SENATOR PENROSE IMPLICATES T. R. IN STANDARD OIL GRAFT

Knowingly He Receives $125,000 from Oil Men

FLYNN ANXIOUS FOR A SEAT

Deposed Pennsylvania Boss Comes Back Strong at Teddy. Colonel Brands Story as a Tissue of Lies

WASHINGTON August 22.—Senator Penrose today asked the Senate to direct the Clapp committee investigating campaign contributions of 1904 and 1908 to investigate the charges contained in his sensational speech of yesterday in connection with the Penrose-Archbold correspondence.

He asked that the committee be directed to call as witnesses all persons mentioned in his speech. Colonel Roosevelt was among that number. The motion was temporarily laid over.

Washington, August 22.—Senator Boies Penrose of Pennsylvania, yesterday turned upon his enemies and accused the Roosevelt-Flynn-Van Valkenburg combination of falsehood, mendacity and hypocrisy in charging him with selling out to the Standard Oil Company for $25,000.

The senator specifically stated in his speech in the Senate that Theodore Roosevelt had knowingly received $125,000 from John D. Archbold in the 1904 campaign and his treasurer had asked for $150,000 more.

He said that William Flinn had made millions of dollars out of crooked municipal contracts in Pittsburgh and had sought Archbold's support in his race for the Senate to succeed Quay.

He said that Mr. Van Valkenburg had only escaped conviction for bribery in 1896 through the leniency of Quay and the payment of $10,000.

The senator charged that in 1904 Flinn offered him and Israel W. Durham $1,000,000 or $2,000,000 if they would favor his candidacy to the Senate to succeed Senator Quay. Senator Penrose read copies of telegrams to show that Flinn asked John W. Archbold to assist him in securing the election.

The statement of the Pennsylvania Senator came during a reply to the changes made regarding a certificate of deposit for $25,000 sent to him by John D. Archbold of the Standard Oil Company in 1904.

Senator Penrose admitted receiving that sum from Mr. Archbold, but asserted that that was part of a contribution of $125,000 made by Archbold to the Republican national campaign fund, $100,000 of which amount, he said, went to the Republican National Committee and $25,000 to himself, for use in Pennsylvania.

President Roosevelt had been advised of the contribution, Senator Penrose declared. He said that later Cornelius N. Bliss, then treasurer of the national committee, asked for an other contribution of $150,000 from Archbold and his associates interested in the Standard Oil Company.

The demand was urgent, insistent—I may say imperative and it was represented that it came direct from President Roosevelt, declared Senator Penrose forcefully.

Senator Penrose also attacked E. A. Van Valkenburg, editor of the Philadelphia North American and referred to the effrontery, hypocrisy and mendacity of the Van Valkenburg-Flynn combination.

Penrose reviewed his connection with the industrial commission and declared there was no occasion to furnish anyone with particular information as the hearings were open to the general public.

Coming to the letter alleged to have been written by Archbold inclosing a certificate of deposit of $25,000 Penrose admitted receiving such a contribution during the campaign, but said this amount was part of a much larger one.

I have reason to believe that the letter which was printed as being the one sent to me, said Penrose, is a forgery and I challenge its production.

Penrose said that as state chairman during the 1904 campaign he was in New York a great deal and that he was a woman with a lot of excitement.

THE SIMMONS BILL HAS BEEN AMENDED

POST OFFICE APPROPRIATION IS CUT DOWN TO HALF A MILLION DOLLARS

DIFFERENT TAR HEEL APPOINTMENTS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—The conferees on the postoffice appropriation bill reached an agreement late this afternoon. One of the most important items in the bill is the Simmons aid to good roads proposition which as amended, provides an annual appropriation of $500,000 for improving roads over which rural delivery of mail is made. The original bill as proposed by Senator Simmons provided for an appropriation of $1,000,000, but a compromise was made and the amount cut in half.

Senator Simmons said he would have preferred the house plan to his own but in lieu of this he was greatly delighted at the adoption by the conferees of his own bill. It is understood the conference report will be adopted without opposition. The O'Brien parcels post system, which was also adopted, was quite pleasing to the senior senator. It is believed it will be reasonably satisfactory to both farmers and to the merchants.

