STEAMER RUN AGROUND

MERCHANTS AND MINERS SHIP ONTARIO ON FIRE

PANIC AVERTED IN TIME

32 Passengers Were On Board When Fire Was Discovered

BOSTON, April 8.—A group of tired, hungry passengers of the Merchants and Miners' steamer Ontario, which was driven ashore burning on Montauk Point, L. I., early today, arrived here late this afternoon from New London, Conn., where they were landed by a tug from the burning steamer in the afternoon. Most of them were without baggage. Some had dressed so hurriedly in the excitement that they had scarcely sufficient clothing. When the Ontario was run ashore she carried 32 passengers, 22 first and second cabin and 10 Italians in the steerage. With the exception of two, Misses Nellie Sheehan, and Katherine E. Schwartz, of Washington, D. C., the passengers were brought to Boston. Later they left for their destinations.

Among the first and second cabin passengers were R. T. Windley, Wilmington, N. C.; D. C. Cannon, Norfolk; Mrs. W. J. Bent, wife of the captain of the steamer, was also aboard and came to Boston with the passengers.

Despite their trying experience and the hardships they had endured, the passengers took the situation philosophically.

Rocky Mount Youth Saves Sister

Four Year Old Hero Waded in After His 15 Months' Old Baby Sister and Dragged Her Out of What Might Have Been a Watery Grave.

ROCKY MOUNT, April 8.—Exhibiting presence of mind seldom seen in children of this age, the four year old son of S. W. Langley, who lives about a mile from this city, saved his 15 months' old sister from a watery grave on Sunday afternoon.

The facts as learned from a resident of this section were that the little boy was playing in a branch near his home, and was in the center about waist deep. The little 15 months' old girl, who was standing on the bank of the branch watching her brother, evidently could not stand seeing her brother enjoy himself, and proceeded to wade in after her brother. In entering the branch she started from a point different than that of her brother and walked directly into a deep hole, and went immediately under. The little fellow hurried to the spot where she had disappeared and after a hard struggle succeeded in getting her to dry land, and otherwise than being choked and strangled by the branch water the little girl is doing well, while the little hero, although he is being praised on every side speaks of the incident as if it was a mere trifle.

'GAS' CASE IS REOPENED

COLLINS, A WITNESS IS ARRESTED

IN THE CASE OF THREE YOUTHS WHO MET THEIR DEATH BY GAS POISON IN RALEIGH

RALEIGH, April 8.—Saturday another chapter of the Benson asphyxiation case was started when C. B. Collins, of Benson, was arrested in that city and brought before Justice E. M. Bledsoe on the charge of perjury. He was brought here by a deputy sheriff and accompanied by Senator O. A. Barbour, his attorney. After a conference the date of the hearing was fixed for next Wednesday at 11 o'clock and Collins required to give a $100 bond, which was arranged and he was allowed to return to his home in Benson.

It will be recalled that this man Collins was a witness in the habeas corpus proceedings before Judge Walker, which resulted in the discharge of young Goss, of Durham. On the stand Collins testified regarding the pistol which was claimed by the state that belonged to Johnson, one of the dead Benson men, and which was proved by witnesses to belong to Goss. Collins stated in substance that he had seen the pistol before the Johnson's possession and that the pistol was offered to him by Johnson in exchange for one he possessed. He further explained that he could and did identify the pistol as the one Johnson offered him by a mark on one side of the ivory handle.

THE MISSISSIPPI VALLEY CRISIS IS NOW IMMINENT

Hundreds of Inhabitants Literally Marooned on House Tops Awaiting Rescue Parties as Waters Continue to Ascend. Situation Grows Serious.

Many People Suffering From the Exposure

The crisis in the Mississippi valley's tremendous flood is imminent. Anxiety last night centered in the situation south of Memphis. If the dikes of the Arkansas, Mississippi and north Louisiana hold for another 36 hours, it was believed the crisis would be passed.

The strife during that period will decide whether scenes of suffering and distress along the upper Mississippi will be reenacted in the fertile valleys of the delta and the Yazoo south of Memphis. State and government officials believe the dikes on the eastern bank will withstand the tremendous pressure that will be exerted by the floods. Nevertheless, they are apprehensive and fear breaks along the western dikes.

