THE ENEMIES OF THE SOUTH.

Now and again certain people delight in throwing stones at the South and hiding the arm that directed the missiles. What reasons they have for so doing is beyond understanding, for the South more than handsomely provides its share of the nation's maintenance. Figures have told to what extent the government draws from the South and figures likewise have told how badly the South is being paid back in kind by the government.

A few days ago one of the standard publications of the country, The Manufacturers' Record, issued a special edition in which the productive value of the Southern States was given ample and correct attention. And they could stand it. Also a few days ago coming to our own case, figures were furnished upon request as to North Carolina's contribution to the expensive government. And this contribution was found to be something like seven and a half millions of dollars annually, with a "come back" to the Old North State of approximately two millions. In other words, the profit made by the government in North Carolina is five millions a year. This is indeed a handsome profit.

Perhaps the government, or the stone-throwers behind the government do not think so.

Also, perhaps, the employees drawing salaries in the Labor Bureau are "hard up" for a job and in looking around for something to keep them on the pay-roll, thought North Carolina cotton mill conditions needed a little attention, and the result came up in a report of findings drawn up by that body who draws their share of worldly comforts from North Carolina.

Comparisons have always been held up to be horrible. Yet the good people of the Labor Bureau forgot all about it for in their report they compare the food of North Carolina and Georgia mill operatives with the menus served the prisoners in the federal prison at Atlanta.

Senator Overman took up the cudgel for his state, and finding special fault with the menu comparison, declared that the bills of fare were equal to those of the average United States senator. He could not understand why the mill workers of the Southern States should be submitted to such an indignity, unless it was to meet the demands of sectional phanatics. He further said "the report is a slander on good citizens."

"What is the government going to do about it?" Yes, that's just it. What is the government going to do about it? Is it that it is going to deny the South the support the South is so willingly giving "it"?

THE MEXICAN WRANGLE.

The time for Uncle Sam to take some decisive steps in the matter of protection for the Americans residing in Mexico is again at hand and for the sake of the interests of all concerned it is to be hoped a series of maneuvers as executed some months ago along the Mexican borders by Uncle Sam's boys in blue will be sufficient to calm our neighbor's fever.

In our issue of Saturday we published a letter written us by an American residing in the much and often troubled republic—this particular gentleman has many a dollar invested in Mexico. There are hundreds of such Americans in the same fix there and the American government should spare no pain in showing our neighbors that these American residents must be protected, by the Mexican government whenever possible and by the home government when otherwise.

The American residents of the town of Juarez have been particularly advised to leave that town, as the rebels are bound to take it "through fire and blood." Perhaps most of the people receiving such advice will have to leave their business or stay there and be shot down to the cries of "Abajo los Gringos." Perhaps if they do leave their business it is not hard to guess what they will find when they get back. And years of hard work will be demolished by a band of semi-desperadoes with self-government ideas.

If a man would admit that he is after an office because he wants the office, and not put it on the ground of a desire to serve the best interest of the people, he would come nearer to the truth.

After a long consideration of the matter, Dr. Henry Louis Smith has accepted the presidency of Washington and Lee University in Virginia. Therein North Carolina loses.

The next time anybody wants to malign the cotton mill people of North Carolina, they had better find out if Senator Overman is around.

With President Taft and Mr. Roosevelt both after it in dead earnest, something lively may be expected.

Mr. Roosevelt was not silent all that time for nothing.

Mr. Roosevelt first threw his hat in the ring, and then put himself under the hat.

THIS IS MY 42nd BIRTHDAY.

John P. White, international president of the United Mine Workers of America, who is the chief spokesman for the miners in the present negotiations with the coal mine owners and who will have the most influential part in the direction of the great strike of the miners in the event of a failure of the negotiations for an amicable settlement of the wage controversy, was born in Coal Valley, Rock Island county, Illinois, February 28, 1870. He was educated in the public schools at Lucas, Iowa, entering the mines at fourteen years of age. After serving as president of the local union he was elected vice president of the general union in 1908 and two years later was elected to succeed Tom Lewis as international president.

The Sine Qua Non.