Senator Overman said today there was no friction between Representative Webb and himself over the Charlotte postoffice. A new building will be erected and both he and Mr. Webb, he said, were working with that end in view.

It was stated today that Mr. Taft is considering sending in another list of appointments for federal jobs in North Carolina. Probably tomorrow the President will send in the name of Thomas Wallace to be postmaster at Wilmington. Mr. Wallace is the present incumbent and is a Duncan man. However, there is small probability that Mr. Wallace will be confirmed during the present session of Congress. The Wilmington postmaster is here looking after his interest and probably will remain until the present session of congress adjourns.

There is no great protest coming to Washington against the confirmation of Mr. Wallace, but as stated in these dispatches senators will think twice before confirming federal nominations at this session of congress, reports to the contrary notwithstanding.

It is also said that the president will send in nominations for the positions of postmaster and collector of customs at Beaufort, Mace and Jones were named for these positions early this year, but were in the list which the president withdrew from the senate in February.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., August 22.—An attack on Senator Penrose was made by Colonel Roosevelt after he had read the Senator's statement in the Senate. The ex-president quoted from letters and telegrams which he sent to George B. Girls' Tomato Club in Pitt Co. Big Firm in Durham Fails

Good Work Being Accomplished Near Forbes School

We did not know until recently that Pitt county has a Girls Tomato Club. But it has one and it is making a fine success of its work. This club is in the vicinity of the Forbes school three miles up the river road and is under the direction of Miss Ruth L. Evans, one of the teachers of the school.

Miss Evans was induced by Mrs. McKimmon, state agent of the girls' demonstration work, to take charge of the work in this county last winter and she has given herself earnestly to it. The Forbes school club is composed of ten girls, Misses Athleen Whitchard, Ada Turnage, Lillian Joyner, Verna Lee Stancill, Ethel Smith, Thelma Smith, Carrie Evans, Mavis Evans, Geneva Worten and Sudie Jones. The girls here canned nearly three thousand cans and hope to reach five thousand during the season. What they have canned is of the very best quality.

These tomato clubs for girls are in keeping with the corn clubs for boys and all come under the co-operative demonstration work of the department of agriculture. Some of the purposes of the clubs are:

To stimulate interest and wholesome co-operation between members of the family in their home life.

To provide some means by which the girl may earn money at home and at the same time get the education and viewpoint necessary for the ideal farm home.

To help girls furnish their homes with a constant supply of vegetables, both canned and fresh.

To encourage rural families to live at a lower cost and to save the otherwise waste and surplus products of the garden and orchard.

To encourage the use of the garden plot and kitchen as the laboratory and correlate them closely with the work of the school room.

Because of the interest in the girls and their work, Miss Evans gave up her summer vacation and stayed with them in order to instruct them. Such a work is of great educational advantage and not only teaches the girls to do profitable things but also helps them to become independent through their own efforts. In this they ought to be encouraged and we hope another year will find several such clubs in the county.

The Forbes school club expects to have an exhibit at both the state and the Pitt county fair. And right here is where public spirited people of the county can show interest and encourage the girls. Some prizes should be offered for these exhibits, something like a trip to the state fair, a canning outfit, or any useful article that will make the winner happy. There is no telling the good that will come to Pitt county through the work these girls are doing. Let them have your encouragement.

It's a poor rule that won't work your way.

Farthing's Liabilities Amount to a Quarter Million

DURHAM, Aug. 22.—The creditors of G. C. Farthing had another meeting this morning and they have about decided to put the property in the hands of a trustee for final settlement and disposition. The liabilities of Mr. Farthing amount to something over $292,000 of which the large part is endorsements for people who have been unable to pay their notes. About a quarter of a million of these notes are said to be for Dr. J. E. Sheppard, president of the National Religious Training School.

He is endorsed to the amount of $40,000 for the High Point Chair Company, but this stock is said to be worth above par. He has also endorsed for the W. A. Simpkins Company, but Mr. Farthing thinks that this paper will turn out to be an asset rather than a liability.

