REPORT FAVORING IMMEDIATE PEACE IS BEFORE HOUSE

Special Ruling Accompanied Report for Nine Hour Debate Thursday.

MINORITY FINDINGS TO BE PRESENTED TODAY Democrats Will Probably Present Solid Front Against Resolution.

Washington, D. C., April 6.—The majority report of the House committee on foreign relations, recommending adoption of the resolution declaring the state of war with Germany at an end, was introduced today by Chairman Porter, accompanied by a special rule providing for nine hours of debate under which it will be taken up in the house Thursday. The minority report prepared by Representative Flood of Virginia, ranking Democratic member of the committee, will be introduced tomorrow.

There was some debate in the house today on the peace matter, during which it was indicated that the Democrats would vote almost solidly against the resolution. Representative Venable, Democrat, Mississippi, attacked the constitutional power of congress to take such action, characterizing it as an attempted usurpation of the treaty-making functions, while Representative Mondell, Republican leader, asserted that as congress had the power to create a condition of war, it had the power to end it.

The majority report recited a number of authorities on international law to support the committee's contention that there were three methods of terminating belligerent status by treaty, by conquest and subjugation of one combatant or "by the mere cessation of hostilities so long continued that it was evident that there is no intention of resuming them."

It has become "the plain duty of congress" to declare "the admitted fact" that the war with Germany was ended, the report said. "There has been," it continues, "a complete suspension of hostilities on both sides without any intention of resuming them. Congress is clearly exercising powers which are within the constitutional rights in recognizing and declaring that the war is at an end. As by the resolution of April 6, 1917, congress officially recognized the fact that war had been thrust upon us, so now it becomes the duty of congress to give official recognition to the fact that the war is ended. Moreover, the general welfare of the United States imperatively demands that all uncertainty upon this subject shall cease, and that the extraordinary war powers of the government shall be vacated and set aside."

DEMOCRATS GATHER IN RALEIGH FOR CONVENTION

Raleigh, April 7.—Democrats are gathering here today to attend the State Democratic convention which meets tomorrow. Congressman Hoy, temporary chairman who will deliver one of the keynote speeches at the convention is among the early arrivals. Indications are that woman suffrage will furnish the principal feature of the convention. Senator Simmons' statement in Washington last night favoring the ratification by the legislature of the suffrage amendment was the chief topic of discussion in the hotel lobbies this morning. Suffrage leaders are encouraged by the senators announcement, and were hopeful that the platform adopted by the convention will include a plank favoring woman suffrage.

Senator Overman who will deliver a speech in the convention dealing with national affairs, when asked in Salisbury last night concerning his attitude toward the ratification of the suffrage amendment, in view of Simmons' announcement, said such a statement as he had to make would be incorporated in his speech at the convention. Opinion divided as to what stand Overman will take but some believe he will join Simmons, favoring ratification, while others thought he would oppose it.

AMERICAN NAVY IS FACED BY SERIOUS SHORTAGE OF MEN

Instead of Getting Better the Situation is Becoming More Serious.

Washington, April 6.—Instead of getting better, the situation as regards the enlisted force of the navy appears to be getting more critical, owing to the constantly diminishing number of experienced men. As recently estimated the total enlisted strength of the navy was 105,400 men, of whom 58,045 enlisted since December 4, 1918, when voluntary enlistments were resumed. Of this latter number fully two-thirds are boys under 19 years of age and the remainder will not average above 20 years.

Estimated losses of trained men during this calendar year due to expiration of enlistments amount to 17,000, which, deducted from a total force of scarcely more than 30,000 trained men, leaves about 1,000 men remaining who are qualified to perform the more responsible classes of duties. As an example of approaching conditions, the battleship Pennsylvania, flagship of the Atlantic fleet, will have left on July 1 only about 18 per cent of her allowed electrical force, and similar conditions prevail in other departments of the ship.

However, it is in respect to desertions that the situation assumes the most gloomy aspect. During the last six months of 1919 there were 4,906 desertions from the navy, of whom 1,057 were petty officers and 60 chief petty officers. In January of this year 898 men deserted, including 103 petty officers. In February, when the Atlantic fleet was in Cuban waters and consequently less opportunity for unlawful separation from the navy existed, nevertheless there were 163 desertions, including 67 petty officers.

