POLICE START BIG STRIKES OF STEEL AND IRON FACTION

Troopers Charge Crowd of Union Men Holding Mass Meeting, Is Said.

FIRST TROUBLE REPORTED IN CITY OF PITTSBURGH

Minor Disturbances Elsewhere Resulting from Action of the Workmen.

(By The Associated Press.)
Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 22.—Clashes between Pennsylvania State police and crowds bent on holding labor mass-meetings in the Pittsburgh district today ushered in the strike in the iron and steel industry. The most serious disturbance occurred at North Clariton, twenty miles from Pittsburgh, late in the afternoon, where the State troopers charged a crowd of union men holding a mass-meeting and broke it up. Resistance was offered and it is charged by union leaders that the mounted policemen used their clubs vigorously and injured a number in the crowd. About a dozen men were arrested. The meeting was broken up at the request of local authorities.

According to eye-witnesses, the meeting was proceeding quietly when the State police broke it up. The crowd scattered and some ran up a railroad embankment and threw stones and other missiles at the troopers. During the melee, several in the crowd were struck on the head by the policemen, it was said. The crowd soon dispersed and as far as can be learned no one was seriously injured. During the melee the horse of one of the troopers suffered a broken leg. It is alleged that several shots were fired by some one in the crowd.

William Z. Foster, secretary of the national committee for organizing iron and steel workers, tonight said that a vigorous protest would be lodged with the State government against what he termed a "murderous attack upon law-abiding people."

BRIGHT LEAF SALE STARTS OFF LIGHT DURING THIS WEEK

Warehouse Floors Are Cleared and Everything is in Readiness.

HEAVIER SALES LOOKED FOR REST OF THE WEEK

Prices Are Expected to Remain Firm on Better Grades of the Weed.

After the rush which continued without interruption on the local tobacco market last week it is more than evident this morning that light sales will be in supremacy during the earlier part of this week as at the opening of the sales this morning the various warehouse floors were hardly more than halfway filled, with one or two of the houses, of course, being pretty well filled up. Tobaccoists, however, are looking for a continuance of heavy sales immediately after the market is cleared of the bright leaf of the first day's sales as past indications have been suggestive of only a slight break in the spirit of the planter which has held full away since the opening of the market.

It is hardly probable that planters of the surrounding territory have been more pleased with the auspicious termination of the sales than those who have come from afar to market their tobacco here, for the high prices of the Greenville market has attracted attention of the entire section, and as a consequence planters that have never before found it advisable to market their tobacco away from home are finding the prices here very attractive indeed. It is this fact that is principally accountable for the heavy sales. (Continued on page four.)

AUCTION SALES OF FARMS DREW GOOD CROWDS SATURDAY

Sale of Winslow Farm Attracted Large Crowd of People from City.

In the sale of the Winslow farm property, located about six miles from this city which was sold at public auction by the Atlantic Coast Realty Co. the past Saturday morning, it is believed that managers of the sale and former owners of the land were more pleased with the final outcome of the event than any other feature of its kind ever conducted in this section. The land which had been subdivided into six small farms sold for $5,144.11, and was purchased by five men living in this part of the county. The purchasers were: B. F. Jolley, S. T. Hooker, Albert Allen, Mr. Sutton and Mr. Boyd.

Mr. K. W. Cobb, who has been in charge of the publicity work for the sale is more than gratified at the final outcome of the occurrence, and believes that the sale will attract favorable attention from all parts of the county, particularly in the splendid price obtained and the readiness with which each sale was made. Only a short time was required in bringing the sales to a conclusion as the land was in demand and people coming from many sections were in attendance during the sale.

The Atlantic Coast Realty Company has several sales on schedule for this section throughout the remainder of the year and the beginning of the approaching year, and while no definite information has yet been given out as to when advertising campaigns will begin activities among the advertising crew is suggestive of increased sales for the community in the near future.

Mr. Cobb, who is one of the leading publicity directors of the company, left this morning for Washington where some of the choice farm land of that county will be sold within the next few days.

SLOW PROGRESS IS MADE IN CHARGES AGAINST LANDRAU

Trial Against Bluebeard of France Slow and Full of Monotony.

CHARGED IN ABDUCTION OF THIRTEEN FEMININES

Judge Bonin Exasperated at Coolness of Exceptional Character.

Paris, Sept. 22.—Little headway has been made in the case of Landrau, "the Cambals Bluebeard," as the French papers term him, who is charged by the police with being responsible for the disappearance of thirteen women to whom he had promised marriage.

