REPUBLICANS PLAN TO GET TOGETHER ON PEACE TREATY

Declaration Proposal at Standstill While Leaders Hold Meetings.

AGREEMENT EXPECTED WITHIN SHORT PERIOD

Decision Would Have House Act on Resolution Before Senate Members.

Washington, March 24.—With plans for a peace declaration at a standstill in the Senate, Republican leaders of the House conferred today on means of hastening action on the declaratory resolution at their end of the Capitol.

There was no final decision on the form of the resolution or the time of its presentation, but it was said an agreement probably would be reached within a few days. Several suggested drafts are under consideration, all of them following in some respects the Knox resolution, which has been approved by the Senate foreign relations committee.

Various constitutional points have been raised, all of which the leaders want to meet in the draft which they finally will lay before the House. It is expected that the resolution will be put into form in the foreign affairs committee, and then will be brought up on the House floor under a special rule to expedite its adoption.

Several causes are understood to have contributed to the decision that the House should act before the Senate, one being the absence of so many Senators that mustering a quorum would be difficult. Besides, there are so many conflicting opinions among Republican Senators as to what the resolution should contain that it was suggested the House try its hand and give the Republican Senate leaders something substantial to work with when Senate consideration does begin.

Speaker Gillett and Republican Leader Mondell of the House held a long conference with Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, the Republican Senate leader, before the plans for House action were inaugurated, and it was said a general understanding was reached as to procedure. While the House is at work the Senate leaders will continue informal conferences on the subject, but no move on the senate floor is expected until the latter part of next week at the earliest.

A new element was injected into the question today by Senator Thomas, Democrat, Colorado, who declared in a Senate speech that if President Wilson vetoed a peace declaration, as many Senators believe he will, Congress would have no authority to pass it over the veto. He argued that as the President's concurrence is required to declare war, it also would be requisite to a peace declaration regardless of how many times or by what majorities the declaratory resolution might pass the two houses of congress.

GERMANY REACHES FINAL DECISION WITH WORKMEN

Paris, March 25.—The German government has reached definite agreement with the Rhine valley workmen where hostilities have been in progress, according to news reaching semi-officials here. Workmen's army has been formed, the cabinet is to be reorganized, with labor represented, mines are to be socialized, counter-revolutionary formations will be dissolved and food supply systems improved.

KENTUCKY CAPITALISTS SON STILL IN HANDS KIDNAPPER

Lexington, Ky., March 25.—Although E. R. Little, Tiddington capitalist, has announced that $25,000 ransom demanded will be paid, his seven year old son Paul still remains a captive of the kidnapper who lured him away yesterday. The lad's playmate said the kidnapper coaxed the boy away with promise of a dollar to buy candy. A note was delivered to boy's home later demanding ransom.

COBB CHILDREN TO BE GIVEN HEARING IN SUPERIOR COURT

Parents Appeal from Juvenile Court to Superior Court For Decision.

MOTHER STILL CONTENDS SHE WANTS EVERY CHILD

Mrs. Williams of Baltimore Still Maintains Statements Made Here December

As to what disposition will be made of the four Cobb children who, some time ago were turned over for disposition to juvenile court of this city by superior court officials, is a matter of much speculation here today, as the recent decision of Judge Frank Harrington in juvenile court has been appealed to this term of superior court and will probably come up for consideration before Judge Connor today or tomorrow.

The ruling of juvenile court came about following careful investigation into circumstances connected with the case from its early stages, and provided that the girl should be turned over to her mother, Mrs. William Williams of Baltimore, whose desire to see the children in her possession precipitated the long controversy last December when she secretly entered the community in which her former husband, Joseph Cobb, resided, and carried the children to her home in Baltimore. The three boys, according to decision of Judge Harrington, were to be placed in school by Mr. Cobb with expenses being defraged and proper remuneration provided for future schooling.

Mrs. Williams, after appealing the case from juvenile court, reiterated former statements concerning the future of her children, intimating that she would like to have all four of them (Continued on page six.)