The efforts that are making to cultivate closer relations between the United States and the Latin-American republics should, of course, be encouraged. Secretary Knox's tour of the South American countries, as was that of Secretary Root some few years ago, is an excellent thing in its way; so also is Mr. John Barrett's Pan-American Society for the promotion of intercourse between the people of the two Americas. But neither of these touches, except incidentally, the real question of strengthening the commercial relations between the two halves of this hemisphere. International trade is based upon something a great deal more substantial than sentiment. It is international barter, the exchange of one commodity for another. So long as we wear, by means of tariff barriers, from our markets the things that the Latin-American republics have to sell, so long will the Latin-American republics buy from us only those things which they cannot obtain elsewhere at all or only at great disadvantage—and this regardless of how much touring among them may be done by our ministers of state or with what persuasive eloquence Mr. Barrett and his associates may preach the reciprocal advantages of Pan-American union. The prime essential, the sine qua non to bringing to the United States that proportion of the Latin-American trade to which our geographical location and other natural advantages entitle us lies in removing the artificial shackles imposed upon commerce by our inordinate tariff duties. Unless and until that is done, we can never hope for anything even approximating maximum development of our trade opportunities in the Latin-American field; if and when it is done, much of the trade from that rich and fruitful territory now going across the Atlantic to Great Britain, Germany and France, will be drawn to our shores just as naturally and just as inevitably as the tides of the sea respond to the influence of the moon. The fact that our commerce with South America has more than doubled

The Modern Lochinvar.

Oh! young Teddy R. has come out from the West, Throughout the United his stick was the best, And save his thick willow of weapons had none He motored undaunted, he laughed alone, With faith for his party, and promise galore, There's none that can touch him, good old Theodore! Machines cannot stop him, he stands all alone! He got in the limelight when room there was none, But ere he got busy to be a president Miss Republic had asked him. Late came his consent. For a sluggard in weight and a dastard in trust Was to make the convention, and make it or bust.

So boldly he entered the convention hall

"Midst delegates, henchmen, press-writers and all, Then spake Miss Republic's old man with a frown For the man from the White House was laying law down; "Oh! come ye in peace here, or come ye in war? "Observe soop, for we're waiting on you, Theodore!" "I long wooed the lady," was Teddy's comment, "My suit I stayed off for to win her consent, "And now I have come, and my hat's in the ring "My stiek's all I brought, for what else could I bring? "There are jobs that will have me from Frisco to Rome, "But Oh, for the peace (?) 'neath the capitol's dome." A farmer does not need a medical diploma in order to be able to cure pork.

in value in the last ten years, notwithstanding and in spite of the tariff handicap, only shows the more conclusively how great that expansion would be were this handicap removed. And certainly it is only the blindness that will not see which can fail to discern in our experience with limited reciprocity with Cuba and a measure of free trade with the Philippines that it is freer trade relations which are needed to insure maximum commercial expansion in the Latin-American field. Nothing more is required; nothing less will suffice.—Norfolk Virginia-Pilot and Landmark.

Was He Ungrateful?

President Taft is represented as being hurt at Colonel Roosevelt's action in antagonizing him for the nomination. He has a right to be. But was Roosevelt justified? He practically placed Taft in the White House and their friendship was like that of Jonathan and David. Furthermore, Roosevelt had given assurances that he would not again be a candidate. Apparently Taft had very reason to hope that he would have no opposition from this source, but on the contrary, he expected the support of the former president. The personal relations of the two men made Colonel Roosevelt's choice a hard matter. If he had consulted his own inclinations, he would have remained out of the fight. But the things he stands for and the things Mr. Taft stands for are far apart. Colonel Roosevelt felt a call to duty as champion of his own cause, believing that "the matter is not to be decided with any reference to the personal preferences or interests of any man, but purely from the standpoint of the interests of the people as a whole." He based his action on party interests, even in so doing, he placed himself open to the charge of ingratitude to an old friend. The question which seems to have confronted him was merely whether a sentimental sense of loyalty to a past friendship should stand against the call of an insistent element of a great political party.—Charlotte Evening Chronicle.

POLITICS AND POLITICIANS.

Eight candidates are contesting for the Republican nomination for governor of Illinois. Vermont Republicans will meet in Montpelier April 10, to select delegates at large to the Chicago convention. Governor Kitchin of North Carolina is making a stumping tour of the state in his candidacy for the seat of United States Senator Simmons. Albert H. Shaw, a wealthy lumberman, of Bath, has announced that he will be a candidate in the Republican primaries for governor of Maine.

Ex-Governor Fort of New Jersey, and United States Senator Clapp, of Minnesota, are to address a mass meeting of Progressive Republicans of Massachusetts in Boston, March 2.

