BRYAN REFUSES CHAIRMANSHIP CROWN ON GROUND OF INCOMPATIBILITY OF IDEALS

His Suggestion That Platform Should Not Be Drafted Until Presidential Candidate is Elected, Adopted---Shows That Commoner is Still Strong With the Party

In Spite of Alleged Clark Advantage "Dark Horse" Rumors Are Afloat

NEW JERSEY GOVERNOR EXPECTS W. J. BRYAN'S SUPPORT

COMMITTEE AGREES TO HOLD UP THE PLATFORM

BALTIMORE, June 26.—By a vote of 22 to 16 the rules committee of the Democratic National Convention today agreed to the plan to defer the presentation of the platform until after the party's candidate for president had been nominated.

CONVENTION HALL, BALTIMORE, JUNE 6, 2 O'CLOCK.—CONVENTION IN UPROAR. WILSON AND CLARK DEMONSTRATIONS. RWALING ENTUSIASTS PARADING HALL. WIT BANNERS AND SHOUTS. AUDIENCE TIRED. CREDENTIALS DEBATE.

BALTIMORE, June 26.—Because he is not in sympathy with the forces, "seemingly in control of the Baltimore convention," William Jennings Bryan of Nebraska today declined to accept the chairmanship of the resolutions committee unanimously tendered him.

When the committee met at 10:15 o'clock Mr. Bryan was not present. His absence was disconcerting. No one appeared to know what the Nebraskans attitude was to be, but it was rumored that he had said to several friends that he would not accept the responsibility of directing the platform makers.

After brief discussion it was suggested that a committee of Mr. Bryan's friends should be sent to his rooms to urge him to assume what the committee declared to be a duty to his party.

The committee of senators returned to the convention hall and entered the committee room just in time to hear Mr. Bryan conclude a speech refusing to serve as chairman.

He declared that unless the platform embraced his ideas of true progress he would submit a minority report to the convention.

Not content to so easily abandon their harmony program the committee turned the matter over to Senators Rayner O'Gorman and Culberson and they held an earnest discussion with Mr. Bryan in one corner of the room.

Senator Kern was turned to at once as representing the progressive Democrats and there was no nomination in honor to him. His election was unanimous and the committee began hearings preliminary to closing the doors for the actual work of making the party platform.

As soon as the committee organized Mr. Bryan moved that the presentation of the platform be deferred until after the convention had nominated a candidate for president.

He spoke at some length urging a progressive platform and particularly in reference to the tariff and direct election of Senators on which planks there was found to be a division of sentiment.

"We do not want and must not have a perpetual debate between the candidate and the platform," said Mr. Bryan, in advocacy of his motion postponing action on the platform until after then omination of the presidential candidate, he continued "and the only way to prevent such a re- sult is to name your man first. Indeed, in these days the man is the platform."

The candidate he urged, should have an opportunity to talk about the platform in advance if its making rather than to feel impelled to talk against it afterward.

Thursday—Call to order by permanent chairman; opening prayer; placing of presidential candidates in nomination; roll-call of states to record their votes for candidates, continued until one candidate receives two thirds of the votes; speeches placing vice-presidential candidates in nomination; roll-call of states until selection is made announcement of members of new national committee; adjournment sine die.

COME TO SHAKE BRYAN'S HAND SPEECHMAKING IN BALTIMORE

Roosevelt's Lieutenants Over in Baltimore

No Importance Attached to the Fact That They Come to see Him Says Commoner. Denies Third Party.

BALTIMORE, June 26.—William Jennings Bryan tonight admitted that Francis J. Heney and Crane, two Roosevelt leaders, saw him today for a few minutes.

There is a general impression here that if a reactionary is put over or an alleged progressive, that the Bryan wing will find comfort in the Roosevelt camp. With the presidential situation in the air still nothing definite as to a third party is ascertainable.

