THOUSAND PEOPLE DEMANDING BLOOD OF BRUTAL NEGRO

Crowds Paced Around Georgia Court House Waiting for Sheriff's Arrival.

LYNCHING OF SIX MEN PLANNED DURING NIGHT

Mob Started to Storm Jail When Cooler Heads Pleaded for Negroes' Lives.

Greenville, S. C., Oct. 6.—Joe Turner, a negro who shot and killed J. L. Kitchin and A. M. Bair, plainclothes officers of the Greenville city police force, yesterday morning while the officers were raiding a house in a negro district of the city, is still at large early this morning, although fully 2,000 citizens and officers have been combing the swamps and woodlands in all parts of the county since a few hours after the killing.

Feeling has been running high here ever since the news of the double murder became known, but there have been no disorders and the bitter feeling has been only against the perpetrators of the deed and not against the negro race generally. Only one clash occurred throughout the day and in that the white man, was said by witnesses, to have been the aggressor. According to local officers of the law, B. C. Painter, a young man, attacked a negro on one of the principal streets of the city as the black was passing. Painter was promptly arrested and was later released on condition that he leave the city at once.

Representative negro citizens held a mass meeting today and adopted resolutions condemning the murder of the two policemen, and placing the entire blame upon the negro, Joe Turner, who the resolutions state is a disreputable character.

PRESIDENT WILSON THOUGHT TO BE RAPIDLY IMPROVING

Washington, Oct. 6.—While the president's condition is steadily improving the physicians made clear today that they did not intend to relax their treatment of absolute rest. Those attending the president are much encouraged at the improvement, and feel that it likely means that he is definitely on his way to recovery.

President Wilson had another good night last night and apparently his condition continued to improve, according to a report issued by Dr. Grayson this morning. Dr. Grayson has held another consultation with rear Admiral Stitt, head of the naval medical school and Dr. Sterlin Ruffin, of Washington.

STATE TROOPS PATROLLING STREETS IN STRIKE SCENE

Gary, Oct. 6.—State troops today controlled the avenue leading to the steel plants and parts of the city where disorders are liable to develop. Four companies arrived here last night, after the rioting was resumed by the strike sympathizers.

GREENVILLE GOING FORWARD IN EVERY KIND OF BUSINESS

Richmond Times-Dispatch Comments on Activities During Present Year.

SAYS CITY IS LOCATED IN SPLENDID SECTION

Educational Advantages of More Than Ordinary Importance, It is Said.

In the last eighteen years Greenville, the county seat of Pitt county, N. C., has loomed up as a leaf tobacco market, and so great has been its strides in that business it is now the largest market in the Old North State. The sales of bright leaf in the warehouses of the town last year amounted to 25,774,027 pounds, which brought the farmers of that section of Eastern Carolina $37.97 per hundred. No market in the State reached this total of this average, and Greenville expects to outdo its own record, both as to quantity and average, this year.

The market was started in 1891, when the farmers of Eastern North Carolina disgusted with the then low prices paid for cotton, commenced to reduce their cotton acreage and grow bright tobacco as a money crop. For the first year or two one warehouse did all the business. Now the town has seven warehouses, one of which is claimed to be the largest brick warehouse for the sale of leaf tobacco in the State, it having 63,200 square feet of floor space. This warehouse is owned by a farmer, Richmond, J. Nick German, and is conducted by the firm of Gentry & German. The other houses are up-to-date in structure and management and (Continued on page eight.)

ENGLISH DESIROUS OF GAINING GREAT CHANGE IN FUTURE

Would Bring About Increased Production in Every Center, It is Stated.

London, Oct. 6.—British labor leaders have begun a general movement to increase production by industrial workers. Complaints have been made for several months of a decline in the amount of material produced. This has been attributed to refusal of the workers, in many industries to work full time.

John Hodge, a member of parliament and labor leader, expressed the belief that the adoption of the piece work system, as already applied to the iron and steel industries, would solve the problem. To this he declared, many workmen were opposed.

W. A. Appleton, secretary of the General Federation of Trade Unions, urged the men to refrain from political strikes, as the first move toward increased production.

"Political strikes must either fail or end in revolution," he said. "They are not against the capitalist but against the community. It is not the capitalist that suffers but the people. The effect of such strikes is to decrease production and increase the price of commodities."

