Chairman of Foreign Committee Asks Republicans to Stay on the Job.

DEMOCRATS CHARGING DELAY IN REPORTING

Private Conferences Continue to be Held in Interest of Compromises.

(By The Associated Press.)

Washington, Sept. 12.—With submission of the Foreign Relations Committee minority report, the peace treaty, with its covenant for a League of Nations was made ready today for ratification battle to be waged about it in the senate.

By general agreement this will not begin until Monday. Meanwhile, however, Republicans claiming enough votes to prevent ratification without reservations, were urged by Chairman Lodge of the Foreign Relations Committee to stay on the job until final disposition is made of the treaty, weeks hence.

With as little formality as that attending the presentation yesterday of the majority report, Senator Hitchcock, leader of the administration forces, today submitted the minority report signed by all Democratic members of the committee except Senator Shields, of Tennessee, who stood out for reservations to the league covenant.

Without attempting specifically to answer majority charges against certain provisions of the article as brought back from Paris by President Wilson, the minority urged speedy adoption without modification or in precisely the form laid before the senate two months ago.

TOBACCO DISTRICT TO BE CLEARED OF BIG SALES TODAY

Tobaccoists Hope Market will be Cleared of Congestion During Day.

GOOD GRADES COMMAND SPLENDID PRICES, SAID

Averages Are Good, and Farmers Pleased With Final Outcome of Day.

(By The Associated Press.)

Tobacco has been rolling in on the local market slowly since the announcement of blocked sales yesterday morning, and as a consequence, tobaccoists believe that they will be able to clear floors and relieve the congestion of sales by the closing of the market during the evening hours. It is rather difficult to ascertain whether or not this will be accomplished, however, for just at this time there is much of the bright leaf still on the market and a great amount of work to be done before final disposition of the offerings is effected. It is estimated that approximately four hundred thousands pounds of the bright leaf received direct disposition in the sales yesterday, and while greater progress doubtless would have been made had the warehouse floors not been so crowded it is thought, however, that the final outcome of the day's activities was unusually good considering.

BIG LAND SALE TO BE HELD NEAR CITY IN NEAR FUTURE

Atlantic Coast Realty Company to Sell Winslow Farm September 20th.

The opening of the land selling season in this part of the country has just been announced through the publicity directors of the Atlantic Coast Realty Company, of Petersburg, Va., in the sale of the Winslow farm, on Plant road, six miles west of this city, which will be subdivided into several small farms and sold at public auction on Saturday, September 20th, 10:30 a. m.

Mr. E. W. Cobb, one of the leading publicity managers of the company has just returned to this city after conducting the opening of the season in Virginia, and reports appear to indicate unusual success in this industry during the present year. The company's sales in that territory for last year were very large, and while North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia are the principal districts covered by the concern during the early part of the season representatives are always in other states preparing opening for later dates.

In the sale of the Winslow farm, Mr. Cobb believes that the tenant and investor will have one of the best opportunities of buying choice farm lands that has been presented in this section in some little time, and while the announcement concerning the sale has just been given out within the last few days, it is assumed that a large crowd will be in attendance from both Farmville and this city on the day of the sale. The advertising campaign is being opened vigorously by publicity men, and therefore, the sale will well presented to the public by the above date.

Mr. Cobb says there are a number of sales to occur in this section of the state during the present season, and although these have not yet been announced, advertising matter will be shipped to the various locations from time to time so that people may be given an opportunity of buying while they have the chance. Sub-division of farms is meeting with more or less favor in every part of the country as it gives the tenant a chance of owning a place of his own. Intensive cultivation is produced through the measure, and consequently, the idea is getting general favor in every section.

Chowan Fair Is Desirous of Obtaining Hun Gun for Gala Week of County.

(By The Associated Press.)

Washington, Sept. 12.—Applications have been filed at the State Department for passports for Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Bousseau, of Falcon, Cumberland county, who desire to go to Hong Kong as missionaries. The British embassy has requested Representative Godwin to present formal recommendation of their application. Mr. Bousseau is a former postmaster of Falcon, and in his letter applying for traveling papers states that he wishes to sail October 15 on steamship China.

The citizens of Edenton have made request of the navy department for the loan of a captured German submarine as an attraction for the Chowan county fair, the dates of the event being October 28, 29 and 30. Suggesting its facilities for manipulating a submarine, the request specified that Edenton has ten feet of water. Senator Simmons has been requested to deliver an address during the fair.

