MAGISTRATE GIVES HEARING

Ayden Boys Tried Before C. D. Rountree

ARE CHARGED WITH STEALING

Youths Cause No End Of Laughter As They Seriously Cross-Examine Each Other

Before Magistrate Rountree this morning, Raymond Stokes, Derwood McLawhorn and Chester Ross, Ayden youths, ranging in age from 13 to 17 years, were given a hearing on the charge of breaking into J. R. Smith and Bros., store in Ayden and making away with goods, five pistols and several boxes of cartridges to the value of $50.00.

The larceny took place sometime after eleven o'clock Tuesday night, discovered first thing Wednesday morning and all parties implicated arrested before night. The boys, according to the story, had to climb a pole up to the roof of a shelter in the rear of the store and from there through a window into the store proper. Empty pistol boxes in a show case told the story when the place was opened for business yesterday morning. Five boxes lay empty in their accustomed places in the show case. The proprietors at once took steps to place the culprits under arrest and the two younger ones, Ross and McLawhorn, were arrested in Ayden, whilst the elder boy, Stokes, was taken here early in the afternoon by Policeman George Clark, who being notified from Ayden had been on the look out all morning. Stokes made a voluntary confession to Clark implicating the other boys, whilst the other boys were making a confession in Ayden accusing Stokes as the moving spirit of the larceny.

The same order reigned at the hearing this morning, the two younger ones testifying that Stokes was the leader and with threats made them follow into the store, even helping them to scale the window through which entrance was gained. Stokes denied this and exhibiting a pair of badly burned arms, swore that he did not do the climbing and even had he wished, the condition of his wrists would have prevented it. The property that was stolen has been recovered, except for a few cartridges that were fired. The boys were bound over to Superior Court.

Building Material Being Put To Good Use in This Town

At no time during its career as a community has Greenville witnessed so many buildings being erected at the same time. Never has such activity been felt as it the case at present. Work at the Hotel Proctor building is proceeding with a rapidity that speaks well for the contractors. The brick work is being pushed at a great clip, some people being of the opinion that by Saturday next the bricklayers will be out of the hole. We hope so; for when they get to the level of the street every body will be able to tell everybody else just where the elevator will be, where the offices will be located, etc., etc. Munford's new store will be completed in another two or three weeks and by its present appearance it will surely be something worthy of a Main street. Winslow's stables are being rushed to take care of the horse and mule market opening, an event which will soon take place. Every day, almost, wooden shacks are being rolled out of valuable sites to make room for better buildings and in fact everything in Greenville is putting on an aspect of "meaning business".

Mrs. W. F. Frisbee from Belhaven, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. C. D. Tunstall.

COL. ROOSEVELT TO LOSE ELECTORS

CONVENTION WILL DEPOSE ALL THAT WILL NOT WILLINGLY GIVE UP WORKING FOR TEDDY

EXPECT OYSTER BAY OUTBURST

BALTIMORE, Sept. 10.—The Republican state convention will reassemble here tomorrow for the purpose of naming six Presidential electors.

Of the eight electors chosen at the convention last May six are avowed Roosevelt supporters.

Three of this number have resigned since the renomination of President Taft, but three others, Colonel Joseph R. Baldwin, David M. Newbold, Jr., and William Allen, have steadfastly refused to get off the ticket and will be deposed by the convention which will be controlled by the regular Republican organization.

While it is expected there will be some Roosevelt delegates in the convention, the Progressive leaders say it is their desire that the supporters of Colonel Roosevelt should not attend as they contend that the convention is illegal.

They argue that under the law vacancies among the electors can only be brought about through death or resignation, in which event the vacancies may only be filled by the State Central Committee.

The Progressive leaders will hold a conference next Monday and talk of plans for the nomination of eight Roosevelt electors by petition.

