Only 705 Persons Accounted For in the Titanic Disaster

Fear Expressed That Death List May Increase When Carpathia Reaches New York. Get Into Communication With Rescuing Steamer.

CARPATHIA DUE IN NEW YORK TONIGHT

Prominent Men Who Boarded the Ill Fated Vessel in Liverpool Still Missing. Titanic Did Not Carry Sufficient Number of Lifeboats.

NEW YORK, April 17.—The roll of the saved from the Titanic disaster to night seems complete.

Practically every attending circumstance in the transmission of news from the Carpathia goes to show that only 328 of the 610 cabin passengers of the Titanic are safe on the rescue ship.

The 282 cabin passengers whose names have not appeared on the list sent ashore yesterday by wireless, probably must be conceded as among the 1,312 lives which the collision of the mammoth new steamer with an iceberg off the New Foundland banks Sunday night is believed to have taken.

Thousands of hopeful hearts were turned to despairing ones when the United States scout cruiser Chester wirelessed ashore late today that she had been in communication with the Carpathia and had asked repeatedly for the full list of the first and second cabin survivors, and that the rescue ship reported that all the names had already been sent ashore.

The remainder of 340 persons saved were passengers in the steerage or members of the crew.

After the strain of three days' waiting without news of their missing ones, there were few of the hopeful that still held out tonight against the seemingly final word as to the fate of friends and relatives.

The small remaining hope of the few who persistently refused to believe the worst rested tonight on the faint possibility that he list of the survivors sent by wireless from the Carpathia, might after all not be quite complete.

The fact that one new name came through late today in a private message from the Carpathia was the basis of what was a desire more than a hope that there were slips enough in her wireless lists to account for a few, at least of those still unaccounted for. At the best, however, it appeared that it could be only an occasionally one whose safety had not been reported through some error of compilation on the liner or of the wireless transmission.

From the Carpathia, which is approximately 600 miles from New York this morning, and which is expected if she keeps up her rate of progress of 13 knots an hour, to reach the entrance of the harbor by 8 o'clock tomorrow night, came a new report during the day as to the number of survivors on board.

Through the Cunarder Franconia, which established wireless communication with the rescue ship, came a message including this statement. "She has a total of 705 survivors aboard."

The previous statement from the Carpathia had been that she carried 868 survivors. It may be that the report received through the Franconia included a count of rescued passengers only, disregarding the 100 or more members of the crew who must have been in the boats which the Carpathia picked up.

The Orphan Concert.

There was a very large audience at the concert given by the Oxford Orphan Asylum singing class in the auditorium of the Training school Wednesday night. The program was a splendid one and showed how excellently the children had been trained. The singing classes have been coming here for several years, but no previous concert excelled this last one. The receipts amounted to $106.00.

Debate Tomorrow Night.

Much interest centers in the debate between the Washington and Greenville high school boys in the graded school auditorium here tomorrow night.

WOMAN ACCUSES HER HUSBAND

JOHNSTON COUNTY MAN SEPARATES MOTHER FROM BROTHER—TREATED WIFE BADLY

RALEIGH, N. C., April 18.—That W. J. Adams, of Benson, Johnston county, mistreated and drove from the house the mother and babe apart are the allegations set up in a petition presented before Justice W. R. Allen, of the North Carolina supreme court today by Mr. J. R. Barbour, attorney for Mrs. Adams, asking that a writ of habeas corpus be served on the husband. Justice Allen issued the writ and made it returnable before Judge James L. Webb, at Goldsboro, immediately.

Mr. Barbour came to Raleigh today on his mission. Mrs. Adams asserts in her petition that this was not the first time she had been badly treated by a brutal husband, and that on former occasions he had mistreated her. On the occasion of which the petition deals, she alleges that he came home, abused and mistreated her, finally driving her from the house. He kept the three weeks old babe and refuses to allow its mother to have it.

