Denies Roosevelt Tickets at Chicago

Senator Dixon, Teddys' Manager
Put Out by Declaration of
Col. New

WILL PERSIST IN DEMAND FOR HIS SHARE

CHICAGO, May 31.—Colonel Harry S. New, chairman of the sub-committee on arrangements for the Republican national convention tonight declared that despite various reports and controversies, his committee would follow the system of seat distribution in vogue four years ago and previously in handling applications for seats at this year's convention.

Colonel New delivered the following shaft at United States Senator Dixon, Colonel Roosevelt's campaign manager:

"Regarding the Roosevelt seat incident, so called, I simply wish to say that I will make no attempt to match 'Joe' Dixon in billingsgate or insult and therefore will have no controversy with him."

Senator Dixon may take his demand for 250 tickets to the Republican national convention before the national committee of that party when that body meets in Chicago June 6.

This course was indicated today when it became known that members of the national committee had received long telegrams from Senator Dixon protesting against the action of Colonel New in refusing the desired tickets of admission.

Colonel New issued a statement in which he explained that the request of Senator Dixon was for tickets for the use of the Roosevelt national committee and not for the personal use of Colonel Roosevelt, and that the demand was refused the same as when the applications received from the managers of other presidential candidates.

In explaining the seat distribution Colonel New said no arbitrary number of seats would be given to any individual national committeeman but that each committeeman would receive an equitable proportion of available seats.

Telegraphic Ticks Gathered From Other Parts

General Election in Belgium.
BRUSSELS, June 1.—The campaign preceding the general election for the Chamber of Deputies, which takes place tomorrow, closed today with last appeals by the candidates through the newspapers. A flood of leaflets has also been sent through the post. The interest in the elections, judging from the attendance at the final meetings and the space devoted to the campaign by the newspapers, is unusually keen. The combination of the Liberals and the Socialists against the Clericals has helped to make the fight a very bitter one. The chief demand of the Liberals and Socialists is for unrestricted general suffrage and obligatory education.

German Catholics of Pennsylvania.
JOHNSTOWN, Pa., June.—Numerous delegations representing the Roman Catholic clergy and laity of Pennsylvania arrived in Johnstown today to attend the annual convention of the State Federation of German Roman Catholic Societies. The officers expect that the convention this year will eclipse all of its predecessors in point of attendance. The proceedings will be opened tomorrow morning with a political high mass in St. Joseph's church, which the delegates will attend in a body. In the afternoon a street parade will be held. The business sessions will continue over Monday and Tuesday.

Wedded in London.

LONDON, June 1.—Many prominent members of the American colony in London attended the wedding today of Miss Borrowdale (Chipman, daughter of Clarence Chipman, a former High Commissioner of the Hudson Bay Company and Rosewell M. Colt, son of Mrs. S. Pomeroy Colt, of Providence, R. I. The marriage ceremony was performed in St. Paul's church, Knightsbridge.

CONCORD, N. H., June 1.—The New Hampshire Bible Society, organized in 1812, today began a three day celebration of its centennial anniversary.

Democrats Fear Roosevelt's Nomination

WOULD MEAN HARDEST FIGHT BETWEEN PARTIES

WASHINGTON, May 31.—With Col. Theodore Roosevelt practically certain of nomination by the Republicans at Chicago, shadows of no uncertain proportions are beginning to darken the pathway of the once hopeful Democrats in Congress. Among the Democrats it is admitted privately, that the nomination of the former president means the hardest fight ever experienced for the Democratic party. That Colonel Roosevelt will be a hard man to defeat not even the most sanguine Democrats deny. No sane thinking Democrat in private conversation minimizes the impending struggle.

