LAYMEN GATHER FOR CONVENTION IN WINSTON-SALEM

Convention of Laymen's Missionaries Began Yesterday

OF INTEREST TO N. C. LAYMEN

Secretary of the National Laymen's Movement, Mr. W. C. Doughty of New York, Conducts Opening Devotional Service.

WINSTON, S.ALEM, N. C., Feb. 13.—The state convention of the Laymen's Missionary Movement began in this city yesterday evening.

W. C. Doughty of New York, educational secretary of the National Laymen's movement, conducted the opening devotional service.

The two passages of Scripture which Mr. Doughty used as the basis of his remarks were these:

"Jesus himself drew near and went them" and "God hath shined in our hearts."

"There is a tradition," he said, "that when Christ died, His face was turned westward. I do not know whether that tradition be true, but it has been a help to my own heart many times to think that Christ turns His face toward the west and sees the Christian men of America engaged in work for Him."

"Let us study for a little while the face of Jesus Christ. Remember first that face was illumined."

"And useless you and I let Jesus Christ reach the unreached parts of our hearts, it is useless for us to attempt to reach the unreached parts of the world."

To Aid Mission Work.

Durham.—The First Presbyterian church of Durham has undertaken the support of 11 additional missionaries in the foreign fields. Ten of these missionaries will be sent to Korea and one to Africa. The church already supports two missionaries in Cuba and two in Korea.

COURT ADJOURNED INSULTER WHIPPED

Judge J. H. Knowles, of Texas, Answers Insults

THEN TRIED HIMSELF FOR IT

Called "Liar" Judge Adjourns Court Long Enough to Punish Man, Then Tried Himself and Finding Himself Guilty of Fighting, Imposed a Fine and Paid It.

MIDLAND, Tex., Feb. 14.—Recalling the days of Roy Bean, the famous justice of the peace, who a number of years ago was known as "All the law west of the Pecos," Judge J. H. Knowles, of the Commissioner's court here, today laid aside his official dignity long enough to engage in a fist fight. During the session, Judge Knowles, presiding, made an assertion regarding a previous ruling of the court. Inasmuch as the commissioners court is a county tribunal of considerable importance in the county, comments on its rulings are not to be lightly made, even by the presiding justice. So thought Commissioner Jule Driver, who was present. No sooner had the offending remark been made than he rose and exclaimed:

"You are a liar, judge!"

The court did not hesitate.

"This court will stand adjourned," announced Judge Knowles, "until I whip the man who has just called me a liar."

Then it happened. Those who witnessed the fight say the judge scored the greatest number of pugilistic points. A few minutes later the judge reconvened court, fined himself for fighting and paid the fine. The court then went back to work and its dignity was not further ruffled.

Too many men take their grist to the grist mill.

STATE

CONDENSED NEWS FROM ALL OVER THE OLD NORTH STATE

Anti-Tafties in Tenth.
Asheville.—The formation of the Buncombe County Roosevelt Club here Saturday afternoon seems to be crystallizing sentiment in favor of the e-president. During the week before the club was formally organized and nothing much was known about the strength of the movement very little was thought about it by the backers of Mr. Taft, as they did not consider it formidable. In fact the movement was considered more or less of a "sour grape" affair that was being launched by those of the party who had inadvertently or otherwise been nosed off of the pie counter during the present administration.

Fire at Louisburg.
Louisburg.—Besides entailing a loss of between $7,500 and $10,000, a fire in Louisburg early Tuesday morning endangered the lives of several guests and caused the flooding of several adjacent business places by the fire department. The cause of the fire is unknown, except that it originated on the third floor of the hotel and was discovered at 3 o'clock. The third floor was gutted and the roof was burned, but the firemen by heroic work saved the remainder of the building. They worked in snow and ice and had three streams of water playing on the building.

Death at Rocky Mount.
Rocky Mount.—Mrs. R. W. Arrington died on Sunday morning at 1:00 o'clock at her home in North Church street following an illness extending over several months. By the morning train today the remains were taken to Enfield, accompanied by a number of friends and acquaintances and from there they will be carried to the family burying ground about five miles from that place and interment will be made this afternoon. The deceased was forty-two years old and is survived by a bereaved husband, a daughter, Mrs. A. W. Dowling, and an aged mother and an ah al brother, Mr. W. Knight, of Whitakers.