Maryland Sunday Schools

FREDERICK, Md., Sept. 11.—Noted Sunday school workers from all over the state assembled in Frederick today for the forty-ninth convention of the Maryland Sunday School Association. The gathering opens with a welcome, demonstration tonight and the business sessions will occupy Thursday and Friday. Mrs. Mary F. Bryner of Chicago and several other representatives of the international association are among the scheduled speakers.

Tobacco Market Does Not Give Way Under Working Pressure

Although not so much tobacco was on the market, four of the five warehouses had on good sales today, some thing like 250,000 pounds being for sale.

A much needed rest was taken up at the New Brick, where the tremendous amount of 121,086 pounds was sold yesterday. The Gum disposed of 95,000 pounds. Sales at this last warehouses as well as at the Liberty were finished this morning, with today's sales coming right behind. The Centre Brick did a good business and was again well provided this morning. Foxhall's Star, which took a rest yesterday was crowded this morning when sales were started.

Today as well as yesterday, some of the men "higher up" in the tobacco world were on the Greenville market and this reinforcement was felt in the prices.

Double Tragedy Near Wilmington

WILMINGTON, Sept. 10.—News has reached Wilmington of a fatal double and perhaps triple tragedy that occurred at Bolton, not far from this city. The victims were L. Beal, aged twenty; Claude Beal, aged seventeen, both whites and sons of A. D. Beal, employed by the Wacamac Lumber Company at Bolton and a young negro, David Green. The three, returning home late presumably laid down for a rest with their heads too close to the tracks of the Atlantic Coast Line and a passing train hit them, instantly killing L. Beal by crushing his head to a pulp and fracturing the skull of Claude Beal, who died yesterday afternoon and seriously injuring the negro. It is thought the latter will also die.

TWO MORE BIRD-MEN ARE KILLED

MILITARY FLIERS MEET WITH THEIR DEATH WHILE MANEUVERING HIGH UP IN THE AIR

5 SIMILAR ACCIDENTS THIS WEEK

OXFORD, Eng., Sept. 10.—Another double aviation fatality, the second within a week, occurred early today to members of the army flying corps, when Lieutenant C. A. Bettington and Lieutenant E. Hotchkiss, both of whom had just been given commissions on probation, were killed while flying past Wolvercote.

The machine in which the officers were maneuvering had passed over Oxford and had reached a point just outside Wolvercote when the motor appeared to stop and the aeroplane fell to the ground from a height of 500 feet.

One account of the accident says that an explosion occurred while the machine was in the air.

The body of one of the officers was found in the river and the other was picked up in a field.

The officers were young men, who only recently had received their flying certificates. A big battle in the army maneuvers, in which a number of officers of the flying corps are taking part, began yesterday and the newspapers this morning referred in glowing terms to the success of the aviation corps.

Electric Battery Cars For New Bern

NEW BERN, September 10.—New Bern's street car line is now practically completed and cars will be in operation at an early date. The type so far known as the Edison storage battery car will be used on the line. At first only three cars will be used. The order for these was placed several weeks ago, and the owners of the line have been notified that they have been shipped from the plant and will arrive here within a few days.

This type of car is in use in many of the larger cities and has proven successful at all times. The track now covers more than a mile and half and will be further added to later on.

Wisconsin State Fair

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 10.—With a record breaking display in almost every department, the Wisconsin State Fair opened its gates today for a week's business. In connection with the fair there was opened this afternoon a race meeting under the auspices of the Great Western Circuit.

Gorman & Gentry's Bulletin

The market holds up well for the amount we are selling. The only tobacco showing a decline being those with soft order.

Our Tuesday's sale made a new record, as we sold 121,086 lbs, making an average of 16c and in this sale we had right much scrap, damaged and low grade tobacco.

Our customers were all pleased. Today we have some of the "head buyers" from Richmond, Durham and Danville on the sales and we are pleased to see that their buyers have been put on stronger on the wrapping and better grades. If the planters will just remember that all the tobacco has to be dried and handled after it is sold on the floors and will not rush it in too fast, we will be able to hold the prices up. This crop holds the best position of any in our 26 years experience and in our opinion will sell high all the season, if the planters will avoid glutting the market.