M. Humberstone, a Sheffield leader said: "The surest way of increasing production is to give payment by results. Wherever possible it is carried out in ours, the steel, trade. In my opinion it is time we called a halt in wages because it only means a further increase in the cost of living. The sooner we can make the workers realize that it is more to their interest to decrease the cost of living than to increase wages, the better it will be for all concerned."

Bookkeepers are merely figureheads in the business.

TRADES OF BRAZIL VERY ENCOURAGING TO BUSINESS MEN

Foreign Trade During First Half of Year Made Considerable Increase.

EUROPEAN EXPORTS ARE OF GREAT IMPORTANCE

Federal Government Devoted Much Time to Commercial Relationship.

Rio De Janeiro, Oct. 6.—The foreign trade of Brazil during the first half of 1919 is regarded as very encouraging. An increased exportation of some of Brazil's staple commodities, such as coffee, rubber, cacao, chilled beef, hides, oil bearing fruits, etc., as well as the high prices which these articles have commanded, leaves a very respectable trade balance. That Brazil has rapidly forged ahead commercially during the years of the war is generally conceded. The country's agricultural possibilities are as yet practically unexploited, and the war acted as a stimulus toward ascertaining the wide range of her productivity.

Brazil has been able to export to Europe foodstuffs which, a few years ago, she was not able to supply to herself. In the same way, animal husbandry is making strides which point to making meat products one of the country's chief exports. While Brazil has always been a cattle-raising country, it is only during the last three or four years that she has been looked upon as a meat supplier to Europe. More recently several large modern packing houses have been constructed or projected. These are financed principally by American packing interests.

PREPARATIONS ARE COMPLETE FOR BIG VETERAN REUNION

All Preparations Are About Complete for Reunion of Confederates.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 6.—All preparations have been made for the entertainment of the United Confederate Veterans, who meet here in annual reunion Tuesday. Atlanta is prepared to receive all who come, the local committee stated tonight.

In anticipation of the event the city is well decorated tonight with bunting there being practically no building in the business section that does not carry the Confederate emblems. A great many residences also display flags. Along with the Confederate flag, of course, the Stars and Stripes are shown and many houses carry the colors of our associates in the last war as well.

The last tent of the big encampment in Piedmont Park, known as Camp Joseph E. Johnston, was pitched today and it is now ready for the occupants of the wearers of the Gray. Registration booths have been erected at both the railroad stations and the veterans will be met and given assignments immediately on their arrival in town. The vanguard has already begun to arrive and Confederate badges were plentiful on the streets tonight.

WORLD SERIES TO BE PLAYED IN CHICAGO THIS AFTERNOON

Chicago, Oct. 6.—Weather this morning is clear indicating that the fifth game of the world's series will be played this afternoon. Pitching selection for the evening were uncertain, but as far as indications from the Sox camp can be discovered Gleason will probably send in Williams. Probably Gleason may change at the last moment, and pitch James. Moran's pitching choice seemed to lie between Eller and Reuther.

10 ANNIVERSARY IS CELEBRATED BY TRAINING SCHOOLS

Interesting Exercises in Occasion at Training School Yesterday.

PRINCIPAL ADDRESS WAS DELIVERED BY HARDING

Classes Participated With Attractive Features Throughout Program.

The tenth anniversary of the opening of the Training School, was celebrated on Saturday evening in the school auditorium. Today the school starts upon the eleventh year, its second decade. It is significant that at the end of the first decade the school still has the same president, lady principal, and seven of the nine original members of the faculty. Hon. F. C. Harding, a member of the board of trustees, and a man who worked zealously for the establishment of the school, and who knows every step of its history, delivered the address.

The first part of the program consisted of a number of a number of choruses sung by the school, and one sung by the Glee Club. This musical program fittingly began with "Carolina" and closed with "America."

President Wright gave a picture of the school ten years before, when a few home-sick girls and boys had gathered in the new, buildings which were only partially equipped and furnished, of the sandy unattractive walk to town, and contrasted conditions with those of today. "Sand has given place to asphalt and planks to concrete," he said, and that the school had grown constantly and as fast as the (Continued on page four.)

STEEL STRIKE HAS LITTLE CHANCE OF ENDING VERY SOON

Third Week Finds Both Sides Preparing for Continued Struggles.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 6.—As the steel strike entered upon its third week, the union workers prepared to "dig in" for a siege while the steel companies are arranged to make another attempt to start up idle plants tomorrow morning. Through page newspaper advertisements and personal appeals the companies have put forth efforts to get sufficient men back to start up some of the works that have been suspended since the strike began.