Stirring stories of the rescue of refugees in the flood-swept territory of upper Arkansas have reached Memphis. One thousand or more persons marooned in Wynoke, Ark., were brought to Memphis late yesterday. They were rescued through the initiative of a Memphis citizen's committee, which made the hazardous trip to Wynoke to investigate stories of suffering received from that point. In a church scores of the sufferers were found who had taken refuge there when the flood descended. As the deluge increased, the water climbing to the promontory on which stood the church, the refugees built scaffolding with pews and thus kept their heads above the flood's surface. On high ground and in the attics of houses near Wynoke hundreds of more victims were found. All were brought to Memphis this afternoon.

Refugees from the Modoc flood district south of Memphis who were taken to Helena and Memphis yesterday, say there has been some loss of life in that section. These reports are unverified and are denied by the mayor of Helena.

Unofficial estimates of the damage vary widely. Many contend the loss will amount to ten millions. Other persons equally conversant with the situation modify this estimate. Probably the heaviest specific loss must be estimated in the destruction of homes, the loss of live stock and the damage to manufacturing plants in the upper flood district. The number of fatalities has been small. Probably 30 fatalities would meet the conservative total.

There has, however, been tremendous suffering among the homeless. Of the 30,000 or more persons who have been driven forth by the raging tide hundreds have gone hungry and without water for many hours before succor reached them. Hundreds have been imprisoned on house tops, in trees and anchored on rafts for long periods.

Memphis proper tonight is rapidly assuming its normal condition. Many were ill from exposure and the lack of nutriment. Some had half waded and in many instances had been forced to swim to a place of safety. Children were found wrapped in bits of bed clothing. Adult persons had almost stripped themselves of clothing to give younger members of their families. Women huddled together, wearing coats provided by men.

A citizen's committee raised funds and purchased supplies and arranged for the pitching of tents at the Tri-State fair grounds late today. A temporary hospital was erected in the camp. Nurses were provided waiting when the arrivals began.

SOUTHERN COMMERCIAL CONGRESS TO NASHVILLE

NASHVILLE, Tenn., April 8.—Preliminary to the opening of the fourth annual session of the Southern Commercial Congress this morning, the organization was presented a gavel of hickory made from a tree planted by the "Old Hickory" of history at the Jackson home here, a gift from the Ladies' Hermitage Association. One silver plate recorded the gavel's history and the date. For the rest of the session it raps upon a block of engraved Tennessee marble, a gift of the Tennessee State geologist.

Owing to indisposition of Governor B. W. Hooper, E. B. Stahlman, publisher of the Nashville Banner, welcomed the congress. The response was delivered by Mr. Thomas H. Southgate of Norfolk, Va., second vice-president of the congress, who Claims Vermont for Taft.

MONTPELIER, Vt., April 9.—Republican leaders who have gathered here for tomorrow's state convention to select the delegates at large to the Chicago convention agree that Taft is likely to have "fair sailing," so far as the Green Mountain State is concerned. At the same time the Taft supporters express surprise at the unexpected activity on the part of the Roosevelt forces. Until ten days ago there appeared to be little possibility that the Roosevelt sentiment in Vermont would crystallize into anything like active opposition to the Taft movement. Since then, however, the Roosevelt leaders have been active at work, their efforts being chiefly concentrated in the Second district, which selects its two delegates today. The First district, which meets today in Burlington, and the State convention here tomorrow are generally conceded to Taft.

Roosevelt Invades Pennsylvania.

PITTSBURG, Pa., April 9.—Beginning with a speech in this city tonight, Col. In addition to delivering set speeches in Pittsburg, Philadelphia and Scranton he will make numerous car end addresses in the large cities and towns.

WOMAN ACCUSED HUSBAND

F. O. BEACH ARRESTED IN S. C.

UNDER ACCUSATION OF SLASHING WIFE'S THROAT MILLIONAIRE IS ARRESTED

AIKEN, S. C., April 8.—Excitement over the mysterious assault several weeks ago on Mrs. F. O. Beach, a prominent New York society woman wintering here, was increased late today when a warrant was issued for the arrest of her millionaire husband, charging him with slashing her throat.