Other losses, due to discharge for inaptitude, undesirability, bad conduct, etc., brought up the total defections for January to 4,395 and for (Continued on page two.)

DECLARES GERMAN SITUATION SIMILAR TO ONE IN RUSSIA

Russian Relief Surgeon Forms Comparison Between Existing Relations.

New York, April 7.—A parallel between the early days of the Bolshevik revolution in Russia and present events in Germany was drawn in a lecture made here today by Dr. H. Egbert, an official of the American Central Committee for Russian Relief who was chief surgeon of the first Red Cross detachment to Russia. "The present situation in Germany bears a close resemblance to the situation in Russia during the late summer and early fall of 1917," said Dr. Egbert. "At that time the Bolshevik political machine had entrenched itself strongly in control of the city Soviets. The propagandists, by their agitation and through their control of the Soviets, forced the Provisional government Cabinets successively from conservatism to more and more extreme Socialism."

"This is what is now being accomplished in Germany. Provocations and general strikes are to be expected. So we may also expect the formation of city and finally of rural Soviets and then an intensive propaganda under the slogan: 'All power to the Soviets.'"

"The situation in Germany is no doubt fostered and financed by the Russian communists and in some degree provoked by the German imperialists to evade payment of war indemnities. The Russian Red Army may even enter Germany to fight on the side of the German communists, thus placing Poland between two fires."

The financial statement presented by the secretary and treasurer showed total resources amounting to $9,000.00 being divided into the following items of investment: Liberty bonds $4,000; Victory bonds $3,000; War stamps $1,000; Money in bank $1,000. WOMEN OF RUSSIA ARE REQUIRED TO SUPPORT HUSBAND

Marriage Laws of Soviet Provide Such in Case of Physical Disability.

London, April 7.—A Russian wife is required to support her husband if she be able to do so and he is unable to work and in need of her support, under the marriage laws of Soviet Russia. A copy of this code, translated into English has just reached London from the Russian People's Commissariat of Justice.

It provides that married persons shall be expected to support each other. "Should one refuse and the other be what is classed as a 'needful' unfit to work, the latter has the right to apply to the department of Social Security to compel the husband or wife, as the case may be, to pay support."

Mutual consent of husband and wife or merely the desire of one of them to be freed from the other may be considered as grounds for divorce. Local judges are authorized to hear divorce cases but their decisions are subject to appeal.

The matrimonial age is fixed at 18 for men and 16 for girls. Both must be of sound mind and mutually desirous of marriage. Differences of religion or vows of celibacy are no impediment. Married persons may choose to bear the surname of the bride or of the bride groom or their joint names. Marriages contracted in accordance with religious forms are not binding unless the union is registered under the prescribed form of civil, or Sovietist marriages. Old forms of marriage law or, as it is termed, "the legalized forging together of men and women" are abolished.

PACTOLUS SECTION ASKS FOR BETTER SCHOOL SITUATION

Board of Education Asked to Consolidate Three School Districts.

FOUR ROOM BUILDING ASKED FOR IN PACTOLUS Consolidation Question Also Receiving Interest in Other Sections.

As a result of action taken by the county Board of Education at their meeting Monday, April 5, the people of the Pactolus section will have a very much improved school situation. The school committeemen in the Whitehead, Jones and Pactolus school districts asked for the consolidation of their schools, with the erection of a four-room school at Pactolus, with funds provided to carry the children from the other two districts into Pactolus. This would do away with two small struggling one-room schools and one two-room school, putting the larger and more efficient unit in place of the three.

This program was tentatively adopted, but so anxious is the Board of Education to safeguard every interest, that notice was given that opponents of the proposition, if any, would be heard before actually beginning the work, provided the request to be heard is filed with the county superintendent of schools not later than April 10.

This is a section of the county that has been particularly hard hit by the scarcity of teachers, and they are taking time by the forelock, to make sure that they have a good school next fall.

Other sections of the county are working toward the same end. A very ambitious consolidation project is being developed in the upper end of the county, involving Fountain, Bynum's and Shiver's Hill districts, with an (Continued on page four.)

