SIMMONS' PLANS ARE ADOPTED

River and Harbor Bill With $800,000 Appropriation is Passed by House

$300,000 ARE AVAILABLE

WASHINGTON, April 13.—The senate committee on commerce today adopted three amendments offered by Senator Simmons adding in the aggregate $800,000 for North Carolina waterway to the river and harbor bill, as it passed the house. Three hundred thousand dollars of the amount is appropriated for beginning the work on the harbor of refuge at Cape Lookout, the total cost of the project thus adopted will be $3,500,000; $300,000 if this amount is for the new 26 foot project for the Cape Fear river at and below Wilmington; the other $200,000 is for the inland waterway from Norfolk to Beaufort. The river and harbor bill, as it passed the house, carried for North Carolina waterways $655,000, so that the $800,000 added by Senator Simmons today will give North Carolina $1,455,000. In addition to these items Senator Simmons expects to add a number of surveys for other new projects as well as other additional appropriations.

Rogers Manages Simmons' Campaign.
Senator Simmons announced today that Hon. Samuel L. Rogers of Macon county, has been selected as his campaign manager and will assume active charge of his campaign on May 1. In the meantime, Mr. Watts will be in charge of his state headquarters at Raleigh.

Colonel Roosevelt To Greensboro

In Letter Received in Greensboro a Promise is Made That Roosevelt Will Address the People of North Carolina Within 10 Days.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 13.—Later returns from Pennsylvania show a landslide for Roosevelt. Taft people admit that Roosevelt carried the state. Out of 32 congressional districts in the state, returns now indicate that Roosevelt has carried 20, certain. This ends beyond question the Taft boom. Am glad to say that within the next ten days I hope to have Colonel Roosevelt address the people of North Carolina at Greensboro. I hope all the Republicans in the state will be present to hear him. (Signed) JOSEPH M. DIXON.

Lively Session Expected.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 15.—Mere man was an insignificant creature in Memorial Continental Hall this afternoon, when the twenty-first Continental Congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution was formally opened with an attendance of nearly 1,000 women, representing all sections of the country. This is election year with the Daughters. The old struggle between the administration party, headed by Mrs. Matthew T. Scott, president general and the insurgents, headed by Mrs. William Cummings Story, of New York, will again break into life, it is said, and an exciting convention is expected. The proceedings of the convention will occupy the entire week. Several notable features of entertainment have been arranged to intersperse the business sessions. The president and Mrs. Taft will receive the delegates at the White House Thursday afternoon.

Nash County Farmer Meets Tragic Death.
ROCKY MOUNT.—While blowing up stumps with dynamite yesterday afternoon near Nashville in some manner a portion of the dynamite was accidentally exploded, the result being that Woodrow Panish was literally blown to pieces, while Charles Lucas was seriously hurt.

Ed Slaughter Dies.
ASHEVILLE.—News has reached Asheville that Ed Slaughter, who was wounded at Andrews Wednesday in a pistol duel with John Porter, died yesterday about 1 o'clock, a wound which he received in the chest proving fatal. Porter who was shot in both hands is said not to be in danger.

Anson County Republicans Split.
WADESBORO.—The regular Republican convention met here today and proceeded to organize by electing John L. Matheson permanent chairman. Delegates were elected to the state, congressional and senatorial conventions. A new executive committee was elected with Matheson as chairman.

Surry the Same.
MT. AIRY.—In a Roosevelt landslide Surry county today gave 25 votes to the Roosevelt cause. The Taft followers got only six of the delegates.

Lincoln Died 47 Years Ago.
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 15.—A large American flag was flying today from the window of the house in which Abraham Lincoln died to remind passers by that this was the forty-seventh anniversary of the martyred president's death. The house is now maintained as an historical museum. It contains the Oldroyd collections of Lincoln relics, notable among them the death mask of Lincoln.

ROW AVERTED IN HOUSE

MEN EXHIBIT BITTER FEELINGS

PERSONAL ENCOUNTER BETWEEN GRAHAM AND MANN IS BARELY AVERTED IN HOUSE

WASHINGTON, April 13.—The lie was passed upon the floor of the House today; a very bitter debate was precipitated and some though a personal encounter was averted between Minority Leader Mann and Representative Graham of Illinois, chairman of the interior department expenditures committee, over the case of Mrs. Helen Pierce Gray, said to be a lobbyist on Indian affairs.