NAUGHTY WIFE TO BE PRESENTED IN GREENVILLE SOON

Popular Play Scheduled for White's Theatre on Sept. 18th.

Real fun, continuous laughs and dialogue that fairly sparkles, are the chief ingredients of "The Naughty Wife," the smartest farce to be seen on the stage in years which Selwyn and Company will present at the White's Theatre for one night only on Thursday evening, September 18th. Without casting any aspersions on the farces of other years or belittling them in the slightest, it is in no way an exaggeration to claim for "The Naughty Wife" qualities, no other play of its kind has ever possessed.

For one thing, there is an altogether real story running through the play, even at the moments of its greatest hilarity. And more, there is a bit of philosophy which cannot be denied, and which, whether you will or you won't, will send you home with a bit of something to think about, long after the laughs have been forgotten.

"The Naughty Wife" was written by Fred Jackson. He is by no means a newcomer in the field of farce writing, theatregoers well remembering "A Full House" which he wrote and which, during the season it was presented, proved one of the biggest hits of the year. As critics have well said, the writing of farce is a knack possessed by but few, and Mr. Jackson they agree has that knack developed to a remarkable extent.

In the story of "The Naughty Wife," Mr. Jackson has taken the perfectly logical troubles which might well arise when a young husband, hopelessly in love with his wife, but neglectful of the same, suddenly discovers she is about to elope with another man. All hope that he might be mistaken is swept away when the wife naively tells him herself of her intention to elope. Then the husband sets to work to thwart the elopers. How he does it, the complications which arise in the doing of it and the end of all his scheming—these are the elements which go to make the story of "The Naughty Wife" the remarkably successful evening's entertainment it has proven to be. Not a little of the success of any play, of course, depends on the cast.

SEVERAL CASES IN SESSION OF CIVIL COURT OF COUNTY

Second Weeks' Session of Superior Court Adjourned Wednesday Evening

TWENTY-ONE CASES IN THIS WEEK'S RECORDS

Judge Kerr Commended for Rapid Disposition of Work on Hand, Said

(By The Associated Press.)

The second weeks' session of the civil term of Pitt county superior court adjourned this past Wednesday afternoon after finally completing the calendar in a session lasting for two and a half days during the present week and one week in August. The session by a recent ruling of the legislature was to have continued throughout next week but owing to the fact that supreme court will be in session next week, necessitating the absence of several attorneys from this section of the state it was decided to postpone the work until 22nd of the month when the last week's session will be resumed and carried through without the slightest interruption.

Judge Kerr undoubtedly established an enviable record in the disposition of cases during the entire term, and especially in the last week, when 21 cases were cleared from the docket during the time. Work has continued possible twice as fast as customary under similar circumstances, and although the usual matters occurred to hinder progress in many of the hearings, the versatility of the presiding official was always equal to the occasion, therefore, very little time was really lost in the long run.

SHERIFF BRINGS IN ANOTHER MEMBER OF WHISKY CREWS

Store at End of River Bridge Raided With Several Quarts Located.

Roy Wilson, a young white man of this city, was this morning given a preliminary hearing and placed under a $500 cash bond after last night being arrested by Sheriff Dudley and deputies following a raid of his store, located at the end of the river bridge near this city, which resulted in the capture of 21 quarts of whiskey by the officers and all kinds of evidence suggesting the young man's participation in the traffic of the section.

The capture was made last night about ten o'clock, following the receipt of supply of whiskey from stills in various parts of the county. The place has been under suspicion for some time by the officers but before last night adequate information as to when the beverage was in possession of the storekeeper had not been available. The capture possible features as one of the most prominent made by the officials throughout the year, it is believed.

SICHERHEIT COMPANY WILL PROTECT PARTS

Remnants of Old Army Used in Repairing Flanks of Disorganized Units.

(By The Associated Press.)

With the American forces in Germany, Sept. 12.—The Wuerttemberg government recently reorganized all the so-called reserve sicherheits companies as home guards and the War Ministry has turned them over to the Minister of the Interior. According to information in the hands of American army officers this is in accordance with Noske's plan to demilitarize all home guards units so that the allies will not dissolve these units under the terms of the peace treaty.

Early this year many sicherheits companies were organized in Wuerttemberg from remnants of old army units and have since been transferred into the Reichstag or new army. Later many reserve companies were organized on lines different from elsewhere in Germany but on the same principle as the home guards or einwohnerwehr.

