NEIGHBORING TOWN OF AYDEN SHAKEN BY STABBING TRAGEDY

As A Result Worthington May Die

WENT TO HIS BROTHER'S AID

Knife Welder Safely Brought Over to Jail by Sheriff Dudley Last Saturday Night

As the result of a fight that occurred in Ayden Saturday afternoon, Mr. Claude Worthington is hovering between life and death with a terrible knife wound in his side and Mr. Heber Sumrell is held in jail awaiting developments of Worthington's injury.

The trouble from what information can be had started between Weatherington and Ralph Sumerell, a brother of Heber, who engaged in a fist fight. Heber saw the fight going on, rushed in and plunged a knife in Worthington's side, inflicting a gash about eight inches long that penetrated to the hollow and cut off the end of two ribs.

As soon as news of the difficulty reached Greenville, Sheriff Dudley and Policeman Clark hurried to Ayden. Heber Sumrell was arrested and brought here to jail about 9 o'clock that night.

Saturday night it was not thought that Worthington could live but a few hours, but information this morning says he is still living and has a very slight chance of recovery.

Heber Sumrell was called on in jail but is not doing any taking. He has retained Messrs. F. G. James and Son as his counsel.

WILSON, August 24.—Mrs. J. W. Beland, who was shot and mortally wounded by her husband Friday morning, died last night at 10.20 at the Wilson sanitarium.

She made no statement as to the cause of the unfortunate affair, though she was rational when the end came. The man in the case left last night for parts unknown. The husband is still in jail and refuses to talk.

Convention of Garment Workers

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 26.—The biennial convention of the United Garment Workers of America assembled in this city today for a session that will probably continue ten days or two weeks. The convention, in addition to transacting a large amount of routine business, will discuss plans for the continuation of the fight now on in a number of cities of the United States and Canada for better pay and shorter hours for the garment workers.

NEGROES HAVE ROW NEAR FALKLAND

Sunday afternoon about a mile from Falkland some negroes whose names were not learned got in a row. Of course they had the usual ornaments like metal knucks and pistols along and these played a part in the game. One negro was knocked down with knucks and another was shot at but not struck.

NEGROES ENGAGE IN GUN PLAY

In Mr. Haywood Dail's Brickyard When Shooting Occurred

The ought-to-be quietude of Sunday night was disturbed by the ringing out of pistol shots. Nothing so remarkably unusual about hearing shooting, but this time there were results that put some of the participants in the hands of both physicians and officers.

It occurred out at the Dail brick yard, where several negroes had congregated, presumably for gambling. A row followed and pistols came in the game with effect. Wiley Lucas shot Luther Braxton and Jacob West shot Wiley Lucas. Chief Police Smith went on a roundup and captured all three of them and visions of road duty haunt their dreams.

CHAIRMAN MCCOMBS VERY ILL

Wilson's Campaign Manager May Not be Able to Work

NEW YORK, August 24.—William F. McCombs, who managed the anti-convention campaign for Governor Woodrow Wilson and later was named Democratic national chairman, may share little of the activity of the Democratic campaign.

Seriously ill with intestinal poisoning which instead of yielding to treatment, has become more troublesome, the national chairman may be unable to leave his bed in Flushing, L. I., for a month. During Mr. McCombs' illness, Vice Chairman William G. McAdoo will be in charge of the campaign.

J., Aug. 26.—Picked rifle and revolver shots of ballity and wide reputation were on hand in force today for the opening of the annual interstate rifle tournament under the auspices of the National Rifle Association of America and the New Jersey Rifle Association. The tournament has attracted teams and individual marksmen representing all of the arms of the regular service and the military organizations of many states.

LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 26.—Delegates from many states arrived in St. Louis today to attend the thirty first national encampment of the Sons of Veterans, composed of honorably discharged soldiers and sailors and their sons and daughters. The sessions will begin at the Planters' Hotel Monday and continue through the greater part of the week. At the same time the Ladies' Auxiliary of which Mrs. Flora A. S. Whitney of Worcester, Mass., is president, will hold its annual meeting. Abundant entertainment for the visitors has been prepared by the local organization.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Aug. 26.—The United States naval collier Jupiter, the largest vessel ever built on the Pacific coast, was launched today at the Mare Island navy yard. The Jupiter is 524 feet long and will have a displacement of 20,000 tons. The vessel was christened by Mrs. Thomas F. Ruhm, wife of Commander Thomas F. Ruhm, naval constructor, who has had charge of the building of the ship.