Mr. Mann finally demanded that Mrs. Gray's connection if any, with the committee be investigated. Yesterday on the floor, Mr. Mann had declared that Mr. Gray, upon the advice of Mr. Graham, had refused to return to an Indian client a protested fee. Today when Mr. Graham discovered Mr. Mann's remarks in The Record, the storm broke. Mr. Mann was not in the chamber when Mr. Graham began a statement in which he branded Mr. Mann's declaration as untrue, in bitter terms.

Representative Madden of Illinois sought vainly to halt Mr. Graham's remarks because of Mr. Mann's absence. In the height of the protest, Mr. Mann entered. He read a number of letters and telegrams bearing on the connection of Mrs. Gray with the committee.

Most of the master painters in Boston have granted the increase in pay demanded by their employes, and only a small number of men are out on a strike. The new rate provides for 55 cents an hour to painters and 60 cents an hour to house decorators.

"Beats 'em to a Frazzle" In State of Pennsylvania

Colonel Roosevelt Elated Over Crowding Victory in Keystone State. Woodrow Wilson is Also an Easy Victor.

Fifty-Six Delegates For the Ex-President

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., April 14.—The primary election in Pennsylvania resulted in a landslide for Colonel Roosevelt. As the returns continue to come in the victory for Roosevelt adherents becomes complete. Of the 64 delegates elected in the 32 districts fully 50 are pledged to vote for Roosevelt. Added to this is the probability that the Republican state convention will choose 12 delegates at large to the national convention, will be controlled by the anti-Taft element, insuring at least 62 delegates for Roosevelt from his state.

The Republican organization leaders are stunned by the overwhelming defeat of the Taft candidates and have nothing to say regarding he result. United States senator Penrose, the recognized leader of the Republican organization and the leading Taft boomer in this state, left the city early in the afternoon and boarded his yacht for Atlantic City, N. J., where he is safe from interviews. Tonight the Roosevelt campaign managers are celebrating their victory to the fullest extent. They are claiming more than the 62 delegates he returns so far give them. With the exception of one or two districts in the state Woodrow Wilson will have a solid delegation from Pennsylvania to the Democratic national convention. Reuben O. Moon, who has been a leader on the Republican side in Congress for several sessions, was decisively defeated for renomination. His successful opponent is George W. Edmunds, Republican-Keystone candidate. Congressman Michael Donohoe, Democrat, accomplished the remarkable feat of winning the Republican as well as the Democratic and Keystone nomination in the Fifth Philadelphia District. This district is largely peopled by working men. Returns received up to 2 o'clock indicate that the Roosevelt delegates in Allegheny county, including Pittsburgh, to the Chicago convention had been elected with the possible exception of one, State Highway Commissioner Brigelow, leading his opponent. John Dalzell appears to have been renominated for Congress in the Thirtieth district by a small margin, but the renomination of Dr. A. J. Barchfield in the Thirty-second district is in doubt.

REV. C. M. ROCK RAPS EXISTING CONDITIONS

Those that were present at last night's services at the Baptist church are to be congratulated for never before in the history of Rev. C. M. Rock's pastorate in this town did he make as sincere a heart to heart talk to the congregation as he did last night. In words that came from the bottom of his heart and the deep love he has for the people of Greenville and their well living as Christian people, the pastor denounced and condemned the example the older people of the community are furnishing the growing generation. He said there was no wonder our boys played cards, dice, smoked and swore, when they can't help seeing the elder people do it. Card parties, where prizes are put up to excite rivalry and interest, were also flayed by the pastor. Rev. Rock declared that he had long debated with himself before speaking as he did, but he fully realized that if he were to withhold from denouncing that which he did, he would not have served his people as God commands him to and as the people would have him serve them. The Baptist pastor is to be commended for his outspokenness. Nobody can be as deceitful to himself as to doubt Rev. Rock's sincerity. Many people present last night remained after the services and warmly congratulated the pastor for his talk.

Mecklenburg Adopts a No Agreement yet in Wet Platform Holly Trial

Republicans Hold Convention Easily Ruled by Roosevelt Supporters. Effort to get a Taft Delegation fell. Adopt Wet Platform.

