Never Heard of Harvester Case

President Taft Emphatically Denies Any Knowledge of Roosevelt's Plans

ROOT AND WILSON HURRY TO TAFT'S RECOVERY

WASHINGTON, April 28.—President Taft before leaving the White House today for his return to Massachusetts issued a personal statement, denying Colonel Roosevelt's allegation that he while secretary of war had a cabinet meeting approved Mr. Roosevelt's decision not to immediately prosecute the International Harvester Company.

President Taft's statement says he never heard the International Harvester company discussed at any cabinet meeting and that the records of the war department will show that he was out of the country when the incident referred to by the Colonel occurred.

President Taft's statement was issued as follows:

"The following personal statement of the President was issued from the White House this evening:

"Mr. Roosevelt in his speech at Worcester, as reported by the public press, referring to the Harvester trust suit said:

"As a matter of fact Mr. Taft was a member of my cabinet when the identical case was fully discussed before the cabinet and he cordially approved the action taken; and, indeed, as a matter of fact, my memory is that he himself made the motion that there should be no prosecution of the Harvester trust pending the investigation into the trust by the bureau of corporations."

"Mr. Roosevelt's memory is very much at fault. I am authorized to say by Mr. Root and Secretary Wilson, both of whom were members of the cabinet at that time, that they have no recollection whatever of ever hearing the prosecution of the harvester matter discussed in the cabinet. And Mr. Root is very certain that he never saw or heard of Mr. Herbert Knox Smith's letter to Mr. Roosevelt under the date of September 21, 1907, on the subject.

Tant brought in a verdict today against the Norfolk Southern Railway Company for $2,500 damages after being out since 5 o'clock yesterday for alleged injuries sustained while Tant was serving as car inspector. ### Merchants Organize Another Association.

SALISBURY.—An organization known as the Merchant's Progressive Gift Association was organized here last night with 35 of the leading business houses enrolled as members. This is really the outcome of a premium scheme put on here several weeks ago whereby a piano is to be given away to the person or organization getting the largest number of votes and in which only one firm dealing in the same line of goods was taken in.

Negro Boy Loses Life in Moving Picture Show.

GOLDSBORO.—A motion picture house for negroes operated by a white man, named Frederick, caught fire here at 9:30 tonight, when the house was crowded. A negro boy about 15 years old, who was in the machine booth with the operator where the fire started, was burned to death. The fire was put out quickly but little damage to the building.

Exercises in Memory of Deceased.

A Case Needing Help.

Rev. C. M. Rock on the authority of Dr. Laughinghouse, today stated to The Reflector that there is a colored man in town who is an object of charity and needs immediate help. The man has gangrene in both feet that will necessitate amputation and he should be taken to a hospital for the operation. The man is penniless and there is no one to wait on him. He should have some one to look after him pending arrangements to send him to a hospital and be provided with food. Any contributions to aid this case can be handed to Dr. Laughinghouse, Mr. Rock, Mr. G. E. Harris or at The Reflector business office.

All the unions affiliated with the Molders Union of North America will vote on a proposition to hold a convention of the international body this year, none having been held in five years. If it carries the convention will be held in Milwaukee, Wis., next September.

Grand Jury Report Read Before The Court

Gov. Jarvis and Colonel Skinner Comment On County Home Project and Strongly Endorse Same

JURY THOROUGHLY INSPECTS JAIL AND COURT HOUSE

Before dismissing the grand jury which was in session all last week, their report to His Honor Judge Justice was read before the court. In this document the grand jurors strongly recommend a new county home to be situated no farther than three miles from the county seat.

In connection with this project Gov. Jarvis addressed the court and declared himself entirely in accord with the advice given by the grand jurors. Col. Skinner also made a strong appeal for the change and reminded those present that back during the time he was in Raleigh he made the suggestion now on the grand jurors' report.

To the Honorable Superior Court of Pitt County, Judge M. N. Justice Presiding.

As foreman of the Grand Jury in Pitt County and on behalf of the grand jurors I beg to make the following report.

We inspected the jail and while we admit that a jail is not attractive at its best, yet our jail is not kept as it should be and we recommend that the County Commissioners purchase fifty feet of hose to use in washing out the corridors outside of the cells at least once a week also provide a broom to have the jail swept once each day. In its present condition we do not consider it sanitary.

The offices of the Clerk of Court, Sheriff and Register of Deeds are in good condition and we observe that the records are kept in good shape.