There is no chance of a decline such as we had in 1902. At that time there was large sticks held in two tobacco centers of the world. The high prices were caused by the Imperial and American Tobacco Co., fighting one another and when they formed a copartnership prices declined. With the courts decision against trusts we feel you will not see any repetition of 1902.

MEXICAN REBELS USING FRONTIER

Make it A Base For Their Operations

SUPPLIES BEING CONCENTRATED

Mexicans Do Not Believe That Uncle Sam Will Take a Hand At Quelling Insurrection

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Mexican rebels under General Salazar, who began late yesterday a concerted attack upon the town of Ojinaga, opposite Presidio, Texas, were driven off by the federals and are now retreating southwardly in the direction of San Bernardino, according to a dispatch received at the War Department from General E. Z. Steever at El Paso.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—More disquieting reports of the situation on the Arizona border continued today to reach the War Department. Mexican rebels were said to be gathering in the vicinity of Cananea preparing for a long and forced march. Forces and supplies were being concentrated.

Although every effort is being made to learn the objective point of the most formidable expedition since Orozoco's force was scattered, no satisfactory explanation had been found. Scouts report a force of close to four hundred well armed rebels opposite Quitman, Texas, while fifteen hundred more are reported encamped ten miles to the rear.

General Salazar still remains at Cabalones and is being closely watched by the American patrol to prevent threatened raids.

The situation at Ojinaga, where there are several Americans, is causing this government some uneasiness. Instead of a strong federal garrison, as reported, it has been learned that the federal commander has only 1,200 men. The rebels are gathering in increasing numbers in the vicinity.

What Mexico Thinks

Mexico City, Sept. 10.—Government officials continue to regard as absurd the reports that the United States government is seriously considering intervention in Mexico. It was declared at the National Palace today that conditions are steadily growing better instead of worse and that it is a question of only a short time before peace will be restored. In the meantime every effort will be made, it was announced to protect foreigners and their property.

Recent developments in the South do not appear to include any serious encounters. Rebels are reported to be operating in Buebla, Morelos and the State of Mexico.

Delayed reports tell of a battle lasting nine hours near the town of Pitotlan. The rebels were finally repulsed by Major Ocaranza, commanding a force equipped with machine guns.

A new rebel movement of which details have been obtained, has been reported from Mugniz, State of Coahuila. Several bands of revolutionists have appeared along the line of the International Railway and there is some reason for believing that their objective is the border town of C. P. Diaz.

The American Bankers

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 11.—The general sessions of the American Bankers Association convention were suspended today, while the three sections, those dealing with trust companies, savings banks and clearing houses, held their annual meetings. The feature of the day in which most interest was manifested was the address delivered before the trust company section by George M. Reynolds, of Chicago, on "The Money Trust Inquiry". Postmaster-General Hitchcock spoke before the savings bank section on the "Postal Savings Bank and the Banks". The clearing house section devoted the opening session to a discussion of technical matters affecting clearing houses.

Mrs. W. E. Tucker and little son, Durwood, went to Norfolk today to visit her sister, Mrs. E. T. Gross.

Gotham's Mayor Goes Before Aldermanic Committee Investigating Police Grafting Probe

MUCH ABUSED TOWN OFFICIAL, AFTER SEVERE THRASHING ADMINISTERED BY METROPOLITAN PRESS CEASES TO IGNORE THE CLAMOR OF NEW YORK'S CITIZENS AND WILLINGLY CLIMBS WITNESS CHAIR.

Chairman of Committee, Curran, Instructs That the Mayor be Sued

Could Sink Singer Building In Hole at Training School

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Amid a burst of handclapping William J. Gaynor, mayor of New York, took the witness chair at the City Hall this afternoon and was sworn in by Alderman Curran to testify before the Aldermanic committee appointed to investigate graft in the police department. We are anxious to know, said Mr. Buckner, counsel for the committee, at the outset, how the mayor keeps in touch with conditions in the police department. Mainly by letter from the commissioner, the mayor replied. Sometimes he talks with me.

