cating liquors, just as the majority sees proper to do. He forgets that the manufacture and sale of intoxithe basic principle of all good government, is the extirpation of crime and no mtjority can make a crime legal, or justifiable. Carry his principle out and we would have no more who make no progress in arts and science and but very little in population. He claims to be a Republican but he is far from being one, in principle T he writer voted the ity in framing the platform, one plank of which, was strongly for the prohibition of the manufacture and sale of liquor, another principle was that laws affecting all the people should be uniform throughout the state and nation. These principles have never been changed and our advice to Mr. Settle is to put himself in harmony with the party or get out of it, for there is no hope of ever carrying the state with that kind of leadership. He claimed that prohibition increases crime. But statistics are against him, many of the jails in Maine, the stand by prohibition state, are empty and the per cent of crime is much less and taxes much ower than in the most favored whiskey states. The same is true of all the other prohibition states, in proportion to the time that has elapsed since they became dry. He claimin our state. If this is true and he mistaken when he accuses his opknows it, as a good citizen, he ought ponents of taking up a great moral to have the perjurers all arrested, question to call away the attention tried, convicted and sentenced to the of the people from their blunders on roads. If he does not exaggerate the extent of the evil, it would solve the question and we would have good roads in a very few months, throughout the state. We know of no case claims that it drains our own state AND LOCAL OPTION, of money to enrich others. We know The Hon. Thomas Settle, in his whiskey men are not as patriotic as speech at Greenville, advocated giv- they ought to be and do send money ing small communities, as villages to the liquor houses in other states and townships, the privilege of voting the greater part of what they sold. as when we had saloons, for much came from other states and as more was then used than now, the tax was much greater than at present, cating liquors, is a crime per soe and hence we are gaining many thousands of dollars as it is. We expect to have a law passed forbidding the shipment of liquor into dry territory very soon and that will greatly increase our gain. He argued that logovernment than the Bedvin Arabs cal option would decrease the consumption of liquor and blot out the blind tigers, greased pigs, joints, and otehr illicit places with equally euphonius names. But again the facts are against him. There are more ticket and aided with his small abil- of these fearful places in local option than in prohibition territory. We once lived in a county of which the county seat had local option and a small majority licensed the twenty saloons in the place. Yet there were more places where it was sold on the sly than were licensed and almost every merchant kept the vile stuff in his store to treat his Mberal customers and sell him a supply if he desired. The remainder of the county had prohibition and no places where liquor was sold clandestinely. We are glad to record that since that time the county seat has voted dry to the great benefit of the place. Local option has been a very disgraceful failure wherever tried. We have individual option and if the purplish tinge in the complexion of Greenville, North Carolina the would be governor do not commit perjury, he has decided in favor of its use and has carried it out in ed that perjury had greatly increased practice. We feel sure that he is chain gang and made work upon the other questions and holding the intelligent and moral people in the party, for the best element in his own party favored and voted for the law.
