Pitt Democrats Were Well Rep- resented

Democratic Congressional Convention Held in Elizabeth City Yesterday

S. J. EVERETT IN WILSON'S FAVOR FOR PRESIDENT

The Democratic congressional convention for the first district was held in Elizabeth City Thursday, with all the counties well represented.

The convention was called to order by W. T. Cross, of Gates, chairman of the district executive committee, who after a few remarks called Mark Margette, of Tyrrell, as temporary chairman and G. R. Little, of Pasquotank, was made temporary secretary. After the roll call of counties to see that all were represented the temporary organization was made permanent with representatives of the Democratic press added as secretaries.

When nominations for congress were declared in order, E. A. Daniel of Beaufort, presented the name of John H. Small. Seconding speeches were made by G. T. Tyson, of Pitt; A. M. Simmons, of Currituck and Dr.
Thomas, of Hertford. The nomination of Mr. Small was made by acclamation. A. L. Pendleton, of Pasquotank; J. F. Tayloe, of Beaufort, and R. W. King, of Pitt, were appointed to notify Mr. Small, of his nomination.

After the election of delegates to the national convention were declared in order Judge G. W. Ward offered the motion that instead of having two delegates and two alternates for the district, as heretofore, the convention now elect four delegates and no alternates, each of the four being entitled to one-half vote in the national convention and this was adopted. For these delegates H. S.
Ward presented the names of L. L.
Smith, of Gates, Dr. John Biggs presented the name of W. G. Lamb, of Martin, Judge G. W. Ward presented the name of E. F. Aydtett, of Pasquotank and S. J. Everett presented the name of F. C. Harding, of Pitt. All of these were elected by acclamation.

For presidential elector H. S. Ward presented the name of Albion Dunn, of Pitt and Dr. Thomas presented the name of J. R. Mitchell, of Hertford. Mr. Dunn was elected on first ballot.

S. J. Everett, of Pitt offered a resolution recognizing the ability, the availability, the high type National Democratic leadership of Hon. Woodrow Wilson, as the implacable foe of preference in party machinery and commendation and endorsing his candidacy for the presidency. After some enthusiastic discussions this was adopted by unanimous vote.

The resolution was as follows: Whereas, we have faith in the ability, patriotism and superior equipment of Woodrow Wilson as statesman and Democrat; whereas we regard him as the implacable foe of special privilege and matchless advocate of equal opportunity under the law; and further believing that he stands unequivocally and firmly for separation of monopoly from participation in administration of government and for restoration of popular rule in political parties and in national and state governments; and whereas by universal recognition he is regarded as a national asset, commanding strength and support in every state, thereby demonstrating his fitness and availability as the strongest candidate for the presiden-

Anything Like a Polish Wedding.
MCKEESPORT, Pa., May 31.—With hundreds of delegates in attendance the fraternal order of the Polish Falcons of the United States and Canada began its biennial convention today in the neighboring town of Glassport.
The entire Polish population of western Pennsylvania turned out for the occasion. All the prominent officers and members of the organization were on hand, but out of consideration for the telegraphers and composers their names are omitted. Tomorrow morning the delegates will have a big street parade in McKeesport, followed by an afternoon of outdoor sport at Olympia park.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 31.— In connection with the annual convention of the American Medical As-Labor Legislation will be in charge of the conference and the participational Association of Labor Commissioners and the International Association of Factory Inspectors.

Myrtle Hawkins Case Defendant Ill

MRS. SHAFT CAUSES AD- JOURNMENT

HENDERSONVILLE, May 29.—
Counsel for the defense in the Myrtle Hawkins case here today continued its efforts to show by various witnesses that the body found in Lake Osceola was not that of Myrtle Hawkins. James Edney, of Crab Creek, said he had known Myrtle from childhood and was positive that the body could not have been that of the missing. Ed. Drake, A. F. Drake, his father and A. C. Justice, all of this city, testified that they had known Myrtle all her life and that the body was differently shaped, was older and heavier than the missing girl. The proceedings this morning were somewhat enlivened by the collapse of Furman Howard, a witness for the defense, who proved an unexpectedly strong witness for the state when he stated that he had seen Mrs. Shaft at the Hendersonville station sometime between September 1 and September 10. Following on the persistent efforts of the attorneys for the defense to prove that Mrs. Shaft had not been in Hendersonville, the admission of the witness caused an audible titer in the court room, to which the counsel for the defense strongly objected. Mrs. Shaft was taken ill at this point and court immediately adjourned.

