

GENERAL BOOTH DIED IN LONDON

Salvation Army Head Peacefully Asleep

HAD BEEN AILING FOR YEARS

Probable Successor of Earnest Social Worker is His Eldest Son. Whole World Mourns Booth's Death

LONDON, Aug. 20.—The Rev. William Booth, general and commander in chief of the Salvation Army, passed away at 10.13 tonight. He was born in Nottingham in 1829.

The veteran Salvation Army leader was unconscious for forty eight hours previous to his death. The medical bulletins had not revealed the seriousness of the general's condition, which for a week past, was hopeless.

Twelve years ago General Booth underwent an operation for the removal of a cataract in his left eye. For two days after the operation indications justified the hope of the general's recovery. Then, however, septic poisoning set in and from that time, with the exception of occasional rallies, the patient's health steadily declined. The general recognized that the end was near and often spoke of his work as being finished.

Throughout the commander in chief's illness his son, Bramwell Booth, chief of staff of the army and Mrs. Bramwell Booth, gave their untiring attentions to him both night and day.

The aged evangelist died at his residence, the Brookstone, Hadlewood, some eight miles from London, where he had been confined to his bed ever since the operation.

Public interest now centers in the question of a successor to the late commander. Under the constitution of the Salvation Army the general nominates his successor. That General Booth did several years ago, placing the names in a sealed envelope which was deposited with the Salvation Army's lawyers with instructions that it should not be opened until after his death. While nobody knows what name the envelope encloses, the general belief among the Salvation Army is that it will prove to be of Bramwell Booth, who for 30 years has been its chief of staff.

Where General Booth will be buried has not yet been decided. While every English member of the Salvation Army is convinced that no man was more worthy of interment in Westminster Abbey, it is not expected this honor will be awarded to General Booth by the Abbey authorities. It is the general belief that the commander in chief's last resting place will be along side that of his wife, who 21 years ago was buried in Abney park, Stoke Newington.

Picnic Near Bethel

BETHEL, N. C., Aug. 20.—A merry picnic was given on Monday at Conetoe Creek in honor of Miss Ada Little, of Washington and Misses Sallie Smith and Myrus Height, of Robersonville, guests at Miss Lillie Bunting's house party.

The picnickers left Bethel about eleven o'clock in two large wagons. College yells and songs were given with much spirit on the way. Lunch was spread a la carte not long after the arrival of the party and lemonade was enjoyed throughout the day. After lunch the guests were entertained by playing rook, boat riding and automobile spins.

Those who composed the party were: Misses Myrus Height, Sallie Smith, Ada Little, Mantie Whitehurst, Mand Barnhill, Ma Bullock, Velma Blount, Little Bunting and Estelle Jones; Messrs. Marvin Blount, Vance Bunting, Van Taylor, Davis McWhorren, Leighton Blount, Davis Bullock, T. A. Andrews, J. L. Gargames, and Drs. C. O. Griffin and M. P. Manning, Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Staton, chaperaid.

At four o'clock the picnickers returned having had a very gay and charming time.

NEW BANKING BUILDING FOR "OUR" GREENVILLE

BANKING AND TRUST COMPANY TO ERECT SOLID STRUCTURE
ON NEW BOUGHT LOT

EXPENDITURE WILL BE ABOUT $20,000

The Greenville Banking and Trust Company, one of Eastern North Carolina's most progressive banking institutions, is about to erect a magnificent bank building on the lot recently purchased on Main street. Hooker and Anthony are at present occupying the site but will find a new home sometime between now and the fall when the building operations will be started by the Greenville Banking and Trust Company.

Mr. C. S. Carr is already in receipt of the plans of the new building. These were shown by him to a Reflector representative this morning and we can truthfully say that they leave nothing to be desired, both in magnificence and solidity of appearance and in the distribution of the offices.

When this building is completed Greenville will have further occasion to be proud of the Greenville Banking and Trust Company and the directors of this institution will have something to show for their faithful labor.

MISS DUPREE ENTERTAINS

Complimentary to Miss De Loatche, of Norfolk

On Tuesday afternoon at the home of her mother on Evans street, Miss Mary Lucy Dupree entertained delightfully in honor of her guest, Miss Mary De Loatche, of Norfolk. On arrival the guests were welcomed by the hostess and presented to the guest of honor. Cherry smash was served by Miss Marguerite Higgs.