The police have been investigating for four months and four times a week Landrau is taken from the prison of La Sante to the office of Judge Bonin whose questions as to the fate of the thirteen women elicit from Landrau evasive and at times very witty responses. They have got as far as sweet heart number three and Landrau's flippant replies have nearly driven the Judge to nervous prostration.

Yesterday the judge announced that he was going for a holiday. Landrau immediately chipped in with the request that he too, be permitted to take a vacation as the regime of La Sante did not agree with him. Might he not be allowed to go to his villa at Gamaches and hold himself at the disposal of the court? It was from Gamaches that Landrau's future spouse disappeared never to be heard of since.

Mr. J. B. Fisher, of Salisbury, is among the business men spending the day in Greenville.

TOBACCO HOUSE IS WRECKED BY FIRE WITH HEAVY LOSS

Tobacco Pack House Destroyed Saturday Night With 8,000 Pounds Tobacco

A tobacco pack house on the L. A. Mayo Whitehead farm near this city was completely destroyed by fire last Saturday night with practically 8,000 pounds of bright leaf going up in the flames. The loss is estimated at between three and four thousand dollars. The origin of the fire has not been determined.

STEEL STRIKE HAS BEGUN IN DEAD EARNEST, S SAID

Pittsburgh, Sept. 22.—Representatives of the Carnegie Steel Company declared all plants in and about Pittsburgh in operation and got away in good shape this morning, despite the union strike orders. It is claimed that all furnaces were going and declared that practically all striking workmen were of foreign birth. William Z. Foster, secretary of the national committee for organizing the iron and steel workers, declared he was "surprised at the showing made" and predicted that many of the mills would be forced to close down within a few days when the full force of the strike would be felt. No disorder was reported in this city or vicinity. Early reports from Chicago, Cleveland and Youngstown districts indicated that mills were in operation. Police and company guards were stationed about all plants to prevent trouble.

The steel strikes went into effect today and early indications were that thousands would obey the union leaders orders to walk out, although the mill officials maintain that their plants would operate throughout the city. The police and mill guards are patrolling the streets.

Mr. F. W. Graves, of Wilton, visited the city yesterday.

LOCAL WHITE MAN IS ARRESTED FOR SELLING WHISKEY

William Thomas Arrested Saturday Night by Sheriff and Officers.

GIVEN HEARING TODAY, PLACED UNDER $600 BOND

Denies Having Complicity with Traffic Throughout the Territory.

William Thomas, a white man of this city about 45 years of age, charged with participation in the liquor traffic of this section following a raid of officers on his room the past Saturday night, was this morning given a preliminary hearing before Magistrate J. J. Laughlinhouse and placed under $600 bond for his appearance at the next term of court. A vehement denial of the charge has been reiterated by Thomas since his apprehension, but evidence which has been produced brought about the suspension of the action until a later date.

Sheriff Dudley and city officials have been keeping close tab on the actions of Thomas for several months, and while they have never before been given an opening in lining up enough evidence in his case, the opportunity came Saturday night and was immediately taken advantage of by the vigilant sheriff and his men. Thomas rooms on Reed street, and after everything was in shape for the raid the officials put in their appearance at the room Saturday about one o'clock. A thorough search of the room revealed two full quarts of monkey rum with several small bottles also well filled with rum, and accompanying requisites necessary in dispensing of the beverage. The owner denied having it for sale. In fact, he retold the officers that he had never sold any whiskey, but the fact that he had so much in his possession and past association evidently had a more direct impression than the constant denials.

It is expected that the law will deal severely with the man, as at this time the courts are giving no little attention to reducing the traffic throughout. (Continued on page four.)

TREATY OF PEACE HOLDS ASCENDENT POINT IN INTEREST

Vote on League of Nations Keeps Expectation at High Point, Said.

Washington, Sept. 22.—Imminence of a decisive vote by the senate on amending the League of Nations covenant will hold the German peace treaty pre-eminent in affairs of congress this week. Except for concern over the industrial situation, especially the steel workers' strike, the League of Nations contest promises to draft all other questions at the capitol.

The second week of actual consideration of the peace treaty will open tomorrow, with both advocates and opponents of the league conceding the approach of the first actual test of strength. By the end of the week or early next week both factions expect the first vote on amendment of the league covenant. While the senate is engrossed with the treaty, the house will be comparatively inactive, considering dye tariff revision and other minor bills.

The senate factions are to have their full voting strength on hand tomorrow to remain until the roll-calls are reached. Little action, however, is expected for a few days. Debate will be resumed tomorrow, Senator Reed, Democrat, of Missouri, planning a lengthy address in attack on the league covenant. A few other addresses are being prepared, but it is expected the period of fast and furious "in-fighting" soon will be reached.

