REFUSE TO OBEY LAW IN ALBERMARLE

Gunboat Elfrieda Ready to Take Action

Fishermen are Defying the Law

ELIZABETH CITY, March 28.—State Fish Commissioner Vann sailed from this port last night on board the cruiser Elfrieda, having with him a complement of 25 men from the state naval militia, bound for Albermarle sound with a determination to quell the insubordination of certain fishermen. Notwithstanding dire threats have been made against his life and he has been warned not to touch nets, one fisherman declaring he would kill him on sight, Vann stated here before sailing that, although he regretted the necessity for drastic action and hoped there would be no bloodshed, he was determined to see that the fish laws of North Carolina would be enforced at all costs. He states that a majority of fishermen uphold him, but that there is a class which refuses to recognize the law and his authority and declare they will defend their property with shotguns. The cruiser Elfrieda is fully equipped to carry out all military orders.

Expect to Get Them today

Posses Are Moving Closely Upon The Allens, But Are Unable to Fully Locate The Outlaws.—Definitely Know Claude Swanson Allen is Not With Them.

HILLSVILLE, Va., March 28.—Posses are moving upon the court house assassins from two sides tonight and a fight is expected within the next 24 hours.

Fifty horsemen tonight slowly encircled the strongholds up in the Blue Ridge where the remainder of the Allen gang is believed to be hiding, left their mounts in the thicket and worked single file to points of advantage from which they expect to charge upon the outlaws at daybreak.

Sheriff Haynes, of Surry county, North Carolina, with a volunteer posse of 50, also is waiting to move from Mt. Airy.

The posses have taken equipment to remain in the mountains until they take the outlaws out or are assured of their escape from this section.

A circumstantial story today said that one of the Allens, probably Jasper, who has a son, Friel, in the hunted band, had a plan to accomplish a bloodless surrender.

It was not verified, however.

The special grand jury empanelled to consider the court house assassinations returned today eight new indictments against members of the Allen clan charging murder and conspiracy to kill. Those indicted were, Sidna, Floyd, Victor, Claude and Friel Allen, Byrd Marion, Sidna Edwards, and Wesley Edwards. Of these Floyd Allen, Sidna Edwards, Victor Allen and Byrd Marion are in custody.

C. T. Munford's "Big Store" Grazed To The Ground

$40,000 Worth of Stock Reduced to Ashes in Short While.

GORNTO'S SHOE STORE FLOODED WITH WATER

Volunteer Fire-Fighters and Spectators Distinguish Themselves in Struggle Against the Stubborn Element

THE APPROXIMATE LOSS MAY REACH BEYOND $75,000

About twelve-thirty this morning fire was seen gushing from the rear windows of C. T. Munford's big store and by one-thirty, in spite of the brave battle put up by our fireman aided by some of the bystanders the building and contents were a total wreck; the adjoining building occupied by the Busy Bee Cafe, Gornto Shoe Store on the lower floor and the offices of the Consolidated Tobacco Company on the upper floor, had to be flooded to prevent its burning up and naturally but for a little of the stock in the Gornto Shoe Company store which was carried out, the contents of the entire building including the offices on the second floor were totally ruined. The building back of the J. R. Brady corner building and which also belonged to C. T. Munford, suffered considerably as a fire which started in its interior fought back the steady stream of water played on it for more than an hour. The John L. Wooten Company's drug store suffered some damage on the wall adjoining the Big Store and its cellar was flooded. More or less damage being also sustained by the store occupied by Frank Wilson across the street. Electric light and telephone wires were severed by the flames and at one time the pole on the other side of the street directly opposite Mr. Munford's Store threatened to serve as to stepping stone for the flames to gain the other side of the street.

THE MUNFORD BUILDING

Nobody really seems to know how the fire started at Munford's store. Preparations for the spring opening which was to take place today had been going on all yesterday and up to a little after midnight, when the force of clerks left the building; then everything seemed to be all right. Twenty minutes later fire was discovered emerging from the rear window of the store and by the time the firemen got to the scene it had gained such control that almost all the contents of the store were a heap of burning ambers. The draperies used profusely to ornament the shop preparatory to the opening proving a most willing fuel to encourage the element. By quarter to one nearly every citizen of Greenville had been routed out of bed by the mournful cries of fire.