National strike committee, said he was confident that the companies would fail and that the ranks of the organized men would hold firm. "It is only another attempt to scare our men back to the job," he added. "We are digging in and I feel sure we will hold our ground."

Preparations to begin operations tomorrow have been made in plants at Weirton, W. Va., Donora, Monessen, Braddock, Rankin, Sharon and in the city of Pittsburg. In some instances companies will not make an attempt to start up until sufficient men indicate their desire to return to work to properly operate plants.

SIXTY PERSONS KILLED IN WRECK NEAR MEXICO CITY

Mexico City, Oct. 6.—Sixty persons were killed yesterday in a wreck at Laredo, near Mexico City, when a train derailed near Saltillo. The belief is expressed that a complete examination of the wreck will show at least fifteen more killed in the accident.

SAYS HIS COMPANY BELIEVES IN LIVE WIRE ADVERTISING

Mr. K. W. Cobb Tells This Paper of Company's Full Services.

TELLS WHY HIS COMPANY IS KNOWN IN ALL PLACES

Explains That Advertising Methods Have Direct Advantage in Every Way

"Yes Sir, Mr. Editor, the best proof that we believe heart and soul in the liberal use of printers ink is shown by the amount of newspaper advertising used by our Company". This statement was made a few days ago by Mr. K. W. Cobb, publicity representative of the Atlantic Coast Realty Company to the editor of this paper.

Our conversation with the representative of the Realty Company was most interesting, because he proved his statement that newspaper advertising does pay.

The name of the Atlantic Coast Realty Company is familiar to most of the newspaper-reading public all over the south. Why? Because it is kept before the people through newspaper advertising, in fact, it has about gone to the point when you automatically think of the name when you hear of a real estate auction sale.

Thousands of dollars are spent each year in newspaper publicity, telling the people about the land which is offered by this progressive company. Proof that it pays to advertise is the success of the land sale conducted by them. You can't sell what you have to offer unless you can interest the people in what you have to sell. Newspaper advertising is the best way to do it. (Continued on Page Five)

The conservation of health is the ideal of the Red Cross, in peace as in war, at home as abroad, and through the agency of the Educational Chautauqua promoted by Mr. Radcliffe, the inspiration of the public in American Red Cross ideal of sanitation, health, nursing, first aid and moral ministrations will thus be continued.

"The Red Cross—A Record and a Prophecy" will be the lecture subject. The ministering touch of the trained nurse, will be here supplemented by the practical and efficient demonstration of an experienced instructor. The demonstrator will carry to the people the fruits of experience and leave with her auditors, both men and women, tangible and definite benefits, in the way of ideals and ideals for the betterment of home and community environment.

Her conference subject for the same afternoon will be "Home Care of the Sick." The Red Cross representative, backed by the great institution, will make a fight against disease, epidemics, ill-health, unsanitary homes, unsanitary communities and false habits of living. She will also give detail instruction in the care of the sick and discuss preventive measures on a practical educational plane.

ENGLISH RAILROAD STRIKE ENDS WITH SPLENDID CLIMAX

Appeared on Verge of Bringing Country to Inevitable Revolutions.

SETTLEMENT REACHED THROUGH COMPROMISE

Union Calls Off Strike and Men Resume Work as Quickly As Possible.

London, Oct. 6.—With dramatic suddenness in the quiet of the London Sunday afternoon it was announced to a knot of people in Downing street that the great railway strike which appeared to have brought the country almost to the brink of revolution, was settled, and that the strikers would resume work as quickly as possible.

The terms of the settlement, are in the nature of a compromise. The National Union of Railwaymen agrees to call off the strike, and the government consents to a renewal of the negotiation, the continuance of existing wage scale for another year, instead of six months as previously offered, and the establishment of a minimum wage of 51 shillings while the cost of living is 110 per cent above the pre-war level.

The settlement was the result of a long conference today between the trade union delegation, including representatives of the railwaymen's union, and Premier Lloyd George and Andrew Bonar Law in the famous conference room in Downing street. Prior to this there was a cabinet meeting.

It is connected on all sides that the settlement is the outcome of the moderate, but determined, efforts of the executive of the Transport Workers' Federation and men like Arthur Henderson and John Robert Clynes, who throughout have set their faces steadily against the ideal of a sympathetic strike until every possible avenue of mediation had been explored.