SAYS BATTLE FOR PROHIBITION STILL OF VITAL INTEREST

Chairman Hinshaw Declares That Prohibition Is Not Fully Established

PROHIBITION PARTY MAY NOMINATE A CANDIDATE

Considerable Speculation as to Course to be Taken in Campaign.

Chicago, March 25.—Whether the prohibition party will nominate a candidate for the presidency and take an active part in the coming presidential campaign depends upon the attitude of the major parties toward the strict enforcement of prohibition, says Virgil G. Hinshaw, of this city, chairman of the party.

There has been considerable speculation among political observers as to whether the prohibition party would or would not continue its political activity now that prohibition has become a constitutional enactment. Questions have been asked whether the prohibition party leaders would feel that the party's object had been attained and the time at hand when prohibitionists might return to or become affiliated with one or the other of the major parties.

Chairman Hinshaw believes the battle is not over; that the fight for enforcement of prohibition is still to be won.

"Our organization," he declares, "will continue as long as the alcoholic serpent continues to wiggle its tail." Concerning the party's attitude in the presidential campaign, Mr. Hinshaw said its policies to be enunciated in its national convention at Lincoln, Neb., July 12, would depend entirely upon the action taken at the conventions of

STATE COLLEGE TO ERECT MONUMENT HONORING SOLDIER

Plans Formed for Erecting Memorial to College Men Who Died in Service.

Raleigh, March 25.—The memorial committee of the General Alumni Association of State College met in Raleigh on the 22nd to consider the numerous forms of memorials which have been proposed as a lasting tribute to the thirty-three former students who gave their lives in the World War. After a careful survey and a thorough discussion of the various type proposed, the committee unanimously decided to undertake to raise $30,000 and erect a tower and chimes on the college campus.

The tower will probably be about ninety feet high and will cost in the neighborhood of $10,000, the clock $2,400; and the chimes $16,500. Unforeseen expense will doubtless run the cost up to $30,000.

The tower design is of course still to be worked out. The committee had brought the piece here not long before Christmastime. It is by no means a brilliant array of artists but everybody works with plenty of conscientiousness and dash and while the open night's audience was not so large it evidenced appreciation hearty enough to show that the players were adequately getting the play's points across.

Ruth Gates makes "Mabel" as ultrawise and harmlessly alluring as is necessary and is always pleasant to look at whether in a party frock or pajamas. Helen Carew does some exceptionally sincere and enjoyable acting as "Mrs. Jimmie Larchmont" and John A. Regan puts personality and talent into his portrayal of the husband with a record almost too sportive. —Atlanta Journal.

It is the purpose of the committee to renew the campaign for funds and it is believed that many who have not given will now give liberally for the memorial. So far a little over $7,000 have been subscribed.

ONLY TWO SUITS IN SESSION OF COURT DURING YESTERDAY

Practically the Entire Session Consumed in Hearing Long Controversies.

MISTRIAL ORDERED IN CASE AGAINST C. S. ELKS

Decision in Case of Wingate vs. Wingate Continued Until Session Today.

Although only two cases were disposed of in yesterday's session of civil court, the day was a busy one just the same, and officials were well entertained by lengthy arguments in case of Henry Moore vs. C. S. Elks and J. O. Wingate vs. J. A. Wingate, both actions containing a number of legal technicalities that required some little time in finally bringing to a point leading to clarify each issue under consideration.

In the case against S. C. Elks a mistrial was ordered and jury withdrawn on account of failure to produce evidence necessary to bring the case to a decided conclusion. From evidence produced in the trial, it seems that the plaintiff entered suit on account of the defendant failing to deliver a certain amount of bright leaf tobacco which had been contracted for earlier in the season, resulting in the loss of about $450. The defense claimed that when it was offered his tobacco to Mr. Moore it was not accepted until prices had decreased, and that he too suffered loss through the transaction. Evidence on both sides did not justify favorable action and mistrial was ordered.