DEMobilized MEN HAVING TROUBLES IN LOCATING JOBS

Reports of Difficulty Are Sent in from Various Parts of Country.

SEVERAL REMARKABLE CASES ARE MENTIONED

Ex-Officers Finding that Military Training Not Essential in Business.

London, Sept. 22.—From all parts of the country come reports of the difficulty demobilized officers are having to find jobs. Those former officers with wives and families to support are in many cases living on meagre pensions.

One of the most remarkable cases of unemployment is that of a Cambridge university graduate who for the greater part of the war held an important command in the army and subsequently a temporary post of great responsibility in a government department. He is armed with a letter from the War Office thanking him for his services and adding: "There are few people with greater organizing ability, more charming manners, greater tact and drive than yourself." Another letter to him from Sir Auckland Geddes, president of the Board of Trade, expresses "warm personal thanks for your loyal and devoted co-operation in very difficult work." King George bestowed on him the order of Commander of the British Empire.

But these credentials have been of no avail in his quest for suitable employment in this country, and in despair, he says that he is going to America next month.

Ex-officers have discovered that the business world regards long military service as a disadvantage rather than an asset. An infantry captain 33 years old, with a wife and three children, said: "I have farmed in South Africa, served with the Natal Mounted Police, and prospected for gold. I want an outdoor job connected with agriculture, with a minimum salary of $1,250. I cannot get one and I have applied for a small holding, but am told I may have to wait 12 months."

CIVIL TERM COURT HAS STARTED OUT ON ITS FINAL LAP

Extra Session Will be Completed this Week After Interruptions.

After suspending activities for one week on account of the September term of supreme court in Raleigh, the extra session of Pitt county superior court convened in this city this morning with Judge J. H. Kerr, presiding. There are a number of important civil actions to come up for hearing during the remaining week's session, and while work has been interrupted several times since the opening of the court in August much work has been accomplished and it is expected this will continue for the remainder of the week.

Judge Kerr has a way of speeding up in many of the minor actions, therefore believed that the calendar will be completely cleared by the expiration of the term. Divorcees are in season and court work this morning was begun with disposal of two such cases, while there are one or two others to come up for consideration before adjournment.

STATE ATTORNEYS ARE GATHERING IN FOR RIOT HEARING

Large Number of State Attorneys in Albemarle in Conspiracy Case.

STATE AND DEFENSE IS WELL REPRESENTED, SAID

Recent Riot and Strike Will be Thoroughly Probed and Threshed Out.

(By The Associated Press.)

Albemarle, Sept. 22.—Judge Thomas A. Jones and Attorney Thomas J. Harkins, of Asheville; Frank Arndel and T. D. Maness, of Concord; C. E. Fetter and J. F. Flowers, of Charlotte, are the counsel for the defense of the union members under arrest in Albemarle for conspiracy, so far arrived. Jack Ralston, counsel of the American Federation of Labor, will arrive from Salisbury tonight. The Central hotel also bears on its register along with these names those of Solicitor W. E. Brock and Marvin L. Ritch. Ritch arrived in Albemarle late Sunday afternoon.

Warrants are issued for thirty alleged conspirators in all, three not having yet been apprehended. Twenty-seven are under bond of twenty-five hundred dollars each. Their preliminary hearing is set for Monday morning at 10 o'clock. Attorneys Fetter and Flowers, of Charlotte, resented a flippant remark about the sentiment against their client Marvin L. Ritch in Charlotte. They both were strong in the assertion that all members of the Charlotte bar resented the insinuation against one of their number. Ritch himself had nothing to say. He seemed cheerful and unbothered in conversation which is said to be unusual manner.

As 6 o'clock drew near the cotton mill operatives whom these lawyers are in Albemarle to defend assembled in small groups about the hotel entrance and nearby. They were seeking the men who Mr. Barrett had promised would defend them.

TO TRANSPORT 50,000 TROOPS

TO SIBERIA, IT IS STATED

Paris, Sept. 22.—The supreme council has decided to transport fifty thousand Czech-Slovak troops to Siberia to their homes. It has been decided also that Teschen district should be taken by the plebiscite within three months to decide whether the region should go to Poland or to Czechoslovakia.

"COME ALONG" WILL BE PRESENTED HERE WEDNESDAY

The southland is noted for loyalty to its own and for the welcome it extends to its fair daughters who have gained success across the footlights and Greenville audiences will appreciate the fact that another newcomer to the musical comedy stage in the person of Margaret Corwin will appear locally in "Come Along," when given at the White Theatre, Wednesday, September 24th.