Address at Kinston.
Kinston.—Kinston folks will turn out en masse tomorrow to hear an illustrated address by C. F. Welch, of Cincinnati. A large audience is assured Mr. Welch because of the fact that Kinston's best known citizens figure prominently in the affair. Remembering that this city is the home of George Suggs, the premier pitcher of the Cincinnati Reds, Mr. Welch has written Secretary Sutton, of the chamber of commerce that he is having stereopticon slides made with views of the team and the famous "Ear Heel twirler."

Scotland Neck.—Tuesday afternoon a very serious, and it is feared, a fatal accident occurred, at the home of Misses Mary and Lizzie Smith, when their sister, Mrs. Thomas F. Robertson, of Twin Falls, Idaho, who, with her five children, is visiting here, was badly burned. Mrs. Robertson was standing in front of an open grate, when her clothing took fire, and before assistance could be had, she was almost entirely enveloped in the flames, she being severely burned from head to foot.

City Wins Suit.
Winston-Salem.—The friendly suit of the city of Winston vs. the Wachovia Bank and Trust Company, wherein the plaintiff was suing to compel the defendant to comply with the contract to take $160,000 of the city bonds recently voted, was decided in favor of the city today after it had been argued before Judge Frank A. Daniels in the Superior court.

Murder Case in Wilson.
Wilson.—Judge Frank Carter, since coming to Wilson has stated that "a congested civil calendar is bad enough but a congested criminal docket is worse, and it is my intention to clear the criminal docket or come very near it," and he has kept his word, for only a few cases have remained untried.

The Weather.
Rain or snow tonight and Thursday; warmer in east and central portions tonight; high northeast winds.

Oklahoma Gives Wilson an Unexpected Boost

Friends of Gov. Wilson Did Not Expect Much Support From That State — In Spite of Previous Beliefs New Jersey Man Is Put Ahead of Champ Clark According To Returns

OKLAHOMA STATE WAS THOUGHT TO BE SOLID FOR SPEAKER CLARK

News From Western State Bring Joy To Wilson Men Who Believed That Oklahoma Would Be Solid For Clark. Friends Of Wilson Feel Sure That He Has Carried Three Of The Five Legislative Districts.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 13.—As unexpected as it was gratifying, the result of the Oklahoma primaries is causing a jubilation among the friends of Governor Woodrow Wilson in Washington tonight. Clark's hopes are correspondingly deflated. Knowing as they did that Clark's friends had set the time of the primaries, Wilson men had regarded Oklahoma as barren of Wilson strength and had not claimed a single delegate in the state which Champ Clark's workers had referred to as the "back yard" of Missouri's favorite son candidate.

Today Wilson men are fairly certain their candidate has carried three of the five legislative districts and that he has 50 more instructed votes than Clark. They believe that unknowingly the Governor of New Jersey developed enough strength in Oklahoma to give him six or more of the ten votes which will be instructed at the state convention next week.

But whether or not Wilson has carried a majority of the state's convention votes (as is generally believed in Washington tonight,) Wilson men have won a sweeping gain.

They believe they have surpassed Clark in the state of which his managers had assured him as confidently as they had his own Missouri, but even a tight race in this state would have afforded them all the gratification they could desire.

The result of the Oklahoma primaries blocks at its first move long, thought out on the part of Clark's manager to stampee the Democratic party for their candidate.

Confident that at their light time they could bring about the withdrawal of Governor Folk in favor of the favorite son of his state, Clark men sometime ago turned their energies to "missionary work" in Oklahoma.

They developed enough strength in both states to fix the primary date whenever they wished. It was then they conceived their plan for a coup d'etat that they hoped might result in victory in the Baltimore convention.

WHISKEY BOTTLE WOUNDS CARRIER

YOUNG MAN CARRYING BOTTLE OF WHISKEY HAS STRANGE ACCIDENT

SPENCER, Feb. 14.—A near-serious explosion occurred in Spencer last night, when a well-known young man had a narrow escape from being burned to death by a bottle of whiskey exploding in his pocket, while seated near an open fire, causing his clothing to ignite. All was serene until the whiskey became heated by the fire. The explosion caused consternation in the home for a short time, and it required heroic efforts on the part of several friends to put out the flames before the clothing was burned from the body of the young man.

BUTNER-BLOW WEDDING

Miss Lottie Blow Becomes Bride of Mr. J. C. Butner.