German soldiers who recently protested from Mitau on the eastern front against failure of the Lithuanian government to provide them land for settlement, in accordance with vague promises of such land to all German soldiers who would help to repel the Bolsheviks, have issued another statement declaring that they have been "shamefully deceived and reserve the right to take such further steps."

ADDITIONAL BOATS WILL BE ADDED TO ANNUAL REGATTA

Displacement Units Will Take Place in Great Races on Lake George.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 12.—An event for displacement boats will be added to the program of the annual regatta of the American Power-Boat association in future years, if the suggestion of Albert L. Judson, president of the association, is followed. It is believed this will be the means of attracting country-wide interest in the meetings.

President Judson, unable to attend the regatta at Detroit August 29 to September 1, because of an eye affliction, has informed officials of the association that Carl G. Fisher of Indianapolis has offered a $5,000 trophy for the fastest races. President Judson, therefore, that the regatta race be given a place in the annual regatta, holding that the hydroplanes which compete in the gold cup races are merely machines and that recognition should be given boats of practical use. Such a plan has already been discussed, in fact, by association officers.

Mr. Judson, announcing that the first meeting for the Fisher cup would be held at Lake George, N. Y., under the auspices of the Lake George Regatta association suggested that the event be coupled with the annual gold cup races and one-mile event for hydroplanes there next year and that a similar arrangement be made for the regatta at Detroit in 1921. The association head proposes a carnival week of aquatic racing "the like of which the world has probably never seen" next year at Lake George and the following season here.

BANDIT ATTACKS ARE VIVIDLY EXPLAINED

Operator Admits Paying Taxes to Bandit Leaders to Secure Protection.

(By The Associated Press.)

Washington, Sept. 12.—The romance of the Mexican oil fields together with the vicissitudes of the oil prospectors resulting from bandit attacks and obnoxious decrees and laws of the Carranza government was described today to the Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee investigating the Mexican situation by E. I. Doheney, head of the Mexican Petroleum Company, Limited. Incidentally the committee was told that Dr. Henry Allen Tupper, now pastor of the First Baptist church of Washington but formerly active, active in obtaining recognition for the Carranza government by the United States, had received a draft for $3,406 from the Treasurer General of Mexico. It was indicated that the committee would call Dr. Tupper to explain for what the draft was payment.

In the course of his description of the development of the Mexican oil fields largely by American capital, Mr. Doheney admitted his company had paid Manuel Palacios, the rebel leader, for protection but declared that the payment was made on the advice of Eliseo Arrendondo and also that the course was in line with suggestions of John Lind and J. R. Silliman, personal representatives of President Wilson in Mexico.

TOWNS ACTIVE IN PREPARING FOR STATE SANITARY LAW

As October approaches, which is the date for active enforcement of the state sanitary privy law, most of the towns and villages are realizing the necessity of taking some definite action to meet this law. Very recently, however, it was discovered by the State Board of Health that the towns have hesitated greatly in going ahead with this matter, due to lack of a systematic plan of action. This demand has been met by supplying a model ordinance which is suitable to any and all towns. Assistance thus offered by the State Board of Health is meeting with a vigorous response. Already knowledge of passage of the proposed ordinance has come from several towns, among which are High Point, Smithfield, Goldsboro, Kenly, Clayton, and Fuquay Springs. It seems certain that several hundred other towns will have followed their example by the first of October.

The step taken by these towns is highly commendable, and in addition it is a piece of great wisdom on their part. Any group of town officials who realize that this law is to be rigidly enforced are drawn to the conclusion that nothing but a systematic effort, through the adoption of the proposed ordinance, will give economy, efficiency, and satisfaction to their citizens.

WOOL GROWERS IN CHARGES AGAINST OUTSIDE FACTIONS

Wyoming Wool Grower Believes Outsiders Interfering in Packing Probe.

Washington, Sept. 11.—Findings of the Federal Trade Commission in its investigation of the meat packing industry "were directed and controlled, not only in the investigation itself, but in the recommendations of the commission," for regulation as embodied in the Kenyon and Kendrick bills, Dr. J. M. Wilson, president of the Wyoming Wool Growers Association, charged in a statement filed today with the Senate agriculture committee.

The controlling influence, Dr. Wilson's statement added, was exercised "by a small number of men" in the American National Livestock Association chiefly in the association's market committee.