Miss Corwin will be seen as Barbara Benton, the prima-donna of the piece, and to her falls many of the really worth while musical numbers, of which "Thoughts," the recurring melody of the comedy, and "When You Are Happy" are the principal ones. Gifted with a voice of unusual sweetness, Miss Corwin under the tutelage of Mr. John Myers, of New York, to whom Jean Gordon, the brilliant contralto with the Metropolitan Opera Company, and Greek Evans, the well-known baritone, owe their successes, has developed into a charming singer, her personality making itself impressive in an unassuming way as she grows in favor with her audiences in each succeeding scene.

Her manner of rendering the odd little lyric in the form of a love duet between the musical instruments of an orchestra, entitled "Big Drum, Little Drum," is one of the gems of "Come Along," and Greenville is sure to take Miss Corwin to their hearts and agree that she is likable, talented and charming in every way.

MUTINEERS STILL HOLDING TIGHT TO FIUME TERRITORY

Time Limit for Italian Forces Has Expired Without Any Changes.

Rome, Sept. 20. — The time limit fixed by General Baddoglio, deputy chief of staff, for the Italian troops that left their posts in the armistice zone around Fiume and entered the city with Captain Gabriele D'Annunzio to return to their commands expired last night. Latest advices from the scene of Captain D'Annunzio's coup showed his forces were still in the control of the city. The food situation there is said to be serious.

There have been no advices as to the blockade of the place by Italian naval and military forces. But there are reports that Jugo-Slav troops are concentrating on the frontier between Fiume and the hinterland. There are indications that people not essential to the defense of the place may be compelled to leave so that the armed forces may be able to hold out longer. According to the Messagero an agreement had been reached between Premiers Lloyd George, of Great Britain, and Clemenceau, of France, and Foreign Minister Tittoni which will ensure the Italian nationality of the town, but the assent of President Wilson to the plan is yet to be gained.

The inter-allied forces which left Fiume after the arrival of Captain D'Annunzio's troops are reported to be at Abbazia, about two miles northwest of the city, where they are awaiting instructions.

Sirs:—

On yesterday your agents, under the direction of Mr. J. W. Ferrell, sold my farm near Shelby, and in this connection I am pleased to state that the sale was entirely satisfactory and more than equalled my expectations. I was particularly impressed with your business-like methods and preliminary advertising campaign previous to the sale. There was nothing sensational or exciting about your methods and the public was pleased with the manner in which the sale was handled. I unhesitatingly recommend your company as being absolutely reliable and thoroughly efficient in the line of work in which it is engaged.

Respectfully submitted,

HOW LARGE SUMS CAN BE SAVED ON SERVICE

Most People Fail to Consider What Help in Home Really Costs in the Long Run.

In any plan for national economy British specialists think that the household rather than the family should be taken as a unit. Under household consumption they include (1) services rendered maintaining the house and its inmates, (2) the goods consumed or acquired by the inmates, (3) the general charges of cleaning, decorating, offsetting deterioration, etc.

As a start in a saving program the British Commission has pointed out that services should be valued even more highly than goods, as each person doing unnecessary and unproductive work not only consumes without producing, but is also depriving the country of possible productive power. Translated into terms of American saving, this service idea would mean, "Do not hire any one to do what you can do for yourself in spare time unless you find it directly profitable."

Few Americans are really honest with themselves as to the cost of services. Not one family in a hundred really knows what a servant actually costs. Most of them place the cost of her wages and fail to count in her food, light and other things she consumes. Most of them, moreover, have no way of figuring correctly the extra waste of food or extra breakage or wear and tear due to the fact that the servant does not have the interest of ownership for making things go as far as possible. Few families know at the end of the year the important total that the "odd jobs" man or hedge cutter or grass trimmer has cost them for service that might as well have been rendered as recreation or needed outdoor exercise by the man or boys of the family.

This, of course, does not mean that go service should be purchased. Where a housewife's time is worth more in money or other contribution to family well-being than the cost of a servant she makes a profit by employing some one who frees her to do better paid work than household tasks. In many cases physical or personal reasons make it essential to the welfare of the family to have help, but in many cases the time saved to the members of the household by servants is not utilized profitably in a monetary way or even in a way to make for real happiness or advancement.

Savings on service will give many people important sums to lend to their government and save for themselves through War Savings Stamps. In the case of children work is not only a practical means of earning and saving, but in itself is a valuable discipline for life.

BANKS ENTER FIGHT AGAINST BOND SHARK

Plan is Devised Whereby Person Who Must Sell Will Be Given Square Deal.