The question that is uppermost in the minds of Democratic leaders who really want a man nominated that can win is, whether it shall be a man of the Underwood type or a radical who travels the same road that Governor Wilson has pointed out as the course to victory. Not one Democrat out of 30 believes that President Taft will receive the Republican nomination. Any newspaper man who "circulates" among the members of the House and Senate will find that the Democrats are almost of the unanimous opinion that their party will be called upon to face Mr. Roosevelt on the hustlings next fall. Sixty days ago it looked easy for the Democrats. Nomination at Baltimore was regarded as tantamount to election, hence the scramble of the Democratic candidates who took the position that Mr. Taft could be licked by any good Democrat. The fight among the Democrats from now on is whether a sane Democrat can beat Roosevelt or whether it is a radical, so called progressive. If the latter, Professor Wilson is picked as the man to do

Saw Missing Girl in Cuban Troops Weak- Florida this Year ened by Detachment

VOLUNTARY WITNESS PLANTATION IN ORIENTE UPSETS PROSECUTION BEING GUARDED

HENDERSONVILLE, May 31.—Openly his testimony with the flat declaration that he had seen and talked with Myrtle Hawkins on Bay street, Jacksonville, Fla., several weeks after her body had been supposedly found in Lake Osceola, W. O. Shelnut, an Atlanta traveling man, long touted as the star witness for the defense in the Myrtle Hawkins case, and who informed a press representative last week that for the sum of $3,000 he would produce Myrtle Hawkins alive in Hendersonville court room, wilted under the scattering cross examination today and declared that he would not swear positively that the girl he had talked to was Myrtle Hawkins; that he might have been mistaken, as no man was perfect. He admitted that he had told a press representative that for $3,000 deposited in a local bank he would produce the living body of Myrtle Hawkins, now generally supposed to be dead. On the stand, however, when asked by the cross examining attorney if he, being willing to see justice done at that price would produce the girl, Shelnut said he thought he could.

An unexpected witness appeared in the person of John W. Deaver, of Transylvania county who, having stopped over in Hendersonville to change trains, voluntarily entered the court and informed attorneys for the defense that he had met and talked with W. O. Shelnut last January at Orlando, Fla., and that he (Shelnut) had told him then that Myrtle Hawkins was not dead as he (Shelnut) had talked to her a few days previously at Jacksonville. Mr. Deaver was immediately placed on the stand where he testified as stated.

The editor thanks Mr. J. C. Tyson for some very nice peaches brought him today.

AVANA, Cuba, May 31.—The government forces at the front of the district in Oriente, bounded by Gauntanamo, San Luis and Santiago, have been compelled to halt in consequence of the weakening of the main body by the dispatch of the outlying towns. General Monteagudo, the commander-in-chief of the Cuban army, who started from Santiago with 1,500 reinforcements, has delayed the forward movement in order to give his troops 24 hours rest, while determining the plan of attack.

General Monteagudo expresses full confidence in his ability to cope with the enemy.

PRESIDENT R. H. WRIGHT

Delivers Address at Warrenton High School

The closing exercises of Warrenton High School took place on Wednesday, the annual address to the graduating class being delivered by President Wright, of East Carolina Teachers Training School. From the report of the commencement in the Raleigh News and Observer we take the following:

"This morning President Robert H. Wright delivered the literary address before the graduating class. His theme was found in God's commission to man to subdue the earth. He followed the course of creation as recorded in Genesis, the appearance of sin and its results, showed that the first struggle and international strife, which gradually grew into national strife and international strife, discussed war and its effects. Then he traced the development of the spirit of love and brotherhood which was perfected in Christ. He reviewed the development of civilization from the earliest times up to the present, showed that all progress comes through the education of the people, expounded his idea of the correct meaning of the necessity of such an education for the masses if man is to really subdue the earth.

"The speaker and his speech have made a profound impression upon those who have had opportunity thus to come in touch with a man who, as president of a great institution which is destined to revolutionize public school teaching in North Carolina, is fast becoming recognized as a leader among the educational statesmen of North Carolina."

Younger Allen Will Hear Verdict Today

WYTHEVILLE, Va., May 31.—Two more speeches by attorneys remain to be delivered and then the case of Claude Allen, charged with the murder of Judge Massie, will be to the jury. There is probability of a verdict being reached tomorrow.

Six witnesses were examined this morning by the defense in order to prove that Daniel Thomas, whose veracity was attacked yesterday by the commonwealth and who was one of the strongest witnesses for the defense is a man of good character.

