MR. ALLEN WRITES FURTHER ABOUT CAROLINA STREET

Says He Understands Mr. Munford's Position in the Matter of the Street

INTERESTED IN MATTER
IN A PUBLIC WAY

Voluntarily and Willingly Offers Apologies to Mr. Munford.

I agree with Mr. Munford that the newspaper controversy should end, but just another word before the curtain falls. I want Mr. Munford to understand I have nothing personal in the matter and intended no personal reflection upon his motives, and neither do I wish to engage in a writing contest over our respective good points, shortcomings or anything else personal. I realize that we all have our faults and I would not intentionally unjustly criticize anyone. If Mr. Munford should feel aggrieved over anything I have said with reference to what he terms "personalities," I do now voluntarily and willingly offer my apologies as I have known Mr. Munford for many years and we have always been friends and I hope we shall continue our friendly relations.

I am only interested in the matter in a public way, no more or less than any other citizen should be. I thought and I still think, that it would be nothing less than a public calamity for the Imperial Tobacco Company not to be able to enlarge its factory so as to be able to take care of the increased volume of business. Until now I did not fully appreciate and understand Mr. Munford's point of view. I now understand that he is not opposed to the street being closed and the land used by the Imperial Tobacco Company for the purpose of enlarging its factory, but that he contends as a matter of legal right that he instead of the town is entitled to be compensated for its use.

If this be Mr. Munford's conscientious opinion, whether it be correct or otherwise, I am broad-minded enough to recognize his right to make claim for compensation. As to whether he or the town is entitled to the money to be paid by the Imperial Tobacco Company I am not lawyer enough to know, and I am not particularly concerned about this. This is of minor importance. The main object and what I am interested in is that the plant of the Imperial Tobacco Company enlarged so that it will be able to be on the market and stand by the farmers in the future as it has in the past so that our town and county will continue to be prosperous.

I wish to assure Mr. Munford again of my friendship and to disclaim any personal interest in the matter whatever. Since getting a full understanding of his view point, I would not accuse him of acting in a selfish manner. I am well aware that he is not a man versed in the law and like myself must rely upon advice of his attorney in matters involving legal questions. If Mr. Munford bases his contentions upon advice of his attorney and I presume he does, he is not to be censured for contending for what he believes to be right.

I appeal to all parties, others as well as Mr. Munford, to lay aside all bickerings and contentions if they have any and let us get together and harmoniously travel the road to prosperity together. However, if there must be a dispute that can not be settled amicably let it confine itself between Mr. Munford and the town of Greenville, and let the work of the Imperial Tobacco Company proceed. This is no time for injunctions and nothing not even from Mr. Munford view point, it seems to me can be gained thereby.

BILL PROHIBITING THE SALE OF LINERS GOES TO SENATE

Council for Shipping Board Appears While Hearing Was in Progress.

CONGRESS MUST GIVE PERMISSION FOR SALE

Mr. Hearst Sued Not for Personal Gain but for Public Interest.

Washington, Feb. 20.—The senate commerce committee today ordered favorably reported Chairman Jones' bill prohibiting the sale of the thirty former German passenger liners except as may hereafter be provided by congress.

While the committee hearing was in progress, counsel for the shipping board appeared before Associate Justice Ballou in the District supreme court, to urge William Randolph Hearst, on whose tax-payer petition a temporary injunction against the sale has been issued, should be placed under $5,000,000 bond to cover possible losses to the government due to the tying up of the craft by legal proceedings. They estimated the daily prospective loss at $20,000 and also pointed out that a contract to sell the Sewannee for $2,000,000 held up the injunction, expired to day.

Counsel for Mr. Hearst contended that only nominal bond should be required as shipping board officials had told congress that all bids had been rejected and no sale would be made without specific permission of congress.

Mr. Hearst sued, it was stated, not for his personal gain, but in the public interest to prevent loss to the government.

The House merchant marine committee took a hand today in the controversy over the proposed sale of the 30 former German passenger liners, when Chairman Payne of the shipping board, appeared to repeat testimony already given on the same subject before the senate commerce committee. Some of his evidence was supplementary, questions by the committee members bringing out his fact that President Wilson had formally approved the board's decision to sell the vessels, writing "action of the board approved" on a copy of the resolution referred to him.

