Brilliant Wedding May Be Named In Baptist Church

Bland-Moore Nuptial Services Conducted by Rev. C. M. Rock. Church Overflowing

PUBLIC RECEPTION AT HOME OF THE BRIDE'S PARENTS

Nature never smiled more beautifully on a marriage scene than she did for the one witnessed in the Memorial Baptist church Wednesday night. The day preceding had been ideal and the night was all that heart could wish for. Skilled hands lent their aid in making the interior of the church in keeping with nature's touch without and the artistic decorations in green and white of the rostrum and choir gallery made a fitting background to the beautiful wedding scene that was witnessed.

An hour before the time for the marriage people thronged the church and it was soon filled to overflowing. It was near a quarter past nine o'clock when the first note from the organ under the touch of Miss Lillian Carr hushed the subdued conversations in the audience and all looked expectantly for the scene that had brought them thither.

As the bridal party waited in the vestibule, Mrs. W. L. Hall sweetly sang "I Love You Truly," by Bond. This was followed by the "Bridal Chorus" (from the Rose Maiden) by Cowen, delightfully rendered by a double quartette consisting of Mrs. W. L. Hall and Miss Arlene Joyner, sopranos; Misses Viola Kecker and Vernessa Smith, altos; Messrs. D. J. Whichard and Charles James, tenors; Messrs. Clinton B. Rowlett and Roy Hearne, basses.

Then as the familiar strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March filled the edifice all eyes turned from the choir to the aisles for the entrance of the bridal party. First came the ushers to their appointed places about the altar. These were Messrs. C. E. McCuller, of Burgaw, and B. S. Warren, of Greenville; Sugg Fleming, of Pactolus, and Floyd Banks, of Goldsboro; H. M. Allen, of Goldsboro, and M. L. Turnage, of Greenville.

Next were the bride's maids, Misses Katherine Staples, of Virginia; Rebecca Knight, of Greenville; Corinne Ward, of Pactolus; Florida Avera, of Rocky Mount; Lorena Bland, sister of the groom, of Burgaw, and Ward Moore, sister of the bride, of Greenville. Each of these wore white marquisette over white satin and carried bouquets of Killarney roses.

Then came the dame of honor, Mrs. Sam T. White, of Greenville, and up the opposite aisle Mr. R. W. Ward, of Raleigh. The dame of honor wore white satin with duchess lace and carried a bouquet of Killarney roses.

The two maids of honor followed, Misses Hennie Ragsdale and Susie Moore, of Greenville, the latter a sister of the bride. These were in pink marquisette over pink satin and carried bouquets of Killarney roses.

When these had reached their places the music quickly changed to Lohengrin's "Here Comes the Bride" and the beautiful bride, Miss Lillian Moore, entered with her father, Mr. W. M. Moore. She wore an exquisite dress of white satin with crystal and pearl trimmings and carried a bouquet of bride roses and lilies of the valley. As they approached, the groom, Mr. D. H. Bland, of Goldsboro, and his best man, Mr. W. (Continued on 3rd page)

Bryans' Visit to Washington Sets Tongues Wagging -- Discuss Possibility

IF T. R. NOMINATED WOULD LIKE TO TAKE UP AGAINST HIM

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 24.—The visit of William Jennings Bryan to Washington yesterday and his conferences with the various party leaders here, particularly in the senate, was followed today by widespread discussion of the possibility that the distinguished Nebraskan might gain the Democratic candidate for president.

Mr. Bryan frankly stated to interviewers that he was not a candidate for the nomination in any sense of the word and that it was difficult for him to conceive of any circumstances under which he might be a candidate. He said there were plenty of other progressives in the party from whom a selection could be made.

Despite these public utterances, some Democratic senators today, in discussing their informal talks with Mr. Bryan were inclined to the belief that under certain conditions Mr. Bryan would not decline the nomination.

In short, the impression left was that if Col. Theodore Roosevelt should be the nominee, Mr. Bryan would like once more to take the field against him.