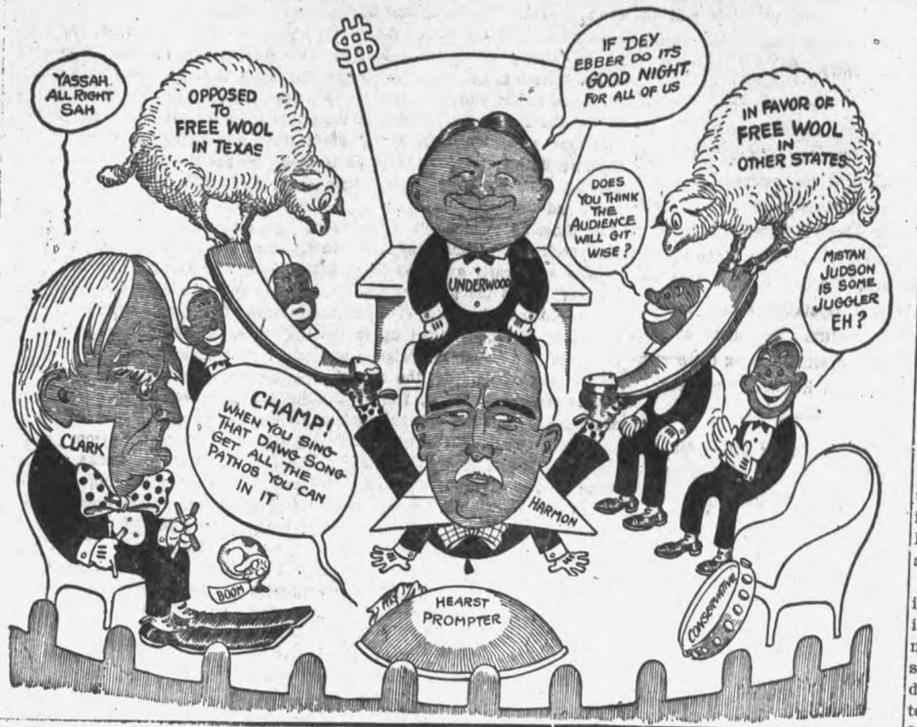

Judge Webb will hear the matter as soon as he receives the writ, which will probably be tomorrow in Goldsboro.

Library Mass Meeting.

Representative Shley Howard Believes that Ex-President Will Win Nomination

WILL PROBABLY WIN THE SOUTH

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 17.—That Theodore Roosevelt will be the Republican nominee for president is the emphatic statement made by Representative William Schley Howard today.

"Since Col. Roosevelt's overwhelming victory in Pennsylvania and Illinois, defeating President Taft as much as 2 to 1 in some instances," says Mr. Howard, "the scaled Taft delegates are rallying over themselves to line up with the Roosevelt forces. I firmly believe Mr. Roosevelt will now get a large majority of the delegates in the south, which are being claimed by the Taft people and that Mr. Roosevelt will be nominated at Chicago by a safe majority."

"Oscar Underwood is sure of the Democratic nomination. Democrats cannot afford to nominate any other man. He is the man to beat Mr. Roosevelt and will surely be nominated at Baltimore."

As a result of a conference here today between a committee of Winston-Salem citizens and the secretary of the treasury, a representative of the treasury department will be sent to the tobacco town and try to agree upon the place and type for the new federal building, which is to cost $250,000. The idea now is to construct a building that will harmonize with the old building in order that the old structure may not be entirely orn down.

MRS. GRACE'S TRIAL ON FAMOUS ATLANTA CASE STARTED

WOMAN ACCUSED BY HUSBAND OF FATAL SHOOTING GETS HER FIRST HEARING

ATLANTA, Ga., April 16.—At her preliminary hearing late today, Mrs. Daisy Opie Grace was bound over to the grand jury on a charge of shooting her husband, Eugene H. Grace, with intent to murder. Her bond of $7,500 was continued.

The hearing had been set for earlier in the day but was reset to escape a large crowd which filled the court room.

What appeared to be the most damaging testimony to the defendant was given by the negro cook at the Grace home. She declared that on the day of the shooting, while Grace lay groaning in his bed, his wife smiled and told her he "was not sick, only sleepy." According to this witness Mrs. Grace instructed her to inform the doctor that his services were not needed if he should call.

Two physicians testified that Grace could not recover. Several police officers and Grace's mother also were introduced as witnesses.

Colonel Declines to Engage in Debate With Gardner of Massachusetts, Who Claims Efforts Have Been Made to Link Lorimer and Taft.

SILVER CREE, eb., April 17.—Col. Roosevelt today declined to engage in joint debate with Congressman Gardner, of Massachusetts, who said an effort was being made to "link the name of President Taft with that of Senator Lorimer and other unpopular persons whom the President always has opposed."

Colonel Roosevelt declared that the "linking" was done by Lorimer and that Mr. Taft made no effort to break the link until it had proven unprofitable to him.

Colonel Roosevelt spoke at a number of places on the days run finding good crowds in spite of the threatening weather.

APPEALS FOR MISS. VICTIMS

Red Cross Sends Country Wide Appeal for Funds for Flood Victims

PRESIDENT TAFT URGES ASSISTANCE

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 17.—An appeal on behalf of the Red Cross for funds to aid the flood sufferers in the Mississippi valley, was made to the public today by President Taft, who is president of the society. The president states that conditions are so acute as to require immediately "resources far in excess of those now at command."