Bankers in all parts of this district have been asked to take part in the war which has been declared against the bond shark. The campaign is to protect the small holder of Liberty and Victory Bonds. Many of these people are being preyed upon by profiteers in government securities and by salesmen of so-called wild cat stocks. Government bonds, which are the best security in the world, have been traded for worthless stock certificates which never have and never will pay one cent in dividends.

While every holder of Liberty and Victory bonds is urged not to sell, the fact is recognized that some persons bought beyond their buying power and they now find that for one reason or another—good reasons no doubt—they must sell. Bond sharks have taken shameful advantage of some of these people, according to reports received, and the banks are now lining up to put an end to their activities.

If a man finds that he must sell his bond he should take it to the nearest bank where he will be given its full market value or if for any reason the bank prefer not to pay the cash the bond holder will be directed to a reputable broker.

The Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond has sent an official communication to every bank and trust company in this district urging their cooperation. The point is made that no criticism is aimed at the reputable broker who is legitimately buying and selling bonds and other standard securities, but a determined effort will be made, and indeed is now being made, to block the activities of those persons who by misrepresentation are preying upon the inexperienced bond holders.

BUDGETING CHILDREN

Budgeting children will teach them the value of money and often make them more careful of their clothes and shoes. It will also bring out certain traits of character that nothing else will disclose and enable parents to correct faults before they become fixed habits. Any child old enough to be entrusted with money is old enough to be given a specified amount to spend each week, and to be told the value of saving a part of it.

Of course very young children may not be allowed to choose their own clothes, but traipsing along this line may begin very early and a sense of values and suitability may be instilled.

Three grown girls in a certain family were given the same allowance for clothes, books, amusements, entertainment of friends, etc. At the end of the first month May had spent all of her allowance and stated that she had nothing to show for it. Jane had saved one-half of hers and deposited it in the bank. She had denied herself some badly needed clothing and bought a few showy articles with the amount spent. She had accepted entertainment from friends but was too stingy with her own money to entertain in return. Sarah produced an account book and showed that she had bought all the necessary articles of clothing, enjoyed several well chosen entertainments, and had purchased two War Savings Stamps, paying four per cent compound interest.

These are typical, and the information gathered from the first month enabled the father and mother to show May the folly of wasteful and careless expenditure, Jane the importance of providing necessities first and the virtue of generosity, and to commend Sarah for her unusual business ability and sense of thrift.

"Ofttimes a venturesome pioneer, dissatisfied with the quality of his tobacco soil, would move out into the foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains in search of a better location. On such a trip he was frequently attacked by the savage black bear of the upland country and a duel to the death would ensue."

Virginia-Carolina tobacco—improved for three centuries

For three centuries the first families of Virginia have taken pride in the cultivation of choice tobacco.

Today, tobacco experts say that not even the finest Turkish leaf can compare with golden Virginia-Carolina for "life" and "sparkle."

And Virginia-Carolina has a rich, full flavor and a fine fragrance that make it ideal for cigarettes.

To enjoy it most, smoke it straight—in a Piedmont all-Virginia-Carolina cigarette.

Piedmont

NOTE—Piedmonts, with all their taste-quality, cost less than cigarettes of foreign-grown tobacco which have to tack on the cost of import duty. If you want all value in place of part value, ask for Piedmont, the all-Virginia-Carolina cigarette.

SATURDAY, SEPT. 20, 1919.

There are many people who appear to think that President Wilson is not capable of definitely and permanently settling many of the ascendent questions of the hour causing such unrest among workmen in various parts of the country, and while of course, everyone is accorded their own personal opinion, it is believed that a careful study of Mr. Wilson's plans for the future would bring about a certain change in sentiment. The deplorable and distressing economic situation of the nation cannot be settled in a day's time when years have been required in bringing it about, and even the most arduous and harmonious action on the part of leading men of the country cannot accomplish a direct change before a perfect foundation has been firmly established in the minds of the public. The president, in advocating the acceptance of the league of nations, is taking one of the most advisable steps in this direction, for when this has been accomplished the foundation is laid and efforts can be confined directly, forcefully to national subjects. Strikes and such occurrences are a natural sequence to the unsettled state of affairs throughout the entire world, and when the first great principle underlying the commercial intercourse has been settled, the rest will come about in the development of reconstruction problems.

