CONGRESS LOOKING FOR BIG INCREASE IN ACTIVITIES SOON

Efforts Will Be Made to Report
Out Amended Peace
Treaty This Week.

WORK WILL BE CARRIED ON WHEN WILSON LEAVES

Several Bills Will be Given Attention Soon as Labor Day Work is Over.

(By The Associated Press.)

Washington, Sept. 1.—Efforts of the Senate Foreign Relations committee to report out the amended German peace treaty soon after President Wilson's departure Wednesday on his western speaking tour, is of greatest interest on this week's congress program starting Tuesday after the Labor Day recess.

Republican leaders expect to report the treaty to the Senate late this week or early week for open consideration while the President is addressing the country thus bringing the treaty contest to a climax. Controversy over ratification amendments reservations and interpretations is expected to ensue indefinitely and be intensified by the President's addresses.

In addition to the treaty contest other important developments expected in congress during the week are disposal by the Senate of the prohibition enforcement bill and the oil land leasing bill and report by the Senate Interstate Commerce sub-committee of a bill proposing a permanent railroad regulation policy. Work in the House will be confined largely to committee work in preparing legislation. In connection with the treaty, the Foreign Relations committee will continue hearings this week on questions affecting smaller European nations and peoples and also act on remaining provisions of the treaty probably by adoption of further amendments.

KNOXVILLE STILL UNDER
SWAY OF GREAT RACE RIOT

Knoxville, Sept. 1.—Mass meetings in connection with the primary next Saturday were called off today following the race riot which started when a crowd charged on the city jail Saturday to get Morris Mayes, a negro held on the charge of the murder of a white woman. The city is quiet today with a large crowd of soldiers and deputies patrolling the streets. The negroes are not permitted in the downtown section and all appearing on the streets were searched for arms. No assemblages of any kind are allowed for any purpose. Work has started on repairing the jail which was partly wrecked by the mob. The accused negro is in Chattanooga for safe keeping. The grand jury is to convene Wednesday and the city authorities will give the names of the negroes implicated in the occurrence. Many are leaving the city on trains, in vehicles and on foot.

POLICE PROMISE EARLY

ARREST IN COOPER CASE

Nashville, Sept. 1.—The police have promised a nearly arrest in the case of Robbing J. Cooper, prominent attorney implicated in the shooting of former Senator McCormick, and whose body was found in creek near here. A search is being made for the mysterious stranger who called at the Cooper home last Thursday night and left in an automobile with Cooper who was not seen again alive.

NEW YORK ABANDONS ANNUAL LABOR DAY PARADE, IS SAID

New York, Sept. 1.—The high cost of costumes is given a cause for the abandonment of the annual Labor Day parade. The workers also reported to have lost interest in the picturesque side of the celebration because of the strikers and labor troubles.

THREE STILLS ARE

IN RAID SATURDAY

Two White Men and One Ne-

Saturday and Sunday

DISTILLERS PLACED IN JAIL FOR SAFE KEEPING

Men Were Placed Under $1000
Bond Each in Preliminary Hearings.

Saturday afternoon and Sunday were filled with inauspicious occurrences for the whiskey traffic of this section of the state as two raids made by Sheriff Dudley and deputies resulted in the capture of three stills and three men who are at this time lodged in the county jail after being unable to provide the $1000 bond which they were placed under after receiving a preliminary hearing Saturday afternoon.

The stills, according to information presented the officers, were owned and operated by Tom Nobles, John Bright, white men, and Will Jenkins, colored, who has been assisting in the manufacture and disposition of the beverage throughout this section for some little time. The three plants were under the personal direction of each of the white men, and although they have been suspected by the officers for quite awhile, adequate evidence was not obtained until Saturday when the first raid was made, resulting in the capture of the other stills from information received following the arrest of the parties concerned. The first two stills were located at the home of John Nichols. (Continued on page six.)

TENNESSEE MOBS
FEED ON WHISKEY
AFTER GREAT RIOT

Dangerous Murderers Released from Jail Purposely to Get Whiskey.