James Henry Thomas, secretary of the National Union of Railway Men, received a tremendous ovation tonight when he appeared to address some 5,000 of the men at Albert Hall. It was an impressive moment when, after the hurricane of cheering subsided, the audience rose and sang "Abide With Me."

TWO NEGROES LYNCHED BY MOB IN GEORGIA YESTERDAY

Lincolnton, Ga., Oct. 6.—Jack Gordon and Will Brown, negroes, were lynched here this morning and bodies burned. The negroes were charged with shooting Sheriff Freeman and Boyce Fortson near here Saturday. Freeman is expected to die. Mose Martin, negro, was killed by posse yesterday during the hunt for Gordon and several other negroes were whipped for refusing to give information as to the whereabouts of Gordon. The lynching occurred at four o'clock this morning after Gordon had been taken from the Lincolnton Jail by the Sheriff Kelly by mob of one thousand men. Brown was being held by the mob awaiting arrival of Gordon. The two were strung up after bodies ridged with bullets were placed on pile of burning wood.

MONDAY, OCT. 6TH, 1919.

Reports said to be "very gratifying" have just been received from the department of justice regarding the reduction in high cost of living in many parts of the country, especially from public organizations, claiming to have accomplished unusual results by past endeavors. The statements are pleasing indeed to those who have been watching the situation for some time, fearful that an increase would be experienced instead of a proposed decrease, and while the work has met with some success, eternal vigilance is going to be the price of success all through the investigation. There are, we believe, hundreds of unscrupulous merchants dealing dishonestly with their customers at this time, particularly those who do not keep tabs on changes in prices and fixed profit margins as recently introduced by the government. And as a matter of course it is going to be absolutely necessary that greater caution than ever be maintained in the future in order to bring about changes desired by thousands of persons of the country.

With deserters from the regular Italian army pouring into the ranks of D'Annunzio's forces what would more natural than to hear of the audacious leader again becoming the center of attraction of the government. Nothing more ordinary could occur with reinforcements under his command at the present time, and while, naturally, another movement of the kind recently pulled off would be considered extremely hazardous such an adventurous character surely would not pause to consider the consequences of a similar endeavor. His efforts already have been featured by such a spirit of boldness and unintentional intrepidity that his followers as well as the public would be very little surprised at any new scheme being brought to play in the near future.

It appears that the bill recently introduced in the Mexican senate designed particularly for the purpose of granting amnesty to all persons of good faith who are now in arms against the government is not meeting the favor which a certain number of advocates through it would. In fact, as far as can be learned at this time there were a number of representatives favoring such a movement, but direct opposition came from direction of the secretary-treasurer of the nation who came out openly in opposition. The prospect of amnesty to a certain number of rebels might be considered favorably, but its hardly possible the it would create more than ordinary interest owing to the treachery at the bottom of many such issues. Action in this direction would prove effective, it is believed, if co-operative efforts were brought to play by both factions, but when there is so much indefiniteness there is very little chance of anything out of the ordinary occurring in the days to come.

With the strikers of England ready for resumption of work it is to be hoped those in this county will be ready to do likewise in the near future, otherwise it might be advisable for the government to issue orders for a general strike everywhere, celebrations following. Truly the situation is becoming extremely serious in the section, and it appears that it is a direct result of propaganda in circulation among the working classes. Riots have resulted in many instances, and unless is done or people awoken to conditions as the year there is not the slightest change of anything occurring tending to relieve the sad state of affairs. Social unrest is getting general and assuming greater scope with every succeeding day, therefore, deliberate, forceful action is imperative.

If Senator Reed should happen to receive a special "egg reception" in other cities to be visited in the future such as that tendered him in Ardmore, Okla., it is certain that possible the persistent opponent of the league of nations will be somewhat discouraged in his efforts of bring about all possible disparagement upon an issue meaning so much to the world as a whole. Ardmore residents sent several eggs sailing in close proximity to the senator's classic brow as he was on the verge of delivering an inspiring address, and while of course, it was very rude—extremely so—it is a settled fact there are not many people in that region who will admit it.

Action of American troops in Dalmatia recently in which actual bloodshed was prevented between troops of Italy and Jugo-Slavia is deserving of no little consideration, and goes to show the great good eventually to be accomplished by the presence of American forces. It was during a riot that intervention was necessary, of course, for as everywhere, Dalmatians are forgetting how to fight in attempting to perpetuate principles being made extinct by rioters throughout various sections of the country.

