Teddy Comes Back Strong For the Common People

Former President Delivers
Bold Speech in Greensboro Against Interests.

RECEIVES WARM
WELCOME IN THE
TAR HEEL TOWN

GREENSBORO, N. C., April 23.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt came into North Carolina yesterday and to the thousands of people gathered along the route of his train from Asheville to Greensboro and to thousands in this city, he spoke boldly in behalf of the principles he had outlined and advocated in his Columbus and Carnegie Hall speeches. There was nothing about his speech in Greensboro to verify the accusations that Colonel Roosevelt is a demagogue; nothing to sustain the charge of his opponents that he is a dictator. It was rather an appeal to the people to dictate, to rise up in their power and demand legislation which would give equal rights to the whole people, rather than special rights to the privileged class. It was clear, forceful and apparently effectively appealing to a great percentage of his audience.

The crowd which heard Col. Roosevelt speak from the broad piazza of the old residence facing the grounds of the Civic league was estimated at 4,000. It was an enthusiastic, though in no sense a disorderly audience. Whether or not those who heard him were interested in what he said, Colonel Roosevelt possibly could not have told. The best evidence that they were in the fact that for more than an hour 4,000 men, women and children stood upon ground that was cold and damp, full of water pools and decidedly unpleasant from a physical standpoint. The appearance of Roosevelt and various declarations of his policies caused displays of genuine enthusiasm, though no general yells such as may be heard at a campaign speech once the campaign is narrowed to the leaders of each party.

The representatives from the clubs to the civic council of Greenville are requested to meet at the court house Wednesday at 5 p. m.
MRS. T. M. MEADE,
Sec. Civic League.

Dwelling Is Badly Damaged by Fire at Early Morning

Alarm Turned in This Morning at 5:30. Usual Crowd Leaves Comfortable Beds to Watch Flames.
Damage to Building $900.

About 5:30 o'clock this morning there was an alarm of fire that hustled people out of their beds and robbed them of their morning nap. It came from a house on South Evans street, between Eleventh and Twelfth, occupied by Mr. L. P. Wayne and belonging to Mr. K. W. Cobb.
Mr. Wayne had gone out early to start a fire in the kitchen preparatory for breakfast to be cooked. When he first built the fire it went out, so he poured some oil in the stove and again applied a match. He then went back in the house to call up other members of the family. About the time the others had got up and finished dressing he noticed that the house was filled with smoke and going back to the kitchen found almost the whole room on fire and the strong west wind made it burn furiously.

The South Greenville hose squad had their reel on the scene and a stream on very quickly after the alarm was given and the hose wagon from the central station arrived a few minutes later and put on another stream. They were not long putting the fire out and the damage to the building was nine hundred dollars. This was fully covered by insurance in the agencies of Moseley Bros. and C. L. Wilkinson.

Mr. Wayne moved all his furniture out of the house, but it was considerably damaged, and nearby neighbors also moved out some of their effects.

News Concerning People of Our Native State

Sixteen Year Old Girl Drinks Carbolic Acid.
ASHEVILLE.—Another story of a man's perfidy and of a young girl's trusting faith was brought to view here this afternoon when Euba Luther, the 16 year old daughter of a west end grocer in this city, it is alleged took her life to hide her shame. It is stated that she drank carboric acid, dying about 4 o'clock. A note was found said to be in her handwriting, saying that she had been wronged.

Sunday School Workers Have Great Meeting.

SALISBURY.—A great international Sunday School mass meeting was held here this afternoon in the Grubb theatre building, presided over by Rev. Dr. W. B. Dutera of Faith Reformed church. The principal address was made by Rev. Dr. McElfresh, secretary of the movement whose home is in Chicago. A chorus of 150 voices from the primary departments of the several Sunday schools of the city furnished the music for the occasion.

HIGH POINT.—The memorial service held in the Pickett warehouse this afternoon for the victims of the great Titanic disaster brought together an immense audience. More than 2,000 people listened to the wonderful address of Herbert Booth, whose eloquence, pathos and great truths held the audience spellbound from beginning to end. The consensus of opinion is that this was by far the greatest memorial address ever delivered in High Point.

ELLEN ELOPES AT E. C. T. T. S.

Funny Play Well Presented by Young Ladies of the School.

The students of East Carolina Teachers Training School scored another fine success in the presentation, Monday night of "The Elopement of Ellen", a farce comedy filled with surprises and amusing predicaments that all worked out right in the climax. The play was presented by members of the Y. W. C. A. of the school and every character was charmingly sustained. Those composing the cast were Misses Emma Harden, Lena White, Willie Lee Smith, Nora Mason, Jennie Brown Morrill, Blanche Lancaster and Willie Greene Day and each showed special fitness for the part assigned her. The staging was most artistic and made a beautiful setting for the play. The audience was thoroughly delighted with the play, also with the songs between the acts by Misses Joyner and Davis with piano and violin accompanied by Misses Muffy and Cassidy and showed its hearty appreciation in generous applause.
Greenville again did the creditable thing in giving the young ladies a large audience. Our people have become aware that everything taking place at the Training school bears the mark of excellence and those who stay away from entertainments there miss a great deal.