Knoxville, Tenn., Sept. 1.—After doors of the county jail had been battered down last night by the mob which was seeking Maurice Mayer, the negro, who had been taken in custody for the killing of Mrs. Bertie Lindsey early Saturday morning, a number of prisoners escaped through the crowd. Among them were several convicted of first degree murder and one under sentence to be electrocuted.

Among the prisoners missing are Elude Fellows, charged with the murder of Wesley Nichols, Charles Paul, of LaFollette, charged with the murder of a wealthy Greek, and C. W. White of Blount county under sentence to be electrocuted for the murder of a white man in Blount county. Two Federal prisoners escaped from the third floor of the jail. Sam Huffaker, an alleged murderer from Sevier county, was among the prisoners who refused to leave the jail.

On the second floor of the jail a battering ram, 12 or 15 feet long was found after the mob had finished their work of searching for Mayes who previously had been removed to Chattanooga for safekeeping. When the leaders found the negro was not in the jail the mob turned its attention to a large quantity of illicit whiskey which had been found stored in one room. The head of a 16-gallon keg was smashed in, cups were produced and the liquor vanished rapidly. Cases of quart bottles of whiskey were broken open and the bottles rapidly carried away.

WILL ESTABLISH BETTER
RELATIONS IN AMERICA

Export Company Will Direct
Exporters and Importers of the South.

Washington, Sept. 1.—Matthew Hale, president of the quasi-public South Atlantic Maritime Corporation and general chairman of the sister company the South Atlantic Export Company, has left on a tour of North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Florida in the interests of the latter organization now being formed by the business men of the South Atlantic states for the purpose of stimulating trade with Latin America.

The export company, like its sister corporation, the South Atlantic Maritime Corporation, is a quasi-public company controlled by directors representing both the stockholders and the four South Atlantic states. While the Maritime manages the ten steamship allocated to it by the United States Shipping Board for the Latin-American trade via Wilmington, Charleston, Savannah, Brunswick and Jacksonville, the Export Company through its agents is designed to go out and "get the business" and divert it through the South Atlantic states. Both organizations are pledged to a course of equal and impartial treatment toward the five ports and the four states.

TURKISH GRAIN IS DISTRIBUTED THRU
AMERICAN MISSION

Several Thousand Tons of Valuable Supplies Have Been Put to Use.

Constantinople, Sept. 1.—All grain stored in Turkish government warehouses, millions of bushels, has been made available for distribution by the American Commission for relief in the Near East by Mohammed VI, the Sultan of Turkey, following an audience that monarch has just granted to Major David G. Arnold of Providence, R. I., director of the commission.

The Sultan, according to Major Arnold, expressed his appreciation of the American effort to relieve conditions in Turkey and upon the conclusion of the interview, issued an order to the Grand Vizier to co-operate with the commission, which now numbers about 450 American workers, aided by several thousand assistants.

The commission's field of operations covers the entire area of the old Turkish Empire and station are scattered from Smyrna to Tiflis, in the Caucasus. Major Arnold, who arrived less than two months ago and who has established headquarters here, was formerly of the famous Rainbow Division in France, and before the war saw service with American troops in Mexico. He is an attorney by profession. The personnel of the commission includes many former army officers.

The work of the commission involves a monthly expenditure of about $2,500,000. Forty-two thousand tons of supplies, including a large amount of drugs and valuable hospital equipment have already been put to use. In addition the organization has supervised the distribution of 30,000 tons of flour for the food administration. The supplies have been shipped to Turkey direct from America but their delivery into the interior, it is said, has involved every conceivable transport difficulty.

Congress may know what it is doing, but other folks have a different opinion about it.

EVERYTHING READY FOR OPENING DAYS OF LOCAL MARKET

Tobacconists Have Everything Practically Ready for Tomorrow, Said.

PROSPECTS ARE BRIGHT
FOR SPLENDID SEASON

Increased Facilities of Warehouses Will Prove Unusual Features.