It has no doubt been rather discouraging to certain opponents of the league of nations that they have not been able to get Senator Simmons to come out and directly oppose the issue, and while it is plainly evident that a number of them have become apparently reconciled to the situation it is also indubitably certain that many of the determined fellows are not going to stop the usual form of dissension until they are firmly convinced there is not the slightest chance of favorable diversion for the future. Senator Simmons already has flatly refused to discuss the situation further than to say he is for the treaty without reservation or amendment, and although the statement is easily interpreted the direct force of the remark evidently has not settled firmly in the minds of the opposition. There is very little chance of a change in sentiment on the senator's part even though years intervened before the settlement of the treaty, it is only a matter of a very short time before the opposing parties will be thoroughly discouraged in their efforts.

The allegations recently launched against Secretary of State Robert Lansing, in which it was stated that he was directly opposed to the ratification of the peace treaty, appear to be having very little weight with the American people, and especially since he has firmly denied ever being opposed to the successful outcome of the world treaty. His attitude now evidently is unchanged for he declares we ought to have peace at once; therefore, the treaty should be ratified without any change or delay. Opponents of the issue are certainly playing a splendidly ineffectual game, for so far they have been foiled in every attempt to draw some prominent personage into the snare of uncertainty which they have been planning since the Versailles sitting, and although indecision has been brought about in several cases, such men as Lansing do not permit their names being used against anything vitally necessary to the future commercial intercourse of the nation.

France has taken a great step towards the establishment of the worldwide peace which we have been hearing so much about since the ending of the war, and if reducing its military power counts for belief in the future elimination of great military preparedness programs, the nations has settled the fact in its very first act. The peacetime army of the nation will be composed of 350,000 men and to insure ideas of militarism creeping into the intentions for the future a reduction of the term of military service has been brought about to a duration of one year instead of three. The action will no doubt inspire other countries to adopt the same measure, and if this should be done, warfare in the days to come will be directed principally in the production of the necessities of life.

When each town throughout the entire country has definitely appointed its fair price committee and completed plans for future operations there is very little doubt that the high cost of living will not be given one of the most effectual jolts since its beginning. Governmental investigations and such like have resulted in no little good in many parts of the country but they cannot reach the common centers of distribution like home folks with a careful insight in to local conditions. Greenville people are just beginning to realize the necessity of such and after the committees gets in action it is a settled fact that a big change will be noticeable at an early date.

Such institutions as the Home Building & Loan Association are doing wonders for the development of Greenville. In fact, the building and loan idea is one that should hold ascendent consideration in the minds of the thinking people of the city because what it has done and will do should be convincing enough that the method is an infallible guide to safe and wise saving. Beautiful homes generally are the ultimate outcome of such savings, therefore, the proposition should be a very appealing one to those who contemplate owning homes in the future—and there are very few who do not.

Tobacco planters of Pitt county are not the only ones who find time to put in a good word for the Greenville tobacco market, in fact, from what we have seen and heard it is more than possible that farmers from adjoining counties are about as much impressed with the facilities of the markets as those near by. Prices on this market are indisputably higher than in other sections, for comparison of averages shows what is being done in this direction. Greenville sells it and sells it high, and for that reason the market is sure to be the leader of the section.

If all roads of the state were in such condition as those in Pitt county it is certain that there would be very few automobiles making state-wide journeys. An enormous amount of money has been expended in the county's roadways but they have been permitted to get in such bad shape that some of them even challenge transportation. It is certainly fortunate that our people saw fit to accept the government's proposition for hard surface roads for in this fact we are consoled with thought that automobilists will not always be forced to endure unmerciful jolting.

It is pleasing to note that the traffic regulations of the city are being enforced so intelligently, and while there are times when this has been accomplished with much difficulty on the part of officials, the heavy penalties for violation is having its direct effect with that element always ready to overstep the bounds of every limitation placed upon the driving of automobiles. Every law should be strictly enforced, and if there are any complaints to be made, let the violator make it to the mayor.

Retail prices of food reached its zenith during the month of August, so it is stated, and while naturally there is very little room for not believing the statement, we are wondering when they are going to begin to come down. Already changes have been predicted and prices have been lowered in some centers, but when—oh, when are they to tumble down in Pitt county?

which have predominated since the opening of the local market, for with the increased warehouse facilities the market is fully able to handle offerings with accuracy and speed, and never when the floors are completely congested, farmers have not been displeased to any great extent in the inevitable deferment of the sales from day to day.

Several hundred thousand pounds of the bright leaf have been directly disposed of since the opening day, and the fact that high prices have played an ascendent part in every sale will no doubt make the sales pretty heavy until the holiday season. Better grades of tobacco have known no fixed price, in fact, the price for these grades mounted higher than on any other market throughout this section of the country. Inferior grades, however, have been very little in demand, but they have been purchased along with the good qualities making the averages much higher than last year, said to have been one of the greatest in the history of tobacco growing in this part of the country.

