CAROLINA VICTOR OVER TECH TEAM ONE POINT MARGIN

Blue and White Defeats Red and White by One Point Margin.

PRITCHARD IS STAR FOR UNIVERSITY TEAM

Contributes Play That Gives His Eleven the Victory in Battle.

Playing for the first time since 1905 when the score was 0-0, the University of North Carolina defeated State College, 13 to 12. Yesterday afternoon in the best football game seen here in many years. The margin of one point represents the only goal from touch-down kicked throughout the contest, Blount's toe sending the ball through the uprights for the point that decided the game.

Surrounded by a crowd estimated at 7,500 enthusiastic spectators composed of students and alumni from each institution, students from the three girls' colleges and fans from all sections of the State, the gridiron warriors of each eleven fought up and down Riddick Field for one hour of actual playing with the honors about evenly divided. At no time through the contest did either team show a vast superiority over its opponent and at critical times each showed sufficient strength to thwart any rapid advance toward the goal.

Never has a game been staged in North Carolina before crowd that witnessed yesterday's athletic event. Long before the start of the contest, the crowd began its line of march into the seating stands. When the players made their appearance upon the field, practically every available seat was filled and those not fortunate in securing sitting space had taken their places where standing was allowed.

Located on opposite sides of the field the students of the respective schools enlivened the afternoon with their hearty yells. Under the guidance of cheer leaders, each set of students vied with each other in their rooting. The State College band took an important part in the noise and added much to the entertainment feature.

Grady Pritchard, a native of Chapel Hill, turned the tide in Carolina's favor in the third period when State apparently had started its heralded strong attack. His work in blocking one of Fayette's punts and racing across the line for a touchdown stimulated Carolina's spirits and threw a bomb into the camp of the Techs.

It was shortly after State had garnered its second touchdown and assumed a lead of six points that the Techs were forced to punt on their 30-yard line. Pritchard, for the second time, broke through the line, evaded the secondary defense and blocked Fayette's punt. The ball rolled towards the Tech's goal. Quickly Pritchard gathered up the leather and raced unhindered across the line for the touchdown. It was done so quickly that State College followers could hardly realize what had happened.

THE STATE Y.M.C.A. NEEDS $80,000 TO PROMOTE ITS WORK

Securing of This Sum Means That State Can Maintain Staff of Workers.

PITT'S ALLOTMENT IN THIS FUND IS $1,500

Quotas Will be Sent to Local Leaders in Every Township Monday Oct. 27

The proposition which the State Committee of the Young Men's Christian Association now submits to the citizens of North Carolina is to conduct a State wide financial campaign to secure $80,000, being the amount necessary to promote effectively the local, state and international work of the Y. M. C. A. To this end the hearty support of every citizen of North Carolina interested in the welfare of her boys and young men is besought.

The securing of this sum of money will mean that the State committee of North Carolina can maintain a staff of workers to adequately supervise and extend the work of the Association. The following are some of the ways that this group of specialists will serve the young men and boys of the State.

1. Organize H-Y Clubs in the High Schools of the State, and frequently visit these clubs for counsel and encouragement.

2. Promote State Training Camps for boys of the entire State, necessitating visits to the counties of the State to recruit boys.

3. Promote Father and Son Banquets in personal Co-operation with church leaders in various counties.

4. Co-operate with Churches in inaugurating the new "Program of Christian Citizenship Training for Boys."

UNDER ORDERS THE NEXT ATTRACTION WHITE'S THEATRE

This Splendid Show Will Play Here on Tuesday Night October 28th.

Those who have wondered at the difficult and rapid changes made by actors in the court of a play, will be especially interested in "Under Orders," the sensational dramatic novelty which A. H. Woods will present at White's Theatre on Tuesday, October 28th for an engagement of one night direct from its New York success.

Each member of the company is compelled to make not only three or four different changes of costume and make-up in the course of the play, but to change back and forth from one character to another. This change must be so complete and so effective that the identity of one character must be completely lost in the other, in order to sustain the situation in the play. In one act, one of the characters, after playing a tremendously powerful scene, leaves the stage for a few minutes and returns another person altogether, and so important is this differentiation, that the whole act depends upon it.