Bystanders were helping remove goods from the Wooten Drug store and the Busy Bee Cafe. The possibility of the fire gaining access to the J. R. Brady building being in evidence, Gornto's store was also cleared of as much as could be carried out by volunteers.

Before the streams of water were turned on the Big Store, the fire had completely burned its contents and with a roar the flames swept through the front of the store and at one time seriously threatened to lick their way to the stores on the opposite side of the street. Two hose were continually played on the front of the burning building and very soon the firemen had three more playing on the rear of the store. In spite of the firemen's brave attempt to confine the flames to the Big Store, it pretty soon made its way to the other Munford building, to the rear of the Brady building. Here is where the firemen did most of their brave work. The flames were most fierce in the alleyway between the Brady building and the Munford building and before it could be prevented the interior of the latter was aflame. A hose was played steadily on the door a-top the stairway on the alley but the stubborn fire held its own for over three quarters of an hour beating back the stream and threatening to consume the whole building. Firemen finally went up the stairway and hand to hand engaged in a battle with the flames. Nozzle holders had to be relieved often for the fire was the hottest that

Rockingham Co. for Good Roads

People Sign Willingly Petition For an Election on a Proposition to Issue Bonds For Roads.—Sum of Half Million Dollars to be Raised.

RIEDSVILLE, March 28.—The petitions asking for an election on the proposition to issue bonds for good roads in the sum of $500,000 are now being returned to President R. P. Richardson of the Good Roads Association. The lists already indicate that if the outstanding precincts make as good returns as those already heard from the required number of signers will be obtained. The surprise of the canvass is in the showing made in Martin precinct, in the western part of the county, where six years ago there was not a single vote cast for good roads. A gentleman who was in that township a few days ago, says that more than half the voters there had signed the petitions and that the friends of the cause were satisfied that two-thirds of the voters were in favor of the bond issue. It will require two or three days to tabulate the names and until all petitions are returned, it will be impossible to ascertain the exact number who have petitioned for the election. The bill requires that 15,000 qualified voters must petition the election before it can be called by the county commissioners.

GOV. KITCHIN ADDRESSES WASHINGTON FRIENDS

Reiterates Attack on Simmons Record

SHOWS "AMERICAN LUMBERMAN"

Washington, N. C., March 23.—By a special invitation from many of Washington's leading citizens, Gov. W. W. Kitchin, who was on his way to deliver an educational address at Blount's Creek, addressed a large audience in the court house here last Thursday night on "Democratic Principles." There was no oratory in his speech; he stuck to facts. He said his speech was an open-minded review of Senator Simmons' record; that he has the documents to support his assertions; and that he would not indulge in personalities. His promise was kept.

Continuing, the governor said he was not trying to read Senator Simmons out of the Democratic party; that he (Simmons) was already out of harmony with the Democratic party. He showed the inconsistency of Simmons in voting for free lumber in the party platform and in voting against free lumber in the United States senate. Contrary to Democratic principles the senior senator voted against his party majority in the Lorimer case, for the Ocean Mail Subsidy bill, for a protective tariff on iron ore, for a tariff on coal, for a tariff on cotton seed oil.

Mr. Kitchin produced a copy of the American Lumberman, which had published a full page picture of Simmons on the cover, and which had quoted from his speech on lumber, with distinct approval; he showed that the Protective Tariff League in their Red Hand Book had published his speech as good Republican doctrine.

Durham Mill Increase Capital

Increase of Capital of Hosiery Mill to $750,000 Will Materially Increase Mill Facilities.—Final Action Left by Directors to Stockholders.

DURHAM, March 28.—The various stockholders of the Durham Hosiery mills have mailed a printed report of a meeting of the board of directors of the company held here March 23, at which meeting the advisability of increasing the capital stock of the company from $1,000,000 to $1,750,000 was considered. A resolution was passed at this meeting recommending to the stockholders that this be done and a meeting of the stockholders is to be held at the company's office April 8.

The board of directors further passed a resolution recommending that a part of this increase in capital stock be used in increasing the facilities of the mills. If the stockholders adopt the resolution of the directors, about $70,000 will be spent at the Durham Mill No. 1, $60,000 at Mill No. 3 at High Point and $10,000 at the Goldsboro mill and $60,000 at the Chapel Hill branch of the company.