With possibly greater plans than ever before formulated in behalf of the farmers in this section of the state the opening of the Greenville tobacco market tomorrow morning promises to be one of the most auspicious occurrences transpiring in this city for many years as every effort has been forwarded by the warehousemen to provide everything necessary for facilitating the sales and every convenience required to make the planter realize that the Greenville market is doing more to encourage and stimulate interest in the production of bright leaf than any other town throughout this section of the state.

The opening this year will witness various changes in practically every warehouse in the city for tobacconists have found it absolutely necessary to increase their accommodations in order to meet the continued advance and expansion of the industry in this section, and consequently, improvements have taken place in various departments that will do much in expediting the handling of the bright leaf in every sale of the season. Additions have been provided for two or three of the houses, a new warehouse constructed, and other changes such as making provisions for the planter while in the city have been brought about in such a way that the situation this year will be far more favorable than for the past several years.

Wagon loads of the bright leaf began rolling to the city at an early (Continued on page six.)

CITY SCHOOLS ARE ABOUT READY FOR
OPENING SEPT. 15

Few Changes Have Been Made in Faculty; Additional Teachers Necessary.

The public schools of Greenville will open on Monday, September 15th. The teaching force will be very largely the same as last year. The schools have shown a very large growth in recent years and several additional teachers were necessary for this coming term. Figures for the past year show in round numbers 1400 pupils enrolled and 41 teachers employed. It is believed from the numerous early inquiries that have been made at the superintendent's office that fully 1500 pupils will be enrolled this year.

Probably no other part of the school system is growing so rapidly as the High School. There were one hundred and fifty three students in the high school last year and it is expected that two hundred will be reached during the coming term. To accommodate this fast growing school the library facilities have been very greatly improved and the Science laboratories have been made second to none. Much additional physical education and athletic work will be done this year. Lt. J. H. Rose, recently discharged from active service, will be principal of the school.

OPIUM IS SHIPPED TO MEXICO UNDER JAPANESE EFFORT

Crude Opium Consigned as Japanese Cigars Is Imported to Mexico.

OPIUM CASES HAVE NOT BEEN PRESSED IN COURT

Great Amounts of Money Made Through Secret Shipments, Is Said.

Mexico City, Sept. 1.—A shipment of crude opium consigned as Japanese "cigars" was imported into Mexico through Salina Cruz on March 30, 1917 from Kobe, Japan, according to declarations made by W. E. Herrmann, described by the papers here as a "German banker," in a deposition made in court, following a vigorous anti-opium campaign by the press.

Except for a raid by police and health officials and the legal inquiry in which Herrmann figured, the opium expose has not been pressed in the courts. Although Herrmann, in his deposition, did not give the size of the shipment imported in 1917, the newspapers declare it totalled 5,000 kilograms and that, at present prices, was valued at 3,500,000 pesos. In the raid crude opium valued at 23,000 pesos was seized it is said and thousands of tiny empty tins, supposedly used for retailing the prepared drug, were found.

According to the newspapers, the profits of the opium trade, on the one shipment referred to, ran into millions of pesos. It is said that an involved system of smuggling resulted in most of the narcotic being sold in the United States. It was shipped "cigars" out over the top in automobiles equipped with double gasoline tanks and carried across in hand baggage by a band of Germans according to the revelations here.

Since the Mexican law does not prohibit importations of opium, the Federal department of health being concerned only in its sale, the drug dealers confined their operations to sales by devious methods in the United States.

HIGH PRICES STILL HOLD SWAY AMONG PEOPLE OF JAPAN

Soaring Prices Show Little Diminution in Clothing and Foods, Is Said.

Tokio, Sept. 1.—Soaring prices for food and clothing as well as house-rent show no diminution in Japan. The cost of living, according to the Yozodun has increased ten-fold since 1887 while wages have advanced only four-fold.

As against 36 yen a koku, for instance during the rice riots of August, last year, the price of rice has now risen to 36 yen a koku (five bushels) and a grave food crisis has resulted. Japan is a country of large families and with rice costing about $28 for every five bushels the head of a family has to do some hard thinking. Other food necessities, especially sugar, which Japanese use considerably, have risen in proportion to rice. It is the great middle class of Japan, the people working on small salaries, which is raising the greatest cry.