At 9 o'clock this morning in St. Paul's Episcopal church, there was a beautiful marriage in which Miss Lottie Lavinia Blow, daughter of ex-Senator and Mrs. A. L. Blow, became the bride of Mr. John C. Butner, of Cleveland, Ohio. The officiating clergyman was Rev. B. F. Huske, of New Bern, a former rector here, the impressive ring ceremony being used.

The chancel of the church was beautifully decorated in green and white palms, ferns and ivy being abundantly used.

Mrs. Sam T. White presided at the organ, playing the wedding march as the bridal party entered, and Schubert's Serenade during the ceremony. The first to pass up the aisle to the altar were the ushers, Messrs. Alex Blow, Jr., W. B. Wilson, Jr., Albin Dunn, J. W. Ferrell, Charles James, and Dr. C. O'H. Laughinghouse.

Next was the dame of honor, Mrs. N. S. Fulford of Hertford, sister of the bride, dressed in light blue cloth suit and carrying a bouquet of carnations.

The bride entered with her father, ex-Senator A. L. Blow. She wore a tailored suit of violet and carried bride roses and a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. As they neared the altar the bridegroom with Mr. W. H. Dall, Jr., as best man, came through the vestry and met them.

The couple left on the afternoon Norfolk Southern train via Wilson for the home of Mr. Butner in Cleve-

To View Panama Construction.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—Distinguished public officials of both the United States and Canada were included among the passengers who sailed for Panama today to view the progress of construction on the isthmian canal. Two members of President's cabinet, Secretary of the Interior Fisher and Postmaster General Hitchcock, were among those in the party. Canada was represented by the Hon. Clifford Sifton, former Minister of the Interior and for many years a leading figure in the Dominion.

Change in B. and L. Directors.

At the meeting Tuesday afternoon of the directors of the Home Building and Loan Association, Mr. E. G. Flanagan resigned as one of the directors because of other business that occupied his time. Mr. C. S. Carr was elected to succeed him.

"The stand patters have imprisoned business behind a great dam. There is no need of breaking down this dam and causing a commercial flood with its consequent damage. Engineers have appeared who have shown us how we pierce the dam here and there and release the water without harming anybody."

land. Greenville regrets to give up this charming and popular young woman, but the best wishes of all go with her to her new home.

After rehearsal in the church Tuesday night, Mr. and Mrs. Blow informally entertained the bridal party and visitors at their home on Pitt street. At this reception the wedding gifts were on display, and the large number and beauty of these bore evidence of the popularity of the bride and groom.

Harness-Horse Men Confer.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—The members of the National Trotting Association got together at the Murray Hill hotel today and began their biennial talkfest, at which the laws governing the light-harness racing in this country are laid down. The principal matter up for consideration this year is the oft-proposed plan of equalizing records made on mile tracks and those made on half-mile tracks. Under existing conditions the mile tracks are rapidly disappearing, and unless relief is forthcoming it is feared that they will soon give place to two-lap rings everywhere east of the Mississippi Valley. Some talk is heard of a move to repeal the rule banishing hoppers, but the general opinion seems to be that no such attempt will be made at the present meeting of the association and that if it is made it will not be successful.

Norwegian Lutherans to Unite.

MADISON, Wis., Feb. 14.—Following negotiations that have been in progress for several years, a general committee representing the Norwegian Lutheran synod and the United Norwegian Lutheran Church of America met in this city to arrange the final details of a plan for uniting the two branches into one organization. The union will effect nearly half a million Norwegian Lutherans, the most of the milving in Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota, North and South Dakota and Nebraska.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Feb. 14.—Seventy-five years ago today the village of Milwaukee was organized, with Solomon Juneau as first president of the board. At that time the village boasted of a population of a little less than 700, which has since increased to 375,000, according to the last census.

DIXIE PINNING ITS FAITH ON A WINNER.

"The South wishes to win, declared the Tar Heel editor, "and is in no mood for playing politics or putting out favorite sons. There are plenty of able Southern men who would make great presidents. Texas has one in Culberson; Georgia in Hoke Smith, and North Carolina in ex-Governor Aycock. The admirers of these men have no idea of urging them as favorite son candidates, and not one of them would permit it in this crisis when the party is upon the eve of a great national victory. The Southern people are for Woodrow Wilson, believing that he will be nominated and elected."