Is there no special way in which you keep advised of conditions? Have you no special system? No system except what I hear through the commissioner. Have you had any system of reports for ascertaining general conditions in the city for any week or any month? Oh yes, said the mayor wearily, I have hands and legs and ears and feet. But you have no way of learning conditions except through the commissioner? insisted Mr. Buckner. Oh, take it that way if you want to, replied the mayor.

Mr. Buckner pursued this line of questioning until the mayor lost his temper. "I came here to help the committee and give you facts. I shall withdraw as a witness if you do not ask me pertinent questions as to whether the police department has failed to enforce the laws," he exclaimed. Further questions nettled the mayor still more. I decline to answer, he cried when asked if his system was defective. Curran to Sue Gaynor For Libel

New York, September 10.—"The time for handling Mayor Gaynor with kid gloves is past," Alderman Curran, chairman of the aldermanic committee, investigating graft in New York, declared in a formal statement issued today.

Trinity College Names New Dormitory Jarvis Hall

The new dormitories at Trinity College will be called Jarvis Hall, Aycock Hall and Alspaugh Hall, after Governor Thomas J. Jarvis, whose administration set the state in the way to material prosperity in which it is now travelling. Governor Charles B. Aycock, who made popular education the chief motive of his administration and Colonel J. W. Alspaugh, of Winston, the oldest living graduate of the College and one of the men who stood in the breach in the days of financial struggle. So voted the executive committee of the board of trustees at their meeting today. In commenting upon this action President Few says that Trinity College, although it rests upon a private foundation, is a state institution just as much as if it were supported by public taxation. The heroes of the state are its heroes; and it counts it a privilege to name two of its buildings after two distinguished governors of the state, the one now dead and the other full of years and crowned with honors, both of whom it can already be safely predicted, will rank among the greatest North Carolinians of their generation. The honoring of Colonel Alspaugh will be approved by all who know intimately the history of the college.

Connecticut Republicans

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 10.—The Republican state convention of Connecticut assembled here today for organization. Tomorrow the convention will nominate candidates for governor and other state officers to be voted for in November. The party appears to be somewhat at sea over a standard bearer. Judge Silas A. Robinson of Middletown and several others are under consideration as a candidate to oppose Governor Simeon E. Baldwin, who in all probability will be renominated by the Democrats.

HOW TO HAVE GOOD LUCK ALWAYS

We are all interested when somebody talks of luck.

Probably ten thousand individuals have told how they almost sailed on the Titanic and how luck saved them.

Luck did nothing of the kind, of course. They simply did not sail.

Almost every human being has superstition.

Gamblers are made up of superstition, because gambling requires no real effort of the intellect.

Ignorance is made up of superstition, because superstition replaces knowledge in the mind as weeds take the place of grain in an abandoned field.

Ninety-nine out of one hundred of those who see this newspaper will at least begin to read this editorial because it talks about luck.

If we should proceed to tell what is lucky and what is not lucky, if we describe the wonders of lucky stones, ill luck charms and son on, readers would go through to the end, not believing, perhaps, but still interested.

If this article were to change and talk about how to be healthy, instead of how to be lucky, half, at least, would stop reading it.

Yet it is easy for the average man or woman to be healthy if he or she will. There is such a thing as good health and he or she can get it. There is no such a thing as good luck.

What a pity so much talk, emotion and time are wasted on luck that does not exist and so little devoted to health and knowledge, so easily obtained.

In the old days when the plague—probably a form of Asiatic cholera—devastated England thousands had tattooed on their arms the mystic word "abracadabra".

Those that had it got the cholera and died the same as anybody else. If, instead of tattooing "abracadabra" on their arms, they had drunk water carefully boiled and eaten only food not exposed to contamination, they would have been safe. You have to swallow the cholera in order to get the cholera.

Luck has nothing to do with it.