Proceedings In the Murder Case Brisk

Jury Selected and Sworn Without Hitch, Examination of Witnesses Going On

STATE'S WITNESS NOT UNFAVORABLE TO DEFENDANTS

As announced in yesterday's Reflector the case of the State vs Will Harper, Cora Smith and Will Smith, for the murder of Len Smith, came up for trial yesterday afternoon. Considering the importance of the case (it involves capital punishment) the jury was selected in quick order, from the special venire of fifty summoned for the purpose. Before the twelve jurors were occupying their places, a good deal of challenging and rejecting took place. Most prospective jurors being refused upon answering in the affirmative to the question "Have you served in a jury during the last two years?"

The jury sworn, examination of witnesses was begun without any delay, the first one being Mr. B. M. Lewis, who found the body of Smith lying across the railroad tracks. He told the jury at length as to how he found the body. Our readers already know under what circumstances the body was discovered. Arthur Smith, a brother of one of the accused, followed him and told several stories which did not altogether agree with those given from the witness chair by a younger sister. He, however, admitted, as later did the sister, that the men in the Smith household were all pretty heavy drinkers. Arthur could not give very definite information, as he was away from the house during the night when the killing took place. Young Smith was followed by Chief of Police Smith, of Farmville, who testified having gone to the house at midday following the day of the murder. He told of seeing blood stains and questioning Cora Smith and other women who were then in the house. According to his testimony Cora Smith denied then as she does now, all knowledge of how Len Smith came to his death. Chief Smith was about to tell the jury of a declaration given by Will Harper, when Lawyer Wooten, conducting the defense, objected. The objection was sustained, after some arguing.

Cecilia Smith, who said her age was 14, took the stand after Chief Smith and proved herself a very intelligent witness. Without a falter, the girl proceeded to tell the court of events previous to the night in which the killing took place, and although she spoke of a quarrel between the defendants and Len Smith on the Saturday night previous to the murder, she was perfectly sure that the entire household was in the best (Continued on 3rd page)

Statement of Water and Light Superintendent.
We call the attention of our readers to another part of this issue where we print the Financial Statement of the Water and Light Commission showing receipts and disbursements during the month of February. Supt. Allen is a very busy man; in fact he must have a pair of the famous seven league boots, as he really covers some territory at the end of a day. Still he has time to let the people of the town see clearly for themselves how things are done in the department where he superintends.

Man Who Lost Life on Titanic, Had Five Years Ago urged government to look into matter of safety to Passengers

NEW YORK, April 24.—Emil Taussig, president of the West Disinfecting Company of New York, who lost his life on the Titanic, made persistent endeavors while alive to get the United States steamship inspection service to enforce regulations that would compel steamships to carry enough boats to give every person a seat in case of accident. Letters written by Mr. Taussig to the officials of this service at Washington give evidence that he foresaw with remarkable clearness the possibility of just such a disaster as the one which took his life. These letters were written in 1908 and 1909 and are in part as follows: "It will certainly be calamitous if at the next disaster which may occur any of the passengers have lost their lives, simply because there were not enough lifeboats for them to get into. That is a responsibility that nobody would be willing to shoulder. "In lieu of all these matters brought before you and your experience in the service is the board willing to take the responsibility that in case of an accident to a vessel that a large number of people lose their lives due to the fact that there were lifeboats carried by the ship to save only a small portion of the passengers. "Do you want to take the responsibility in view of the added facilities in the direction of enabling steamships to carry a sufficient number of lifeboats to enable any one to say these people lost their lives owing to the fact that the board of steamship inspectors did not prescribe or compel steamships to carry lifeboats.

Negro Accused of Horrible Crime

First Time Such an Accusation Has Been Brought Against Any Person in Hanover County.