This would indicate a possible shift of Murphy to Underwood. It was learned tonight that a plank in the platform will likely declare that the Democratic platform is a contract entered into between the people and the candidate and that the candidate will be compelled to stand up to its declaration. This is a Bryan move.

Stole Preacher's Sermon—is Bound Over

Henry Crawley, the young white boy, who broke the records of the local police department by stealing a minister's suit case, containing notes for some of his sermons, was tried this morning on the charge of tearing the suit case, the police believing that the larceny of the sermons was an accident, since the boy's reputation would make it hard to prove that he was guilty of stealing the sermons.

Second Day of Convention Brings Forth Orators

Nation's Best Known Speakers Enter Vast Audience With Gems of Oratory While Waiting

BALTIMORE, June 26.—With the speech of Judge Alton B. Parker as temporary chairman of the Democratic national convention, the first day of the august assemblage came to an end at 9:45 p. m.

Fair weather marked the second, and while the hour of convening was not until noon the hall began filling an hour sooner. The overnight had brought many conjectures and predictions that the result of the first day's work had practically eliminated most of the presidential candidates.

When temporary chairman Parker walked up the platform a few minutes past noon, it was almost without observation and there was not even a ripple of applause.

The convention started out to take a day doing nothing and immediately after the invocation there was a motion to adjourn which was voted down. This was followed with a time filling by speeches of prominent men who kept the crowd entertained. These were Governor Folk, of Missouri, Senator Raynor of Maryland, Congressman Clayton of Alabama.

Fire Destroys Lumber Plant in Arthur

Over the telephone The Reflector learned that about three o'clock this morning fire which had already made considerable headway was discovered in the lumber plant of C. D. Smith in Arthur. The flames had so far gained control when the discovery was made that although the utmost was done to check them, human effort was futile and Mr. Smith soon saw his plan reduced to ashes.

BRYAN'S DEFEAT NOT QUITE DECISIVE

Chairmanship Incident Does Not Disclose Strength

STILL VERY STRONG WITH PARTY

Should He Declare Himself an Aspirant Leaders Declare His Strength Would Show to Advantage. Do No. Expect This

BALTIMORE, June 26.—It was definitely stated today prior to the beginning of the second session of the Democratic National Convention that William Jennings Bryan, defeated in the convention yesterday, has determined to precipitate another fight on the floor of the convention at the earliest opportunity.

Mr. Bryan, it is said, has taken the ground that precedent should be upset and a nomination made for the presidency before the platform is written and adopted.

Some of the Nebraskan's callers today quoted him as saying that it was useless to write a progressive platform if the conservative element should control the nomination.

Some of Mr. Bryan's friends say the request to him to frame the party declarations is an attempt to commit him in advance to the subsequent action of the convention to the nominee who might be willing to accept the Bryan platform.

Whether the former candidate holds this view of the matter was not disclosed. It was certain toay as he left his hotel for the meeting of the committee on resolutions that he was full of fight and had determined to wage war against Ryans and the Belmonts to the end of the gathering.

Both the Bryan and the anti-Bryan factions in the convention were interested today in third party gossip which is prevalent. The advent of Francis J. eney of California who fought for Roosevelt in the Republican National Convention and Chas. R. Crane, of Chicago, who helped to conduct the early La Follette campaign and their reported interview with Mr. Bryan, gave an impetus to the discussion.

Serious Charge Against Young Negro

Before Magistrate Rountree this afternoon Jim Graham, colored, 16 years old was tried on the charge of assault upon a young white girl in the neighborhood of the Ball Park on Tuesday afternoon. Graham was bound over to superior court and committed to jail.

The complaint reached Policeman George Clark yesterday morning and he at once set about to capture the accused. Clark was given a pretty accurate description of the young negro and also of the other two colored boys that were with him when the attempted assault took place. All day yesterday George kept a sharp look out driving about town. This morning he arrested one of the boys he knew had been with the accused and a few minutes later guided by him he arrested the negro who attempted the assault.