Cigarette smoking among ladies of London, says one of our exchanges, is becoming to be general habit with many women of the section. In fact, it is understood that prominent women are as partial to their smoke as a baby would be for his mother. It may be all right with people of England and other sections, but when it becomes to be a go in the south, well, we'll give it up altogether.

Coblez, Oct. 6.—More insistent protests than ever before against government food control, the host of food profiteers and food brokers and the ever increasing speculation in foreign exchange now fill the columns of the food journals and farm magazines of Germany.

Food prices continue very high. This is attributed partly to the low valuation of the mark. The official exchange rate for the mark for September at headquarters of the American Forces in Germany was 22 marks to the dollar.

10TH ANNIVERSARY
IS CELEBRATED BY TRAINING SCHOOLS

appropriations from the General Assembly would let us grow, the student-body has been stronger and better every year. As many have been refused admission as have been enrolled in the school.

The president paid tribute to the founders of the school, the three who worked untiringly and continuously for the establishment of the school, Senator Fleming, Governor Jarvis and Mr. Ragsdale, have all been claimed by death, but their faith and works are now being abundantly rewarded.

President Wright said that while the school had gone straight ahead doing the one thing for which it was established, that is, training teachers for the public schools of North Carolina, it had been rendering the greatest service possible to the nation, because it was working for the uplift of the rising generation and for better citizenship for the United States and for the world. A service flag could not show with justice who the workers had been. He explained that these exercises were for the purpose of calling attention to the ten years of service rendered by the school.

Senator Harding he introduced, as a man who had given his life to public service, and as one of the leading citizens of the community and State, one who has always been peculiarly interested in the institution and a "loyal friend to the cause of right and justice."

When Mr. Harding arose he said that it was with a feeling of sadness because of the absence of the founder of the school he realized that the spirit of the men who caught the vision, the wise father of the school, Governor Jarvis, the fine champion of the rights of the school, James Fleming, and the wise director, Prof. Ragsdale, were present. He reviewed in detail some of the work that was done for Greenville. In getting the school, Greenville and Pitt county realized in the beginning what the State now realizes, but did not realize ten years ago. The faith of the town and county was shown in the fact that they contributed $100,000, whereas the state appropriated only $15,000. The State has shown its faith by its last appropriation, which was $200,000 for improvements in the beginning the attitude of the state seemed to be that if the institution made it would come to the rescue, and it has done this. He spoke of the plan Governor Jarvis outlined and of the faith he had in the ultimate support of the State. The speaker made his audience see the educational campaign that was necessary before the question of bonds was placed before the people. The result was that the people of the town and county gave as a free gift to the state of North Carolina $100,000.

Mr. Harding paid tribute to the president of the school, saying that one of the greatest benefits the community had derived from having the school located here was the fact that the distinguished man at the head had been added to the citizenship. He referred to the many temptations that had come to the president to go to other and larger institutions, for a larger salary, but he had remained because he had his heart set on seeing this institution carry out the real purpose for which it was established. If this purpose had not been tenaciously held to by the guiding hands of the school, the school would have soon been changed.

There have been many temptations for turning aside, but the president has been firm in his belief in the original design and spirit of the school and has kept the school to this one purpose.

The speaker showed vividly the difference between the results if the school had trained only for personal culture and the results now when in the cross-roads and the cities and the towns those trained here are the instruments for training the boys and girls of the State and "making clear the intellectual operations of the masses. Here he paused to prophesy. If we train you merely to become cultured men and women without a purpose beyond, we shall get nothing, but if we train you so that the children you go out and train a higher purpose, a higher vision, the school becomes a reservoir through which the State can reach the boys and girls, North Carolina will pour out her millions for the school." North Carolina is catching a new vision as the nation is and the world is, and America is changing the world. He cited examples of the broadening of plans and ideals in the nation. Among these he spoke of the new department of education in the federal government. In these educational changes North Carolina is taking the lead. He referred to the change in the constitution and the action of the last General Assembly that gives North Carolina the best school laws she has ever had.

He closed by making the young women realize that they were the agents for carrying out these laws.

He impressed upon the young women the big responsibilities and glorious opportunities that rest upon them and the school.

In dismissing the audience President Wright invited them all to be present ten years hence at the next big celebration.