WILMINGTON, N. C., April 24.—Dancy Harriss, a negro man and father, is held in the local prison without bond, with a possible charge of murder awaiting him. He is guilty of a crime as revolting as it is horrible and if his young daughter does not recover from a recent ordeal and it is not expected that she will, he will speedily pay the penalty for a murder of the most atrocious nature. This is the first charge of its kind in this county and the feeling is such, that is the matter ever comes before a jury, retribution will be swift.

Mean to Stop Liquor Traffic Charges Against Solicitor McCabe

Durham Tigers are Sentenced to the Roads. Police Busy Looking up Doubtful Characters Whose Records Lean Towards Liquor Selling.

DURHAM, N. C., April 24.—The police of the city and the county officers have been making life hard for the blind tigers for the past week. This morning in the Corder's court Sina Forsythe, said to be one of the biggest dealers in the county, and owner of an East Durham establishment, which was raided Sunday, was sent to the roads for ten months. He took an appeal to the Superior court. Akie Thompson, the man who was clerking in the Forsythe place when the raid was made, was also tried for retailing and convicted. He also got ten months. There were five cases against the clerk, but judgment was suspended in other cases and the recorded ordered that a capias be issued at the end of the term.

A white man, John Ellis, was sent to the roads for six months yesterday. Today the police have been working on a number of cases and will probably make arrests before morning. At present they refuse to give names of the men under suspicion, as the fight that is made against the retailers in this city is so bitter that the least indication of what they are doing is passed from one man to another and before the police can get to the tiger he has left the city.

Meat Packers Have Been Knowingly Permitted to Defraud the Public by Nullifying the Letter and Spirit of the Meat Inspection Law

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 24.—Charges that Solicitor McCabe, of the department of agriculture and Chief A. D. Melvin, of the bureau of animal industry, have knowingly permitted meat packers to defraud the public by nullifying the letter and spirit of the meat inspection law, are contained in a resolution by Representative Nelson, of Wisconsin, introduced today asking for an investigation by Congress.

Representative Nelson charges that the meat packers are violating the meat inspection law and that officials of the department of agriculture have helped them to do it. He declares that the government stamp "inspected and passed" is no longer a guarantee of the product.

Social and Personal

Bird in the Apple Tree.

I heard a bird in the apple tree, Singing a wonderful melody; He sang so sweet and he sang so clear,

I'm sure he wanted the world to hear,
And this, by my fancy interpreted,
Is what the bird in the apple tree said,
"Cheer up, cheer up;
How bright the sun, how blue the sky!

Cheer up, cheer up; be glad as I.

"Cheer up, cheer up;

When the world's a-bloom, There's no time for gloom;
My mate's in the nest;
Eggs under her breast;
Summer is coming, summer is long;
Living is loving; loving is song.

"Cheer up, cheer up;

How bright the sun, how blue the
sky!

Cheer up, cheer up; be glad as I."

Bewitched by the spell of his lyric art,

I went on my way, a song in my heart.

BRILLIANT WEDDING IN BAPTIST CHURCH

E. Stroud, of Goldsboro, came through the choir door. They met in front of the altar and the couple advanced together to where stood Rev. C. M. Rock, pastor of the church, who in a beautiful and impressive ceremony, spoke the words that made them man and wife and joined for life two happy hearts.

From the church the bridal party and friends repaired to the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs.
W. M. Moore, on Dickinson avenue, where a public reception was held.
Here the multitude of callers were received at the front door by Prof.
W. H. Ragsdale and Miss Kate Lewis.
At the parlor door they were received by Mr and Mrs. T. M. Hooker and introduced to the receiving line.
In the receiving line which extended around the parlor and was headed by Mr. and Mrs. Moore with the bride and groom next, in addition to all of the bridal party were Mr. and Mrs. S. T. White, Mr. and Mrs. T.
R. Moore, Dr. and Mrs. C. M. Jones, Miss Annie Ruth Jones and Mrs. Rufus Elks, of Grimesland, Mr. and Mrs.
W. L. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Satterthwaite, of Pactolus, Mrs. M. E.
Daniels of Roanoke Rapids, Mr. J.