The city has been agog with the talk of this usual failure of one of the men who has been considered one of the shrewdest and most conservative business men in the whole town. The mystery of the whole thing is that Mr. Farthing should have signed so many notes for Sheppard when he had so little assurance that the notes would be paid.

Mr. Farthing is said to be worth something like $350,000, the greater part of which consists of Durham real estate and if this property can be sold to an advantage, he will possibly have something left after paying off the notes he has signed. He will of course have the Sheppard notes, but these are considered value less for Dr. Sheppard is only responsible for them personally and outside of his salary as president of the negro training school is not supposed to be worth any money at all.

Mr. Blow Accepts Invitation

To Discuss Matters in Debate With W. F. Evans

Greenville, N. C., Aug. 22, 1912. Mr. W. F. Evans, Greenville, N. C.

Dear Sir: Your note of the 21st instant, in which you invite me to join with you in discussing "the issues confronting the Democratic voters of Pitt county", was received this morning. In reply I beg to say that your challenge is gladly accepted.

For the purpose of expediting an arrangement for such joint discussion I will meet you at the office of F. C. Harding, esq., Chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee at 8:30 o'clock tomorrow evening, when and where I trust we can agree as to time and place when the joint discussions shall be heard, together with the conditions under which they shall be conducted.

Very respectfully, ALEX. L. BLOW.

TWO AMERICANS ARE KILLED BY NICARAGUAN REBELS IN MASSACRE

TOM SETTLE AND THE OFFICE SEEKER

PROBABLE NOMINEE FOR GOVERNOR ON REPUBLICAN TICKET GIVES STATEMENT

SEES BREAK IN DEMOCRATIC PARTY

ASHEVILLE, N. C. Aug. 22.—Thomas Settle, possible nominee of the Republican convention for Governor and a staunch supporter of state Chairman Morehead, Secretary Gilliam Grissom and the organization wing of the state and the organization wing of the state committee, gave the following personal statement today:

In these days of political upheavals and dislocation of party lines it is confusing somewhat so at least, to contemplate the troubles of our Democratic friends.

The Democratic troubles and the Republican troubles will, upon reflection by those inclined to study and thought, be seen to be strikingly alike.

Governor Kitchin calls frantically upon Chairman Webb to convene the executive committee and to decide finally and finally what is the meaning of the words "Democratic ticket" in their relation to the right to vote in the Democratic senatorial primary.

Mr. Webb answers courteously, why certainly of course, to be sure, but not just yet, later on, by and by.

This duet is swelled by the voice of Mr. Clark, and gradually the whole chorus is joining in. Webb says these are private rehearsals, the main performance will come later. Meanwhile Governor Kitchin strikes a pensive pose and reasons thus to and with himself. There are not less than ten thousand former Democrats in this state, men engaged in textile manufacturing, who are going to vote for Mr. Taft on account of his veto of the Democratic cotton tariff bill: now, these same men, if allowed to vote in the Democratic senatorial primary are going to vote for Simmons. This, in all likelihood, means my defeat and Simmons' election. Craig, Webb, et. al. are winking at this program, and Simmons, he just smiles and "stands pat". Now, why in tarntation can't I put some cuckoo burs under the tail of Webb and his committee and get a move on them. This is only a sample of his rumination.

We Republicans, as usual, being ahead of our Democratic friends, have come to and had to cross this bridge, and have done so, while the Democrats are snorting and shying away from it. Kitchin can't get them to it unless he puts blinders or blind bridles on them.

Snort and shy gentlemen to your heart's content, but this bridge you have got to cross. It is so decreed, it is the finger of fate.

States and political parties not only have a right to exist but they are necessary for the conduct of human affairs, the protection of life, liberty, property and the pursuit of happiness. A noted work on international law says:

The ultimate foundation of international law is an assumption that states possess rights and are subject to duties corresponding to facts of their postulated nature. In virtue of this assumption it is held that since states exist, and are independent beings, they have the right to do whatever is necessary for the purpose of continuing and developing their existence, of giving effect to and preserving their independence.