Yet in the East today the natives fight the cholera with charms and incantations and religious appeals. They bathe in the Holy Ganges, where putrefying corpses spread the disease and the bathers swallow it.

"Or they go to Mecca to pray near the Holy Stone on which "Mohammed stood when he went up to heaven," and come in contact with the disease down there and catch it.

When European scientists, among the miserable inhabitants along the banks of the Ganges or among the ignorant Mohammedans, try to replace magic and heathen religious nonsense with actual knowledge, the natives fight the scientists, denounce them and accuse them or murder.

A COSTLY ERROR.

Every now and then somebody refers to the building of the steel bridge across Tar river on the side of the old bridge, instead of at the foot of Evans street, as a stupendous error, certainly in so far as it affects the interests of the town. Today we heard the suggestion that if Greenville would take it upon herself to build another bridge across from Evans street, the cost would more than come back to the town inside of ten years in improvements and increased business. Such a thing may never be done, but all the same people will refer to it as a thing that could be done with profit to the town.

SCHOOL WILL BE OVERRUN.

Two weeks before the opening of the fall term of East Carolina Teachers Training School, more applications for admission are in than the dormitories can accommodate. Some of these days we expect to see this condition changed, when a school doing as great a work for the state as is done by this institution will not have this good work circumscribed by inadequate facilities. A thousand teachers a year would come here to be trained for more efficient work if the school could accommodate them, and the means to do this should be supplied.

President Taft is thinking of convening congress in extra session about the first of October to consider the question of intervention to stop the trouble in Mexico. It is not likely that the members will want to go back to Washington so soon after adjourning a long session of congress, but if the call comes they will have to go.

Would you not think that men of even ordinary intelligence would be ashamed to be guilty of such deprecations upon public property as cutting down a stock law fence? We feel sure that the men who do this are very much lashed by their own consciences. If not they are to be pitied.

A man remarked to The Reflector "I am primarily sick". A closer diagnosis of his case disclosed that he is "sick and disgusted" with primaries. He said he never wants to see another one, but believes in holding conventions to nominate candidates.

Monday night the stock law fence was cut again and report says it was almost riddled. Possibly that was a way of celebrating over Saturday's primary, instead of an old time jollification or torch-light procession.

Two circuses in one week is the lay out for Greenville early in October. And they will both be well patronized.

If all of Greenville was as busy as the tobacco market there would not be a still spot in town.

This is My Birthday

Henry A. Barnhardt

Henry A. Barnhardt, who represents the Thirteenth district of Indiana in the national house of representatives, was born near the town of Twelve Miles, Indiana, Sept. 11, 1858. He received a normal school education and for some years was engaged in school teaching. Later he found employment as a surveyor, which profession he followed until 1886, when he became publisher of a newspaper in Rochester, Ind. In 1908 Mr. Barnhardt was elected to Congress on the Democratic ticket to fill the unexpired term of the late Congressman A. L. Brick. He was a successful candidate for re-election the following year and is now serving his third term.

Ayden Items.

AYDEN, N. C., Sept. 11.—Protracted meeting in progress at the Baptist church.

The force of hands with the assistance of the street machine are making our streets look more creditable.

Mr. Walter Gardner is gradually improving.

A runaway horse hitched to a buggy dashed out of the alley between Smith Bros., and J. J. Hines' store, ran into a delivery wagon, and ran on down to the well at Sauls' Pharmacy, turning and ran up on the side walk and knocked the post from under the shelter in front of a millinery store and Spier's jewelry store, the shelter in falling broke out a large plate glass. The mad animal was apprehended at the intersection of Lee and Second street.

Let your light shine, but it didn't shine long. Dr. Sauls placed a light in the street opposite of the rubbish of the shelter knocked down by the horse and some thief stole the lantern before day.

Mr. Richard Wingate is rejoicing over the arrival of a baby girl which makes him six girls and half a dozen boys. Who can beat it. Trot him out.