Such demands as this are of course not often made upon actors, otherwise it would be impossible to find enough players to go around. It took Mr. Woods several months to find suitable players to sustain the difficult and subtle roles of "Under Orders." It is said that more than fifty players were tried out and found wanting before Mr. Woods found a cast that played to his satisfaction. Theatregoers may be assured therefore, that the performance of this play will be one of the most noteworthy they have ever seen.

PRESIDENT WILSON SPENT YESTERDAY UNINTERRUPTED

Only One Matter Received His Attention During Entirety of the Day.

ONE IMPORTANT MESSAGE WAS SENT TO SEC. LANE

President Resting as Well as Can be Expected According to Physicians.

Washington, Oct. 24.—With exception of brief attention to the difficulties of the National Industrial Conference, President Wilson today got uninterrupted rest.

After a report on developments in the conference had been given the President and he had formulated a message to Secretary Lane, chairman of the conference, Rear Admiral Grayson ordered that no further governmental matters be brought to the President's attention today.

The prohibition enforcement bill with an opinion as to its constitutionality by Attorney-General Palmer reached the White House late in the day from the Department of Justice, but in accordance with Dr. Grayson's order it was not laid before the President.

The President's condition, it was explained, had not been affected by his increased activity, but the chances that too much attention to public affairs might retard his recovery were considered too great to risk taking up matters not urgently needing his attention. He has until next Tuesday midnight to act on the prohibition bill.

Dr. Grayson's regular night announcement was confined tonight to this brief bulletin:

"The President is satisfactorily maintaining the improvement which he had recently made."

FRANK HEMBY FARM TO BE SOLD BY THE WALTER GURLEY CO

Sale of This Valuable Farm to Take Place on Monday October 27th

The Frank J. Hemby farm will be sold on Monday, October 27, at 10:30 A. M., by the Walter-Gurley Auction Company.

This farm which has been subdivided, is located on the Greenville and Tarboro road, six miles from Greenville.

It contains 207 acres of which 140 are already cleared and in a high state of cultivation. The soil is in an excellent condition and is well adapted to any and all crops grown in this section of the country especially tobacco.

Several buildings which consist of one nice dwelling, three tenant houses, four tobacco barns and one good pack house are already on the farm and this will save the purchaser a great deal of expense, in this day of high cost of building.

An extensive advertising campaign is being waged in the interest of the sale and it is expected that quite a large crowd will be in attendance on salesday.

Music will be furnished by the Walter-Gurley Auction band, and free lunch will be served on the grounds.

MANY STAMPS FOR ONE DEED.

A purchase of revenue stamps to the amount of $128 to go on one deed was made at the post office this morning. It represented a large real estate sale.

SECRETARY WILSON PREVENTS BREAK WITH HIS APPEAL

Coal Miners and Coal Operators Will Have Further Conferences Today.

LABOR HEAD SPEAKS IN BEHALF OF PUBLIC

Wilson Himself a Miner Calls on Both Sides in Dramatic Appeal.

Washington, Oct. 24.—A dramatic appeal by Secretary of Labor Wilson, himself a miner, prevented an open break tonight between miners and operators, almost ready to go home after failing to settle the strike of half a million soft coal miners set for ten days hence.

It was near the end of a long and heated session at which the miners formally rejected one plan of settlement and refused to arbitrate wages, that the secretary, taking hold a slender thread, brought the two sides together and kept them here for another conference tomorrow.

As members of the two groups weary after three days of argument and wrangling left the meeting place, they refused to hazard an opinion as to whether the strike could be averted. In some quarters, however, there was a more hopeful view than heretofore.

Secretary Wilson a bit hoarse, after long pleading with the factions for consideration of the public's rights, actually seemed cheerful. Much of this feeling was due to the fact that he had persuaded the warring factions to make another attempt to restore peace to the industry at the very moment they were ready to quit.

"The miners rejected, and the operators neither rejected nor accepted my appeal," he said.

ROBERT SCHMIDT PREDICTS BRIGHT FUTURE FOR HUNS

Sees a Hopeful Market for German Toys, Porcelain and China.