The instructions read to the jury were briefer than in the case of Floyd Allen, and the so-called "hanging" instruction was omitted. In order to further expedite matters, the arguments of attorneys were limited to seven hours for each side and a night session was held.

Incendiary Fire Occurs in Winston

Rope Saturated With Turpentine Running Up Elevator Shaft. Other Indications

PRINTING PLANT WELL INSURED WAS DAMAGED

WINSTON-SALEM, May 31.—Later developments in the fire which damaged the four story building on West Fourth street in the heart of the business district here early this morning tend to show that the fire was of incendiary origin.

The building was occupied by Sewart Brothers, job printers, who were doing a splendid business. The exact loss on the building, stock and machinery has not been estimated but it is understood that $43,000 insurance is carried.

The fire was discovered this morning at 3:30 o'clock by some policeman on the night force. The smoke was intense and awaked many of the guests at the Hotel Carolina across the street.

Deputy Insurance Commissioner W. A. Scott arrived here early today and made an investigation of the building together with the owners and several officers.

In the basement of the building, a rope saturated with turpentine ran up the elevator shaft. On the second floor this rope continued, was run into a five gallon can of benzine. A large box filled with paper shavings was placed so the saturated rope passed through it. On this floor there was a large cloth saturated with turpentine and placed on a ladder leading to the roof.

The rope ran up the elevator shaft to the third floor and was run down into a large can of benzine and gasoline and also through several buckets and pots of printers' ink. There was a large pile of paper shavings at the elevator shaft on this floor also.

Gov. W. W. Kitchin Grants Two Pardons

RALEIGH, May 31.—Governor Kitchin has granted pardons to two Lenoir county men—Dave Cobb, convicted in May, 1910, of house breaking and larceny and sentenced to 3 years on the roads and Alonzo Hicks, convicted in October, last, receiving stolen goods and sentenced to 10 months on the roads. In the case of Cobb the pardon is granted on the recommendation of the trial judge, solicitor, county physician and others, and in the case of Hicks for the same reasons. Another pardon is to Ephraim Little, convicted in Mecklenburg county in December, 1904, of murder in the second degree and sentenced to 12 years in the state's prison. The pardon was granted on the recommendation of the trial judge and solicitor. Little did not participate in the actual killing, but aided and abetted it.

MOCKSVILLE, May 31.—Already $2,200 of the $2,500 required to build the sandclay road from Mocksville to Ephesus has been raised. Work will begin at an early date and will probably be completed by the last of the summer, giving Davie county 12 miles of sand clay roads.

SATURDAY, JUNE 1, 1912.

WHAT ROOSEVELT MEANT IN 1904.

The supporters of Mr. Taft, in the President's effort to force his own renomination, have now everywhere declared that this announcement of Mr. Roosevelt (on election night, 1904) was in the nature of an explicit pledge that he would never, throughout the term of his natural life, allow himself to be brought forward for the presidency. Mr. Roosevelt, upon his own part, declares that, while he had not expected or planned ever to become a candidate, his announcement of November 8, 1904, had sole reference to the year 1908. The extraordinary virulence of the attacks upon Mr. Roosevelt, both by the newspapers supporting Taft and by the President himself, in their charges that he is breaking a solemn pledge, would seem to call for some frank discussion in the interests of the truth.

In the first place, Mr. Roosevelt would seem to have a superior right to tell us what he himself meant. In the second place, it is worth while to ask what was generally understood by his treatment at the time when he made it. And in the third place, it is even more important to inquire into the reasons why such a statement should be made at all and to get at the fundamental matters involved.

Let us begin with the third of these considerations. The Constitution tells clearly who are eligible for the presidency. It leaves it to the people, acting in a certain way, to choose whomsoever they will from among those having legal qualifications. To say that there is any "binding tradition" as to the number of terms a President should have is palpably absurd. It has been a custom not to give a President more than two consecutive terms. It was this "custom" Mr. Roosevelt called a "wise" one in his statement in 1904. There is nothing binding about the custom and the people have no reason to be afraid of themselves. They will never elect to the presidency a man they do not want. And if they want a man there is no possible reason why they should not elect him. The chief reason against consecutive terms in the presidential office is to be found in the growing power of the presidency.