The home was tastefully decorated with potted plants and asters. Baskets of asters were suspended from the chandeliers.

Tables were set for "Euchre" in the parlor and for "Rook" in the library. Little Misses Josephine and Willie Skinner presented the guests with attractive score cards. The games were played with much enthusiasm. At the conclusion of the games Miss Ruebelle Forbes was declared winner of the "Euchre" prize, a deck of cards and Miss Hilda Critcher of the "Rook" prize, a box of handkerchiefs. The guest of honor's prize was a "boudoir cap". The visitors' prize which was won by Miss Roberson of Rocky Mount, was also a "boudoir cap". After the presentation of the prizes a course of ices and cakes were served. Salted almonds were served throughout the games. Quite a number of out of town guests added much pleasure to the afternoon. Beautiful vocal selections were rendered by Misses De Loatche and Ariene Joyner.

"The Search For Fairyland" In Central Park, New York

Photos by American Press Association.

A "SEARCH FOR FAIRYLAND" was conducted by 3,000 or more enthusiastic young followers of Peter Pan one evening this summer, with eminently satisfactory results. The searchers were New York boys and girls who, thanks to Park Commissioner Stover, had one of the meadows of Central park for their hunting ground. When the hunters, in presence of 50,000 spectators, had scoured the lawns in vain, a bugle sounded and a diminutive herald announced that the king and queen of Fairyland would show themselves to their subjects. Immediately a big maypole shone with electric lights, which were matched with thousands festooned from the park trees, and their majesties were disclosed, surrounded by elves and fairies, who were soon intermingled with the gayly attired "subjects" who footed it merrily in varied folk dances until the ice cream and cookies were distributed. Two of the features of the pageant—which is expected to be an annual affair—are pictured above—the king and queen in their chariot and some up to date cowboy fairies in "chaps" and sombreros.

First Bale of New Cotton Reaches Norfolk

NORFOLK Va. August 20.—The first bale of new cotton for the season of 1912-13 arrived in Norfolk this morning. It was consigned to Savage Son and Company and was shipped by R. J. Blackwell, of Marion, S. C., where it was raised. It came in over the Atlantic Coast Line Railway.

The grade of the new cotton was strictly middling and was sold to George Hogman and Company at 14 cents a pound. Cotton dealers look upon it as an indication that the crop this year will be of exceptional quality.

Last year the first bale of new cotton was received in Norfolk on August 12th almost two weeks earlier than this year. In 1910 the first new bale was received in Norfolk on August 24, a few days later than this year's first bale.

MR. W. A. TEEL HURT

Taken to a Hospital in Richmond For Treatment

On Tuesday Mr. William Teel and son, Mr. W. A. Teel, were coming to town from their home a few miles across the river. When near Parkers cross roads the girl to the harness broke. This frightened the horse and he ran the buggy into a fence, upsetting it and throwing both the occupants out. The elder Mr. Teel escaped injury, but his son suffered a dislocated hip and was also thought to be injured internally. He was taken on the evening train to a hospital in Richmond, accompanied by Dr. J. E. Nobles.

Fall From Train Fails to Wake Him Up

TIFTON, Ga., Aug. 20.—Fast asleep Paul Inman, 12 years old, of Ty Ty, Ga., walked from a swiftly moving Atlantic Coast Line train early today. The shock of the fall failed to awaken the lad as he did not know of the perils he had survived until he was roused by a party of searchers near Willacochee.

Young Inman bore no bruises.

LIEUT. C. BECKER CHARGED WITH MURDER

FORMER STRONG ARM SQUAD
HEAD FORMALLY INDICTED
BY THE GRAND JURY

DATE OF TRIAL NOT SET AS YET

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—A blanket indictment charging murder in the first degree was returned by the grand jury late this afternoon against Police Lieutenant Charles Becker and four gangsters in connection with the murder of Herman Rosenthal.

Lefty Louie, Whitey Lewis, Dago Frank and Gyp the Blood.

Schepps was again the central figure in the Rosenthal murder case to day when he appeared before the grand jury to repeat the story he told District Attorney Whitman in which he corroborated in many essential details the confession of Jack Rose, implicating Police Lieutenant Becker in the killing of the East Side gambler, Herman Rosenthal.