Reunion of Scottish Clan

GLASGOW, Aug. 26.—Historic Duart Castle, known to all visitors to the Isle of Mull, was the scene today of the first annual national gathering held by any Scottish family since 1745. It was a reunion of the Clan Maclean, of which Colonel Sir Fitzroy Donald Maclean, Bart., is the hereditary head. The Maclean family is represented in all parts of the world and is said to number not less than 25,000 members in the United States and Canada. Sir Allan Maclean, who held Quebec against the American forces of Montgomery and Arnold, was a member of the clan, as was also Colonel Allan Maclean of Delaware, who fought valiantly on the side of the Americans in the Revolution.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION HELD SHOOTING AT KERNERSVILLE

The township Republican primary was held Saturday. The following were elected delegates to the county convention, which meets next Saturday to elect delegates to the state convention at Charlotte, September 4th: W. S. Brily, Harry Skinner, R. C. Flanagan, W. J. Fleming, Elihu Brily, Henry T. King, W. H. Harrington, C. L. Thigpen, Henry Harris, B. F. Jolly.

R. C. Flanagan, W. S. Brily and B. F. Jolly were selected township executive committee.

Fancied Insult Causes Shooting That May Prove Fatal

GREENSBORO, N. C., Aug. 25.—Reports of a fearful and murderous attack with a shotgun were brought to this city on the Kernersville train by parties from that place. The attack was made on John G. Kerner by Claude Dickens and as a result Mr. Kerner is at his home in Kernersville under the care of physicians, seriously if not mortally wounded. Dickens is held in the Forsyth county jail pending developments in the condition of the wounded man.

The shooting occurred yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock and from the bare details received here was one of the most uncalled for, while at the same time one of the most distressing, affairs ever occurring in that section. Dickens is said to have been drunk when he made his assault following a fancied insult. He fired a whole load of shot into the left side of Mr. Kerner at close range, literally grinding the arm to pulp, while a number of shot went into the body. That the greater quantity of the load struck Mr. Kerner's arm is said to have been the cause of his not being killed on the spot.

Mr. Kerner is of the firm of the American Hosiery mills, which was recently burned down and was associated with his brother, O. W. Kerner. They were operating a brick plant to make brick for rebuilding the destroyed factory and yesterday afternoon John G. Kerner went to the brick making plant to have a ditch dug around it, there being indications of a rain storm coming.

Mysterious Shooting At Automobile Party

Saturday afternoon Mr. Heber Savage took several persons over to Bethel in his automobile and it was after dark when they returned. When coming along about half way to Greenville the car wheels made considerable noise in running over a bridge. This attracted a dog in a neighboring yard and the canine came dashing along beside the car barking viciously. Mr. Savage hollered at the dog to drive him away and about that time the report of a gun rang out on the night air. Several shot from the gun struck both the car and its occupants but the distance was fortunately too great for any harm to result.

The shot was fired from a house in the yard that the dog run out of. The place is known and officers are investigating the matter to learn who fired the gun.

Capture of Washington

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 26.—August 24th is a memorable date in the history of Washington, for it was ninety eight years ago today that the British army in command of Gen. Ross took possession of the national capital and applied the torch to the congressional library and a number of other public buildings.

MURDER PLOT AGAINST JOHNSON

Kentucky Representative Has Been Marked

IS AGAINST CERTAIN LEGISLATION

Hiding in the Dark Certain Interests Had Planned The Death of Congressman Because of Political Views

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—An alleged scheme to kill Representative Johnson of Kentucky, chairman of the House Committee, so as to head off certain proposed legislation, has been disclosed to Mr. Johnson, and a sworn statement has put the Kentuckian and his friends on guard.

"I know all about it," said Mr. Johnson, today, "but I'd rather not say what interests are back of the idea."

The affidavit of a Washington man detailing a conversation he heard on a street car in which one of those talking said he had been following Mr. Johnson for three nights to kill him, is locked up today in the office of Speaker Clark.

The story is absolutely true, said Mr. Johnson.

Who are the parties? he was asked. I do not care to say now.

What do you propose to do? Nothing, unless there's an attempt to execute the threat. I have all the facts, but I don't want to go into details.

Mr. Johnson has been very aggressive in the advocacy of legislation affecting the District of Columbia.

He is said to have incurred the enmity of many people who interpret his views as hostile to the interests of the city.

REV. HOYLE PREACHES FINE SERMON

Christian Education, Subject of Methodist Preacher

In Jarvis Memorial Methodist church Sunday morning, Rev. E. M. Hoyle delivered a forceful sermon on "Christian Education". In the course of his sermon he pointed out some defects in graded schools of the present day that might very wisely be remedied. Education, he said, is a "drawing out," but the tendency of teaching today is stuffing so much into the children that it is a wonder anything can be brought out of them. One of the most serious disadvantages of the school system is changing the pupil to a different teacher with each advance in grade, thus necessitating each teacher learning over the capabilities of the pupil, each having a different method of teaching. Far better results would obtain if the same teacher and pupils continued together through the successive grades.