THE BEEF BARONS.

Another trophy has been added to the already large collections of mementoes gathered by the trusts. The Beef Barons being tried at Chicago for the alleged violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, have been declared not guilty by a jury. This trial has been one of those reliability affairs in which different parts have been added to the original machine until it was sufficiently strong to withstand the grind of the race.

For ten years lawyers on Uncle Sam's payroll, and who are usually called prosecuting attorneys, or some other such name, have been after the pack of Chicago embalmers, who, led by Swift, have nosed them out just at the tape. Again, if there is something in a name, the one Swift was certainly a world of meaning. And what about Armour?

Swift and Armour the meat packers have been giving those poor attorneys a regular busy time and after the gentlemen with the thick volumes had expended a great deal of time gathering evidence which they thought "damnable," in exactly 19 hours time a jury undid all their work and set the canned goods and storage moguls free.

Again we will have to submit to "the meat that lasts" through a chemical process of longevity. Very spare ribs, hams, quarters, and all kinds of cattle and game meat will continue to grace our tables after being properly "instructed" by the Chicago men. And small butchers, who, were they able to "do business" would give us fresher meats for about the same price will have to keep on "whooping and hollering" for justice.

FOR FREE SUGAR.

It is the high privilege of every man engaged in the work of publishing a newspaper, of being kindly patted on the back once in a while. Not very often, but cases arise.

We are in receipt of a wire from a certain Southern sugar refining concern asking us to intercede, as far as we can, in their interests and against the idea of free sugar. "It would mean our ruin!" they foolishly point out. Suppose it is their ruin. Somebody's ruin is bound to be somebody else's gain, and in this particular occasion we thoroughly believe that we, that is the people at large, are going to be benefitted by the Free Sugar Bill, somewhere near discussion in Washington. It would indeed be senseless for us to take the side of the erstwhile bully who every time we had to sweeten something, compelled us to mix it with the bitterness of the extortionate prices we had to pay for the article.

The big interests that have taken every possible step to take under their charge all of our necessities are very cowardly indeed, and naturally in time of trouble, their trouble, they are vociferous in claiming protection.

In danger of incurring the displeasure of the company that thought

SPECIAL TO THE MERCHANTS.

For the special benefit of some of our merchants that have not yet made up their minds to join the crowd of progressives already availing themselves of the profit yielding columns of this publication, we are reprinting directly below a little editorial clipped from one of the Charlotte papers:

It Pays to Advertise.

Managers of the several presidential booms and boomlets are setting an example which aggressive merchants can follow with profit.

They are conducting their campaigns almost solely through the newspapers. They are paying liberally for space to set forth the merits and achievements of their favorites. These managers have on their desks many vital documents with which to convince the public. The merchant has valuable goods on his shelves. The progressive campaign manager sets forth the facts coupled through the columns of the daily papers. The progressive merchant will get equally satisfactory results by telling the public, through the papers, of those goods on the shelf. It is the only speedy way to sell them. It pays to advertise.

A Greensboro man who was employed as brakeman on the Southern railroad, has sued the company for $3,000 because of contracting a deep cold while working on a muddy yard to which he had been sent.

Farmers of Mecklenburg county are going after the cotton situation right. They are pledging themselves to a reduction of the acreage the coming season.

The New York Republican presidential primary going almost solid for Taft, has aroused the ire of the colonel and he cries fraud.

Frank Clark.

Representative Frank Clark, of Florida, who started the Everglades land controversy by accusing Secretary of Agriculture Wilson of suppressing land circulars intended to protect of the public, was born in Eufaula, Alabama, March 28, 1860, and received his education in the public schools of Alabama and Georgia. He was admitted to the bar in 1881 and has since been engaged in the practice of law in Florida. His public career began with his election to the Florida legislature. He served three terms as a member of that body and later became United States district attorney in lower house of congress since 1905.

WITH OTHER EDITORS

Aycock

The dispatches from Raleigh tell us that Charles B. Aycock has returned from taking a rest spell, and that he is much improved in health. He is scheduled to open his campaign for the senatorship April 12 in a speech in Raleigh, and then make a number of speeches throughout the state. Of him the Highpoint Enterprise says:

There is no doubt but that thousands of people in the state are waiting the advent of ex-Gov. Charles B. Aycock on the stump. There is a strong feeling among his friends that there will be quite a chance in this senatorial situation when it is seen that he is in the campaign to stay and that his health has been restored. He naturally has a large following, and his candidacy amounts to more than either side will admit.