At the time of the attack it was generally believed that Mrs. Beach's assailant was a negro. After a fruitless search by armed citizens for the supposed negro, rewards aggregating several thousand dollars were offered for the apprehension of the criminal. According to details made known subsequent to the attack, Mrs. Beach heard a noise in front of her residence here on the night she was wounded. She went into the yard to investigate and was handed a note by a negro, who seized her and slashed her throat with a sharp weapon inflicting an ugly wound. The alleged negro then disappeared.

DURHAM HOSE MILLS WILL TAKE STEPS

STOCKHOLDERS VOTE FOR IT

Part of Money Will Be Spent In Improving Plants

DURHAM, April 8.—At the meeting of the stockholders of the Durham Hosiery mills held in this city today, the resolutions increasing the capital stock of the company $7850,000, which was submitted by the board of directors, were adopted and the officials have made arrangements with northern banks to dispose of this extra stock at par. They guarantee 6 per cent on the investment and promise to buy the stock back at $1.10 in 1920.

This action on the part of the stockholders means that the improvements on several of the mills of the company will be carried forward at once. One of the most important features of the improvements will be the installation of machinery for making a 25 cent hose at Mill No. 1 in this city. This company has never made a hose that sold for over 15 cents before. The new brand will be a mercerized cotton hose.

The new machinery will be installed in the new part of the mill that has recently been added. Some of the money appropriated for the local plants will be put in additions to mill No. 2, the only negro hosiery mill of any size in the state.

Makes Haste With W. W.'s Suit Case

Woodrow Wilson is Deprived of Suit Case in the Windy City. Very Important Campaign Documents in It, Declares His Manager.

CHICAGO, Ill., April 7.—Thieves, apparently with political affiliations, broke into the rooms of Governor Wilson of New Jersey, at a downtown hotel today and stole a suitcase full of private correspondence and papers belonging to Governor Wilson.

The robbery occurred while Governor Wilson was at the factory of St. Mary's church luncheon with Rev. P. J. O'Callaghan and other priests of the Paulist order. The theft was discovered when Governor Wilson returned to his hotel.

Just before departing for Syracuse, N. Y., tonight Governor Wilson made the following statement regarding the robbery:

"The robbery will greatly inconvenience me. But whoever obtained the papers and correspondence will be greatly disappointed. While the correspondence is of a nature which necessarily should be considered private between the writers and myself, there is nothing but what may be published without doing me harm.

"A great deal of correspondence deals with the campaign I am waging, as do the other documents which were stolen."

Meeting of Texas Lumbermen.

FORT WORTH, Tex., April 9.—Nearly one thousand delegates and visitors are attending the annual convention of the Texas Lumbermen's Association, which met in this city today for a three day session.

A FIZZLE.

At the time of writing the members, or at least a great many of the members of the Carolina Club, are resting easy. To those that do not belong to this institution such solicitation may seem a little out of the way. Absurd even.

Unfortunately it is not so. Some good, active members of the club were around to the rooms last night. These few had in mind that the club was to be addressed by one of the local ministers and that some business was to be transacted. The thoughtful ones were, as said before, a few. Not enough to make a quorum almost and decidedly too few to inspire a man to give a heart to heart talk. Click, click went the balls on the pool and billiard tables, tick, tick, went the clock that the Carolina club has not got. Still the majority of the members forgot to come and the meeting was once more postponed.

That is why we said at the beginning that the Carolina Club is resting easy. We might almost put it "The Carolina Club is resting on the laurels recently acquired by the pulling through of the Proctor Hotel Deal." Yes, and they are even satisfied to stop there.

It must have been very discouraging to the present members of last night. Very embarrassing to the gentleman who so kindly acceded to addressing the Club, and it certainly did show the absentees in a very poor light all around.

For a time these monthly meetings had been regarded as "classics" and both young and old members attended most willingly. Is it that the Carolina club is on the decline leading to the toboggan? We sincerely hope not. We trust it is not so and we beg the non-present members at last night near-meeting not to desert the ones that were present when something else is scheduled to happen at the C. C.