So great has this power become that the selfish and unscrupulous holder of the place may not only conspire to control the nominating machinery of his own party, but may also be a member of the conspiracy that aims to control the machinery of the opposing party, for the sake of putting up an even weaker and more objectionable candidate. Executive tyranny and government by bururacy have lately become a menace in this country. The remedy, however, does not lie chiefly in devices for preventing the people from continuing the services of a good president. The remedy lies in giving the people a chance to control nominations as well as elections.

There was no need of Mr. Roosevelt's announcement in 1904, for in no case would he have abused the powers of his office for the sake of obtaining a renomination. But he wished to make it clear, so that nobody could think otherwise, that he was proposing to give undivided and impartial attention to the duties of his office. As was stated the case at the time, "his decision under no circumstances to be a candidate again served notice upon all men and all interests and no thought of a political future could enter into his public actions during the four years and four months that would intervene between election day and his retirement on March 4, 1909." So much for the reasons underlying Mr. Roosevelt's decision.

The New York World has come out strong for Woodrow Wilson for president. If the World keeps up the lick for him after he is nominated, instead of flying the track before the election as it has done in some former campaigns, it may mean something. All the same Woodrow Wilson is growing stronger every day.

Major J. C. Hemphill, who for the past six months was editor-in-chief of the Charlotte Observer, has retired from that paper to take a position on the New York Times. The major is a good one any where he goes and his association with the Times is in order to give him a larger sphere.

The destruction by fire of the entire plant of the Salisbury Post is truly a calamity. With undaunted pluck the paper at once placed an order for a new plant and we hope it will come out of the disaster better than ever. The people of Salisbury should certainly stand by it.

Mr. Roosevelt says he is going to be nominated and he counts North Carolina as one of the states he will carry in the election. There is a rude awakening in store for him.

One man has admitted that he feels he must take the opposite side on any question advocated by The Reflector. That accounts for his being on the wrong side.

Greenville is plumbing for another alarming disaster, either from auto or gas boat, and it is likely to come unless there is less wrecklessness.

There are plenty of candidates after the jobs to be filled by the board of aldermen for the fiscal year beginning July 1st.

The Young Woman's Society of the Methodist church will meet Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the ladies' parlor.

Bob Phillips is much on eats, but he says he draws the line on cucumbers.

The first congressional district of North Carolina is hard to beat in anything.

The Democrats of this district honored themselves when they again nominated Major Chas. M. Stedman for Congress last night. Still more honor would be achieved if the same thing should be done every other year. Only by keeping a representative in Congress, can any district hope to get its dues. Some of the men who yelled loudest for Stedman last night will be here two years hence yelling for some one else. It's a pity but it's true.—Greensboro News.

No Boss in North Carolina

One of the results of the political meetings held in this state by the democrats last week, so far as the reports we have received show, is that the people of North Carolina are quite able to take care of their own political affairs without the dictation of any political cabal that has undertaken without any authority from them, to say what they would do or should do touching any matter of political consequence to themselves and the country. It was to be expected, naturally, that a people who would not be bossed from London more than a century ago, could not be bossed from Raleigh or from any other place where the promoters of the political fortunes of any man might hang out their sign and issue their orders. The people in both the Carolinas, we are pleased to note, have more regard for the success of the Democratic party than they have for the political ambition of any candidate who has offered himself for the highest station within the gift of the American people. We have been told over and over again with many boastful words that North Carolina belongs to a certain candidate and the democrats of North Carolina at their meetings last Saturday proved, unless the final returns shall establish otherwise, that they belong to themselves; that they are in the present fight for the party and not for the man and that they do not relish the thought that their support, without any conference with them, can be pledged for them to any man.