CHARLOTTE, April 13.—The Republicans of Mecklenburg held their county convention today. While the friends of Colonel Roosevelt had an easy control, there was a division, Roosevelt receiving 8 3-5 and Taft 5 2-2. Chairman Morehead and Thomas Settle have been here at work a couple of days on the proposition and brought about the adoption of a local option, or liquor, paragraph in the resolutions, this vote being 27 to 15. The effort, however, to get a Taft delegation failed, although the president has been favored with very active Democratic support in Mecklenburg.

Republican Primary.
The township Republicans held their primary in the court house on Saturday and elected the following delegates and alternates to the county convention next Saturday. Delegates: W. J. Fleming, W. S. Briley, Joseph Fleming, Henry Harris, Harry Skinner, R. C. Flanagan, Henry T. King, and J. H. Kittrell. Alternates: W. H. Harrington, T. J. Stancill, J. A. Lang, B. F. Jolly, C. L. Thigpen, J. W. Turnage, Ellihu Briley, M. R. Turnage.

MOREHEAD HAS SCHEME

INSTRUCT MINORITY FOR TAFT ACCORDING TO MOREHEAD MINORITY HAS A RIGHT TO INSTRUCT 8 DELEGATES

CHARLOTTE, April 13.—Chairman John M. Morehead, of the North Carolina Republican executive committee, has ruled that under the plan of organization the minority element will have the right to send eight delegates to the national convention instructed for President Taft and 16 for Theodore Roosevelt, the state's total representation being 24 delegates. The ruling is made from an interpretation of the spirit rather than the letter of the plan of organization which provides that the minority has the right to representation in the state convention, but not in the national convention. Until two years ago the minority had no voice beyond the county and district convention, but the plan of organization was so amended then that minority element now has the right to send delegates to the state convention, the constitution not providing in express terms, however, that its voice should extend to the national councils of the party. Chairman Morehead rules that the spirit of the plan means that the minority has the right to have its proportionate representation in the national convention. If he is sustained in this decision, President Taft will get eight votes of the total strength of the state.

AGREEMENT STILL OUT OF REACH

Subcommittee Handling Anthracite Strike Has Adjourned Till Tuesday

STILL HOPE TO SETTLE IT

PHILADELPHIA Pa., April 13.—Having been unable thus far to reach a final agreement on the matters at issue between the anthracite mine workers and the coal operators, the sub-committee which is trying to bring about an amicable settlement, adjourned to meet in New York on Tuesday. The failure to agree after three days' discussion does not mean that a hitch has occurred, but is due to the complicated conditions encountered in trying to reach a basis of settlement for all the hard coal fields. The method of mining coal and paying the mine workers differs in each of the three principal anthracite fields. There was a report circulated today that a tentative agreement had been reached, but it was denied in a statement issued by the committee, when the committee adjourned it was announced that progress was being made and that the members were hopeful of a settlement.

ROCKY MOUNT, April 13.—When Chief of Police Daniels, this morning attempted to place under arrest a negro named Fred Douglas who was at work in the Battleboro Oil Mill at Battleboro the negro resisted and retreating a few steps drew a revolver and opened fire upon the officer. The officer as quickly as possible returned the fire and using his entire round of ammunition he made four of the six shots have telling effects and he had felled the negro before it was possible for him to fire but twice. The negro was hit three times in the head, once about the mouth, the other two entering his skull while the fourth shot hit his hand.

Sale of Bega's Works.

BERLIN, April 15.—Art dealers and collectors from all Europe flocked to the new establishment of the Hellborn Brothers in the Zimmerstrasse today for the opening of the auction sale of the entire collection of the works left by the late Prof. Reinhold Begas, the famous German sculptor and friend of the Kaiser. The collection that will go under the hammer includes twenty-five completed works by Begas in marble and bronze and 100 sketches and plaster models. The completed works embrace several of Begas's best female figures, including his "Venus," as well as his celebrated "Adam and Eve" and "Cain and Abel" groups.

Connecticut Republicans.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 15.—Advance guard of delegates arrived in New Haven today to attend the Republican States convention which will elect the delegates at large to the national convention which will meet here tomorrow and will remain in session two days. The Taft supporters claim that the president will have a walk over in the convention. The Roosevelt men are making no definite claims, but it is known with National Committeeman Charles F. Brooker and several other prominent leaders manifesting only a lukewarm support of the president, the Roosevelt followers entertain a hope that something may develop in the convention that will at least bring about an un instructed delegation.