The basement of the Court House is not in good condition, large piles of trash were found in most of the rooms, and in the corridor and it appears (Continued on 3rd page)

FLASHES FROM OTHER CLIMES

Between Wilson and Underwood.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., April 29.—In the state wide Democratic primary tomorrow the voters of Florida will record their preferences for nominees for the presidency, for the governorship and other state offices, for nominees for representatives in Congress and for the legislative and minor offices. The contest for the presidential indorsement will be confined to Woodrow Wilson and Oscar W. Underwood. These are the only names that will appear on the ballot. Most interest centers in the contest for the governorship, for which there are five aspirants. Each of the three present representatives in Congress is a candidate for renomination and each has opposition. In addition there are four candidates for Congressman-at-large.

Destroyer Jenkins Launched.

BATH, Me., April 29.—The torpedo boat destroyer Jenkins was launched today at the yards of the Bath Iron Works. The Jenkins is a sister ship to the Jouett, which was recently launched at the same yards. She is 293 feet long and will have a speed of 29.5 knots. The Jenkins was named after the late Rear Admiral Thornton A. Jenkins, who was known as "the father of the lighthouse board". Miss Alice Thornton Jenkins of Washington, D. C., a daughter of the Rear Admiral, performed the christening ceremony at the launching.

Damaging Evidence Brought to Light On Second Day of Trial Of The Belcher Murder Case

Fence Cutters Busy Again

DAMAGE AMOUNTS TO $400.00

Saturday night fence cutters were again active and for an extension of about three miles the fence was hacked and cut to the extent of $400 worth of damage. How these men have so far eluded the efforts being made to arrest them and bring them to justice is somewhat puzzling, and as we are positively assured that measures have been taken to catch the outlaws red-handed.

These men have been so successful in other attempts to mock the law that it is little wonder that they came back to it last Saturday night.

The fact the criminal court is claiming the constant presence of the sheriff may be one reason why the men made their attack again last Saturday. On the other hand the fact that law is being dispensed in the county seat should remind the unscrupulous men that in time they will have to stand before the bar and receive the just punishment for the utter disregard of the law.

Sudden Illness of Juror Halts Case

MR. J. J. MOORE OF BETHEL FAINTS ON THE BOX

May Resume Trial This Afternoon.

Proceeding in the Belcher murder case were suddenly halted this morning when juror J. J. Moore suddenly collapsed on the jury box.

Mr. Moore had felt ill yesterday and a physician was summoned. At first it was thought that it was a case of chronic stomach trouble. Later developments, however, led to believe that the juror has been troubled with his heart and although he was in fairly good shape this morning when court opened for the day's session, his collapse on the box came quickly after resumption.

Dr. Laughinghouse was quickly summoned and Mr. Moore was taken to the jury room, on the third floor of the court house. His condition reported at first as very serious. As we go to press it is thought that he will be well again soon enough to sit in the jury box probably late this afternoon. Should this be the case, in all probability he will be able to resume his duties tomorrow.

Defense Unable to Shake Prosecution Witnesses Under Lively Cross Examination Fire

MANY TOWN LADIES GRACE COURT WITH THEIR PRESENCE

The second day in the trial of the murder case was attended by the introduction of evidence which might eventually convict one of the prisoners accused of the murder of Henry Belcher in Farmville.

The jury completed and sworn the prosecution began at once the examination of witnesses, Dr. Morrill being the first to be put on the stand. Dr. Morrill testified to going to Marlboro on the early morning in question and examining Belcher, mortally wounded. He explained the nature and situation of the wound and told of its fatal effect. He was present when Belcher made his direct accusation against Burnett.

Chief of Police Smith, of Farmville, followed Dr. Morrill and told the jury of his going to Becher's store, together with R. E. Belcher, a brother of the murdered man and capturing Burnett and Nichols. On his arrival at Belcher's store he found the door locked and heard the prisoners in the interior of the store. He demanded their surrender and was answered by one of the men inside "I have killed one and I'll get another." Chief Smith argued with the men and they finally agreed to give themselves up. Belcher was all this time guarding the back door of the store. Chief Smith took the two men to Farmville and locked them up in the local jail which is directly over the town market.

R. E. Belcher went on the stand and corroborated Chief Smith's evidence. He said the store where the shooting took place was locked when he and Chief Smith reached the place and that in order not to have the men escape he took charge of the back door. He was also present when the dying Belcher made his declaration directly accusing Knapp Burnett.