The indictments are that the delegates from the state to the democratic national convention are to go to Baltimore without any bride upon their lips and without any instructions to vote for any particular candidate, regardless of the situation as it may develop in the convention. The state convention at Raleigh will select, we are sure, only men of character and men of intelligence to represent the democracy of North Carolina in the national assembly. If men of this description are not to be chosen, if the delegates to Baltimore are simply to vote the personal wishes of those who have essayed to speak without conference for the people of the state, it were better than North Carolina should have not representation in the convention at Baltimore. The fight this year is to be a fight for a restoration of the government at Washington to the control of the people and whether it shall appear at Baltimore that the chances of democratic success are better with Underwood or Harmon or Marshall or Gaynor or Clark, the delegates from the Old North State should be in position to vote for the man who has the best chance of winning the election. An uninstructed delegation composed of the best men of the party should be sent from this state to the national convention, without embarrassment, so that, when they are in position to judge the whole field, they can vote for the candidate who will be the most certain to lead the party to victory. The time has come, as we understand it, when the democratic party of North Carolina is not carried around in the breeches' pocket of any one man.—Charlotte Observer.

A Double Innovation

That any advantage of real value is to be gained by the introduction of sensational novelties in a church during the Sunday service, has always seemed to us to be extremely doubtful. We hear of pastors who "lighten" the usual program with secular features, as though the radiance of the Cross were not sufficient to "draw all men" as Jesus promised. And now the sweet strains of the old hymnal are to be supplemented by a modified callopio in the form of a whistling accompaniment. At a church near Hackensack, N. J., two Sundays ago, the pastor summoned twelve young lads of the Sunday school to the platform at the evening service, where they went through a program more suited to the ball field than to a religious meeting. They marched around to the tune of "Onward Christian Soldiers," and finally faced the audience, where they were introduced as the Boys' Whistling Club. They then gave the club yell in rousing fashion. It was startling, if not edifying, and was followed by a promenade during which the club whistled the hymn, "Stand Up, Stand Up for Jesus," followed by another, "Wonderful Words of Life," with organ accompaniment.—The Christian Herald.

A Fair Test.

The New Jersey primaries must be accepted as a fair test of the sentiment and interest of the voters in the presidential contest.

In no other state has money or political organization played so small a part in the campaign. With a strict registration law and a drastic corrupt-practices law and opportunities for corruption were reduced to a minimum. The ballot was so simple and the issue was so plain that no obstacles lay in the way of the voter's expressing his presidential choice.

The primary vote against Governor Wilson is a fair measure of the Democratic opposition to him in his own state. The primary vote against Mr. Taft is a fair measure of the Republican opposition in New Jersey to his nomination. There is no other state in which the results of a presidential primary deserve to be treated with so much respect and consideration.—New York World.

Social and Personal

FELLOWSHIP.

When a man ain't got a cent,
An' he's feeling kind of blue,
An' the clouds hang dark and heavy
An' work won't let the sunshine through.

It's a great thing, O my brethren,
For a fellow to just to lay
His hand upon your shoulder
In a friendly sort of way.

It makes a man feel queerish;
It makes the teardrops start,
An' you sort of feel a flutter
In the region of your heart.

You can't look up and meet his eyes,
You don't know what to say,
When his hand is on your shoulder
In a friendly sort of way.

Oh the world's a curious compound
With its honey and its gall,
With its cares and bitter crosses,
But a good world after all.

An' a good God must have made it—
Lastwise that is what I say,
When a hand is on your shoulder
In a friendly sort of way.
—James Witcomb Riley.

He obtained a military training as an officer of the Scotch Guards and in the last Boer war distinguished himself as commander of the City of London Infantry. He came into his title in 1899, but he had already made quite a parliament reputation for himself when as Viscount Bury he represented Birkenhead in the House of Commons in the Conservative interest.

Thomas Hardy

Thomas Hardy, the famous novelist, was born in Dorsetshire, England, June 2, 1840. He was destined for the architectural profession and during the several years that he was engaged in its study and practice he won several prizes offered by the British Institute of Architects. He then turned to literature, confining his attention at first to poetry, but at last tried his hand on a work of fiction called "Desperate Remedies," published in 1871. In 1874 he published "Far from the Madding Crowd," which immediately established his reputation as a novelist. Another of his famous stories is "Tess of the D'Urbervilles," which was dramatized with great success.

Miss Olivia G. Cox left Tuesday for Seven Springs where she expects to spend most of the summer months.