THE "MONEY TRUST".

We have no central bank in the United States, but we have a greater centralization of banking power than have European countries where the central bank system is highly developed. The popular fear of the growth of a "money trust" is the result of a centralization of banking power in the large cities, and especially in New York, in very recent years, which is bound to become greater and greater under our present banking practices.

The growth of large city-banks and the building up of banking "communities of interest" has been more pronounced since the panic of 1907. The great banks of New York in the fall of that year, despite their command over the liquid funds of the country, were unable to prevent a money panic in a time of peace and prosperity.

It was this painful realization of the defenselessness of our banks, when under fire, that accelerated the movement toward powerful banking conditions. The several groups of banks controlling institutions in various parts of the country, through stock ownership, or interlocking directorates, have been greatly strengthened in the past four years—not because of any design to form a "money trust," but to the end that the banks could protect themselves and their correspondents in the future.

This centralization of banking power will continue unless we revise our banking laws. Two remedies are at hand: we can establish a central bank on the lines of the great institutions of Europe, or we can provide a system of democratic co-operation. A central bank is politically impossible despite its recognized merits. Banking co-operation is the way now open to us.

The National Reserve Association, as proposed, would be a co-operative union of the banks of the country—big and little—to give to all its members, as a matter of right, the assistance the small banks now get from the big banks as a matter of favor. To check banking centralization, we must establish a community of interest among all the banks of the country, instead of a community of interest, as it now exists, between a few powerful institutions.

MAKING OUR MONEY WORK.

Our stock of money, per capita, is twice as large as that of England, and yet England is able to finance the world, while we have trouble in financing ourselves. Our stock of money, per capita, is three times as large as that of Germany (and our gold stock six times as large), and yet Germany recently weathered a financial storm that would have caused a panic in this country.

A country must have a stock of money as a medium of exchange, but every ounce of the precious metal added to its money stock increases the cost of exchanging goods. Millions of days of human labor are represented in the stock of gold lying in the Treasury. It is as wasteful to use two dollars to do the work that one could do, as it is to use two locomotives to haul the train that one could haul as well.

No more sense is there in feeling pride in a large per capita circulation than in a large per capita taxation. A country which by a blundering monetary policy, keeps an unnecessarily large sum of wealth at work performing exchanges—when, under more scientific management, a much less sum would do the work as well—is taxing itself foolishly.

England can finance the world with her comparatively small stock of money because she has a more scientific banking system than the United States. She makes every ounce of gold work.

MR. AYCOCK'S SPEECH.

A fitting crown to the late Aycock's public career is his posthumous speech read at the Aycock memorial night. It was the speech he had prepared for the opening of his campaign, which was to have taken place last Friday night. This speech in noble words the sentiment of the great man. No attacks, no harsh words, no evil thoughts for those that were to have been his enemies in the political battlefield. Nothing cut a clean cut gem of oratory in which politics could not inject the bitterness which could never find a place in Aycock's heart.

Every North Carolinian who has not read this masterful speech should make haste and make his acquaintance with this, the very last work of one of the Old North State's greatest sons.

The speech of Col. J. Bryan Grimes, secretary of state, here Saturday was on the invitation of the Farmers Union and as the union is a secret order, only the members of the organization had the privilege of hearing him. There were many others here who desired to hear him, but under the circumstances could not do so. He will come back at some period during the campaign and give all an opportunity to hear him.

Simmons Reputation as Protectionist.

In his Greensboro speech Governor Kitchin gave a few of the many press comments showing that Senator Simmons has gained a national reputation as a protectionist. He quoted the American Lumberman, the trade journal for the lumber interest; Harper's Weekly; the Handbook of the Protective Tariff League which the republican committee helped circulate. The Daily News of Dallas Texas, and Colliers' Weekly. In his recent interview Senator Simmons grows indignant at the comment in Colliers' Weekly, but is strangely silent as to the other evidence.