Daring Robbery On Tornado Does Much Pullman Car Damage

Golden Gate Limited Boarded by Brig-
gands, Who Outstrip Passengers And Leave.

CHICAGO, Ill., April 22.—Nine persons were robbed of money or valuables or both, by three masked hold up men who went through the sleeper "Nottingham" of the Rock Island westbound Golden Gate limited a few minutes after midnight this morning at Sheffield, Ill., 40 miles east of Moline. After the robbers had finished their work they shot holes in the air signal tube connected with the engine, thus bringing the train to a standstill and quickly made their escape.

Under cover of three revolvers the porter was forced to point out to the outlaws the berths that were occupied. As soon as the robbers entered the pullman they forced the porter to lock the doors. Only the occupants of one pullman were disturbed. Presence on the train of the three robbers has not been accounted for. It is thought perhaps the men boarded the limited at the crossing of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad, near which a Burlington train was held up some time ago.

After the desperadoes had taken their loot they commanded the porter to pull the air tubes as a signal for the engineer to stop the train. When the porter demurred the men punctured the tube with bullets from their pistols. The firing of revolvers was the only noise connected with the hold up.

WANTED!
Energetic young men of this community to "put it over the plate," "slide home," "touch second," and otherwise furnish a ball team for Greenville. We want a ball team and we want it badly. All aspirants apply to John Ivey Smith.

Judge H. Staples Crowds Attracted Begins Allen Trial To Town By Trial Court

It is Possible That Hearing Will Take Place Away from Scene of Tragedy.

STAPLES FEARLESS
WILL CONDUCT IT
IN WYTHEVILLE

HILLSVILLE, Va., April 23.—In the same court room where a little more than a month ago the Allen clansmen shot down Judge Massie, Commonwealth Attorney Foster and three court attaches, Floyd Allen was called to the bar today to stand trial for the part he is alleged to have played in the celebrated tragedy. Judge Walter R. Staples of Roanoke, who was appointed to conduct the circuit made vacant by the tragic death of Judge Massie, sat on the bench. Immediately after court convened arguments were begun on petitions looking to a change of venue. It is generally expected, however, that the trials will proceed in Hillsville in accordance with the decision previously rendered by Judge Staples. The trial of Floyd Allen will be followed by those of the other two members of the clan now in custody. These are Victor Allen, son of Floyd, and Bud Marion.
Wytheville, some forty miles away from Hillsville, is the most favored place at this time. That the trial will be held there is the belief of the men who are best informed. To take the case to Pulaski, which is nearer to Hillsville, would be to take it to the home of the leading counsel for the state. This will not be asked by the state and the defense would oppose such a step. Judge Staples is absolutely fearless and he will sit in the cases, regardless of where they are held.

THE ALLENS ON TRIAL.

Today, one month and nine days after the outburst of outlawry in Hillsville, Va., will commence the trial of the Allens. That is, the Allens that were caught.

In other words after 40 long days of detecting, the sleuths that so often were "hot" on the trail of the two most famous desperadoes, old Allen and Edwards, have been unable to bring them to justice. It would be rather interesting to know just exactly what this man hunt is costing Virginia. The number of detectives as at first announced was something like twenty. Estimating each day's expense of each man at $10.00 the state has already spent something like $8,000 and to date the "main guys" are still at large. For the last ten or fifteen days the public has not even had satisfactory news from the costly sleuths and, as we mentioned above, Judge Staples is ready to begin the trial without having the principals in the court house.

This furnishes another example of the frailty of human memory. When the famous Mussolino was running amuck in the mountains of northern Italy and the famous Captain of Copernick "pulled off" his historical stunt we can easily remember how "tickled" we were at the inefficiency of the Italian and German authorities. We are afraid that this time the laugh is on us. And remember the oft quoted proverb: He who laughs last, etc., etc.

It is true that in the meantime we have had events happen calculated to eclipse almost anything that could stand for a complete shadowing. The political turmoil, the Mexican squabble with its attending danger to Americans and their property and now the Titanic disaster.

In connection with this last event it is worthy of comment as to how prompt and eager has been the instituting of an inquiry that will tend to place the blame on someone. It is perfectly true that the Titanic disaster was so colossal in proportion as to demand the attention of every citizen of the world. Just as true that the standing in the world of finance and other callings of those heroic Americans that went down with her, brought the horror home. Yet the nature of the Hillsville tragedy it would seem, should have undoubtedly called for greater attention from the national government, in evidence of the negative results afforded by the state government.