Although wealth has increased as a result of the war the real wealth of the masses has decreased and the people of Japan are relatively poor. At the same time national tastes have changed and the Spartan simplicity of olden times is no longer endured.

Low salaries in public services have so depleted the personnel that government institutions like the postoffice, telegraphs, police force and schools are all undermanned. Industrial companies, however, are paying dividends of from 50 to 100 per cent and distributing big bonuses, lands and rents are rising in value and the farmer is hoarding his rice until he has pushed the market to its highest notch.

WAGE QUESTION IS ABOUT READY FOR SEVERAL CHANGES

Wilson Tells Labor Day Workers He Will Call Conference Very Soon.

LABOR AND INDUSTRY TO DISCUSS RELATION

Efforts to Arrive at Fundamental Principal of Capital and Labor.

(By The Associated Press.)

Washington, Sept. 1.—President Wilson in a Labor Day message to American workers tonight announced that he would call in the near future a conference of representatives of labor and industry "to discuss fundamental means of bettering the whole relationship of capital and labor and putting the whole question of wages upon another footing."

The President said he was encouraged and pleased with the results, thus far of the government's efforts to bring down the cost of living and expressed confidence that substantial results would be achieved in the solving of this problem. Patience and vigilance, however, he said, must be exercised and the government's efforts must have the co-operation of every citizen.

Presumably referring to the existing labor unrest and threats of strikes, the President appealed to every citizen to refrain from doing anything that would tend to increase the cost of living but instead to do all possible to promote production.

The President expressed particular gratification at the attitude taken by the representatives of organized labor in supporting the government's program to meet requests for additional wages through a lowering of living costs and said he hoped that the workers themselves would "move with the government instead of against it in the solution of this great domestic problem."

PLANS FOR EXPANSION OF HOSPITAL COMPLETED

Winston-Salem, Sept. 1.—Plans for the expansion of the hospital facilities of this city, made possible by the $240,000 bequest in will of the late R. J. Reynolds supplemented by a contribution from Mrs. Reynolds of $50,000, have been received here and the contract for construction will be let soon. The execution of these plans will enable the city hospital here, it is said, to take a leading place among such institutions in the South. The new additions will probably be completed early next year.

MONDAY, SEPT. 1, 1919.

If Senator Lodge, of the Foreign Relations committee, has felt that his attacks on the league of nations have been completely justified, it is quite probable now that he may feel slightly inclined to believe that he has overdone the thing, for if the recent charges launched against him by Senator Owen, of Massachusetts, are given attention, there cannot be the slightest doubt but what plenty of room for clear logical thought will be presented. Owen is right when he says that the chairman of foreign affairs has been blinded by distrust and partisanship, for if there were one single opening for criticism, it has been employed in several different phases to bring about the point which Mr. Lodge has endeavored to present. The entire affair is becoming very ordinary indeed in every part of the country, and it might be well for the opponents to slow down just a little until people get over the present nauseating sensation brought about by continued discussion of unimportant points.

When the street paving now under way in many parts of the city is completed, the people of the city will no doubt have the pleasure in boasting of one of the best paved towns in the state, according to its size. Greenville is going forward by leaps and bounds, and if there were several residences available for rental purposes, possibly even greater advancement would be assured for the future. The time has come for people to awaken to the necessity of increased accommodations along this line, for incoming residents are daily demanding homes in which to live, but are directly turned away simply because they cannot get them. Boarding houses also are an indispensable asset to every community, therefore, Greenville must necessarily go forward along these lines before advancement in other branches can be effected with the desired results.

When packers of the nation get through attacking certain proposals in the Kenyon and Kendrick bills there will be very little left affording even the slightest consideration. Forces have been marshalled in from various parts of the county in an effort to impress the senate with the inavailability of certain objects of the bill, and if argument counts for anything in the long run, the industry is going to have a strong pull in carrying its points. While it is no doubt possible that the packers are responsible to some extent for the high prices of meats, it might be well for the government to conduct an exhaustive investigation into the various sources handling the products after leaving the packing plants. Profiteering, it is assured, is directly introduced after goods reach the market in its exchange from the dealers to the consumer.