Decision was not rendered at the noon recess today in the case of J. O. Wingate vs. J. A. Wingate, involving dispute over an account, but it is expected the matter will be concluded sometime this evening. Evidence so far in the case shows the plaintiff en-

IN MABEL'S ROOM TO BE PRESENTED IN CITY APRIL 7TH

Popular Attraction to Appear at White's Theatre for One Night Only.

The program describes "Up in Mabel's Room," back at the Atlanta for three-day return engagement which began Thursday night, as a frivolous fave of feminine follies. Without loss of alliteration or allusion it could be dubbed a mischievous mélange of masculine miscues, and, at that, might come closer to suggesting its appeal to the sophisticated and the near-sophisticated of both sexes.

Wilson Collier and Otto Harbach, the collaborating authors, made their three-act Broadway success about as naughty as American footlight humor ever gets to be. But it can't be said that naughtiness is introduced for its own sake. Its injection always means a new laugh and another snarl in the skein of artificially created tangles that ensnare every one of the ten characters before the last curtain falls.

The company is the same that brought the piece here not long before Christmastime. It is by no means a brilliant array of artists but everybody works with plenty of conscientiousness and dash and while the open night's audience was not so large it evidenced appreciation hearty enough to show that the players were adequately getting the play's points across.

Ruth Gates makes "Mabel" as ultrawise and harmlessly alluring as is necessary and is always pleasant to look at whether in a party frock or pajamas. Helen Carew does some exceptionally sincere and enjoyable acting as "Mrs. Jimmie Larchmont" and John A. Regan puts personality and talent into his portrayal of the husband with a record almost too sportive. —Atlanta Journal.

Up in Mabel's Room will appear at White's Theatre April 7th.

PLANS PERFECTED FOR ORGANIZATION LOCAL BALL CLUB

Committee for Soliciting Funds Appointed at Meeting Here Last Night.

INDEPENDENT CLUB WILL PROBABLY BE DECIDED ON

Formation of League Team has Not Yet Been Made Fully Possible.

The meeting of baseball enthusiasts conducted in the chamber of commerce rooms in this city last night terminated with mighty good prospects of Greenville having a strong aggregation this season, as action was taken to either form a league with surrounding cities about the size of this place or to organize an independent team and play any club in this section of the country feeling able to put it over on the boys.

The idea of forming a league among principal cities in this part of the state was advanced sometime ago when enthusiasts here invited several towns to join them in effecting the organization, but for some unknown reason several places failed to accept the proposal and only Tarboro and Washington decided to become members of the league. Other places evinced only slight interest, probably liking the idea of independent aggregation supported principally by home folks.

At the meeting last night it was decided that all hope of having league ball would not be abandoned, and efforts will be made to get some other city sufficiently interested to join Greenville, Tarboro and Washington, in a four team league and arrange a schedule suitable for each locality. Some thought this would be possible within the next several days, but in order to be sure of having baseball here this summer preliminary plans (Continued on page six.)

Old Major Spotswood Confederate Veteran by Joe Norman, the Admiral by Lee King and the part of Dorothy by Miss Margaret Tucker are in good hands and a splendid showing will be made by the girl's glee club in special numbers.

Mary Overton, Frances Smith and Corinne Tucker with the young misses of the seventh grade open the show with the "Children of the U. S. A." and James Moye follows with "Big Chief Battle Axe" in costume. The show will be tomorrow night at the school auditorium for the benefit of the Boy Scouts.

UNITED STATES TO ADHERE TO INITIAL NOTE SENT ALLIES

Original Position maintained as to Extradition of Turk From Europe.

NO SOUND REASONS FOR TURK CAPITOL IN EUROPE

Communication Restates Views Expressed in Note Several Days Ago.

Washington, March 24.—The original position of the American government that the Turks should be expelled from Europe is restated in a note to the allied supreme council which has been prepared at the state department and which will be transmitted soon. The note will bear the signature of Bainbridge Colby, the new secretary of state, and will be the first diplomatic paper to be signed by him.

The communication is in reply to an inquiry from the French and British governments as to this country's views on the Turkish settlement. An early announcement at the department said the note had been dispatched but it developed that this was erroneous. Officials were not certain when it would go forward nor would they say whether it would be sent through the British and French embassies here or through the American embassies at London and Paris.