THE SOUTH WILL TRY TO WIN IN COMING RACE

Editor Daniels, of the News and Observer, Makes Statement

TWO-THIRDS DELEGATES FOR WILSON

Josephus Daniels, Democratic National Committeeman From North Carolina, Gives His Views on Political Situation in the South—For Wilson, He Says.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—That Governor Woodrow Wilson is the choice of the large majority of the people of the Southern States for the Democratic nomination for the presidency and that he will have more than two-thirds of the delegates from the South at the Baltimore convention, is the opinion of Josephus Daniels, editor of the Raleigh News and Observer, and Democratic national committeeman from North Carolina.

"It is no reflection upon any of the candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination to say that not in years has any man so quickly obtained popular confidence upon the record of promises kept, deeds performed, and rare statesmanship displayed as Woodrow Wilson, the governor of New Jersey. He has the scholarship and the philosophy of government of the Jefferson school; the courage to oppose bossism and control of government by big business displayed by Jackson; and as a thorough-going and relentless foe of graft, even in his own party, he has displayed the qualities of Tillman. On the stump, he wins and charms with an incisive clearness that gives him no competitor among the aspirants for the presidency. His progressiveness is based upon belief in popular government and his conception of the way is to remove the obstructions that now deny rule by the people. No man in this decade has appealed to the popular imagination or so won the public confidence as Woodrow Wilson, and everywhere those who are looking for an end of government by bosses for their own benefit and the enrichment of what is called 'the interests' or 'big business' look to Governor Wilson, ideally fitted, as the man for the big job that America wishes to have done. Wilson has shown that he knows how to do it by the unparalleled record of the New Jersey legislature under his leadership.

From Assistant Fire Chief.

Editor, Reflector:
I notice in your Monday's issue you say the water pressure was poor at the Saturday afternoon fire at the cotton yard. As I was one of the nozzlemen at this fire, I would like to correct this error. We had direct pressure and it was fine. In fact, it was too strong and was scattering burned cotton so it was ordered cut down by the chief. So people should know what they are knocking about before they start to knock.

Compensations.

There are dear compensations for hours
When winter's wan battalions rule the year,
When all the forest 'neath the great white fear
In shivering submission shrinks and cowers.
Imagination, with its potent powers
May limn on April morn with outline clear,
Make on the wind darting flakes appear.
Like drifting bloom in Maytime apple bowers!

Yea, when the hearth glows and the chimney roams
Against the compass of the whelming many,
And that pale armored conqueror from the pole
Insidious creeps round the battened doors,
Fancy may warm the heart and soothe the soul
With sweet midsummer visions of delight!

UNIVERSITY NOTES

FROM THE REFLECTOR CORRESPONDENT AT CHAPEL HILL.

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., Feb. 14.—Under the direction of Prof. N. W. Walker, professor of secondary education in the University and director of the summer school, extensive plans have already been made whereby the University during the summer session of 1912 will offer to the teachers the most interesting and useful courses in professional training it has been able to give since the establishment of the department of education in 1877. Instruction will be offered in all the subjects required to meet the demand made upon teachers by the general school law of the state. In addition, there will be supplementary lectures to add to the interest of the school. Among the lecturers will be Hon. P. P. Claxton, commissioner of education of the United States.

The summer school of last year was perhaps the most successful since the establishment of the summer course. 225 students were in attendance. Instruction was given by six professors of the University aided by six other teachers from the principal colleges and high schools of the state. The summer school has come to be one of the most important undertakings of the University.

It has been the custom during the past several years for the junior class to give a dance, known as the Junior Prom, in honor of the senior class. The class of 1912 has, however, abolished the Prom and will give instead a reception to the men who will graduate next June. The objection to the dance was based on the fact that a large majority of both upper classes do not dance. The Prom was, therefore, judged to be unrepresentative. In its stead an elaborate reception will be given. The undergraduate life of the University has been in a most interesting state of excitement ever since the proposition to abolish the dance came up. The matter has been settled satisfactorily to all concerned.

Not a single member of the class which the University sent to Raleigh to take the Supreme court examination for license to practice law failed. The embryo lawyers on the hill have been very happy for the past week. Last Wednesday night the class gave a banquet to the newly made lawyers. Some excellent speeches were made, and a general celebration was held.

Bethel Items.

BETHEL, N. C., Feb. 14.—Dr. F. C. James is today receiving congratulations on having attained his 80th birthday. Dr. James has for some weeks been in rather feeble health, but we are glad to note that he is some better. His many friends wish him many more years of life and good health.