It was this story of Schepps that Mr. Whitman desired the grand jury to hear before returning further indictments in the Rosenthal case. Schepps's counsel, Bernard Sandier, declared that while his client was in the grand jury room that Schepps would make a clean breast of everything.

Other witnesses examined today were the clerk of a hotel at Far Rock away, where the gunmen celebrated after the shooting and a photographer who made a group picture of them there.

Detective Casassa testified in regard to the police hunt for the murder suspects. Charles S. Plitt, described as Becker's press agent, also testified.

These witnesses it was said completed the testimony desired by the district attorney before he asked the grand jury to present a blanket indictment.

Sam Schepps' first act this morning was to give the keeper of the West Side prison a list of articles he desired to alleviate his confinement.

These included an lederdown quilt, six pairs of white silk socks to be purchased at an exclusive Fifth avenue haberdashery which Schepps designated; a pair of slippers and many toilet articles.

Winterville High School Opens

WINTERVILLE, Aug. 21.—The Winterville High School began yesterday its thirteenth annual session. Although a week earlier than the opening on any previous year, the enrollment reached 125. This number will be largely increased in the next few days, many letters having been received asking that rooms be held just a little longer. A new dining hall with a seating capacity of 150 is nearing completion. The buildings are repainted and otherwise improved and the athletic ground has been put in good condition. A spirit of hearty good will prevails among the students and faculty and the school has already taken on the atmosphere of work. The growing influence and usefulness of the institution is very encouraging to its friends and the possibility of far greater growth and development makes its future bright. A large number of visitors were present at the opening.

Practically no Change in the Market Since the Opening Sale

The impression seems to have gone out that the price of tobacco was much lower since the opening day. This is an error. Tobacco is selling about the same as it did on the first day the market opened. STAND CRASHES BEFORE MARSHALL

Acceptance Speech Interrupted by Accident

MANY PEOPLE BADLY INJURED

Ceremony of Acceptance Marred by Unfortunate Accident Which Casts Gloom Over Joyous Occasion

INDIANAPOLIS Ind. Aug. 20.—Five persons were seriously injured and 40 were bruised and cut in the collapse of a grand stand this afternoon during the formal notification of Gov. Thomas B. Marshall of his nomination as Democratic candidate for vice president. The injured were quickly carried into the Indiana Democratic club nearby or taken to hospitals and the notification ceremony proceeded.

The grandstand had been set up on the asphalt pavement directly back of the speaker's platform. Alton B. Parker of New York representing the notification committee was in the midst of his address, when the grandstand swayed and sank slowly to the street and men and women in the seats were piled together among the timbers of the structure.

Several thousand people, massed in front of the speaker's platform crowded about the fallen stand and many men helped the unhurt to scramble to their feet and bore the injured to the club house where they were cared for by hurriedly summoned physicians.

Thomas Taggart national committeeman of Indiana quieted the crowd, shouting that no one was seriously hurt and Mr. Parker went on with his speech. He was followed by Governor Marshall accepting the nomination. At the close of the governor's address this distinguished guest of the Indiana Democratic club who had come for the ceremony were taken to the governor's home in automobiles.

Seated in front of the grand stand when it fell was a row of men prominent in national politics among them former vice president Charles W. Fairbanks Lewis Nixon of New York; United States Senator Gore of Oklahoma; Thomas Taggart Samuel M. Ralston, Democratic candidate for governor of Indiana and W. T. Turbin, Republican candidate for governor. The crowd was listening intently to Mr. Parker when the grandstand, everbended, column and women tumbling together lapsed and a great shriek went up from among the parted planks and scaffolding.

DOG LAW OR PASTEUR TREATMENT

The number of people applying to the state laboratory of hygiene for treatment for bites from mad dogs has increased to nearly two hundred a year. The laboratory has been treating such patients for about four years. Prior to that time they had to go to northern cities for the treatment. The amount saved to the state by the laboratory from the work done can not be accurately determined. An estimate of the saving places the figure at $100 per patient or something like $20,000 annually. In this connection it should be borne in mind that the total amount appropriated by the state for the laboratory is only $4,000 annually. This work has thus far been carried on by the laboratory without any extra or special appropriation and without cost to the state. It is about time, is it not, that some action is being taken to enable the laboratory to continue such a benevolent work? As it is, the antirabic virus for giving the treatment is procured from Washington, D. C. Why should not the coming legislature make arrangements for the production of this virus at home where it can be procured fresh and at a moment's notice? Delay in providing this treatment sometimes proves fatal.