After all he says the fact remains, whether justly or unjustly, that he has

Getting Ready For Corn Show

One of the most striking exhibits at the last National Corn Exposition, held in Columbia, Ohio, was that of North Carolina. It showed the entire process of textile manufacturing, and was a relation to the visitors from other sections, unfamiliar with the textile industry. The exhibit was prepared under the auspices of the North Carolina Agricultural College, and the gentlemen responsible chiefly for the success of this exhibit was Mr. I. O. Schaub, who has just been appointed vice-president of the National Corn Exhibition for North Carolina. Mr. Schaub will again manage the North Carolina exhibit for the fifth annual corn exposition, which is to be held in Columbia, South Carolina, next January, and he will see the exhibition management that he has on foot plans that will ensure a most attractive representation of North Carolina.

Mr. Schaub, whose address is West Raleigh, N. C., where he is in charge of the boy's corn club work and connected with the agricultural college, is keenly alive to the benefits of the corn exposition, which is much more than its name would imply, and it can be counted as certain that North Carolina will be well represented, at the exposition, with both educational exhibits from the experiment station and competitive sample from the farmers of the state.—Raleigh Times

The Case Against Beach

One may readily sympathize with the anxiety of the people of Aiken that the mystery of the attack on Mrs. Fredrick O. Beach some months ago be cleared up. That a woman of wealth and cultivation spending the winter in Aiken was brutally and muderously attacked and no adequate explanation of the act offered seemed a reflection on the safety of the city as a place of residence and it is of peculiar concern to a popular and famous winter resort that its reputation as an orderly community do not suffer. The claim of the Beaches that Mrs. Beach was called to the front gate and set with a by an unknown negro was not once to be accepted by the public unless it were accompanied by corroborative circumstances. The southern negroes have a great deal to answer for doubtless but they do not slash women with knives without some motive or other and no motive for an attack on Mrs. Beach with a knife by a negro at her front gate has been suggested that we have heard of.

The Beaches and their friends have indulged in loose and indiscreet expressions. C. Oliver Iselin's remark that he would gladly join in the lynching of persons circulating rumors about the complicity of Beach in the affair was about as egregious an example of foolish talk as one may hear on a summer's day or any other day. Mr. Iselin needs a guardian.

We hope that the innocence of Beach will be established but, even more, we hope that the attack on Mrs. Beach will be explained. There is every reason to believe that the assumed husband will have no difficulty in obtaining a fair and impartial in South Carolina and public opinion will be largely influenced by the manner in which he treats the accusation. If he shall shun arrest or oppose extradition, the idea will spread that the evidence in the hands of the prosecution is more substantial than that so far divulged.—Columbia State.

Florida Voters Not To Be Gulled

Unaware that Oscar Underwood is a favorite of Big Business, it is possible that many other voters in Florida are finding themselves wondering. "Why not an Alabamian for president of the United States?"—It would indeed be good to see a southern gentleman the head of the nation and Oscar Underwood is a southerner by choice, having come to Alabama from the north to take advantage of the commercial opportunities here and which it seems he has found in good numbers.

But Oscar Underwood has no earthly chance of securing the nomination. The flood of literature and the speech of good money that is being used just now in Florida is merely a frenzied attempt on the part of the anti-Wilsonsites to carry the state against the New Jersey governor. Big Business is afraid of Woodrow Wilson. He is too much of a Democrat to serve its interest.

However, there is no occasion for uneasiness. The Florida voter is not so extremely gullible—nor so perfectly patient that he will endure being bossed by the money interest to the detriment of his happiness. The state will send its little proportion of the delegates to the convention at Baltimore, pledged to vote for a progressive Democrat, one who stands for the thing that means better times for the everyday man.

Mr. Underwood is not the man of the hour even if he had a shadow of a chance for a nomination. The hope of Democratic success this year lies in heading the ticket with a man who does not represent Wall street.—Miami (Fla.) Metropolis.

One kidney remedy never fails. Greenville people rely upon it. That remedy is Doan's Kidney Pills. Greenville testimony proves it always reliable.

Mrs. Joseph Fornes 1116 S. Washington St., Greenville, N. C., says: "I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills with the most satisfactory results and I know that they are a good kidney medicine. About a year ago I was troubled my symptoms of kidney complaint. I suffered from dull, nagging backache and I also had headaches and pains through my kidneys. Dizzy spells annoyed me and I noticed that kidney secretions were unnatural. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from the John L. Wooten Drug Co., brought me prompt relief and a short time ago I again used them, they acted as effectively as before. I know that this preparation lives up to the claims made for it."