CHINA SUFFERING IN MANY SECTIONS FROM EPIDEMIC

Many Bodies Have Been Buried in Shrouds Only; Great Shortage of Caskets

Hangtung, China, Feb. 20.—The influenza epidemic in this district has caused so many deaths that there is a shortage of caskets and their price has risen 400 per cent in recent weeks.

Because of this many bodies have been buried in shrouds only, a practice uncommon even among the poorest Chinese. Another departure that has been forced upon the people by the existing situation is that Feng Shui, or the practice of geomancy in connection with funerals by which grave sites and times of burial and other details are determined, is being ignored for the first time, for no longer can notice be taken of lucky or unlucky days for holding funerals. Whole households are being wiped out by the epidemic.

BRITISH SUBJECTS TAKE AMERICANS' PLACES IN CHINA

British Subjects to Become Managing Directors of China Companies

AFFECTS LARGE NUMBER OF BUSINESS CONCERN

Fine of $50 a Day Imposed Upon Company and Every Director Who Violates Order

Shanghai, Feb. 20.—An order in council issued by the British government in London, of which notice has been received here, requires that British subjects shall take the place of Americans as managing directors of "China Companies" operating in the Orient under British register.

This affects a large number of business concerns conducted in the far east by Americans, especially in Shanghai which is a center of American commercial activity. To them the order comes with stunning effect. Its essential part reads:

"No person other than a British subject resident within the limits of this order, shall act as managing director or in any position similar to that of managing director, or shall otherwise exercise general or substantial control of a China Company."

A fine of $50 a day is imposed upon the company and every director and manager who violates the order. Failure to comply with it will be considered as ground upon which an order for winding up the company may be made in court.

Meetings of the American Chamber of Commerce and the American Association of China were called to discuss the new order. At these letters were drafted and addressed to the British Chamber of Commerce and the British China Association. The texts of these letters were not disclosed but it was stated that British commercial interests were told that if an attempt is made to enforce the provisions of the order, the future relationship of Americans and British in the Orient will be imperilled.

It was planned also at the meetings of the American interests to send a cablegram of protest to the American State Department at Washington.

Army Re-Organization Will Contain a General Training Provision.

HOUSE MILITARY COMMITTEE NOW FAVORS TRAINING

Washington, Feb. 20.—The principle of universal military training as a part of the nation's future military policy was approved today by the House military committee by a vote of eleven to nine.

This means that the committee's army re-organization bill will contain a general training provision. Details have not yet been worked out, but it was decided that the training proposal 122.

The vote in the committee was along bi-partisan lines, three Democrats joining with eight Republicans in putting the training plan through. Four Republicans and five Democrats opposed it. Those voting for general training were: Kahn, California, Greene Vermont, Crago, Pennsylvania; Jones, Michigan, and Fuller, Massachusetts Republicans; Caldwell, New York, Olney, Massachusetts, and Fisher, Tennessee, Democrats.

Those opposing were: Anthony, Kansas; McKenzie, Illinois, Bull, Iowa, and Kearns, Ohio, Republicans, and Dent, Alabama; Fields, Kentucky, Quin, Mississippi; Wise Georgia, and Harrison, Virginia, Democrats.

DEBATE ON PEACE TREATY IN SENATE BY BOTH PARTIES

Republicans and Democrats Seeking to Wash Their hands Senate Failure

BOTH PARTIES ANXIOUS PUT BLAME ELSEWHERE

Senator Hitchcock Starts by Denying All Charges Against the Democrats

Washington, Feb. 20.—The question of party responsibility for the peace treaty deadlock was threshed over in militant fashion on the senate floor today with both the Republicans and the Democrats seeking to wash their hands of the Senate's failure to act and of any consequences in the political campaign.

Among other things, the debate brought out a direct disagreement as to which side originated the bi-partisan conference, in which five Democrats and four Republicans sought unsuccessfully to work out an agreement, and as to what transpired behind the closed doors of the conference sessions.

Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, the Democratic leader, started the flare-up, by a speech denying charges that the Democrats wanted the treaty in the campaign. He asserted that his party had gone "nine-tenths of the way to a compromise" and that the Republicans had stood solidly for acceptance of their own reservations without the dottling of an i, or the cross of a t." It was the minority side he declared, who had instigated the bi-partisan movement and who now had submitted two compromise article ten reservations which many Republican Senators believed were identified in substance with the Lodge reservation on that subject.

Senator Lenroot, of Wisconsin, one of the mild reservation Republicans, charged that the Democratic leader had stood out against compromise so determinedly that the Republicans were driven to agree upon the best compromise they could among themselves.

Senator Borah, Republican, of Idaho, speaking for the irreconcilables, declared the two sides were no nearer agreement than they were when the League of Nations debate began a year ago tomorrow, and that further discussion was only a waste of time. The treaty, he said, already was so far into the campaign that "you can no more keep it out than you can stop half way over Niagara."

105 NEW CASES INFLUENZA WERE REPORTED FRIDAY

Second Largest Number to be Reported in County Since Beginning Epidemic

Washington, Feb. 20.—Accusations that the government and Yorkshire miners were making "colossal profits" in wool were made by Mr. Mackinder, a woolen warehouse man, at a recent meeting of the central profiteering committee. He said a committee which investigated the prices of wool found that the Yorkshire spinners were making from 400 to 3,200 percent over the margin of profit allowed by the government.

Members of the profiteering committee complained that the government was wilfully withholding publication of the reports of the investigating committees. Publication of these reports was demanded in a resolution. They predicted a "howl of execration" when the public learned the facts.

LABOR NOW BEGINS ITS FIGHT ON THE THE RAILROAD BILL

Union Labor Today Had Well Under Way Its Fight in Congress.

PLAN SHOWN PROVIDES FOR FIGHT IN SENATE

If Defeated in Senate it Will be Taken Direct to President Wilson.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Union labor led by the officers of the American Federation of Labor, and the railroad brotherhoods, today had well under way its fight in congress against the adoption of the redrafted railroad reorganization bill.

Besides the memorial prepared by representatives of fifteen railroad unions and federation officers at an all-day conference yesterday and which was addressed to congress as a whole, individual congressmen were deluged to day by letters and telegrams from union leaders generally protesting against enactment of the bill into law.

The plan of the unions, it was shown provides first, for a determined fight in the House and Senate. If defeated there, the controversy will be taken direct to President Wilson in the hope of a veto.

The opposition of the unions as shown in the memorial to congress declaring the redrafted bill to be destructive of the employees' constitutional privileges and liberties, is based chiefly on the method proposed for handling wage and labor disputes.

The provision for a fixed financial return to holders of railroad securities also is attacked, the memorial holding that the provision would constitute "an abandonment of government for the common good, the establishment for private interest, special privilege and class benefit."

Principal objection to the labor arbitration clause is based on the manner in which the special arbitration boards would be constituted and the manner of their operation. Union leaders contend that the arbitration boards, including the permanent federal board of nine members, might be so composed as to eliminate labor from representation. The method proposed of adjudicating labor disputes by groups of not less than 100 employees, the leaders declared would "destroy all (Continued on page four.)

STUDENTS WHO HAVE INITIATIVE PROVE TO BE SUCCESSFUL

Some Self-Supporting Students Earn $5,000 or More in Their Four Years.

POVERTY IS NOT AN INSUPERABLE BARRIER

Inquiry Conducted at Harvard Revealed Many Facts of American School Life

Boston, Feb. 20.—A student in an American university can be successful in study, sports and social life even when compelled to support himself throughout his college career, according to the findings of an inquiry conducted at Harvard. Poverty, the investigators report, is not an insuperable barrier to students who have initiative and courage.

The inquiry showed that some self-supporting students earned $5,000 or more in their four years at the university and that it was not unusual for a student to earn $3,000, stand well in his classes and be a leader in student activities.