Snow in this section was about 10 to 12 inches deep on the level and followed by a drop in the temperature to 2 degrees above zero. Who said "Sunny South"?

Miss Olivia Cheatham was called home last week on account of death in her family. Her many friends greatly sympathize with her in her bereavement.

No school Monday on account of the severe weather.
Mr. J. L. Woolard, of Williamston, was a visitor to our city Tuesday.
Mr. Exum Mayo spent Tuesday in town on business.

The young people have greatly enjoyed the snow. At least a dozen sleighs were seen on the streets Monday.

Oh, Beautiful Greenville!

I strolled through the streets of Greenville,

Where garbage is a thing unknown;
I paused at numerous flower beds
To ask for a bud they had grown.

They showed me through every garden
The space between house and walk;
And their wonderful way of living
Would make all people talk.

For grass they had scraps of paper,
Their roses they grew in bright cans;
The lilies that flourishes in ash heaps
Won prizes in all foreign lands.

O! beautiful, beautiful Greenville,
With barrels and trash galore,
Will negligence be your example
That you will regret and deplore?

Rise up with broom and shovel
The aid of all enlist;
Show the world, no town like Greenville,
In the Old North State exists.

It was a "Leap Year Party," and the girls having only one year in four, or more, took advantage of it.

As the guests arrived the boys were taken to an out house arranged for them. Soon the girls sent in their cards wanting to take them to the party.

Punch was served among a forest of long leaf pines by Misses Bertha Joyner and Bluma Wynne.

After all had gathered in the parlor "consequence" was played, causing much laughter. Next came the "Leap Year proposal." Each girl had one minute to propose to a boy. The boys voted for the girl they thought made the best. Miss Trilby Smith being the lucky winner, received a heart-shaped pin cushion as a prize. It was nicely presented by Mr. Royal Adams, of Winterville. The booty was presented to Miss Jaunita Dixon, of Winterville, by Dr. Paul Jones, of Farmville.

With bow and arrow, the girls shot hearts made of pink crepe paper. In this way they got a partner for supper. The dining room was decorated with pink and green. A salad course and jello were served.

GREAT WORK IS A LIBRARY ON CIVICS, HISTORY AND INDUSTRIAL PROGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES.

Messages and Papers of the Presidents Compiled in a Series of Eleven Volumes.

An Encyclopedic Index Sets Forth Important Questions of Government From the Foundation of the Republic.

INSTRUCTION FOR YOUNG AMERICANS.

son two weeks after peace had been declared, illustrating the slow methods of news transportation, and the final treaty of peace at Ghent are among the important events of this period set down in history by President Madison.

It was during Madison's term that the "Star Spangled Banner" was written by Francis Scott Key, to whose memory President Taft recently paid tribute. We turn to the title "Star Spangled Banner" in the encyclopedic index volume and find there a story of this patriotic song.

It was in relation to our foreign policy that Monroe specially distinguished himself by the pronouncement of the so called Monroe doctrine. The mere force of executive utterance amounting to international law is well illustrated thus early in the history of our country. It is the Monroe doctrine that opponents of world peace seize upon to show the weakness of the peace policy. Not only is the Monroe doctrine set out in Monroe's annual message to congress in 1823, but the subject is treated under its alphabetical head in the encyclopedic index volume. Monroe had to deal with the Seminole Indians in their first war during Monroe's term General Jackson invaded Florida, which was then Spanish territory, and took possession of it. He was officially rebuked, but publicly applauded. The purchase of Florida was afterward completed for the sum of $5,000,000 in 1821. The important settlement known as the Missouri compromise was agreed to in 1820. This period was known as the "era of good feeling." A treaty was made in 1824 between this country and England for the suppression of the slave trade. The same year General Lafayette made his celebrated visit to America as the guest of the nation on invitation of the president and at the request of congress, and as a reward for his friendship and assistance to the United States during the Revolutionary war he was presented with a section of land and $200,000.

John Quincy Adams was distinguished by great learning. He favored internal improvements, prophesying that future generations would be more grateful to the founders and builders of the government on account of expenditures for that purpose than for any other.