Berlin, Oct. 24.—Robert Schmidt, minister of food, is attempting desperately to induce the German people to continue to buy the substitute textiles made of paper so as to prevent increasing the trade balance against Germany and foreign countries from which the paper clothing is coming. Thus far it has seemed to be rather a hopeless task.

The minister points out that the greatly decreased value of the German mark in foreign countries has one advantage because Germany can manufacture such products as it has raw materials for and undersell all competition abroad because, from the German standpoint, the French franc, the Italian lira and the British pound are worth in exchange several times more than they used to be.

Minister Schmidt sees a hopeful market for German toys which, he believes, has not been destroyed by the war and he looks also for a good market for German porcelain, china and musical instruments. When the unrest in Germany has subsided he predicts a bright outlook for German industries.

OPERATORS AND MINERS REJECT PROPOSAL OF WILSON

Washington, Oct. 24.—Operators and miners today rejected proposal by Secretary Wilson that they negotiate new wage agreement calculated to avert the strike of soft coal miners called for November first.

EVIDENCE HEARD CONCERNING THE FULFORD SHOOTING

Preliminary Trial Was Held and Several Witnesses Were Heard.

CASTET, HUFF, PELHAM HELD UNDER $5,000 BONDS

Neither of the Three Suspects Claim to Know Much About the Affair.

The preliminary trial held Wednesday night, in the city hall in New Bern, to take evidence placing responsibility for the shooting of Young Reginald Fulford, of Washington, N. C., resulted in the holding of T. F. Castet and Harry Huff, white, and Harvey Pelham, colored, in jail in default of bonds in the sum of $5,000 each.

Several witnesses were sworn for both the State and defense. Mr. R. A. Nunn appeared for the State and Mr. George T. Willis was retained by the defendants. Mr. Seth Baum friend of the injured man, was the first witness to take the stand. He was unable to say which man fired the shot, but he said it was positive it was one of the white men.

A colored transfer driver was the next witness. He testified that Harry Huff was the man with the gun. Sheriff Lane, Mr. Guy Watson, officers Wayne of the police force testified to events prior to and after the shooting.

Both Castet and Huff strongly denied shooting Mr. Fulford, stating that they were out of the car at the time.

Pelham then was called to the stand. He stated that he was with a woman at the fair, and said that she accompanied him everywhere he went on the night of the shooting, and that at the time of the shooting, he was with her.

LIEUT. NUNGESSER PREPARES TO ENTER NEWSPAPER WORK

Has Been Officially Credited With Bringing Down 31 German Planes.

Paris, Oct. 24.—Lieutenant Nungesser, second to Fonk only among the French air fighters in the number of German machines downed during the war, is shortly to make his debut in newspaper work. He has been officially credited with bringing down 31 German airplanes.

His new colleagues hope his debut will not have the same result as did the beginning of his air career. After obtaining his commission Nungesser was ordered to report at a flying field near Nancy. Arriving in sight of the field Nungesser began executing many upside down stunts, and all the acrobatics he was capable of.

At last, his superior officer ordered him sternly: "Green one, but we shall have to see you perform them before the Germans."

Nungesser asked his mechanic to fill his gasoline tank and half an hour later he was off to the German lines. Arriving over the trenches he repeated his performance, in full view of his comrades and also of the officer in charge.

"There you are," Nungesser said to the Colonel. "It is done."

"Fifteen days in the brig," or words to that effect, said the Colonel.

ONLY DELEGATES NAMED BY WILSON REMAIN TO CONFER

Industrial Conferences as First Constituted Stands Formally Adjourned.

PRES. WILSON SENDS A MESSAGE TO CONFERENCE

Course Which Delegates Will Pursue Remains Far From Clear.

Washington, Oct. 24.—Out of the National Industrial Conference, which began its sessions here thirteen days ago with representatives of labor, employers and the public in attendance, there remained tonight only the delegates appointed by President Wilson to act for the public.

Meeting today after the withdrawal late yesterday of the labor delegates, the employers and public groups heard through Secretary Lane, the conference chairman, a message from President Wilson requesting the public delegates to carry on the work for which the body was called—the establishment of a new relationship between capital and labor.