One man who earned the latter sum belonged to four college clubs, rowed on the varsity crew and was among the best-known men at college. Another who earned a similar amount was an officer of his class, was elected to three clubs, sang on the Glee Club, and was first marshal of Phi Beta Kappa. A student who earned his way from start to finish and was captain of the university team told the inquirers that the fact that he was self-supporting did not, so far as he knew, exclude him from any of the club life at college. In fact every man interviewed, except two, said the self-supporting student was at no disadvantage nor under any social stigma.

The opposition of the unions as shown in the memorial to congress declaring the redrafted bill to be destructive of the employees' constitutional privileges and liberties, is based chiefly on the method proposed for handling wage and labor disputes. The provision for a fixed financial return to holders of railroad securities also is attacked, the memorial holding that the provision would constitute "an abandonment of government for the common good, the establishment for private interest, special privilege and class benefit."

Some of the occupations which enabled Harvard men to pay their way were those of waiter, tutor, reporter, artist's model, bookkeeper, farm laborer, day laborer, organist, choir singer, clerk, musician in orchestra, editorial writer, librarian, social service worker, ticket taker, athletic coach, physical director, tire builder, and steward. The easiest way for a self-supporting student to earn his expenses with a minimum expenditure of time was tutoring or acting as a tutor-companion.

LEAVE TO ATTEND ASSOCIATION IN CLEVELAND, OHIO

President R. H. Wright, of the Eastern Carolina Teachers Training School, Prof. S. B. Underwood, county superintendent of schools, Prof. Swanson, of the Greenville graded schools; and Mr. L. C. Arthur, left yesterday for Cleveland, Ohio, to attend the national Educational Association. While in Ohio they will visit the rural schools and city schools, in order to study the educational system of that state, with a view of improving the rural schools of our county. Ohio has the reputation of having one of the best educational systems in the country, and the leaders of our schools expect to return with many new ideas, which added to those which they are now using, will mean much to our schools.

FIRST WOMAN ARRIVES WITH HERO SON'S BODY

New York, Feb. 20.—Mrs. A. Devera of Chicago, the first American mother to bring back from France the body of her son who died in service, arrived here today on the steamship Britannia. Her son, James Devera, who was in naval service, died of injuries received in action at sea and was buried at Marseilles. The casket, draped with an American flag, was escorted with military honors from the pier to the Pennsylvania station, to be taken to Chicago for burial. The Knights of Columbus provided a motor truck for the journey across the city after an undertaker had demanded $45 for a hearse.

SATURDAY, FEB. 21, 1920.

It is much easier to make a dollar than it is to keep it.

Those who make no pledges in advance will be more at liberty to do their own choosing between candidates.

It is quite in keeping with the Socialist idea when Hillquit says they will do a little shooting if necessary.

We do not believe Hughes coming out so strong for him has added anything to Hoover's chances of getting the presidential nomination.

Wonder what sin Curacao has committed that they want to afflict that country with the Kaiser as it is proposed to banish him there.

Marshall Field the third, who inherited $120,000,000, has taken out a million dollar life insurance policy. Can't see what he wanted with it.

Senator Sherman, of Illinois, so bitter against the man who makes the laws, said in a speech "I regard the Ford automobile as an international pest." There are fully a million users who will not agree with the senator.

London women are discussing the question that wives should spend less for clothes and their husbands should dress. Wouldn't it tickle the men folks if that idea could get a foot-hold over here?

Political leaders in Washington seem to think that North Carolina has but one candidate, Mr. Cooper, for Lieutenant governor. They will learn, however, that Pitt county has a candidate in Mr. F. C. Harding who is going to be in the counting when the primaries are held.

THE UNJUST CRITICISM OF WILSON.

That public sympathy is with Mr. Lansing is not so much due to his popularity as to the unpopularity of the President.

That the Secretary of State did not receive a fair deal is not so apparent as that Mr. Wilson's critics do not want to give him a square deal.

The unpopularity of the President has been growing ever since he endorsed the Adamson bill. During the war, men sullenly sealed their lips and had to admire, though they did not forget, since hostilities ended, the hue and cry after the President has grown steadily. He is damned for what he did and for what he did not do in France. He is assailed by radicals and by reactionaries. He is as unpopular with The New Republic as with The Review. He is condemned by capital for yielding too much to labor and by labor for deferring too much to capital.