"The national director of the Red Cross," said the president, "after a careful survey of conditions along the river has reported that the facts as they exist are even more desperate than have been described in the present dispatches. Reports from the army officers stationed in the flooded districts confirm the report of the national director in every particular."

"It therefore, becomes my duty as President of the American Red Cross to lay these grave facts before the ever responsive people of the entire country, urging that from their never failing sympathy they contribute promptly and effectively to the creation of an adequate relief fund."

In the appeal for relief money, the president states that the conditions of suffering and destitution in the districts inundated by the Mississippi have assumed an intensity and magnitude which demand prompt help. The 25,000 persons temporarily homeless and dependent, he says, will soon be threatened with epidemics unless prompt measures of protection are taken.

THE SOUTH.

Amazing Progress That One Generation Has Witnessed.

In the last 30 years the population of the South has increased 77.5 per cent., but during the same period the capital invested in manufactures increased 930 per cent., the value of mineral products 1930 per cent., the output of coal 15000 per cent., the value of farm lands and buildings 305 per cent., the resources of national banks 191 per cent. and the expenditures for common schools 525 per cent. These figures indicate something of the amazing increase in agriculture, in manufactures and in banking capital as compared with the increase in population.

The value of farm product in the South in 1880 was $756,000,000. Last year the amount was over $3,000,000,000, and was greater by $600,000,000 than the value of all the farm crops of the United States as late as 1890.

The value of export from Southern ports last year was $747,000,000, as compared with $857,000,000 for the entire country in 1890.

In 1890 the corn crop of the country was 1,489,000,000 bushels, while the corn crop of the South in 1910 was 1,270,000,000 bushels. It is true that the corn crop of the country in 1890 was less than the average, but these figures give an idea of the rapid development of the corn-growing in the South, when in one year it could produce a crop almost as large as even a small crop of the entire country in 1890.

The population of the 16 Southern States is 33,000,000, while that of the United States in 1880 was 50,000,000, but the capital invested in manufacturing in the South in now $3,000,000,000, or $300,000,000 more than the total capital invested in manufacturing in the United States in 1880.

The South now has 1,000,000 more cotton spindles than the United States had in 1880. The value of its mineral products last year was $369,000,000, or $5,000,000 more than the total value of the mineral products in the United States in 1880.

Last year the South mined 115,000,000 tons of coal, while in 1880 the United States mined of bituminous and anthracite coal only 71,480,000 tons.

Possibly the most striking illustration of the increasing wealth of the South is that, though its population is 17,000,000 less than that of the United States in 1880, the individual deposits in its national banks exceed the individual deposits in the national banks of the United States in 1880 by $84,000,000.

The South now spends for common school education over $78,000,000, or a little more than the total expenditures of the United States in 1880 for common school education.

These facts merely show what the South has achieved in things that can be expressed in figures. They do not, however, show the gain that has been made in the accumulated experience, in the momentum developed, in the world-wide recognition achieved of the South's amazing resources and of the almost limitless field which it offers for the investment of capital whether that capital be money, or brains, or brawn.

The South is indeed the nation's greatest possession; greatest in the material wealth to be achieved, greatest in the influence which its geographical location, its domination of the world's cotton trade and the enormous resources of coal and iron and other minerals will give to it in world of commerce; greatest in the strength of its Anglo-Saxon civilization and the influence that this will ultimately have in shaping the destiny of the country.

A change in an educational institution that has attracted national interest, was the resignation a few days ago of Dr. Ira Remsen as president of Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore. He has been at the head of this noted institution since 1901 and gave it a reputation second to none in the country. The name of Gov. Woodrow Wilson is among those mentioned as Dr. Remsen's successor.

The mass meeting called for Friday afternoon in the interest of the public library of Greenville should appeal to all people of the community. The library is doing unmeasured good to the community and is entitled to the encouragement of every citizen. Read the call for the mass meeting and give it your support.

WITH OTHER EDITORS

Not The Talker But The Doer

One of the most active and enthusiastic and really capable supporters of Woodrow Wilson for the Democratic Presidential nomination is The Savannah Press, of which Pleasant Stoval is editor, and his defence of "Our Wandering Woodrow" several days ago was one of the happiest contributions to the amusing literature of the period. The complaint having been made that Dr. Wilson had neglected the duties of his office as Governor of New Jersey to make speeches in the West and South, Stoval is inclined to regard the speaking expedition of the Governor as establishing really his superior fitness for the office he is seeking with his whole heart, soul, mind, and strength.