TAXATION IN MANY ENGLISH DISTRICTS BECOMING SERIOUS

Nobility Forced to Sell Estates in Order to Meet Nation's Demand.

London, April 7.—England's war taxes continue to force many of her nobility to sell parts of their great estates. One of the greatest of these which recently has passed under the auctioneer's hammer, is that of the Duke of Rutland, which is known as Belvoir. The Duke owns about 59,000 acres of which he is selling about 13,000 acres located in the best part of the Lincolnshire hunting district. He explained at a public meeting that the sale was made necessary by the increasing burden of taxation resulting from the war.

Goadby Hall, one of the Duke's properties of 230 acres was sold privately in the advance of the public sale and 100 tenants have bought from the Duke the farms he had rented to them.

Earl Manvers' estate, known as "Holme Pierrepont" at Radcliffe-on-Trent, has been sold at auction for $42,985. It covers 320 acres.

TRADING TO SOON BE RESUMED WITH RUSSIAN CENTERS

United States Views Russian Commerce With Non-Political Attitude.

Washington, April 6.—Trade relations between the United States and the people of Russia, whether the latter are under the jurisdiction of the soviets or any other faction, will shortly be resumed.

The United States government has been waiting an answer from the allies as to the course the other nations would pursue, but the suggestions and counter-suggestions have thus far yielded no concrete understanding. It is the intention of our government, if an answer is not forthcoming very soon, to advise American citizens to go ahead irrespective of the action of the other powers. Any American would be able to trade with Russia at his own risk.

This means that diplomatic protection in the event of losses or disagreement will not be afforded at present though later on when a government in Russia is finally recognized, the department of State would doubtless insist upon the assumption of responsibility by any new government of the transactions or claims pending against its predecessor.

The United States looks upon the question of commerce with Russia with non-political eyes. There is no embargo against the Russian people or against the individuals who may be principals in the soviet regime. To American citizens all Russians will be on the same footing. Goods can be bought or sold and transported to and from Russia but all arrangements must be made without the moral or physical assistance of the United States government.

With respect to recognition of the soviets, there is as yet no signs of any chance of policy and it is extremely unlikely that this presidential (Continued page two.)

TWO MEN INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT HERE LAST NIGHT

Frank Taylor and Bud Corey Painfully Injured When Car Turns Turtle.

Last night about 8 o'clock, a car driven by Frank Taylor, accompanied by Bud Corey, turned completely over, and seriously injured both men. The accident occurred in front of the Liberty warehouse, on Ninth street. The steering gear was loose, and Corey kept putting on gas which caused speed to increase and made Taylor lose control of the car, which hit the curbing, swerved, turned over and pinned both men under it. Taylor received a gash in the forehead, fractured nose and a dislocated skull, slight abrasions of the face, and body and was in an unconscious condition until ten o'clock at which time he was taken to the Washington hospital. No report of his condition had been received at noon today.

SENATOR SIMMONS OUT IN FAVOR FOR WOMAN SUFFRAGE

Presents Statement Favoring Ratification of Suffrage by State Assembly

SENATOR OVERMAN MAY SOON APPROVE ISSUES Statements Received From Number of Representatives Favoring Suffrage.

Washington, D. C., April 6.—Senator Furnford M. Simmons has capitulated to the inevitable. He announces that he favors the ratification of the Susan B. Anthony woman suffrage amendment by the North Carolina Legislature.

It is not beyond the range of probability that Senator Lee S. Overman will join hands with the senior Senator in urging the ratification of the amendment by North Carolina, and this action is believed to assure favorable consideration by the Tar Heel State. It has been suggested that Senator Overman may make known his views as to early ratification when he delivers the keynote speech of the Democratic state convention to be held in Raleigh on next Thursday.

There can be as much rejoicing in the camps of the supporters of woman suffrage by the announced attitude of Senator Simmons and the probable action of Senator Overman, as any single stroke yet made in the raging fight for quick ratification in order to give the women of the nation an opportunity to vote in the election of this year.