Women's Frocks
for Fall

Expressive of Autumn are the rich copper tones, which are one reason why the new Frocks are so distinctive. Gaily contrasting and harmonizing embellishments beautify Frocks that are typically Fall-like in line and fabric. Silks—those who are happily familiar with and some which now make their bow for the first time—appear in modes of delightful colorfulness. In equal profusion here are comfortable and modish woolen styles, Dresses that characterize their wearers as women of discrimination and taste $15.00 $75.00.

BLOUSES—SMART, NEW
Deviating from a semi-tailored path, which they no doubt, intended to pursue, a number of the very newest Blouses flaunt novel revers, edged daintily with imitation flet lace. They are developed—need we say it—of Georgette crepe and so are the countless overblouse novelties and Russian effects. And certainly on dreary Autumn days no one will scorn the cheering brightness of vivid reds, greens, orange and deep blues, which are shown in abundance here. Price $5.50 to $25.00.

NEW SEPARATE SKIRTS

That Fashion sponsors the vogue for Separate Skirts is confirmed by the great variety of smart new Skirts modes shown. If ever there was a day for sportive plaids, certainly this is it. But not for one associate them with the plaids of bygone days, for in tones and styling they are ever so different. Perhaps in the Silk Skirts will one find the most surprises and diversity $1.00 to $30.00

THE TIRADE.

Saturday evening in the court house there was held a meeting of a number of farmers from different parts of the county. Different papers had been circulated inviting them to come as it was to be a meeting to the Co-operation of the Farmers.

The speakers of the occasion was Mr. Smith of High Point. When Mr. Smith arose to speak he said not a word about better farming not a word about better market conditions, not a word in regards to cotton storage warehouses, as the papers had stated, but his speech in the opinion of a number of those present was that of a propagandist who would seek to turn the Farmer's Union or other organizations into a destructive political organization that would tear down everything that the General Assembly of North Carolina has tried to do. He also stated that the educational bills fathered by Senator Harding's committee were farces, that the tax revaluation bill was to tax the poor man and let the rich go, and according to his statements nothing good was done by the last general assembly.

At the conclusion of the speakers' address, Senator Harding was invited to make a talk, and he certainly made one. He made Smith feel like a very small number and showed him that no Pitt county man, with a flow of good southern blood was going to set by and see a Democratic legislature maligned by one, who posing as a farmer's friend, attempts to array them against their representatives.

The board of county commissioners were in session today.

A large number of colored people were here Sunday attending the Old Eastern Association in session with the First Baptist church, colored.

VESPER SERVICES AT E. C. T. T. S. CONDUCTED BY MISS GRAHAM

The Y. W. C. A. Vesper services at the Training School Sunday evening were conducted by Miss Graham. Miss Graham has ever since the Y. W. C. A. was organized in this school, taken a very active part in it. She is always willing to help the girls in any way with work connected with the Y. W. C. A.

Her subject last night was "Like Begets Like." She took some of the qualities of Christ and showed how he stood out as the perfect man. She gave specific ways in which the girls could attain a Christian balance. For example she showed them how a kind word or act was followed by a kind word or act, and the same by a kind kind word was often followed by unkindness.

The singing of familiar hymns added much to the service.

LAST OF TRAINING CLASSES THIS WEEK.

The fourth and last session of the training class in the interest of the Baptist 75 million campaign will begin in Memorial Baptist church tonight and close at noon Wednesday. The classes have been well attended by representatives of the two associations for which are being held.

About Our Furs

Any one can say that their Furs are made of "carefully selected skins, skillfully fashioned, and smartly designed" yet few assertions of this sort carry any assurance of credence from the reader. Pretty phrases without a reputation to back them up are worthless, with the support of a reputation they are unnecessary. The most significant characterization we can give our Furs is "they are the best values for the money that the market affords."

PUREST BLOODED JEWS ARE EXILES

Highlanders of the Caucasus Who Have Kept Free From Gentile
Admixture.

SCORN THE PLAINS PEOPLE

Their Language and Many of Their Customs Are Peculiar—Date and Circumstances of Settlement in That Region Unknown.

London.—Of all the scattered tribes and remnants of the Jewish people, none is less known to the world at large, and certainly none presents a more striking contrast to the common conception of the modern children of Israel than the Jewish Highlanders of the eastern Caucasus. Yet there are probably none in all the world who have kept the Jewish blood more pure and free from gentile admixture, nor any who have more faithfully preserved the traditions, beliefs and customs of the times before the exile.