An example of what neglect does for a street is shown in the condition of the sand-clay portion of Evans street from the paving near Five Points to Eight street. If this section had been dragged after the recent rainy spell, as were some others of the sand-clay streets, it would now be in good condition instead of having dried out in deep cuts and holes that make rough traveling.

This is My Birthday

Edward Dean Adams.

Edward Dean Adams, noted for his constructive and organizing work in finance and railroading, was born in Boston, April 9, 1846. After graduating from Norwich University in Northfield, Vt., he spent several years in travel and study in Europe. Upon his return home he engaged in the banking business in Boston. A few years later he removed to New York, where he became the American representative of the Deutsche Bank of Berlin, one of the largest financial institutions of Europe. One of Mr. Adams' earliest achievements in the realm of finances was the organization of the Northern Pacific Terminal Company. In 1886 he carried out the reorganization of the West Shore railroad. Other great enterprises that have been benefitted by his services as an organizer and constructive financier are the Northern Pacific railroad, which he reorganized in 1896; the Central Railroad of New Jersey, the Philadelphia and Reading railroad and the American Cotton Oil company. Mr. Adams also reorganized its allied companies, which were formed to build and operate the great works at Niagara Falls, for the utilization of the waterpower developed there.

Pointed Paragraphs

It's easier to berate than be president. And the louder a man talks the less it amounts to. How narrow minded most people are who argue with us. It's surprising how many grievances most worthless men have. A boy can earn his living if his father refuses to do it for him. Some people lie because they are too polite to tell the truth. You can sometimes do a friend a favor by refusing to give him advice. It doesn't take a very clever woman

A Southerner on the Ticket

Oscar W. Underwood, of Alabama, is unquestionably of presidential size. His leadership of the Democratic majority on the floor of the House has never been excelled for skill, force and definite direction. It is a respectful hearing from all over the country which Senator Bankhead of the same state will have in naming him for the Democratic nomination.

Has the time come when it is expedient for the Democracy to nominate a Southerner living in the South for the Presidency? It has not been thought so since the Civil War. It has not even been thought expedient to give the South second place on the ticket. The nearest approach to this was the naming of the Parker ticket in 1904 of Henry G. Davis of West Virginia. But that is essentially a Northern state. Carlisle of Kentucky, had a few votes for president in the convention of 1884 and 182; Blackburn of Kentucky and Tillman of South Carolina in 1896; Williams of Mississippi in 1904. But they were merely complimentary. Yet the war is over. A Southern Democrat and a former Confederate soldier is Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court by appointment of a Republican president. The day may not be far off when the last traces of the sectional line will be obliterated in American politics.—The New York World.

Timber and Tobacco.

The scarcity of timber in some parts of western Kentucky is causing farmers to utilize corn fields for burning tobacco beds. In Owensboro the grain elevators are finding a ready market for their output of corn cobs, farmers hauling them to the country for use in preparing for the coming tobacco crop.

Some of the farmers in Kentucky are entirely without timber and in others the remaining woodland is so small that the supply must needs be husbanded. A paper in northeastern Kentucky recently commented on the fact that the few remaining forests in that particular region were being cut down in order to make room for larger crops of tobacco. There has been much talk of conservation in recent years, but there has not been much practical effort in that direction here in Kentucky. The farmers are still transforming forests into tobacco patches and when the timber is gone they will buy cobs or other material wherewith to burn the beds for maturing the embryo crops of the future.

It would be wise for all farmers to save some of their woodland. Timber is constantly required on the farm for various purposes and if the farmer grows his own timber he can materially reduce the cost of building fences, enlarging houses, repairing barns and other necessary work which involves the use of lumber in greater or smaller quantities.

Kentucky once had so much expanse of forest that it was looked upon as inexhaustible, but it is now being realized in many localities that exhaustion is already in sight. Trees are slow of growth and a forest once obliterated is not soon replaced. Most generally there is no effort to replace it and the farmer whose acres are bare of woods is paying high prices for lumber and is buying cobs wherewith to burn tobacco beds.—Louisville Courier Journal.