The thirty-fourth state has ratified the amendment. Delaware is looked upon as hopeless, although Miss Alice Paul, the leader of the National woman's party, refuses to admit that Delaware has finally rejected the would-be nineteenth amendment. Already powerful appeals are being framed for the May session of the Louisiana general assembly. Southern Senator who voted to submit the amendment to the people last May received telegrams this afternoon from white state leaders battling for favorable suffrage action in Louisiana. The message expressed the optimistic prospect of action at the Baton Rouge capitol as "simply fine." Should the Mississippi delta state come to the bat as the thirty sixth state the glory of final action can be shouted by the Democratic party.

North Carolina's action is taken to be certain, while Louisiana is madly flirting with the honor which will necessarily go to the state and party which puts the amendment across the tape. Of course, as many states as desire will be welcomed for good measure as several legislatures' actions have been questioned in the courts.

Senator Simmons says: "The practical question which now confronts us is, therefore, not whether women shall be accorded the privilege of full and equal suffrage, but when shall they be permitted to enter into the enjoyment of these privileges."

Senator Simmons sounds the warning as a national leader in his party by venturing intimation that the Democratic party has more to gain by the women voting this year than the Republican party. Expediency and the inevitable are driving into line more forces in the case of granting woman suffrage than all the powers at work when the amendment was before congress.

EASTER HOLIDAY OVER AT TRAINING SCHOOL

The Easter holidays at the Training School are over and work was resumed this morning. The members of the Senior Class feel very much gratified at the progress they made on the opera, "The Masquerade," which they will give next Wednesday night. They rehearsed frequently during the time the other students were absent. The members of the class that are not in the cast are as busy as those who are stars in the opera, getting the stage setting ready, and attending to all the details necessary for a successful production.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 7, 1920

Yes, dear boy, it is much better to discuss suffrage in county conventions than at home.

That Irish Home Rule question has not been confined to the family circle altogether.

When preaching thrift to other people, never forget you might have a little bank account of your own if you would.

Herbert Hoover may not mean very much to Democrats now that he has sided with another party, but there is one thing sure, and that is he will lead the G. O. P.'s a merry race before election day.

Let the subscription committee of the local ball club have your subscription for a liberal amount of money. We all want good baseball this summer, but it can't be had unless a team is made possible through public contributions.

Holland has been mighty good to the former Kaiser of Germany of late. In fact it has been so generous that we are inclined to believe there is bribery going on somewhere and that, after all, Bill is not as poor as some would have us think.

The present German crisis may trouble France to no little extent, but it can't be said that Americans are worrying over the condition of the country very much. In fact, anything Germany might do now couldn't possibly be serious, and for that reason if for no other France will do the greatest worrying for the present time.

This is clean-up week in Greenville, and indications appear to denote more than ordinary activity among housewives and people interested in making the town a clean, sanitary place in which to live. Trash carts will be sent to any street throughout the week, and the energetic citizen certainly will not permit his street or yard to present an unclean appearance, particularly while the campaign for greater cleanliness is in full swing. Be fair to yourself and neighbor by cleaning everything requiring it.

The chairman of the federal trade commission didn't miss the mark far when he declared present high prices are due to a great extent through excess taxes. The truth is, taxation has become such a menace now that the average workingman is faced by a problem serious indeed if high prices continue. It is true wages have advanced in many parts of the country, and in some cases, proportionately with rising prices, but on the other hand there are thousands of laborers barely living from hand to mouth who would be comfortably situated were it not for excess taxes. A change, must come sooner or later and the earlier abnormality is done away with the better it will be for American people as an entirety.

CHINA'S PLAY INSTINCT NORMAL

A teacher in one of the girls' schools in Peking, China, has found that although the play instinct of Chinese children has not been widely cultivated, these youngsters have capacities for play much like normal Americans. She was skeptical at first of being able to interest the little Chinese girls, but one afternoon she took six of them to a vacant lot to try them out. She began some games. Before the play had proceeded very far, the girls were in raptures, and when the teacher and her six Play Pioneers had to leave at dusk, they counted more than eighty little Chinese girls and boys in the games. Many of the mad baby sisters or brothers strapped to their backs. She said they followed her for three blocks, asking when she was coming again, and if she would teach them more games.