Aeroplane Kills One Wounds Another

SEATTLE, Wash., May 30.—J. Chif-ford Turpin, the aviator, dashed into the grandstand and at the Meads in juring 15 other persons, six of them women.

Big Auto Grind Victory for National

Joe Dawson Driving a National Car Snatches 500 Mile Race
From Ralph de Palma

INDIANAPOLIS SEES BIGGEST "AUTO CROWD"

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 30.— After leading all the way from the start to the 198th lap, Ralph De-Palma's Mercedes developed engine trouble and Joe Dawson's National came up from six laps behind and won the second international 500-mile sweepstakes automobile race in the record time of 6.21.06. Teddy Tizlaff's Fiat was second. The Sturtz company protested the awarding of third place to Hughie Hughes' Mercer, contending their car, driven by Charles Merz, which was announced as fourth, won the position.

The day was ideal for the motor fans and not a serious accident marred the sport. Bub Burman, whose Cutting turned over in the back stretch when a rear wheel collapsed, was able to leave the hospital with a few scratches after a slight treatment and viewed the finish of the race.

Twenty-four cars, the pick of American, German, English and Italian factories, started. A Lexington, driven by Harry Knight, the hero of last year's race, who deliberately wrecked his car to avoid running down the driver of another car who had fallen on the track, was the first to quit, dropping out in its seventh lap. David Bruce-Born was the next to leave the track. When he found that his National was gone for good he broke down and wept. Others dropped out until there were only ten cars to finish.

Tariff Revision Bill Adopted by Senate

REPEAL CANADAIN REC- PROCITY BILL

WASHINGTON, May 30.—The house steel and iron tariff revision bill passed the senate today 35 to 22, repealing the Canadian reciprocity law putting a universal duty of $2 a ton on pig iron and cutting the duty on pig iron and ferro-silicon. The bill now goes to conference with the House.

The metal bill went through by default, many of the regular Republicans disappearing in order to allow the Democratic bill instead of the Cummings substitute to go through and permit the president to veto a straight Democratic measure. Only one Republican, Senator Gronna, of North Dakota, voted for the bill, while the entire negative vote was cast by Republicans, progressives as well as regulars. Senators Brandegee, Briggs, Catron, Dupont, Fall, Guggenheim, Lodge, Penrose, Richardson, Root, Smith of Michigan, Stephenson, Sutherland and Wetmore, regulars and Senators Clapp, Kenyon and LeFol-lette, progressives, were absent and unpaired. The bill is the first of the session's series of House tariff bills to be voted upon by the Senate. It reached the Senate January 30, more than two months being given to its consideration by the committee on finance.

The chemical tariff revision bill was made the unfinished business on motion of Senator Simmons.

Fire Destroys Fac- tory and Lumber Sheds

Belhaven Cooperaage Company Suffers Heavy Loss by Most Destructive Fire

A TOTAL LOSS AS NO INSURANCE WAS CARRIED

BELHAVEN, May 30.—Belhaven was visited by a one hundred thousand dollar fire early this morning and in consequence two hundred and fifty employes are thrown out of employment.

The fire was first discovered about one thirty o'clock in the box factory of the Interstate Cooperaage Company plant. When first seen it was under considerable headway and too far gone to save the box factory.

The alarm of fire was immediately and the fire department of Belhaven and the citizens generally promptly responded. If there had been a high wind the entire plant of the Interstate Cooperaage Company might now be a victim of flames.

The entire Box Factory, all the lumber sheds and two and one half million feet of lumber was totally destroyed. The loss is estimated to be at one hundred thousand dollars with no insurance.

The probability is that none of the buildings will be rebuilt. This is simply conjecture however as there has been no meeting of the stockholders since the fire.

The fire as above stated was first discovered about 1:30 o'clock and was not gotten under control until near 5 o'clock this morning.

The Roper Lumber Company's mill plant near the Interstate Cooperaage Company by hard work was saved from destruction.

How the fire originated is not known. It is thought it started from a spark. In consequence of the fire two hundred and fifty men are thrown out of employment. The capacity of the box factory was 15,000 boxes per day.