What is really needed is a strict state wide dog law requiring the licensing and muzzling of all dogs. This would in a few years stamp out one of the most terrible diseases known to man.

The money loss suffered in this state from rabid dogs alone can not be estimated. Scarcely a week goes by that does not bring its report of horses, cows, mules and other domestic stock that have been bitten by mad dogs. These animals usually succumb to the rabies or hydrophobia, as it is more virulent in the lower animals than in man. The only law now on the statute books regarding mad dogs is one requiring all mad dogs or other dogs bitten by mad dogs to be killed under penalty of $50. But even this is in many places a dead letter law.

In many parts of the state sheep raising would be a profitable industry were it not for the stray cur. In nearly the entire state hunting would be a pastime worth while were it not for this same unmuzzled, unlicensed, stray cur that makes his daily and nightly raids on our game. Eliminate such dogs and there will be more game to hunt. How much longer will we continue to think more of worthless curs found around negro cabins than we do of the welfare, safety and prosperity of our most substantial citizens or the future fertility of our soils? Strict muzzling, making the owners responsible for all damage the dogs do levying a reasonable license tax receipts to the laboratory for the treatment of people bitten would in a very short time stamp out hydrophobia, as is now the case of England, Germany and Australia. It would the state and during the hunting seas permit the raising of sheep all over on there would be game to hunt.

A cartoon in the New York World indicates that the statute of Justice on top of the city hall is to be regilded. Recent disclosures of graft and official corruption there gives rise to the suggestion that something ought to be gilded to give the city at least one bright spot.

The doctor who is attending the Astor heir is said to be getting $1,000 per day for his services and will be on duty six weeks. No physician should be allowed to make any such charge for his services even if the babe was born in the possession of three million dollars in his own right.

The Esopus date line with the judge taking a plunge every morning does not appear in the papers now like it did just about eight years ago. There are times in some men's lives when the least incident connected with them is flashed out with news.

It is wonderful how sorry you think a man is just because he does not think like you do. Suppose you swap places and see what he thinks of you.

Editorial of Human Interest

By Arthur Brisbane

THE DEFICIENCY OF AMERICAN WOMEN

An American woman, wife of a wealthy manufacturer, of Grand Rapids, Mich., is authority for the statement that American husbands are a drag on their wives and women folks. Especially is this true she says when it comes to traveling.

The American man, according to this representative of the gentler sex, does not know how to entertain the women of their parties, does not know how to order a meal for them and in many ways hampers them in the free and untrammelled pursuit of pleasure that they dearly love. This is an indictment that comes not from the feeble and effete East, but from the strong and virile West. And "pity 'tis, 'tis true".

The indifference of the average American man to the social ambitions and pleasures of their women has been the theme of one novel and of many, many years. The American male animal is interested in "getting there" in business, in building and creating and battling in a crude and savage mercantile warfare. What little time he has from his strenuous days he spends in sleep and rest. He seems to think that by handing over to the woman of the house so much money every week or month or year and telling her to go out and enjoy herself he has fulfilled his obligations to society. Hence the discontent of women, and hence the savage charge that American husbands are in the way.

When American civilization has reached a point where it is more or less settled, then the men will study the little virtues and accomplishments of society. And then we will hear less about men being in the way and the delights of travel without them.

For the Farmers

Feed in Its Relation to Milk Production

The progress made in the development of dairy cows is indeed remarkable, and apparently there is no upward limit to what may be accomplished in this direction. It has taken years of intelligent effort on the part of the farmers and breeders to develop animals capable of making the remarkable records now so frequently met with and which have become so common in fact as not to excite any degree of public comment. When we consider that the cow in a state of nature seldom produces more than enough milk to nourish her calf and compare this with what has been accomplished, we are bound to be impressed with the debt of gratitude we owe the development of scientific principles as related to animal breeding and feeding. The knowledge of these two subjects has made it possible for us to accomplish what has already been done and of course, those who have studied the subject realize that only a good beginning in agricultural science has been made as yet.