There is very little doubt now that farmers will not give greater attention to their production before bringing it to the market for experience this year, especially with prices, has shown them the wisdom of carefully discriminating between the grades before placing them on the market for disposition. Tobacco well graded has a more direct demand, and fingers are always glad to see that prices are above the average in such instances. Green and dark tobaccos should be separated from the better qualities by all means, and in doing this the planter is placing himself in line for better prices and more consideration in every way. The remainder of the tobacco will consist in good grades, as this fact has already been made a surety in recent sales.

this section and have found that greater effect is brought about without leniency. Several similar cases have felt the full effect of punishment meted out to the violators of the law, and there is very little reason to expect that every member of the traffic will not get everything coming to him.

The diligence of Officer Patrick is deserving of much commendation in this said, as in many other cases, his service have proven invaluable assistance to the sheriff and his men.

GENERAL FOCH APPEALS TO THE BRITISH SOLDIERS

Paris, Sept. 22.—An appeal to the British soldiers dictated by the then General Foch asking them to remember their forefathers' victory over Napoleon inspired them to attack the Germans and recover the ground they had lost before the gas wave at the second battle of Ypres, writes Colonel Feyler in the Journal De Geneve.

Before the asphyxiating gas both British and French had been obliged to give ground. The General Foch intended to recover the former positions at all costs, according to Colonel Feyler. He asked General Sir John French to co-operate with him. "Impossible," replied French, "my men are ready to hold here but I do not feel that I can demand of them in their present condition further sacrifices in attacking." Foch expressed surprise: "Their morale is low," he said, "why don't you launch a proclamation? Something like this: 'British soldiers forward. You who have vanquished the great Napoleon, shall it come to pass that you will permit the lowly German to drive you from your positions and retain them.' "How is that?" asked French greatly interested, "please repeat it." And at the dictation of Foch, French wrote out the proclamation which was given out to the troops the next day. The next morning the British soldiers hit the line and recovered all the lost ground.

The big figures in the bank statements appearing in this paper should be of interest to every reader. The Greenville Banking and Trust Company, for example, lacks less than four thousand dollars of passing the two million mark with deposits crowding a million and a half. The tobacco sales alone approaching a million dollars a week gives an idea of the business our banks are doing.

A CORRECTION

We wish to call the attention of our readers to an error which occurred in the advertisement of Gentry & Gorman's in our Saturday's edition. In making a statement of the average we stated that Gorman's sold 685,274 pounds at an average of $34.00, when we should have stated that it was at an average of $37.00. We make this correction with pleasure realizing that the error occurred through the inadvertence on the part of the proofreader.

TREATY HAS BEEN REPORTED

Long Struggle Ahead in Disposing of Four Radical Reservations and Forty-five Amendments.

Washington.—Characterized as an alliance and not a league which "will breed wars instead of securing peace," the German peace treaty, including the covenant for a league of nations, was formerly reported to the senate by the foreign relations committee with forty-five amendments and four reservations.

It will be the first great document of its kind to be discussed in the open—without the confines of "executive session."

Accompanying the treaty was the majority report of the foreign relations committee subscribed to by every Republican member excepting Senator McCumber, of North Dakota, explaining the amendments and reservations.

The reservations propose:

1. Unconditional right to withdraw from the league.

2. Declaration by the United States to accept any of the legal or moral obligations of the much discussed article 10 or to accept any mandatory from the league "except by action of the congress of the United States."

3. Reserving to the United States the exclusive right to decide what questions are within its own domestic jurisdiction.

4. Absolute reservation of the Monroe doctrine to the judgment of the United States alone.

The principal amendments are proposed to provide:

1. Equal voting power for the United States with Great Britain in the assembly of the league.

2. Giving to China instead of Japan the province of Shantung.

3. Relief of the United States from having representatives on commissions deciding matters in which it has no concern.

4. Others concern phraseology.

These amendments and reservations, the majority report says, are submitted "to preserve American independence and American sovereignty and thereby best serve the welfare of mankind."

Fears that other nations may not accept an amended covenant the report dismissed with the statement:

"That is one thing that certainly will not happen. * * * The other nations will take us on our own terms, for without us their league is a wreck and all their gains from a victorious peace are imperiled."

That the adoption of amendments will necessitate re-assembling of the peace conference the report denies, asserting that the conference probably will be in session for six months more in Paris and might as well be "at least as usefully employed" as "they now are in dividing and sharing southeastern Europe and Asia Minor." German delegates, the report contends, could easily be brought to Paris, and, as Germany is not a member of the league, she need not be consulted about changes in covenant.