Americans Killed Are Said to Have Been Fighting For the Government When Rebels Captured Them

WASHINGTON, August 22.—Two Americans are reported to have been deliberately murdered in the massacre of the Nicaraguan loyal troops by the rebels at Leon on August 19. One was said to be Harvey Dodd, of Kosciusko, Miss.; the other a man named Phillips.

The two men had been wounded and were seeking refuge in a hospital according to the report received at the state department.

Dodd and Phillips were said to have been fighting with the government troops. In the defeat they were taken to a hospital badly wounded, where they were killed in the massacre which followed. No more details were sent to Washington.

The killing of Dodd and Phillips, though not entirely a parallel, recalls the killing of Cannon and Grace by Zelaya in 1909 which resulted in an upheaval that threw the dictator out of office and sent him to Europe an exile.

The state department is pressing for more information.

A delayed dispatch from Corinto today says the rebels are taking towns between Leon and Chinandaga. They are reported to have confiscated a large plantation and a distillery containing $5,000,000 worth of alcohol.

With the arrival of additional United States forces in Nicaragua Read Admiral Sutherland on the cruiser California will take full command.

The massacre of the loyal Nicaraguan troops sent to defend the town of Leon is fully confirmed in a belated cablegram received from the American legation at Managua, dated Aug. 19.

The affair was even more disastrous to the government forces than originally reported. The rebels refused quarter and annihilated the whole force of defenders with the exception of three or four soldiers who made their escape by putting on the uniforms of the rebels.

Today's early advices to the state department are that the situation is critical. Though the American marines and bluejackets are holding Managua against the would be looters and pillagers, great danger is threatening Corinto on the west coast.

Women and children of the foreign families in the town are sleeping aboard the two United States warships there.

At Chinandaga the situation is reported improved. The government has been able to reopen communication with that point which is on the railroad connecting with Corinto.

Young Boy Guilty of Killing

Enters Plea of Manslaughter Before Judge Carter

KINSTON, Aug. 22.—In superior court here, Charles Randolph, about 13 years of age, was arraigned for the killing of Peary Stallings, a boy several years older and a verdict of manslaughter was entered by agreement. Judge Carter heard the evidence in the case, his guidance in rendering judgment. Sentence was not passed immediately, but it is practically certain that young Randolph will be sent to a reformatory for a term of years. The crime was committed on Queen street in this city several months ago, the lad stabbing Stallings after fistuffs resulting from a boyish altercation. Both were prominently connected and the slaying created a sensation which spread throughout the town at the time. A great deal of sympathy has been manifested toward the youthful victim of his own indiscretion.

JUDGE E. B. CLINE

Besides bringing the needed justice to Pitt county the present term of court has helped us to make the acquaintance of a man who well deserves the high office he occupies. Judge E. B. Cline is a Hickory product, something for which Hickory should feel proud. In appearance and on the street he might well pass for just plain, simple Mr. E. B. Cline, his "guessed" age and appearance qualifying him to the casual observer as a gentleman of no connection whatever with the sombre business of putting unruly people in the "cooler" or extricating them from the bloodthirsty attacks of the evil prosecutor, as the case may be.

On the bench, however, Mr. E. B. Cline is certainly Judge Cline, every inch of him. And he is not a small man, by any means.

His honor sets an example which should find many pupils in our court rooms. To each case that comes before him he lends all the attention that is in him to lend and from time to time takes down notes of such points as are salient in whatever case may be occupying the court. The Judge is fond of reading, but is methodical with it and as far as we can recall have not seen him put a newspaper between him and court, whenever anything is "doing". This little courtesy of the Judge must be highly encouraging to both parties contesting before him, as they are bound to feel that all being said finds store room for further reference in His Honor's mind.

Another feature of Judge Cline is his comprehensive charge to the jury. Comprehensive from two points of view, viz: his charge is concise, though fully embracing the case and at the same time delivered in a manner that will leave no room for doubt as to the right interpretation of a certain phrase in a juror's mind. More yet, Judge Cline has the happy quality of illustrating different phases of a case with examples fitting every day life.