Just think of a cow which has given as much as 119.7 pounds of milk a day and produced over 26,000 pounds of this highly nourishing and delightful beverage in one year. One would suppose that the limit of possible production had been reached in such an animal, but it appears now that the very cow that made this record is being surpassed by one of her daughters which has already given nearly 17,000 pounds of milk and made over 665 pounds of butter in a period of six months. This cow is giving 85 pounds of milk a day and now starting her seventh month of continuous production and bids fair, therefore, to beat the world's record of 27,432 pounds of milk in a year. This result as already pointed out, has been brought about by two factors in the hands of skillful and capable men—a fundamental insight into an interpretation of the elementary principles of breeding and a thorough grasp of the best methods of combining and utilizing the natural food-stuffs available for the manufacture through the highly organized dairy cow of milk and butter.

What should such a cow be fed? First of all, the production of milk depends on a highly organized nervous system. The fat in milk is produced by the growth and atrophy, as it were, of millions of fat globules in the ultimate cells of the udder. The other constituents of milk are formed directly and indirectly from the blood which has of necessity received its surplus of nutriment from the food consumed digested and assimilated by the cow. It is impossible for the cow to make rich milk and to elaborate it in large quantities unless she is properly fed. The reasons for this are perfectly obvious and therefore, bring us down to a consideration finally, of what the cow needs and how best to combine the foods to stimulate the production of milk and butter fat.

An analysis of milk shows that it consists largely of water and it has been proven that succulent food, either grass or substitutes therefore, should constitute the basis of any ration for a dairy cow. She will give a larger quantity of milk for a longer time when this is done than if she is fed exclusively on dry feed. It appears also that milk contains large quantities of protein and since the cow is capable of manufacturing milk because of her highly organized and sensitive nervous system, she must be fed abundantly on this element. To withhold it will result in a great reduction in the flow of milk and will cause her to ultimately dry up. This is one fact which has been established beyond the point of controversy. From what sources shall the protein be derived? There are many foodstuffs which may be used, but the farmer is seeking for the one which is cheapest and will furnish him the largest quantity of this constituent at the lowest relative cost. He may use, for instance, wheat bran, oats, beat pulp, gluten meal or cotton seed meal. The question now arises as to which is the cheapest and most desirable. This is not difficult to solve, for everyone who has had experience in feeding cotton seed meal realizes that this concentrate furnished the protein in the cheapest form and in larger amount than any of the other. It is true that it should be fed to secure the best results in association with grass or silage, but in the absence of these, hulls and mixed hay and other dry forms of roughness may be used for considerable periods of time with advantage. It is true that if some bran or corn is fed with cotton seed meal that good results may be anticipated for a long period of time, but where the meal alone is fed under the conditions mentioned in proper amounts it furnishes an almost ideal ration. We have known cows to be fed on cotton seed meal, silage, hulls and good pasture grass for several years and remain in perfect health, while producing large quantities of milk rich in butter fat. The remarkable cow referred to in the early part of this article has been fed what is known as a balanced ration. In the absence of the balanced ration her powers to yield would be seriously impaired.

There are thousands of persons throughout the south who maintain cows on their lots or on their farms. They are failing to secure the best returns from them though they are often feeding very costly rations. The trouble they experience is due to the fact that they are often not feeding enough protein or securing it from the most economical source possible. The writer knows plenty of farmers who are still feeding corn or corn and bran when cotton seed meal furnishes the needed protein at a much lower cost and will prove more satisfactory in a ration for cows than corn or corn and bran. If only one concentrate is to be fed, it is infinitely better to feed cotton seed meal at the rate of from 5 to 6 pounds per 1000 pound cow when giving two gallons of milk per day.

Those who have not fed cotton seed meal or who are not combining it with the other concentrates ordinarily used in the maintenance of cows are making a mistake, for they are failing to supply the adequate amount of protein to stimulate the flow of milk to the highest degree while reducing the cost to a minimum.