Tar Heel Bankers in Morehead City

MOREHEAD CITY, June 26.—The North Carolina Bankers Association is holding one of the most important sessions in the history of the organization at the Atlantic hotel here.

The program for the initial session, which was called to order by President J. C. Braswell, of Rocky Mount, follows:

Invocation—Rev. Euclid McWhorter, Morehead City. Address of Welcome on Behalf of Morehead City—W. L. Arendell. Response—W. S. Blakely, president Bank of Union, Monroe, N. C. President's Annual Address—J. C. Braswell, Rocky Mount, N. C. Report of Secretary and Treasurer—W. A. unt, enderson, N. C. The convention will adjourn Friday.

N. C. WRITER NAMED SECRETARY

Victory of Tar Heel Over Mack's Candidate, Woodson

WILSON STRONG IN N. C.

On the First Ballot the New Jersey Governor Will Poll 15 1-2 North Carolina Votes, Second Will Give Him 4 1-2 More

BALTIMORE June 26.—The selection of E. E. Britton, of Raleigh, as permanent secretary of the convention was the outcome of a great fight in the committee of permanent organization led by A. W. McLean of Lumberton. Chairman Mack attempted to have Urey Woodson of Kentucky retained, but the selection of Senator-elect Ollia James of Kentucky for permanent chairman made the opening for the Tar ell triumph. Peculiarly enough, Bell of California, who yesterday deserted Bryan, worked for Britton today.

J. B. Underwood of Fayetteville, says Wilson will get 15 1-2 votes from North Carolina on first ballot, but that on the second Wilson will get perhaps 20 votes, the others coming over out of respect for wishes of the state.

If the North Carolina delegation should follow this plan it will be one of the few states to restore the representative idea. Senator Bristow of Kansas, who is doing special newspaper work here, remarked today that both the Chicago and Baltimore conventions indicate how little the opinions of the mass of people is represented in the conventions.

Bryan's syndicated article today threw this at Parker: "The reason the delegate would not listen to his address was because there were only about 300 present who understood his (Parker's) language, and Wall street did not have an interpreter present."

Champ Clark will be nominated if the Murphy-Taggart combine can bring it about. This would likely give the vice presidency to New York.

Bryan's victory in the rules and resolutions committee today indicate that every effort will be made to stop the alliance schemes.

Special Washington Letter

Comment on Current Events

(By Victor Elliott)

WASHINGTON June, 28.—If an amendment pending before the House of Representatives be enacted into law, the repeal of the Sherman Anti-Trust Act will follow. In effect this is the opinion of Attorney General Wickersham, who sees in the proposition an attempt to nullify all trust prosecution that may hereafter be begun by the Department of Justice. The amendment was introduced by Representative Beall of Texas during the discussion of the sundry civil bill.

This amendment would prevent the employment by the Government of ex-secretary Jacob M. Dickinson, chief government counsel in the suit against the United States Settling Corporation and would similarly effect B. D. Townsend, special assistance to the Attorney General now prosecuting proceedings in behalf of the government against the Southern Pacific Railroad for the recovery of nearly $15,000,000 worth of public lands.

In addition to these men, seventy-five others of the legal staff retained on the rolls of the Department of Justice and engaged in prosecuting various suits under the Sherman Anti-Trust Act would be thrown out of the government's employ. As there are only 300 lawyers forming what is termed the anti-trust bureau of the Department of Justice, the discharge of practically one third of this number would greatly effect the government's efficiency.

The amendment, Representative Beall says, is for the purpose of correcting certain evils and abuses now existing by making a lump sum appropriations for the maintenance of Government Departments. In explanation of his attitude, he cited the case of Marion Erwin, District Attorney at Atlanta, Georgia. As District Attorney, he received a salary of $3,500. Attorney General Wickersham appointed him special assistant of the Department of Justice to prosecute the criminal cases against Messrs. Gaynor, Green and Carter, under indictment for complicity in connection with the harbor improvement scandal at Savannah.