Thus a jury after retiring is not liable to make the awful mistake "put through" by a couple of fond, if eager, parents. The story reads something like this:

"At the bidding of the school board of a Missouri town, a physician visited the local school. He examined the eyes of the children. The teacher next day sent a note to the mother of one of the children, saying that he was not "perfect optically". The following day Johnnie brought "back a reply to the teacher that "read:

"The old man whaled Johnnie last night and I took a hand at him this morning and I think you will find "him all right now."

Under Judge Cline's clear guidance no jury is liable to make such a mistake.

APPOINT CHALLENGING BOARD

In discussing the matter of Republicans voting the Democratic primary last Saturday, as is known was the case at perhaps every precinct in the county, a gentleman suggested to The Reflector that a challenging board or committee should be appointed at every polling place. It should be the duty of such board or committee to challenge any unqualified person who presented himself to vote and then put it up to the poll holders to pass on the right of such person voting. As it was in the last primary, there was no one present to challenge such persons, hence many voted who had no right to do so in a Democratic primary.

We have received with the compliments of the compilers, Messrs. R. D. W. Connor and Clarence Poe, a copy of the Life and Speeches of Charles B. Aycock. The book is dedicated to the boys and girls of North Carolina "whom he loved, for whose development he so passionately yearned and for whom he ever gave the gladdest service of his heroic life. In addition to an interesting sketch of his life and achievements, it contains several of the best speeches delivered in his brilliant career. It is a valuable book and should be possessed by every lover of the great man.

We thought the government had put the ban on the mails being used for "endless chain" subscriptions. But the press dispatches tell of a lot of women, headed by the Red Cross Society to help the Taft campaign fund

Press Comment

The railroad man who is "rather high up in point of service," and who has written a letter to Judge Clark stating that he has received orders "direct from officials of the road" to resign from Clark campaign club, owes a duty to himself, to Judge Clark and to the State. That duty is to give Judge Clark permission to make public the name of the writer, to specify the railroad offending and to give the name of the railroad official issuing the order. Judge Clark and his friends could afford to provide for the writer of the letter, in case of his discharge from the railroad service, and we have no doubt they are able to do this. A former railroad letter was, and is yet, a source of grievous embarrassment to Judge Clark. If the writer of this latter letter is a real friend of Judge Clark, he will not hesitate to make public his name and the facts.—Charlotte Observer.

We do not think that Vermont any longer can be used as a political barometer, but the result of the gubernatorial election there may serve to show which way the wind is blowing. The State went for Taft in 1908 by 30,000 majority. In 1910 it showed a Republican plurality of only 17,000 which represented rather Republican losses than any real Democratic gains. This year there are four parties in active warfare, any one of which may win. The Republicans have a chance; the Progressives have a chance; the Prohibitionists have a chance, and the Democrats have a chance. We are inclined to think, however, that the fight will finally rest between the Re-

THE GOOD THAT IS DONE BY THE TRUSTS

The Mammoth Made Our First Paths Through The Forest

The Good That is Done by the Trusts. Don't waste your time and energy joining the thoughtless crowd that howls against trusts. Use your vote and your voice to put those trusts under government control as soon as may be. Be glad that an old Vanderbilt had brains enough to build great railroad systems. Don't denounce him or begrudge him the fortune he made. His work was worth the money.

Let us say to his little descendants the pee wee Vanderbilts of to-day: "You have had enough now. Although you have done nothing, we shall pay you generously for what your great-grandfather did, and with your kind permission, or without it, we shall transfer these roads to the people whose patronage gives them value." In due time this pleasant message of just appropriation will be delivered to all the various trust owners. They will all be well paid for their work. They deserve to be, for they have done as individuals the work which the collective commonwealth could not do.

But they will be made to see that they cannot forever keep what they have created. If a man invents a steam engine worth to the world at large ten thousand billions, he is allowed to keep his property only seventeen years, under our patent laws. Shall we allow a clever highway robber of a commercial organizer to keep the proceeds of his energy for himself and his descendants forever?