Ye Modern Maid

I met on the street of your up-to-date girls,
With skirts a la mode and peroxidized curl;
"And where are you going, my pretty maid?"
"To the moving-pictures, sir," she said.
"Why aren't you home as your good mother wishes,
Darning and cooking or washing the dishes;
Practicing music or sweeping the house,
Preparing yourself for a helpful spouse?"
And said: "Beg your pardon, but are you Rip Van Winkle?
You must have been having a twenty year's snooze
To hold such provincial, puritanical views:
For the modern maids are not secretly itching;
To serve a life's sentence in any one's kitchen;
Besides recent inventions have so lightened the load
That the old thorny way now's a primrose road.
Do you think I'd wash dishes? Why, haven't you seen
That these are now cleaned with a patent machine?
And as to the sweeping, I am more than surprised,
For! brooms have been banished we're vacuumized.
And darning the stockings? Say, you are way behind,
Wor we wear nothing but the 'hole proof' kind,
And the practice of music is in the discard,
For we now tread it out with our feet by the yard.
So you see, my dear sir, you're decidedly slow"
And off she high-heeled to the vaudeville show.

Moral:

Now I'll add my reflection to this brief interview,
That the old fashion girl "puts it over" the new,
And because these old duties are now obsolete,
Is one of the reasons your girl's on the street.
And I also will add (tho' it may not be news)
That Satin's still friendly with "nothing-to-dos."

LOCAL BRIEFS

Circus day.
It is the middle of April.
A criminal term of court will begin next Monday.
Greenville Lodge No. 284 A. F. and A. M. meets tonight.
There may be some more frost this month, but we hope not.
End of the Century Club will meet with Mrs. F. C. Harding Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.
Orphan Concert.
The singing class of the Oxford Orphan Assylum will give a concert here Wednesday night, 17th, in the auditorium of the Training school.
Scouts 5; Bethel 2.
We neglected to say in Saturday's issue that the Scouts were victorious in the ball game here with Bethel Friday. As the score indicates, the game was well played. Only seven innings were played, the game being called to allow the Bethel team to catch the 5:17 train.
Useful Farm Implement.
On Saturday Mr. J. A. Gardner had an exhibition here a working model of a combined cotton seed crusher and distributor and fertilizer distributor which he invented and has patented. Many farmers examined it and pronounced it a most useful and time saving farm implement. Mr. Gardner says he will have as many of them as possible manufactured this year and be ready to put them on the market next season. We are glad to see Pitt countians rank as inventors and hope Mr. Gardner will reap a fortune.

Patrons of the Gaiety theatre were treated to a well selected program Friday night, including Forbes' Orchestra of Washington. Six reels of pictures were run, each being interspersed by a selection by the band. The house was packed to overflowing, many being unable to secure seats.

How Others Are Helping.

The Reflector man's friends put in much good work for him last week in the News and Observer contest and carried his reserve vote up to big figures. His heart bounds with gratitude for this and he thanks them every one. An immense vote for the week was sent up from home and letters and telephone messages brought news of gratifying numbers from other points. We do not want to call names yet, but just one of the newspaper brethren who is helping us sent in nearly 200,000 votes from his town. That was certainly going some and he was kind enough to say in his letter "I tell you your hat is in the ring and you are preparing to have it in the auto. If you don't you 'ought to.'" If the other brethren come up like that we are going to win in a walk, and then ride instead of walk.
"This week is another opportune time for good work, as five new subscriptions sent in before Saturday night will get a bonus of 150,000 votes in addition to the regular vote. Those who are waiting to give us their subscriptions will not find a better time to make them count big than this week. Come along and help us win the automobile.

Harry Skidders Speech at Aycocks Memorial

I appreciate the privilege of participating in this exercise, held in memory of North Carolina's most distinguished citizen, orator, statesman and patriot, Charles Brantley Aycock, who but a few days ago "away down in Alabama" fell in brave and effective action in the great cause of universal education, which was so dear to his heart and for which he had given so much labor and made so many sacrifices.