His employment as District Attorney and as special assistant to the Attorney General occupies a period of eleven years during which time he received from the government $95,000 in salary. He drew $40,000 in salary as District Attorney and $55,000 in salary as special assistant.

Numerous instances of this sort, Mr. Beall stated to the House, are permitted by the present system. He characterized as wrong any system that would permit a man to draw two salaries from the government.

While, perhaps, the amendment would tend to curb such expenditures as these, at the same time, Mr. Wickersham points out that if the measure be adopted by the House and Senate, it will retard and destroy the work that the Department of Justice is doing under the Sherman Anti-Trust Act. He says the provision would forbid the Attorney General from using the sundry civil appropriations for the payment of salary or allowance to any person occupying the position of special assistant or any person who had been in the federal employ during the proceeding two years.

The amendment, which has caused consternation among the special anti-trust bureau employees, provides "that no part of any appropriations shall be used for the payment of any salary, fee, compensation or allowance in any form whatever to any person person who holds any other office, place, position or appointment under the United States government or any department thereof, or who, within two years next preceding the date of this appointment, designation or employment, has held any other office, place, position or appointment under the United States government or any department thereof."

In this connection, it is only fair to Representative Beall to say that the practice of the Department of Justice in paying two salaries to one man, as in the case of Marion Erwin, is against the policy of other government departments. There is a provision in some of the other executive departments which prevents a clerk or other employe, no matter what his position, from drawing two salaries from the government.

In the case of Secretary of War Stimson, while District Attorney in New York, two salaries were allowed to him for a while. He later resigned his office as District Attorney to accept an appointment from the Attorney General at nearly twice his salary as District Attorney to prosecute the sugar barons under the Sherman Anti-Trust Act. In this case he was allowed to share in the recovery of fines and damages paid by the sugar interest into the Treasury of the United States.

FREDERICK WILLIAM.

There are many instances where the government has elevated a District Attorney from a small salary to a larger salary with a percentage fee. At the close of the past fiscal year, ten attorneys of the Department of Justice engaged in special work, such as the amendment introduced by Representative Beall alludes to, salaries of over $200,000 from the government, in addition to the percentage they received.

Taking the matter in its entirety, there seems to be great weight in the arrangement of Attorney General Wickersham, who says that the efficiency of the department will be materially handicapped if the Sundry Civil Appropriation bill be passed with the Beall amendment. The highest paid lawyer of the Department today is James A. Fowler, Assistant to the Attorney General. He receives $7500. In private practice an attorney handling such cases as come before the department would not be overrated were he to receive an annual salary of four or five times that amount.

NEW YODK, June 22.—This season's vogue of separate and contrasting coats materially simplifies the problem of the summer wardrobe. It also permits the use of thin and sheer skirt or frock material which would not tailor well in that coat and yet is admirably comfortable and drapable for skirt or frock. The average lightweight silk is hard to handle in a coat unless one adopts one of the odd fanciful little models which, while charming for dressy wear, do not look well with a simple street costume. But with a lightweight cloth or silk with some body of coat material the supplest and lightest of stuff may be used for the skirt or one-piece frock.

A very fine, supple, light broadcloth is well liked for such coats, and with this anything from charmeuse to chiffon is in order for skirt material. In color the two may match, but a contrast is smarter and there is in Paris a decided liking for a light coat with a darker skirt, which is a reversal of the traditional order of things. White, both in cloth and in such silks as charmeuse, drap de soie, etc., is particularly favored and worn over skirts of black and color. One of the best looking models of this class had a coat of chalk white broadcloth fine and supple as satin and very simply tailored, though of extremely chine lines. This topped a skirt of soft blue charmeuse, dark but dull, which fell straight and full to the back, and in front and sides showed a few soft drapery lines near the bottom. Only fluffy tulle and lace frills showed between the open coat fronts, but there was presumably a simple bodice of the charmeuse.