In Stoval's opinion, "a man who can speak eleven times per day in Illinois and nearly as many times in Georgia" raises the presumption that he "would make a model Presidential candidate. He could stand up to the strain of a national campaign and talk to the people from the car window, from the platform, from the court house, from the city hall and in the theatre, on the public squares. For Woodrow Wilson is just as much at home in any of these places. He would be the match for Roosevelt, more than the peer of Taft in a whirlwind campaign. Gee! how he would sweep the country in an oratorical contest against anything the Republican party could bring against him. That is one thing to consider when we are making Presidents. Wouldn't Woodrow Wilson be a dandy in a great national talkfest? Wouldn't he put it over the other boys?"

There is no question of Governor Wilson's talking ability, even if it cannot be claimed for him, because of his first experience in executive work as Governor of New Jersey, that he would rather talk than toil. If he had not talked so much, if he had not said so many things in his talking that were out of touch with his many talks upon the same subjects on other occasions, he would have been all the stronger as a candidate for the Presidency.

The car-window speaker, the cartail speaker, the speaker who says the things that will tickle the groundlings the speaker who feels no responsibility for his utterances, except as they may strike the temper of the mob, is not the speaker who would make a desirable Chief Magistrate for this country. The man for President is the man who keeps his head in times of great emotion, who respects the law, who keeps faith with his friends and who does not indulge in claptrap for the swaying of the multitude. Look at Roosevelt! How much he promised and how little he performed when for seven years he dominated the affairs of his country. Look at him now, breathing out threatening and slaughter from every platform on which he speaks, misrepresenting facts concealing his own crooked record, misrepresenting and denouncing and falsifying the record of his own choice for the Presidency and seeking by his speeches to deceive the American people into his support. Oh, no, it is not a "thing to consider when we are making Presidents." The office of President of the United States is the highest office in the world and the man who fills it ought to be a man of high principle, clean methods, broad purposes, and just intentions.—Charlotte Observer.

Josiah Wood.

Josiah Wood, the new lieutenant-governor of New Brunswick, was born in Sackville, N. B., April 18, 1843. He graduated at Mount Allison College in 1863 studied law and was called to the New Brunswick bar in 1866. Subsequently he entered mercantile life and acquired extensive business interests including shipping, lumbering, manufacturing, farming and stock raising. His political career began in 1878, when he was an unsuccessful candidate for the New Brunswick legislature. He was elected to the house of commons in 1882 and sat continuously until 1895 when he was called to the senate. He resigned his seat in the senate last month to accept appointment as lieutenant-governor.

Fight For Nebraska Vote Ends.

LINCOLN, Neb., April 18.—The multitude of candidates for public office in Nebraska closed their speaking tours today and the lines were drawn tight for the statewide primary tomorrow which is to determine the complexion of the ballots in the election next fall. In the primaries the voters of all parties will record their preference for nominees for the presidency, United States senator, for governor and other state officers, for nominees for representatives in Congress, for delegates at large and district delegates, to the national conventions for presidential electors and for minor officers. In addition, five constitutional amendments for adoption as party measures will be submitted to the voters. The ballots are the largest ever used in Nebraska.

The constitutional amendments are to be voted upon by each party separately to determine whether or not they will be indorsed by the party. The vote on presidential and vice presidential preferences, the election of national committeemen and delegates and alternates to the national conventions are additions made to the primary ballot by the last legislature.

Forecasters generally confess themselves at sea and unable to give a definite idea of the probable results of the presidential preference vote in either the Republican or Democratic party. The names of Taft, Roosevelt and LaFollette will appear on the Republican ballot and those of Wilson, Harmon and Clark on the Democratic ballot.

Nebraska is a strongly progressive state and the Taft people, while hopeful, are not making any definite claims chief reliance rests on the possibility that the strength of Senator LaFollette may draw heavily from the Roosevelt vote. The Roosevelt managers, on the other hand, are confident that neither Taft nor LaFollette will head off a solid delegation for the former president.

On the Democratic side there is also little basis for a clearout and readily defensible forecast on the presidency. The Clark managers appear to be the most optimistic. One interesting phase of the situation is the position of William J. Bryan. Mr. Bryan is named as a delegate on all the tickets, as a special honor, but his friends are a little apprehensive that with the radical strength split between Clark and Wilson and the conservative Democratic vote banked solidly behind Harmon, the Ohio man may possibly win on plurality and thus give to a smiling political world the spectacle of Mr. Bryan going to Baltimore instructed for Harmon, whom he bitterly opposes.