And why? Because, with certain constitutional infirmities, he had made some mistakes, serious or trivial, in doing the largest work any American of this generation has been called upon to perform. He came into office after a revolt which had defeated at the polls but had not driven from its entrenchment a money power of sinister strength. He broke the back of that power by a fair system of taxation, an honest tariff and a decentralization of control over the wealth of the nation. He saw Europe in flames, with millions of aliens and naturalized citizens swearing America should not become belligerent. He directed the building of a tremendous war machine in less time than men had believed possible. He inspired America. He went to the peace conference knowing he would have to play with the cards stacked against him and yet he won France's endorsement of the League of Nations, prevented the division among the conquerors of the German colonies and wrote into the treaty of peace more than any other statesman had ever gained for idealism, even though that were far less than he desired of the country expected. Measure against this record the mistakes he has made, put at the fullest valuation the weaknesses of the man and the unfortunate traits of character that make it difficult for him to work with others of positive personality. The balance still in his favor—with nothing said of the sickness that struck him down—will be enough to make posterity marvel at the criticism heaped upon him.

And most will posterity marvel that in this unjust criticism—this emphasis upon the failures of the man, this quick forgetfulness of his achievements—Democrats have been almost as bitter as Republicans. Is it always to be so? Is there a fatalism in the Democratic party that makes it destroy the work of its own hands? Only three Democrats have been President of the United States since 1837 and each of the three—Buchanan, Cleveland and Wilson—was the victim of a vindictive hatred within his own party that not only destroyed him politically but for twenty years ruined all prospects of another victory.

If American Democrats are not irreconcilably of the opposition, even to themselves, it is time for all who claim to be Democrats to close their ranks and, if they will not defend their leader at least not attack. This is not said because this is a presidential year. It is not said because The News Leader happens to be published in the capital of the old Confederacy, the present Solid South. It is not said because The News Leader is blind to Mr. Wilson's admitted faults. It is said because this newspaper has had in the last six years new proof that the principles for which the Democratic party stands are the principles by which the progress of the world is to be determined. To deny

Mr. Wilson the honors due him for his great services is contemptible, but, in assailing Mr. Wilson to destroy the faith of the people in the Democratic party, is more than contemptible. It is criminal. It is to imperial America and to encourage radicalism by delivering the country into the hands of a party whose record is one of long subservience to the interests of the few and of long contempt for the welfare of the many.—Richmond News Leader.

TASKS OF RECONSTRUCTING EUROPE SEEMS APPALING

London, Feb. 19.—The vastness of the task of reconstructing continental Europe seems appalling to the Saturday Review.

"We are about to witness," it says, "the spectacle of Central and Eastern Europe being handed over to some twenty-four international mixed bodies called commissions. As each commission has on an average seven members, with an attendant army of clerks and secretaries, the reign of the official is likely to be expensive and prolonged. Under the treaty of Versailles the following 24 commissions must be appointed forthwith:

"To determine the new frontier between Germany and Belgium, trace the frontiers of the Saar Basin, govern the Saar Basin, apportion the stock in the central Rhine, delimit the frontiers of Czechoslovakia, determine the boundaries between Germany and Poland, superintend the evacuation of Upper Silesia and take over its government, take over East Prussia, after evacuation, administer the plebiscite area of Stuhm, Rosenburg and Marienburg, for the delimitation of the free city of Danzig, take the plebiscite of Sleswig, determine the boundaries of Sleswig, reduce the German army, the Naval commission, the air force commission, repatriation commission, clearance of debts commission, insurance commission, Elbe commission for the navigation and management, Oder commission, Niemen commission, Danube commission, and the reparation commission."

BRITISH EXPEDITION TO USE A KANGAROO AIRPLANE

London, Feb. 19.—The British Expedition to the South Pole, which plans to start in July next, will use a "Kangaroo" airplane, formerly a fighting machine, for the final stage of the journey. This plane will be fitted with skis instead of wheels to enable it to land in the snow.