Perhaps by the time Judge Staples is about to sentence the captured Allens the detectives will have the missing couple rounded up and in the verge of capture.

WHISPER!

It is possible that after all, Greenville will have a baseball team this season. We are not promising anything, but from information derived from a good source we are led to believe that our rooters will have a show this season. And the date may not be far off.

With "one of the boys" back in town and looking as well and handsome as ever, several young men began to talk the matter over in earnest and it was very soon decided that no harm could be done in trying.

There is not a doubt, that if the young people want to have a ball team they can have it. There is enough material and there is enough enthusiasm for the national pastime in this community to guarantee the town sporting a fairly good team. We may not be able to get "into the league," still we will be able to fix up some schedule with neighboring towns and bring to Greenville many scalps.

Anyhow, there is nothing like trying.

Keep in mind that the best investment to make is some shares in the new series of The Home Building and Loan Association that opens May 4th. Greenville owes much to this institution.

It can be said of the three candidates out for the senatorial nomination that there is no likelihood of not selecting a good one.

When they fix the blame for the loss of the Titanic, if they ever do, they should not let it end there.

The Mississippi floods continue to be something terrible.

The campaign is reaching the warming stage.

This is My Birthday

Thomas Nelson Page.

Thomas Nelson Page, the famous writer of Southern stories, was born in Hanover county, Virginia, April 23, 1853. He attended Washington and Lee University and later graduated from the department of the University of Virginia. He practiced law in Richmond from 1875 to 1893 when he definitely abandoned the law for literature. Mr. Page has made a marked success in depicting the beauty and chivalry of the South in the days before the war, though he was only a lad when the war ended. His first successful work was "In Old Virginia," which was published in 1887. Among his other famous stories are "Marse Chan," "Two Prisoners," "Red Rock," and "The Old Gentleman of the Black Stock."

Regulating The Wireless

One of the startling features before the senatorial committee now investigating the Titanic disaster was the admission of young Bride, one of the ill-fated ship's wireless operators, that a German steamship, the Frankfurt, had called for half an hour in an effort to warn the Titanic of icebergs before she was answered by the chief operator of the Titanic, a Mr. Phillips. The only reason given for failure to answer a message of such vital importance was that Phillips was "busy" checking his accounts. Later when the Frankfurt caught the Titanic's distress call that steamship did not take the message seriously, but asked for further details. Phillips it was alleged by young Bride, impudently dismissed the inquiry with the remark that somebody on the Frankfurt was a "fool, and should keep out."

These admissions would tend to prove that there is a crying need for government regulation of wireless apparatus at sea, and that the instruments should be operated by expert men with a full sense of their responsibilities. It has been asserted, and the records at four wireless stations on the coast bear it out, that four different warnings of icebergs were sent to the Titanic, but judging from the spirit displayed by the operators on that ship they were not regarded seriously. Indeed, there is room for the suspicion that the captain of the Titanic received only one of the messages referred to.

The wireless telegraph, one of the greatest inventions of the age, has repeatedly shown that it can save life when properly handled, but it cannot keep a vessel afloat with a gaping hole in its side. Rescue must always come from a distance, and for this reason science and international laws should combine to make the wireless instrument a sacred messenger.

The fact that poor Phillips perished on the Titanic should protect him from criticism, but he might have been alive today had he been fully impressed with the warnings flashed from various ships. The pity of it is that no amount of criticism, protest or regret, can bring back the lives that were suffered out in icy waters. But their fate, as we remarked the other day, will rouse all nations to the necessity for the exercise every precaution in the equipment of sea-going vessels, and the proper protection of apparatus on which the safety of human life depends.—Ashville Citizen.

The Doubtful States

It is to the doubtful states and house which have democratic inclination that the party must turn for success. New York, Ohio, Indiana and Connecticut all have democratic governors and each of them will go Democratic in the presidential election this year if they are given the chance to do so, and if the advice of their leading democrats is heeded. Wilson cannot carry New York, and his nomination will mean the loss of that state by 100,000 votes. He cannot carry either Ohio, Indiana or Connecticut and the prospect is that even should he be nominated, which is impossible, he will lose his own state by 30,000 votes. It is openly predicted that he will not get as much as one half of the delegates from New Jersey to the national convention.

While, therefore the carrying of Wisconsin and some of the far western "ism" states, where political fads and fancies thrive, may be the occasion of rejoicing among those who think that the people can be fooled, the victory should be accepted more in the nature of a warning than as cause for execution among those who have the good of the party at heart and who are working to the end that it may win next fall.—Atlanta Constitution.