Indeed, they hold themselves quite aloof from the other Jews of the Caucasus region, refusing to intermarry with them, to worship with them, or even to have social or commercial intercourse with them beyond the limits of the barest necessity. No Scottish Highlander ever scorned the Lowlander one-half so much as these Highlander Jews scorn their kinsmen of the plains and of the urban ghetto.

Traditions Fail to Explain.

The date and the circumstances of their settlement in the Caucasus highlands are unknown, even in their own traditions, but it is certain that they have been there for nearly a thousand years. In that time their physical characteristics have been materially modified by their environment and mode of life. With characteristic Jewish faces and complexion, they have tall, stalwart, muscular bodies, resembling the best of the Hill men of India, or some of the giant Highlanders of Scotland. Their life is of course purely rural, since they have no considerable towns, and they devote themselves to agriculture, and the growing of grapes and tobacco. From the grapes they make both wine and brandy, and of these beverages they are heavy drinkers. Indeed they have the unenviable reputation of being the hardest drinkers in all that part of the world—which might easily be, since the Mohammedan tribes around them are almost entirely total abstainers. However, drunkenness is little known among them, if at all.

They are also great fighters. That is generally a characteristic of mountaineers, and in these highland Jews it is highly developed. They always go armed, as do the Montenegrins, and are never backward in using their weapons for defense. They do not, however, share in any of the blood feuds of the Circassian tribesmen, nor do they join in their raids and quarrels.

"PRETTY BABY"

One of the season's biggest musical hits that will appear in this city will be the new Jimmie Hodges 1919 version of "Pretty Baby" which will be the attraction at White's Theatre Wednesday, October 8th. The comedy this season is in two acts and as the last three successors of Jimmie Hodges it is a riot of fun, songs and terpsichorean revelries from start to finish, the settings are magnificent. No attempt has been made to be just gaudy with a mere color background before which the vivid costumes of the chorus and still more vivid principles cavort to catch the eye. There is an art to the background of "Pretty Baby" which has helped to make it the one big musical hit of the year. The costumes are a delight to the eye, syncopated beautiful and lend themselves readily to discernible color designs, so that the stage is never a moment without a picture.

"Pretty Baby," is a musical show that makes the audience laugh uproariously, and will strain the sides and bring a catch to the throat and tears to the eye.

The same well known cast is with "Pretty Baby" including Eddie Page, Eva Lappin, Johnnie O'Neil, Tom

Williams, Norman Coudy, Ted Shaffer, Eddie O'Neil and the Jimmie Hodges 'Original Dixie Chorus.' Jimmie Hodges' New 1919 version of "Pretty Baby" is coming to the local playgoers have been looking forward with pleasurable anticipation to the appearance of this musical comedy. Success and from all indications they will not be disappointed. For it is coming with its complete number one cast including the Greenville leaf buyers are as numerous as on any market in North Carolina or Virginia, all of the large concerns being represented. Several Richmond houses are represented and there is a little battalion of local leaf dealers. There are in the town seven large steam tobacco ordering plants with a daily capacity of over 500,000 pounds of leaf.

George Twyman, Eva Lappin, Johnnie O'Neil, Tom Williams, Norman Coudy, Ted Schaffer Eddie O'Neil. The Pretty baby Trio and his handsome Dixie Chorus, which is known as the handsomest and best trained in the field of musical comedy.

Greenville Is Good Trade Territory. But Greenville does not pin its faith entirely on tobacco, and the writer has often wondered why big Richmond does not do more business with that vigorous Carolina down. Mention Greenville to the average Richmond business man, outside of tobacco circles, and he thinks you are referring to the cotton manufacturing town of that name down in South Carolina. The wholesalers and manufacturers in all lines of Norfolk, Baltimore and some other cities know all about Greenville, N. C., and profit by their knowledge.

The country for miles and miles around Greenville is rich and prosperous. In fact it is claimed by Pitt county people that they live on the richest and most productive soil in the State, a soil that brings forth in abundance cotton, tobacco, peanuts, corn, potatoes, the grasses, all the fruits and in late years much wheat has been made. The lands produce pretty much everything that is good and marketable, and Greenville is the place in which these products, not only of Pitt, but of several adjoining counties, are marketed.