The aircraft will make its actual start from the Great Barrier, and will proceed to the South Pole over the great glacier, and then across known but unnamed mountains.

It is proposed to take a crew of not than four, in addition to which a sledge containing a tent, shovels cooking stove and campfire equipment and provisions for at least 10 weeks must be carried.

These provisions and the sledge necessary in the event of an accident, which might compel the party to return to the base on foot, will weigh approximately 750 pounds.

This weight, together with the necessary fuel for a 1.5-mile flight, necessitates a big powerful machine, as the mountains to be flown over are over 12,000 feet above sea level.

The "Kangaroo" was one of the latest fighting bombers designed for the British Air Ministry, and at the time of the armistice was largely used on the anti-submarine patrol service. The machine is a biplane measuring 75 feet from wing-tip to wing-tip, and is fitted with twin engines developing 550 horsepower.

BRAZILIAN CONGRESS TO TAKE UP TARIFF REFORM BILL

Rio De Janeiro, Feb. 10.—The Brazilian National Congress which will assemble on May 3, will take up the tariff reform bill in the passage of which is strongly favored by President Pessoa's administration. This measure which provides for a decided downward revision of import duties on many articles consumed by the mass of people, was introduced late in the recent session of congress but encountered strong opposition from protectionists and was not enacted.

A special commission of the Chamber of Deputies will remain in session until congress meets to study the question and to receive suggestions or helpful information from the state governors and the various commercial, industrial and agricultural societies of foreigners.

One of the last acts of the recent congress was to vote favorably on the proposal to maintain the 20 percent preferential reciprocal tariff on certain goods manufactured or produced in the United States.

Among other important measures approved during the session was one which gives the government extraordinary powers in dealing with anarchists and other agitators. Many of these radicals have been deported during the past few months, and the government, through the federal police, is continuing its campaign against the agitators, practically all of whom are foreigners.

A department called "Comissariado da Alimentação" has been created and given power to control the outgoing and incoming of food stuffs and control prices.

The body will arrive over the Norfolk Southern this afternoon, accompanied by her two sisters Mrs. Jenkins, of Salisbury, and Mrs. Cone of Washington, both of whom will be registered at the Proctor.

THE APARTMENT BUILDING.

Announcement was made in yesterday's Daily News of the proposed erection of an apartment building in Washington, containing twenty-four apartments. The People's Building Company of this city is planning to erect a building of this kind. They are doing so with the underlying purpose of relieving the shortage of houses in Washington, rather than for the purpose of making any big financial success. In fact, the returns in rental from such a building as it is proposed to put up will be what might be termed "very conservative." It is to be hoped that this project will not be permitted to fall through and that the building will be ready for occupancy before the end of the year.—Wash. Daily News.

GOOD MUSIC FOR GREENVILLE

It has been a good while since Greenville had a musical feast, but one is in store for music-lovers on next Tuesday night. The time for this next number of the Lyceum Course is opportune; the "flu" situation is improving, people who have been wary of crowds are daring to venture out again, and those who love music are hungry for a good concert. They will not be disappointed, when they hear the Louise Stallings Concert Company at the High School on Tuesday night, February 24, at 8:30 P. M. The company consists of Louise Stallings, a lyric mezzo-soprano singer, a cellist and a pianist, a combination which draws a large audience and wins their approval.

Those not holding season tickets may purchase reserved seats for this concert at Key Brown's Drug Store, or at the High School on Tuesday night for $1.00.

MRS. ALBION DUPREE DIES

FROM INFLUENZA-PNEUMONIA

A telegram was received this morning by Mrs. B. Hyman announcing the death of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Alvin Dupree, who is living in Little Rock, Ark. She had been ill with influenza-pneumonia for several days, and from the beginning of her illness was pronounced in a serious condition, but news reached here the first of the week which stated that she was better and that she would probably recover.