Another incident indicating that China's play instinct is normal is told of a group of oldsters—coolies in Shantung who were sent from France. A man who was born in China and was a bit skeptical about the Chinese desire for play tried out the playground idea with the coolies. He took them to a open space, got a football and told them the principles of rugby. They were so eager to get into the game that he soon had two hundred lined up on each side. One "team" was "The Shirts" and the other, not having on that article of apparel, was "The No Shirts." The teacher was in the center, and says he never had such a thrill even at the kick-off of a Yale-Harvard game as came when he realized that the four hundred coolies had caught the first gleam of what real play is.

Pitt county has such a splendid county home that were are inclined to believe the superintendent would be crowded with application for admittance all the time if people really knew what a splendid place it is. A representative of this paper had the pleasure of visiting the home several days ago for the first time and was indeed surprised at the clean appearance of everything and particularly the large spacious brick building which will do credit to any center in North Carolina. The county poor are well provided for and are surrounded by an atmosphere altogether pleasing and deserving of no little commendation from every source interested in humanity. The county commissioners are investing in bonds of unspeakable value when looking out after the poor in this splendid manner and it is to be hoped they will never be forgetful of the great mass of poverty-stricken people who appeal to them for assistance year in and year out.

Interest in the Pitt county memorial hospital continues to increase, so reports from campaign headquarters indicate, while it is very noticeable that farmers in this section are contributing even more liberally than probably one time anticipated. The hospital movement, particularly the raising of funds, has been so arranged that it invariably appeals to anyone interested in the erection of a suitable memorial to Pitt county boys who gave their lives in the war with Germany, and there is very little reason why virtually every man and woman in this territory should not subscribe liberally in early stages of the campaign. It is to be hoped interest will not abate for the next several months, for in this event, the institution will be erected and ready for service at an earlier date than contemplated. If you haven't subscribed, do it now. Certainly there will be no regret.

"BORROW, DON'T BUY," ASKS CHICAGO PAPER

How serious the paper shortage has become is seen from the following taken from the Chicago Tribune:
Don't buy the Tribune—borrow it! The Tribune may seem to be standing on its head, but it is forced to ask people not to buy it. It wants to keep every one of its readers and gain new ones, but it cannot sell them all the paper. The paper shortage makes it impossible to do so.
If two families would use one Tribune we could keep the readers and they could have the Tribune. We want the readers; they evidently want the Tribune. Better days some day, but just now borrow and don't buy the Tribune.
Newspaper sare confronted with the most serious situation in regard to newsprint supply that they have ever encountered. Paper is enormously high in price and growing higher. There is no telling how soon many more papers will have to resort to the expedient of the Chicago Tribune in making one paper serve two families.

February to 3,007. Requests for discharge on account of dependency are coming in at the rate of twenty a day, over one-third of which are granted. First enlistments in the navy now are averaging about 550 a week, three-fourths of which are for only two years. Re-enlistments average about 125 a week. These replacements are not meeting the outgo by any means. In January the net loss was 772, in February 440 and for the first twenty-five days of March 585.

Any Man Can Be A Capitalist

Some philosophers go to great lengths explaining why money is not the only thing to work for in life.

And their contention is a good one.

It is true that some wealthy men are miserable, but no man need be unhappy for having money. A man with money is an influence in his community. He can live well and die happy.