Passing from the parlor the guests were served punch in the hall by room door and refreshments were served by Misses Willie Ragsdale, Inez Pittman, Annie Leonard Tyson, Rubelle Forbes and Snowdy Moore.

The decorations throughout the several rooms of the home were in splendid keeping with such a happy occasion.

It is seldom that so large and handsome display of bridal presents is seen at a marriage and these bore evidence of the wide popularity of the couple. The bride is one of Greenville's most attractive and admired young ladies and Mr. Bland is a young attorney of Goldsboro, who is rapidly rising in his chosen profession.

Mr. and Mrs. Bland left on the midnight Norfolk Southern train via Norfolk for New York and other cities, followed with the congratulashipful Master Major Henry Harding, terms, when all retired for sleep on the fatal night. She admitted that her father was a heavy drinker. In fact on the Saturday night the quarrel took place no less than nine gallons of whiskey were in the house.

Accordinging her testimony her father was in the habit of visiting a neighboring camp every evening, where it was supposed a great deal of drinking went on. On the night of the murder and after all had retired, she distinctly heard her father leave the house. Next morning she heard he had been murdered. Len Smith, according to her, had often said he knew he was going to be killed.

Cecilia Smith proved to be a good witness for the defendant, her testimony tending to take off the blame from the accused.

HER SICKLY CHILD.

Is Now Strong and Healthy—Vinol BUILT Her up.

Every mother wants her little boy or girl to have a fair chance in the world. Make your children strong and healthy and they will grow up able to make their own way.

For ailing children there is nothing so good as Vinol, our delicious tonic, for it gives them a fine appetite, makes their blood rich and puts roses in their cheeks again.

"I have been given Vinol to my little daughter," says Mrs. G. Elasaesser of Hackensack, N. J. "She was very delicate and I was worried about her.
Vinol has built her up fine. She is strong and healthy now, with a good healthy color in her face which she never had before. It only took one bottle of Vinol to do this for her.
She likes the taste of Vinol."

We could tell you of many others right in this town—but give Vinol to your puny child and see how fast it improves. We give back your money if Vinol does not do all we claim.

Carpentier and Lewis.

PARIS, April 25.—The 20 round fight originally scheduled for tonight between Willie Lewis, of New York, and Georges Carpentier, who holds the French welterweight championship and the English middleweight title, has been postponed until the middle of May, owing to the fact that Lewis has only arrived in France this week and desires several weeks to prepare for the contest. The match is now the staple topic of discussion wherever sporting men congregate in the French capital. Carpentier is considered the cleverest boxer that has been developed on this side of the Atlantic in a long time. The critics are in the habit of speaking of him as a second "Kid" McCoy. In addition to being extraordinary quick and shifty he possesses a hard punch. At Monte Carlo recently he knocked out Jim Sullivan, the English middleweight champion, in less than two rounds. Carpentier expects to find in the veteran Willie Lewis the most formidable opponent he has yet faced but the admirers of the French boxer and confident he will be able to hold his own against the American fighter.

New Campanile Dedicated.

VENICE, April 25.—Tens of thousands of people witnessed the solemn blessing today of the reconstructed Campanile of St. Mark's. Not only the people of Venice, but hundreds from the provinces of Italy and from neighboring countries joined in making the event one of international importance. Interest was added to the occasion by the presence of King Victor Emmanuel and Queen Helena. Senators and deputies of the Italian parliament were present in numbers, while the Vatican was represented by a distinguished delegation headed by several members of the college of cardinals.

The Campanile which was dedicated today is a perfect reproduction in every detail of the old one destroyed on July 14, 1902. The old tower was one of the famous structures of the world. For centuries it stood as a visible reminder of the time when the Venetians dominated the arts and commerce of the world. It began as a water tower before the Christian age was in its teens and developed into a bell tower, with bells ringing forth at the first hint of danger and latterly was considered a part of St. Mark's cathedral.