TRAINING SCHOOL NOTES

The Young Women's Christian Association services on the evening of April 21 were conducted by Prof. Leon R. Meadows, who spoke for a short time upon the sermons we preach through our daily lives. He urged especially that we set for our lives a high ideal and strive in every way to reach it, but at all times striving to get away from the mad rush of this past age and lead the simple life, which Christ has set for us to follow. In bringing out these points Mr. R. Meadows, who spoke for a short time, showing how it springs from the lowliest of things and lives its life of trustfulness, purity, modesty and simplicity at last to be cut down by the strong wind and fall to the earth to stay until the resurrection. In conclusion we were urged to emulate the qualities of the lily, to have no evil thoughts, be faithful throughout life, trustful in all to God, simple in our speech, dress and habits at last to spring forth anew in our Heavenly Father.

"Bear the lily in thy hand,
Gates of brass can not withstand
The touch of the magic wand."

Slayer of Prison Warden on Trial.
LINCOLN, Neb., April 23.—The case of Albert Prince, the negro prisoner who killed Deputy Warden Davis of the Nebraska State penitentiary last February, was called in court today for trial. The defense, according to counsel, will seek to prove that Prince had been treated with such persistent and extreme cruelty by the prison attendants as to deprive his reason and render his irresponsible for his actions.

FOR AYCOCK MEMORIAL

To the patrons of the Graded school:

Throughout the state there is a movement to erect at Raleigh a monument to the memory of our former educational governor, Hon. Chas. B. Aycock. Greenville is desirous of contributing to the monument, I am sure, and next Friday I shall ask the school children to make a contribution to the monument fund and forward it to State Treasurer Lacy, the treasurer of the monument fund.

There is, of course, nothing compulsory about the contribution. If there are parents who do not care to have their children give anything, there will be nothing said about it. But I should like for all who will to give something, if it is only a penny. Help us teach the children to honor and respect the memory of Gov. Aycock. One of the best ways to do it is to impress upon their minds this little gift and its meaning. It will be a source of satisfaction to parents and to children to know, after the monument is erected, that they had something to do with its erection.

Remember the date of the contribution—next Friday.

Respectfully,
H. B. Smith,
Superintendent of Schools.

FROM THE COLORED GRADED SCHOOL

Aycock Memorial Fund finds the children of the Greenville colored graded school willing "penny" contributors.

The principal and teachers, Eppes, Bowen and Edmonds, made the children understand that the late Gov. Aycock was their friend.

The principal, E. M. Eppes, was commissioned to teach in the Wayne county school by this great Carolinian and during his administration was made superintendent of the State Normal at Plymouth.

During the cleaning up week a number of ladies of the white race, members of the Civic League, visited the colored graded school. Mrs. Mead delivered a very helpful address. They were so much pleased. Mrs. A. H. Taft presented the sewing department with valuable material. For the same the school publicly votes thanks to them.

"Life and Speeches of Aycock" to be Published.

"The Life and Speeches of Charles B. Aycock" is the title of a new book being prepared for publication by Mr. R. D. W. Connor and Mr. Clarence Poe assisted by numerous friends of the late ex-Governor. The book will not only give a graphic and picturesque account of Governor Aycock's personality, character and career, but it will also contain the cream of his public addresses and political speeches, including the speech he had prepared for delivery in Raleigh, April 12th, and which many regard as unsurpassed by him in all his life. The book will be brought out from the presses of Doubleday, Page and Co., of New York and will sell cloth bound at $1.50 a copy. That it should have a place in the book-case of every North Carolinian and be read by the children in every North Carolina home, goes without saying.

The publishers have determined to offer liberal terms to agents and that it will be one of the best selling book propositions ever offered in North Carolina, is easy to foresee.

In order to make the most life-like possible characterization of Governor Aycock, Mr. Connor and Mr. Poe are asking his friends in every part of the state to send them any authentic reminiscences, incidents, anecdotes and conversations of and kind regarding Governor Aycock that will shed light on his character, personality and power. Any readers recalling any such incidents will confer a great favor upon the editors by writing them at once.

If his Satanic majesty ever had horns he probably wore them off butting in.

MADAME RACHELLE'S ADVICE TO BEAUTY SEEKERS

Mrs. Charles M.—Be careful of your diet. Nothing is so conducive to a muddy skin as rich, over seasoned foods. Drink plenty of water and massage the face with the preparation recommended below.

Miss T. F.—For the long standing cases of dark brown freckles, I recommend a regular nightly massage with a combined face bleach and skin food. The name of a good preparation is Wilson's Freckle Cream, which you may obtain at any good drug store for 50c the jar or direct from the Wilson Freckle Cream Co., Charleston, S. C. This is remarkably effective, guaranteed and I use it regularly with the most satisfactory results.
Wilson's Freckle Cream is sold by