SIDEWALK SKETCHES

HOUSEKEEPING

HOUSEKEEPING is something that is handed to the June bride in exchange for the privilege of getting married under a large red wedding bell in the front parlor. It consists of physical culture exercises which if followed up properly, will develop every muscle in the human body. Some women become so muscular as the result of close contact with single handed housekeeping that their husbands never contradict them except over the long distance phone.

A woman is said to be a good housekeeper when her husband can bring home two famished friends without warning and find his wife at the helm of a six course dinner, wreathed in smiles and a pink tea gown. Some women object to this habit and try to get even by serving passe cereal garnished with two fried eggs.

When a woman keeps her house so that the neighbors won't think they have strayed into the henery, she is referred to in terms of deep emotion by every husband whose wife refuses to work over eighteen hours a day.

Man is a queer bird. He will work from 9 to 4 and then play golf, but if his wife gets through with the ironing before 10 p. m. he will suggest that it would be a good thing to set bread and frame up a batch of carry cookies before retiring.

As a rule, housekeeping begins at 5:30 a. m. and continues without interruption until the roll is called up yonder. This is causing a great many women who wish to live out their expectancy to forsake the continuous performance and congest the boarding houses and hotels.

Bad State of Affairs

The controversy between State Chairman Webb and County Chairman Huffman, of Burke emphasizes the fact that the friends of the senatorial candidates are using every means to promote the interest of their friends and are using the organization to further the interest of their candidate. Commenting on this custom the Statesville Land mark says it is "absolutely wrong, hurtful and unfair under all circumstances," and so it is. But that fact does not keep the custom from prevailing and charging that such is being done in the interest of the candidacy of Mr. Simmons, friends of the two other candidates have had Chairman Webb explaining. And his explanation always explain fully and satisfactorily to the Simmons men and never to the Gitchin and Clark followers. Funny that Chairman Webb should have so soon stirred up the friends of Governor Kitchin and Judge Clark, and that his actions always meet with the hearty approval of the Simmons men. We wonder how long it will be before he gets the Simmons men out with him?—Salisbury Post.

Social and Personal

A Modern Martyr.

The days are in the budding leaf;
The oysters and the sausage gone
To hear the golf—and nothing else!
Is mine alone.

The husband, brother of the son,
To me will be a joy no more.
They only care for games they've won
And show the score.

The genial host, the joyful friend
No longer deals in merry jest;
But tells his troubles without ends,
Which I detest.

I landed on the green in four;
Then putted out in six—or eight.
Tis this I hear and plenty more,
Early and late.

But if I hint at a new gown,
Or fuss around about a hat,
I'm told by hubby (with a frown)
Enough of that.

Now, is that fair, or is it just,
That golf comes always last and first?
For talk of clothes I really must,
Or I shall burst!

—Life.

THE HAPPENINGS IN WINTERVILLE

WINTERVILLE, Aug 21.—Mr. J.
D. Cox left this morning for Fairmont after spending his summer vacation at home.

Mrs. W. J. Manford of Ayden, was visiting at the home of Mr. J. D.
Cox's on last evening.

See Harrington, Barber and Company for a pair of good pants. They are selling them real cheap, now.

Misses Esther Johnson and Helen Adams made a flying trip to Greenville yesterday.

After spending some time at Hendersonville visiting friends and relatives Mrs. E. F. Tucker returned this week.

Don't forget that E. W. Dail is still in the market business and can furnish you with beef, barbecue and all kinds of fresh meat.

Miss Laura V. Cox, our missionary to Mexico, left this morning for Tuscon Arizona where she will stay until it is thought safe for the missionaries to cross the border. This is her nearest point to Guaymas Sanora, Mexico, where she was teaching last year when compelled to return to the states on account of the rebellion.
From this point the situation can be thoroughly understood before an attempt is made to cross. Our best wishes go with Miss Cox and we bid her God speed in the good work which she is trying to do among those people.

The Pony corn sheller, the best on the market, will shell one bushel per

Miss Mimie E. Cox delightfully entertained the members of the B. Y.
P. U. at her home on Monday evening. The home was beautifully decorated with potted plants and Japanese lanterns. The evening was spent very pleasantly playing games which were in abundance; after which refreshments were served. After bidding the hostess good night, the young couples began to disperse for their respective homes, feeling proud of being a member of the B. Y. P. U.

Miss Hennie Ragsdale, of Greenville was visiting Miss Mimie Cox