W. Lovett, another state witness was sworn and testified to hearing a conversation held by the two defendants while in the Farmville lock-up. The most important part of their talking being Nichols reproval to Burnett. According to the witness Nichols said to the younger man "You've made a nice mess of it for us," Burnett answering "What the hell need you care, I did it."

Lawyer Dunn, appearing in the prosecution side, took the stand and whilst the deepest silence reigned over the court room read the declaration given by Belcher after the shooting. The ladies present did here have a chance to hear a great deal of strong language not intended for feminine ears. During the reading of this declaration a lively encounter took place between Lawyer Ward for the defense and Lawyer Moore for the prosecution. The introduction of the pronoun "we" causing all the trouble.

J. Crawford was called by the prosecution at the close of Lawyer Dunn's reading and went on to tell how he met the two accused men in the neighborhood of Farmville, when the two accused men were driving in Nichols buggy. According to Crawford, he distinctly heard Burnett say "I guess he loves me like a brother, but I'll kill him on sight." The witness could not, however, tell who Burnett was making reference to. He did not hear any more of their conversation and his testimony was limited to repeating Burnett's phrase.

CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE.

During the court days when so much is being heard about "circumstantial evidence," "direct evidence," and objection by either side to the introduction of certain evidence, it would not be entirely out of the way for us to hold court over a disaster, the results of which still claim for their own much space in the papers.

The newspaper man naturally is first and last subject to news. The bigger the news, the more startling its nature, the more does the newspaper man "play them up". This is no secret, therefore we do not break a professional pledge in making this near confession.

The first news of the sinking of the biggest passenger steamer in the world came to us, as to the thousands of papers in the states, entirely nude of all the mass of harrowing detail which the rescue ship Carpathia brought to New York three days after the biggest disaster in maritime history. Up to the time Capt. Rostrom made New York, all we knew was that the Titanic had sunk and with her about 1500 souls had perished.

With the arrival of the Carpathia we were led into a veritable sea of detail. The Washington investigation further came to the rescue of the newspapers and to date enough has been said by officers, passengers and stockers, who were fortunate enough to escape with their lives, to fill many pages of closely written matter.

Sunday boat racing on the river is not a commendable diversion and those who engage in it should be ashamed of such desecration of the Sabbath.

Let's not celebrate the fourth of July. It might bring a large crowd to town.

possession and fearless nature, would permit the playing of cards, when officers were making a strenuous fight for the lives of the women and children.

Those two are the outstanding features of the mountain of detail given to the world by some survivors. Picturesque enough, but not likely enough. About the acts of heroism, of abnegation and love, anything could be believed; it is in such moments as attended the fatal plunge of the Titanic that some men and women do things which they themselves would not have believed to be possible of accomplishment by themselves. Valor, heroism, abnegation, self-denial and love; all of these, yes. Never the nonchalance and self-possession of the card players and the musicians. These have no room in a sinking ship with thousands on board.

COMING TO THE C. C.

We are advised by the Secretary of the Carolina Club that on next monthly meeting, to be held the sixth of May, we are to have a visitor who will speak to the club on "Municipal Improvements and their effect upon a community".

It would be well to remind the C. C. members that the gentleman who is to address them is coming all the way from Raleigh. That he is coming on the Norfolk Southern and that considering the terrible risk the gentleman takes in coming from Raleigh on the N. S., every member should turn out to thank him for his kindness and to listen attentively to what he has to say about our needs.

It is not so very long ago since the members of the C. C. gave as fine an example of indifference and want of politeness as should not be expected, but this time we sincerely trust the undesirability of a repetition of last month's rainy double header will be too apparent.

Whatever the members of the Carolina Club do, sleep is not the best recipe for cooks that are trying to make a fine community pie.

It is not likely that the White Star Line or any other steamship company will try to reproduce the Titanic. The lesson learned will cause boat building hereafter to be more along the line of safety than luxury.

Pull a few automobiles for over-speeding and there may be few attempts at joy riding on the streets.

If the bad treatment of Americans in Mexico does not stop Uncle Sam will have to step over and lick somebody. The Mexicans had better remember the Maine and what happened thereafter.

Sunday boat racing on the river is not a commendable diversion and those who engage in it should be ashamed of such desecration of the Sabbath.

Let's not celebrate the fourth of July. It might bring a large crowd to town.