To Try Sons for Killing Father.

BLOOMFIELD, Ind., April 9.—The case of Ray Stibbens and Slater Edward Stibbens, charged with the murder of their father, George W. Stibbens a Knox county farmer, was called for trial today before Judge Charles E. Henderson. The case was brought here on a charge of venue from Knox county. The trial, which will probably consume the rest of the week, will be conducted by James M. Hudson, prosecuting attorney for this county and the defense will be represented by Eph Inman of Indianapolis.

George W. Stibbens, who was one of the largest land owners of Knox county, was found dead in his barnyard shortly after dark on the night of November 17, 1911, with a bullet hole through his head. Certain circumstances led to the arrest of Edward and three days later his brother was arrested and both were charged with the murder of the father. It is alleged that the young men had been on unfriendly terms with their father for some time. Miss Nell Stibbens, their sister, has faithfully stood by them since their arrest.

SHE GAVE UP ALL HOPE
Physicians Failed To Help Mrs. Green, But She Finally Found Relief in Cardul.

Meets, Va.—Mrs. J. C. Green of this place, says: "I suffered with womanly troubles so that I could hardly sit up. Two of the best doctors in our town treated me, and I tried different medicines, until I gave up all hope of ever getting well.
 One day, I decided to try some Cardul. It did so much for me that I ordered some more, and it cured me! Today, I feel as well as I ever did in my life.
 The pains and the trouble are all gone. I feel like another person in every way. I wish every sufferer could know what Cardul will do for sick women."
 A few doses of Cardul at the right time, will save many a big doctor bill, by preventing serious sickness.
 It tones up the nervous system, and helps make pale cheeks fresh and rosy. Thousands of weak women have been restored to health and happiness by using Cardul. Suppose you try it. It may be just the medicine you need.
 N. B.—Write to: Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., for Special Instructions, and 64-page book, "Home Treatment for women," sent in plain wrapper, on request.

A Senatorial Poem.

What a queer thing is this senatorial chat,
Who ever dreamed of a fight like that?
Who ever thought that divided we'd be,
As to who should succeed "Old Mary Ann B."

Do you remember in ninety-eight,
When we started in to have the state;
When negro rule was having full sway,
And everything good had been driven away?

Who was it then, when we needed a man,
To lead us out from under this ban,
That went to the wheel of the "old ship" of state,
And headed her straight for the golden gate?

Who's mighty brain and powerful hand,
Brought the "old ship" safe to land?
Brought her out of a sea of despair,
And placed her in harbor fair?

Where she'll stay for the ages to come,
An ever reminder of work well done;
And who you say is the leader brave,
That did our good "Old North State" save?

Why F. M. Simmons, our chairman great,
Who Pops and Republicans fear and hate,
Now isn't it right and isn't it fair,
That we give him a senator's chair?

There is no man more able than he,
To defend the rights of our dear N. C.

And be it early or be it late,
He'll e'er stand firm for the "Old North State".

Another Chance For Taft

The Democratic wool bill of last year proposed a reduction of 50 per cent. in the rate of wool, and it passed the House by a vote of 221 to 100. The same bill has again passed the House, this time by a vote of 189 to 92. When he vetoed the bill last year

President Taft gave as his reason the fact that the tariff board had not reported. Now, in the light of the tariff board's report, the Republicans of the House have submitted a bill which calls for a reduction of 40 per cent. in Schedule K, or just two per cent less than the bill which the president vetoed.

The tariff board, therefore, vindicates the Democratic bill, if such vindication was necessary, which is doubted. The Democrats knew, long before the tariff board was created, that the wool rates were too high, and President Taft knew it also, for in his speech at Winona, Minn. he characterized the Payne-Aldrich wool tariff rates as "indefensible."

As things now stand, neither the president, nor the Republican party as a whole, nor the high protectionists will have any excuse blocking the present bill. If any of them do stand in its way, they will convict themselves of deliberately trying to grant a special privilege, namely, the privilege of robbing the consumer, to the wool trust magnates.