Mr. Eugene Cannon is pap. It's a boy.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Neylans and little granddaughter, Hellen, left Tuesday to spend a few days in Grifton, and Kinston, then Mr. Neylans and Miss Hellen will go to their Florida home, while Mrs. Neylans will visit here until near Christmas.

Mr. Jno. Webb is building the most unique house, so far in town. It is weatherboarded with shingles and has a Jamestown appearance.

Messrs. Grover McLawhorn and B. S. Sumrell architects and contractors have begun the erection of a neat bungalow in Ghent for Dr. W. H. Dixon.

New cotton is coming in and commanding a good price, while tobacco prices are clear out of sight.

The Amphyrcian Society of the Seminary, debated Tuesday night: Resolved, that the education of the boys is a greater benefit to the state than the education of the girls. Affirmative, L. L. Smith, Larry W. Smith; negative, J. C. Griffin.

Beatrice, the little girl of Mrs. J. A. Branch, while picking cotton in the field fell and was speechless for several days, but is slowly recovering.

Mr. J. R. Smith returned Monday night from Wilson where he had accompanied his daughter, Miss May, to the A. C. college.

Hon. Claude Kitchin will speak in Ayden Sept. 21st., at 2 o'clock p. m. Everybody should hear this distinguished statesman as a defender of the state's rights, he stands shoulder to shoulder with Champ Clark W. J. Bryan, Senator Bailey and Ben Tillman.

Rev. E. T. Phillips is away attending the Western conference.

Ayden tobacco market is amply able to sell your tobacco for a satisfactory price. They send away scores of pleased sellers every day.

Our new goods have arrived. Come early and make your selection. J. R. Smith and Bro.

Mr. J. H. Tripp left Tuesday for Baltimore to buy his fall and winter stock.

Distinguished Veteran Retires

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 11.—Major Daniel W. Arnold, of the Quartermaster's Department, closed his active career in the army today, having been transferred to the retired list by operation of law on account of age. His retirement leaves Col. John L. Clem, sometimes called the drummer boy of Chickamauga, the only officer on the active list of the army who saw service in the civil war. Major Arnold's military service, however, has not been of a continuous character, as he did not enter the regular army until many years after he had quit the volunteer service after the surrender at Appomattox.

Boys in Blue March Again

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Sept. 11.—Reversing the program followed in previous years, the Grand Army opened its national encampment today with the annual parade, when gray-haired veterans of the Union army marched again in martial array. The route was shorter and there were fewer encampments, but there was no apparent diminution of the amount of enthusiasm displayed by the veterans. Forty-four states were represented in the column, which passed through decorated streets which passed continuous lines of cheering spectators.

The first business session of the encampment will convene in the Temple Auditorium tomorrow morning. The selection of a new commander-in-chief will be the most important item of business. Those whose names are most prominently mentioned in connection with the honor are Captain Alfred B. Beers of Connecticut, Maj. Gen. Daniel E. Sickles of New York and former Congressman Washington Gardner of Michigan.

GRAND ARMY-ENCAMPMENT

15,000 to 25,000 Veterans Will Parade Tomorrow

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Sept. 10.—The arrangements for the forty-sixth national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, with its several affiliated bodies, which will open in this city tomorrow, were completed today. Commander-in-Chief Trimble and the other national officers, together with veterans and other visitors estimated to total nearly 40,000 are in the city in readiness for the opening.

In connection with the meetings of the grand Army there will held the annual gatherings of the Woman's Relief Corps, the Ladies of the G. A. R., the Daughters of Veterans, the National Association of Army Nurses of the Civil War, the National Association of Naval Veterans, the National Association of Union Ex-Prisoners of War, and the National Association of Civil War Musicians.

The meetings and reunions of these various organizations will continue until Saturday. The big feature of the week will be the parade of the Grand Army tomorrow, when, it is estimated, veterans variously estimated at from 15,000 to 25,000 will be in line. The business sessions of the Grand Army encampment will begin Thursday. Much interest centers in the choice of the new commander-in-chief. For this office there are already several candidates in the field.