Where Money Shouts

As noted by the Hartford Courant, one evident result of nominations by Presidential preference primaries is that it puts money into circulation. The Courant takes Colonel Roosevelt's campaign for the Republican Presidential nomination as an instructive example. It observes truly that "the presidential primary costs about the same as the election and furnishes more opportunity for the unscrupulous use of money. It is something of a hypocrite. It professes to get at the voice of the people, but what it really gets at is the political schemer who has the largest corruption funds and the least conscience."

What with State primaries, Congressional primaries and now Presidential preference primaries, the era of huge and repeated expenditure of money for political purposes will soon have arrived almost everywhere in the United States. It might seem that Senator LaFollette's career in Wisconsin was of such nature as to require very moderate expenditure upon primaries in his behalf. Yet it is not disputed that Mr. Stephenson, the new Senator, spent very large sums to advance Mr. LaFollette's interest. In all, he spent more than he did upon his own recent nomination, and the total is placed well into the hundreds of thousands of dollars by some. Not until Stephenson called upon the organization thus expensively built up to advance his own fortunes, and put out money to operate it for himself, did LaFollette disapprove. Of late LaFollette has been quiet on the matter. Perhaps he feared that the full extent of his financial relations with Stephenson would be revealed and perhaps also, he had sense enough to see that his ungrateful attitude toward Stephenson was doing him some harm and Stephenson a little good. Most of these strenuous Progressives are nothing if not ambitious in a one-idea'd, selfish and exclusive way. But the real point for consideration here is that under the primary system money in large amounts had to be found somehow even by Mr. LaFollette for the advancement of himself and his cause.—Charlotte Observer.

Colorado May Not Instruct.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., April 29.—Colorado Democrats lined up here today for the state convention to name twelve delegates to the Baltimore convention. Despite the strong support given early in the campaign to the Harmon boom, the real contest in the convention promises to be between Clark and Wilson and between these two the delegates appear to be so divided that the outcome may be an uninstructed delegation to the Baltimore convention.

A Boy of 20 Who Will Have the Management of Millions.

William Vincent Astor who will become head of the American branch of the Astor family if his father, John Jacob Astor, is among the lost on the Titanic, is not yet 21 years old. He was born on November 15, 1891.

He was a delicate child, and until he entered Harvard last autumn he spent about six months of each year at his father's country house at Ferncliff, on the Hudson, three months at Newport, and three months at the town house. He was always somewhat tall with dark, straight hair and dark blue eyes, resembling his father, especially and to the lower part of his face.

He has always been fond of yachting and automobiling.

Vincent Astor has been thrown particularly into his father's company since his mother, Mrs. Ava Willing Astor, obtained her divorce in November, 1909. Under the divorce decree John Jacob Astor was to have custody of Vincent and Mrs. Astor of the only other child of the marriage. Muriel now 10 years old. At the time of the divorce the amount of John Jacob Astor's settlement on his wife was not made public, but it was said to be $10,000,000 in cash, on the provision that this sum would later revert to Muriel.

The John Jacob Astor fortune, which Vincent Astor would share with his step mother and perhaps with his sister, Muriel, has been estimated at $100,000,000. John Jacob Astor's real property holding in this city alone were stated authoritatively last autumn to be worth more than $41,000,000. The Thirty-fourth street half of the Waldorf-Astoria hotel, part of his estate, is assessed at more than $8,300,000. A marriage settlement of cash and securities on the women they marry in lieu of the wife's dower right in the estate has been traditional with the heads of this settlement is to keep the Astor estate intact. Before marrying the present Mrs. Astor Colonel made such a settlement last August a few days before her marriage. The amount which Mrs. Astor received, to secure from her a release of her dower right in the estate, was never made public, but has been reported several times at $2,000,000. A similar settlement was made on Mrs. Ava Willing Astor. Colonel John Jacob Astor's first wife. Thus neither Mrs. John Jacob nor Mrs. Ava Willing Astor would receive a widow's third of the estate.—The New York Times.

Titanic.

"And now I lay me down to sleep;
Roll on, waters, toss and foam!
Beneath thy surging, seething deep
I find my home.

"I pray Thee, Lord, my soul to keep;
Dasch on wild sea, their work is done!
Upon this frame thy sands will heap—
From sun to sun.

"If I should die before I awake!
Break, oh, break, for thy toll is won!
My soul shall soon no longer quake,
My journey's run.

"I pray Thee, Lord, my soul to take;
And now, Most High,—our wives
and sons
And daughters spare for Jesus' sake—
Thy will be done."

And men stood bowed in solemn grief,
Nor sought their precious ones
again,
Bue meekly asked for quick relief—
And angels, watching, said "Amen!"