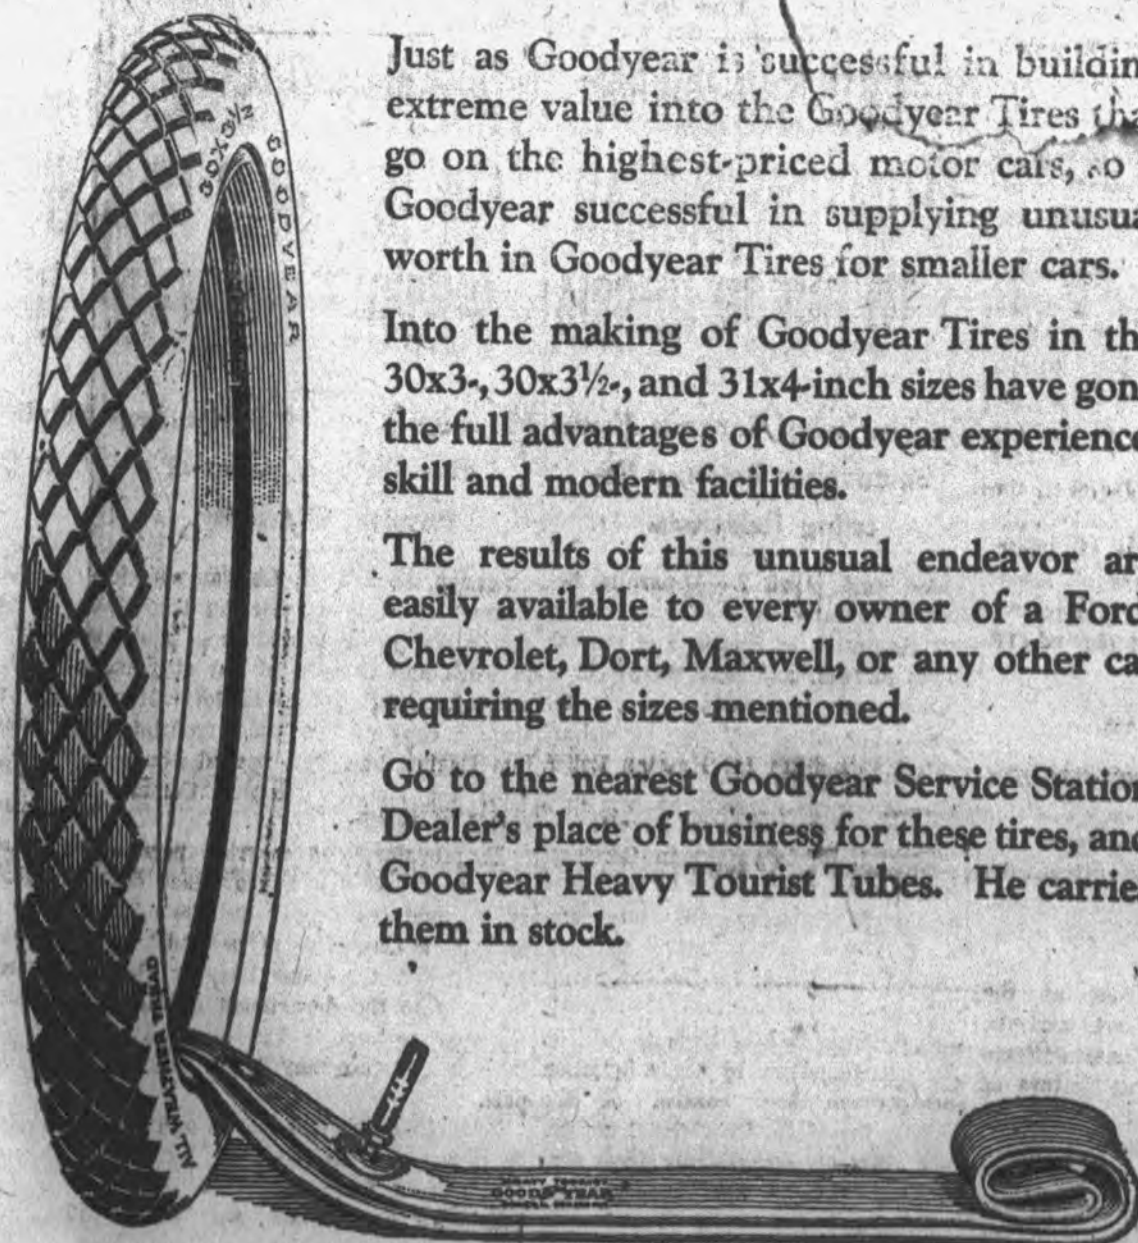

Poverty and misery go hand in hand. Choose your own fate—be a capitalist or a pauper.

From the punch room the guests passed into the living room, where they were received by Mrs. Frank Wilson and introduced to the receiving line, in which were Mrs. H. L. Hodges, Miss Nell Pender, Mrs. F. C. Page, of Aberdeen, Mrs. T. J. Moore, Mrs. L. B. Page, of Aberdeen, Mrs. Norman Warren, Miss Estelle Greene, Miss Jamie Bryan, Miss Ruth Hodges, of Washington, and Mrs. Carey Warren. From the receiving line they passed into the dining room where they were received by Mrs. Joseph Smith and Mrs. P. T. Anthony, and were served an ice course, which carried out the color scheme of pink and yellow, by Misses Linda Warren, Hannah Dixon, Anna Long, Ada James, Josephine Skinner, and Marguerite Manning. The guests were shown from the dining room to the reception hall by Mrs. L. H. Bowling and Miss Hennie Whitchard, where they were received and ushered out by Mrs. S. L. Bridges and Miss Ruebelle Forbes.