"I have been a member of the executive committee of the association for several years, and did not approve this plan," Dr. Wilson said, "and I think the facts are now due congress, the public and particularly the great mass of producers who are not in sympathy with this movement."

FRIDAY, SEPT. 12TH, 1919.

President Wilson is convincing the people along his tour of the country that the league of nations is absolutely essential to the future prosperity and commercial intercourse of this nation, and while, naturally, he finds hundreds of clinics along his route, these, in many cases, have finally been convinced of the soundness of the covenant, and it close relations to every country admitted to the league. Some people believe that amendments are necessary, and while in some instances such could be accomplished without materially changing the direct force and bearing of the treaty, there is very little doubt but what the matter will be accepted in its present form. In fact, if it is not, the United States will directly be faced by eventual isolation, although some year may be required to bring it about. It now holds a conspicuous position with other nations of the world, and in entering the league, helping to form plans for the future of the entire world, there will be slight change of its being deprived of any the glory and distinction which has been won by the heroic deeds of the young men now lying upon the blood-stained battlefields of France. The relationship of this country and overseas has been sealed by the spirits of the noble young fellows who fought in the name of democracy, and if this cause is to be sustained, it must be fulfilled, then, it is absolutely necessary that their native land link itself into the affairs of other nations where there will be little chance of their valorous deeds ever being forgotten.

When the Bolshevik gets through looting everything in the vicinity of the Petrograd embassy, it is to be hoped they will not forget that some leading figures still remain for their early attention. In fact, from what we have heard they would much prefer looting and raiding than getting the persons who bring about exasperation on their part. Whatever is done, however, it is hoped the next time they get in battle that some opportune bomb will blow them into the peaceful realms of oblivion where everything is governed under influences of Bolshevism and every person is given all he can stand of the fanatical doctrine.

Our friend George Perkins—of course everyone is acquainted with George—has suggested profit sharing of capital and labor placed upon an equal and fair basis. He conscientiously believes that this is the only solution of the present industrial unrest in sway in many parts of the country, so it is said, and while of course, all the rest of the scheme is graphically outlined, not a single word was said of the final outcome of such a speculative scheme in appeasing the inordinance of the laboring classes. George is undoubtedly sincere in his theories, but they would prove just as unsuccessful as governmental ownership has proven in handling the railroads. No satisfaction would ever be derived from such a change, for the laborer would ever be thinking that capital was cheating him out of his share, and the whole thing would be unsatisfactory from beginning to end. When national affairs have been settled, there is very little reason that a change will not be in evidence, and the economic situation will be entirely changed. Wages with the average workman should be satisfying, and if they are not, there is very little prospect of the conditions being materially changed by such suggestion as presented by Perkins.

When it becomes so that a woman can be abducted with a few feet of a policeman in broad daylight and on a prominent city street we are ready to believe that there's something wrong somewhere. Anyhow, that's exactly what happened in Trenton, N. J., when a stranger drove near the sidewalk on one of the principal streets, jumped from his car, threw a bag over a young woman's head, chucked her bodily into the car and drove away before a nearby policeman was able to recover himself from the momentary state of amazement and incredulity engendered by the audacity of the nerry visitor. The tale sounds almost unbelievable, something along the moving picture line, and while of course policemen of the city are doing everything possible to uncover facts dealing with the mysterious occurrence, it is more than likely that the young woman will be compelled to go down the same long lane of sin with others who have travelled over the course by different routes.

New subscribers are getting on The Reflector list is very gratifying numbers these days. The people realize that no other Pitt county paper gives a news service equal to this paper, and that they get more than the worth of their money when they subscribe for it. Everything has its appointed place in the commercial activities of every section, and the Reflector fills its mission peculiarly in the interest of the territory which it has served for so many years. See that your name is placed on our lists at an early date, for with out enlarged paper, and unsurpassed local and national news service you can't afford to miss the best of everything going of interest here and everywhere.

The way the farmers are rolling tobacco in on the local market is suggestive of the fact that all of them are disposed to be in need of currency, more or less. It is advisable that every attention be given the bright leaf before rushing it on the market for each time it is changed the higher price it will demand. This statement was recently made by a man thoroughly acquainted with the situation, and who has compared his offerings with others. Nothing can possibly be gained in over-crowding the markets, for prices will continue firm, and if anything, they will no doubt go somewhat higher as the demand becomes more general.