The position of the American government is understood to be that there is no sound reason for retaining the Turkish capital in Europe. The United States is said to take the view that the contention that expulsion of the Turks might be resented by the Mohammedans, is not supported by the facts since the war in the near east was won largely by the aid of Mohammedans.

The United States, it is understood, desires that Armenia be set up as an independent state, and that it embrace as much territory as the Armenian government can control. It also takes the position that any arrangement that is made with regard to Turkey should guarantee to all nations equal opportunities for commerce and that no belligerent should be given paramount claims in any part of the near east.

The position of the United States, it is said, also is that in any arrangement for the government of Constantinople and the Turkish states a place for the participation of Russia should be made as the American government is convinced that no plan of settlement can be successful in the long run which does not take into account the interests of Russia in the matter.

GREAT BRITAIN TO CLAIM DAMAGE FOR SHIP RETENTION

Washington, March 25.—Great Britain is considering presenting a claim to the United States for losses caused by retention of former German ships after completion of United States' services in which they were engaged. Consul General Skinner at London reported to the department of commerce.

TROOPS GUARD STREETS IN MANY PARTS OF CORK

Cork, March 24.—More troops have been sent here and empty houses at strategic points are occupied by military forces. Sinn Fein organizations is maintaining secret watch and guards to protect its leader. Troops with machine guns were stationed in various points of the city last night and armored cars were frequent.

SEVERAL HUNDRED MINERS SEARCHING FOR DETECTIVES

Middlesboro, Ky., March 23.—Several hundred armed miners are reported searching for private detectives who are alleged to have started a fight at Walling Creek Saturday, in which three persons were killed and several wounded. The fight was the outgrowth of ill feeling because of importation of detectives at the Kentucky steam coal mines were on strike over pay. Excitement extends throughout Harlan county.

COBB CHILDREN TO BE GIVEN HEARING IN SUPERIOR COURT

(Continued from page one.) in her possession so they could be provided for from a mother's way of thinking. She has remained firm and resolute in this decision since her arrest in Baltimore and subsequent trial for abduction in this city.

Mr. Cobb also is desirous of keeping the children in his possession, but he disagreed with juvenile court officials that the three boys ought to be placed in school, with remuneration, and also favored appealing to superior court for final decision. Claims of the mother that the children were not surrounded by proper environment have been fully investigated by the county probation officer, and after ruling of the court suggested that sufficient evidence was found to justify school life.

There is not the slightest idea entertained as to what action Judge Conner will take in the matter, but it is believed that with evidence which was gathered during the recent investigation an immediate decision will be possible, and probably final. The case may come up for hearing today, but there is strong probability of it being delayed until tomorrow's session owing to compromise proposals preceding it.

SUited suit for an account amounting to $183 owed him by the defendant for building stables on his place. Several payments were made while the building was being erected, the defense contended, saying that the account had been paid by the time the stables were completed. Evidence on both sides had been completely exhausted this morning, and it is expected the case will be completed in the afternoon at the latest.

There are only a few more cases on the docket for this term of court, including a number of compromises likely to be presented, and it is believed the session will be brought to a conclusion sometime tomorrow morning or during the evening. A great number of actions have been cleared from the calendar, and only a very few have continued until next session.

PLANS PERFECTED FOR ORGANIZATION LOCAL BALL CLUB

(Continued from page one.) were arranged for an independent club to be composed of several local players with any outside material necessary. A committee was appointed to solicit funds for the independent club, and was also instructed to purchase equipment. This committee will meet in the chamber of commerce rooms tonight to perfect plans for the soliciting campaign and also to get everything in line for quick action in the case another town cannot be secured to join in the proposed league. People interested in baseball should give liberally in order to make an independent organization fully capable of handling any team in this part of the state.

Information will be given out from time to time as developments take place, and whether Greenville is in a league or not, the time is not long off when lovers of the national sport will have the pleasure of sitting in the bleachers hot but favorite position, watching locals take laurel by laurel from opponents.