Accidental Death of Three Children

TWO BITTEN BY RATTLE SNAKE, ONE DROWNS

Across Pitt county's line in Craven county a farmer George Adams has sustained the loss of three children under unprecedented circumstances.
His wife was doing some washing in the yard, her three children, of whom the eldest was eight and the youngest one, were about her playing.

Alarming cackles from the henhouse attracted her attention and she ordered her elder boy to go and throw the offending hen from the nest. The boy went and without looking into the nest put his hand in to catch the hen. He quickly withdrew it crying that the hen had pecked him. The second boy volunteered to throw off the hen but he soon screamed that the hen had pecked him. The mother hurried to the nest and to her horror found out that a rattlesnake had taken possession of the nest. She hurried her two boys into the house to apply some remedy to the bites. Whilst busy in the house the little one year old child climbed into the tub and drowned.

The two boys bitten succumbed to the poison.

News of Our Native State Briefly Told

Will Not Hold Their County Con- vention Until June 3.

LENOIR.—A convention of the Democratic party of Caldwell is called to meet Monday, June 3, for the purpose of electing delegates to the state, congressional and senatorial conventions. The township primaries are called for Saturday, June 1 to elect delegates to the county convention.

There is considerable sentiment here for both Underwood and Wilson, but the majority of the Democrats appear rather apathetic and it is not very likely that the delegates will go the state convention instructed; nominations of candidates for the various county offices will be called later.

Methodist Will Locate Institution at "Little Washington".

WASHINGTON.—A telegram was received today from C. A. Finch, secretary of the chamber of commerce, who has been attending the meeting of the board of education of the Northern branch of the Methodist church, which has been in session at Nashville for the few days stating that the board had accepted Washington's proposition and would locate the Methodist College in this city.

GREENSBORO.—Supt. Mann of the perately ill at St. Leo's hospital for the past several weeks and whose condition several times was such that the attending physicians gave up all hope of recovery, is now rapidly recuperating and today was able to be moved from the hospital to his home.

Will Not Vote School Tax.

ASHEVILLE.—After mature consideration of the matter the board of education of this county has decided that the people are not sufficiently interested in the proposition to vote a special school tax of 30 cents on the $100 for the whole county at this time, consequently the board will not now ask for the county commissioners to call the election.

Pioneer Aviator Suc- cumbs to Typhoid

WILBUR WRIGHT PASSED AWAY THIS MORNING

DAYTON, O., May 30.—Wilbur Wright, the noted aeroplane builder and aviator, died of typhoid fever at three-fifteen this morning at the family home here. All members of his family were at his bedside till the last. Wright returned to this city May second from a business trip east, complaining of an illness. He blamed fish and clam broth eaten in Boston for his sickness. He was obliged to take his bed two days later. Two nurses were secured and physicians held a consultation on May 22, and decided that he was affected with typhoid fever. On last Tuesday physicians gave out all hope for his recovery. He was better Saturday and held out until this morning through remarkable vitality. He rallied at midnight and took nourishment and anxious watchers at his bedside were given fresh hope. However, a few moments later he began to sink and sank rapidly from then to the end.

Senator Simmons Comes Back at Kitchin

Senior Senator Tells About His Political Relations With Late

STINGING REBUKE TO GOV. KITCHIN RECORD CHARGES

WASHINGTON, May 30.—Sen. Simmons, speaking of the Charlotte Observer's account of Gov. Kitchin's speech at Winston-Salem said: "I have nothing to say about Gov. Kitchin's manifest effort, to undermine and discredit me in the esteem and confidence of the people of North Carolina by his carping criticisms and petty insults and innuendoes. If Gov. Kitchin had been half as diligent in the discharge of the duties of office as he is in seeking office he would have a record of accomplishment during the 16 years he has been in office to which he could appeal to the people for support in his candidacy for the Senate instead of having to occupy the pitiable position of placing his reliance solely upon perversion and labored criticisms of my record.

"But let that pass, I have but little concern about them; they do not disturb me because I have an abiding confidence in the intelligence and fairness of the people of North Carolina will take care of them.

"There is one thing, however, in Gov. Kitchin's speech to which I wish to refer. That is his declaration that Ex-Governor Aycock would have been not a candidate for the senate but for me, to him, unsatisfactory record.