When the cow punchers get through giving President the usual ovation accorded the chief executive in that part of the country, it is more than possible that he will feel that the mission has not been all in vain. Billings people, although rough, express their feelings directly from the heart, and when the president finishes telling them of the league of nations every cowboy in that section of the country would gladly carry out the idea even though he might lose his best horse as a result. And you can bet that would be from the heart.

A lovelorn man in New York state is suing his wife for $25,000 for her lost love. The spirit of music has died in his heart by her conduct, so he asserts, and while of course that sounds perfectly alright to the sentimental person with nothing else to do but question the foolish actions of an untrue wife, there is very little in the case for consideration on the part of busy man with practically every moment required in the business world.

Of course, we don't know that you are doing to make Greenville the kind of place which the progressive citizen would like to have it, but we do know that the more you boost a needed enterprise or industry, the quicker it will be realized. Get behind anything tending to promote the growth and expansion of the community and you need have no fear that you haven't done your duty.

ing the difficulty and disadvantages which the tobaccoists were forced to work under throughout the entirety of the sales.

Farmers who brought their offering on the market last night before were greatly pleased with the result of the sales, and although there were thousands of pounds which had not been reached at the end of the day, the planters did not feel that anything had been lost. In fact, many of them have found it directly to their advantage in being in the blocks, for eventually when their offerings were reached prices were much better than had been expected.

grades of the weed have sold over the $1.27 mark during the week's sales, and while of course there are other grades that sell considerably lower than the high mark, averages for the entire production have been strong and unwavering since the opening of the season. The demand for better grades, it is assured, will be constant throughout the entirety of the season, and while it is believed that the inferior grades will continue to command low prices, the final averages on both grades will certainly place the farmers in a comfortable situation after their efforts for the early early part of the year.

Reports from other markets indicate that prices are also good, and while of course, many of the markets are small and haven't the facilities equal to those of the Greenville market in handling the weed, it is nevertheless, certain that all of them are doing everything possible in the interest of the farmer. Greenville tobaccoists are sanguine for the remainder of the season, and believe with the shortage brought through rain and flood that the year will prove better than last year.

pleased with the way Judge Kerr has seen fit to expedite matters of only ordinary importance, and because he always gave every case due consideration without dwelling at length in meditation numbers of person have seen fit to commend him for his action. The result, therefore, of such work has brought about pleasing changes, especially in clearing the calendar completely, which the work of several months had failed to accomplish before the extra two weeks' session as provided through recent legislation. The work of Judge Kerr with members of the liquor traffic has elicited from many sources since the last term of criminal court in which several convictions were accomplished, and although some of the sentences were heavy in comparison to those before the coming of the new official, it is believed that his attitude is going to have much to do with the elimination of the traffic in this part of the country.

HERK BESER MAKES SPEECH
BERLIN CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Berlin, Sept. 11.—Herr Beser, the Prussian Railway Minister, in a statement to the members of the Berlin Chamber of Commerce paints a gloomy picture of affairs on the State Railways. Every day he said a subsidy of 10,000,000 marks is required from the Treasury. Passenger traffic at present amounts to only fifteen percent of normal, he said, and express service has dropped to four percent. Higher tariffs for goods and passengers are believed inevitable.

The continuous strike and coal shortage are responsible for these conditions, according to the minister, who says that apart from the severe traffic restrictions which have already been enforced, very far reaching stipulations for the winter are unavoidable and the German coal industry must be put on a new footing. If possible, the use of coal in its present form, whereby the greater part of the heating units pass up the chimney, must be prohibited by law.

Owing to the shortage of fuel, German industries, it is said, are also interfered with, because they are unable to keep promises regarding time of delivery. Private locomotive enterprises the official declares are doing even worse than the State services. If possible, he adds, the water-ways must be employed for purposes of transportation.

WILL BANKRUPT THE RAILWAYS, HE SAYS

Washington, Sept. 11.—Continued operations of the railroads as at present will result in bankruptcy "or sky high" rates, Senator Lenroot, Wisconsin, today declared before the house interstate commerce committee hearing on the railroad reorganization problem. He urged adoption of his plan calling for creation of a national railways corporation to provide for the unification of the roads with an operating board of eleven members, chosen from the interstate commerce commission, state commissions, business men, farmers, rail employees and stockholders.