Chairman Lane, after laying the President's wishes before the two groups, declared the conference adjourned. The employers representatives after issuing a statement in which they pointed out three distinct gains from the controversy over collective bargaining dissolved as a group and dispersed to their homes.

The course, which the public delegates will pursue are far from clear tonight. After spending more than four hours in executive session the major portion of the time being devoted to discussion of various interpretations of Mr. Wilson's message, the public conferences were not in agreement as to the President's intentions, and were still undecided whether they should merely make recommendations as to the organization of a new conference, or should undertake the mission of the original body.

In official circles it was said that the latter course was the one the President had in mind and hope was expressed that the public delegates, which in reality in themselves represent all three groups, would be able to formulate a program acceptable to both capital and labor. Secretary Lane told conferees that the President would nominate further representatives, should that action be deemed advisable, and suggested that industrial experts be called in case the group decided to make extended investigations before formulating a report.

Some of the public delegates maintained that their duty was only to report what has been done up to the time labor withdrew and then await the further pleasure of the President while others insisted that they were called upon to proceed with the program outlined in the original call. Conferees who were willing to continue as a new conference objected to being considered as the "left overs" from the wreckage of the old groups. As the debate waxed acrimonious and the members showed the signs of nervous strain which they have undergone since October 6, an attempt was made to obtain a recess of two weeks, but the motion was defeated by a close vote and instead it was decided to meet again tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Peculiar Language.
Their language is neither Hebrew nor that of the country in which they live, but rather what philologists term Parsi-Tartar, or a mingling of old Persian and Tartar. From this circumstance it is inferred that their ancestors went to the Caucasus from Persia in the days of Cyrus the Great, or Darius. Perhaps they were fugitives from Persian captivity; or else they preferred going to the Caucasus rather than back to Palestine. There is indeed one ancient legend which tells that they wandered northward in quest of Mount Ararat and the remains of Noah's ark.
The patriarchal mode of life prevails among them. When a son marries he does not establish a home of his own. He simply builds a wing on his father's house and lives in it. In this fashion there are often three or four generations living in a single house, which consists of a single story spread over a large area of ground. Each house has its own allotment of land, comprising grain field, tobacco field, vegetable garden and vineyard, and all are kept in a high state of cultivation, though with primitive methods. Each garden is inclosed within a wall of rubble and clay about six feet high.
These highland Jews have no rabbis and no religious head. They have no synagogues and no liturgy. They have a scroll of the law, but it is used only for reference. They observe the Sabbath in the strictest Mosaic fashion, doing no work and cooking no food, all food requiring it being cooked on the preceding day. They keep the Passover, not by eating unleavened bread, because all their bread is always unleavened, but by eating an evening meal in common in the open air. The Feast of Tabernacles is similarly observed, and they have a special ceremony of their own at each new moon.
Girls must always be betrothed for six months before marriage, and the bridegroom, instead of receiving a dowry with his bride, must pay her father a price for her. This is usually paid for in sheep, cattle or horses, but always in eighteens or some multiple thereof. The price may be 18 sheep or 36 head of cattle, or if the bridegroom is rich it may be 72 horses, but for some reason, the origin of which is lost in antiquity, the number must always be eighteen or a multiple of eighteen. There is no religious marriage ceremony, but a civil contract is written and signed.
When a child is born it is laid upon

Ye Old-Time Telephone Girl.
"Time was, before the experts came along and, in vulgar business parlance, 'sold efficiency' to the telephone companies, when the telephone was a real convenience," John Armbruster relates in Everybody's. "The historic instance of the lady who rang up central and said: 'I am just stepping over to Mrs. Brewster's for a few minutes to get her doughnut recipe—she's Main 227—and I'll leave the receiver off so you can hear if the baby cries and let me know.' In my home town we used to ask central where the fire was and who was dead and did she think there was any mail for us."