STATE AND COUNTY NEWS

Methodist Conference at Bethel N. C.

BETHEL, N. C. April 27th, 1912.
—The Washington district of the Methodist Episcopal Church of North Carolina has just closed its annual Conference in this City, the Rev. J. T.
Gibbs, presiding. The Ministers and Lady Delegates all reported an interesting and highly successfully meeting.

Among the prominent visitors were
Br. Franklin N. Parker of Trinity College Professor of Biblical Literature;
Rev. S. C. Mercer, President of Carolina
Female College; and Mr. C. H.
Weatherly of Faison, N. C., leader of the Lyman's movement in the North Carolina Methodist Conference.

The morning and afternoon sessions of the meeting were largely devoted to business and the report of the various pastoral charges, all of which were highly gratifying and showed progress along all lines. The evenings were devoted to sermons by some of the able men of the District.
Among the addresses of especial note
were those of Dr. Parker, the Rev.
Mr. Mercer and Dr. Weatherly. Dr.
Parker's address on "Belief in the Unseen" on Tuesday evening was indeed a masterpiece.

The following Ministers were in attendance:

Dr. J. T. Gibbs, Presiding Elder,
Rev. Messrs J. W. Autry, R. H. Broom,
J. M. Ashby, E. M. Hoyle, R. R. Grant
B. F. Watson, J. B. Thompson, J. L.
Rumley, Mr. Wythe, W. L. Craven, W.
J. Covington, J. J. Lewis, A. Burgess,
W. T. Phipps, H. E. Tripp, H. E.
Lance, R. D. Daniel and L. B. Jones.
Among the lay delegates present were the following: Col. John F. Barton, Messrs. C. L. Band, Chas. Cobb,
W. T. Deans, J. C. R. Davenport, J. J.
Edwards, D. D. Hoskett, W. E. Jeffries,
Z. N. Leggett, J. W. L. Matthews, C.
B. Rush, J. R. Raines, W. L. Shelton,
J. T. Skittletharp, Leslie Turnage, H.
C. Venters, M. D. Wilkinson, J. L.
Yelverton and W. H. Atkins.

REPORT OF THE GRAND JURY.

peared to the jurors that such piles
of trash had been there for some time.
The water closets and laboratories are not receiving the proper attention, and it appeared to the jurors that the Court House janitor is not doing his duty. Our Court House is a credit to Pitt county and should receive the attention that it merits.

Our Convict Camp was inspected and we report, in first class condition. There are thirty-six prisoners, thirty-three colored and three white,
and all cared for under the circumstances. Eighteen colored prisoners are housed in one wagon which we believe are too many, twelve should be the limit to each wagon and we recommend to the County Commissioners to purchase one more wagon
as there should be one wagon maintained for the white prisoners. No complaint was made by any prisoner that one received more consideration than others.

A committee of eight visited the county home and under the circumstances everything was found in as good condition as could be expected.
The inmates made no complaint and said they were getting on very well, yet the entire grand jury feel that there should be an entire change taken place at the county home. The present home is not in accord with Pitt county's progress and it is the unanimous opinion of the grand jury that our present home be disposed of and that 100 acres more of cleared land be purchased, not more than three miles from the county seat and suitable buildings be erected thereon. The grand jury is more than convinced that if the county owned a home
that contained 100 acres of cleared land that the said home would be more than self sustaining and at the same time be a credit to Pitt county.

In addition to this report a special report has been prepared on our county roads which we beg to report.

Respectfully submitted,
C. W. HARVEY,
Foreman Grand Jury.

And we further report:
That separate and distinct water
closets in Court House be provided for white people and same for colored people. Much complaint has been made as conditions exist now
and we believe that our county commissioners should remedy the trouble
right away.

It Looks Like a Crime.

len's Arnica Salve. His pimples, boils, scratches, knocks, sprains and bruises

burns, scalds or cuts in his right.
Keep it handy for boys, also girls.

it quick. Unequaled for piles. Only

NOT GULLIVER'S TRAVELS.

To Tarboro and Then Back in One Day.