The death angel visited the home of Mr. L. M. Barker Wednesday at 7 a. m. when the spirit of his wife took its flight to meet the God who gave it. The interment took place Thursday afternoon in the cemetery where the body was laid to rest in the presence of a host of friends. She leaves a husband and four children to mourn her death. Our heartfelt sympathies go out to the bereaved ones.

We have a supply of cultivators on hand still. Come and let us sell you one. A. W. Ange and Company.

Miss Dora E. Cox returned from Raleigh Friday.

Mr. Jerome McGlohon seems to have had some ill luck on his maiden trip with his machine yesterday. The boys who went with him say he did a couple of things, one was tearing down a buggy wheel and the other was his attempt to ride the wire fence. We do not think he was very successful in the latter for the machine had to be pulled into town.

Mr. B. T. Cox made a pleasant trip to Ayden last night and returned in the (Leve Lunae).

Mrs. Fille Rouse of Middlesex is visiting friends and relatives here this week.

While driving on the supposed streets of Ayden last Thursday p. m. Mr. C. T. Cox's horse became entangled with a chain, one end of which was fastened to a stake while, the other was attached to the horns of a cow, throwing the horse and breaking the harness. Mr. Cox says that he wants to know if it is chaper to use cows to keep the weeds down than to hire hands?

N. S. Opens a New Station in Norfolk

The Norfolk Southern Railroad has pleasure in announcing that on and after June 1, 1912, the new terminal station, situated at the end of East Main street, Norfolk, Va., will be opened and used jointly by the Norfolk and Western Railway, Virginia Railway and Norfolk Southern Railroad.

Night express train No. 6, leaving Greenville, at 1:09 a. m. tonight will be the first train to enter the new station.

This magnificent new terminal station and general office building, with approaches and other appurtenances, has just been completed. The main building consists of nine floors and is occupied by the offices of three railway lines using the station. It is built of red tapestry brick with limestone and tile trimmings and has a frontage of 198 feet on Main street, with a depth of 104 feet. It is thoroughly fire proof and alords every modern facility for safety, comfort and convenience. The main entrance is off Main street with a spacious driveway and portechere on the west side. The general waiting room is 140 feet long by forty feet wide and with a height of 28 feet to the ceiling, thus insuring perfect ventilation. The interior finish consists of massive marble columns with bronze base and walls of marble, of a soft gray hue. The floor is polished terrazzo and is in complete harmony with the walls and ceilings.

The arrangement of the tracks, exits, ticket offices, baggage and parcel rooms and other facilities is the most complete and convenient of any passenger station in the South.

Ticket Offices.

The offices for the sale of both railroad and pullman tickets are located inside of the Main entrance on the right side. Every detail has been carefully arranged for the convenience and accommodation so as to avoid crowding, delays or confusion at the ticket windows.

Private Waiting and Retiring Rooms For Ladies.

The ladies waiting room is located in the southwest corner of the building, fronting on Main street and adjoining the carriage entrance. These rooms are fitted with wicker arm chairs, rockers and lounges and are finished in white with soft gray trimmings producing a very cozy and pleasing effect.

Facilities For Checking and Handling Baggage.

Arrangements for checking and handling baggage are complete. The rooms are situated in the northeast corner of the building and are provided with an entrance from the street, the main waiting room and the concourse. Every facility for convenience is provided.

Concourse, Train Sheds and Tracks.

The concourse is 180 feet long and varies in width from 40 to 80 feet. Everyone of the thirteen passenger train tracks are protected with the improved umbrella sheds. The floor of the concourse is laid brick cement joints. There is an exit from the train sheds and concourse direct to Main street.

Parcel Checking Room and News Stand.

A parcel checking room and news stand is located in the main waiting room opposite the ticket offices and adjoining the smoking room.

Telegraph and Telephone Service.

The Western Union Telegraph Company and the Southern Bell Telephone Company will maintain offices in the station and afford services at all times.

Passenger and Baggage Transfer Service.

The Norfolk and Portsmouth Transfer Company will maintain an office in the station to take orders for taxicabs and for the transfer of baggage.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedial. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.