Our contemporary has thus given expression to a truth. Mr. Aycock has thousands of friends, and we believe he will conduct such a campaign as will hold them. He will not outrage the high plane on which those friendships are formed by attempting to read any of his fellow Democrats out of the party. We shall be surprised if any expression of abuse is heard from him. We do not believe his campaign will be one of harshness unless he is unjustly attacked, nor one of misrepresentation in any event. He has a public record and he has convictions. He will win on these or he will not win at all.

Mark the prediction. Aycock will pitch his campaign on a high plane and it will stay there unless he is forced by vicious attacks to bring it down to the level of a selfish scramble.—Greensboro News.

North Carolina's Native Population.

In another column will be found a preliminary statement issued by the department of Commerce and Labor, bureau of the census, showing the foreign population in North Carolina. The statement shows that there are only 5,942 foreign born population in North Carolina, and shows an increase of only a little over 1,000 during the past ten years.

In this day when the whole country is threatened with anarchism and is over run with the foreign element, it is a great consolation to read the above figures.

The foreign element in the United States is going to be the most serious problem some day that this country will have to deal with.

Another fact that is not shown in the above report is the foreign population that is in North Carolina is composed of the better class of foreigner, men who are industrious and law-abiding, which cannot be said of the great horde of foreigners in the large cities.—Durham Sun.

Congratulations to:

Jacob H. Gallinger, United States senator from New Hampshire, 75 years old today.

John C. A. Leishman, Ambassador at Paris, 55 years old today.

Democrats Hope to Control Senate.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 28.—The Democratic gains of last fall, coupled with the fractional troubles within the Republican ranks, has given rise to a feeling of expectation among the Democratic leaders that they will not only increase their majority in the House but will gain control in the Senate, as a result of the elections to be held next November.

A margin of only five votes now exists in the Senate between the two parties. The appearance of four new senators, two from New Mexico and two from Arizona, does not help either party, for New Mexico is sending up two Republicans and Arizona two Democrats. With the arrival of these four senators the upper branch will stand as follows: Republicans 51, Democrats 44, Vacancies 1. The vacancy is in the Senate of Colorado, where Senator Charles J. Hughes died, thus costing the Democracy one of its ablest members and the legislature, although Democratic, could not get together on a man before its adjournment.

On March 3, next, thirty senators will retire to private life if they have not meanwhile been re-elected by the legislatures of their several states. The outgoing list numbers seventeen Republicans and thirteen Democrats. Among them are some of the most influential members of the upper house on the Democratic side as well as the Republican side.

The seventeen Republicans are Messrs. Cullom of Illinois, Nelson of Minnesota, Richardson of Delaware, Wetmore of Rhode Island, Warren of Wyoming, Smith of Michigan, Kenyon of Iowa, Guggenheim of Colorado, Gamble of South Dakota, Dixon of Montana, Curtis of Kansas, Crane of Massachusetts, Burnham of Nebraska, Briggs of New Jersey, Bourne of Oregon and Borah of Idaho.

The Democratic senators whose terms will expire next March are: Davis of Arkansas, Bacon of Georgia, Paynter of Kentucky, Foster of Louisiana, Gardner of Maine, Percy of Mississippi, Simmons of North Carolina, Owens of Oklahoma, Tillman of South Carolina, Taylor of Tennessee, Bailey of Texas, Martin of Virginia and Watson of West Virginia.

Of the thirteen Democrats, several are already assured of re-election and of the remainder the majority are certain to be succeeded by Democrats. Maine and West Virginia are the only two states in which there appears to be a possibility of the present Democratic senators being succeeded by Republicans. The Republicans in Maine believe that the Democrats, despite their victory of last year, will not be able to elect the legislature this fall. Failure to control the legislature will mean the retirement of Senator Gardner, who was appointed by the Democratic governor of the Pine Tree State to fill out the term of the late Senator Frye. In West Virginia, which is normally a Republican state, the leaders of that party are hopeful that they will be able to unseat Senator Watson, who is filling the vacancy caused by the death of Senator Elkins and who must come up for re-election next winter.