It almost appears to me that he was translated to the shores of Eternity amidst a blaze of glory surrounded by such educational environment and enthusiasm that one might be persuaded to believe that in the inscrutable wisdom of providence, it must have been so appointed, that he might on this occasion become a sacrifice on the altar of the cause that was dear to his heart, that the cause itself might the more signally be carved and ingrained into the very hearts, souls and marrow of our Southern people, so that those of us who are left on the shore of time, and those who are to come after us shall accept this sacrifice as an inspiration to make his cause our cause in loving remembrance of our friend Charles Aycock; a real inspiration to carry on his great work in triumph until the last words that fell from our orator's lips shall be an established truth not only in North Carolina, but be the shining mark of distinction of all our land.

You have doubtless observed, that in referring to the deceased friend, I have avoided the word death. The word death and Charles B. Aycock are incongruous to me, they do not chime or rhyme or ring together. A man possessing the heart, temperament, sacrificial spirit and the desire to help and serve the poor weak and helpless with all his varied accomplishments, talents, gigantic powers and genius can never die. He will always be living to his dear ones and to the people of North Carolina, he loved so well, and the cause for which he made so many sacrifices.

In regard to his future I feel that there is no one within the sound of my voice who believes in the fundamental essentials of the Christian religion that is not assured that he has been already assigned to a commanding post on the Shore of Eternity commensurate with the services and sacrifices he made in the Master's cause on the Shore of Time.

My remarks on this occasion would prove incomplete and very deficient if I failed to give my impressions of Aycock's varied powers, and to give the reason for his hold on the people and affection of the people for him.

There are many in this audience who knew, loved and followed our Vance, and Ransom, and in my opinion, no two Carolinians ever did greater service in times of war and in times of peace to the state and our Southland and in this day were loved by the people of North Carolina. Ye, when the Father of Ages clipped the golden strands separating time from eternity for them, there was no such universal mourning and no such outpouring of the love and affection and sympathy as has been offered to Aycock.

And with a suitable monument in the Capitol Square, as I understand this service will organize for that purpose and I have no doubt it will be successful. Aycock will go down in history as the most unique figure in North Carolina with the children of the present day and the unborn generation singing praises to his name, for the light they have received.

But I must abate for the moment my enthusiasm for Aycock's cause, and within my brief limit of time, give my individual opinion of his power not only in the cause of education but as private citizen, statesman and as a lawyer.

Aycock's power was oratory and character, humaneness blended with a magnanimous, sacrificed spirit. His oratory was not earned as was Demosthenes' by arduous labor, it was struck as a spark by the magic mastery of genius and sprung like Pallas full armed from the cleft brain of Jove. Indeed, Aycock was the arch type of eloquence. He was North Carolina's greatest Colossus in the art of moving men's minds by speech and held without a rival in his day the high place of presiding divinity in that greatest of arts, the art of sweeping the chords of human passion by the witchery of words and compelling the reason of men by the force of logic and persuasion of eloquence.

His power of reasoning and logical faculty was as remarkable as his powers of oratory. He seemed to possess the faculty of reaching conclusions by the intuitive grasp of genius. Oratory alone never made a great man. Mirabeau was a great orator, but by no means a great man. Aycock was both a great orator and a great man measured by the highest standard.

True greatness is to possess various excellences so adjusted and blended together that it becomes beautiful in its symmetry and harmonious in its operation. True greatness is the happy union of moral and intellectual superiority, in which each is necessary to constitute the grand pyramid of glory.

Aycock possessed this union and thereby becomes the object of our admiration and wonder and with these characteristics he has written his name where "fame's proud temple shines afar." Be assured the solid granite pyramid of Aycock's glory, with or without shaft, is safe from age to age, imperishable and will be seen afar off looking high up from the vast desert a mark, a sign, a wonder to guide the wayfarer in the pilgrimage of life and an inspiration for the generation to come.

JEFFERSON MEMORIAL DAY

Paragraph 1. The Jackson Memorial Association, of Richmond, Virginia, has asked that next Memorial Day, the Tenth of May, be set apart in the schools of the south as 'Jackson Statue Monument Day' and that every child in these schools be asked to contribute ten cents for the erection of an appropriate equestrian statue of the immortal Stonewall Jackson at Richmond. In furtherance of this most laudable undertaking North Carolinians are requested to do their part as fully as our North Carolina soldier did their part in winning those battles that immortalized Jackson's name and fame. Every school child in this state, every Daughter of the Confederacy, every Confederate Veteran and every other patriotic citizen of North Carolina is hereby urged to contribute the small sum of ten cents for the purpose of thus honoring the memory of one whose name and fame will ever be fondly cherished by all who admire and revere the military genius and matchless exploits of Stonewall Jackson.