"With respect to this statement of Governor Kitchin I desire to say that ex-Gov. Aycock during his life said over and over again, openly and above board, not only to one, but to a number of people that had been in the senate he would have voted just as I voted on lumber, reciprocity and Lor-mer."

Carpathia Captain Re- ceived Loving Cup

NEW YORK, May 30.—Capt. Arthur H. Rostron, commander of the Cunard liner Carpathia, the ship that sped to the rescue of the passengers of the sinking Titanic, was today presented with a handsome silver loving cup by a committee of Titanic survivors who boarded the liner on her arrival here today. Gold, silver and bronze medals, together with a framed set of engrossed resolutions, were presented to the officers and entire crew, which had been mustered in the saloon. Captain Rostron, in responding, said the credit was all due to the crew of the Carpathia; he had merely tried to do his duty as a sailor toward suffering humanity.
The crew, he said, have brought this honor to me and themselves.

SPIRITUAL TYRANTS OF INDIA.
Modern Agricultural Machinery Practically Unknown Because of Religion.

India has been well named "the unchanging east" and especially where farming is concerned. In the main the native farmer of today is as primitive in his methods as his ancestors were 1000 years ago. He abhors innovations as he does the Bombay plague, writes George Cecil, a well-known English traveler. Nothing will induce him to make the soil more fertile, either by irrigating or by manuring it, and as to reclaiming land, such a thing never enters his head. In deed, any attempt to change the earth's surface is viewed by the village greybeards with the greatest disfavor. "Khuda" (God) has intended India to remain a certain shape and if an alteration is desired, He will send an earthquake, is their simple way of looking at things.

"If you run contrary to the will of 'Khuda,' cholera will ravage the country and serve you right," is what the priests have to say upon the subject, and as the natives go in deadly fear of their spiritual tyrants it is not surprising that the word of the alleged holy men is law. Meanwhile, the Indian jogs along, content to farm at a net profit which may reach as low as 5 per cent. Were the patient black man to operate on a large scale his gains might be appreciable. Unfortunately for him, his activities are more or less minute and he has to give long credit.

Agricultural machinery is practically unknown in India. Attempts have been made to introduce steam plows and other tools, but without success. In some cases the natives were frankly afraid of the "devil machine" as they term any machine driven by steam, while in others they simply refused to tolerate a contrivance which doing away with hand labor, deprived them of their living. The cogs disappeared from the wheels, new driving straps mysteriously snapped, bearings became unexpectedly heated, piston rods broke off and driving wheels wobbled suspiciously. In fact, the prejudiced blacks saw to it that everything should go wrong; and, after a few disultory attempts to force the innovation down their throats, semi-enlightened employers withdrew the unpopular steam plow, returning to the hand plow with the biblical wooden plowshare which had served their forebears for generations.

Today, the only farm machinery to be found in India consists of a few solitary turnip satters of a pattern which has long been obsolete in civilized countries.

THE CAUSE OF TYPHOID FEVER.

Typhoid fever is caused by a germ. These germs grow in the intestines of typhoid patients but are never known to originate elsewhere or develop spontaneously. Every germ is a descendant from another germ of the same kind. Every case of typhoid comes from some other case of the same disease. The disease is contracted by swallowing the germs in our food and drink. Typhoid fever is a disgrace. It indicates the nastiest kind of filth pollution in our food supply. It indicates conclusively that fecal matter from some other typhoid patient has been eaten or drunk. The tiniest amount will cause the disease. One fly can carry enough filth on his dirty feet to cause a dozen cases. One drink of water from a polluted well will frequently cause the disease. Be careful what you eat and drink. Boiling dangerous water will kill the typhoid germs and make it safe for drinking. Sanitary privies and screens will greatly reduce the dangers from flies.

Furriers May Strike.

NEW YORK, May 31.—Here's where the long suffering public has a chance to laugh. The price of coal has advanced and now it is learned that fur coats, muffs and neck pieces are likely to cost more, just as if anyone cared—at the beginning of summer. The recent miner's strike boosted the price of coal and the same cause is expected to send the price of furs skyward. The 10,000 men and women employed in the manufacture of fur garments and dissatisfied with conditions as they exist and a general strike is threatened. The officers of the Furrier's International Union will meet in this city tomorrow to take a ballot on the question of calling a general strike. The eight-hour work day, increases in wages averaging 2g percent and recognition of the union, are the points involved.