Fire-Resisting Construction.
For fire-resisting construction, the recommendations of the American Concrete Institute specify that limestone, trap-rock and burned clay be given preference over highly siliceous gravels, which disintegrate under intense heat. When gravel is used, without a protective coating, columns should be made round instead of rectangular. When gravel, with spiral reinforcement, is used for either round or rectangular columns, it is suggested that additional protection be given by a coating of one inch of cement plaster, either on metal lath or reinforced by light expanded metal.

Among recent electric tool novelties is a portable circular saw, provided with the handle of an ordinary hand saw. The tool weighs only 12 pounds with its one-quarter horsepower motor, uses a 3-inch crosscut or rip saw, has a suitable depth gage and is provided with an aluminum base grooved to slide on a guide track when necessary. The blade is covered with a safety guard.

PRES. CARRANZA CONCEDED HONORS AS GOOD HORSEMAN

Mexico City, Oct. 23.—Correspondents accompanying President Carranza on his trip to the northern part of the republic are willing to concede him first honors as a hardy and tireless horseman despite his sixty years. The president has visited several ranches in Coahuila and Nuevo Leon, making these trips on horseback.

One correspondent tells of a forty-five mile ride across the desert, without water and through vision-obscuring dust. At the end of this strenuous ride the president clattered into the little village where he was to spend the night, yards ahead of several of his hardest military men. He apparently suffered no ill effects from the unusual exercise.

Several times the party was caught by darkness on the desert. Camp was pitched and by the light of a log fire, the chief executive of Mexico ate his supper and then rolled into his blankets for a night's rest. Inasmuch as President Carranza has scarcely been away from the national palace for a year, surprise is expressed at his endurance. It is said that the former rancher, for he was a prosperous rancher before revolution made him a president, still finds his keenest pleasures out-of-doors, and is looking forward to the time when he can return to his farm interests in Coahuila and live again the bucolic life.

FORGOT HE CHANGED HIS HAT

Aged Restaurant Patron Makes Search for Straw Toppiece, But Finds Own Derby.

Nice old gentleman in the restaurant, with a long line of hat trees running down the center. His dinner finished, he picked up his check and turned to the hat tree back of him and took down his hat, or the hat he had no doubt was his, but when from force of habit he looked inside of it to make sure he found that it wasn't his hat at all!

So he put that hat back on the tree and tried the next most likely one, but with the same result, and it was the same with all the hats on the tree, which he looked into one by one until he had looked into all excepting a black derby, which he did not inspect, for what he was looking for was a straw.

But then, to leave no stone unturned, he took down that black derby and looked into it; and, good gracious! that was the hat he was really looking for; that black derby hat he was now looking into was his very own.

He smiled as he put it on. He had changed that morning from straw to felt and then had forgotten all about it.

When you investigate a grewsome tale you will usually find that it grew some since it started.

The local leaders in every township in the county will secure their quotas on Monday, October 27, and a special effort will be made in Greenville on that day to get at least $500 toward that fund.

first proposal for settlement of their troubles," Secretary Wilson said tonight in summing up the day's conference. "They now have before them for consideration a proposition submitted by me that they go into conference with each other, without reservation, as if no demands had been made or refused, having in mind the interests of their respective groups."

"The miners are willing to do that and the operators are willing, provided the strike order is withdrawn."

TOO MUCH LOAFING.

This is a free country, and a man can do pretty much as he pleases. If he chooses to work only half the time, he and the madam for that. But when he demands full-time wages for half-time work, and the public is asked to make good the difference by an added price to the things he buys—then the matter becomes somebody else's business.

When the question of an increase in wages comes up to meet increasing prices, a good and pertinent question to ask is: "How much work do you as a wage-earner expect to do? Do you want pay for the time you loaf or the time you work?" In the long run, the general public, including the wage-earner, pays all the wages. Therefore, the general public has the right to demand that wages shall be for the time of working and not for the time of loafing.

General experience has taught that it takes about six day's work a week on the part of every worker in the world to keep things going right, and six days of full eight hours, or less, and often more when necessary. What is to be expected, then, from these folks who talk about 40 and 44 hour weeks? The laborer is worthy of his hire, but the one who pays the wage must have something in return.—Greenville Gazette.

People will invest great big money in automobiles and then run them at a rate of speed just like they did not care a fig how soon they smashed them to pieces, or even if they crippled themselves.