"If the major parties fail to come out unequivocally for strict enforcement of existing dry laws we will certainly run a prohibition candidate for president," said Mr. Hinshaw.

"Of course, it is up to the convention whether we will or will not run on anyway. But if the major parties fail to enforce not only the 18th amendment but existing prohibition laws as well, I believe there will be break-ups that will bring many of their voters and their big men to our side."

As to the party's probable action concerning lesser candidates, it is said that it "will seek the election of representative in congress, governors, members of legislatures and others who are charged with the enforcement of the dry law."

Ernest H. Cherrington, of Westerville, Ohio, declared that the Anti-Saloon League, of which he is secretary, will work to defeat candidates who are avowedly opposed to prohibition enforcement.

LABOR LEADERS HOLD SALVATION ARMY IN HIGH REGARD

Atlanta, Ga., March 25.—Convincing evidence of the high regard in which the Salvation Army is held by labor in the United States is found in two letters received at the local Salvation Army headquarters from nationally known labor leaders.

One of the letters is from Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, and the other is from James H. Haarer of Harrisburg, Pa., president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor. Both heartily endorse the work of the Salvation Army and the campaign for funds to carry on this work which is set for May 10 to 20.

President Gompers, in his letter, says in part:

"From doughnuts to the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man the Salvation Army's work, both over there during the war and here during the times of peace, seems to approach the welfare of mankind here and now rather than deal altogether with the sweet by and bye."

"This work among those burdened down under the crushing weight and pain of misfortune and sickness is just simply service without pretense—just good practical service to mankind. In my judgment the Salvation Army deserves every encouragement for the service they have rendered and are rendering."

President Haarer says in part:

"Every sincere person must feel that any organization which can manage its business so well and render such devoted service to humanity as the Salvation Army rendered during the war, upon the comparatively small sum of money they were permitted to use, merits confidence and support. I suppose no one will ever know on this earth the magnitude of the service rendered or the vast number of poor folk who have been lifted out of the gutter and placed on their feet again."

"The Salvation Army merits our approbation and support. It is always ready to help the under dog and I am for it."

DO MEN WANT WIVES WHO CAN MAKE DOLLARS AND DOUGHNUTS

The statement was made recently at one of our educational conventions that "men nowadays want wives who can make dollars as well as doughnuts".

That must have given a terrible shock to any Darbys or Joans who might have been present, and, of course the statement did not get by without a protest from one mere man that "if women continue to go into employment we will have to get somebody to make homes."

The Federal Board for Vocational Education, one of Uncle Sam's agencies concerned with the boy and girl problem, is of the opinion however that the modern woman, to be the perfect woman, should be able to do both. Realizing the important part the home plays in the economic welfare of the Nation and, in order to maintain the high standard of efficiency for industry, the Board in 1919 Federally aided 598 schools teaching home economics and 475 schools teaching trades and industries.

It is estimated that, in 1919, there were 11,000,000 women and girls wage earners, and an industrial survey of New York City disclosed that four out of every five girls had dependents and were forced into the field of industry port shows that 47 per cent of the entire female population of the United States are, or have been, married; that one out of every four women was a wage earner; and one out of every four wage earners is a married woman.

In its Third Annual Report, the Federal Board for Vocational Education states that there are more persons engaged in home making than any other single occupation; that there were about 25,000,000 women of twenty or more years of age in the United States in 1910 of whom 80 per cent were married, and assumes that it is but fair to say that as large a portion of the girls under twenty years of age will eventually marry.

From the above it would seem that man need not fear the entrance of woman in industry for, by tradition and instinct, home making is woman's exclusive job and her influence will always be found for the betterment of society, protection of human life, and for the happiness and welfare of man kind.

THURSDAY, MAR. 25, 1920.

to forsake the path of righteousness in action.

If clothes go much higher in price only the stars can wear them.

We long for the day when the dollar will regain its lost prestige.

The naval appropriation has passed the house without a roll call and now goes to the senate where it will have a long rest.