MR. FARMER

Truly you missed seeing something that is of vital importance to you failed to be at the Fordson Tractor demonstration held on the Hon. J. B. Galloway's farm, Wednesday, September 10th, by the John Flanagan Buggy Co. About 150 farmers present, and not one of them criticised the work of the Fordson Tractor. They all argued that the work it done was marvelous and that no farm tractor would compare with the Ford. Think of breaking 10 acres of land in one day with a Ford Tractor and with a Disc Harrowing 30 acres. The farmers were so well satisfied we sold five Fordson Tractors as follows: Hon. J. C. Galloway, Mrs. Addie Corbett, Mr. Major Mills, Mr. Cox, Mr. W. E. Proctor. Proctor has used one of the Fordson Tractors for one year. He liked it so much he bought the second machine.

The price of the Fordson Tractor is $750 F. O. B. factory. The John Flanagan Buggy Co. will sell you for part cash, the balance on good note, pay 12 months from date.

WILL EXHIBIT AT STATE FAIR

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 12.—The State Department of Agriculture and the Agricultural Extension Service will be represented again, as usual, at the State Fair on October 20 to 25.

The exhibit of the Department of Agriculture will be in the regular department building, and will represent the work of each division. Plans for the exhibit are now being outlined by Mr. H. H. Brimley, Curator of the State Museum, who will have charge of this exhibit, and Mr. K. W. Barnes, Secretary of the State Board of Agriculture, who will assist Mr. Brimley in this work.

Mr. Brimley already has assurances from practically all of the investigators that they will have a highly interesting and instructive exhibit this year, and one that will typify the highest educational phases of the different kinds of work being done by each division.

As usual, also, the chiefs of the divisions will act as departmental heads for the State Fair. Mr. C. B. Williams, Chief of the Division of Agronomy, will have charge of the field crops department; Mr. R. S. Curtis will have general charge of the livestock department; Mr. Alvin J. Reed, and Mr. J. W. Sloss will have charge of the dairy and beef cattle; Mr. George Evans will have charge of the sheep; Mr. W. W. Shay, the swine; annual egg show; Mr. A. G. Oliver, the poultry; Dr. B. F. Kaupp will have charge of the annual egg show; Mr. C. D. Matthews will be in charge of the fruit and truck department; while Mrs. Jane S. McKimmon, assisted by Mr. I. M. Proctor, will have charge of the home economics.

As these departments comprise the principal features of competitive exhibits at the State Fair, it can be seen that the agricultural forces are well represented in this climax of North Carolina's fair season.

The Agricultural Extension Service will also be well represented in the home economics exhibits which will be prepared under the direction of Mrs. Jane S. McKimmon, and brought in from the several counties by the Home Demonstration Agents of her division.

The corn clubs and pig clubs will be represented to a greater extent than heretofore, as valuable prize money has been offered to the boys who take prizes in this competition.

Glad to Try Anything

Three years ago my system was in a terribly run down condition and I was broken out all over my body. I began to be worried about my condition and I was glad to try anything which would relieve me. Peruna was recommended to me as a fine blood remedy and tonic, and soon found that it was worthy of praise. A few bottles changed my condition materially and in a short time I was all over my trouble. I owe my restoration to health and strength to Peruna. I am glad to endorse it.

SHORTEN THE DISTANCE between your farm and the market for your cotton, tobacco, produce and lumber by using an Indiana Farm Truck in place of slow, plodding teams.

A farm located within one or two hours hauling distance is far more valuable than one where it takes one or two days to make the same trip.

This shortening of distance between farm and market brings about other important results to the farmers besides increasing the money value of farm lands.

For one thing, it permits the farmer to give much more of his personal attention to the supervision of his farm. In these times of labor shortage, the farmer must adopt means to make up for this labor scarcity.

He must get more time somehow for his ploughing, planting and harvesting. In the last few years he has learned to save much time in his hauling.

The Indiana Farm Truck takes the place of three teams, carries as much as all three, makes a trip of twenty miles and return in a few hours, costs one-third as much as the horse feed, requires no barn, and is ready to travel regardless of road or weather conditions.

For sawing wood, cutting, ensilage, pumping water, mixing concrete, running a feed grinder, pump jack, churn, peanut picker, washing machine, corn sheller, hay holst, and lighting the farm, the Indiana Farm Truck with its portable power units, gives the farmer all the labor assistance he ever requires.

The special construction of this Indiana Truck for farm purposes is a matter of great interest to every progressive farmer in the county.

Details can be obtained from the Carolina Motor Company, at Statesville, N. C., the State Distributors.