Some thieves who wanted sugar stole a thousand pounds of the "sweetening" out of a freight car in Lexington a few nights ago. And we would be widdling to bet that moonshine distillers made the haul.

The greatest trouble over the wage earner in these days of high prices is that he is not producing in proportion to the wage he receives. The employer could better afford to pay high wages if he got a just return for what he paid. A day of full time honest labor is hardly thought of by the average wage earner.

CIRCUS COMMENDED.

Bangor, Maine, News Says Nice Things About John Robinson's Wonderful Reputed Attraction.

John Robinson's circus will exhibit in Greenville Tuesday, October 28 and hundreds of residents from this city and vicinity will attend. They will go early, to be in time for the street parade and will attend both performances.

Concerning the show the Bangor, Maine, News has the following nice things to say: "Just a plain old fashioned circus such as your grandparents enjoyed, rejuvenated and brought down to date, made more interesting by the clean, business-like manner in which it is presented—this is the charm that held the assembled thousands who crowded the main tent of the John Robinson circus. For it is a circus that does not depend on pageants, parades

Get Ahead of the Boys

Boys are born without shoes, but with a genius for wearing them out. So the hardest thing to find is a shoe that will withstand the wear and tear of a harum-scarum boy.

There's a way to get ahead of the boy who tears away shoe leather like paper. Don't buy the cheaper kind that rip apart and wear away in no time, and say "Oh, well, he's so hard on shoes, anyway."

Let Us Do the Shoeing for Your Boy Hereafter, and We'll Reduce Your Yearly Shoe Bill.

Good shoes for a real boy have to be about the best balance of good leather and good shoe making that can be averaged in any line of shoes. They must be heavy sewed, so the parts hang together until there's not much left.

Our shoes are made of solid leather and moulded to give the feet plenty of spread for comfort, growth and development, and they wear like iron.

Come in and Let us Show you the Difference in Boys' Shoes.

SELLERS-ARNOLD.

One of the prettiest weddings of the fall season was solemnized Wednesday morning, October 22d, at 10:30 in La-Grange, N. C., when Miss Esther Old Arnold, of that place, became the bride of Mr. William A. Sellers, one of Greenville's finest young men.

The ceremony was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Arnold, and conducted by Dr. Perry Case, of Wilson, N. C. The home was profusely decorated with cut flowers, with a color scheme of green and gold. The ceremony was very simple and impressive, there being an entire absence of attendants.

While the guests assembled Mrs. R. G. L. Edwards sang "Because," Mrs. W. H. Taylor at the piano played the Bridal Chorus from "Lohengrin" for the entrance of the couple. Schubert's Serenade was rendered softly while the minister spoke the words that united the young people. As a recessional, Mrs. Taylor played Mendelssohn's wedding march.

The bride was attired in a traveling suit of midnight blue tricotine with taupe hat and accessories, and carried a shower bouquet of Bride's roses.

Immediately after receiving the congratulations of their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Sellers left for Washington and other northern cities. They will be at home to their friends after November 1st at 100 Lee street, Wilson, N. C.

A large number of friends and relatives local and out of town were in attendance, and the variety and extent of the gifts list attested the widespread popularity of the young people.

Miss Arnold is a young lady of attractive personality and unusual attainments. At one time she and her family resided in Greenville, where she was greatly admired and loved by all who knew her.

The groom is well known to the people of Greenville, although at present he is stationed in the Wilson department of the Export Tobacco Company, in which he holds an active and responsible position. He has only recently returned from army service in France. Both young people have an extensive circle of friends and are the recipients of many congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Sellers of this city, attended the wedding, Mr. Sellers being a brother of the groom.

American Cotton Association

Cotton, a human necessity, has blessed everybody who bought it, but has enslaved everybody who produced it. A Southern monopoly in production but a speculator's monopoly in profit.

The American Cotton Association will share the profit with the producer if it is backed by the South's brains and business interest.

This organization should have the support of every farmer, professional and business man, and we need it.