"And on the 28th day of April" ye Judge and ye common scribe (not scrub) took a notion to explore the world. Their purse was slim though their raiment gay, even if not quite fitting and Tarboro, which town derives its name from the stream of crystalline waters known as Tar River and near which the town is located was decided upon as a place where a square meal would be gracefully tendered forsooth and for thanks. During the progress of the journey a halt was called for repose
in a hamlet denominated Parmele where we are sorry to relate, our travelers found "existing conditions" near the landing. Should ye reader not understand what "existing conditions are we request him to write to Conger, of the Tarboro Southerner, for a more lucid explanation. The journey was resumed and presently the powerful locomotive passed through a town where a heathen from the North had been eye successful in the sale of lightening parachutes, these instruments being numerous in the roofs of each house. Even pig pens being protected by them. A happy combination of these parachutes with their shining brass balls made one house look alike the dwellings of Hebrews engaged in the high art of lending money on portable personal property at a large rate of interest per week. This brought recollection to the travelers' minds of days spent in college and utter strangeness from money with its subsequent journeys
with packages under their arms,
which they were willing to exchange for green and yellow tickets with figures on them.

Tarboro was reached in due time.
Ye scribe was favorably impressed with the town. Much building in the way and he was told with more to come. The travelers must have sinned in a large scale as they had not been in the town long ere they were delivered into a house where a man who had had a great many fights with the demon sin took cognizance of their presence to condemn the terrible habit of doing what Raleigh did in the times of Queen Elizabeth, i. e., smoking. This upbraiding was in itself enough but the climax was arrived at when the travelers were invited distinctly to add to the sin-fighting man's wordly comfort with what they had saved from the greed of the R. R. Co. It is not recorded as to the amount parted from them, but we are led to believe that given the state of their finances, their offering was trifling.

Perhaps their happiest moment
while away from home was their location near a table laden with such food as had only been distantly related to them of late. They did honor to the table and what it supported. Ye scribe was accused of having a very weak appetite, but ye scribe has told us that it really was not so, as he feasted
both with palate and eyes.

Ye scribe was introduced to several charming people of both sexes and has expressed a delight for his new acquaintances. He has told us he felt honored in meeting them.
The return home was made in safety
in spite of the fact that the man in charge of the power saw fit to sweep a steer off the track with the front of the engine. Said steer taking the bee line route from the track to the road several yards away.

Almost a Miracle.

One of them ost startling changes ever seen in any man, according to W. B. Holscaw, Clarendon, Tex., was effected years ago in his brother.
"He had such a dreadful cough," he writes, "that all of our family thought he was going into the consumption, but he began to use Dr. King's New Discovery and was completely cured by ten bottles. Now he is sound and well and weighs 218 pounds. For many years our family has used this wonderful remedy for coughs and colds with excellent results." It's quick, safe and reliable and guaranteed. Price 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottle free at all druggists.

MADAME RACHELLE'S ADVICE TO BEAUTY SEEKERS

Mary E.—You are foolish to feel so hopeless about your freckles. They are really very easily and quickly driven away. I recommend that you secure a 50c jar of Wilson's Freckle Cream, either at your drug store or from the Wilson Freckle Cream Co., at Charleston, S. C., and use it every night as per directions. I have found this preparation remarkably effective and it is absolutely harmless.

Mrs. A. B. McC.—I cannot recommend any internal treatment for developing the bust. Massage is sometimes good, but should be carefully employed. Improve your general health and condition and eat nourishing, flesh building foods.
Wilson's Freckle Cream is sold by Moye's Pharmacy, Greenville, N. C.

Tobacco Flues

135,000 POUNDS MATERIAL

Three and one-half solid cars Tobacco Flue Iron for this season's trade. I will make my flues this season in the Center Brick Warehouse, where I will be glad to fill orders from my old and new friends, the fourth consecutive season.

The demand will be heavy this season and to avoid delay and confusion, I advise all those who are reasonably sure of needing flues to place their orders early, and get their flues before the beginning of curing season.

To The Public.

If cough syrups would cure coughs every time, it would not be necessary for us to print this information, but there are many cases of chronic bronchitis in town that have hung on for months and years, we feel that we must tell what we know about it. It is a positive fact that the only right way to treat a cough is to use a remedy that acts on the blood, such as Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron preparation without oil.

This makes the blood rich and pure so it can heal and strengthen the inflamed bronchial tubes. It taste is so pleasant that even children like it. Mrs. Olivia Parham, East Durham, N. C., says: "I used Vinol for a cough which had lasted two years and it gave me perfect satisfaction. I am also giving it to a delicate child to strengthen her. She will not take any other medicine but Vinol is so pleasant so cries for it and it is benefiting her very much."

Remember if Vinol does not help you it costs you nothing. Moye's Pharmacy, Greenville, N. C.