At the outset, the majority report deals at length with criticisms of delay and points out that, whereas the peace conference took six months to agree on the treaty, the senate foreign relations committee has had forty-seven working days. Demands for speed "in the most important subject that ever came before the senate of the United States," the report says, were "largely the work of the administration and its newspaper organs."

"To yield helplessly to this clamor," declares the report, "was impossible to those to whom was intrusted the performance of a solemn public duty."

Recalling the senate's responsibility as equal with the president's, the report recounts at some length the difficulties the foreign relations committee experienced in getting information on the treaty, being obliged to send to Paris for maps, it being compelled to get "imperfect information from press reports," and having at its disposal few official documents. Collateral treaties having a bearing, the report says, the committee was unable to get. Of the sum of information received in conferences with President Wilson and Secretary Lansing, the report remarks:

"The people themselves know how much information in regard to the treaty was received by the committee upon these two occasions."

While criticism for delay has been aimed at the foreign relations committee, the report points out no action has been taken by France, Japan or Italy

FOREIGN INTEREST HAS RESUMED OLD SYSTEM OF CODES

American and British Trade Interests Adopt Pre-War Code Methods.

London, Sept. 20.—American and British foreign trade interests have resumed their accustomed pre-war code and the competition for the commercial conquest of Germany and other recently enemy countries is well under way.

This is freely admitted by representatives here of both American and British trade bodies. The London head of one American business men's organization said:

"The business man reasons it out this way: 'Eventually—perhaps in a year from now—we shall have resumed normal trade relations with those nations which were, until a few months ago, our enemies. Why not get busy now—If I don't someone else will.' So sentimental considerations are eliminated. The dollar and the pound once more are what business is seeking."

A sharpness of competition unapproached in pre-war days will characterize the conduct of foreign trade activities during the next few years, it is generally conceded. America's possession of raw materials, her facilities for quantity productions and the fact that her industrial machinery is not so clogged with strikes and other labor disturbances which are so seriously impairing British trade, it is thought, ensures the United States a fair proportion of this business.

But it is pointed out that a voluminous foreign trade will be essentially a "new game" and British traders feel that lack of experience will offset, in a measure, the advantages indicated which now favor American trade bidders.

SENATORS HOLD FINAL CONFAB REGARDING THE PEACE TREATY

Washington, Sept. 20.—The senators have held the final conferences prior to the first test vote on the peace treaty which is expected next week. The Republicans are firm in their intentions to force through the reservations, amendments and are confident of blocking two-thirds of the majority. The democrats predict victory in the final showdown.

DIVERS SEARCHING FOR THE LOST VALBERNEA EARLY TODAY

Key West, Sept. 20.—A wrecking crew and divers are examining the hull of a sunken steamer believed to be the Valbernea off the Rebecca Shore light-house, forty miles from here in hopes of establishing the report of the wreck. The Valbernea was bound from Spain to New Orleans and carried three hundred passengers besides the crew, and was believed to have been lost in the tropical storm.

WONDER MENAGERIE.

John Robinson's Circus Carries a Remarkable Collection of Rare Wild Beasts, Birds and Reptiles.

Circus patrons usually observe a menagerie with awe and intense interest but few of them give consideration to the tremendous expense involved in the maintenance of rare animals in these days of high cost of living.

The John Robinson Circus, which will show in Wilson September 30th and Washington October 2nd, maintains a menagerie the value of which has been variously estimated at from $100,000 to $150,000—and these figures do not include cost and maintenance of cases, transportation nor feeding. To feed the John Robinson menagerie each day involves the expenditure of approximately $1,000. Many of the animals are sustained on a diet of fresh, clean beef, while others require special cereals, all of which means a liberal outlay of money.

The housekeeper or bread-winner knows something of the expense when the fact is mentioned that fresh, choice cuts of beef must be used for the majority of the animals. The John Robinson circus management insists upon choice food for menagerie animals regardless of cost, and this is largely responsible for the excellent appearance of the carnivorous animals which have elicited so many compliments from patrons this season. The John Robinson menagerie compares favorably with that of any traveling organization and is well worth a visit. Featured are three herds of elephants and "Congo," the only baby Hippopotamus in captivity. This baby will be shown in the monster free street parade, which will leave the circus grounds promptly at ten thirty o'clock. Two performances will be given in the main tent which comfortably seats 10,000 people. The doors will be opened at one and seven o'clock and the performances will start promptly at two and eight.