Paragraph 2. While there are magnificent statues and monuments erected at Richmond to Davis, Lee Stuart and other Confederate heroes, yet the only memorial there of Jackson is a bronze bust in the capitol square and that was erected by his own people, for whom he sacrificed his life. Let this no longer be said, but let North Carolinians, young and old, gladly respond to the appeal of the Jackson Memorial Association and aid in this good work.

Bryan in Harmon's State.
COLUMBUS, O., April 15.—William J. Bryan arrived in Columbus today from New York to begin a series of political speeches which the opponents of Harmon believe will do anything but advance the Ohio governor's candidacy for the Democratic presidency. Mr. Bryan, whose bitter opposition to Governor Harmon's presidential aspirations is well known, will be heard in Columbus and in several other Ohio cities during the week. The Harmon managers, speaking in reference to the Bryan program, declared today they had no fear whatever that anything he Nebraska leader could say in his speeches would injure the governor in the least.

Did What She Hoped
It is a real pleasure to find that something you have bought is just as good as you hoped, it would be, and Mrs. Charles Proper of West Scranton, Pa., writes a letter to tell others her experience. She says:

"I was all run down and very weak, and had been so for three years. I am sure that Vilon has helped me very much, for four bottles of it have brought back my strength, which is just what I was told it would do."

When we recommend Vilon for all weak and run-down people, and those who have stubborn coughs, lack of appetite, sleeplessness and nervous conditions, we do so because we are absolutely convinced that it is just what they need. Then if Vilon does not satisfy them perfectly we give back the money. You ought to try Vilon if you wish to be strong and well for you take no risk at all.—For Sale at Moye's Pharmacy.

Hoe Library Sale Resumed.

NEW YORK, April 15.—Once more book experts from all parts of the world have gathered in New York city to attend the sale of rare volumes from the library of the late Robert Hoe. This afternoon the auctioneers began the sale of the third section of the immense collection, which was divided into four parts for the purpose of the sale. The disposal of the first part of the library yielded the enormous sum of $997,363. The sale of the second section brought $471,619 in January of this year. The third part is numerically equal to each of the other parts, but is of somewhat smaller value. It includes, however, many ornately illuminated books, several missals of unusual beauty and thirty-eight manuscripts, mostly dating from the fifteenth century.

NEWS FORECAST FOR THE PRESENT WEEK

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 13.—Important fixtures on the political calendar of the week will include the following:

Monday—Republican territorial convention of Hawaii, at Honolulu, to select delegates to the national convention.

Tuesday—Republican state convention of Connecticut, at New Haven, to select delegates to the national convention. Republican state convention of Delaware, at Dover, to select delegates to the national convention.

Wednesday—District convention of Republicans in Connecticut to select delegates to the national convention. Democratic state convention of Alabama, at Montgomery, to select delegates to the national convention.

Friday—Direct primaries of all parties in Nebraska to select delegates to the national conventions and express preference for United States senator. State conventions of all parties in Illinois to select the delegates at large to the national conventions.

Nearly all of the presidential aspirants will be in the field during the week. Col. Roosevelt is expected to confine his activities to the eastern states. Woodrow Wilson will speak in Georgia, and Florida, Governor Harmon in the middle west and Senator LaFollette in the far west. William J. Bryan will add to the party the gayety of the situation by speaking against Harmon in the latter's home state.

The unveiling of the statue erected in the national capital in memory of John Paul Jones, the revolutionary naval hero, is fixed for Wednesday and will be made an occasion for impressive military and civic exercises in which President Taft and other notables will take part.

The consecration of Father Austin Dowling as Roman Catholic bishop of Des Moines will take place Thursday in the cathedral in Providence, R. I., with Bishop Harkins officiating as the consecrating prelate.

A central eclipse of the sun is scheduled to take place early Wednesday morning, visible as a partial eclipse in the eastern portion of the United States and Canada.

The conventions of the week will include the Episcopal church Congress in St. Louis, the Conservation Congress of the Men and Religion Forward Movement in New York city, the national convention of the Daughters of the American Revolution in Washington and the International Conference on the Negro at Tuskegee, Ala.