He also pointed out the disparity between boys and girls at graduation, that in the primary grade the number is about equal, but when it comes to the graduating class there are usually about four times as many girls as boys. The boys have dropped out on the way, and something is responsible for this. It may in a measure be due to having only lady teachers. There ought to be more male teachers in our schools, especially to teach and manage the nearly grown boys. The present public school system, however, does not have enough money to secure male teachers. A woman can teach for $40 a month and get along on it if she has no one but herself to take care of, but men cannot teach for such salaries if they have families dependant upon them, hence they are not attracted to school work. If the schools were classified on subjects instead of in grades, they could be run with fewer teachers. This would enable paying better salaries and open the way to employing more male teachers.

Mr. Hoyle said he once spoke of these things in a former pastorate and provoked much criticism. While not a few expressed approval of what was said, at the same time they said they were afraid to advocate the remedies advocated. He might be criticized for saying the same things here, but he felt it his duty to thus speak and did so fearlessly.

NEW PRESIDENT FOR SEABOARD LINE

Harahan Began As An Apprentice Boy

CLIMB HAS BEEN EVER RAPID

In Accordance With Policy of the Board, Southerner Will Assume Command. Office Located in New York

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—From apprentice boy in the Louisville and Nashville shops to president of the Seaboard system is the record of William J. Harahan, who has been selected as successor to N. S. Meldrum, who recently expressed a desire to retire from the presidency of the Seaboard.

Mr. Harahan was selected for the post by a committee composed of Mr. Meldrum, S. Davies Warfield of Baltimore and L. F. Loree, president of the Delaware and Hudson Railway.

Mr. Warfield, at the Plaza, said:

"The committee appointed to recommend a president for the Seaboard Air Line Railway had under consideration a number of gentlemen for this position. Apart from the railroad experience and qualifications requisite, following out the policy adopted that the management be composed largely of Southern men, I can state that in the opinion of the committee, all things being equal, it was decided to give preference to such a man. Further than this, it is proper for me to say that the directors should act on any selection which may have been made by the committee appointed for such purpose before any announcement can or should be made."

The headquarters of the president of the Seaboard Air Line will be moved from New York to Norfolk and Portsmouth, Va., where the main offices are located.

Mr. F. W. Underwood, president of the Erie Railway, said: "I do not know of course, whether Mr. Harahan is to become the president of the Seaboard Air Line Railway or not, but I do know that the Erie Railway would regret exceedingly to lose his services. I feel that I am not abusing a confidence in stating that when Mr. Warfield saw me in reference to Mr. Harahan I told him that, in my judgment, he could not select a man better qualified to fill the requirements for president of the Seaboard Air Line Railway."

The selection of Mr. Harahan will mean carrying on the policy outlined recently, as he is of Southern birth and has spent a large part of his life in the South. He was born in Nashville, Tenn., in 1867. He married Miss Smith of Nashville. He has held a number of important positions and has had an all round railway training, entering the service as a clerk in 1881. He began his active railway career as an apprentice in the shops of the Louisville and Nashville at Louisville, Ky., in 1884 and has steadily forged his way up the line.

Subsequently he became engineer in charge of bridge construction of the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern. From 1892 to 1895 he was roadmaster and trainmaster of the Pontiac division of the Illinois Central Railway. In 1895 he became assistant superintendent and later was promoted to the position of superintendent of the Freeport division, with headquarters at Freeport, Ill.

From 1896 to 1901 he was superintendent of the Louisville division of the same road, being located at Louisville, Ky. Later he became chief engineer. In 1902 he became assistant general manager and in 1904 was promoted to general manager. In 1905 he became fourth vice president, in charge of operation and in 1906 he became vice president. In 1907 Mr. Harahan left the Illinois Central to accept a position with the Erie Railway and later became vice president of that road, which position he now occupies.

SERIOUS CHARGES AGAINST FLIES

In discussing the real facts about flies, the state board of health in a bulletin now in press, says: "Flies are the vilest creatures afflicting mankind." After taking this stand the board proceeds to explain that the only objections to flies used to be because they were pests and torments. "Later," says the authority, "we learned about the fly's breeding places, his habits of life, and the possibility of his carrying nauseating filth on his body from stables, garbage cans and privies to our houses, our persons and our food. Then it was that flies became extremely disgusting, to say the least. By far the greatest objection to flies, however, now comes from the fact that we know conclusively that, besides a discomfort and carrying filth, they spread tremendous amounts of disease. Besides actually dropping bacteria and filth from their feet and legs, flies may transmit disease by discharging their vile, disease laden excreta either directly or indirectly upon their food."