Discussing peace treaties soon will be a tradition with the senate unless President Wilson pulls off other precedents.

If the daylight saving law should go into effect this year, probably the senate may be able to see its way out of present troubles.

The government will abandon control of coal prices beginning April 1st, late reports indicate, so we may be prepared for almost anything.

Charles Evans Hughes is beginning to oppose woman suffrage, and in doing so, he is breaking the last link binding him to anticipated presidential honors.

The price of automobiles may go high as it likes just so food remains normal, for in the latter we are interested, but in the former we can't afford to be.

It is futile now to argue about woman suffrage, for a majority of the ladies want to vote, and they are going to do it or cause many a poor man to forsake the path righteousness.

Senator Newberry, who was recently given two years in Leavenworth for conspiracy, will continue as a member of the senate in order to give the republicans more complete control, according to latest information of developments in the senate chamber. The senator almost completely ignores sentence of supreme court imposed upon him, but the most defiant attitude cannot prevent justice from having its way even with the greatest of them.

Congressman Flood says he is going to introduce a resolution requesting President Wilson to rewrite the peace treaty, and also to incorporate certain resolutions providing for an immediate declaration of peace in this country. The idea sounds mighty good, but by the time the new treaty is written the senate would surely stir up strife again by proposing other reservations.

Information presented to the senate investigating committee by Senator Glass and General Tasker Bliss appears to have turned the tables in Admiral Sims' effort to belittle the navy, and goes to show that the navy department may easily do without the services of the egoist who one time held an enviable rank in naval circles. Talking too much generally get a fellow in deep water, even though he may have the most infallible information, and Admiral Sims' experience is no exception in any way.

NATURE MAKING GARDEN.

Winter snows and hard freezing weather, reported in many parts of the United States this winter, are the best agencies for getting garden soils in condition, according to United States department of agriculture specialists. Soil is nothing more nor less than finely divided rock with decayed vegetable matter mixed with it. Every time the water freezes in the crevice of a rock it makes the opening a little wider until finally the rock is split into fragments; more water gets into the openings in these fragments and freezes, and so the work of reduction goes on forever. Every time the ground freezes new soil is formed, but this new soil is in need of manure or decaying vegetable matter before it will hold water in minute quantities and be in condition to produce crops.

Every time the soil is stirred in cultivating, the particles are ground together, and they rub or break off still finer particles. If the soil is too wet when it is worked, the particles will become cemented together and there will be clods or lumpy soil. The little hairlike roots of plants develop in the spaces between the particles of soil and along with it food materials that are essential to the growth of the plant.

ARGENTINE NAMES DELEGATES TO UNITED STATES.

Announcement is made by the National Foreign Trade Council of No. 1 Hanover Square, New York, of the appointment of delegates to represent the United States Chamber of Commerce in the Argentine Republic at the Seventh National Foreign Trade Convention, which will be held at San Francisco, May 12-15th.

The Argentine delegation includes C. W. Whittemore, who is president of the United States Chamber of Commerce at Buenos Aires; H. E. Watkins, Burroughs Adding Machine Co., L. E. Arthur H. Titus, who is vice-president McCauley, Armour & Co., and also of the National City Bank, New York City.

"There are altogether, some seventeen Chambers of Commerce of the United States in foreign countries, who will be directly or indirectly represented at San Francisco," said Secretary O. K. Davis, of the National Foreign Trade Council. "These delegates will be appointed in addition to the trade representatives from the various thirty nations bordering on the Pacific Ocean, and will go to make up an exceptionally strong representation of American interests abroad. The Council has also just received word that delegates will be present from Honduras, Panama and Costa Rica."

South American delegates to the San Francisco conference are expected to come on the steamship, "The City of Para," which will leave Balboa, Panama, April 7th, touching at ports in Costa Rica, Nicaragua, Honduras, Salvador and Guatemala, leaving Manzanillo, Mexico, April 25th; Mazatlan, Mexico, April 27th, and arriving at San Francisco on May 3rd. The whole capacity of this boat is available for delegates from Latin-America.