The campaign in New Jersey to bring about the selection of Roosevelt delegates to the national Republican convention will be opened with a mass meeting in Newark on the evening of March 1.

Three candidates are already in the field for the Republican gubernatorial nomination in Iowa—George W. Clarke, the present lieutenant governor; A. Z. Proudfoot, a member of the state senate, and Perry G. Holden, until recently a professor at the Iowa Agricultural College.

A Brooklyn newspaper says a number of prominent New York State Republicans maintain that James A. Garfield, who was secretary of the interior in Roosevelt's cabinet, is Colonel Roosevelt's "dark horse" candidate for the Republican nomination for president of the United States.

A tentative slate framed for the Rochester convention in April names State Chairman William Barnes, Jr., United States Senator Elihu Root, William Berri, of Brooklyn, and President Jacob Gould, of Cornell University, as the probable members of the "Big Four" to represent New York State at the Republican national convention.

Old Age.
It is too late. Oh! nothing is too late
Till the tired heart shall cease to palpitate,
Gave learned Greek at eighty, Sophocles
Wrote his grand "Oedipus," and Somanides,
Bore off the prize of verse from his compeers;
When each had numbered four score years;
And Theophrates at four score years and ten
Had but begun his "Characters of Men,"
Chaucer, at Woodstock, with the nightingales,
At sixty wrote "The Canterbury Tales,"
Goethe, at Theimar, tolling to the last,
Completed "Faust" when eighty years were past.
When then! Shall we sit idly down and say,
The night hath come; it is no longer day?
The night hath not yet come; we are not quite
Cut off from labor by the falling light;
Something remains for us to do, or dare;
Even the oldest trees some fruit may bear;
For age is opportunity no less
Than youth itself, though in another dress;
And as the evening twilight fades away,
The sky is filled with stars, invisible by day.

Mrs. L. Mangum, 416 D Ickinson avenue, Greenville, N. C., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills are by no means a new remedy to me. I have used them on different occasions and have found that they are a preparation of great merit. Kidney complain and backache made me miserable and it was not until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills from the John L. Wooten Drug Company, that I found relief. Recently I again got a supply of this remedy and it helped me as promptly and effectively as before."

Old Army Officer Retires.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 28.—After more than forty years' service, Colonel Thaddeus W. Jones, until recently in command of the 10th Cavalry, stationed at Fort Ethan Allen, was placed on the retired list today on his own application. Colonel Jones is from North Carolina and was graduated from West Point in 1872. During the Philippine insurrection he was lieutenant colonel of the 45th U. S. Volunteer Infantry. With this exception his entire service of forty years was in the cavalry arm.

Roosevelt-Taft Test in Missouri.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Feb. 28.—Interest of Missouri Republicans is just now centered upon the Third Congressional District, the first in the state to meet for the selection of delegates to the Republican National Convention in Chicago. The convention will meet tomorrow in Plattsburg. The outcome will be watched with interest because of the active rivalry for control between the friends of the President and those of Colonel Roosevelt. It is known that the Roosevelt forces intend to make a vigorous fight to prevent the instruction of the delegates for Taft. E. L. Morse of Excelsior Springs is directing the campaign for Taft delegates and says the two delegates selected tomorrow undoubtedly will be instructed for the President's renomination. Jesse E. Tolerton, president of the Missouri Roosevelt club, who has made a careful canvass of the nine counties comprised in the district, says Roosevelt delegates will be named.

To Discuss Industrial Peace.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 28.—Advices received by the committee in charge of the local arrangements indicate that nearly all of the forty-eight States will be represented by delegates at the annual convention of the National Civic Federation to be held here next week. The live importance of the subjects scheduled for discussion and the prominence of a great many of the participants combine to give promise of the most notable meeting in the history of the organization. The initial session will be devoted to the consideration of ways and means to insure industrial peace and prosperity. Cardinal Gibbons will preside. President Taft will occupy the chair at the succeeding sessions, which will be given over to the consideration of such problems as are involved in the relations of the public to industrial pensions, compensation for accidents, and the regulation of industrial corporations and public utilities.

Argentine Minister Honored.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Feb. 28.—In connection with the 125th anniversary celebration of the University of Pittsburgh, the authorities of the university today conferred the honorary degree of LL. D. upon Dr. Romulo S. Naon, the Argentine minister at Washington City. The degree was conferred by Chancellor McCormick in the presence of the university trustees and faculty and a number of invited guests. The honors were conferred upon Dr. Naon in recognition of his important services as professor of constitutional law and member of the governing board of the University of Buenos Ayres, the foremost educational institution in South America.