The state papers of Adams are rich in historical facts, lofty in style and most entertaining to peruse. In Jackson's second election the national convention appears for the first time in the political history of the United States. Jackson was regarded as the father of the "spoils system," though it did not strictly start with him. The entire number of removals by all the presidents prior to Jackson were only seventy-four. Jackson removed 2,000 in one year. The "spoils system" got its name from an utterance of Senator Marcy of New York in the United States senate in 1831, "To the victors belong the spoils." Jackson was a strict constructionist and opposed to national banks. It was during Jackson's administration that occurred the famous Webster-Hayne debate, in which Hayne contended that the federal government was a compact entered into by sovereign states, while Webster maintained that the constitution was an instrument of the government created by the sovereign people of the United States, which established the national ideal. This national ideal was supported by Jackson, for when South Carolina attempted to nullify the tariff by refusing to collect duties at the port of Charleston, Jackson threatened the state with force.

The Mormon church was established by Joseph Smith. The encyclopedic

Moseley Bros.

Index contains an interesting article giving the history of Mormonism through its various legal difficulties.

In 1831 William Lloyd Garrison loomed into prominence as an abolitionist. Jackson had to deal with Indian troubles in the Black Hawk war and in the second Seminole war.

In 1836 Texas rebelled against Mexico and established an independent republic.

In the compiler's sketch of Andrew Jackson due stress is laid upon the fact, too often overlooked, that Andrew Jackson had attained distinction in civil as well as military life before he was nominated for the presidency.

A metropolitan paper in reviewing this work said: "We take leave of this invaluable collection of the messages and papers of Andrew Jackson—the first ever given to the world—with an extract from his farewell address, which, as few readers, we imagine, will dispute, deserves to be treasured by the side of Washington's farewell address."

Van Buren inherited the panic of 1837, which had resulted from wild speculation during Jackson's administration and precipitated by Jackson's Specie Circular. Right here, in passing, we may call to the attention of readers the splendid article on panics in the encyclopedic index volume, and a catalogue of all the panics, with their causes, is given from the first panic of 1816.

In 1837 the independence of Texas was recognized by the United States.

It was during the administration of Martin Van Buren that the Smithsonian institution was founded at Washington, and the article under that title in the encyclopedic index is commended to our readers.

The campaign of 1841, in which William Henry Harrison was elected to succeed Van Buren, was marked by the novelty of stump speaking and processions. The attempts to belittle Harrison on account of his humble origin were taken up as catchwords, and the "hard cider and log cabin" campaign became the "political hurricane" of 1840.

Harrison's short term gave him little opportunity to distinguish himself. His death was supposed to be due to the annoyance of office seekers who believed in the Jackson spoils system.

Tyler as vice president under Harrison succeeded to the presidency on Harrison's death.

An important boundary dispute was settled by a treaty known as the Ashburton treaty, negotiated by Lord Ashburton of Great Britain and Daniel Webster.

Tyler's administration saw the close of the Seminole war.

Dorr's rebellion, which occurred in Rhode Island, forms an interesting chapter in the history of the growth of franchise. The vote had been given to landowners possessed of a certain amount of property and their eldest sons. Dorr, who led the rebellion in favor of popular suffrage, was declared a traitor to Rhode Island, arrested and imprisoned, but afterward honored when his party succeeded. The story is told in the encyclopedic index volume and the presidential discussion cited in chronological place.

In 1842 John C. Fremont, the "Pathfinder," was sent by the government to find the path across the Rocky mountains. It is interesting to read his biography and note his troubles, being once court martialed, and his glories, being honored by the government after achieving success.

In the presidential campaign of 1844, in which James K. Polk was elected to succeed Tyler, the issues were the annexation of Texas and the Oregon boundary dispute, in which Polk's adherents used the famous campaign slogan, "Fifty-four forty or fight!"

Polk was known as the first "dark horse" candidate ever nominated by a prominent party.

The tariff question was dealt with, resulting in a lowering of duties. Polk's various discussions of this old and new question are very interesting and instructive.

The most notable event of Polk's administration is the war with Mexico,

There are few items which appear in this paper more important to Greenville people than the statement published below. In the first place, it is from a citizen of Greenville, and can be thoroughly relied upon. In the second place, it indisputably proves that Doan's Kidney Pills do their work thoroughly and not temporarily. Read this carefully:

Mrs. E. G. Worthington, Washington street, Greenville, N. C., says, "I have been so greatly benefited by Doan's Kidney Pills that I am glad to recommend them. My back ached nearly all the time and I could not rest well. The kidney secretions caused me annoyance and it was plain to be seen that I was suffering from kidney trouble. Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got from the J. Pohn L. Wooten Drug Company, relieved my aches and pains and improved my condition greatly. I cannot praise this remedy too strongly."