Plows And Professions

The agricultural department of the University of Wisconsin reports that it has a great demand for training farm workers than it can supply. While the prospective graduates in the so-called learned professions are eagerly competing for a limited number of places open to them, every member of the agricultural class has secured in advance a good position, at salaries ranking from six hundred to three thousand dollars a year. In 1911, it is said, the average salary awaiting the graduate of the agricultural college was eleven hundred dollars.

Conditions in Wisconsin are evidently exceptional. They, nevertheless, reflect a deep-seated change that is becoming manifest throughout the country. That the time is approaching when agriculture will offer the young man just beginning life inducements superior to those of the professions and comparable to those of the commercial world. An agricultural education will be worth at the outset, more than a four-year course in law or medicine or the scientific and industrial pursuits. And when this comes to pass, there will be not only better farms, but more farmers and a more prosperous country.

Wisconsin prides itself upon its excellent facilities for agricultural training. The state has been particular in appropriations to the cause of scientific farming. Every dollar it has thus spent is bearing substantial dividends in a large yield from the soil and above all, in an awakened intelligence on the part of its rank and file of farmers. The farmers themselves are no longer content with unskilled and haphazard labor. They realize that it is economy to pay a good man from six hundred to three thousand a year. They realize that farming is, indeed, a great art and a business that demands accurate and thoroughgoing knowledge.

The University, it may be said is the score and inspiration of this new order of things. Its influence has been practical and aggressive. Through its extension schools it has gone straight to the homes of the people in the rural districts. It has dispelled the old illusion that country life must be burdensome and lonely and that the farmer must be continually struggling to make ends meet. It has shown that there is a large and rich province for brains in the country as there ever was or can be in the city; that the farm offers as abundant opportunities for success and prosperity as does any business or profession.

As a natural consequence we find in that state that the demand for skilled farmers is continually growing and that already it exceeds the capacity of the university to supply it.

Any state, that is to say, any state with agricultural possibilities, that exerts the same energy in this direction that Wisconsin has will produce similar results.

It is gratifying to note that within the past few years Georgia has shown a continually deepening interest in its agricultural college and in the various agricultural schools. And the fruitful influence of these institutions is becoming more and more apparent. Agriculture is a vastly different thing in Georgia from what it was a few decades ago and it is also vastly more profitable.

The legislature has never appropriated money more wisely or with more gratifying results than that it has allotted to the state college of agriculture and the district schools. Every citizen and taxpayer is better off because of the funds thus expended.

What a magnificent thing it will be when we can say in this state that the farm offers higher salaries to the young graduate than any business or profession does!

As our system of agricultural education is extended and perfected that will come to pass.—Atlanta Journal.

The Necessary Worm.

The discovery of a new species of earthworm may awake only a languid interest in the layman's mind, yet those minute studies of the humbler works of nature that result in bringing to light previously unrecognized inhabitants of the soil really possess a very high degree of interest, since they often indicate unsuspected processes whereby the earth is kept in a condition to be the home and nourisher of man.

Darwin surprised the general reading public by his revelations of the indispensable role played by the humble earthworm in cultivating the soil. He showed how the strength of a pygmy was changed into that of a giant by the virtue of numbers and of industry, so that the richest soil was turned over and over again by the labors of earthworms and thus kept in a fertile condition.

When, however, Darwin, discovered the importance of the work done by worms, he was not aware of the existence of more than eight or ten species in Great Britain. Now, owing to the labors of students who have devoted their time to the study of earthworms in that country, at least 20 different species are known, and a vast amount of interesting information has been gathered concerning their character and habits.—Harper's Weekly.

The formation of a gigantic federation of employes of the United States government, patterned after the American Federation of Labor and embracing all the various organizations of civil service workers, is proposed in a circular letter which is being sent out by the National League of Government Employes through George L. Cain, the president of the organization.

The Demons of the Swamp are mosquitoes. As they sting they put deadly malaria germs in the blood. Then follow the icy chills and the fires of fever. The appetite flies and the strength falls; also malaria often paves the way for deadly typhoid. But Electric Bitters kill and cast out the malaria germs from the blood; give you a fine appetite and renew your strength. "After long suffering," wrote Mm. T. Fretwell, Lucama, N.