With the opening of the Greenville tobacco market tomorrow people throughout the entire city are looking forward to a pleasant change in the commercial activities of the section. Tobacco season is of more than general significance to everybody in the locality for it brings new spirit and new life for every trade, putting plenty of money in circulation and opening up greater development in every line of business. Farmers are anticipating the usual good prices promised by the Greenville market, and even though production has been cut short in many localities the fact has not detracted from expectation of making the year a high one in the sales of bright leaf in Pitt county.

Practically every school of the state this year is looking for an unusually large attendance, and while of course it is true there are many that will be without the required number of teachers, many a section will be fortunate along this line and will experience the usual good results from the year's work. North Carolina is going forward every year in educational work, and more so now since the stump politician has begun to realize the necessity of greater progress along this line and is giving the work a boost every time he launches a campaign in his own personal interest.

Farmers of this part of the state should feel proud of the big Farmers' meeting to be held in this city the approaching Wednesday, with Congressman John Small in attendance, too. The occasion promises to be one of more than ordinary interest as several prominent speakers are on the program for the day, and will tell of the great work opened up to the planter in North Carolina. Everybody should attend and make the event one of the most auspicious gatherings in the history of the county, not simply because its a meeting with good speakers, but simply to increase interest in farming by encouraging the planter in his own great sphere.

The Greenville High School

Will open for the 1919-1920 session Monday, September 15th. Broad range of courses of study meeting all college entrance requirements under direction of experienced and well trained teachers. Greatly improved Library facilities, Science Laboratories with much new equipment, special teachers of Physical Education and Athletics for both boys and girls, make the Greenville High School the best high school in Eastern Carolina. TESTIMONIAL LETTERS TO DR. DUNN ON HIS RUPTURE CURE.

Ruptured for 15 Years; Cured in One Treatment.

Dear Doctor:

I am writing to let you know about my rupture. I have been ruptured about 15 years. I tried two kinds of trusses, but they did me no good; I finally quit wearing them, when I saw your ad in the paper. I went up to see you and decided to take the treatment, and the time for wearing the truss expired I took it off, and went to work. I have not been bothered with my rupture since, and I sincerely believe your treatment has cured me. I would advise any person who is ruptured to take your treatment, as it is much cheaper and better than a surgical operation. Hoping you the greatest of success, I remain,

Sincerely yours,

FRED GASKINS, Stonewall, N. C.

TWO YEAR OLD BABY CURED.

Our baby was two years old when you treated her, and she had been ruptured several months. After five treatments she was cured and she has been cured twenty-one months. I like your work much better than an operation.

Sincerely yours,

J. L. STOWE, Merritt, N. C.

MAN 68 YEARS OLD, CURED IN ONE TREATMENT.

Dear Doctor:

I am writing to let you know that I am well and feeling fine. I am sixty-eight years old, and I became ruptured in February 1917, and have been wearing a truss for two and a half years. You treated me August 1st and I have taken truss off and am feeling like a different man, and am perfectly solid and sound, and would recommend your treatment in preference to an operation to any one who is that way. Thanking you for what you have done for me, I remain,

Sincerely yours,

H. D. DELEMAR, Grantsboro, N. C.

OUTLOOK FOR THE NEXT WHEAT AND OAT CROP

BY CHARLES A. WHITTLE, Soil Improvement Committee, Atlanta, Georgia.

The approach of wheat and oat sowing time raises a question in the farmer's mind as to the outlook for these crops. It is well known that under the stimulus of Government price an enormous wheat crop has been produced, a crop of approximately 1,200,000,000 bushels.

It is estimated that this country requires 600,000,000 bushels and that Europe will require from 410,000,000 to 460,000,000 bushels. If these figures prove correct, there will be a very little surplus left of the big crop of wheat this country has grown.

Since it appears to be probable that there will be no trouble to dispose of the present crop the next question is, what are the planting prospects for other wheat growing nations?