Educational and Other Advantages. The town now has a population of a little rise of 7,000. Its educational advantages are second to none. The public school system is divided into three departments; a model school, a grammar school and a high school, each being in a modern school building of its own. Over 750 students are enrolled this year in these schools.

The East Carolina Teachers' Training School is situated in Greenville. The buildings, located around a beautiful campus of forty-four acres and are large and furnished with modern equipment. It is a state institution.

presided over by President Robert H. Wright, one of North Carolina's most able educators. He is assisted by an able corps of officers and teachers every one of whom has his or her soul and heart in the work. The school yearly turns out teachers that all the state becomes proud of.

Banking and Transportation Facilities. There are in Greenville three banks with combined resources of about $4,000,000. They are the Nation Bank of Greenville, the Greenville Banking and Trust Co., and the Farmers Bank of Greenville. The two first named live in their own magnificent banking houses, and the last named has just commenced laying the foundation for a $50,000 banking house.

Two railway lines furnish the town with transportation facilities and Tar River affords water transportation to Tarboro and several other points. The railways are the Norfolk-Southern and a branch line of the Atlantic Coast Line Railway, running from Weldon to Kinston. Ten passenger trains over these lines pass through Greenville daily.

Other industries in the town to be briefly mentioned are: A large buggy and carriage factory, a large cotton mill which is now doubling its capacity for the production of cotton goods, two hosiery mills, an oil and fertilizer plant, three woodworking plants, two hotels, two daily newspapers, four large horse and mule sales stables, making it the leading live stock market of Eastern Carolina, really the largest in the State, and there are, of course, a large number of first-class retail stores.

The Greenville Chamber of Commerce, now not quite a year old, is doing fine work in the interest of the town and county. The officers are H. A. White, president; E. G. Flanagan and J. E. Winslow, vice-presidents; J. R. Moye, treasurer, and Miss Mande E. Lee, secretary.

Inviting Slogan to Be Heeded. The county courthouse in the center of the town is a magnificent new building, that cost $9,000. The new post-office is a fine building with surroundings that the town people are proud of. The nine miles of paved streets and as many of paved sidewalks are kept in first-class order. The seven churches in the town are all comparatively new, and they are splendid buildings. Some of them would do credit to any city, even Richmond.

Good roads radiate from Greenville in every direction. Pitt was among the first of the North Carolina counties to vote bonds for the building of hard surface roads, and has so far voted $500,000 for them. The money has been and is being wisely spent and all the people are advocates of good roads and would not hesitate to tax themselves for further bond issues whenever necessary.

Greenville has a slogan. It is this "Our Greenville—Yours If You Come." Richmond merchants and Richmond drummers will find it profitable to heed that slogan. The Richmond tobacco men have noted it and they have gone to Greenville and found out just what a prosperous vigorous, wide-awake twentieth century town it is.—Times-Dispatch.

EDDIE RAYE IS WHOLE

SHOW IN HIMSELF

We were agreeable surprised last night when we went to the Academy to see Jimmie Hodge's show which came to that theater for a one-night stand, entitled "Pretty Baby." We went with the expectation of being terribly bored, but we got a few laughs out of the show, and enjoyed looking at the girls in the chorus, which was one of the best that has been seen here in some time.

Eddie Raye, as Lon Morris, is the whole show, and if he were to die or be taken suddenly sick, the show would have to close up shop, and start over. He has many witty things to say, and gets them off in a way that is pleasing to the audience. Really one of the best comedians that has been seen at the Academy.

Tom Williams, as Chas. Du Point; Jonnie O'Neil, as his wife, and Eva Lappin as Mrs. Du Point, all have good parts in the show, but must share second honors to Raye. Miss Lappin and Mr. Williams, both have excellent voices and are able to use them to advantage several times. Norman Coudy sings "Dear Old Pat of Mine," much to the enjoyment of the audience.

Many a self-possessed girl would like to transfer her possession to some man.

SELL AT GORMANS

The supervisor reported the sales for September as 9,184,289 pounds for $3,515,175.30, averaging $38.27.

Gorman's sold of this 2,223,638 pounds, averaging $39.29. This is very gratifying to us as we had but three first sales and everybody knows that we sell a large per cent of common tobacco and scrap sold on the market.

The sales are much smaller today and should finish soon after the dinner hour. We look for small sales the balance of the week. We have 4th sale Tuesday, 3rd Wednesday, 2nd Thursday and 1st Friday.