Today the tower stands just as before. Its restoration has occupied almost ten years and is considered by architects and engineers as a most remarkable achievement. The bronze status and the famous gates are again in place, the whole loggia has been restored, and the great bronze angel, 16 feet high, looks down again from the pinnacle of the structure.
At 10 o'clock this morning as a fitting prelude to the dedication ceremonies, the chimes were rung. Tears glistened in the eyes of the Venetians as they gathered in the square of St. Mark's and heard the old familiar sounds for the first time in almost a decade. Of the five bells in the restored Campanile four are now and were presented to St. Mark's by Pope Pius X.

BASEBALL NOTES.

New York fans were greatly worried during the first week of the season.
They expected to hear every minute that the Highlanders had fallen out of the league.

Bill Loudin, the former Newark player, looks like a fixture at third base with Detroit Tigers.

Hub Perdue looks to be the best bet on the pitching staff of the Boston Braves. The Tennessee farmer is causing kinks to sprout in the backs of the heavy hitters.

Steves Yerkes, who is holding his own with the Boston Red Sox, is a Pennsylvania college boy. Arthur Irvin discovered Steve and gave him his first job in professional baseball.

The old Cub machine has not started any forest fires so far this season.
Quite a number of critics have picked out a place somewhere between the sixth and eighth position for the former champions.

Kids in school have the sympathy of the Giants. When the National league champs fail to deliver the goods, McGraw keeps the team on the field after the regular game, and compels them to go through an hours practice.

Cornelius Lyons, the former Western League umpire, has been elected a Justice of the peace at Indianapolis.
He will make only a slight change in his decisions hereafter. Instead of sending the bad actors off the field he will send them to the house-gow.

With the Boxers.

The Buffalo A. C. of Sacramento is planning a new fight coliseum with a seating capacity for 3000 fans.

Tim Hurst, the former baseball umpire, is now matchmaker for the Garden A. C. of New York. Bouts will be staged in Madison Square Garden.

Joe Jeannette, who is in Paris, says he will return home at once if there is any chance for him to arrange a fight with champion Jack Johnson.

Joe Woodman together with his stable of fighters—Sam Langford, Porky Flynn, Jack Lester, Cyclone Johnny Thompson and Jimmy Clabby—will sail from Australia on May 21st, bound for San Francisco.

Erie R. R. Has a Birthday.

NEW YORK, April 24.—The Erie railroad had its eightieth birthday anniversary today, having been chartered April 24, 1832, though the line was not completed and opened to traffic until nearly ten years later. Originally built by English capital, the career of the Erie has been marked by many vicissitudes. Some of the most exciting chapters in the history of the road were furnished by the spectacular operations of the late Jay Gould. Since the present controlling powers took hold of the company several years ago the road has done remarkably well from every viewpoint. So wonderful has been its rejuvenation, that the thousand of stockholders scattered over the United States and in Canada and Europe entertained hopes that the day is not far distant when dividends may be forthcoming on their holdings.

Relieve Indigestion Quickly.

A little tablet called "Digestit" has brought instant relief to thousands—their own statements are proof. Two or three tablets after meals or when suffering stops fermentation, prevents distress, relieves indigestion and cures dyspepsia. "Digestit" is sold with the distinct understanding that your money will be refunded if you want it.
50 cents at Moye's Pharmacy.

Only Institution of its Kind.
NEW YORK, April 25.—Governor Woodrow Wilson, Mrs. Grover Cleveland and a number of other well known persons interested in the work of the Tuberculosis Preventorium for Children today attended the formal opening of the institution's new $150,000 home at Farmingdale, N. J. The Preventorium is the only institution in the country where the children of tuberculosis parents are cared for until their tenement homes have been made safe for them to return. It is estimated that it has saved 400 tenement children from developing tuberculosis in the last two years.