Dark or bright coats over light skirts are legion, and while the idea of the contrasting coat of this sort has been taken up by the manufacturers and developed in innumerable cheap forms the well made coats with the novel details retains its distinction and has an air entirely different from that of the cheap version. Generally speaking, the best of these coats are very simple as to finish, relying upon line and material for their cachet. The taffeta models almost invariably have lines of corded shirring in the silk for trimming, but the full, fussy models in taffeta are not usually so effective as those simple of line. One of the taffeta coat models shown in one of the fashionable shops clearly showed the effectiveness of simplicity and careful tailoring.

The short coat of black satin, simply trimmed with buttons, folds and loops of the satin and lined through with white chiffon cloth or thinnest crepe which faces the rolled collar is perhaps the most useful of all the many versions of the revived short separate coat. The other soft silk, plain, corded, moire, changeable, plain tone, etc., are also pressed into coat service, and among the new importations one finds some youthful looking and every chic models in Norfolk and Russian lines.

One of the latest arrivals in changeable silks is the "jewel silk." It is of about the same weight as taffeta but is woven with almost imperceptible cord line and is more supple than taffeta. It is apparently uncrushable and its changeable colorings are very lovely, the designers having attempted to reproduce the shades in familiar jewels—opal, turquoise, sapphire, tourmaline, etc.

Goods snugly resting on a shelf are very much like a miser's gold—all right, but in need of circulating...

A Secret has better chance to travel than the goods of a merchant who will not talk about them all the time. The up-to-date merchant looks to advertising like the announcer to his megaphone. Advertising enlarges the circle of merchant's business, the megaphone strengthens the volume of the voice. Both multiply the chances of a hearing. In grand father's time advertising was not thought of. But in grandfather's time competition was slight. Today it is so keen that a merchant must look out else the edge of competition may separate him from his business.

"HOME OF THE BEST PRINTING"

WE take this means of thanking all of our friends who have been thoughtful enough to compliment us on our "LARGER AND BETTER" DAILY REFLECTOR. The Raleigh Daily Times comments in part: "A paper which shows improvement reflects the development of the country over which it circulates. Every word of which is true. The Greenville Tobacco market will probably sell 14,000,000 pounds of tobacco this year, or 5,000,000 pounds more than last year. This meant a strenuous planting campaign by our farmers. Mr. Merchant, why not begin your selling campaign now? Join THE REFLECTOR'S advertisers. Know that your ad will be read by 4,500 people, with this number increasing daily.

FRECKLES.

New Drug that Quickly Removes These Homely Spots.

There's no longer the slightest need of feeling ashamed of your freckles, as a new drug, othine—double strength, has been discovered that positively removes these homely spots.

Simply get one ounce of othine—double strength, from any first class druggist and apply a little of it at night and in the morning you will see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the lighter ones have vanished entirely. It is seldom that more than an ounce is needed to completely clear the skin and gain a beautiful clear complexion.

Be sure to ask for the double strength othine as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.

List Your Taxes—Last Call.

To the Taxpayers of Edgecombe County, whether residing in or out of the county, notice is hereby given that all property owned by them, either as principal or trustee, must be listed in the township where situated, on or before Saturday, June 15th, 1912. And thereafter all persons who have failed to list their taxes for any cause, are required to appear before the list taker at such times and places as he may designate in his notices and list their property. After the dates named in the notice posted by the list taker the tax lists will be closed.

Attention is also called to the fact that failure to list will result in your being double taxed and the taxpayer failing to list subjects himself to a misdemeanor.

The same penalty is provided for the citizens of the county liable for poll tax. The penalties prescribed by law will be enforced.

By order of the Board of Commissioners of Edgecombe County.
H. S. BUNN, Clerk of Board.