Mrs. Dupree, nee Miss Mary Whitaker, was a native of Nash county, but several years ago she came here to accept a position as music teacher in the Greenville graded schools. While here she was married to Mr. Alvin Dupree, of this city. While here she made friends with everyone with whom she came in contact, and people throughout the state will be grieved to learn of her death. The remains will be brought to Rocky Mount. She is survived by her husband, several brothers and one sister, Miss Grace Whitaker, of this city.

CONSTIPATION

And Sour Stomach Caused This Lady Much Suffering. Black-Draught Relieved.

Meadows, Ky.—Mrs. Pearl Parrott, of this place, writes: "I was very constipated. I had sour stomach and was so uncomfortable. I went to the doctor. He gave me some pills. They weakened me and seemed to tear up my digestion. They would gripe me and afterwards it seemed I was more constipated than before."

I heard of Black-Draught and decided to try it. I found it just what I needed. It was an easy laxative, and not bad to swallow. My digestion soon improved. I got well of the sour stomach, my bowels soon seemed normal, no more griping, and I would take a dose now and then, and was in good shape.

I cannot say too much for Black-Draught for it is the finest laxative one can use."

Thedford's Black-Draught has for many years been found of great value in the treatment of stomach, liver and bowel troubles. Easy to take, gentle and reliable in its action, leaving no bad after-effects, it has won the praise of thousands of people who have used it.

AN OLD CONFEDERATE SOLDIER 77 YEARS OF AGE VICTOR, AFTER 35 YEARS OF WAR

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

I am an old Confederate Soldier seventy-seven years old. Have suffered with Rupture for thirty-five years. Wore a truss most of this time. Could find nothing else to do until I heard of Dr. Dunn of New Bern, and his wonderful treatment. I decided to try his treatment, and to the astonishment of all, the treatment seems to be a success. I carried out his instructions to the letter, and when I put off the truss I began to feel like a different man. I really believe I am perfectly cured. It is wonderful.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT.

Mr. J. L. Cannon, while attempting to turn his automobile from Washington street into Eighth street, today, lost control of his car and ran into the porch of Mr. W. H. Smith. The banisters around the porch and the side of the house were badly damaged with a small damage and injury to the car and driver. The street had been roped off and Mr. Cannon did not see the rope until it was too late to avoid the accident.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 19.—Mirris Hillquit, Socialist leader, today predicted that control of the United States government would pass peacefully into the hands of the Socialist party when it enrolls the working class. He issued a warning, however, that "it is not impossible the people of this country will be compelled to supplement their political action with a little shooting, if the profiteering class revolts after the majority of the people are ready to introduce "substantial reforms by legal constitutional methods."

Testifying before the assembly judiciary committee at the investigation of the five suspended Socialist assemblymen charged with disloyalty, Mr. Hillquit denied that the Socialist party intended to promote its program by other than "legislative action, parliamentary action and in a peaceful way."

Messrs. Geel straHW mb mmb mbbbb

But, while he asserted the party was not plotting bloody revolution to achieve its aim, Mr. Hillquit declared history has shown that "when the privileged minority is about to lose its privileges, it becomes desperate and tries to destroy reform or lawful revolutionary movements by force."

"In that case it will be up to the majority of the people to defend their rights against such lawless, powerful, privileged minorities and in a case of that kind it may come to shooting," he said.

Mr. Hillquit made his "prophecy" toward the close of his cross-examination.

tion by Martin Conboy, of committee counsel, who quoted Victory L. Berger as saying Socialist and workers must be "prepared to back up their ballots with their bullets."

Mr. Hillquit, who extolled Berger, interpreted that a smearing to defend themselves after they had come into power through the ballot.

Mr. Hillquit also eulogized Eugene V. Debs, serving sentence for violation of the espionage act, and asserted that if he had his way Debs would become the Socialist candidate for President.

After Mr. Hillquit had left the stand he was succeeded by Otto Branstetter, national secretary of the Socialist party, who testified that, exclusive of the foreign-speaking branches, only one percent of the dues paying members of the party are aliens and seventy-one percent are American-born. He was called to refute charges that the party was dominated by aliens, who controlled members elected to public office through resignations filed with party organizations on receiving nominations. He testified that the "resignation clause" was no longer in the national party constitution ad was a dead letter.