In summing up the remedy the article states that "for immediate protection and probably for many years to come we shall have to resort to screening all doors and windows. But the time will come when our municipal authorities will waken up to the gravity of the situation and abolish flies by abolishing their breeding places. Then we shall pass and enforce ordinances requiring the screening of all manure and the general use of sanitary privies. Until then, however, the individual may do much with wire swatters and sticky fly paper in the fly traps in the garbage can outside".

GET THE HABIT

This neglect on our part in not fitting every building with good, reliable screens has merely come to be a habit, handed down from the years that have passed and the time has arrived to offset it. Get the fly screen habit. Did you ever attempt to spend the night at the home of a friend whose house, although screenless, appeared mighty inviting and cool by day? The plan of attack is comparatively simple.

Keep screens and covers over refuse and everything likely to offer a breeding place for flies.

Screen every window and every door and banish the fly from the house.

In this way the amount of disease and discomfort will be greatly reduced.

There are plenty of babies just as good, just as pretty and just as sweet as the Astor youngster, but it is not recorded that any other has been born in the possession of three million dollars in his own right. However, we know a man right here in Pitt county into whose home twins come, who says he "wouldn't take three million a piece for them, but would not give thirty cents for any more".

Roosevelt is going back to some of his canards of eight years ago. He is denying that he had any knowledge of a big contribution made by the Standard Oil Company to his campaign in 1904. Roosevelt knows that year was bought by big contributions of the interests as he knows he is living today and he had full knowledge of the contributions at the time they were made.

If the county senatorial joint discussion stirs up much rumpuss there will not likely be any kicking at each other as both the candidates are duck-legged.

Congressmen have packed their grips and gone home for the campaign. Those who are candidates again will take the stump in their respective districts.

The royal road to health leads not by the way of big pills or little pills, purgatives or patent medicines, but by the homely road of correct habits.

Canning vegetables and fruits is something that should be going on on every farm in Pitt county.

The best town on all the map is Greenville.

The biggest asset of some candidates is lying.

He graduated from West Point in 1876 and served as second lieutenant, first lieutenant and captain of the 25th Infantry until February, 1898, a period of twenty two years, when he was transferred to the adjutant general's department with the rank of major. He reached the grade of colonel in 1902. During the fourteen years that he has been attached to the department of which he has now become the head, Col. Andrews has served in all parts of the United States and its possessions. For several years he was stationed at the War Department. Until his recent duties called him to Washington he served as adjutant general of the Eastern Division, with headquarters at Governors Island, N. Y.

SIDEWALK SKETCHES

By Howard L. Rann.

EMBROIDERY

EMBROIDERY is a form of relaxation which enables a woman to engage in conversation on any topic without being handicapped by her mental process. Some women are able to relax to this extent without it but their number is few.

Embroidery consists of stretching a piece of green goods over a hoop and making passes at it with a needle and thread. A certain number of these passes constitutes a stint and twelve stints constitute a stunt.

There is no family connection between embroidery and darning. Darning is a vulgar pastime and is never resorted to until everybody in the house is out at the heels. It is much easier to embroider a still life photograph of a Japanese crane on a blue sofa pillow than it is to darn one pair of socks.

The embroidery habit has a very depressing influence upon husbands whose clothes need repairing. Many a man is going around with his trousers held in an upright attitude by ten penny nails and other tinware, while his wife curls up in the hammock and carves her initials on a new set of dollies.

Old fashioned embroidery consisted in knitting flowing neck scarfs in three colors, crocheting the coy wristlet and weaving navy blue wool socks with a seam in them that would cause the wearer to roll in his walk like an intoxicated boatswain. There was also the good old crazy quilt, made up of exhausted lingerie and the pallid remains of near-silk petticoats. No one who ever wakes up in the night and saw one of these quilts staring him sternly in the eye would care to call it back to a world of woe. Embroidery would be more useful if it were applied occasionally to such homely garments as pants, shirts and other pieces of bric-a-brac worn by the male sex.

Rondthaler, concludes: "The result of my trip through Europe is a renewed pride and delight in our own country and particularly in better than in any other portion of the the South, where opportunities are far world I have seen." One good effect of travel is heightened appreciation of home. "What was the best part of your trip to Europe?" a returning traveler was asked. "Getting home," he said, "I never realized before how much better in the things that count, America is than Europe." ## Flying Men Fall victims to stomach, liver and kidney troubles just like other people, with like results in loss of appetite; backache, nervousness, headache and tired, listless, run-down feeling. But there's no need to feel like that T. D. Peebles Henry Tenn., proved. "Six bottle of Electric Bitters" he writes, "did more to give me new strength and good appetite than all other stomach remedies I used." So they help everybody. Its folly to suffer when this great remedy will help you from the first dose. Try it Only 50 cents at all Druggists.