We had almost forgotten the mammoth mentioned at the top of this article. That mammoth, dead and forgotten, is the forerunner of today's trust. The mammoth was hated by all created things around him. An accidental blow from his left hind foot would break up any family in existence. But his vast weight and power ploughed the first paths through the swamps and forests. The paths made by the mammoth through unexplored tracts were a great boon to half savage man. In fact, man followed along those paths after awhile and learned how to kill the mammoth very neatly.

The trusts are marking out organized paths through the hitherto chaotic, disorganized systems of industry. Those paths will be useful to all men through all time. The trust will be killed when his day comes, as the mammoth has been killed.

Let us be patient meanwhile, and not forget that, though a monster, he was a monster absolutely necessary and very useful.

SIDEWALK SKETCHES

By Howard L. Rann.

THE SEWING MACHINE

THE sewing machine is a mild looking utensil which is used to keep women in a contented frame of mind and prevent her from becoming a mere butterfly of fashion.

After a high-spirited wife has played on the pedals of a sewing machine for ten hours she will not be inclined to count the pulsing accents of the cuckoo clock as her husband ascends the stairs in his stocking feet and a state of trepidation.

The sewing machine was invented in 1845 by the late Elias Howe, a Massachusetts Yankee who had grown tired of holding his suspenders in place with ten penny nails. His first machine was a crude affair, having a very short wheelbase and doing most of its stitching on the hop, step and jump principle, which caused its output to look like the hem stitching in a gunny sack. It took Mr. Howe several years to perfect a machine which could be used without introducing leg cramps into the family circle.

If Mr. Howe could come back to earth now, he would not recognize his child. The modern sewing machine will do everything except sweep under the beds and keep ants out of the refrigerator. Some women make clothes on it which fit just as well as if they had been ordered from a house wrecking concern.

The latest style machines are run by electric motor, with self starter and automatic cut off. A woman can see a bolt of blue denim into one of these machines and it will emerge at the other end in serried ranks of form-fitting overalls, while she is peeling the potatoes or swaying in rhythmic cadence with the family wash.

The sewing machine runs neck and neck with the carpet sweeper as a pleasing and appropriate birthday present, as it reminds a wife that woman's work is never done, if she lives to be 90,000 years old.

Love's Dance

Love came dancing through the world
And my heart was glad;
Love she came and danced with me
When the world was sad —
Danced and kissed me on the lips
Till my blood ran mad.

And forgotten was the world
Gold ruby's shine;
Folly came and to our lips
Pressed her ruby wine.
And I laughed and danced we on;
Youth and love were mine.

Wise ones sought to lure me back—
Wise ones grey and old.
Showed me Wisdom and Renown.
And the light of gold;
But they could not hear the tale
Love to me had told.

What care Love for great renown,
Gold or rubies fine
Beggars they who cling to these,
Leaving Love for mine;
Holding to their breast but dress
While I drink Love's wine!

Home Endorsement

Hundreds of Greenville People Can Tell You all About It

Home endorsement, the public expression of Greenville people, should be evidence beyond dispute for every Renector reader. Surely the experience of friends and neighbors, cheerfully given by them, will carry more weight than the utterances of strangers residing in faraway places. Read the following:

Mrs. G. Barnhill, Greenville, N. C., says: "I have been so greatly helped by Doan's Kidney Pills that I am pleased to recommend them. My back and head ached and I had dizzy spells and pains in my sides. My kidneys did not do their work properly and caused much suffering. Doan's Kidney Pills obtained at the John L. Wooten Drug Co., relieved my aches and pains and corrected the trouble with my kidneys. I most cheerfully recommend this preparation."

LOCAL BRIEFS

Red Men meet tonight.
Are you hoeing the grass?
There will soon be no melons on the vine.

The Y. W. A. of the Baptist church meets with Miss Rose Manning to night.
There was a fine breeze last night and it makes a break in the hot spell.

Last Chance

Don't fail to go on Potter, Gray and Company's excursion August 28, this may be your last chance to visit Norfolk at such low price this season. We will have cars left here for the benefit of the Greenville people. We will have plenty of room for all. Train leaves here at 8:30. Fare for round trip $2.25.

Card of Thanks

I wish to extend to my friends throughout the county my sincere thanks for their liberal support in my behalf for Register of Deeds. I am now in the second contest and will highly appreciate their support and influence in the primary to be held on the seventh of Sept.
R. L. LITTLE.