The possible gains on the Democratic side of the senate are believed to be considerably in excess of their possible losses. First of all, they are confidently counting on a Democratic senator to succeed Guggenheim of Colorado, who will not be a candidate for re-election. The last Colorado legislature was Democratic and the Democrats believe the next one will be of the same complexion. Another Democratic gain is expected to be contributed by the neighboring state of Wyoming, as a result of the serious split between the insurgent and standpat Republicans.

Two other Republican senators whom the Democrats hope to supplant are Dixon of Montana and Richardson of Delaware. The fight between the Republican factions in Idaho makes that state interesting ground. The indications are that Senator Borah will have no opposition for the Republican nomination, but the activity of the Democrats and their success in electing the governor last year makes it appear that a Democratic successor to Mr. Borah is among the possibilities. New Jersey which will choose a successor to Senator Briggs, is also regarded by the Democrats as hopeful ground, particularly of Governor Wilson is the Democratic candidate for president.

To Discuss Educational Problems.

WATERLOO, Ia., March 28.—More than a thousand teachers from the northern part of this state are in attendance at the eighteenth annual meeting of the Northeastern Iowa Teachers Association which opened here today for a three day session. Many important educational problems will be discussed at the general meetings and sectional conferences and the list of speakers includes many distinguished educators, among them Superintendent Carroll G. Pearce of Milwaukee, president of the National Teachers association; Hon. Henry tendent of schools of Michigan; President G. Pattengil, former state superintendent F. A. Cotton of the Wisconsin State Normal and others.

I've a dollar in my pocket
An' wid wealth o' health I'm blest,
An' me picture's in a locket

If the Lord continues kind,
So there isn't room for sorrow

I have little care to know,
Shure, we'll none of us be carin'

Ye have spoke the word that's bound

Here's two arms to put around ye

Misses Pattie Davenport and Lillian Stokes spent Wednesday in Bethel.

Omitted First Name.

In speaking of the sales people in the store of B. J. Pulley in Wednesday's paper, the Linotype lost part of a name and one appeared only as Miss Joyner. Of course everybody acquainted with the store knows it was intended for Miss Em. Joyner.

They Are Voting For The Reflector Man.

Two young ladies Wednesday did some work in Farmville for The Reflector man in the News and Observer automobile contest and secured a very large number of votes for him there. That was truly gratifying and we thank the people of that good town for such loyal support in the contest. It shows their pride in voting for a big prize to come to their county. Other towns in the county, as well as people in the country, are also helping us and if all come up as strong as Farmville we will certainly win out. Letters are received every day advising of votes being sent in for us.

It is in order here to state that now is a good time for those friends who have promised us their subscriptions to the News and Observer to send them in as each subscription between now and next Wednesday secures 10,000 extra votes. Also clip all the voting coupons out of your papers and send them in for us. Those that are dated 30th and 31st should be sent in at once.

Memorial to Wade Hampton.

CHARLESTON, S. C., March 28.—An imposing monument in memory of General Wade Hampton, a gift to the city of Charleston by the local chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy, was unveiled today on the ninety-fourth anniversary of the birth of the distinguished South Carolina soldier and statesman. The monument occupies a conspicuous site in Marion Square. The unveiling was accompanied with interesting but modest ceremonies. The oration of the day was delivered by Dr. S. C. Michell, president of the University of South Carolina.

Munford's Big Store Grazed to the Ground

we have experienced. By this time the walls of the Big Store, which had held the fire from gaining on the adjoining Brady building caved in closely following the front of the store that fell on Evans street with a mighty crash and a rolling of brick which fortunately did not hurt any one. Shortly after the caving in of the walls the smoke which had been already emerging from the Brady building thickened and grew brighter and a fire broke out between the ceiling and roof. Firemen rushed to the building and up the narrow staircase leading to the offices of the Consolidated Tobacco Co., and pulled a hose into the smoke-filled upper floor. The fight of fights took place here as the men were both choked by the heavy smoke and had to stand the oceans of water which reverted from the ceiling, as they trained their hose to it. Men had to be quickly relieved, conditions being so as to make it impossible for any man to stand it very long. After a struggle which seemed to last a century the fire between ceiling and roof was put out, but of course, the entire contents of the building were ruined by the streams of water poured into it. Another hose from outside was trained in to the building and kept steadily raining its stream of water on the roof.

