburn to the Mattewan hospital for the criminal insane, but he obtained his release upon a habeas corpus.

Upon his release White was taken to Niles, Mich., where, however, the relatives of Kimmel refused to admit the identity of White with the missing Kimmel. Some of the relatives of Kimmel, changed their mind after they had talked with White and became so convinced that he was really Kimmel, that they received him at their homes. The residents of Niles, many of whom had personally known Kimmel, were also divided in their views. While some believed that White was identified with Kimmel, others were inclined to doubt this and considered White a pretender.

The proofs for White's identity with Kimmel, which the insurance company submitted at the first and second trials were not considered sufficiently strong to establish the claims of the defendant company. Since then, however, additional evidence is said to have been procured. At the former trials the most important witness of the plaintiff was John Moore Swinney, a New Mexican ranchman, who testified that he saw Kimmel killed in an Oregon wilderness in August, 1898.

Since the last trial the plaintiff's lawyers have made every effort to establish the complete record of the man as Andrew J. White and it is said that his whole life history for the last thirty years has been investigated by agents of the plaintiffs. Practically all the voluminous evidence, including the prison records, photographs, and other documents which established the prison record of Andrew J. White will again be submitted, at this trial and in addition to that there will be a large amount of testimony to prove that White is really, as he claims to be, identical with George A. Kimmel, who disappeared in 1898. The mother and the sister of Kimmel will be among the principal witnesses for the complainant and will positively deny the identity of White with Kimmel, as they had done in the former trials.

Swenny, the New Mexican ranchman, who seems to be the only one ready to attest to Kimmel's death, will be the star witness of the plaintiff's side.
The man on top in business enterprises are the ones that get on the ground floor.
Nebraska City, Neb., has adopted the commission plan.

Doan's Kidney Pills have cured thousands of severe cases.

Proof in the following:

W. A. Respese, 221 E. Fourth street, Washington, N. C., says, "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and I know that they can be relied upon to cure a lame and aching back and correct trouble with the kidney secretions.

For some time my kidneys did not do their work as they should. I was subject to backaches and had pains when passing the kidney secretions.

I used a box of Doan's Kidney Pills as directed and they gave me relief.

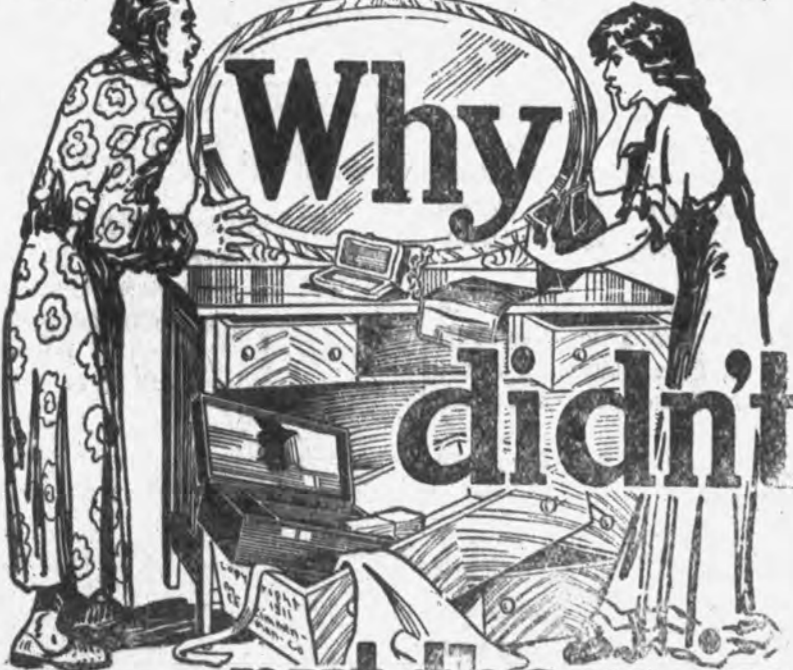

That was nearly a year ago and I have had no need of a kidney medicine since."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.