The local orchestra was placed in the rear hall and dispensed music throughout the entirety of the afternoon.

It was one of the most delightful receptions of the season, and over three hundred guests enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. Hodges.

I Am the Nation's cause of being, its foundation, its life.

I am its mightiest power, its greatest asset, its humblest servitor.

I am its treasure house, its chief financier, its paymaster.
I am its homes, its garden plots, its children's playgrounds.
I am its factories, its workshops, its skyscrapers.
I am its mines, its oil fields, its forests.
I am its granary, its green farms, its lush meadows.
I am its teacher of good government, of staunch citizenship, of true patriotism.

I am its bulwark against anarchy, against bolshevism, against radicalism.
I am insurance for its widows, its orphans, its aged.
I point its way to thrift, to right thinking, to sane living.
I give its sons borrowing power, credit, material worth.
I confer on them prestige, independence, prosperity.
I represent to them opportunity, self-respect, contentment.

I am the goal of its thinkers, its workers, its savers.
I war on high rents, high living costs, profiteering.
I increase fast in value, slowly in price, steadily in income.
I am tangible, imperishable, immutable.
I am the basis of all wealth.

Let Me Take The Risk

There isn't a week goes by in this town that some car owner doesn't have his car or his tires stolen, his car burned up, smashed-up or a collision, or cause an accident to some pedestrian or fellow driver. If insured I settle all damages without trouble or expense to the owner. If not insured you dig deep down into your bank roll to pay the claim.

Why take such chances when a few dollars will shift the burden and the expense over to me? You may be out of luck tomorrow. Today is the time to shelter yourself with Auto Fire Insurance, Auto Theft Insurance, Collision, Property Damage or Liability Insurance. I write it all.

ASKS FOR BETTER

SCHOOL SITUATION

 eight or ten room school at Fountain. This school would displace three schools that are already considerably above the average; one of them having four rooms, and the others two-rooms each, but the people feel that their children are entitled to better than this, and they plan to establish a really efficient school.

The matter is also being discussed with considerable interest by the people of the Jacksonville, Hanrahan and Littlefield districts, and definite action will follow shortly.

It is becoming apparent to any one studying the educational situation that not only is this improved type of school necessary for the sake of doing efficient work, but the time is fast coming when it will be necessary if any work at all is to be done. The increasing teacher shortage hits the small one room school hardest of all. As a general thing the larger schools are supplied first, and the smaller schools have to take what is left if they get anything at all. The people are walking up to this fact, and are making plans to deal with the situation in such a manner as to protect the interests of their children.

The indications are that the four school trucks at present being operated in the county will be added to next year by ten or twelve, and that the number of one-room schools will be reduced accordingly.

The growth of the association has been a matter of much interest to people in this territory for the past several months as officers have made every effort to make it one of the most progressive business enterprises in this section of the state. Several expressions of even greater progress were dominant at the meeting yesterday, and there is little doubt but that the present year will be one of the best in sometime.

Life Was a Misery

Mrs. F. M. Jones, of Palmer, Okla., writes:
 "From the time I entered into womanhood . . . I looked with dread from one month to the next. I suffered with my back and bearing-down pain, until life to me was a misery. I would think I could not endure the pain any longer, and I gradually got worse. . . Nothing seemed to help me until, one day, . . . I decided to

The Woman's Tonic

"I took four bottles," Mrs. Jones goes on to say, "and was not only greatly relieved, but can truthfully say that I have not a pain. . ."

"It has now been two years since I took Cardui, and I am still in good health. . . I would advise any woman or girl to use Cardui who is a sufferer from any female trouble."

If you suffer pain caused from womanly trouble, or if you feel the need of a good strengthening tonic to build up your run-down system, take the advice of Mrs. Jones. Try Cardui. It helped her. We believe it will help you.