Of course the nations south of the equator, like Argentina and Australia, that have their summer when we are having our winter, have already sown their fall crops, and will harvest them near Christmas time. These nations have, thus far, good prospects; but they would hardly compare with any two leading wheat-growing states of this country; therefore, they are not important factors.

Russia is the great granary of Europe and Asia. Those who have watched the political trend of that country see nothing but war and paralyzed agriculture ahead another year, if not for several years.

European countries in general are short of labor. Demobilization of armies progresses slowly and the period for fall sowing of small grain in Europe will have passed before any material change can be made through recovery of labor from the armies.

Therefore, there is going to be a continued shortage of small grain in Europe, making it probably necessary for this country to supply as much grain next year as this.

But instead of the nation maintaining its wheat acreage, it is feared the withdrawal of the Government's guarantee will result in a reduction.

In the South it is not only a good farm practice to grow wheat, oats and rye enough for home needs, but it is very desirable, (1) to have winter cover crops that will take up the plant food that would otherwise wash out of the soil with the winter rains; (2) to provide light winter grazing for livestock; (3) to furnish in early spring some fresh cereal hay which will be the better if it has vetch or bur clover growing with it; (4) to furnish vegetable matter or humus to turn into the soil at the spring plowing.

If all the cotton and corn fields were sown to small grain in the fall, it would mean more cotton and corn, better soil, larger returns from fertilizers and greater farm profits.

Too little attention is given to obtaining good wheat, oats and rye seed; too little attention is given to preparing a good seed bed, and too little fertilizers are used in growing the small grain crops in the South. What is worth doing at all, is worth doing well.

EVERYTHING READY FOR OPENING DAYS OF LOCAL MARKET

hour this morning, and it is believed that by early tomorrow morning the warehouses will be practically filled giving strong evidence of extra good sales throughout every part of the season. It is not expected that the farmers are going to rush their offerings in and crowd the houses as has been occurring in other parts of the country, for tobaccoists have issued warnings from time to time advising against such, and it is believed that such timely advice is going to be heeded by the planter, although there are hundreds and hundreds who are anxious, even impatient to get an opportunity of placing their year's offering for disposition.

The crop has been seriously damaged in many parts of the county by the recent flood and heavy rains, but even with this, there are many keen observers of the situation who are firmly convinced that the market will not fall very far behind the splendid averages made last year in which the city outdistanced every town of the state in the average of pounds and even prices. The opening of other markets have indicated the fact that prices will remain firm on this market and that the demand is greater for good grades of tobacco than ever before, although inferior grades are not been demanded very much. There is likely to be very little disappointment to the farmer only in his reduced production engendered by the floods, and for that reason there will be very little reason for the year not being of more than ordinary significance to tobacco growers in these territory.

Everything is in prime condition for the opening and warehousemen who have been having a long season of preparation for the occasion have this morning donned their overalls with the rest of the force, awaiting the arrival of every farmer and his product with unusual expectation of great development of the industry on this market.

FOR SALE—SWEET MILK, SOUR
milk and cream. Mrs. L. C. Arthur. 30-21

THREE STILLS ARE TAKEN BY SHERIFF IN RAID SATURDAY

olias. A short distance from King's Cross roads, and while they were not in operation at the time it was evidence that only a short time had elapsed since the last still full of the beverage had been turned out. The officers first entered Nicholas' home where one still was found, and a short distance from the house the other still was located with two barrels of beer. Acting on information received following the capture of the two stills the officers Sunday made a raid in the Bensboro territory which resulted in the capture of another nice outfit, but no whiskey. The still, it is stated belonged to the same parties, and was in the possession of a negro man in that section. The officers demanded the negro to immediately lead the way to the outfit, and were obeyed without hesitation.

Each of the men captured Saturday afternoon have been engaged in the illegitimate traffic for several months, it is stated, and although they managed to evade capture until they became rather careless, the evidence which the officers had been desirous of obtaining for quite awhile came from unexpected source, leading to the immediate apprehension of the participants, and bringing to an end one of the direct influences of the traffic in this part of the county. The law will no doubt deal severely with the offenders, as it has done with others, for officials are determined to bring such efforts to a conclusion.