On the street the wildest pandemonium reigned during the earlier period of the fire. Men rushed in and out of adjoining stores carrying a variety of articles and throwing them on the pavement across the street. The greatest fear was entertained at the beginning of the fire lest sparks might set the old stables and adjoining houses on fire, the wind blowing rather strongly towards the court house. Luckily the breeze died out soon after the flames had emerged by the front of the Big Store and although sparks continually rained on neighboring buildings the damage was lessened considerably.

Under the existing fire-fighting conditions in the town the fire fighters did titanic work and are to be greatly commended for their pluck and endurance. Fire was attacked and beaten by them in a style that puts our local firemen on a par with the trained men of larger cities. Some bystanders also did mighty good work. So many citizens joined in the fight to subdue the flames that we will not attempt to print names, simply confining ourselves to voicing the sentiment of the citizens of Greenville in heartily congratulating all who helped avert a catastrophe such as has no annals in the fire destroying history of this community.

The Water Department distinguished itself throughout. Water a-plenty was provided by the department and the pressure was such as to help the firemen fight their heroic battle.

As far as known only a fire fighter was hurt, Mr. R. Hyman running his hand into a piece of burning tin. The wound luckily is on the fleshy part of the hand and although about half an inch deep and about two inches long, it is not expected to give Mr. Hyman any more trouble than any other fleshy wound might. There were a few faces scorched, but altogether the damage to persons was slight considering the amount of daring shown by the firemen. It should be mentioned that some of our colored citizens were with the leaders in trying to gain access to the burned buildings.

The approximate loss is about $75,000, heaviest sufferers being C. T. Munford, with a loss of about $50,000; Gornto Shoe Co., loss about $11,000; damage done to adjoining property about $14,000.

The insurance carried over by the different people interested in the fire amounts to about as much as the loss, Mr. Munford carrying about $45,000 on his stock, buildings and property. Gornto Shoe Co. carried in the neighborhood of $8,000. The Brady building also carried some insurance as did the Consolidated Tobacco Co.

The distribution of the policies carried by the different agencies are about as follows:

By H. A. White Co., about $42,000.
C. L. Wilkinson about $12,000;
Moseley Brothers approximately $10,000.
Other smaller agencies carried the remainder.

SHE GAVE UP ALL HOPE

Physicians Failed To Help Mrs. Green, But She Finally Found Relief in Cardui.

Meetez, Va.—Mrs. J. O. Green of this place, says: "I suffered with womanly troubles so that I could hardly sit up. Two of the best doctors in our town treated me, and I tried different medicines, until I gave up all hope of ever getting well."

One day, I decided to try some Cardui. It did so much for me that I ordered some more, and it cured me! Today, I feel as well as I ever did in my life.

The pains and the trouble are all gone. I feel like another person in every way. I wish every sufferer could know what Cardui will do for sick women."

A few doses of Cardui at the right time, will save many a big doctor bill, by preventing serious sickness.

It tones up the nervous system, and helps make pale cheeks fresh and rosy. Thousands of weak women have been restored to health and happiness by using Cardui. Suppose you try it.

It may be just the medicine you need.

The Pulley Store Is NOW OPEN
To the Patrons and Customers of the former firm of Pulley & Bowen:—
In announcing the dissolution of the above-named firm, I desire to express to each and all of the many customers, who have favored us with their very liberal patronage, the very kindest expression of my appreciation.
The dissolution of the co-partnership relations of Pulley & Bowen is by mutual consent, and the most cordial relations exist between the members of the old firm; and the dissolution is only perfected for the better serving the varied interest of our many customers.
I bespeak for Mr. Bowen, my friend and former partner, a full share of the patronage formerly given to us both, and while I heartily commend to him a goodly portion of the same, I am at the same time making every effort possible to meet the demands and needs of my many friends and former patrons, in giving to them the best in quality and style that money can buy. I shall be pleased at all times to welcome my friends and the public generally to my store and have them inspect my stock; and it will always be my purpose and aim to serve the highest interests of my customers in the best possible manner.
Trusting that I may receive a generous patronage from my friends former customers and the public generally and with the assurance of my highest appreciation of the same, I am,