Cotton is selling for one dollar per pound in Italy, while the farmers of Pitt county get thirty-three cents. Cotton is short in Texas, and Fort Worth market is paying thirty-six cents for it. The textile industry and cotton factories of Poland, Bohemia, Germany, Belgium, France and Italy are idle for want of cotton to run on.

With money from other crops to pay our debts and not enough cotton to go around, let the men of the South stand together like our fathers under Washington, Lee and Jackson and our sons under Pershing and Sims, and get justice for our product.

The members of the American Cotton Association for Pitt County who guarantee a three year organization, showing its strength all over the South, are:

I Owe My Life to PE-RU-NA

Mr. McKinley's letter brings cheer to all who may be sufferers as he was. Read it:

"I can honestly say that I owe my life to Peru. After some of the best doctors in the country have me up and told me I could not live another month, Peru cured me. Travelling from town to town, throughout the country, having to go into all kinds of badly heated stores and buildings, sometimes standing up for hours at a time while plying my trade as auctioneer, it is only natural that I had colds frequently. When this would occur I paid little attention to it, until last December when I contracted a severe case, which, through neglect on my part settled on my lungs. When almost too late, I began doctoring but, without avail, until I heard of Peru. It cured me; so I cannot praise it too highly."

It Cured Me

Made with Occo-nee-chee Self-Rising Flour, biscuits, waffles and hot-cakes fairly melt in your mouth.

This flour is very easy to use because it already contains baking-powder, soda and salt in exact proportions to insure perfect baking. Occo-nee-chee is also very economical to use since the extra ingredients are already in it, because the baking-powder, soda and salt would cost more if you bought them separately.

It takes but a few seconds to mix Occo-nee-chee with water or milk and a few minutes more for baking.

RUBINOW MAKES STATEMENT CONCERNING COTTON MEETING

Raleigh, Oct. 23.—Postponement of the date for beginning the drive for members in the American Cotton Association is particularly pleasing to State Campaign Director S. C. Rubinow, who says that the additional two weeks will give him the needed time within which to complete the organization for the campaign in those counties which have so far not been reached. A number of counties have asked for speakers and are ready to arrange mass meetings, but it has been impossible to get men to these counties owing to the fact that previous engagements carried them to other counties.

Forty of the cotton counties, which grow possibly seventy-five per cent of the cotton produced in North Carolina, have already organized but even these counties will be willing to postpone their drive in order to get more time to get the facts about the cotton association more generally before the public. All of the representatives at the executive committee meeting on Tuesday expressed themselves as believing the postponement wise.

is;tihwhebnetrw cmfwy cmfwyppp

The Raleigh meeting has demonstrated more forcibly than ever the need of some man in every county who is willing to take the message of the cotton association to the people of the cotton farms, some man who, like J. B. Cannon, of Spartanburg, who went to the cotton farmers with such fine results for that South Carolina county. The experience of the workers in this campaign shows that when the cotton farmer is shown the plan of organization of the Cotton Association he readily falls in line with the plans, and is usually ready to join in the movement.

Cotton officials here for the state meeting tried to impress upon the cotton farmers that they should not be fooled into a false sense of security on account of the present increased price of cotton, and presume that this increase came about naturally or in the regular movement of the cotton market. There have been other years when the cotton crop was short and the demand for cotton goods great, but the price has never before been such that the southern farmer could raise it with a great deal of satisfaction because of low prices. That has been the trouble in the past, cotton officials point out, the price of cotton has not responded to the natural laws of supply and demand. The market has been manipulated downward soon after the cotton was ginned, and was taken out of the hands of the farmers at a low price. Then the market was boosted, and the speculators and cotton buyers got the benefit of the increase in price.

This year, through the organized efforts of the cotton association, the price has been raised before the cotton left the hands of the growers, and in this way the farmers have benefitted. This price will still further increase if the cotton farmer will heed the advice of the cotton officials, and hold for the minimum price set by the association.

This has been accomplished with the southern states very incompletely organized, and with thousands of cotton farmers not taking any interest at all in the association because they did not know about it. Once every cotton growing county is organized throughout the whole southern states, the price fixing will be in the hands of those who produce this great staple by the sweat of their brow, and by the work of their wives, mothers and children.