Poth Factions for Taft.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Feb. 28.—The Adams-Cochran-Harris faction of the Republican party in South Carolina has completed arrangements for the holding of its State convention here tomorrow to select delegates to the national convention. The opposing faction, known as the "Lily Whites" and led by John G. Capers, National Committeeman, will hold its convention later. Both factions claim to represent the "regular" Republican organization of South Carolina and the two delegations will fight for recognition at the Chicago convention in June. Each faction has declared itself for Taft for President.

Military Medical Meeting.

OTTAWA, Can., Feb. 28.—The 5th annual conference of the association of Medical Officers of the Militia of Canada met in this city today and began a two days' session. The program provides for the discussion of a wide range of topics, together with addresses by Colonel Samuel Hughes, Minister of Militia; Sir James Gilbert of Ottawa, Major J. T. Clark, of Halifax, Dental-Surgeon Lanthier of Quebec, and several others of much prominence.

AFTER FORTY YEARS.

Camden, S. C., Woman Recovers From Stomach Trouble.

No one who is not well nourished can be good-natured. That is why dyspeptics are always irritable.

But stomach trouble can be cured in nearly all cases, even after years of suffering. Mrs. Sarah C. Ammons, Camden, S. C., says "I suffered from nervous dyspepsia for forty years and feared I should never get over it. It kept me in misery all the time. I was terribly run down, could not sleep—thought my health was ruined. "Last spring I began taking Vinol and it has no equal. I soon began to improve and now I am a well woman again for the first time in forty years. My appetite is good, I sleep well and have no stomach trouble at all. These are the plain facts."

Take our word for it, when you are weak and run down, cannot eat or sleep, Vinol is what you need for it will build you up and make you strong. We guarantee Vinol to please—your money back if it does not. Moyle's Pharmacy.

From LaFollette to Roosevelt. SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Feb. 28.—As a result of a conference held in this city today it appears probable that the organized progressive Republicans of California will drop their support of Senator LaFollette and declare for Roosevelt as their choice for the presidential nomination. Chester H. Rowell, president of the LaFollette League of California, has set the example by declaring for Roosevelt and it is believed that the majority of the league members will follow the same course.

SALE OF PERSONAL PROPERTY.

By virtue of the power of sale contained in two certain mortgages executed by J. A. Gardner, to the Carolina Bagging Co., both recorded in Book T-9, page 400, the undersigned will sell for cash before the court house door in Greenville, on Saturday, March 16, 1912, the following described personal property:

- One shingle mill complete; one cob corn mill, both now located at Gardner's X Roads, in Pitt county;
- two bay horse mules about 7 years old; one black mare mule about 8 years old; one gray mare mule about 8 years old; and one black horse mule about 10 years old. Also a large lot of pea-vine hay raised during the year 1911 on the lands of the said J. A. Gardner, near Gardner's X Roads. Said property is sold to satisfy two mortgages.

MERCHANTS, TAKE NOTICE.

That the last legislature passed an act forbidding the sale of 22-caliber cartridges that are commonly used in 22-rifles, and can be used in 22-pistols, without paying a license tax. I have been informed that several merchants throughout the county are selling such cartridges and it is unlawful to do so. All who continue to sell them after this date will have to pay the required tax for selling pistols and cartridges.

This February 17, 1912.
S. I. DUDLEY, Sheriff.

NOTICE TO TAX-PAYERS.

Taxes for the year 1911 are long past due, and the time has almost arrived when I will have to collect. Those who are yet delinquent should come forward and pay, so as to avoid costs being added.

This February 17, 1912.
S. I. DUDLEY, Sheriff.

Engineer Addresses Y. M. C. A.

SPENCER.—D. J. Frant, a well known Southern Railway engineer of Atlanta, spoke by special invitation at the Spencer Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon to a large audience. He is as well known as a religious worker as a locomotive engineer and his talk here made a profound impression upon the railroad men who heard him. He also occupied the pulpit at the Spencer Methodist church in the forenoon and was heard by a large congregation. His theme was, "The Claim of Jesus on Christian Men," and he discussed the same in an able manner from the standpoint of a layman.

After all, the crank keeps things moving whether in the machine shop or in society.