Choir Meeting

The Baptist choir will meet at the church tonight and every member is requested to be present by 8:15.

Painting Things Red

That is what is going on at the New Gum warehouse it being head-redity with manager Joyner to keep every thing on the hustle. Even the new sign on the top front of the building has taken on the color of his hair, and it stands as a beacon to light the way.

Large Breaks Today

The tobacco market was a busy place today with big breaks and large crowds at all the warehouses. There were something near 200,000 pounds sold which was more than on the opening day. Double sales are being run to keep up with the large breaks. The buyers are anxious for tobacco and are doing some lovely bidding. Greenville is the place for the farmer to bring his tobacco when he wants best prices.

Smithtown House Party

The pretty country home of Mr. and Mrs. Ivey Smith has been the mecca of social life around Greenville and Farmville for the past week, from Thursday, August 15th, to Thursday, August 22nd, the occasion being a house party. The guests began to arrive Thursday afternoon and each succeeding day brought additional friends until in all, there were forty or fifty couples who participated in the festivities and enjoyed the hospitality of Misses Agnes and Trilby Smith and Mr. Joe Smith who gave the house party. The pleasures of the occasion were marked by extensive drives through the country, card parties and water melon parties. The climax was reached Monday evening when a porch party was given in honor of the visiting guests. This will be long remembered by the visiting friends as the happiest season of the summer, 1912, and every one feels his or her indebtedness to these splendid hosts.

Those enjoying the pleasures of the occasion were the following: Misses Alice Taylor, Hookerton; Susie Keel, Norfolk, Va.; Bessie Hellen Grifton, N. C.; Lucy Outerbridge, Greenville; Winnie Evans, Clisco; Rosa Moore, Mary and Henrietta Moye, Fannie Moye, Bertha Joyner, Roberts and Carmen Flanagan, Farmville; Maudé Lassiter, Snow Hill; Annie Tyson, Gerlie Smith, Carrie Belle and Sallie Smith, Jessie and Colle Smith of Greenville, and Messrs. Norville Palmer, Guy Taylor, Hookerton; Guy Lassiter, Snow Hill; Walter Sheppard, Joe and Clifton Moye, Redd Newton, C. R. Townsend, David Turnage, Joe Joyner and Dr. Paul E. Jones, Farmville; Royce and Charlie Tucker, Winterville; Joe Cobb, Jim Bob, Leslie and Mack Smith, R. E. Willoughby and Elbert Tyson, Greenville, and Leon Flanagan, Farmville.

Are Ever at War

There are two things everlastingly at war, joy and piles. But Bucklen's Arnica Salve will banish piles. It soon subdues the itching, irritation, inflammation or swelling. It gives comfort, invites joy. Greatest healer of burns, boils, cuts, bruises, eczema, scalds, pimples, skin eruptions. Only 5 cents at all druggists.

Indian Killed on Track
Near Rochelle, Ill., an Indian went to sleep on a railroad track and was killed by the fast express. He paid for his carelessness with his life. Often its that way when people neglect coughs and colds. Don't risk your life when prompt use of Dr. King's New Discovery will cure them and so prevent a dangerous throat or lung trouble. "It completely cured me in a short time of a terrible cough that followed a severe attack of Grip," writes J. R. Watts, Floydada, Tex., "and I regained 15 pounds in weight that I had lost." Quick, safe, reliable and guaranteed. 50c and $1. Trial bottle free at all druggists.

No Court Next Week
As there will be no civil term of court held during the week beginning August 26th, jurors summoned for that week need not attend.

Flying Men Fall
Victims to stomach, liver and kidney troubles just like other people, with like results in loss of appetite, backache, nervousness, headache and tired, listless, run-down feeling. But there's no need to feel like that T. D. Peebles Henry Tenn., proved. "Six bottle of Electric Bitters" he writes, "did more to give me new strength and good appetite than all other stomach remedies I used." So they help everybody. Its folly to suffer when this great remedy will help you from the first dose. Try it Only 50 cents at all Druggists.