The contest for the United States senatorship is arousing considerable interest. Senator Norris Brown, Republican, whose term expires next March, is a candidate for re-election. His opponent on the Republican side is Congressman George W. Norris, of the Fifth district. The contest between the two is closely connected with the Republican presidential race. Congressman Norris is one of the recognized leaders of the Republican "insurgents" in the House and an outspoken opponent of President Taft and his policies, while Senator Brown is on friendly terms at the White House. The Democratic aspirants for Senator Brown's toga are former Governor Ashton C. Shallenberger, W. H. Thompson of Grand Island and Willis E. Reed of Madison.

All the present representatives in Congress are candidates for renomination with the exception of Norris of the Fifth district, who is a candidate for the senate. S. R. Barton and W. A. Prince, both of Grand Island, are the Republican aspirants for the Fifth district nomination and R. D. Sutherland is the Democratic candidate.

"Old Dad"

My boy, you've ceased to come at night
With eagerness to mount my knee
Your baby days have taken flight,
And soon you will be leaving me.
I fear to greet you with a kiss,
Lest I your manhood should offend;

But, oh my boy, remember this
Old dad remains your staunchest friend.

The world awaits your toiling hand;
You'll hear the luring call ere long
To serve or to assume command.

To show if you be weak or strong,
Upon the ratline your foot is set.
God give you courage to ascend.
But weal or woe, remember this:
Your dad remains your staunchest friend.

My boy, your play time soon shall be
A pleasant memory—nothing more
But in distress come back to me,
Nor pause to knock upon my door.

The world will strive to break your will.
Your trust in sorrow oft will end;
But come what may, remember this:
Your dad remains your staunchest friend.

Where The Reflector Man Stands.

The Raleigh News and Observer again printed today the standing on coupon votes of the candidates in the big contest that paper is running. In today's list The Reflector man holds second place in the entire state, the one candidate ahead of him leading by only about 800 votes. This is indeed gratifying and shows how his friends are putting in votes for him. He earnestly hopes they will keep up this good work until the end of the contest and do everything possible for him, both with coupon and subscription votes. It takes big figures to enunciate the subscription certificate vote he already has in reserve.

Pay Your Poll Tax.

The first day of May is not very far off, yet there are quite a number of people in Pitt county who have not paid their poll tax for the last year. The delinquents may not realize it, but they are running the risk of depriving themselves of the right to vote in the election next fall. The November election is to be an important one, as it covers the election of officers from president down, and every one should desire to vote in that election. Here is what the state law says about it.

"No person shall be entitled to vote unless he shall have paid his poll tax for the previous year on or before the first day of May.

"Every person liable for such poll tax shall, before being allowed to vote, exhibit his poll tax receipt and unless such shall bear date on or before the first day of May, such person shall not be allowed to vote."

Secretary Knox Back From Trip

Back in Washington City. Sec. Knox Expresses Belief That Relations Between America and Southern Republics Have Been Improved.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 17.—Secretary Knox returned to the capital city today satisfied that he had accomplished his mission upon which he was sent by President Taft to the Caribbean republics.

Mr. Knox expressed himself as well pleased with his trip, which, despite its hardships, had no ill effects upon the secretary or Mrs. Knox.

The secretary in a formal statement to the press said that two forces actuated by selfish motives had operated to perpetuate misrule in the countries visited by misrepresenting the attitude of the state department towards these governments. One force is domestic to these countries and the other is in the United States. By personal contact with the heads of the governments visited the secretary believes that he has been able partially at least, to counteract the influences of which he complains.

He also emphasized what he considers the necessity of helping the weaker republics to avoid specific conditions in which the United States might be embarrassed by its assertion of the Monroe doctrine.

New York to London by Wireless.

NEW YORK, April 18.—The stockholders of the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company of America met today to authorize an increase in the capital stock from $1,662,500 to $10,000,000, of which about $7,000,000 is to be issued soon for extending the system in this country. It is understood that the plans include the erection of a powerful station near New York, which will communicate directly with one to be erected near London, and another in this vicinity for communicating with the South, probably through Cuba to Panama, and thence to South American points.

Organization for Social Work.

NEW YORK, April 18.—Organization for social work is the general subject selected for discussion at the semi-annual meeting of the New York Academy of Political Science, which began a two days' session today at the Columbia University. Prominent among those who are to speak at the meeting are Cardinal Farley, Rabbi Hirsch of Chicago, Bishop Hendricks of Kansas City, Dr. Graham Taylor of the University of Chicago, Dr. Gren fall, the Labrador missionary and Mrs. Florence Kelly of the Consumers' League.
